12 ¶ [6]Is it nothing to you, all ye that [7]pass by? behold, and see [u]if there be any sorrow like unto my sorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From above hath he sent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth against them: he hath [x]spread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me desolate and faint all the day.

14 [y]The yoke of my transgressions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my strength to fall, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to rise up.

15 The Lord hath trodden under foot all my mighty men in the midst of me: he hath called an assembly against me to crush my young men: [z]the Lord hath trodden [8]the virgin, the daughter of Ju'dah, as in a winepress.

16 For these things I weep; [a]mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water, because [b]the comforter that should [9]relieve my soul is far from me: my children are desolate, because the enemy prevailed.

17 [c]Zi'on spreadeth forth her hands, and [d]there is none to comfort her: the LORD hath commanded concerning Ja'cob, that his adversaries should be round about him: Je-ru'sa-lem is as a menstruous woman among them.

18 ¶ The LORD is [e]righteous; for I have [f]rebelled against his [10]commandment: hear, I pray you, all people, and behold my sorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but [g]they deceived me; my priests and mine elders gave up the ghost in the city, [h]while they sought their meat to relieve their souls.

20 Behold, O LORD; for I am in distress: my [i]bowels are troubled; mine heart is turned within me; for I have grievously rebelled: [k]abroad the sword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I sigh; [l]there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble; they are glad that thou hast done it: thou wilt bring [m]the day that thou hast [11]called, and they shall be like unto me.

22 [n]Let all their wickedness come before thee; and do unto them, as thou hast done unto me for all my transgressions: for my sighs are many, and [o]my heart is faint.

CHAPTER II.

The chastisement of Zion is from the Lord. 11 The prophet's lamentation. 20 His complaint to God.

HOW hath the Lord covered the daughter of Zi'on with a cloud in his anger, [a]and cast down from heaven unto the earth [b]the beauty of Is'ra-el, and remembered not [c]his footstool in the day of his anger!

2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Ja'cob, [d]and hath not pitied: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Ju'dah; he hath [1]brought them down to the ground: [e]he hath polluted the kingdom and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the horn of Is'ra-el: [f]he hath drawn back his right hand from before the enemy, [g]and he burned against Ja'cob like a flaming fire, which devoureth round about.

4 [h]He hath bent his bow like an enemy: he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew [2][i]all that were pleasant to the eye in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zi'on: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 [k]The Lord was as an enemy: he hath swallowed up Is'ra-el, [l]he hath swallowed up all her palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Ju'dah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently [m]taken away his [3]tabernacle, [n]as if it were of a garden; he hath destroyed his places of the assembly: [o]the LORD hath caused the solemn feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zi'on, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

7 The Lord hath cast off his altar, he hath abhorred his sanctuary, he hath [4]given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces; [p]they have made a noise in the house of the LORD, as in the day of a solemn feast.

8 The LORD hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zi'on: [q]he hath stretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from [5]destroying: therefore he made the rampart and the wall to lament; they languished together.

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and [r]broken her bars: [s]her king and her princes are among the Gen'tiles: [t]the law is no more; her [u]prophets also find no vision from the LORD.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zi'on [x]sit upon the ground, and keep silence: they have [y]cast up dust upon their heads; they have [z]girded themselves with sackcloth: the virgins of Je-ru'sa-lem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 [a]Mine eyes do fail with tears, [b]my bowels are troubled, [c] my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people; because [d] the children and the sucklings [6] swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul was poured out into their mother's bosom.

13 What thing shall I take to witness for thee? [e] what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Je-ru'sa-lem? what shall I equal to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zi'on? for thy breach is great like the sea: who can heal thee?

14 Thy [f] prophets have seen vain and foolish things for thee: and they have not [g] discovered thine iniquity, to turn away thy captivity; but have seen for thee false burdens and causes of banishment.

15 [h] All that pass [7] by [i] clap their hands at thee; they hiss [k] and wag their head at the daughter of Je-ru'sa-lem, saying, Is this the city that men call [l] The perfection of beauty, The joy of the whole earth?

16 [m] All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hiss and gnash the teeth: they say, [n] We have swallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for; we have found, [o] we have seen it.

17 The LORD hath done that which he had [p] devised; he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the days of old: [q] he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemy to [r] rejoice over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, O [s] wall of the daughter of Zi'on, [t] let tears run down like a river day and night: give thyself no rest; let not the apple of thine eye cease.

19 Arise, [u] cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches [x] pour out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands toward him for the life of thy young children, [y] that faint for hunger [z] in the top of every street.

20 ¶ Behold, O LORD, and consider to whom thou hast done this. [a] Shall the women eat their fruit, and children [8] of a span long? [b] shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 [c] The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets: my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword; thou hast slain them in the day of thine anger; [d] thou hast killed, and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day [e] my terrors round about, so that in the day of the LORD's anger none escaped nor remained: [f] those that I have swaddled and brought up hath mine enemy consumed.

CHAPTER III.

The prophet bewaileth his own calamities. 21 He acknowledgeth the mercies of God. 37 His humble confession of sin. 55 He prayeth for deliverance, 64 and for recompense upon his enemies.

I AM the man that hath seen affliction by the rod of his wrath.

2 He hath led me, and brought me into darkness, but not into light.

3 Surely against me is he turned; he turneth his hand against me all the day.

4 [a] My flesh and my skin hath he made old: he hath [b] broken my bones.

5 He hath builded against me, and compassed me with gall and travail.

6 [c] He hath set me in dark places, as they that be dead of old.

7 [d] He hath hedged me about, that I cannot get out: he hath made my chain heavy.

8 Also [e] when I cry and shout, he shutteth out my prayer.

9 He hath inclosed my ways with hewn stone; he hath made my paths crooked.

10 [f] He was unto me as a bear lying in wait, and as a lion in secret places.

11 He hath turned aside my ways, and [g] pulled me in pieces: he hath made me desolate.

12 He hath bent his bow, and [h] set me as a mark for the arrow.

13 He hath caused [i] the [1] arrows of his quiver to enter into my reins.

14 I was a [k] derision to all my people; and [l] their song all the day.

15 [m] He hath filled me with [2] bitterness, he hath made me drunken with wormwood.

16 He hath also broken my teeth [n] with gravel stones, he hath [3] covered me with ashes.

17 And thou hast removed my soul far off from peace: I forgat [4] prosperity.

18 [o] And I said, My strength and my hope is perished from the LORD:

19 [5] Remembering mine affliction and my misery, [p] the wormwood and the gall.

20 My soul hath them still in remembrance, and is [6] humbled in me.

21 ¶ This I [7] recall to my mind, therefore have I hope.

22 [q] It is of the LORD's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

23 They are new [r] every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

24 The LORD is my [s] portion, saith my soul; therefore will I hope in him.

25 The LORD is good unto them that [t] wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him.

26 It is good that a man should both hope [u] and quietly wait for the salvation of the LORD.

27 [x]It is good for a man that he bear the yoke in his youth.

28 [y]He sitteth alone and keepeth silence, because he hath borne it upon him.

29 [z]He putteth his mouth in the dust; if so be there may be hope.

30 [a]He giveth his cheek to him that smiteth him: he is filled full with reproach.

31 [b]For the Lord will not cast off for ever:

32 But though he cause grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies.

33 For [c]he doth not afflict [8]willingly, nor grieve the children of men.

34 To crush under his feet all the prisoners of the earth,

35 To turn aside the right of a man before the face of [9]the Most High,

36 To subvert a man in his cause, [d]the Lord [10]approveth not.

37 ¶ Who is he [e]that saith, and it cometh to pass, when the Lord commandeth it not?

38 Out of the mouth of the Most High proceedeth not [f]evil and good?

39 [g]Wherefore doth a living man [11]complain, [h]a man for the punishment of his sins?

40 Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the LORD.

41 [i]Let us lift up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.

42 [k]We have transgressed and have rebelled: thou hast not pardoned.

43 Thou hast covered with anger, and persecuted us: [l]thou hast slain, thou hast not pitied.

44 Thou hast covered thyself with a cloud, [m]that our prayer should not pass through.

45 Thou hast made us as the [n]offscouring and refuse in the midst of the people.

46 [o]All our enemies have opened their mouths against us.

47 [p]Fear and a snare is come upon us, [q]desolation and destruction.

48 [r]Mine eye runneth down with rivers of water for the destruction of the daughter of my people.

49 [s]Mine eye trickleth down, and ceaseth not, without any intermission,

50 Till the LORD [t]look down, and behold from heaven.

51 Mine eye affecteth [12]mine heart, [13]because of all the daughters of my city.

52 Mine enemies chased me sore, like a bird, [u]without cause.

53 They have cut off my life [x]in the dungeon, and [y]cast a stone upon me.

54 [z]Waters flowed over mine head; then [a]I said, I am cut off.

55 ¶ [b]I called upon thy name, O LORD, out of the low dungeon.

56 [c]Thou hast heard my voice: hide not thine ear at my breathing, at my cry.

57 Thou [d]drewest near in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.

58 O Lord, thou hast [e]pleaded the causes of my soul; [f]thou hast redeemed my life.

59 O LORD, thou hast seen my wrong: [g]judge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance and all their [h]imaginations against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O LORD, and all their imaginations against me;

62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.

63 Behold their [i]sitting down, and their rising up; [k]I am their music.

64 ¶ [l]Render unto them a recompense, O LORD, according to the work of their hands.

65 Give them [14]sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them.

66 Persecute and destroy them in anger [m]from under the [n]heavens of the LORD.

CHAPTER IV.

The prophet bewaileth the changed estate of Zion. 13 Her sins the cause of her calamities. 17 Her despair of help. 21 Edom threatened, 22 and Zion comforted.

HOW is the gold become dim! how is the most fine gold changed! the stones of the sanctuary are poured out [a]in the top of every street.

2 The precious sons of Zi'on, comparable to fine gold, how are they esteemed [b]as earthen pitchers, the work of the hands of the potter!

3 Even the [1]sea monsters draw out the breast, they give suck to their young ones: the daughter of my people is become cruel, [c]like the ostriches in the wilderness.

4 [d]The tongue of the sucking child cleaveth to the roof of his mouth for thirst: [e]the young children ask bread, and no man breaketh it unto them.

5 They that did feed delicately are desolate in the streets: they that were brought up in scarlet [f]embrace dunghills.

6 For the [2]punishment of the iniquity of the daughter of my people is greater than the punishment of the sin of Sod'om, that was [g]overthrown as in a moment, and no hands stayed on her.

7 Her Naz'a-rites were purer than snow, they were whiter than milk, they were more ruddy in body than rubies, their polishing was of sapphire:

8 Their visage is [3][h]blacker than a coal; they are not known in the streets: [i]their skin cleaveth to their bones; it is withered, it is become like a stick.

9 They that be slain with the sword are better than they that be slain with hunger: for these [4]pine away, stricken

10 [k] The hands of the [l] pitiful women have sodden their own children: they were their [m] meat in the destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The LORD hath accomplished his fury; [n] he hath poured out his fierce anger, and [o] hath kindled a fire in Zi'on, and it hath devoured the foundations thereof.

12 The kings of the earth, and all the inhabitants of the world, would not have believed that the adversary and the enemy should have entered into the gates of Je-ru'sa-lem.

13 ¶ [p] For the sins of her prophets, and the iniquities of her priests, [q] that have shed the blood of the just in the midst of her,

14 They have wandered as blind men in the streets, [r] they have polluted themselves with blood, [5] [s] so that men could not touch their garments.

15 They cried unto them, Depart ye; [6] it is [t] unclean; depart, depart, touch not: when they fled away and wandered, they said among the heathen, They shall no more sojourn there.

16 The [7] anger of the LORD hath divided them; he will no more regard them: [u] they respected not the persons of the priests, they favoured not the elders.

17 As for us, [v] our eyes as yet failed for our vain help: in our watching we have watched for a nation that could not save us.

18 [x] They hunt our steps, that we cannot go in our streets: our end is near, our days are fulfilled; for [y] our end is come.

19 Our persecutors are [z] swifter than the eagles of the heaven: they pursued us upon the mountains, they laid wait for us in the wilderness.

20 The [a] breath of our nostrils, the anointed of the LORD, [b] was taken in their pits, of whom we said, Under his shadow we shall live among the heathen.

21 ¶ [c] Rejoice and be glad, O daughter of E'dom, that dwellest in the land of Uz; [d] the cup also shall pass through unto thee; thou shalt be drunken, and shalt make thyself naked.

22 ¶ [e] [8] The punishment of thine iniquity is accomplished, O daughter of Zi'on; he will no more carry thee away into captivity: [f] he will visit thine iniquity, O daughter of E'dom; he will [9] discover thy sins.

CHAPTER V.

2 [c] Our inheritance is turned to strangers, our houses to aliens.

3 We are orphans and fatherless, our mothers are as widows.

4 We have drunken our water for money; our wood [1] is sold unto us.

5 [d] [2] Our necks are under persecution: we labour, and have no rest.

6 [e] We have given the hand [f] to the E-gyp'tians, and to the As-syr'i-ans, to be satisfied with bread.

7 [g] Our fathers have sinned, and [h] are not; and we have borne their iniquities.

8 [i] Servants have ruled over us: there is none that doth deliver us out of their hand.

9 We gat our bread with the peril of our lives, because of the sword of the wilderness.

10 Our [k] skin was black like an oven, because of the [3] terrible famine.

11 [l] They ravished the women in Zi'on, and the maids in the cities of Ju'dah.

12 Princes are hanged up by their hand: [m] the faces of elders were not honoured.

13 They took the young men [n] to grind, and the children fell under the wood.

14 The elders have ceased from the gate, the young men from their music.

15 The joy of our heart is ceased; our dance is turned into mourning.

16 [o] [4] The crown is fallen from our head: woe unto us, that we have sinned!

17 For this [p] our heart is faint; [q] for these things our eyes are dim.

18 Because of the mountain of Zi'on, which is desolate, the foxes walk upon it.

19 Thou, O LORD, [r] remainest for ever; [s] thy throne from generation to generation.

20 [t] Wherefore dost thou forget us for ever, and forsake us [5] so long time?

21 [u] Turn thou us unto thee, O LORD, and we shall be turned; renew our days as of old.

22 [6] But thou hast utterly rejected us; thou art very wroth against us.

THE BOOK

OF THE

PROPHET EZEKIEL.

EZEKIEL, whose name imports the strength of God, was the son of Buzi, of the sacerdotal race, and one of the captives carried by Nebuchadnezzar to Babylon with Jehoiachin, king of Judah. It does not appear that he had prophesied before he came into Mesopotamia. The principal scene of his predictions was some place on the river Chebar, which flows into the Euphrates about two hundred miles to the north of Babylon, where the prophet resided; though he was, occasionally, conveyed in vision to Jerusalem. He commenced his prophetic ministry in the thirtieth year of his age, according to general accounts; or rather, as Calmet thinks, in the thirtieth year after the covenant was renewed with God, in the reign of Josiah, which answers to the fifth year of Ezekiel's and Jehoiachin's captivity, the era whence he dates his predictions; and he continued to prophesy about twenty or twenty-one years. The events of his life, after his call to the prophetic office, are interwoven with the detail which he has himself given of his predictions; but the manner of its termination is nowhere ascertained. His prophecies have always been acknowledged to be canonical, nor was it ever disputed that he was their author. They form, in our Bibles, forty-eight chapters, and, as he is extremely punctual in dating them, we have little or no difficulty in arranging them in chronological order. They may be divided into four parts, namely: 1. Ezekiel's call to the prophetic office, his commission, instructions, and encouragements for executing it. 2. Denunciations against the Jewish people. 3. Comprises Ezekiel's prophecies against various neighbouring nations, enemies to the Jews. 4. Contains a series of exhortations and consolatory promises to the Jews, of future deliverance under Cyrus, but principally of their final restoration and conversion under the kingdom of Messiah.

CHAPTER I.

The date of Ezekiel's prophecy at Chebar. 4 His vision of four living creatures, 15 of the four wheels, 26 and of the glory of God.

NOW it came to pass in the thirtieth year, in the fourth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I was among the [1]captives [a]by the river of Che'bar, that [b]the heavens were opened, and I saw [c]visions of God.

2 In the fifth day of the month, which was the fifth year of [d]king Je-hoi'a-chin's captivity,

3 The word of the LORD came expressly unto [2]E-ze'ki-el the priest, the son of Bu'zi, in the land of the Chal-de'ans by the river Che'bar; and [e]the hand of the LORD was there upon him.

4 ¶ And I looked, and behold, [f]a whirlwind came [g]out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire [3]infolding itself, and a brightness was about it, and out of the midst thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midst of the fire.

5 [h]Also out of the midst thereof came the likeness of four living creatures. And [i]this was their appearance; they had [k]the likeness of a man.

6 And every one had four faces, and every one had four wings.

7 And their feet were [4]straight feet; and the sole of their feet was like the sole of a calf's foot: and they sparkled [l]like the colour of burnished brass.

8 [m]And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their four sides; and they four had their faces and their wings.

9 [n]Their wings were joined one to another; [o]they turned not when they went; they went every one straight forward.

10 As for [p]the likeness of their faces, they four [q]had the face of a man, [r]and the face of a lion, on the right side: [s]and they four had the face of an ox on the left side; [t]they four also had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were [5]stretched upward; two wings of every one were joined one to another, and [u]two covered their bodies.

12 And [x]they went every one straight forward: [y]whither the spirit was to go, they went; and [z]they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likeness of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, [a]and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures; and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures [b]ran and returned [c]as the appearance of a flash of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold [d]one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his four faces.

16 [e]The appearance of the wheels and their work was [f] like unto the colour of a beryl: and they four had one likeness: and their appearance and their work was as it were [g] a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their four sides: [h] and they turned not when they went.

18 As for their rings, they were so high that they were dreadful; and their [6] rings were [i] full of eyes round about them four.

19 And [j] when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up.

20 [k] Whithersoever the spirit was to go, they went, thither was their spirit to go; and the wheels were lifted up over against them: [l] for the spirit [7] of the living creature was in the wheels.

21 [m] When those went, these went; and when those stood, these stood; and when those were lifted up from the earth, the wheels were lifted up over against them: for the spirit [8] of the living creature was in the wheels.

22 [n] And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature was as the colour of the terrible crystal, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other: every one had two, which covered on this side, and every one had two, which covered on that side, their bodies.

24 [o] And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, [p] like the noise of great waters, as [q] the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech, as the noise of a host: when they stood, they let down their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament that was over their heads, when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 ¶ [r] And above the firmament that was over their heads was the likeness of a throne, [s] as the appearance of a sapphire stone: and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 [t] And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire round about within it: from the appearance of his loins even upward, and from the appearance of his loins even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

28 [u] As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. [x] This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD. And when I saw it, [y] I fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

CHAPTER II.

Ezekiel's commission. 6 His instructions. 9 The roll of a book spread before him.

AND he said unto me, Son of man, [a] stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee.

2 And [b] the Spirit entered into me when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, I send thee to the children of Is'ra-el, to a rebellious [1] nation that hath rebelled against me: [c] they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.

4 [d] For they are [2] impudent children and stiffhearted. I do send thee unto them; and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD.

5 [e] And they, whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear, (for they are a rebellious house,) yet [f] shall know that there hath been a prophet among them.

6 ¶ And thou, son of man, [g] be not afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though [3] [h] briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: [i] be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, [k] though they be a rebellious house.

7 [l] And thou shalt speak my words unto them, [m] whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear: for they are [4] most rebellious.

8 But thou, son of man, hear what I say unto thee; Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth, and [n] eat that I give thee.

9 ¶ And when I looked, behold, [o] a hand was sent unto me; and lo, [p] a roll of a book was therein;

10 And he spread it before me; and it was written within and without: and there was written therein lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

CHAPTER III.

The prophet is commanded to eat the roll of the book. 4 God encourageth him. 15 The office and duty of the prophet. 22 God shutteth and openeth the prophet's mouth.

MOREOVER he said unto me, Son of man, eat that thou findest; [a] eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Is'ra-el.

2 So [b] I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, cause thy belly to eat, and [c] fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee. Then did I [d] eat it; and it was in my mouth [e] as honey for sweetness.

4 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, go, get thee unto the house of Is'ra-el, and speak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art not sent to a people [1] of a strange speech and of a hard language, but to the house of Is'ra-el;

6 Not to many people [2]of a strange speech and of a hard language, whose words thou canst not understand. [3]Surely, [f]had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.

7 But the house of Is'ra-el will not hearken unto thee; [g]for they will not hearken unto me: [h]for all the house of Is'ra-el are [4]impudent and hardhearted.

8 Behold, I have made thy face strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

9 [i]As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: [k]fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

10 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

11 And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto the children of thy people, and speak unto them, and tell them, [l]Thus saith the Lord GOD; whether they will hear, or whether they will forbear.

12 Then [m]the spirit took me up, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, saying, Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the living creatures that [5]touched one another, and the noise of the wheels over against them, and a noise of a great rushing.

14 So [n]the spirit lifted me up, and took me away, and I went [6]in bitterness, in the [7]heat of my spirit; but [o]the hand of the LORD was strong upon me.

15 ¶ Then I came to them of the captivity at Tel'a-bib, that dwelt by the river of Che'bar, and [p]I sat where they sat, and remained there astonished among them seven days.

16 And it came to pass at the end of seven days, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

17 [q]Son of man, I have made thee [r]a watchman unto the house of Is'ra-el: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

18 When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man [s]shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; [t]but thou hast delivered thy soul.

20 Again, When a [u]righteous man doth turn from his [8]righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumblingblock before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Nevertheless, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned; also thou hast delivered thy soul.

22 ¶ [x]And the hand of the LORD was there upon me; and he said unto me, Arise, go forth [y]into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

23 Then I arose, and went forth into the plain: and behold, [z]the glory of the LORD stood there, as the glory which I [a]saw by the river of Che'bar: [b]and I fell on my face.

24 Then [c]the spirit entered into me, and set me upon my feet, and spake with me, and said unto me, Go, shut thyself within thine house.

25 But thou, O son of man, behold, [d]they shall put bands upon thee, and shall bind thee with them, and thou shalt not go out among them:

26 And [e]I will make thy tongue cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and shalt not be to them [9]a reprover: [f]for they are a rebellious house.

27 [g]But when I speak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou shalt say unto them, [h]Thus saith the Lord GOD; He that heareth, let him hear; and he that forbeareth, let him forbear: [i]for they are a rebellious house.

CHAPTER IV.

The siege of Jerusalem prefigured, and the punishment to be inflicted on the inhabitants. 9 The severity of the famine typified.

THOU also, son of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and portray upon it the city, even Je-ru'sa-lem:

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it; set the camp also against it, and set [1]battering rams against it round about.

3 Moreover take thou unto thee [2]an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the city: and set thy face against it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it. [a]This shall be a sign to the house of Is'ra-el.

4 Lie thou also upon thy left side, and lay the iniquity of the house of Is'ra-el upon it: according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon it thou shalt bear their iniquity.

5 For I have laid upon thee the years of their iniquity, according to the number of the days, three hundred and ninety days: [b]so shalt thou bear the iniquity of the house of Is'ra-el.

6 And when thou hast accomplished them, lie again on thy right side, and thou shalt bear the iniquity of the house of Ju'dah forty days: I have appointed thee [3]each day for a year.

9 ¶ Take thou also unto thee wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and [5] fitches, and put them in one vessel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the days that thou shalt lie upon thy side; three hundred and ninety days shalt thou eat thereof.

10 And thy meat which thou shalt eat shall be by weight, twenty shekels a day: from time to time shalt thou eat it.

11 Thou shalt drink also water by measure, the sixth part of a hin: from time to time shalt thou drink.

12 And thou shalt eat it as barley cakes, and thou shalt bake it with dung that cometh out of man, in their sight.

13 And the LORD said, Even thus [d] shall the children of Is'ra-el eat their defiled bread among the Gen'tiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then said I, [e] Ah Lord GOD! behold, my soul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now have I not eaten of [f] that which dieth of itself, or is torn in pieces; neither came there [g] abominable flesh into my mouth.

15 Then he said unto me, Lo, I have given thee cow's dung for man's dung, and thou shalt prepare thy bread therewith.

16 Moreover he said unto me, Son of man, behold, I will break the [h] staff of bread in Je-ru'sa-lem: and they shall [i] eat bread by weight, and with care; and they shall [k] drink water by measure, and with astonishment:

17 That they may want bread and water, and be astonished one with another, and [l] consume away for their iniquity.

CHAPTER V.

Under the type of hair, are shown the judgments of God upon Jerusalem for her rebellion.

AND thou, son of man, take thee a sharp knife, take thee a barber's razor, [a] and cause it to pass upon thine head and upon thy beard: then take thee balances to weigh, and divide the hair.

2 [b] Thou shalt burn with fire a third part in the midst of [c] the city, when [d] the days of the siege are fulfilled: and thou shalt take a third part, and smite about it with a knife: and a third part thou shalt scatter in the wind; and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 [e] Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy [1] skirts.

4 Then take of them again, and [f] cast them into the midst of the fire, and burn them in the fire; for thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Is'ra-el.

5 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; This is Je-ru'sa-lem: I have set it in the midst of the nations and countries that are round about her.

6 And she hath changed my judgments into wickedness more than the nations, and my statutes more than the countries that are round about her: for they have refused my judgments and my statutes, they have not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye multiplied more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my statutes, neither have kept my judgments, [g] neither have done according to the judgments of the nations that are round about you;

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I, even I, am against thee, and will execute judgments in the midst of thee in the sight of the nations.

9 [h] And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like, because of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers [i] shall eat the sons in the midst of thee, and the sons shall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I [k] scatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD; Surely, because thou hast [l] defiled my sanctuary with all thy [m] detestable things, and with all thine abominations, therefore will I also diminish thee; [n] neither shall mine eye spare, neither will I have any pity.

12 ¶ [o] A third part of thee shall die with the pestilence, and with famine shall they be consumed in the midst of thee: and a third part shall fall by the sword round about thee; and [p] I will scatter a third part into all the winds, and [q] I will draw out a sword after them.

13 Thus shall mine anger [r] be accomplished, and I will [s] cause my fury to rest upon them, [t] and I will be comforted: [u] and they shall know that I the LORD have spoken it in my zeal, when I have accomplished my fury in them.

14 Moreover [x] I will make thee waste, and a reproach among the nations that are round about thee, in the sight of all that pass by.

15 So it shall be a [y] reproach and a taunt, an instruction and an astonishment unto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute judgments in thee in anger and in fury and in [z] furious rebukes. I the LORD have spoken it.

16 When I shall [a] send upon them the evil arrows of famine, which shall be for their destruction, and which I will send to destroy you: and I will increase the famine upon you, and will break your [b]staff of bread:

CHAPTER VI.

Judgments upon Israel for their idolatry. 8 A remnant to be left. 11 Great calamities threatened.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]set thy face toward the [b]mountains of Is′ra-el, and prophesy against them,

3 And say, Ye mountains of Is′ra-el, hear the word of the Lord GOD; Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys; Behold, I, even I, will bring a sword upon you, and [c]I will destroy your high places.

4 And your altars shall be desolate, and your [1]images shall be broken: and [d]I will cast down your slain men before your idols.

5 And I will [2]lay the dead carcasses of the children of Is′ra-el before their idols; and I will scatter your bones round about your altars.

6 In all your dwellingplaces the cities shall be laid waste, and the high places shall be desolate; that your altars may be laid waste and made desolate, and your idols may be broken and cease, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

7 And the slain shall fall in the midst of you, and [e]ye shall know that I am the LORD.

8 ¶ [f]Yet will I leave a remnant, that ye may have some that shall escape the sword among the nations, when ye shall be scattered through the countries.

9 And they that escape of you shall remember me among the nations whither they shall be carried captives, because [g]I am broken with their whorish heart, which hath departed from me, and [h]with their eyes, which go a whoring after their idols: and [i]they shall loathe themselves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they shall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not said in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

11 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; Smite [k]with thine hand, and stamp with thy foot, and say, Alas for all the evil abominations of the house of Is′ra-el! [l]for they shall fall by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence.

12 He that is far off shall die of the pestilence; and he that is near shall fall by the sword; and he that remaineth and is besieged shall die by the famine: [m]thus will I accomplish my fury upon them.

13 Then [n]shall ye know that I am the LORD, when their slain men shall be among their idols round about their altars, [o]upon every high hill, [p]in all the tops of the mountains, and [q]under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer sweet savour to all their idols.

14 So will I [r]stretch out my hand upon them, and make the land desolate, yea, [3]more desolate than the wilderness toward [s]Dib′lath, in all their habitations: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER VII.

The final desolation of Israel. 16 The mournful condition of them that escape. 20 The sanctuary to be spoiled. 23 Under the type of a chain, is shown their miserable oppression.

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Also, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD unto the land of Is′ra-el; [a]An end, the end is come upon the four corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will send mine anger upon thee, and [b]will judge thee according to thy ways, and will [1]recompense upon thee all thine abominations.

4 And [c]mine eye shall not spare thee, neither will I have pity: but I will recompense thy ways upon thee, and thine abominations shall be in the midst of thee: [d]and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD; An evil, an only evil, behold, is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come: it [2]watcheth for thee; behold, it is come.

7 [e]The morning is come unto thee, O thou that dwellest in the land: [f]the time is come, the day of trouble is near, and not the [3]sounding again of the mountains.

8 Now will I shortly [g]pour out my fury upon thee, and accomplish mine anger upon thee: [h]and I will judge thee according to thy ways, and will recompense thee for all thine abominations.

9 And [i]mine eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: I will recompense [4]thee according to thy ways and thine abominations that are in the midst of thee; [k]and ye shall know that I am the LORD that smiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come: [l]the morning is gone forth; the rod hath blossomed, pride hath budded.

11 [m]Violence is risen up into a rod of wickedness: none of them shall remain, nor of their [5]multitude, nor of any of [6]theirs: [n]neither shall there be wailing for them.

14 They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready; but none goeth to the battle: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

20 ¶ As for the beauty of his ornament, he set it in majesty: [y] but they made the images of their abominations and of their detestable things therein: therefore have I [13] set it far from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the strangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a spoil; and they shall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn also from them, and they shall pollute my secret place: for the [14] robbers shall enter into it, and defile it.

23 ¶ Make a chain: for [z] the land is full of bloody crimes, and the city is full of violence.

CHAPTER VIII.

The prophet in a vision beholdeth the image of jealousy in the temple; 7 also the elders sacrificing in the chamber of imagery, 13 women weeping for Tammuz, 15 and men worshipping the sun. 17 God's wrath for their idolatry.

AND it came to pass in the sixth year, in the sixth month, in the fifth day of the month, as I sat in mine house, and [a] the elders of Ju'dah sat before me, that [b] the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me.

2 [c] Then I beheld, and lo a likeness as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loins even downward, fire; and from his loins even upward, as the appearance of brightness, [d] as the colour of amber.

3 And he [e] put forth the form of a hand, and took me by a lock of mine head; and [f] the spirit lifted me up between the earth and the heaven, and [g] brought me in the visions of God to Je-ru'sa-lem, to the door of the inner gate that looketh toward the north; [h] where was the seat of the image of jealousy, which [i] provoketh to jealousy.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Is'ra-el was there, according to the vision that I [k] saw in the plain.

5 ¶ Then said he unto me, Son of man, lift up thine eyes now the way toward the north. So I lifted up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold northward at the gate of the altar this image of jealousy in the entry.

6 He said furthermore unto me, Son of man, seest thou what they do? even the great abominations that the house of Is'ra-el committeth here, that I should go far off from my sanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the door of the court; and when I looked, behold a hole in the wall.

8 Then said he unto me, Son of man, dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a door.

9 And he said unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and saw; and behold every form of creeping things, and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Is'ra-el, portrayed upon the wall round about.

11 And there stood before them seventy men of the ancients of the house of Is'ra-el, and in the midst of them stood Ja-az-a-ni'ah the son of Sha'phan, with every man his censer in his hand; and a thick cloud of incense went up.

12 Then said he unto me, Son of man, hast thou seen what the ancients of the house of Is'ra-el do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they say, [l]The LORD seeth us not; the LORD hath forsaken the earth.

13 ¶ He said also unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the door of the gate of the LORD's house which was toward the north; and behold, there sat women weeping for Tam'muz.

15 ¶ Then said he unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? turn thee yet again, and thou shalt see greater abominations than these.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the LORD's house, and behold, at the door of the temple of the LORD, [m]between the porch and the altar, [n]were about five and twenty men, [o]with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the east; and they worshipped [p]the sun toward the east.

17 ¶ Then he said unto me, Hast thou seen this, O son of man? [1]Is it a light thing to the house of Ju'dah that they commit the abominations which they commit here? for they have [q]filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger: and lo, they put the branch to their nose.

18 [r]Therefore will I also deal in fury: mine [s]eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity: and though they [t]cry in mine ears with a loud voice, yet will I not hear them.

CHAPTER IX.

A vision typifying the preservation of some of the people, 5 and the destruction of the rest. 8 God will not be entreated for them.

HE cried also in mine ears with a loud voice, saying, Cause them that have charge over the city to draw near, even every man with his destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, six men came from the way of the higher gate, [1]which lieth toward the north, and every man [2]a slaughter weapon in his hand; [a]and one man among them was clothed with linen, with a writer's inkhorn [3]by his side: and they went in, and stood beside the brazen altar.

3 And [b]the glory of the God of Is'ra-el was gone up from the cherub, whereupon he was, to the threshold of the house. And he called to the man clothed with linen, which had the writer's inkhorn by his side;

4 And the LORD said unto him, Go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem, and [4]set [c]a mark upon the foreheads of the men [d]that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.

5 ¶ And to the others he said in [5]mine hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and smite: [e]let not your eye spare, neither have ye pity:

6 [f]Slay [6]utterly old and young, both maids, and little children, and women: but [g]come not near any man upon whom is the mark; and [h]begin at my sanctuary. [i]Then they began at the ancient men which were before the house.

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain: go ye forth. And they went forth, and slew in the city.

8 ¶ And it came to pass, while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I [k]fell upon my face, and cried, and said, [l]Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou destroy all the residue of Is'ra-el in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Je-ru'sa-lem?

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Is'ra-el and Ju'dah is exceeding great, and [m]the land is [7]full of blood, and the city full of [8]perverseness: for they say, [n]The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and [o]the LORD seeth not.

10 And as for me also, mine [p]eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but [q]I will recompense their way upon their head.

11 And behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, [9]reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

CHAPTER X.

The vision of the coals of fire, to be scattered over the city. 8 The vision of the cherubim.

THEN I looked, and behold, in the [a]firmament that was above the head of the cherubim there appeared over them as it were a sapphire stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

2 [b]And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, and said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill [1]thine hand with [c]coals of fire from between the cherubim, and [d]scatter them over the city. And he went in in my sight.

3 Now the cherubim stood on the right side of the house, when the man went in; and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 [e]Then the glory of the LORD [2]went up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house; and [f]the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORD's glory.

5 And the [g]sound of the cherubim's wings was heard even to the outer court, as [h]the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

6 And it came to pass, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubim; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

7 And one cherub [3] stretched forth his hand from between the cherubim unto the fire that was between the cherubim, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen; who took it, and went out.

8 ¶ [i] And there appeared in the cherubim the form of a man's hand under their wings.

9 [k] And when I looked, behold the four wheels by the cherubim, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub: and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a [l] beryl stone.

10 And as for their appearances, they four had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 [m] When they went, they went upon their four sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked they followed it; they turned not as they went.

12 And their whole [4] body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and [n] the wheels, were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they four had.

13 As for the wheels, [5] it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

14 [o] And every one had four faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubim were lifted up. This is [p] the living creature that I saw by the river of Che'bar.

16 [q] And when the cherubim went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubim lifted up their wings to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 [r] When they stood, these stood; and when they were lifted up, these lifted up themselves also: for the spirit [6] of the living creature was in them.

18 Then [s] the glory of the LORD [t] departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubim.

19 And [u] the cherubim lifted up their wings, and mounted up from the earth in my sight: when they went out, the wheels also were beside them, and every one stood at the door of the east gate of the LORD's house; and the glory of the God of Is'ra-el was over them above.

20 [x] This is the living creature that I saw under the God of Is'ra-el [y] by the river of Che'bar; and I knew that they were the cherubim.

21 [z] Every one had four faces apiece, and every one four wings; [a] and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And [b] the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Che'bar, their appearances and themselves: [c] they went every one straight forward.

CHAPTER XI.

The presumption of the princes. 4 Their sin and punishment. 13 God's gracious purpose in the chastisement of his people. 22 The glory of God leaveth the city. 24 The end of the vision.

MOREOVER [a] the Spirit lifted me up, and brought me unto [b] the east gate of the LORD's house, which looketh eastward: and behold [c] at the door of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Ja-az-a-ni'ah the son of A'zur, and Pel-a-ti'ah the son of Ben-a'iah, princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Son of man, these are the men that devise mischief, and give wicked counsel in this city:

3 Which say, [1] It is not [d] near; let us build houses: [e] this city is the caldron, and we be the flesh.

4 ¶ Therefore prophesy against them, prophesy, O son of man.

5 And [f] the Spirit of the LORD fell upon me, and said unto me, Speak; Thus saith the LORD; Thus have ye said, O house of Is'ra-el: for I know the things that come into your mind, every one of them.

6 [g] Ye have multiplied your slain in this city, and ye have filled the streets thereof with the slain.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; [h] Your slain whom ye have laid in the midst of it, they are the flesh, and this city is the caldron: [i] but I will bring you forth out of the midst of it.

8 Ye have feared the sword; and I will bring a sword upon you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And I will bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliver you into the hands of strangers, and [k] will execute judgments among you.

10 [l] Ye shall fall by the sword; I will judge you in [m] the border of Is'ra-el; [n] and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

11 [o] This city shall not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof; but I will judge you in the border of Is'ra-el:

12 And [p] ye shall know that I am the LORD: [2] for ye have not walked in my statutes, neither executed my judgments, but [q] have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

13 ¶ And it came to pass, when I prophesied, that [r] Pel-a-ti'ah the son of Ben-a'iah died. Then [s] fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and said, Ah Lord GOD! wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Is'ra-el?

14 Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

15 Son of man, thy brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the house of Is'ra-el wholly, are they unto whom the inhabitants of Je'ru-sa-lem have said, Get you far from the LORD: unto us is this land given in possession.

16 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Although I have cast them far off among the heathen, and although I have scattered them among the countries, [t] yet will I be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come.

17 Therefore say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [u] I will even gather you from the people, and assemble you out of the countries where ye have been scattered, and I will give you the land of Is'ra-el.

18 And they shall come thither, and [x] they shall take away all the detestable things thereof and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 And [y] I will give them one heart, and I will put [z] a new spirit within you; and I will take [a] the stony heart out of their flesh, and will give them a heart of flesh:

20 [b] That they may walk in my statutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: [c] and they shall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whose heart walketh after the heart of their detestable things and their abominations, [d] I will recompense their way upon their own heads, saith the Lord GOD.

22 ¶ Then did the cherubim [e] lift up their wings, and the wheels beside them; and the glory of the God of Is'ra-el was over them above.

23 And [f] the glory of the LORD went up from the midst of the city, and stood [g] upon the mountain [h] which is on the east side of the city.

24 ¶ Afterwards [i] the Spirit took me up, and brought me in a vision by the Spirit of God into Chal-de'a, to them of the captivity. So the vision that I had seen went up from me.

25 Then I spake unto them of the captivity all the things that the LORD had showed me.

CHAPTER XII.

The prophet by the type of his removal showeth the flight and captivity of Zedekiah. 17 The famine and consternation of the people during the siege typified. 21 Their presumption reproved. 26 The prophecy to be speedily fulfilled.

THE word of the LORD also came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, thou dwellest in the midst of [a] a rebellious house, which [b] have eyes to see, and see not; they have ears to hear, and hear not: [c] for they are a rebellious house.

3 Therefore, thou son of man, prepare thee [1] stuff for removing, and remove by day in their sight; and thou shalt remove from thy place to another place in their sight: it may be they will consider, though they be a rebellious house.

4 Then shalt thou bring forth thy stuff by day in their sight, as stuff for removing: and thou shalt go forth at even in their sight, [2] as they that go forth into captivity.

5 [3] Dig thou through the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou bear it upon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou shalt cover thy face, that thou see not the ground: [d] for I have set thee for a sign unto the house of Is'ra-el.

7 And I did so as I was commanded: I brought forth my stuff by day, as stuff for captivity, and in the even I [4] digged through the wall with mine hand; I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my shoulder in their sight.

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the LORD unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, hath not the house of Is'ra-el, [e] the rebellious house, said unto thee, [f] What doest thou?

10 Say thou unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; This [g] burden concerneth the prince in Je-ru'sa-lem, and all the house of Is'ra-el that are among them.

11 Say, [h] I am your sign: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them: [5] [i] they shall remove and go into captivity.

12 And [k] the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face, that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My [l] net also will I spread upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare: and [m] I will bring him to Bab'y-lon to the land of the Chal-de'ans; yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

14 And [n] I will scatter toward every wind all that are about him to help him, and all his bands; and [o] I will draw out the sword after them.

15 [p] And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countries.

16 [q] But I will leave [6] a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence; that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

17 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 Son of man, [r] eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulness;

19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD of the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem, and of the land of Is'ra-el; They shall eat their bread with carefulness, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may [s] be desolate from [7] all that is therein, [t] because of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

20 And the cities that are inhabited shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate; and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

21 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

22 Son of man, what is that proverb that ye have in the land of Is′ra-el, saying, [u] The days are prolonged, and every vision faileth?

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Is′ra-el; but say unto them, [x] The days are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For [y] there shall be no more any [z] vain vision nor flattering divination within the house of Is′ra-el.

25 For I am the LORD: I will speak, and [a] the word that I shall speak shall come to pass; it shall be no more prolonged: for in your days, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD.

26 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

27 [b] Son of man, behold, they of the house of Is′ra-el say, The vision that he seeth is [c] for many days to come, and he prophesieth of the times that are far off.

28 [d] Therefore say unto them, Thus said the Lord GOD, [e] There shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER XIII.

The sin and punishment of false prophets, 17 and of false prophetesses.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the prophets of Is′ra-el that prophesy, and say thou unto [a] [1] them that prophesy out of their own [b] hearts, Hear ye the word of the LORD;

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe unto the foolish prophets, that [2] follow their own spirit, [3] and have seen nothing!

4 O Is′ra-el, thy prophets are [c] like the foxes in the deserts.

5 Ye [d] have not gone up into the [4] gaps, neither [5] made up the hedge for the house of Is′ra-el to stand in the battle in the day of the LORD.

6 [e] They have seen vanity and lying divination, saying, The LORD saith: and the LORD hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope that they would confirm the word.

7 Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas ye say, The LORD saith it; albeit I have not spoken?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore, behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the [6] assembly of my people, [f] neither shall they be written in the writing of the house of Is′ra-el, [g] neither shall they enter into the land of Is′ra-el; [h] and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

10 ¶ Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, [i] Peace; and there was no peace; and one built up [7] a wall, and lo, others [k] daubed it with untempered mortar:

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered mortar, that it shall fall: [l] there shall be an overflowing shower; and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall; and a stormy wind shall rend it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I will even rend it with a stormy wind in my fury; and there shall be an overflowing shower in mine anger, and great hailstones in my fury to consume it.

14 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered mortar, and bring it down to the ground, so that the [m] foundation thereof shall be discovered, and it shall fall, and ye shall be consumed in the midst thereof: [n] and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

15 Thus will I accomplish my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with untempered mortar, and will say unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16 To wit, the prophets of Is′ra-el which prophesy concerning Je-ru′sa-lem, and which [o] see visions of peace for her, and there is no peace, saith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ Likewise, thou son of man, [p] set thy face against the daughters of thy people, [q] which prophesy out of their own heart; and prophesy thou against them,

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to the women that sew pillows to all [8] armholes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every stature to hunt souls! Will ye [r] hunt the souls of my people, and will ye save the souls alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people [s] for handfuls of barley and for pieces of bread, [t] to slay the souls that should not die, and to save the souls alive that should not live, by your lying to my people that hear your lies?

20 Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD;

CHAPTER XIV.

Idolaters in Israel rebuked, 6 and exhorted to repent. 12 The certainty of Israel's punishment by famine, 15 by noisome beasts, 17 by the sword, 19 and by pestilence. 22 A remnant to be left, and the reason thereof.

THEN [a]came certain of the elders of Is'ra-el unto me, and sat before me.

2 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, these men have set up their idols in their heart, and put [b]the stumblingblock of their iniquity before their face; [c]should I be inquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore speak unto them, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Every man of the house of Is'ra-el that setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the prophet; [d]I the LORD will answer him that cometh, according to the multitude of his idols;

5 That I may take the house of Is'ra-el in their own heart, because they are all estranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore say unto the house of Is'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Repent, and turn [1]yourselves from your idols; and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For every one of the house of Is'ra-el, or of the stranger that sojourneth in Is'ra-el, which separateth himself from me, and setteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the stumblingblock of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to a prophet to inquire of him concerning me; I the LORD will answer him by myself:

8 And [e]I will set my face against that man, and will make him a [f]sign and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midst of my people; [g]and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

9 And if the prophet be deceived when he hath spoken a thing, I the LORD [h]have deceived that prophet, and I will stretch out my hand upon him, and will destroy him from the midst of my people Is'ra-el.

10 And they shall bear the punishment of their iniquity: the punishment of the prophet shall be even as the punishment of him that seeketh unto him;

11 That the house of Is'ra-el may [i]go no more astray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their transgressions; [k]but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, saith the Lord GOD.

12 ¶ The word of the LORD came again to me, saying,

13 Son of man, when the land sinneth against me by trespassing grievously, then will I stretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the [l]staff of the bread thereof, and will send famine upon it, and will cut off man and beast from it:

14 [m]Though these three men, No'ah, Dan'iel, and Job, were in it, they should deliver but their own souls [n]by their righteousness, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ If I cause [o]noisome beasts to pass through the land, and they [2]spoil it, so that it be desolate, that no man may pass through because of the beasts:

16 [p]Though these three men were [3]in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters; they only shall be delivered, but the land shall be desolate.

17 ¶ Or if [q]I bring a sword upon that land, and say, Sword, go through the land; so that I [r]cut off man and beast from it:

18 [s]Though these three men were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither sons nor daughters, but they only shall be delivered themselves.

19 ¶ Or if I send [t]a pestilence into that land, and [u]pour out my fury upon it in blood, to cut off from it man and beast:

20 [x]Though No'ah, Dan'iel, and Job, were in it, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, they shall deliver neither son nor daughter; they shall but deliver their own souls by their righteousness.

21 For thus saith the Lord GOD; [4]How much more when [y]I send my four sore judgments upon Je-ru'sa-lem, the sword, and the famine, and the noisome beast, and the pestilence, to cut off from it man and beast?

22 ¶ [z]Yet behold, therein shall be left a remnant that shall be brought forth, both sons and daughters: behold, they shall come forth unto you, and [a]ye shall see their way and their doings: and ye shall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Je-ru'sa-lem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

CHAPTER XV.

As the vine branch is fit only for fuel, 6 so Jerusalem is fit only for destruction.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, What is the vine tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the trees of the forest?

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any vessel thereon?

4 Behold, [a]it is cast into the fire for fuel; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midst of it is burned. [1]Is it meet for any work?

5 Behold, when it was whole, it was [2]meet for no work: how much less shall it be meet yet for any work, when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?

6 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; As the vine tree among the trees of the forest, which I have given to the fire for fuel, so will I give the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem.

7 And [b]I will set my face against them; [c]they shall go out from one fire, and another fire shall devour them; [d]and ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I set my face against them.

8 And I will make the land desolate, because they have [3]committed a trespass, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER XVI.

Under the similitude of an exposed infant, is shown the state of Jerusalem at first. 6 God's great goodness towards her. 15 Her monstrous idolatry. 35 Her grievous punishment. 44 She is more guilty than Sodom or Samaria. 60 Yet God will remember his covenant with her.

AGAIN the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]cause Je-ru'sa-lem to know her abominations,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto Je-ru'sa-lem; Thy [1]birth [b]and thy nativity is of the land of Ca'naan; [c]thy father was an Am'o-rite, and thy mother a Hit'tite.

4 And as for thy nativity, [d]in the day thou wast born thy navel was not cut, neither wast thou washed in water [2]to supple thee; thou wast not salted at all, nor swaddled at all.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of these unto thee, to have compassion upon thee; but thou wast cast out in the open field, to the loathing of thy person, in the day that thou wast born.

6 ¶ And when I passed by thee, and saw thee [3]polluted in thine own blood, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live; [e]yea, I said unto thee when thou wast in thy blood, Live.

7 [f]I have [4]caused thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou hast increased and waxen great, and thou art come to [5]excellent ornaments: thy breasts are fashioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou wast naked and bare.

8 Now when I passed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love; [g]and I spread my skirt over thee, and covered thy nakedness: yea, I sware unto thee, and entered into a covenant with thee, saith the Lord GOD, and [h]thou becamest mine.

9 Then washed I thee with water; yea, I thoroughly washed away thy [6]blood from thee, and I anointed thee with oil.

10 I clothed thee also with broidered work, and shod thee with badgers' skin, and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with silk.

11 I decked thee also with ornaments, and I [i]put bracelets upon thy hands, [j]and a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a jewel on thy [7]forehead, and earrings in thine ears, and a beautiful crown upon thine head.

13 Thus wast thou decked with gold and silver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and silk, and broidered work; [k]thou didst eat fine flour, and honey, and oil; and thou wast exceeding [l]beautiful, and thou didst prosper into a kingdom.

14 And [m]thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my comeliness, which I had put upon thee, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ [n]But thou didst trust in thine own beauty, [o]and playedst the harlot because of thy renown, and pouredst out thy fornications on every one that passed by; his it was.

16 [p]And of thy garments thou didst take, and deckedst thy high places with divers colours, and playedst the harlot thereupon: the like things shall not come, neither shall it be so.

17 Thou hast also taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my silver, which I had given thee, and madest to thyself images [8]of men, and didst commit whoredom with them,

18 And tookest thy broidered garments, and coveredst them: and thou hast set mine oil and mine incense before them.

19 [q]My meat also which I gave thee, fine flour, and oil, and honey, wherewith I fed thee, thou hast even set it before them for [9]a sweet savour: and thus it was, saith the Lord GOD.

20 [r]Moreover thou hast taken thy sons and thy daughters, whom thou hast borne unto me, and these hast thou sacrificed unto them [10]to be devoured. Is this of thy whoredoms a small matter,

21 That thou hast slain my children, and delivered them to cause them to pass through the fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredoms thou hast not remembered the days of thy [s] youth, [t] when thou wast naked and bare, and wast polluted in thy blood.

23 And it came to pass after all thy wickedness, (woe, woe unto thee! saith the Lord God,)

24 That [u] thou hast also built unto thee an [11] eminent place, and [x] hast made thee a high place in every street.

25 Thou hast built thy high place [y] at every head of the way, and hast made thy beauty to be abhorred, and hast opened thy feet to every one that passed by, and multiplied thy whoredoms.

26 Thou hast also committed fornication with [z] the E-gyp'tians thy neighbours, great of flesh; and hast increased thy whoredoms, to provoke me to anger.

27 Behold, therefore I have stretched out my hand over thee, and have diminished thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, [a] the [12] daughters of the Phil-is'tines, which are ashamed of thy lewd way.

28 [b] Thou hast played the whore also with the As-syr'i-ans, because thou wast unsatiable; yea, thou hast played the harlot with them, and yet couldest not be satisfied.

29 Thou hast moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Ca'naan [c] unto Chal-de'a; and yet thou wast not satisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, saith the Lord God, seeing thou doest all these things, the work of an imperious whorish woman;

31 [13] In that [d] thou buildest thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makest thine high place in every street; and hast not been as a harlot, in that thou scornest hire;

32 But as a wife that committeth adultery, which taketh strangers instead of her husband!

33 They give gifts to all whores: but [e] thou givest thy gifts to all thy lovers, and [14] hirest them, that they may come unto thee on every side for thy whoredom.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredoms, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredoms: and in that thou givest a reward, and no reward is given unto thee, therefore thou art contrary.

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, hear the word of the Lord:

36 Thus saith the Lord God; Because thy filthiness was poured out, and thy nakedness discovered through thy whoredoms with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by [f] the blood of thy children, which thou didst give unto them;

37 Behold, therefore [g] I will gather all thy lovers, with whom thou hast taken pleasure, and all them that thou hast loved, with all them that thou hast hated; I will even gather them round about against thee, and will discover thy nakedness unto them, that they may see all thy nakedness.

38 And I will judge thee, [15] as [h] women that break wedlock and [i] shed blood are judged; and I will give thee blood in fury and jealousy.

39 And I will also give thee into their hand, and they shall throw down [k] thine eminent place, and shall break down thy high places: [l] they shall strip thee also of thy clothes, and shall take [16] thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

40 [m] They shall also bring up a company against thee, [n] and they shall stone thee with stones, and thrust thee through with their swords.

41 And they shall [o] burn thine houses with fire, and [p] execute judgments upon thee in the sight of many women: and I will cause thee to [q] cease from playing the harlot, and thou also shalt give no hire any more.

42 So [r] will I make my fury toward thee to rest, and my jealousy shall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

43 Because [s] thou hast not remembered the days of thy youth, but hast fretted me in all these things; behold, therefore [t] I also will recompense thy way upon thine head, saith the Lord God: and thou shalt not commit this lewdness above all thine abominations.

44 ¶ Behold, every one that useth proverbs shall use this proverb against thee, saying, As is the mother, so is her daughter.

45 Thou art thy mother's daughter, that loatheth her husband and her children; and thou art the sister of thy sisters, which loathed their husbands and their children: [u] your mother was a Hit'tite, and your father an Am'o-rite.

46 And thine elder sister is Sa-ma'ri-a, she and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand: and [x] [17] thy younger sister, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sod'om and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their ways, nor done after their abominations: but, [18] as if that were a very little thing, [y] thou wast corrupted more than they in all thy ways.

48 As I live, saith the Lord God, [z] Sod'om thy sister hath not done, she nor her daughters, as thou hast done, thou and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy sister Sod'om, pride, [a] fulness of bread,

CHAPTER XVII.

The parable of two eagles and a vine. 11 The explanation of the parable. 22 God's promise of prosperity.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Is'ra-el;

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [a]A great eagle with great wings, long winged, full of feathers, which had [1]divers colours, came unto Leb'a-non, and [b]took the highest branch of the cedar:

4 He cropped off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of traffick; he set it in a city of merchants.

5 He took also of the seed of the land, and [2]planted it in [c]a fruitful field; he placed it by great waters, and set it [d]as a willow tree.

6 And it grew, and became a spreading vine [e]of low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him: so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

7 There was also another great eagle with great wings and many feathers: and behold, [f]this vine did bend her roots toward him, and shot forth her branches toward him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation.

8 It was planted in a good [3]soil by great waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Shall it prosper? [g]shall he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof, that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? [h]shall it not utterly wither, when the east wind toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to [i]the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, [k]the king of Bab'y-lon is come to Je-ru'sa-lem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Bab'y-lon;

13 [l]And hath taken of the king's seed, and made a covenant with him, [m]and hath [4]taken an oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land:

14 That the kingdom might be [n]base, that it might not lift itself up, [5]but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

15 But [o]he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadors into E'gypt, [p]that they might give him horses and much people. [q] Shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely [r] in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him in the midst of Bab'y-lon he shall die.

17 [s] Neither shall Pha'raoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the war, [t] by casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons:

18 Seeing he despised the oath by breaking the covenant, when lo, he had [u] given his hand, and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will [x] spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Bab'y-lon, and [y] will plead with him there for his trespass that he hath trespassed against me.

21 And [z] all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered toward all winds: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

22 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will also take of the highest [a] branch of the high cedar, and will set it; I will crop off from the top of his young twigs [b] a tender one, and will [c] plant it upon a high mountain and eminent:

23 [d] In the mountain of the height of Is'ra-el will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar: and [e] under it shall dwell all fowl of every wing; in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the trees of the field shall know that I the LORD [f] have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: [g] I the LORD have spoken and have done it.

CHAPTER XVIII.

God reproveth the people for their unjust proverb of the sour grapes. 4 The soul that sinneth, it shall die. 31 An exhortation to repentance.

THE word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Is'ra-el, saying, The [a] fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Is'ra-el.

4 Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine: [b] the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 ¶ But if a man be just, and do [1] that which is lawful and right,

6 [c] And hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Is'ra-el, neither hath [d] defiled his neighbour's wife, neither hath come near to [e] a menstruous woman,

7 And hath not [f] oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtor his [g] pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath [h] given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment;

8 He that hath not given forth upon [i] usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, [k] hath executed true judgment between man and man,

9 Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgments, to deal truly; he is just, he shall surely [l] live, saith the Lord GOD.

10 ¶ If he beget a son that is a [2] robber, [m] a shedder of blood, and [3] that doeth the like to any one of these things,

11 And that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbour's wife,

12 Hath oppressed the poor and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lifted up his eyes to the idols, hath [n] committed abomination,

13 Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations; he shall surely die; [o] his [4] blood shall be upon him.

14 ¶ Now lo, if he beget a son, that seeth all his father's sins which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like,

15 [p] That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lifted up his eyes to the idols of the house of Is'ra-el, hath not defiled his neighbour's wife,

16 Neither hath oppressed any, [5] hath not withholden the pledge, neither hath spoiled by violence, but hath given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

17 That hath taken off his hand from the poor, that hath not received usury nor increase, hath executed my judgments, hath walked in my statutes; he shall not die for the iniquity of his father, he shall surely live.

18 As for his father, because he cruelly oppressed, spoiled his brother by violence, and did that which is not good among his people, lo, even [q] he shall die in his iniquity.

19 ¶ Yet say ye, Why? [r] doth not the son bear the iniquity of the father?

When the son hath done that which is lawful and right, and hath kept all my statutes, and hath done them, he shall surely live.

20 [s] The soul that sinneth, it shall die. [t] The son shall not bear the iniquity of the father, neither shall the father bear the iniquity of the son: [u] the righteousness of the righteous shall be upon him, [x] and the wickedness of the wicked shall be upon him.

21 But [y] if the wicked will turn from all his sins that he hath committed, and keep all my statutes, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

22 [z] All his transgressions that he hath committed, they shall not be mentioned unto him: in his righteousness that he hath done he shall live.

23 [a] Have I any pleasure at all that the wicked should die? saith the Lord GOD: and not that he should return from his ways, and live?

24 ¶ But [b] when the righteous turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and doeth according to all the abominations that the wicked man doeth, shall he live? [c] All his righteousness that he hath done shall not be mentioned: in his trespass that he hath trespassed, and in his sin that he hath sinned, in them shall he die.

25 ¶ Yet ye say, [d] The way of the Lord is not equal. Hear now, O house of Is'ra-el; Is not my way equal? are not your ways unequal?

26 [e] When a righteous man turneth away from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, and dieth in them; for his iniquity that he hath done shall he die.

27 Again, [f] when the wicked man turneth away from his wickedness that he hath committed, and doeth that which is lawful and right, he shall save his soul alive.

28 Because he [g] considereth, and turneth away from all his transgressions that he hath committed, he shall surely live, he shall not die.

29 [h] Yet saith the house of Is'ra-el, The way of the Lord is not equal. O house of Is'ra-el, are not my ways equal? are not your ways unequal?

30 [i] Therefore I will judge you, O house of Is'ra-el, every one according to his ways, saith the Lord GOD. [k] Repent, and turn [6] yourselves from all your transgressions; so iniquity shall not be your ruin.

31 ¶ [l] Cast away from you all your transgressions, whereby ye have transgressed; and make you a [m] new heart and a new spirit: for why will ye die, O house of Is'ra-el?

32 For [n] I have no pleasure in the death of him that dieth, saith the Lord GOD: wherefore turn [7] yourselves, and live ye.

CHAPTER XIX.

Under the similitude of a lioness and her whelps, the prophet deploreth the fall of the royal family 10 And under the figure of a vine plucked up and wasted, is shown the desolation of Jerusalem.

MOREOVER, [a] take thou up a lamentation for the princes of Is'ra-el,

2 And say, What is thy mother? A lioness: she lay down among lions, she nourished her whelps among young lions.

3 And she brought up one of her whelps: [b] it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey; it devoured men.

4 The nations also heard of him; he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of [c] E'gypt.

5 Now when she saw that she had waited, and her hope was lost, then she took [d] another of her whelps, and made him a young lion.

6 [e] And he went up and down among the lions, [f] he became a young lion, and learned to catch the prey, and devoured men.

7 And he knew [1] their desolate palaces, and he laid waste their cities; and the land was desolate, and the fulness thereof, by the noise of his roaring.

8 [g] Then the nations set against him on every side from the provinces, and spread their net over him: [h] he was taken in their pit.

9 [i] And they put him in ward [2] in chains, and brought him to the king of Bab'y-lon: they brought him into holds, that his voice should no more be heard upon [k] the mountains of Is'ra-el.

10 ¶ Thy mother is [l] like a vine [3] in thy blood, planted by the waters: she was [m] fruitful and full of branches by reason of many waters.

11 And she had strong rods for the sceptres of them that bare rule, and her [n] stature was exalted among the thick branches, and she appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But she was plucked up in fury, she was cast down to the ground, and the [o] east wind dried up her fruit: her strong rods were broken and withered; the fire consumed them.

13 And now she is planted in the wilderness, in a dry and thirsty ground.

14 [p] And fire is gone out of a rod of her branches, which hath devoured her fruit, so that she hath no strong rod to be a sceptre to rule. [q] This is a lamentation, and shall be for a lamentation.

elders of Is′ra-el came to inquire of the Lord, and sat before me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord unto me, saying,

3 Son of man, speak unto the elders of Is′ra-el, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Are ye come to inquire of me? As I live, saith the Lord God, [b]I will not be inquired of by you.

4 Wilt thou [1][c]judge them, son of man, wilt thou judge them? [d]cause them to know the abominations of their fathers:

5 ¶ And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; In the day when [e]I chose Is′ra-el, and [2]lifted up mine hand unto the seed of the house of Ja′cob, and made myself [f]known unto them in the land of E′gypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, saying, [g]I am the Lord your God;

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them, [h]to bring them forth of the land of E′gypt into a land that I had espied for them, flowing with milk and honey, [i]which is the glory of all lands:

7 Then said I unto them, [k]Cast ye away every man [l]the abominations of his eyes, and defile not yourselves with [m]the idols of E′gypt: I am the Lord your God.

8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man cast away the abominations of their eyes, neither did they forsake the idols of E′gypt: then I said, I will [n]pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the midst of the land of E′gypt.

9 [o]But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whose sight I made myself known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of E′gypt.

10 ¶ Wherefore I [p]caused them to go forth out of the land of E′gypt, and brought them into the wilderness.

11 [q]And I gave them my statutes, and [3]showed them my judgments, [r]which if a man do, he shall even live in them.

12 Moreover also I gave them my [s]sabbaths, to be a sign between me and them, that they might know that I am the Lord that sanctify them.

13 But the house of Is′ra-el [t]rebelled against me in the wilderness: they walked not in my statutes, and they [u]despised my judgments, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; and my sabbaths they greatly [x]polluted: then I said, I would pour out my fury upon them in the [y]wilderness, to consume them.

14 [z]But I wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet also [a]I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderness, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, [b]which is the glory of all lands;

16 [c]Because they despised my judgments, and walked not in my statutes, but polluted my sabbaths: for [d]their heart went after their idols.

17 [e]Nevertheless mine eye spared them from destroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderness.

18 But I said unto their children in the wilderness, Walk ye not in the statutes of your fathers, neither observe their judgments, nor defile yourselves with their idols:

19 I am the Lord your God; [f]walk in my statutes, and keep my judgments, and do them;

20 [g]And hallow my sabbaths; and they shall be a sign between me and you, that ye may know that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding, [h]the children rebelled against me: they walked not in my statutes, neither kept my judgments to do them, [i]which if a man do, he shall even live in them; they polluted my sabbaths: then I said, [k]I would pour out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger against them in the wilderness.

22 [l]Nevertheless I withdrew mine hand, and [m]wrought for my name's sake, that it should not be polluted in the sight of the heathen, in whose sight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up mine hand unto them also in the wilderness, that [n]I would scatter them among the heathen, and disperse them through the countries;

24 [o]Because they had not executed my judgments, but had despised my statutes, and had polluted my sabbaths, and [p]their eyes were after their fathers' idols.

25 Wherefore [q]I gave them also statutes that were not good, and judgments whereby they should not live;

26 And I polluted them in their own gifts, in that they caused to pass [r]through the fire all that openeth the womb, that I might make them desolate, to the end that they [s]might know that I am the Lord.

27 ¶ Therefore, son of man, speak unto the house of Is′ra-el, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God; Yet in this your fathers have [t]blasphemed me, in that they have [4]committed a trespass against me.

28 For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then [u]they saw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their sacrifices, and there they presented the provocation of their offering: there also they made their [w]sweet savour, and poured out there their drink offerings.

29 Then [5] I said unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go? And the name thereof is called Ba'mah unto this day.

30 Wherefore say unto the house of Is'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [x] Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredom after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer [y] your gifts, when ye make your sons to pass through the fire, ye pollute yourselves with all your idols, even unto this day: and [z] shall I be inquired of by you, O house of Is'ra-el? As I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will not be inquired of by you.

32 And that [a] which cometh into your mind shall not be at all, that ye say, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countries, to serve wood and stone.

33 ¶ As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely with a mighty hand, and [b] with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you:

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countries wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the wilderness of the people, and there [c] will I plead with you face to face.

36 [d] Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderness of the land of E'gypt, so will I plead with you, saith the Lord GOD.

37 And I will cause you to [e] pass under the rod, and I will bring you into [6] the bond of the covenant:

38 And [f] I will purge out from among you the rebels, and them that transgress against me: I will bring them forth out of the country where they sojourn, and [g] they shall not enter into the land of Is'ra-el: [h] and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

39 As for you, O house of Is'ra-el, thus saith the Lord GOD; [i] Go ye, serve ye every one his idols, and hereafter also, if ye will not hearken unto me: [k] but pollute ye my holy name no more with your gifts, and with your idols.

40 For [l] in mine holy mountain, in the mountain of the height of Is'ra-el, saith the Lord GOD, there shall all the house of Is'ra-el, all of them in the land, serve me: there [m] will I accept them, and there will I require your offerings, and the [7] firstfruits of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept you with your [8] [n] sweet savour, when I bring you out from the people, and gather you out of the countries wherein ye have been scattered; and I will be sanctified in you before the heathen.

42 [o] And ye shall know that I am the LORD, [p] when I shall bring you into the land of Is'ra-el, into the country for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to your fathers.

43 And [q] there shall ye remember your ways, and all your doings, wherein ye have been defiled; and [r] ye shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for all your evils that ye have committed.

44 [s] And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have wrought with you [t] for my name's sake, not according to your wicked ways, nor according to your corrupt doings, O ye house of Is'ra-el, saith the Lord GOD.

45 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

46 [u] Son of man, set thy face toward the south, and drop thy word toward the south, and prophesy against the forest of the south field;

47 And say to the forest of the south, Hear the word of the LORD; Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, [x] I will kindle a fire in thee, and it shall devour [y] every green tree in thee, and every dry tree: the flaming flame shall not be quenched, and all faces [z] from the south to the north shall be burned therein.

48 And all flesh shall see that I the LORD have kindled it: it shall not be quenched.

49 Then said I, Ah Lord GOD! they say of me, Doth he not speak parables?

CHAPTER XXI.

Ezekiel prophesieth against Jerusalem and Israel, and for a sign unto them, he sigheth with bitterness before them. 8 The sharp and bright sword about to come upon the people. 18 The approach of the king of Babylon described. 25 Sentence against Zedekiah pronounced. 28 The destruction of the Ammonites.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 [a] Son of man, set thy face toward Je-ru'sa-lem, and [b] drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophesy against the land of Is'ra-el,

3 And say to the land of Is'ra-el, Thus saith the LORD; Behold, I am against thee, and will draw forth my sword out of his sheath, and will cut off from thee [c] the righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I will cut off from thee the righteous and the wicked, therefore shall my sword go forth out of his sheath against all flesh [d] from the south to the north:

5 That all flesh may know that I the LORD have drawn forth my sword out of his sheath: it [e] shall not return any more.

6 [f] Sigh therefore, thou son of man, with the breaking of thy loins; and with bitterness sigh before their eyes.

7 And it shall be, when they say unto thee, Wherefore sighest thou? that thou shalt answer, For the tidings, because it cometh: and every heart shall melt, and [g] all hands shall be feeble, and every spirit shall faint, and all knees [1] shall be weak as water: behold, it cometh, and shall be brought to pass, saith the Lord GOD.

8 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

9 Son of man, prophesy, and say, Thus saith the LORD; Say, [h] A sword, a sword is sharpened, and also furbished:

10 It is sharpened to make a sore slaughter; it is furbished that it may glitter: should we then make mirth? [2] it contemneth the rod of my son, as every tree.

11 And he hath given it to be furbished, that it may be handled: this sword is sharpened, and it is furbished, to give it into the hand of [i] the slayer.

12 Cry and howl, son of man; for it shall be upon my people, it shall be upon all the princes of Is'ra-el: [3] terrors by reason of the sword shall be upon my people: [k] smite therefore upon thy thigh.

13 [4] Because it is [l] a trial, and what if the sword contemn even the rod? [m] it shall be no more, saith the Lord GOD.

14 Thou therefore, son of man, prophesy, and [n] smite thine [5] hands together, and let the sword be doubled the third time, the sword of the slain: it is the sword of the great men that are slain, which entereth into their [o] privy chambers.

15 I have set the [6] point of the sword against all their gates, that their heart may faint, and their ruins be multiplied: ah! [p] it is made bright, it is [7] wrapped up for the slaughter.

16 [q] Go thee one way or other, either on the right hand, [8] or on the left, whithersoever thy face is set.

17 I will also [r] smite mine hands together, and [s] I will cause my fury to rest: I the LORD have said it.

18 ¶ The word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

19 Also, thou son of man, appoint thee two ways, that the sword of the king of Bab'y-lon may come: both twain shall come forth out of one land: and choose thou a place, choose it at the head of the way to the city.

20 Appoint a way, that the sword may come to [t] Rab'bath of the Am'mon-ites, and to Ju'dah in Je-ru'sa-lem the defenced.

21 For the king of Bab'y-lon stood at the [9] parting of the way, at the head of the two ways, to use divination: he made his [10] arrows bright, he consulted with [11] images, he looked in the liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Je-ru'sa-lem, to appoint [12] captains, to open the mouth in the slaughter, to [u] lift up the voice with shouting, [x] to appoint battering rams against the gates, to cast a mount, and to build a fort.

23 And it shall be unto them as a false divination in their sight, [13] to them that [y] have sworn oaths: but he will call to remembrance the iniquity, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye have made your iniquity to be remembered, in that your transgressions are discovered, so that in all your doings your sins do appear; because, I say, that ye are come to remembrance, ye shall be taken with the hand.

25 ¶ And thou, [z] profane wicked prince of Is'ra-el, [a] whose day is come, when iniquity shall have an end,

26 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Remove the diadem, and take off the crown: this shall not be the same: [b] exalt him that is low, and abase him that is high.

27 [14] I will overturn, overturn, overturn it: [c] and it shall be no more, until he come whose right it is; and I will give it him.

28 ¶ And thou, son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD [d] concerning the Am'mon-ites, and concerning their reproach; even say thou, [e] The sword, the sword is drawn: for the slaughter it is furbished, to consume because of the glittering:

29 While they [f] see vanity unto thee, while they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are slain, of the wicked, [g] whose day is come, when their iniquity shall have an end.

30 [15] [h] Shall I cause it to return into his sheath? [i] I will judge thee in the place where thou wast created, [k] in the land of thy nativity.

31 And I will [l] pour out mine indignation upon thee; I will [m] blow against thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of [16] brutish men, and skilful to destroy.

32 Thou shalt be for fuel to the fire; thy blood shall be in the midst of the land; [n] thou shalt be no more remembered: for I the LORD have spoken it.

draw near, and art come even unto thy years: [d] therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countries.

5 Those that be near, and those that be far from thee, shall mock thee, which art [4] infamous and much vexed.

6 Behold, [e] the princes of Is'ra-el, every one were in thee to their [5] power to shed blood.

7 In thee have they [f] set light by father and mother: in the midst of thee have they [g] dealt by [6] oppression with the stranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherless and the widow.

8 Thou hast [h] despised mine holy things, and hast [i] profaned my sabbaths.

9 In thee are [7] [k] men that carry tales to shed blood: [l] and in thee they eat upon the mountains: in the midst of thee they commit lewdness.

10 In thee have they [m] discovered their fathers' nakedness: in thee have they humbled her that was [n] set apart for pollution.

11 And [8] one hath committed abomination [o] with his neighbour's wife; and [9] another [p] hath [10] lewdly defiled his daughter in law; and another in thee hath humbled his [q] sister, his father's daughter.

12 In thee [r] have they taken gifts to shed blood; [s] thou hast taken usury and increase, and thou hast greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and [t] hast forgotten me, saith the Lord GOD.

13 ¶ Behold, therefore I have [u] smitten mine hand at thy dishonest gain which thou hast made, and at thy blood which hath been in the midst of thee.

14 [x] Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands be strong, in the days that I shall deal with thee? [y] I the LORD have spoken it, and will do it.

15 And [z] I will scatter thee among the heathen, and disperse thee in the countries, and [a] will consume thy filthiness out of thee.

16 And thou [11] shalt take thine inheritance in thyself in the sight of the heathen, and [b] thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

17 And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, [c] the house of Is'ra-el is to me become dross: all they are brass, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midst of the furnace; they are even the [12] dross of silver.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because ye are all become dross, behold, therefore I will gather you into the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem.

20 [13] As they gather silver, and brass, and iron, and lead, and tin, into the midst of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; so will I gather you in mine anger and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and melt you.

21 Yea, I will gather you, and [d] blow upon you in the fire of my wrath, and ye shall be melted in the midst thereof.

22 As silver is melted in the midst of the furnace, so shall ye be melted in the midst thereof; and ye shall know that I the LORD have [e] poured out my fury upon you.

23 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, say unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleansed, nor rained upon in the day of indignation.

25 [f] There is a conspiracy of her prophets in the midst thereof, like a roaring lion ravening the prey: they [g] have devoured souls; [h] they have taken the treasure and precious things; they have made her many widows in the midst thereof.

26 [i] Her priests have [14] violated my law, and have [k] profaned mine holy things: they have put no [l] difference between the holy and profane, neither have they showed difference between the unclean and the clean, and have hid their eyes from my sabbaths, and I am profaned among them.

27 Her [m] princes in the midst thereof are like wolves ravening the prey, to shed blood, and to destroy souls, to get dishonest gain.

28 And [n] her prophets have daubed them with untempered mortar, [o] seeing vanity, and divining lies unto them, saying, Thus saith the Lord GOD, when the LORD hath not spoken.

29 [p] The people of the land have used [15] oppression, and exercised robbery, and have vexed the poor and needy: yea, they have [q] oppressed the stranger [16] wrongfully.

30 [r] And I sought for a man among them, that should [s] make up the hedge, and [t] stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it: but I found none.

31 Therefore have I [u] poured out mine indignation upon them; I have consumed them with the fire of my wrath: [x] their own way have I recompensed upon their heads, saith the Lord GOD.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, there were [a] two women, the daughters of one mother:

3 And [b] they committed whoredoms in E'gypt; they committed whoredoms in [c] their youth: there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of them were A-ho'lah the elder, and A-hol'i-bah her sister: and [d] they were mine, and they bare sons and daughters. Thus were their names; Sa-ma'ri-a is [1] A-ho'lah, and Je-ru'sa-lem [2] A-hol'i-bah.

5 And A-ho'lah played the harlot when she was mine; and she doted on her lovers, on [e] the As-syr'i-ans her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them desirable young men, horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she [3] committed her whoredoms with them, with all them that were [4] the chosen men of As-syr'i-a, and with all on whom she doted: with all their idols she defiled herself.

8 Neither left she her whoredoms brought [f] from E'gypt: for in her youth they lay with her, and they bruised the breasts of her virginity, and poured their whoredom upon her.

9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the [g] As-syr'i-ans, upon whom she doted.

10 These [h] discovered her nakedness: they took her sons and her daughters, and slew her with the sword: and she became [5] famous among women; for they had executed judgment upon her.

11 And [i] when her sister A-hol'i-bah saw this, [k] [6] she was more corrupt in her inordinate love than she, and in her whoredoms [7] more than her sister in her whoredoms.

12 She doted upon the [l] As-syr'i-ans her neighbours, [m] captains and rulers clothed most gorgeously, horsemen riding upon horses, all of them desirable young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that she increased her whoredoms: for when she saw men portrayed upon the wall, the images of the Chal-de'ans portrayed with vermilion,

15 Girded with girdles upon their loins, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the Bab-y-lo'ni-ans of Chal-de'a, the land of their nativity:

16 [n] And [8] as soon as she saw them with her eyes, she doted upon them, and sent messengers unto them into Chal-de'a.

17 And the [9] Bab-y-lo'ni-ans came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredom, and she was polluted with them, and [o] her mind was [10] alienated from them.

18 So she discovered her whoredoms, and discovered her nakedness: then [p] my mind was alienated from her, like as my mind was alienated from her sister.

19 Yet she multiplied her whoredoms, in calling to remembrance the days of her youth, [q] wherein she had played the harlot in the land of E'gypt.

f ch. 22. 4, 5.

20 For she doted upon their paramours, [r] whose flesh is as the flesh of asses, and whose issue is like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou calledst to remembrance the lewdness of thy youth, in bruising thy teats by the E-gyp'tians for the paps of thy youth.

22 ¶ Therefore, O A-hol'i-bah, thus saith the Lord GOD; [s] Behold, I will raise up thy lovers against thee, from whom thy mind is alienated, and I will bring them against thee on every side;

23 The Bab-y-lo'ni-ans, and all the Chal-de'ans, [t] Pe'kod, and Sho'a, and Ko'a, and all the As-syr'i-ans with them: [u] all of them desirable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.

24 And they shall come against thee with [v] chariots, wagons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people, which shall set against thee buckler and shield and helmet round about: and I will set judgment before them, and they shall judge thee according to their judgments.

25 And I will set [w] my jealousy against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thy nose and thine ears; and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sons and thy daughters; and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

26 [x] They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy [11] fair jewels.

27 Thus [y] will I make thy lewdness to cease from thee, and [z] thy whoredom brought from the land of E'gypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember E'gypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them [a] whom thou hatest, into the hand of them [b] from whom thy mind is alienated:

29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy labour, and [c] shall leave thee naked and bare: and the nakedness of thy whoredoms shall be discovered, both thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast [d] gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister; therefore will I give her [e] cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Thou shalt drink of thy sister's cup deep and large: [f] thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision; it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with drunkenness and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Sa-ma'ri-a.

34 Thou shalt [g]even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou [h]hast forgotten me, and cast me behind thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdness and thy whoredoms.

36 ¶ The LORD said moreover unto me; Son of man, wilt thou [k] [12]judge A-ho′lah and A-hol′i-bah? yea, [l]declare unto them their abominations;

37 That they have committed adultery, and [m]blood is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sons, [n]whom they bare unto me, to pass for them through the fire, to devour them.

38 Moreover this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and [o]have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it; and lo, [p]thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

40 And furthermore, that ye have sent for men [13]to come from far, [q]unto whom a messenger was sent; and lo, they came: for whom thou didst [r]wash thyself, [s]paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thyself with ornaments,

41 And satest upon a [14]stately [t]bed, and a table prepared before it, [u]whereupon thou hast set mine incense and mine oil.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her: and with the men [15]of the common sort were brought [16]Sabe′ans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautiful crowns upon their heads.

43 Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit [17]whoredoms with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto A-ho′lah and unto A-hol′i-bah, the lewd women.

45 ¶ And the righteous men, they shall [x]judge them after the manner of adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed blood; because they are adulteresses, and [y]blood is in their hands.

46 For thus saith the Lord GOD; [z]I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them [18]to be removed and spoiled.

47 [a]And the company shall stone them with stones, and [19]dispatch them with their swords; [b]they shall slay their sons and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

48 Thus [c]will I cause lewdness to cease out of the land, [d]that all women may be taught not to do after your lewdness.

49 And they shall recompense your lewdness upon you, and ye shall [e]bear the sins of your idols: [f]and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER XXIV.

The commencement of the siege to be noted. 3 The parable of the boiling pot, and its explanation. 15 The prophet is not to mourn for the death of his wife, 19 as a sign that the calamity of the Jews will be beyond all outward sorrow.

AGAIN in the ninth year, in the tenth month, in the tenth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: the king of Bab′y-lon set himself against Je-ru′sa-lem [a]this same day.

3 [b]And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [c]Set on a pot, set it on, and also pour water into it:

4 Gather the pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder; fill it with the choice bones.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and [1]burn also the bones under it, and make it boil well, and let them seethe the bones of it therein.

6 ¶ Wherefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Woe to [d]the bloody city, to the pot whose scum is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it! bring it out piece by piece; let no [e]lot fall upon it.

7 For her blood is in the midst of her; she set it upon the top of a rock; [f]she poured it not upon the ground, to cover it with dust;

8 That it might cause fury to come up to take vengeance; [g]I have set her blood upon the top of a rock, that it should not be covered.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; [h]Woe to the bloody city! I will even make the pile for fire great.

10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire, consume the flesh, and spice it well, and let the bones be burned.

11 Then set it empty upon the coals thereof, that the brass of it may be hot, and may burn, and that [i]the filthiness of it may be molten in it, that the scum of it may be consumed.

12 She hath wearied herself with lies, and her great scum went not forth out of her: her scum shall be in the fire.

13 In thy filthiness is lewdness: because I have purged thee, and thou wast not purged, thou shalt not be purged from thy filthiness any more, [k]till I have caused my fury to rest upon thee.

14 [l]I the LORD have spoken it: it shall come to pass, and I will do it; I will not go back, [m]neither will I spare, neither will I repent; according to thy ways, and according to thy doings, shall they judge thee, saith the Lord GOD.

16 Son of man, behold, I take away from thee the desire of thine eyes with a stroke; yet neither shalt thou mourn nor weep, neither shall thy tears [2]run down.

17 [3]Forbear to cry, [n]make no mourning for the dead, [o]bind the tire of thine head upon thee, and [p]put on thy shoes upon thy feet, and [q]cover not thy [4]lips, and eat not the bread of men.

18 So I spake unto the people in the morning: and at even my wife died; and I did in the morning as I was commanded.

19 ¶ And the people said unto me, [r]Wilt thou not tell us what these things are to us, that thou doest so?

20 Then I answered them, The word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

21 Speak unto the house of Is'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, [s]I will profane my sanctuary, the excellency of your strength, [t]the desire of your eyes, and [5]that which your soul pitieth; [u]and your sons and your daughters whom ye have left shall fall by the sword.

22 And ye shall do as I have done: [x]ye shall not cover your lips, nor eat the bread of men.

23 And your tires shall be upon your heads, and your shoes upon your feet: [y]ye shall not mourn nor weep; but [z]ye shall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one toward another.

24 Thus [a]E-ze'ki-el is unto you a sign: according to all that he hath done shall ye do: [b]and when this cometh, [c]ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Also, thou son of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them [d]their strength, the joy of their glory, the desire of their eyes, and [6]that whereupon they set their minds, their sons and their daughters,

26 That [e]he that escapeth in that day shall come unto thee, to cause thee to hear it with thine ears?

27 [f]In that day shall thy mouth be opened to him which is escaped, and thou shalt speak, and be no more dumb; and [g]thou shalt be a sign unto them: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER XXV.

God's judgments upon the Ammonites for their cruel and insolent conduct towards the Jews; 8 also upon Moab and Seir, 12 upon Edom, 15 and upon the Philistines.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]set thy face [b]against the Am'mon-ites, and prophesy against them;

3 And say unto the Am'mon-ites, Hear the word of the Lord GOD; Thus saith the Lord GOD; [c]Because thou saidst, Aha, against my sanctuary, when it was profaned; and against the land of Is'ra-el, when it was desolate; and against the house of Ju'dah, when they went into captivity;

4 Behold, therefore I will deliver thee to the [1]men of the east for a possession, and they shall set their palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they shall eat thy fruit, and they shall drink thy milk.

5 And I will make [d]Rab'bah [e]a stable for camels, and the Am'mon-ites a couching place for flocks: [f]and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

6 For thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou [g]hast clapped thine [2]hands, and stamped with the [3]feet, and [h]rejoiced in [4]heart with all thy despite against the land of Is'ra-el;

7 Behold, therefore I will [i]stretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for [5]a spoil to the heathen; and I will cut thee off from the people, and I will cause thee to perish out of the countries: I will destroy thee; and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

8 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because that [k]Mo'ab and [l]Se'ir do say, Behold, the house of Ju'dah is like unto all the heathen;

9 Therefore, behold, I will open the [6]side of Mo'ab from the cities, from his cities which are on his frontiers, the glory of the country, Beth-jesh'i-moth, Ba'al-me'on, and Kir-i-a-tha'im,

10 [m]Unto the men of the east [7]with the Am'mon-ites, and will give them in possession, that the Am-mon'ites [n]may not be remembered among the nations.

11 And I will execute judgments upon Mo'ab; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

12 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; [o]Because that E'dom hath dealt against the house of Ju'dah [8]by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himself upon them;

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I will also stretch out mine hand upon E'dom, and will cut off man and beast from it; and I will make it desolate from Te'man; and [9]they of De'dan shall fall by the sword.

14 And [p]I will lay my vengeance upon E'dom by the hand of my people Is'ra-el: and they shall do in E'dom according to mine anger and according to my fury; and they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; [q]Because [r]the Phil-is'tines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with a despiteful heart, to destroy it [10]for the old hatred;

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, [s]I will stretch out mine hand upon the Phil-is'tines, and I will cut off

CHAPTER XXVI.

Tyrus, for exulting against Jerusalem, is threatened with destruction by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar. 15 The mourning and astonishment of the isles at her fall.

AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a] because that Ty'rus hath said against Je-ru'sa-lem, [b] Aha, she is broken that was the gates of the people; she is turned unto me; I shall be replenished, now she is laid waste:

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Ty'rus, and will cause many nations to come up against thee, as the sea causeth his waves to come up.

4 And they shall destroy the walls of Ty'rus, and break down her towers: I will also scrape her dust from her, and [c] make her like the top of a rock.

5 It shall be a place for the spreading of nets [d] in the midst of the sea: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD: and it shall become a spoil to the nations.

6 And her daughters which are in the field shall be slain by the sword; [e] and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will bring upon Ty'rus Neb-u-chad-rez'zar king of Bab'y-lon, [f] a king of kings, from the north, with horses, and with chariots, and with horsemen, and companies, and much people.

8 He shall slay with the sword thy daughters in the field: and he shall [g] make a fort against thee, and [1] cast a mount against thee, and lift up the buckler against thee.

9 And he shall set engines of war against thy walls, and with his axes he shall break down thy towers.

10 By reason of the abundance of his horses their dust shall cover thee: thy walls shall shake at the noise of the horsemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he shall enter into thy gates, [2] as men enter into a city wherein is made a breach.

11 With the hoofs of his horses shall he tread down all thy streets: he shall slay thy people by the sword, and thy strong garrisons shall go down to the ground.

12 And they shall make a spoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandise: and they shall break down thy walls, and destroy [3] thy pleasant houses: and they shall lay thy stones and thy timber and thy dust in the midst of the water.

13 [h] And I will cause the noise of [i] thy songs to cease; and the sound of thy harps shall be no more heard.

14 And [k] I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou shalt be a place to spread nets upon; thou shalt be built no more: for I the LORD have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD to Ty'rus; Shall not the isles [l] shake at the sound of thy fall, when the wounded cry, when the slaughter is made in the midst of thee?

16 Then all the [m] princes of the sea shall [n] come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they shall clothe themselves with [4] trembling; [o] they shall sit upon the ground, and [p] shall tremble at every moment, and [q] be astonished at thee.

17 And they shall take up a [r] lamentation for thee, and say to thee, How art thou destroyed, that wast inhabited [5] of seafaring men, the renowned city, which wast [s] strong in the sea, she and her inhabitants, which cause their terror to be on all that haunt it!

18 Now shall [t] the isles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the isles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lord GOD; When I shall make thee a desolate city, like the cities that are not inhabited; when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;

20 When I shall bring thee down [u] with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited; and I shall set glory [x] in the land of the living;

21 [y] I will make thee [6] a terror, and thou shalt be no more: [z] though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord GOD.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Now, thou son of man, [a] take up a lamentation for Ty'rus;

3 And say unto Ty'rus, [b] O thou that art situate at the entry of the sea, which art [c] a merchant of the people for many isles, Thus saith the Lord GOD; O Ty'rus, thou hast said, [d] I am [1] of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the [2] midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beauty.

5 They have [3] made all thy ship boards of fir trees of [e] Se'nir: they have taken

13 [l] Ja'van, Tu'bal, and Me'shech, they were thy merchants: they traded [m] the persons of men and vessels of brass in thy [7] market.

14 They of the house of [n] To-gar'mah traded in thy fairs with horses and horsemen and mules.

15 The men of [o] De'dan were thy merchants; many isles were the merchandise of thine hand: they brought thee for a present, horns of ivory and ebony.

16 Syr'i-a was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of [8] the wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds, purple, and broidered work, and fine linen, and coral, and [9] agate.

17 Ju'dah, and the land of Is'ra-el, they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market [p] wheat of [q] Min'nith, and Pan'-nag, and honey, and oil, and [r] [10] balm.

18 Da-mas'cus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches; in the wine of Hel'bon, and white wool.

19 Dan also and Ja'van [11] going to and fro occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, cassia, and calamus, were in thy market.

20 [s] De'dan was thy merchant in [12] precious cloths for chariots.

21 A-ra'bi-a, and all the princes of [t] Ke'dar, [13] they occupied with thee in lambs, and rams, and goats: in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of [u] She'ba and Ra'a-mah, they were thy merchants: they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold.

23 [x] Ha'ran, and Can'neh, and E'den, the merchants of [y] She'ba, As'shur, and Chil'mad, were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in [14] all sorts of things, in blue [15] clothes, and broidered work, and in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar, among thy merchandise.

25 [z] The ships of Tar'shish did sing of thee in thy market: and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious [a] in the midst of the seas.

26 ¶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: [b] the east wind hath broken thee in the [16] midst of the seas.

27 Thy [c] riches, and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and the occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of war, that are in thee, [17] and in all thy company which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the [18] midst of the seas in the day of thy ruin.

28 The [19] suburbs [d] shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And [e] all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land;

30 And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall [f] cast up dust upon their heads, they [g] shall wallow themselves in the ashes:

31 And they shall [h] make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitterness of heart and bitter wailing.

32 And in their wailing they shall [i] take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, [k] What city is like Ty'rus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea?

33 [l] When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people; thou didst enrich the kings of the earth with the multitude of thy riches and of thy merchandise.

34 In the time when [m] thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, [n] thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.

35 [o] All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their countenance.

36 The merchants among the people [p] shall hiss at thee; [q] thou shalt be [20] a terror, and [21] never shalt be any more.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

God's judgment upon the prince of Tyrus for his impious pride. 11 A lamentation over his destruction. 20 Judgments upon Zidon. 24 The restoration of Israel.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, say unto the prince of Ty'rus, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thine heart is [a]lifted up, and [b]thou hast said, [c]I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, [d]in the [1]midst of the seas; [e]yet thou art a man, and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God:

3 Behold, [f]thou art wiser than Dan'iel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee:

4 With thy wisdom and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures:

5 [2][g]By thy great wisdom and by thy traffick hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches:

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God;

7 Behold, therefore I will bring strangers upon thee, [h]the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdom, and they shall defile thy brightness.

8 They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas.

9 Wilt thou yet [i]say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man, and no God, in the hand of him that [3]slayeth thee.

10 Thou shalt die the deaths of [k]the uncircumcised by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Son of man, [l]take up a lamentation upon the king of Ty'rus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [m]Thou sealest up the sum, full of wisdom, and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou hast been in [n]E'den the garden of God; every precious stone was thy covering, the [4]sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the [5]beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the sapphire, the [6]emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of [o]thy tabrets and of thy pipes was prepared in thee in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art the anointed [p]cherub that covereth; and I have set thee so: thou wast upon [q]the holy mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the stones of fire.

15 Thou wast perfect in thy ways from the day that thou wast created, till iniquity was found in thee.

23 [z]For I will send into her pestilence, and blood into her streets; and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

24 ¶ And there shall be no more [a]a pricking brier unto the house of Is'ra-el, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them, that despised them; and they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Thus saith the Lord GOD; When I shall have [b]gathered the house of Is'ra-el from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be [c]sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land that I have given to my servant Ja'cob.

26 And they shall [d]dwell [8]safely therein, and shall [e]build houses, and [f]plant vineyards; yea, they shall dwell with confidence, when I have executed judgments upon all those that [9]despise them round about them; and they shall know that I am the LORD their God.

CHAPTER XXIX.

Pharaoh's destruction foretold. 8 The desolation of Egypt. 13 The restoration thereof after forty years. 17 Egypt to be given to Nebuchadrezzar. 21 A promise to Israel.

IN the tenth year, in the tenth month, in the twelfth day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a]set thy face against Pha′raoh king of E′gypt, and prophesy against him, and [b]against all E′gypt:

3 Speak, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [c]Behold, I am against thee, Pha′raoh king of E′gypt, the great [d]dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, [e]which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for myself.

4 But [f]I will put hooks in thy jaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the [1]open fields; [g]thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: [h]I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field and to the fowls of the heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of E′gypt shall know that I am the LORD, because they have been a [i]staff of reed to the house of Is′ra-el.

7 [k]When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rend all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loins to be at a stand.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will bring [l]a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of E′gypt shall be desolate and waste; and they shall know that I am the LORD: because he hath said, The river is mine, and I have made it.

10 Behold, therefore I am against thee, and against thy rivers, [m]and I will make the land of E′gypt [2]utterly waste and desolate, [3][n]from the tower of [4]Sy-e′ne even unto the border of E-thi-o′pi-a.

11 [o]No foot of man shall pass through it, nor foot of beast shall pass through it, neither shall it be inhabited forty years.

12 [p]And I will make the land of E′gypt desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste shall be desolate forty years: and I will scatter the E-gyp′tians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

13 ¶ Yet thus saith the Lord GOD; At the [q]end of forty years will I gather the E-gyp′tians from the people whither they were scattered:

14 And I will bring again the captivity of E′gypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pa′thros, into the land of their [5]habitation; and they shall be there a [6][r]base kingdom.

15 It shall be the basest of the kingdoms; neither shall it exalt itself any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it shall be no more [s]the confidence of the house of Is′ra-el, which [t]bringeth their iniquity to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ And it came to pass in the seven and twentieth year, in the first month, in the first day of the month, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, [u]Neb-u-chad-rez′zar king of Bab′y-lon caused his army to serve a great service against Ty′rus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no wages, nor his army, for Ty′rus, for the service that he had served against it:

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will give the land of E′gypt unto Neb-u-chad-rez′zar king of Bab′y-lon; and he shall take her multitude, and [7]take her spoil, and take her prey; and it shall be the wages for his army.

20 I have given him the land of E′gypt [8]for his labour wherewith he [v]served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord GOD.

21 ¶ In that day [x]will I cause the horn of the house of Is′ra-el to bud forth, and I will give thee [y]the opening of the mouth in the midst of them; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER XXX.

The desolation of Egypt and her allies. 20 Egypt to be subdued by the king of Babylon.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [a]Howl ye, Woe worth the day!

3 For [b]the day is near, even the day of the LORD is near, a cloudy day; it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon E′gypt, and great [1]pain shall be in E-thi-o′pi-a, when the slain shall fall in E′gypt, and they [c]shall take away her multitude, and [d]her foundations shall be broken down.

5 E-thi-o′pi-a, and [2]Lib′y-a, and Lyd′i-a, and [e]all the mingled people, and Chub, and the [3]men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

6 Thus saith the LORD; They also that uphold E′gypt shall fall; and the pride of her power shall come down: [4][f]from the tower of Sy-e′ne shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

7 [g]And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countries that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in E′gypt,

9 In that day [h]shall messengers go forth from me in ships to make the careless E-thi-o'pi-ans afraid, and [i]great pain shall come upon them, as in the day of E'gypt: for lo, it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD; [k]I will also make the multitude of E'gypt to cease by the hand of Neb-u-chad-rez'zar king of Bab'y-lon.

11 He and his people with him, [l]the terrible of the nations, shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against E'gypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And [m]I will make the rivers [6]dry, and [n]sell the land into the hand of the wicked: and I will make the land waste, and [7]all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the LORD have spoken it.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will also [o]destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease out of Noph; [p]and there shall be no more a prince of the land of E'gypt: [q]and I will put a fear in the land of E'gypt.

14 And I will make [r]Pa'thros desolate, and will set fire in [s][8]Zo'an, [t]and will execute judgments in No.

15 And I will pour my fury upon [9]Sin, the strength of E'gypt; and [u]I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will [v]set fire in E'gypt: Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Noph shall have distresses daily.

17 The young men of [10]A'ven and of [11]Pi-be'seth shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivity.

18 [w]At Te-haph'ne-hes also the day shall be [12]darkened, when I shall break there the yokes of E'gypt: and the pomp of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus [x]will I execute judgments in E'gypt: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

20 ¶ And it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the first month, in the seventh day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

21 Son of man, I have [y]broken the arm of Pha'raoh king of E'gypt; and lo, [z]it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to bind it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against Pha'raoh king of E'gypt, and will [a]break his arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

23 [b]And I will scatter the E-gyp'tians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countries.

24 And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Bab'y-lon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break Pha'raoh's arms, and he shall groan before him with the groanings of a deadly wounded man.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Bab'y-lon, and the arms of Pha'raoh shall fall down; and [c]they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Bab'y-lon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of E'gypt.

26 [d]And I will scatter the E-gyp'tians among the nations, and disperse them among the countries; and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER XXXI.

A recital to Pharaoh of the glory of Assyria, 10 and the ruin thereof. 18 The like destruction to come upon Egypt.

AND it came to pass in the eleventh year, in the third month, in the first day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak unto Pha'raoh king of E'gypt, and to his multitude; [a]Whom art thou like in thy greatness?

3 [b]Behold, the As-syr'i-an was a cedar in Leb'a-non [1]with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of a high stature; and his top was among the thick boughs.

4 [c]The waters [2]made him great, the deep [3]set him up on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her [4]little rivers unto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore [d]his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of waters, [5]when he shot forth.

6 All the [e]fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatness, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the [f]garden of God could not hide him: the fir trees were not like his boughs, and the chesnut trees were not like his branches; not any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of E'den, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; [g]Because thou hast lifted up thyself in height, and he hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and [h]his heart is lifted up in his height;

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the mighty one of the heathen; [6] he shall surely [i] deal with him: I have driven him out for his wickedness.

12 And strangers, [k] the terrible of the nations, have cut him off, and have left him: [l] upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are broken by all the rivers of the land; and all the people of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 [m] Upon his ruin shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the fields shall be upon his branches:

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees [7] stand up in their height, all that drink water: for [n] they are all delivered unto death, [o] to the nether parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord GOD; In the day when he went down to the grave I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Leb′a-non [8] to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to [p] shake at the sound of his fall, when I [q] cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and [r] all the trees of E′den, the choice and best of Leb′a-non, all that drink water, [s] shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went down into hell with him, unto them that be slain with the sword; and they that were his arm, that [t] dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.

18 ¶ [u] To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatness among the trees of E′den? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of E′den unto the nether parts of the earth: [x] thou shalt lie in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword. This is Pha′raoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER XXXII.

The fearful fall of Egypt. 11 The sword of Babylon shall destroy it. 17 It shall be brought down to the pit, among all the uncircumcised nations.

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD; I will therefore [e] spread out my net over thee with a company of many people; and they shall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then [f] will I leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and [g] will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh [h] upon the mountains, and fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will also water with thy blood [2] the land wherein thou swimmest, even to the mountains; and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall [3] put thee out, [i] I will cover the heaven, and make the stars thereof dark; I will cover the sun with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the [4] bright lights of heaven will I make [5] dark over thee, and set darkness upon thy land, saith the Lord GOD.

9 I will also [6] vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countries which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people [k] amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them; and [l] they shall tremble at every moment, every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ [m] For thus saith the Lord GOD; The sword of the king of Bab′y-lon shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, [n] the terrible of the nations, all of them: and [o] they shall spoil the pomp of E′gypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from beside the great waters; [p] neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord GOD.

15 When I shall make the land of E′gypt desolate, and the country shall be [7] destitute of that whereof it was full, when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, [q] then shall they know that I am the LORD.

16 This is the [r] lamentation wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her, even for E′gypt, and for all her multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ It came to pass also in the twelfth year, in the fifteenth day of the month, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Son of man, wail for the multitude of E′gypt, and [s] cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 [t]Whom dost thou pass in beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

20 They shall fall in the midst of them that are slain by the sword: [8]she is delivered to the sword: draw her and all her multitudes.

21 [x]The strong among the mighty shall speak to him out of the midst of hell with them that help him: they are [y]gone down, they lie uncircumcised, slain by the sword.

22 [z]As'shur is there and all her company: his graves are about him: all of them slain, fallen by the sword:

23 [a]Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which [b]caused [9]terror in the land of the living.

24 There is [c]E'lam and all her multitude round about her grave; all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are [d]gone down uncircumcised into the nether parts of the earth, [e]which caused their terror in the land of the living; yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have [f]set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude: her graves are round about him: [g]all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword: though their terror was caused in the land of the living, yet have they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is [h]Me'shech, Tu'bal, and all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them [i]uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terror in the land of the living.

27 [k]And they shall not lie with the mighty that are fallen of the uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell [10]with their weapons of war: and they have laid their swords under their heads, but their iniquities shall be upon their bones, though they were the terror of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

29 There is [l]E'dom, her kings, and all her princes, which with their might are [11]laid by them that were slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

30 [m]There be the princes of the north, all of them, and all the [n]Zi-do'ni-ans, which are gone down with the slain; with their terror they are ashamed of their might; and they lie uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

31 Pha'raoh shall see them, and shall be [o]comforted over all his multitude, even Pha'raoh and all his army slain by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

32 For I have caused [p]my terror in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that are slain with the sword, even Pha'raoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

The prophet is admonished of his duty as a watchman. 10 God hath no pleasure in the death of the wicked. 21 The desolation of the land foretold. 30 Hypocrites rebuked.

AGAIN the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, speak to [a]the children of thy people, and say unto them, [b][1]When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their [c]watchman:

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, and warn the people;

4 Then [2]whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning; if the sword come, and take him away, [d]his blood shall be upon his own head.

5 He [e]heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning; his blood shall be upon him. But he that taketh warning shall deliver his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned; if the sword come, and take any person from among them, [f]he is taken away in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at the watchman's hand.

7 ¶ [g]So thou, O son of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Is'ra-el; therefore thou shalt hear the word at my mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand.

9 [h]Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it; if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 Therefore, O thou son of man, speak unto the house of Is'ra-el; Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sins be upon us, and we [i]pine away in them, [j]how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord GOD, [k]I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked; but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways; for [l] why will ye die, O house of Is′ra-el?

12 Therefore, thou son of man, say unto the children of thy people, The [m] righteousness of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression: as for the wickedness of the wicked, [n] he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickedness; neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousness in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live; [o] if he trust to his own righteousness, and commit iniquity, all his righteousnesses shall not be remembered; but for his iniquity that he hath committed, he shall die for it.

14 Again, [p] when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; if he turn from his sin, and do [3] that which is lawful and right;

15 If the wicked [q] restore the pledge, [r] give again that he had robbed, walk in [s] the statutes of life, without committing iniquity; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 [t] None of his sins that he hath committed shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawful and right; he shall surely live.

17 ¶ [u] Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equal: but as for them, their way is not equal.

18 [v] When the righteous turneth from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickedness, and do that which is lawful and right, he shall live thereby.

20 Yet ye say, [x] The way of the Lord is not equal. O ye house of Is′ra-el, I will judge you every one after his ways.

21 ¶ And it came to pass in the twelfth year [y] of our captivity, in the tenth month, in the fifth day of the month, [z] that one that had escaped out of Je-ru′sa-lem came unto me, saying, [a] The city is smitten.

22 Now [b] the hand of the Lord was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and had opened my mouth, until he came to me in the morning; [c] and my mouth was opened, and I was no more dumb.

23 Then the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

24 Son of man, [d] they that inhabit those [e] wastes of the land of Is′ra-el speak, saying, [f] A′bra-ham was one, and he inherited the land: [g] but we are many; the land is given us for inheritance.

CHAPTER XXXIV.

A woe denounced against the unfaithful shepherds of Israel. 11 God's care for his flock. 20 A promise of the great Shepherd.

AND the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, prophesy against the [a] shepherds of Is′ra-el, prophesy, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God unto the shepherds; [b] Woe be to the shepherds of Is′ra-el that do feed themselves! should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

3 [c] Ye eat the fat, and ye clothe you with the wool, [d] ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

4 [e] The diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye [f] sought that which was lost; but with [g] force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

5 [h] And they were [i] scattered, [l] because there is no shepherd: [k] and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered.

6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them.

7 ¶ Therefore, ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD;

8 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock [l] became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, [m] but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock;

9 Therefore, O ye shepherds, hear the word of the LORD;

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against the shepherds; and [n] I will require my flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock; neither shall the shepherds [o] feed themselves any more; for I will deliver my flock from their mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I, even I, will both search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 [2] As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in [p] the cloudy and dark day.

13 And [q] I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countries, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Is'ra-el by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the country.

14 [r] I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Is'ra-el shall their fold be: [s] there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Is'ra-el.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD.

16 [t] I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will bind up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy [u] the fat and the strong; I will feed them [x] with judgment.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD; [y] Behold, I judge between [3] cattle and cattle, between the rams and the [4] he goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your pastures? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet?

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have trodden with your feet; and they drink that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them; [z] Behold, I, even I, will judge between the fat cattle and between the lean cattle.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pushed all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad;

22 Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey; and [a] I will judge between cattle and cattle.

23 And I will set up one [b] Shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, [c] even my servant Da'vid; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And [d] I the LORD will be their God, and my servant Da'vid [e] a prince among them; I the LORD have spoken it.

25 And [f] I will make with them a covenant of peace, and [g] will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: and they [h] shall dwell safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places round about [i] my hill [k] a blessing; and I will [l] cause the shower to come down in his season; there shall be [m] showers of blessing.

27 And [n] the tree of the field shall yield her fruit, and the earth shall yield her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have [o] broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that [p] served themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more [q] be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beast of the land devour them; but [r] they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a [s] plant [5] of renown, and they shall be no more [6] consumed with hunger in the land, [t] neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they know that [u] I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Is'ra-el, are my people, saith the Lord GOD.

31 And ye my [x] flock, the flock of my pasture, are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER XXXV.

Judgments upon the people of mount Seir for their hatred of Israel.

MOREOVER the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Son of man, [a] set thy face against [b] mount Se'ir, and [c] prophesy against it,

3 And say unto it, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, O mount Se'ir, I am against thee, and [d] I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee [1] most desolate.

4 [e]I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

5 [f]Because thou hast had a [2]perpetual hatred, and hast [3]shed the blood of the children of Is′ra-el by the [4]force of the sword in the time of their calamity, [g]in the time that their iniquity had an end:

6 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will prepare thee unto blood, and blood shall pursue thee: [h]since thou hast not hated blood, even blood shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Se′ir [5]most desolate, and cut off from it [i]him that passeth out and him that returneth.

8 [k]And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: in thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy rivers, shall they fall that are slain with the sword.

9 [l]I will make thee perpetual desolations, and thy cities shall not return: [m]and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

10 Because thou hast said, These two nations and these two countries shall be mine, and we will [n]possess it; [6]whereas [o]the LORD was there:

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will even do [p]according to thine anger, and according to thine envy, which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them; and I will make myself known among them, when I have judged thee.

12 [q]And thou shalt know that I am the LORD, and that I have heard all thy blasphemies which thou hast spoken against the mountains of Is′ra-el, saying, They are laid desolate, they are given us [7]to consume.

13 Thus [r]with your mouth ye have [8]boasted against me, and have multiplied your words against me: I have heard them.

14 Thus saith the Lord GOD; [s]When the whole earth rejoiceth, I will make thee desolate.

15 [t]As thou didst rejoice at the inheritance of the house of Is′ra-el, because it was desolate, so will I do unto thee: [u]thou shalt be desolate, O mount Se′ir, and all Id-u-me′a, even all of it: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER XXXVI.

Israel's enemies to be punished. 8 A promise of prosperity to Israel. 16 The people chastised for their sins. 21 Their restoration the work of God's mercy. 25 Great spiritual blessings promised.

ALSO, thou son of man, prophesy unto the [a]mountains of Is′ra-el, and say, Ye mountains of Is′ra-el, hear the word of the LORD:

2 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because [b]the enemy hath said against you, Aha, [c]even the ancient high places [d]are ours in possession;

3 Therefore prophesy and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [1]Because they have made you desolate, and swallowed you up on every side, that ye might be a possession unto the residue of the heathen, [e]and [2]ye are taken up in the lips of talkers, and are an infamy of the people;

4 Therefore, ye mountains of Is′ra-el, hear the word of the Lord GOD; Thus saith the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the [3]rivers and to the valleys, to the desolate wastes and to the cities that are forsaken, which [f]became a prey and [g]derision to the residue of the heathen that are round about;

5 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; [h]Surely in the fire of my jealousy have I spoken against the residue of the heathen, and against all Id-u-me′a, [i]which have appointed my land into their possession with the joy of all their heart, with despiteful minds, to cast it out for a prey.

6 Prophesy therefore concerning the land of Is′ra-el, and say unto the mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I have spoken in my jealousy and in my fury, because ye have [j]borne the shame of the heathen:

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; I have [k]lifted up mine hand, Surely the heathen that are about you, they shall bear their shame.

8 ¶ But ye, O mountains of Is′ra-el, ye shall shoot forth your branches, and yield your fruit to my people of Is′ra-el; for they are [l]at hand to come.

9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye shall be tilled and sown:

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the house of Is′ra-el, even all of it: and the cities shall be inhabited, and [m]the wastes shall be builded:

11 And [n]I will multiply upon you man and beast; and they shall increase and bring fruit: and I will settle you after your old estates, and will do better unto you than at your beginnings: [o]and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

12 Yea, I will cause men to walk upon you, even my people Is′ra-el; [p]and they shall possess thee, and thou shalt be their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth [q]bereave them of men.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Because they say unto you, [r]Thou land devourest up men, and hast bereaved thy nations;

14 Therefore thou shalt devour men no more, neither [4]bereave thy nations any more, saith the Lord GOD.

15 [s]Neither will I cause men to hear in thee the shame of the heathen any more, neither shalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither shalt thou cause thy nations to fall any more, saith the Lord GOD.

16 ¶ Moreover the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

17 Son of man, when the house of Is′ra-el dwelt in their own land, [t]they defiled it by their own way and by their doings: their way was before me as [u]the uncleanness of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my fury upon them [x]for the blood that they had shed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it:

19 And I [y]scattered them among the heathen, and they were dispersed through the countries: [z]according to their way and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entered unto the heathen, whither they went, they [a]profaned my holy name, when they said to them, These are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 ¶ But I had pity [b]for mine holy name, which the house of Is′ra-el had profaned among the heathen, whither they went.

22 Therefore say unto the house of Is′ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; I do not this for your sakes, O house of Is′ra-el, [c]but for mine holy name's sake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will sanctify my great name, which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midst of them; and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, saith the Lord GOD, when I shall be [d]sanctified in you before [5]their eyes.

24 For [e]I will take you from among the heathen, and gather you out of all countries, and will bring you into your own land.

25 ¶ [f]Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you, and ye shall be clean: [g]from all your filthiness, and from all your idols, will I cleanse you.

26 A [h]new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you: and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh, and I will give you a heart of flesh.

27 And I will put my [i]Spirit within you, and cause you to walk in my statutes, and ye shall keep my judgments, and do them.

28 [k]And ye shall dwell in the land that I gave to your fathers; [l]and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

29 I will also [m]save you from all your uncleannesses: and [n]I will call for the corn, and will increase it, and [o]lay no famine upon you.

30 [p]And I will multiply the fruit of the tree, and the increase of the field, that ye shall receive no more reproach of famine among the heathen.

31 Then [q]shall ye remember your own evil ways, and your doings that were not good, and [r]shall loathe yourselves in your own sight for your iniquities and for your abominations.

32 [s]Not for your sakes do I this, saith the Lord GOD, be it known unto you: be ashamed and confounded for your own ways, O house of Is′ra-el.

33 Thus saith the Lord GOD; In the day that I shall have cleansed you from all your iniquities I will also cause you to dwell in the cities, [t]and the wastes shall be builded.

34 And the desolate land shall be tilled, whereas it lay desolate in the sight of all that passed by.

35 And they shall say, This land that was desolate is become like the garden of [u]E′den; and the waste and desolate and ruined cities are become fenced, and are inhabited.

36 Then the heathen that are left round about you shall know that I the LORD build the ruined places, and plant that that was desolate: [x]I the LORD have spoken it, and I will do it.

37 Thus saith the Lord GOD; [y]I will yet for this be inquired of by the house of Is′ra-el, to do it for them; I will [z]increase them with men like a flock.

38 As the [6]holy flock, as the flock of Je-ru′sa-lem in her solemn feasts; so shall the waste cities be filled with flocks of men: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

The vision of the valley of dry bones. 11 The application thereof. 15 The symbol of the two sticks united. 18 The explanation thereof, 20 and its application to the Messiah's kingdom.

THE [a]hand of the LORD was upon me, and carried me out [b]in the Spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of bones,

2 And caused me to pass by them round about: and behold, there were very many in the open [1]valley; and lo, they were very dry.

3 And he said unto me, Son of man, can these bones live? And I answered, O Lord GOD, [c]thou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, Prophesy upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye dry bones, hear the word of the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones; Behold, I will [d]cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live:

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and ye shall live; [e]and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied, there was a noise, and behold a shaking, and the bones came together, bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the 9 Then said he unto me, Prophesy unto the [2] wind, prophesy, son of man, and say to the wind, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [f] Come from the four winds, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

10 So I prophesied as he commanded me, [g] and the breath came into them, and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 ¶ Then he said unto me, Son of man, these bones are [h] the whole house of Is'ra-el: behold, they say, [i] Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost: we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore prophesy and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, [j] O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and [k] bring you into the land of Is'ra-el.

13 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves, 14 And [l] shall put my Spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

15 ¶ The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

16 Moreover, thou son of man, [m] take thee one stick, and write upon it, For Ju'dah, and for [n] the children of Is'ra-el his companions: then take another stick, and write upon it, For Jo'seph, the stick of E'phra-im, and for all the house of Is'ra-el his companions:

17 And [o] join them one to another into one stick; and they shall become one in thine hand.

18 ¶ And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, [p] Wilt thou not show us what thou meanest by these?

19 [q] Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I will take [r] the stick of Jo'seph, which is in the hand of E'phra-im, and the tribes of Is'ra-el his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Ju'dah, and make them one stick, and they shall be one in mine hand.

20 ¶ And the sticks whereon thou writest shall be in thine hand [s] before their eyes.

21 And say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, [t] I will take the children of Is'ra-el from among the heathen, whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land:

22 And [u] I will make them one nation in the land upon the mountains of Is'ra-el; and [x] one king shall be king to them all: and they shall be no more two nations, neither shall they be divided into two kingdoms any more at all:

23 [y] Neither shall they defile themselves any more with their idols, nor with their detestable things, nor with any of their transgressions: but [z] I will save them out of all their dwellingplaces, wherein they have sinned, and will cleanse them: so shall they be my people, and I will be their God.

24 And [a] Da'vid my servant shall be king over them; and [b] they all shall have one shepherd: [c] they shall also walk in my judgments, and observe my statutes, and do them.

25 [d] And they shall dwell in the land that I have given unto Ja'cob my servant, wherein your fathers have dwelt; and they shall dwell therein, even they, and their children, and their children's children [e] for ever: and [f] my servant Da'vid shall be their prince for ever.

26 Moreover I will make a [g] covenant of peace with them; it shall be an everlasting covenant with them: and I will place them, and [h] multiply them, and will set my [i] sanctuary in the midst of them for evermore.

27 [k] My tabernacle also shall be with them: yea, I will be [l] their God, and they shall be my people.

28 [m] And the heathen shall know that I the LORD do [n] sanctify Is'ra-el, when my sanctuary shall be in the midst of them for evermore.

The army of Gog. 8 His design against Israel.
14 God's judgment against him.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 [a] Son of man, [b] set thy face against [c] Gog, the land of Ma'gog, [1] the chief prince of [d] Me'shech and Tu'bal, and prophesy against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Me'shech and Tu'bal:

4 And [e] I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, [f] all of them clothed with all sorts of armour, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords:

visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, [m]and is gathered out of many people, against [n]the mountains of Is′ra-el, which have been always waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall [o]dwell safely all of them.

9 Thou shalt ascend and come [p]like a storm, thou shalt be [q]like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD; It shall also come to pass, that at the same time shall things come into thy mind, and thou shalt [3]think an evil thought:

11 And thou shalt say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages; I will [r]go to them that are at rest, [s]that dwell [4]safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates,

12 [5]To take a spoil, and to take a prey; to turn thine hand upon [t]the desolate places that are now inhabited, [u]and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the [6]midst of the land.

13 [x]She′ba, and [y]De′dan, and the merchants [z]of Tar′shish, with all [a]the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take a spoil? hast thou gathered thy company to take a prey? to carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great spoil?

14 ¶ Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord GOD; [b]In that day when my people of Is′ra-el [c]dwelleth safely, shalt thou not know it?

15 [d]And thou shalt come from thy place out of the north parts, thou, [e]and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and a mighty army:

16 [f]And thou shalt come up against my people of Is′ra-el, as a cloud to cover the land; [g]it shall be in the latter days, and I will bring thee against my land, [h]that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

17 Thus saith the Lord GOD; Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time [7]by my servants the prophets of Is′ra-el, which prophesied in those days many years, that I would bring thee against them?

18 And it shall come to pass at the same time when Gog shall come against the land of Is′ra-el, saith the Lord GOD, that my fury shall come up in my face.

19 For [i]in my jealousy [k]and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, [l]Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Is′ra-el;

20 So that [m]the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, [n]and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the [8]steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground.

21 And I will [o]call for [p]a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord GOD: [q]every man's sword shall be against his brother.

22 And I will [r]plead against him with [s]pestilence and with blood; and [t]I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and [u]great hailstones, fire, and brimstone.

23 Thus will I magnify myself, and [x]sanctify myself; [y]and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

The utter destruction of Gog. 8 The burning of his weapons, 11 and the burial of his slain. 17 The feast of the fowls. 23 The cause of Israel's captivity. 25 God's purpose of mercy towards them.

THEREFORE, [a]thou son of man, prophesy against Gog, and say, Thus saith the Lord GOD; Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Me′shech and Tu′bal:

2 And I will turn thee back, and [1]leave but the sixth part of thee, [b]and will cause thee to come up from [2]the north parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Is′ra-el:

3 And I will smite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cause thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.

4 [c]Thou shalt fall upon the mountains of Is′ra-el, thou, and all thy bands, and the people that is with thee: [d]I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every [3]sort, and to the beasts of the field, [4]to be devoured.

5 Thou shalt fall upon [5]the open field: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

6 [e]And I will send a fire on Ma′gog, and among them that dwell [6]carelessly in [f]the isles: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

7 [g]So will I make my holy name known in the midst of my people Is′ra-el; and I will not let them [h]pollute my holy name any more: [i]and the heathen shall know that I am the LORD, the Holy One in Is′ra-el.

8 ¶ [k]Behold, it is come, and it is done, saith the Lord GOD; this is the day [l]whereof I have spoken.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Is′ra-el shall go forth, and shall set on fire and burn the weapons, both the shields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the [7]handstaves, and the spears, and they shall [8] burn them with fire seven years:

10 So that they shall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the forests; for they shall burn the weapons with fire: [m] and they shall spoil those that spoiled them, and rob those that robbed them, saith the Lord GOD.

11 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will give unto Gog a place there of graves in Is'ra-el, the valley of the passengers on the east of the sea; and it shall stop the [9] noses of the passengers: and there shall they bury Gog and all his multitude, and they shall call it, The valley of [10] Ha'mon-gog.

12 And seven months shall the house of Is'ra-el be burying of them, [n] that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall bury them; and it shall be to them a renown the day that [o] I shall be glorified, saith the Lord GOD.

14 And they shall sever out [11] men of continual employment, passing through the land, to bury with the passengers those that remain upon the face of the earth, [p] to cleanse it: after the end of seven months shall they search.

15 And the passengers that pass through the land, when any seeth a man's bone, then shall he [12] set up a sign by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Ha'mon-gog.

16 And also the name of the city shall be [13] Ham-o'nah. Thus shall they [q] cleanse the land.

17 ¶ And, thou son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD; [r] Speak [14] unto every feathered fowl, and to every beast of the field, [s] Assemble yourselves, and come; gather yourselves on every side to my [15] sacrifice that I do sacrifice for you, even a great sacrifice [t] upon the mountains of Is'ra-el, that ye may eat flesh, and drink blood.

18 [u] Ye shall eat the flesh of the mighty, and drink the blood of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambs, and of [16] goats, of bullocks, all of them [x] fatlings of Ba'shan.

19 And ye shall eat fat till ye be full, and drink blood till ye be drunken, of my sacrifice which I have sacrificed for you.

20 [y] Thus ye shall be filled at my table with horses and chariots, [z] with mighty men, and with all men of war, saith the Lord GOD.

21 [a] And I will set my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen shall see my judgment that I have executed, and [b] my hand that I have laid upon them.

22 [c] So the house of Is'ra-el shall know that I am the LORD their God from that day and forward.

23 ¶ [d] And the heathen shall know that the house of Is'ra-el went into captivity for their iniquity: because they trespassed against me, therefore [e] hid I my face from them, and [f] gave them into the hand of their enemies; so fell they all by the sword.

CHAPTER XL.

The time and manner of the vision concerning the temple. 6 The description of the east gate, 20 of the north gate, 24 of the south gate, 32 of the east gate, 35 and of the north gate. 39 Eight tables. 44 The chambers. 48 The porch of the house.

IN the five and twentieth year of our captivity, in the beginning of the year, in the tenth day of the month, in the fourteenth year after that [a] the city was smitten, in the selfsame day [b] the hand of the LORD was upon me, and brought me thither.

2 [c] In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Is'ra-el, [d] and set me upon a very high mountain, [1] by which was as the frame of a city on the south.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a man, whose appearance was [e] like the appearance of brass, [f] with a line of flax in his hand, [g] and a measuring reed; and he stood in the gate.

4 And the man said unto me, [h] Son of man, behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears, and set thine heart upon all that I shall show thee; for to the intent that I might show them unto thee art thou brought hither: [i] declare all that thou seest to the house of Is'ra-el.

5 And behold [j] a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the man's hand a measuring reed of six cubits long by the cubit and a handbreadth: so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed; and the height, one reed.

6 ¶ Then came he unto the gate [2] which looketh toward the east, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad; and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad; and between the little chambers were five cubits; and the threshold of the gate by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits; and the posts thereof, two cubits; and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the little chambers of the gate eastward were three on this side, and three on that side; they three were of one measure: and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate, ten cubits; and the length of the gate, thirteen cubits.

12 The [3] space also before the little chambers was one cubit on this side, and the space was one cubit on that side: and the little chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

13 He measured then the gate from the roof of one little chamber to the roof of another: the breadth was five and twenty cubits, door against door.

14 He made also posts of threescore cubits, even unto the post of [k] the court round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance unto the face of the porch of the inner gate were fifty cubits.

16 And there were [l] [4] narrow windows to the little chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the [5] arches: and windows were round about [6] inward: and upon each post were palm trees.

17 Then brought he me into [m] the outward court, and lo, there were [n] chambers, and a pavement made for the court round about: [o] thirty chambers were upon the pavement.

18 And the pavement by the side of the gates over against the length of the gates was the lower pavement.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate unto the fore front of the inner court [7] without, a hundred cubits eastward and northward.

20 ¶ And the gate of the outward court [8] that looked toward the north, he measured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.

21 And the little chambers thereof were three on this side and three on that side; and the posts thereof and the [9] arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the east; and they went up unto it by seven steps; and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the north, and toward the east; and he measured from gate to gate a hundred cubits.

24 ¶ After that he brought me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south: and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows: the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them: and it had palm trees, one on this side, and another on that side, upon the posts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the south: and he measured from gate to gate toward the south a hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the south gate: and he measured the south gate according to these measures;

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures: and there were windows in it and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were [p] five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits [10] broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the outer court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof: and the going up to it had eight steps.

32 ¶ And he brought me into the inner court toward the east: and he measured the gate according to these measures.

33 And the little chambers thereof, and the posts thereof, and the arches thereof, were according to these measures: and there were windows therein and in the arches thereof round about: it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the outward court; and palm trees were upon the posts thereof, on this side, and on that side: and the going up to it had eight steps.

39 ¶ And in the porch of the gate were two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, to slay thereon the burnt offering and [r] the sin offering and [s] the trespass offering.

40 And at the side without, [11] as one goeth up to the entry of the north gate, were two tables; and on the other side, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Four tables were on this side, and four tables on that side, by the side of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the four tables were of hewn stone for the burnt offering, of a cubit and a half long, and a cubit and a half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon also they laid the instruments wherewith they slew the burnt offering and the sacrifice.

43 And within were [12] hooks, a hand broad, fastened round about: and upon the tables was the flesh of the offering.

44 ¶ And without the inner gate were the chambers of [t] the singers in the inner court, which was at the side of the north gate; and their prospect was toward the south: one at the side of the east gate having the prospect toward the north.

45 And he said unto me, This chamber, whose prospect is toward the south, is for the priests, [u] the keepers of the [13] charge of the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the north is for the priests, [v] the keepers of the charge of the altar: these are the sons of [x] Za′dok among the sons of Lē′vī, which come near to the LORD to minister unto him.

47 So he measured the court, a hundred cubits long, and a hundred cubits broad, foursquare; and the altar that was before the house.

48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the house, and measured each post of the porch, five cubits on this side, and five cubits on that side: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this side, and three cubits on that side.

49 [y] The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits; and he brought me by the steps whereby they went up to it: and there were [z] pillars by the posts, one on this side, and another on that side.

CHAPTER XLI.

The measures, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the temple.

AFTERWARD he brought me to [a] the temple, and measured the posts, six cubits broad on the one side, and six cubits broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the [1] door was ten cubits; and the sides of the door were five cubits on the one side, and five cubits on the other side: and he measured the length thereof, forty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits.

3 Then went he inward, and measured the post of the door, two cubits; and the door, six cubits; and the breadth of the door, seven cubits.

4 So [b] he measured the length thereof, twenty cubits; and the breadth, twenty cubits, before the temple: and he said unto me, This is the most holy place.

5 After he measured the wall of the house, six cubits; and the breadth of every side chamber, four cubits, round about the house on every side.

6 [c] And the side chambers were three, [2] one over another, and [3] thirty in order; and they entered into the wall which was of the house for the side chambers round about, that they might [4] have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the house.

7 And [5] [d] there was an enlarging, and a winding about still upward to the side chambers: for the winding about of the house went still upward round about the house: therefore the breadth of the house was still upward, and so increased from the lowest chamber to the highest by the midst.

8 I saw also the height of the house round about: the foundations of the side chambers were [e] a full reed of six great cubits.

9 The thickness of the wall, which was for the side chamber without, was five cubits: and that which was left was the place of the side chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideness of twenty cubits round about the house on every side.

11 And the doors of the side chambers were toward the place that was left, one door toward the north, and another door toward the south: and the breadth of the place that was left was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place at the end toward the west was seventy cubits broad; and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he measured the house, a hundred cubits long; and the separate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, a hundred cubits long;

14 Also the breadth of the face of the house, and of the separate place toward the east, a hundred cubits.

15 And he measured the length of the building over against the separate place which was behind it, and the [6]galleries thereof on the one side and on the other side, a hundred cubits, with the inner temple, and the porches of the court;

16 The doorposts, and [f]the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their three stories, over against the door, [7]ceiled with wood round about, [8]and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered;

17 To that above the door, even unto the inner house, and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by [9]measure.

18 And it was made [g]with cherubim and palm trees, so that a palm tree was between a cherub and a cherub; and every cherub had two faces;

19 [h]So that the face of a man was toward the palm tree on the one side, and the face of a young lion toward the palm tree on the other side: it was made through all the house round about.

20 From the ground unto above the door were cherubim and palm trees made, and on the wall of the temple.

21 The [10]posts of the temple were squared, and the face of the sanctuary: the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 [i]The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof, were of wood: and he said unto me, This is [j]the table that is [k]before the Lord.

23 [l]And the temple and the sanctuary had two doors.

24 And the doors had two leaves apiece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one door, and two leaves for the other door.

25 And there were made on them, on the doors of the temple, cherubim and palm trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were [m]narrow windows and palm trees on the one side and on the other side, on the sides of the porch, and upon the side chambers of the house, and thick planks.

CHAPTER XLII.

The chambers in the court of the temple. 13 Some of them for the priests. 15 The measures of the outward court.

THEN he brought me forth into the outer court, the way toward the north: and he brought me into [a]the chamber that was over against the separate place, and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of a hundred cubits was the north door, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over against the twenty cubits which were for the inner court, and over against the pavement which was for the outer court, was [b]gallery against gallery in three stories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit; and their doors toward the north.

5 Now the upper chambers were shorter: for the galleries [1]were higher than these, [2]than the lower, and than the middlemost of the building.

6 For they were in three stories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was straitened more than the lowest and the middlemost from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over against the chambers, toward the outer court, on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the outer court was fifty cubits: and lo, before the temple were a hundred cubits.

9 And [3]from under these chambers was [4]the entry on the east side, [5]as one goeth into them from the outer court.

10 The chambers were in the thickness of the wall of the court toward the east, over against the separate place, and over against the building.

11 And [c]the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they: and all their goings out were both according to their fashions, and according to their doors.

12 And according to the doors of the chambers that were toward the south was a door in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the east, as one entereth into them.

13 ¶ Then said he unto me, The north chambers and the south chambers, which are before the separate place, they be holy chambers, where the priests that approach unto the Lord [d]shall eat the most holy things: there shall they lay the most holy things, and [e]the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; for the place is holy.

then shall they not go out of the holy place into the outer court, but there they shall lay their garments wherein they minister; for they are holy; and shall put on other garments, and shall approach to those things which are for the people.

15 ¶ Now when he had made an end of measuring the inner house, he brought me forth toward the gate whose prospect is toward the east, and measured it round about.

16 He measured the east [6] side with the measuring reed, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

17 He measured the north side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed round about.

18 He measured the south side, five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.

19 He turned about to the west side, and measured five hundred reeds, with the measuring reed.

20 He measured it by the four sides: [g] it had a wall round about, [h] five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make [i] a separation between the sanctuary and the profane place.

CHAPTER XLIII.

The return of God's glory to the temple. 7 His promise to dwell there on condition of his people's repentance and future obedience. 13 The altar of burnt offerings, 18 and the ordinances thereof.

AFTERWARD he brought me to the gate, even the gate [a] that looketh toward the east:

2 [b] And behold, the glory of the God of Is'ra-el came from the way of the east: and [c] his voice was like a noise of many waters: [d] and the earth shined with his glory.

3 And it was [e] according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, even according to the vision that I saw [1] when I came [f] to destroy the city: and the visions were like the vision that I saw [g] by the river Che'bar; and I fell upon my face.

4 [h] And the glory of the LORD came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the east.

5 [i] So the spirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court; and behold, [k] the glory of the LORD filled the house.

6 And I heard him speaking unto me out of the house; and [l] the man stood by me.

7 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, [m] the place of my throne, and [n] the place of the soles of my feet, [o] where I will dwell in the midst of the children of Is'ra-el for ever, and my holy name, shall the house of Is'ra-el [p] no more defile, neither they, nor their kings, by their whoredom, nor by [q] the carcasses of their kings in their high places.

8 [r] In their setting of their threshold by my thresholds, and their post by my posts, [2] and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abominations that they have committed: wherefore I have consumed them in mine anger.

9 Now let them put away their whoredom, and [s] the carcasses of their kings, far from me, [t] and I will dwell in the midst of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou son of man, [u] show the house to the house of Is'ra-el, that they may be ashamed of their iniquities: and let them measure the [3] pattern.

11 And if they be ashamed of all that they have done, show them the form of the house, and the fashion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their sight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the house; Upon [x] the top of the mountain the whole limit thereof round about shall be most holy. Behold, this is the law of the house.

13 ¶ And these are the measures of the altar after the cubits: [y] The cubit is a cubit and a handbreath; even the [4] bottom shall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the [5] edge thereof round about shall be a span; and this shall be the higher place of the altar.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground even to the lower settle shall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the lesser settle even to the greater settle shall be four cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So [6] the altar shall be four cubits; and from [7] the altar and upward shall be four horns.

16 And the altar shall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, square in the four squares thereof.

17 And the settle shall be fourteen cubits long and fourteen broad in the four squares thereof; and the border about it shall be half a cubit; and the bottom thereof shall be a cubit about; and [z] his stairs shall look toward the east.

18 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, thus saith the Lord GOD; These are the ordinances of the altar in the day when they shall make it, to offer burnt offerings thereon, and to [a] sprinkle blood thereon.

19 And thou shalt give to [b] the priests the Le'vites that be of the seed of Za'dok, which approach unto me, to minister unto me, saith the Lord GOD, [c] a young bullock for a sin offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the four horns of it, and on the four corners of the settle, and upon the border round about: thus shalt thou cleanse and purge it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullock also of the sin offering, and he [d] shall burn it in the appointed place of the house, [e] without the sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sin offering; and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the LORD, [f] and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt offering unto the LORD.

25 [g] Seven days shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sin offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.

26 Seven days shall they purge the altar and purify it; and they shall [8] consecrate themselves.

27 [h] And when these days are expired, it shall be, that upon the eighth day, and so forward, the priests shall make your burnt offerings upon the altar, and your [9] peace offerings; and I will [i] accept you, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAPTER XLIV.

The east gate assigned only to the prince. 4 The priests reproved for polluting the sanctuary. 9 Idolaters incapable of the priest's office. 15 The sons of Zadok are accepted thereto. 17 Ordinances for the priests.

THEN he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward sanctuary [a] which looketh toward the east; and it was shut.

2 Then said the LORD unto me; This gate shall be shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it; [b] because the LORD the God of Is'ra-el hath entered in by it, therefore it shall be shut.

3 It is for the prince; the prince, he shall sit in it to [c] eat bread before the LORD; [d] he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me the way of the north gate before the house: and I looked, and [e] behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD: [f] and I fell upon my face.

5 And the LORD said unto me, [g] Son of man, [1] mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and hear with thine ears all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof; and mark well the entering in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary.

6 And thou shalt say to the [h] rebellious, even to the house of Is'ra-el, Thus saith the Lord GOD; O ye house of Is'ra-el, [i] let it suffice you of all your abominations,

7 [k] In that ye have brought into my sanctuary [2] [l] strangers, [m] uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary, to pollute it, even my house, when ye offer [n] my bread, [o] the fat and the blood, and they have broken my covenant because of all your abominations.

8 And ye have not [p] kept the charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my [3] charge in my sanctuary for yourselves.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; [q] No stranger, uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Is'ra-el.

10 [r] And the Le'vites that are gone away far from me, when Is'ra-el went astray, which went astray away from me after their idols; they shall even bear their iniquity.

11 Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, [s] having charge at the gates of the house, and ministering to the house: [t] they shall slay the burnt offering and the sacrifice for the people, and [u] they shall stand before them to minister unto them.

12 Because they ministered unto them before their idols, and [w] [4] caused the house of Is'ra-el to fall into iniquity; therefore have I [x] lifted up mine hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity.

13 [y] And they shall not come near unto me, to do the office of a priest unto me, nor to come near to any of my holy things, in the most holy place: but they shall [z] bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them [a] keepers of the charge of the house, for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 ¶ [b] But the priests the Le'vites, [c] the sons of Za'dok, that kept the charge of my sanctuary [d] when the children of Is'ra-el went astray from me, they shall come near to me to minister unto me, and they [e] shall stand before me to offer unto me [f] the fat and the blood, saith the Lord GOD:

16 They shall enter into my sanctuary, and they shall come near to [g] my table, to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge.

17 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, [h] they shall be clothed with linen garments; and no wool shall come upon them, while they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within.

28 And it shall be unto them for an inheritance; I [y] am their inheritance: and ye shall give them no possession in Is′ra-el; I am their possession.

29 [z] They shall eat the meat offering, and the sin offering, and the trespass offering; and [a] every [8] dedicated thing in Is′ra-el shall be theirs.

30 And the [9] [b] first of all the firstfruits of all things, and every oblation of all, of every sort of your oblations, shall be the priest's: ye [c] shall also give unto the priest the first of your dough, [d] that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

31 The priests shall not eat of any thing that is [e] dead of itself, or torn, whether it be fowl or beast.

CHAPTER XLV.

The portion of land for the sanctuary; 6 for the city; 7 and for the prince. 9 The ordinances for the princes.

MOREOVER, [1] when ye shall [a] divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye shall [b] offer an oblation unto the LORD, [2] a holy portion of the land: the length shall be the length of five and twenty thousand reeds, and the breadth shall be ten thousand. This shall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there shall be for the sanctuary [c] five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, square round about; and fifty cubits round about for the [3] suburbs thereof.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure the length of five and twenty thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand: [d] and in it shall be the sanctuary and the most holy place.

4 [e] The holy portion of the land shall be for the priests the ministers of the sanctuary, which shall come near to minister unto the LORD: and it shall be a place for their houses, and a holy place for the sanctuary.

5 [f] And the five and twenty thousand of length, and the ten thousand of breadth, shall also the Le′vites, the ministers of the house, have for themselves, for a possession for [g] twenty chambers.

6 ¶ [h] And ye shall appoint the possession of the city five thousand broad, and five and twenty thousand long, over against the oblation of the holy portion: it shall be for the whole house of Is′ra-el.

7 ¶ [i] And a portion shall be for the prince on the one side and on the other side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city, from the west side westward, and from the east side eastward: and the length shall be over against one of the portions, from the west border unto the east border.

8 In the land shall be his possession in Is′ra-el: and [k] my princes shall no more oppress my people; and the rest of the land shall they give to the house of Is′ra-el according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; [l] Let it suffice you, O princes of Is′ra-el: [m] remove violence and spoil, and execute judgment and justice, take away your [4] exactions from my people, saith the Lord GOD.

10 Ye shall have just [n] balances, and a just ephah, and a just bath.

11 The ephah and the bath shall be of one measure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of a homer, and the ephah the tenth part of a homer: the measure thereof shall be after the homer.

12 And the [o] shekel shall be twenty gerahs: twenty shekels, five and twenty shekels, fifteen shekels, shall be your maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shall offer; the sixth part of an ephah of a homer of wheat, and ye shall give the

14 Concerning the ordinance of oil, the bath of oil, ye shall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is a homer of ten baths; for ten baths are a homer:

15 And one [5]lamb out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat pastures of Is'ra-el; for a meat offering, and for a burnt offering, and for [6]peace offerings, [p]to make reconciliation for them, saith the Lord GOD.

16 All the people of the land [7]shall give this oblation [8]for the prince in Is'ra-el.

17 And it shall be the prince's part to give burnt offerings, and meat offerings, and drink offerings, in the feasts, and in the new moons, and in the sabbaths, in all solemnities of the house of Is'ra-el: he shall prepare the sin offering, and the meat offering, and the burnt offering, and the [9]peace offerings, to make reconciliation for the house of Is'ra-el.

18 Thus saith the Lord GOD; In the first month, in the first day of the month, thou shalt take a young bullock without blemish, and [q]cleanse the sanctuary:

19 [r]And the priest shall take of the blood of the sin offering, and put it upon the posts of the house, and upon the four corners of the settle of the altar, and upon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And so thou shalt do the seventh day of the month [s]for every one that erreth, and for him that is simple: so shall ye reconcile the house.

21 [t]In the first month, in the fourteenth day of the month, ye shall have the passover, a feast of seven days; unleavened bread shall be eaten.

22 And upon that day shall the prince prepare for himself and for all the people of the land [u]a bullock for a sin offering.

23 And [x]seven days of the feast he shall prepare a burnt offering to the LORD, seven bullocks and seven rams without blemish daily the seven days; [y]and a kid of the goats daily for a sin offering.

24 [z]And he shall prepare a meat offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and a hin of oil for an ephah.

25 In the seventh month, in the fifteenth day of the month, shall he do the like in the [a]feast of the seven days, according to the sin offering, according to the burnt offering, and according to the meat offering, and according to the oil.

3 Likewise the people of the land [b]shall worship at the door of this gate before the LORD in the sabbaths and in the new moons.

4 And the burnt offering that [c]the prince shall offer unto the LORD in the sabbath day shall be six lambs without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 [d]And the meat offering shall be an ephah for a ram, and the meat offering for the lambs [1]as he shall be able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

6 And in the day of the new moon it shall be a young bullock without blemish, and six lambs, and a ram: they shall be without blemish.

7 And he shall prepare a meat offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and for the lambs according as his hand shall attain unto, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

8 [e]And when the prince shall enter, he shall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he shall go forth by the way thereof.

9 ¶ But when the people of the land [f]shall come before the LORD in the solemn feasts, he that entereth in by the way of the north gate to worship shall go out by the way of the south gate; and he that entereth by the way of the south gate shall go forth by the way of the north gate: he shall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but shall go forth over against it.

10 And the prince in the midst of them, when they go in, shall go in; and when they go forth, shall go forth.

11 And in the feasts and in the solemnities [g]the meat offering shall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambs as he is able to give, and a hin of oil to an ephah.

12 Now when the prince shall prepare [h]a voluntary burnt offering or peace offerings voluntarily unto the LORD, [i]one shall then open him the gate that looketh toward the east, and he shall prepare his burnt offering and his peace offerings, as he did on the sabbath day: then he shall go forth; and after his going forth one shall shut the gate.

13 [k]Thou shalt daily prepare a burnt offering unto the LORD of a lamb [2]of the first year without blemish: thou shalt prepare it [3]every morning.

14 And thou shalt prepare a meat offering for it every morning, the sixth part of an ephah, and the third part of a hin of oil, to temper with the fine flour; a meat offering continually by a perpetual ordinance unto the LORD.

15 Thus shall they prepare the lamb, and the meat offering, and the oil, every morning for [l]a continual burnt offering.

16 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; If the prince give a gift unto any of his sons, the inheritance thereof shall be his sons'; it shall be their possession by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his servants, then it shall be his to [m]the year of liberty; after, it shall return to the prince: but his inheritance shall be his sons' for them.

18 Moreover [n]the prince shall not take of the people's inheritance by oppression, to thrust them out of their possession; but he shall give his sons inheritance out of his own possession; that my people be not scattered every man from his possession.

19 ¶ After he brought me through the entry, which was at the side of the gate, into the holy chambers of the priests, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the two sides westward.

20 Then said he unto me, This is the place where the priests shall [o]boil the trespass offering and the sin offering, where they shall [p]bake the meat offering; that they bear them not out into the outer court, [q]to sanctify the people.

21 Then he brought me forth into the outer court, and caused me to pass by the four corners of the court; and behold, [4]in every corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the four corners of the court there were courts [5]joined of forty cubits long and thirty broad: these four [6]corners were of one measure.

23 And there was a row of building round about in them, round about them four, and it was made with boiling places under the rows round about.

24 Then said he unto me, These are the places of them that boil, where the ministers of the house shall [r]boil the sacrifice of the people.

AFTERWARD he brought me again unto the door of the house; and behold, [a]waters issued out from under the threshold of the house eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the east, and the waters came down from under, from the right side of the house, at the south side of the altar.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without unto the outer gate by the way that looketh eastward; and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 And when [b]the man that had the line in his hand went forth eastward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters; the [1]waters were to the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees. Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loins.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand; and it was a river that I could not pass over: for the waters were risen, [2]waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

6 ¶ And he said unto me, Son of man, [c]hast thou seen this? Then he brought me, and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

7 Now when I had returned, behold, at the [3]bank of the river were very many [d]trees on the one side and on the other.

8 Then said he unto me, These waters issue out toward the east country, and go down into the [4]desert, and go into the sea: which being brought forth into the sea, the waters shall be healed.

9 And it shall come to pass, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the [5]rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be healed; and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.

10 And it shall come to pass, that the fishers shall stand upon it from En-ge'di even unto En-eg-la'im; they shall be a place to spread forth nets; their fish shall be according to their kinds, as the fish [e]of the great sea, exceeding many.

11 But the miry places thereof and the marshes thereof [6]shall not be healed; they shall be given to salt.

12 And [f]by the river upon the bank thereof, on this side and on that side, [7]shall grow all trees for meat, [g]whose leaf shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof be consumed: it shall bring forth [8]new fruit according to his months, because their waters they issued out of the sanctuary: and the fruit thereof shall be for meat, and the leaf thereof [9]for [h]medicine.

13 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD; This shall be the border, whereby ye shall inherit the land according to the twelve tribes of Is'ra-el: [i]Jo'seph shall have two portions.

14 And ye shall inherit it, one as well as another: concerning the which I [10][j]lifted up mine hand to give it unto your fathers: and this land shall [k]fall unto you for inheritance.

15 And this shall be the border of the land toward the north side, from the great sea, [l]the way of Heth'lon, as men go to [m]Ze'dad;

16 [n]Ha'math, [o]Be-ro'thah, Sib-ra'im, which is between the border of Da-mas'-cus and the border of Ha'math; [11]Ha'-zar-hat'ti-con, which is by the coast of Hau'ran.

17 And the border from the sea shall be [p]Ha'zar-e'nan, the border of Da-mas'cus, and the north northward, and the border of Ha'math. And this is the north side.

18 And the east side ye shall measure [12]from Hau'ran, and from Da-mas'cus, and from Gil'e-ad, and from the land of Is'ra-el by Jor'dan, from the border unto the east sea. And this is the east side.

19 And the south side southward, from Ta'mar even to [q]the waters of [13]strife in Ka'desh, the [14]river to the great sea. And this is the south side [15]southward.

20 The west side also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come over against Ha'math. This is the west side.

21 So shall ye divide this land unto you according to the tribes of Is'ra-el.

22 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, [r]and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you: [s]and they shall be unto you as born in the country among the children of Is'ra-el; they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Is'ra-el.

23 And it shall come to pass, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord God.

CHAPTER XLVIII.

The portions of the twelve tribes. 8 The portion for the sanctuary; 15 for the city and suburbs; 21 and for the prince. 30 The dimensions and gates of the city.

NOW these are the names of the tribes. [a]From the north end to the coast of the way of Heth'lon, as one goeth to Ha'math, Ha'zar-e'nan, the border of Da-mas'cus northward, to the coast of Ha'math; for these are his sides east and west; [b][1]a portion for Dan.

2 And by the border of Dan, from the east side unto the west side, a portion for [c]Ash'er.

3 And by the border of Ash'er, from the east side even [d]unto the west side, a portion for Naph'ta-li.

4 And by the border of Naph'ta-li, from the east side unto the west side, [e]a portion for Ma-nas'seh.

5 And by the border of Ma-nas'seh, from the east side unto the west side, [f]a portion for E'phra-im.

6 And by the border of E'phra-im, from the east side even unto the west side, [g]a portion for Reu'ben.

7 And by the border of Reu'ben, from the east side unto the west side, [h]a portion for Ju'dah.

8 ¶ And by the border of Ju'dah, from the east side unto the west side, shall be [i]the offering which ye shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east side unto the west side: and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto the Lord shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them, [k]even for the priests, shall be this holy oblation; toward the north five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length: and the sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst thereof.

11 [l][2]It shall be for the priests that are sanctified of the sons of Za'dok; which have kept my [3]charge, which went not astray when the children of Is'ra-el went astray, [m]as the Le'vites went astray.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered shall be unto them a thing most holy by the border of the Le'vites.

13 And over against the border of the priests, the Le'vites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 [n]And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the firstfruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.

15 ¶ [o]And the five thousand, that are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be [p]a profane place for the city, for dwelling, and for suburbs; and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

16 And these shall be the measures thereof; the north side four thousand and five hundred, and the south side four thousand and five hundred, and on the east side four thousand and five hundred, and the west side four thousand and five hundred.

17 And the suburbs of the city shall be toward the north two hundred and fifty, and toward the south two hundred and fifty, and toward the east two hundred and fifty, and toward the west two hundred and fifty.

18 And the residue in length over against the oblation of the holy portion shall be ten thousand eastward, and ten thousand westward: and it shall be over against the oblation of the holy portion; and the increase thereof shall be for food unto [q]them that serve the city.

DANIEL.

Daniel, the fourth of the greater prophets, if not of royal birth, as the Jews affirm, was of noble descent, and was carried captive to Babylon, at an early age, in the fourth year of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the year 606 before the Christian era, and seven years before the deportation of Ezekiel. Having been instructed in the language and literature of the Chaldeans, he afterward held a very distinguished office in the Babylonian empire. He was cotemporary with Ezekiel, who mentions his extraordinary piety and wisdom, and the latter, even at that time, seems to have become proverbial. Daniel lived in great credit with the Babylonian monarchs; and his uncommon merit procured him the same regard from Darius and Cyrus, the two first sovereigns of Persia. He lived throughout the captivity, but it does not appear that he returned to his own country when Cyrus permitted the Jews to revisit their native land. The time of his death is not certainly known. Although the name of Daniel is not prefixed to his book, the many passages in which he speaks in the first person sufficiently prove that he was the author. His writings may be divided into two parts, namely: 1. Comprises the historical portion of this book: it contains a narrative of the circumstances that led to Daniel's elevation. 2. Comprises various prophecies and visions of things future, until the advent and death of the Messiah, and the ultimate conversion of the Jews and Gentiles to the faith of the Gospel. This is an amazing series of prophecy, extending through many successive ages from the first establishment of the Persian empire, upward of 530 years before Christ, to the general resurrection! "What a proof does it afford of a Divine Providence and of a Divine revelation! for who could thus declare the things that shall be, with their times and seasons, but He only who hath them in his power: whose dominion is over all, and whose kingdom endureth from generation to generation?"

CHAPTER I.

Jehoiakim's captivity. 3 Daniel and three others selected to be taught the learning of the Chaldeans. 8 They refuse to eat the king's meat. 17 Their great attainments in wisdom.

IN the third year of the reign of Je-hoi'a-kim king of Ju'dah [a]came Neb-u-chad-nez'zar king of Bab'y-lon unto Je-ru'sa-lem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Je-hoi'a-kim king of Ju'dah into his hand, with [b]part of the vessels of the house of God, which he carried [c]into the land of Shi'nar to the house of his god; [d]and he brought the vessels into the treasure house of his god.

3 ¶ And the king spake unto Ash'pe-naz the master of his eunuchs, that he should bring []certain* of the children of Is'ra-el, and of the king's seed, and of the princes;

4 Children [e]in whom was no blemish, but well favoured, and skilful in all wisdom, and cunning in knowledge, and understanding science, and such as had ability in them to stand in the king's palace, and [f]whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chal-de'ans.

5 And the king appointed them a daily provision of the king's meat, and of [1]the wine which he drank: so nourishing them three years, that at the end thereof they might [g]stand before the king.

6 Now among these were of the children of Ju'dah, Dan'iel, Han-a-ni'ah, Mi-sha'el, and Az-a-ri'ah:

7 [h]Unto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: [i]for he gave unto Dan'iel the name of Bel-te-shaz'zar; and to Han-a-ni'ah, of Sha'drach; and to Mi-sha'el, of Me'shach; and to Az-a-ri'ah, of A-bed'-ne-go.

8 ¶ But Dan'iel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself [k]with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requested of the prince of the eunuchs that he might not defile himself.

9 Now [l]God had brought Dan'iel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs said unto Dan'iel, I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why should he see your faces [2]worse liking than the children which are of your [3]sort? then shall ye make me endanger my head to the king.

11 Then said Dan'iel to [4]Mel'zar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had set over Dan'iel, Han-a-ni'ah, Mi-sha'el, and Az-a-ri'ah, 12 Prove thy servants, I beseech thee, ten days; and let them give us [5]pulse [6]to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of 14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proved them ten days.

15 And at the end of ten days their countenances appeared fairer and fatter in flesh than all the children which did eat the portion of the king's meat.

16 Thus Mel'zar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drink; and gave them pulse.

17 ¶ As for these four children, [m]God gave them [n]knowledge and skill in all learning and wisdom: and [7]Dan'iel had [o]understanding in all visions and dreams.

18 Now at the end of the days that the king had said he should bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Neb-u-chad-nez'zar.

19 And the king communed with them; and among them all was found none like Dan'iel, Han-a-ni'ah, Mi-sha'el, and Az-a-ri'ah: therefore [p]stood they before the king.

20 [q]And in all matters of [8]wisdom and understanding, that the king inquired of them, he found them ten times better than all the magicians and astrologers that were in all his realm.

21 [r]And Dan'iel continued even unto the first year of king Cy'rus.

CHAPTER II.

Nebuchadnezzar, forgetting his dream, requireth his wise men to show it. 10 They being unable are condemned to die. 14 Daniel obtaineth some respite. 19 The dream is revealed to him. 20 His thanksgiving. 24 He is brought before the king. 31 The dream. 36 Its interpretation. 46 Daniel's promotion.

AND in the second year of the reign of Neb-u-chad-nez'zar, Neb-u-chad-nez'zar dreamed dreams, [a]wherewith his spirit was troubled, and [b]his sleep brake from him.

2 [c]Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the astrologers, and the sorcerers, and the Chal-de'ans, for to show the king his dreams. So they came and stood before the king.

3 And the king said unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my spirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then spake the Chal-de'ans to the king in Syr'i-ac, [d]O king, live for ever: tell thy servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation.

5 The king answered and said to the Chal-de'ans, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye shall be [e][1]cut in pieces, and your houses shall be made a dunghill.

6 [f]But if ye show the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receive of me gifts and [2]rewards and great honour: therefore show me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered again and said, Let the king tell his servants the dream, and we will show the interpretation of it.

8 The king answered and said, I know of certainty that ye would [3]gain the time, because ye see the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, [g]there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to speak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I shall know that ye can show me the interpretation thereof.

10 ¶ The Chal-de'ans answered before the king, and said, There is not a man upon the earth that can show the king's matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that asked such things at any magician, or astrologer, or Chal-de'an.

11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can show it before the king, [h]except the gods, whose dwelling is not with flesh.

12 For this cause the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to destroy all the wise men of Bab'y-lon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wise men should be slain; and they sought Dan'iel and his fellows to be slain.

14 ¶ Then Dan'iel [4]answered with counsel and wisdom to A'ri-och the [5][6]captain of the king's guard, which was gone forth to slay the wise men of Bab'y-lon:

15 He answered and said to A'ri-och the king's captain, Why is the decree so hasty from the king? Then A'ri-och made the thing known to Dan'iel.

16 Then Dan'iel went in, and desired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would show the king the interpretation.

17 Then Dan'iel went to his house, and made the thing known to Han-a-ni'ah, Mi-sha'el, and Az-a-ri'ah, his companions:

18 [i]That they would desire mercies [7]of the God of heaven concerning this secret; [8]that Dan'iel and his fellows should not perish with the rest of the wise men of Bab'y-lon.

19 ¶ Then was the secret revealed unto Dan'iel [k]in a night vision. Then Dan'iel blessed the God of heaven.

20 Dan'iel answered and said, [l]Blessed be the name of God for ever and ever: [m]for wisdom and might are his:

21 And he changeth [n]the times and the seasons: [o]he removeth kings, and setteth up kings: [p]he giveth wisdom unto the wise, and knowledge to them that know understanding:

22 [q]He revealeth the deep and secret things: [r]he knoweth what is in the darkness, and [s]the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praise thee, O thou God of my fathers, who hast given me wisdom and might, and hast made known unto me now what we [t]desired of thee:

for thou hast now made known unto us the king's matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Dan'iel went in unto A'ri-och, whom the king had ordained to destroy the wise men of Bab'y-lon: he went and said thus unto him; Destroy not the wise men of Bab'y-lon: bring me in before the king, and I will show unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then A'ri-och brought in Dan'iel before the king in haste, and said thus unto him, [9] I have found a man of the [10] captives of Ju'dah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.

26 The king answered and said to Dan'iel, whose name was Bel-te-shaz'zar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Dan'iel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded cannot the wise men, the astrologers, the magicians, the soothsayers, show unto the king;

28 [u] But there is a God in heaven that revealeth secrets, and [11] maketh known to the king Neb-u-chad-nez'zar [x] what shall be in the latter days. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these;

29 As for thee, O king, thy thoughts [12] came into thy mind upon thy bed, what should come to pass hereafter: [y] and he that revealeth secrets maketh known to thee what shall come to pass.

30 [z] But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me for any wisdom that I have more than any living, [13] but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the king, [a] and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.

31 ¶ Thou, O king, [14] sawest, and behold a great image. This great image, whose brightness was excellent, stood before thee; and the form thereof was terrible.

32 [b] This image's head was of fine gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his [15] thighs of brass,

33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out [16] [c] without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brass, the silver, and the gold, broken to pieces together, and became [d] like the chaff of the summer threshing-floors; and the wind carried them away, that [e] no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image [f] became a great mountain, [g] and filled the whole earth.

36 ¶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.

38 [k] And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all. [l] Thou art this head of gold.

39 And after thee shall arise [m] another kingdom [n] inferior to thee, and another third kingdom of brass, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And [o] the fourth kingdom shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces and subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in pieces and bruise.

41 And whereas thou sawest [p] the feet and toes, part of potters' clay, and part of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with miry clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay, so the kingdom shall be partly strong, and partly [17] broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixed with miry clay, they shall mingle themselves with the seed of men: but they shall not cleave [18] one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in [19] the days of these kings [q] shall the God of heaven set up a kingdom, [r] which shall never be destroyed: and the [20] kingdom shall not be left to other people, [s] but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever.

45 [t] Forasmuch as thou sawest that the stone was cut out of the mountain [21] without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brass, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to pass [22] hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

46 ¶ [u] Then the king Neb-u-chad-nez'zar fell upon his face, and worshipped Dan'iel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation [x] and sweet odours unto him.

47 The king answered unto Dan'iel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, [y] and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveal this secret.

48 Then the king made Dan'iel a great man, [z] and gave him many great gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Bab'y-lon, and [a] chief of the governors over all the wise men of Bab'y-lon.

49 Then Dan'iel requested of the king, [b] and he set Sha'drach, Me'shach, and

A-bed'ne-go, over the affairs of the province of Bab'y-lon: but Dan'iel [c]sat in the gate of the king.

CHAPTER III.

Nebuchadnezzar dedicateth a golden image, 4 and commandeth all to worship it. 8 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego are accused of disobedience. 13 Their declaration before the king. 19 They are cast into the fiery furnace. 24 Their miraculous preservation. 26 The king thereupon acknowledgeth the God of Israel.

NEB-U-CHAD-NEZ'ZAR the king made an image of gold, whose height was threescore cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Du'ra, in the province of Bab'y-lon.

2 Then Neb-u-chad-nez'zar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governors, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the dedication of the image which Neb-u-chad-nez'zar the king had set up.

3 Then the princes, the governors, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellors, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Neb-u-chad-nez'zar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Neb-u-chad-nez'zar had set up.

4 Then a herald cried [1]aloud, To you [2]it is commanded, [a]O people, nations, and languages,

5 That at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, [3]dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the golden image that Neb-u-chad-nez'zar the king hath set up:

6 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth shall the same hour [b]be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kinds of music, all the people, the nations, and the languages, fell down and worshipped the golden image that Neb-u-chad-nez'zar the king had set up.

8 ¶ Wherefore at that time certain Chal-de'ans [c]came near, and accused the Jews.

9 They spake and said to the king Neb-u-chad-nez'zar, [d]O king, live for ever.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, shall fall down and worship the golden image:

11 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 [e]There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the affairs of the province of Bab'y-lon, Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go; these men, O king, [4]have not regarded thee: they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Neb-u-chad-nez'zar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go. Then they brought these men before the king.

14 Neb-u-chad-nez'zar spake and said unto them, Is it [5]true, O Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go? do not ye serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 Now if ye be ready that at what time ye hear the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kinds of music, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made; [f]well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same hour into the midst of a burning fiery furnace; [g]and who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands?

16 Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go, answered and said to the king, O Neb-u-chad-nez'zar, [h]we are not careful to answer thee in this matter.

17 If it be so, our God whom we serve [i]is able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

19 ¶ Then was Neb-u-chad-nez'zar [6]full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go: therefore he spake, and commanded that they should heat the furnace one seven times more than it was wont to be heated.

20 And he commanded the [7]most mighty men that were in his army to bind Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go, and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these men were bound in their [8]coats, their hosen, and their [9]hats, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

22 Therefore because the king's [10]commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the [11]flame of the fire slew those men that took up Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go.

23 And these three men, Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go, [k]fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Neb-u-chad-nez'zar the king was astonished, and rose up in haste, and spake, and said unto his [12]counsellors,

Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see four men loose, [l] walking in the midst of the fire, and [13] they have no hurt; and the form of the fourth is like [m] [14] the son of God.

26 ¶ Then Neb-u-chad-nez'zar came near to the [15] mouth of the burning fiery furnace, and spake, and said, Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go, came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 And the princes, governors, and captains, and the king's counsellors, being gathered together, saw these men, [n] upon whose bodies the fire had no power, [o] nor was a hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Neb-u-chad-nez'zar spake, and said, Blessed be the God of Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that [p] trusted in him, and have changed the king's word, and yielded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.

29 [q] Therefore [16] I make a decree, That every people, nation, and language, which speak [17] any thing amiss against the God of Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go, shall be [r] [18] cut in pieces, and their houses shall be made a dunghill; [s] because there is no other God that can deliver after this sort.

30 Then the king [19] promoted Sha'drach, Me'shach, and A-bed'ne-go, in the province of Bab'y-lon.

CHAPTER IV.

Nebuchadnezzar proclaimeth God's dominion. 4 His dream, which the magicians could not interpret. 8 Its recital to Daniel, 19 and his interpretation thereof. 28 The fulfilment of the dream.

NEB-U-CHAD-NEZ'ZAR the king, [a] unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you.

2 [1] I thought it good to show the signs and wonders [b] that the high God hath wrought toward me.

3 [c] How great are his signs! and how mighty are his wonders! his kingdom is [d] an everlasting kingdom, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 ¶ I Neb-u-chad-nez'zar was at rest in mine house, and flourishing in my palace:

5 I saw a dream which made me afraid, [e] and the thoughts upon my bed and the visions of my head [f] troubled me.

6 Therefore made I a decree to bring in all the wise men of Bab'y-lon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 [g] Then came in the magicians, the astrologers, the Chal-de'ans, and the soothsayers: and I told the dream before them; but [h] they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

8 ¶ But at the last Dan'iel came in before me, [i] whose name was Bel-te-shaz'zar, according to the name of my god, [j] and in whom is the spirit of the holy gods: and before him I told the dream, saying,

9 O Bel-te-shaz'zar, [k] master of the magicians, because I know that the spirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no secret troubleth thee, tell me the visions of my dream that I have seen, and the interpretation thereof.

10 Thus were the visions of mine head in my bed; [2] I saw, and behold [l] a tree in the midst of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

11 The tree grew, and was strong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the sight thereof to the end of all the earth:

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: [m] the beasts of the field had shadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all flesh was fed of it.

13 I saw in the visions of my head upon my bed, and behold, [n] a watcher and [o] a holy one came down from heaven;

14 He cried [3] aloud, and said thus, [p] Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, shake off his leaves, and scatter his fruit: [q] let the beasts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches:

15 Nevertheless, leave the stump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field: and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beasts in the grass of the earth:

16 Let his heart be changed from man's, and let a beast's heart be given unto him; and let seven [r] times pass over him.

17 This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent [s] that the living may know [t] that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will, and setteth up over it the basest of men.

18 This dream I king Neb-u-chad-nez'zar have seen. Now thou, O Bel-te-shaz'zar, declare the interpretation thereof, [u] forasmuch as all the wise men of my kingdom are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able; [x] for the spirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Dan'iel, [y] whose name was Bel-te-shaz'zar, was astonished for one hour, and his thoughts troubled him. The king spake, and said, Bel-te-shaz'- zar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof, trouble thee. Bel-te-shaz′zar answered and said, My lord, [z]the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

20 [a]The tree that thou sawest, which grew, and was strong, whose height reached unto the heaven, and the sight thereof to all the earth;

21 Whose leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all; under which the beasts of the field dwelt, and upon whose branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 [b]It is thou, O king, that art grown and become strong: for thy greatness is grown, and reacheth unto heaven, [c]and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 [d]And whereas the king saw a watcher and a holy one coming down from heaven, and saying, Hew the tree down, and destroy it; yet leave the stump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and brass, in the tender grass of the field; and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, [e]and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, till seven times pass over him;

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the Most High, which is come upon my lord the king:

25 That they shall [f]drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field, and they shall make thee [g]to eat grass as oxen, and they shall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and seven times shall pass over thee, [h]till thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and [i]giveth it to whomsoever he will.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the stump of the tree roots; thy kingdom shall be sure unto thee, after that thou shalt have known that the [k]heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsel be acceptable unto thee, and [l]break off thy sins by righteousness, and thine iniquities by showing mercy to the poor; [m]if it may be [4][n]a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

28 ¶ All this came upon the king Neb-u-chad-nez′zar.

29 At the end of twelve months he walked [5]in the palace of the kingdom of Bab′y-lon.

30 The king [o]spake, and said, Is not this great Bab′y-lon, that I have built for the house of the kingdom by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majesty?

31 [p]While the word was in the king's mouth, there fell [q]a voice from heaven, saying, O king Neb-u-chad-nez′zar, to thee it is spoken; The kingdom is departed from thee.

32 And [r]they shall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: they shall make thee to eat grass as oxen, and seven times shall pass over thee, until thou know that the Most High ruleth in the kingdom of men, and giveth it to whomsoever he will.

33 The [s]same hour was the thing fulfilled upon Neb-u-chad-nez′zar: and he was driven from men, and did eat grass as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles' feathers, and his nails like bird's claws.

34 And [t]at the end of the days I Neb-u-chad-nez′zar lifted up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine understanding returned unto me, and I blessed the Most High, and I praised and honoured him [u]that liveth for ever, whose dominion is [v]an everlasting dominion, and his kingdom is from generation to generation:

35 And [x]all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and [y]he doeth according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and [z]none can stay his hand, or say unto him, [a]What doest thou?

36 At the same time my reason returned unto me; [b]and for the glory of my kingdom, mine honour and brightness returned unto me; and my counsellors and my lords sought unto me; and I was established in my kingdom, and excellent majesty was [c]added unto me.

37 Now I Neb-u-chad-nez′zar praise and extol and honour the King of heaven, [d]all whose works are truth, and his ways judgment: [e]and those that walk in pride he is able to abase.

BEL-SHAZ′ZAR the king [a]made a great feast to a thousand of his lords, and drank wine before the thousand.

2 Bel-shaz′zar, while he tasted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and silver vessels [b]which his [1]father Neb-u-chad-nez′zar had [2]taken out of the temple which was in Je-ru′sa-lem; that the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines, might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden vessels that were taken out of the temple of the house of God which was at Je-ru′sa-lem; and the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines, drank in them.

4 They drank wine, [c]and praised the gods of gold, and of silver, of brass, of iron, of wood, and of stone.

5 ¶ [d] In the same hour came forth fingers of a man's hand, and wrote over against the candlestick upon the plaster of the wall of the king's palace: and the king saw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the king's [3] countenance [4] was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, so that the [5] joints of his loins were loosed, and his [e] knees smote one against another.

7 [f] The king cried [6] aloud to bring in [g] the astrologers, the Chal-de'ans, and the soothsayers. And the king spake, and said to the wise men of Bab'y-lon, Whosoever shall read this writing, and show me the interpretation thereof, shall be clothed with [7] scarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, [h] and shall be the third ruler in the kingdom.

8 Then came in all the king's wise men: [i] but they could not read the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was king Bel-shaz'zar greatly [k] troubled, and his [8] countenance was changed in him, and his lords were astonished.

10 ¶ Now the queen, by reason of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquet house: and the queen spake and said, [l] O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed:

11 [m] There is a man in thy kingdom, in whom is the spirit of the holy gods; and in the days of thy [9] father light and understanding and wisdom, like the wisdom of the gods, was found in him; whom the king Neb-u-chad-nez'zar thy [10] father, the king, I say, thy father, made [n] master of the magicians, astrologers, Chal-de'ans, and soothsayers;

12 [o] Forasmuch as an excellent spirit, and knowledge, and understanding, [11] interpreting of dreams, and showing of hard sentences, and [12] dissolving of [13] doubts, were found in the same Dan'iel, [p] whom the king named Bel-te-shaz'zar: now let Dan'iel be called, and he will show the interpretation.

13 Then was Dan'iel brought in before the king. And the king spake and said unto Dan'iel, Art thou that Dan'iel, which art of the children of the captivity of Ju'dah, whom the king my [14] father brought out of Jew'ry?

14 I have even heard of thee, that [q] the spirit of the gods is in thee, and that light and understanding and excellent wisdom is found in thee.

15 And now [r] the wise men, the astrologers, have been brought in before me, that they should read this writing, and make known unto me the interpretation thereof: but they could not show the interpretation of the thing:

16 And I have heard of thee, that thou canst [15] make interpretations, and dissolve doubts: [s] now if thou canst read the writing, and make known to me the interpretation thereof, [t] thou shalt be clothed with scarlet, and have a chain of gold about thy neck, and shalt be the third ruler in the kingdom.

17 ¶ Then Dan'iel [u] answered and said before the king, Let thy gifts be to thyself, and give thy [16] rewards to another; yet I will read the writing unto the king, and make known to him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, [v] the most high God gave Neb-u-chad-nez'zar thy father a kingdom, and majesty, and glory, and honour:

19 And for the majesty that he gave him, [w] all people, nations, and languages, trembled and feared before him: [x] whom he would he slew; and whom he would he kept alive; and whom he would he set up; and whom he would he put down.

20 [y] But when his heart was lifted up, and his mind hardened [17] in pride, he was [18] deposed from his kingly throne, and they took his glory from him:

21 And he was [z] driven from the sons of men; and [19] his heart was made like the beasts, and his dwelling was with the wild asses: they fed him with grass like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven; [a] till he knew that the most high God ruled in the kingdom of men, and that he appointeth over it whomsoever he will.

22 And thou his son, O Bel-shaz'zar, [b] hast not humbled thine heart, though thou knewest all this;

23 [c] But hast lifted up thyself against the Lord of heaven; and they have brought the vessels of his house before thee, and thou and thy lords, thy wives and thy concubines, have drunk wine in them; and thou hast praised the gods of silver, and gold, of brass, iron, wood, and stone, [d] which see not, nor hear, nor know; and the God in whose hand thy breath is, [e] and whose are all thy ways, hast thou not glorified:

24 Then was the part of the hand sent from him; and this writing was written.

25 ¶ And this is the writing that was written, ME'NE, ME'NE, TE'KEL, U-PHAR'SIN.

26 This is the interpretation of the thing: ME'NE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it.

27 TE'KEL; [f] Thou art weighed in the balances, and art found wanting.

28 PE'RES; Thy kingdom is divided, and given to the [g] Medes and [h] Per'si-ans.

29 Then commanded Bel-shaz'zar, and they clothed Dan'iel with scarlet, and put a chain of gold about his neck, and made a proclamation concerning him, [i] that he should be the third ruler in the kingdom.

30 ¶ [k]In that night was Bel-shaz'zar the king of the Chal-de'ans slain.

31 [l]And Da-ri'us the Me'di-an took the kingdom, [20]being [21]about threescore and two years old.

CHAPTER VI.

Daniel is promoted by Darius. 4 His enemies conspire against him, and obtain an impious decree from the king. 10 Daniel is accused of disobedience, and cast into the lions' den. 18 His miraculous preservation. 24 The destruction of his enemies. 25 The king's decree acknowledging the God of Israel.

IT pleased Da-ri'us to set [a]over the kingdom a hundred and twenty princes, which should be over the whole kingdom;

2 And over these three presidents; of whom Dan'iel was first: that the princes might give accounts unto them, and the king should have no damage.

3 Then this Dan'iel was preferred above the presidents and princes, [b]because an excellent spirit was in him; and the king thought to set him over the whole realm.

4 ¶ [c]Then the presidents and princes sought to find occasion against Dan'iel concerning the kingdom; but they could find none occasion nor fault; forasmuch as he was faithful, neither was there any error or fault found in him.

5 Then said these men, We shall not find any occasion against this Dan'iel, except we find it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 Then these presidents and princes [1]assembled together to the king, and said thus unto him, [d]King Da-ri'us, live for ever.

7 All the presidents of the kingdom, the governors, and the princes, the counsellors, and the captains, [e]have consulted together to establish a royal statute, and to make a firm [2]decree, that whosoever shall ask a petition of any god or man for thirty days, save of thee, O king, he shall be cast into the den of lions.

8 Now, O king, establish the decree, and sign the writing, that it be not changed, according to the [f]law of the Medes and Per'si-ans, which [3]altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Da-ri'us signed the writing and the decree.

10 ¶ Now when Dan'iel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house; and, his windows being open in his chamber [g]toward Je-ru'sa-lem, he kneeled upon his knees [h]three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Dan'iel praying and making supplication before his God.

12 [i]Then they came near, and spake before the king concerning the king's decree; Hast thou not signed a decree, that every man that shall ask a petition of any god or man within thirty days, save of thee, O king, shall be cast into the den of lions? The king answered and said, The thing is true, [k]according to the law of the Medes and Per'si-ans, which altereth not.

13 Then answered they and said before the king, That Dan'iel, [l]which is of the children of the captivity of Ju'dah, [m]regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou hast signed, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king, when he heard these words, [n]was sore displeased with himself, and set his heart on Dan'iel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the sun to deliver him.

15 Then these men assembled unto the king, and said unto the king, Know, O king, that [o]the law of the Medes and Per'si-ans is, That no decree nor statute which the king establisheth may be changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Dan'iel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Dan'iel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, [p]he will deliver thee.

17 [q]And a stone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den; [r]and the king sealed it with his own signet, and with the signet of his lords; that the purpose might not be changed concerning Dan'iel.

18 ¶ Then the king went to his palace, and passed the night fasting: neither were [4]instruments of music brought before him: [s]and his sleep went from him.

19 Then the king arose very early in the morning, and went in haste unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Dan'iel: and the king spake and said to Dan'iel, O Dan'iel, servant of the living God, [t]is thy God, [u]whom thou servest continually, able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then said Dan'iel unto the king, [v]O king, live for ever.

22 [w]My God hath sent his angel, and hath [x]shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me: forasmuch as before him innocency was found in me; and also before thee, O king, have I done no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they should take Dan'iel up out of the den. So Dan'iel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, [y]because he believed in his God.

24 ¶ And the king commanded, [z]and they brought those men which had accused Dan'iel, and they cast them into the den of lions, them, [a]their children, and their wives; and the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 ¶ [b]Then king Da-ri'us wrote unto all people, nations, and languages, that dwell in all the earth; Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 [c]I make a decree, That in every dominion of my kingdom men [d]tremble and fear before the God of Dan'iel: [e]for he is the living God, and steadfast for ever, and his kingdom that which shall not be [f]destroyed, and his dominion shall be even unto the end.

27 He delivereth and rescueth, [g]and he worketh signs and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Dan'iel from the [5]power of the lions.

28 So this Dan'iel prospered in the reign of Da-ri'us, [h]and in the reign of [i]Cy'rus the Per'si-an.

CHAPTER VII.

Daniel's vision of four beasts, 9 and of the Ancient of days. 15 The interpretation thereof.

IN the first year of Bel-shaz'zar king of Bab'y-lon, [a]Dan'iel [1]had a dream and [b]visions of his head upon his bed: then he wrote the dream, and told the sum of the [2]matters.

2 Dan'iel spake and said, I saw in my vision by night, and behold, the four winds of the heaven strove upon the great sea.

3 And four great beasts [c]came up from the sea, diverse one from another.

4 The first was [d]like a lion, and had eagle's wings: I beheld till the wings thereof were plucked, [3]and it was lifted up from the earth, and made stand upon the feet as a man, and a man's heart was given to it.

5 [e]And behold another beast, a second, like to a bear, and [4]it raised up itself on one side, and it had three ribs in the mouth of it between the teeth of it: and they said thus unto it, Arise, devour much flesh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo another, like a leopard, which had upon the back of it four wings of a fowl; the beast had also [f]four heads; and dominion was given to it.

7 After this I saw in the night visions, and behold [g]a fourth beast, dreadful and terrible, and strong exceedingly; and it had great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with the feet of it: and it was diverse from all the beasts that were before it; [h]and it had ten horns.

8 I considered the horns, and behold, [i]there came up among them another little horn, before whom there were three of the first horns plucked up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were eyes like the eyes [k]of man, [l]and a mouth speaking great things.

9 ¶ [m]I beheld till the thrones were cast down, and [n]the Ancient of days did sit, [o]whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool: his throne was like the fiery flame, [p]and his wheels as burning fire.

10 [q]A fiery stream issued and came forth from before him: [r]thousand thousands ministered unto him, and ten thousand times ten thousand stood before him: [s]the judgment was set, and the books were opened.

11 I beheld then, because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake, [t]I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.

12 As concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet [5]their lives were prolonged for a season and time.

13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, [u]one like the Son of man came with the clouds of heaven, and came to [x]the Ancient of days, and they brought him near before him.

14 [y]And there was given him dominion, and glory, and a kingdom, that all [z]people, nations, and languages, should serve him: his dominion is [a]an everlasting dominion, which shall not pass away, and his kingdom that which shall not be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Dan'iel [b]was grieved in my spirit in the midst of my [6]body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

16 I came near unto one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this. So he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 [c]These great beasts, which are four, are four kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But [d]the saints of the [7]Most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of [e]the fourth beast, which was diverse [8]from all the others, exceeding dreadful, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brass; which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the residue with his feet;

20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell; even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, [f]and the same horn made war with the saints, and prevailed against them;

22 [g]Until the Ancient of days came, [h]and judgment was given to the saints of the Most High; and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdom.

23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be [i]the fourth kingdom upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdoms, and shall devour the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 [k] And the ten horns out of this kingdom are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them; and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue three kings.

25 [l] And he shall speak great words against the Most High, and shall [m] wear out the saints of the Most High, and [n] think to change times and laws: and [o] they shall be given into his hand [p] until a time and times and the dividing of time.

26 [q] But the judgment shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and to destroy it unto the end.

27 And the [r] kingdom and dominion, and the greatness of the kingdom under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the Most High, [s] whose kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, [t] and all [9] dominions shall serve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Dan'iel, [u] my cogitations much troubled me, and my countenance changed in me: but I [x] kept the matter in my heart.

CHAPTER VIII.

Daniel's vision of the ram and he goat. 13 The sanctuary to be trodden down two thousand three hundred days. 15 Gabriel interpreteth the vision to Daniel.

About 553.

IN the third year of the reign of king Bel-shaz'zar a vision appeared unto me, even unto me Dan'iel, after that which appeared unto me [a] at the first.

2 And I saw in a vision; and it came to pass, when I saw, that I was at [b] Shu'shan in the palace, which is in the province of E'lam; and I saw in a vision, and I was by the river of U'la-i.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there stood before the river a ram which had two horns: and the two horns were high; but one was higher than [1] the other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing westward, and northward, and southward; so that no beasts might stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand; [c] but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, a he goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and [2] touched not the ground: and the goat had [3] [d] a notable horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I saw him come close unto the ram, and he was moved with choler against him, and smote the ram, and brake his two horns: and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

B.C. about 553.

8 Therefore the he goat waxed very great: and when he was strong, the great horn was broken; and for it came up [e] four notable ones toward the four winds of heaven.

9 [f] And out of one of them came forth a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, [g] toward the south, and toward the east, and toward the [h] pleasant land.

10 [i] And it waxed great, even [4] to [k] the host of heaven; and [l] it cast down some of the host and of the stars to the ground, and stamped upon them.

11 Yea, [m] he magnified himself even [5] to [n] the prince of the host, [o] and [6] by him [p] the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

12 And [q] [7] a host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and it cast down [r] the truth to the ground; and it [s] practised, and prospered.

13 ¶ Then I heard [t] one saint speaking, and another saint said unto [8] that certain saint which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression [9] of desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the host to be trodden under foot?

14 And he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred [10] days; then shall the sanctuary be [11] cleansed.

15 ¶ And it came to pass, when I, even I Dan'iel, had seen the vision, and [u] sought for the meaning, then behold, there stood before me [x] as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a man's voice [y] between the banks of U'la-i, which called, and said, [z] Ga'bri-el, make this man to understand the vision.

17 So he came near where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and [a] fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O son of man: for at the time of the end shall be the vision.

18 [b] Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: [c] but he touched me, and [12] set me upright.

19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the last end of the indignation: [d] for at the time appointed the end shall be.

20 [e] The ram which thou sawest having two horns are the kings of Me'di-a and Per'si-a.

21 [f] And the rough goat is the king of Gre'ci-a: and the great horn that is between his eyes [g] is the first king.

22 [h] Now that being broken, whereas four stood up for it, four kingdoms shall stand up out of the nation, but not in his power.

CHAPTER IX.

Daniel's confession of sin, 16 and prayer for the restoration of Jerusalem. 20 Gabriel informeth him of the seventy weeks.

IN the first year [a] of Da-ri'us the son of A-has-u-e'rus, of the seed of the Medes, [1] which was made king over the realm of the Chal-de'ans;

2 In the first year of his reign, I Dan'iel understood by books the number of the years, whereof the word of the LORD came to [b] Jer-e-mi'ah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy years in the desolations of Je-ru'sa-lem.

3 ¶ [c] And I set my face unto the Lord God, to seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes:

4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confession, and said, O [d] Lord, the great and dreadful God, keeping the covenant and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments;

5 [e] We have sinned, and have committed iniquity, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts and from thy judgments:

6 [f] Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, [g] righteousness [2] belongeth unto thee, but unto us confusion of faces, as at this day; to the men of Ju'dah, and to the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem, and unto all Is'ra-el, that are near, and that are far off, through all the countries whither thou hast driven them, because of their trespass that they have trespassed against thee.

8 O Lord, to us belongeth [h] confusion of face, to our kings, to our princes, and to our fathers, because we have sinned against thee.

9 [i] To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgivenesses, though we have rebelled against him;

10 [k] Neither have we obeyed the voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws, which he set before us by his servants the prophets.

11 Yea, [l] all Is'ra-el have transgressed thy law, even by departing, that they might not obey thy voice; therefore the curse is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the [m] law of Mo'ses the servant of God, because we have sinned against him.

12 And he hath [n] confirmed his words, which he spake against us, and against our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: [o] for under the whole heaven hath not been done as hath been done upon Je-ru'sa-lem.

13 [p] As it is written in the law of Mo'ses, all this evil is come upon us: [q] yet [3] made we not our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and understand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the LORD [r] watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for [s] the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: [t] for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, [u] that hast brought thy people forth out of the land of E'gypt with a mighty hand, and hast [4] gotten thee [x] renown, as at this day; [y] we have sinned, we have done wickedly.

16 ¶ O Lord, [z] according to all thy righteousness, I beseech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy city Je-ru'sa-lem, [a] thy holy mountain: because for our sins, [b] and for the iniquities of our fathers, [c] Je-ru'sa-lem and thy people [d] are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, hear the prayer of thy servant, and his supplications, [e] and cause thy face to shine upon thy sanctuary [f] that is desolate, [g] for the Lord's sake.

18 [h] O my God, incline thine ear, and hear; open thine eyes, [i] and behold our desolations, and the city [k] [5] which is called by thy name: for we do not [6] present our supplications before thee for our righteousnesses, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord, hear; O Lord, forgive; O Lord, hearken and do; defer not, [l] for thine own sake, O my God: for thy city and thy people are called by thy name.

20 ¶ [m] And while I was speaking, and praying, and confessing my sin and the sin of my people Is'ra-el, and presenting my supplication before the LORD my God for the holy mountain of my God;

21 Yea, while I was speaking in prayer, even the man [n] Ga'bri-el, whom I had seen in the vision at the beginning, being caused to fly [7] swiftly, [o] touched me [p] about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and said, O Dan'iel, I am now come forth [8] to give thee skill and understanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications the [9] commandment came forth, and [q] I am come to show thee; [r] for thou art [10] greatly beloved: therefore [s] understand the matter, and consider the vision.

24 Seventy weeks are determined upon thy people and upon thy holy city, [11] to finish the transgression, and [12] to make an end of sins, [t] and to make reconciliation for iniquity, [u] and to bring in everlasting righteousness, and to seal up the vision and [13] prophecy, [x] and to anoint the most Holy.

25 [y] Know therefore and understand, that [z] from the going forth of the commandment to restore and to build Je-ru'-sa-lem, unto [a] the Mes-si'ah [b] the Prince, shall be seven weeks, and threescore and two weeks: the street [14] shall be built again, and the [15] wall, [c] even [16] in troublous times.

26 And after threescore and two weeks [d] shall Mes-si'ah be cut off, [e] [17] but not for himself: and [f] the people of the prince that shall come [g] shall destroy the city [h] and the sanctuary; [i] and the end thereof shall be [k] with a flood, and unto the end of the war [18] desolations are determined.

27 And he shall confirm [19] [l] the covenant with [m] many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, [20] and for the overspreading of [n] abominations he shall make it desolate, [o] even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured [21] upon the desolate.

CHAPTER X.

Daniel's fasting and humiliation. 4 He seeth a vision. 10 Being troubled he is comforted and strengthened by an angel.

IN the third year of Cy'rus king of Per'si-a a thing was revealed unto Dan'iel, [a] whose name was called Bel-te-shaz'zar; [b] and the thing was true, [c] but the time appointed was [1] long; and [d] he understood the thing, and had understanding of the vision.

2 In those days I Dan'iel was mourning three [2] full weeks.

3 I ate no [3] pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, [e] neither did I anoint myself at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the four and twentieth day of the first month, as I was by the side of the great river, which is [f] Hid'de-kel;

5 Then [g] I lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and [h] behold [4] a certain man clothed in linen, whose loins were [i] girded with [k] fine gold of U'phaz:

6 His body also was [l] like the beryl, and his face [m] as the appearance of lightning, [n] and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms [o] and his feet like in colour to polished brass, [p] and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Dan'iel [q] alone saw the vision: for the men that were with me saw not the vision; but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, [r] and there remained no strength in me: for my [5] [s] comeliness was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: [t] and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

10 ¶ [u] And behold, a hand touched me, which [6] set me upon my knees and upon the palms of my hands.

11 And he said unto me, O Dan'iel, [x] [7] a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and [8] stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent. And when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he unto me, [y] Fear not, Dan'iel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thyself before thy God, [z] thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 [a] But the prince of the kingdom of Per'si-a withstood me one and twenty days: but lo, [b] Mi'cha-el, [9] one of the chief princes, came to help me; and I remained there with the kings of Per'si-a.

14 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people [c] in the latter days: [d] for yet the vision is for many days.

15 And when he had spoken such words unto me, [e] I set my face toward the ground, and I became dumb.

16 And behold, [f] one like the similitude of the sons of men [g] touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, by the vision [h] my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

17 For how can [10] the servant of this my lord talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came again and touched

21 But I will show thee that which is noted in the Scripture of truth: and there is none that [11] holdeth with me in these things, [m] but Mi'cha-el your prince.

CHAPTER XI.

The overthrow of Persia by the king of Grecia. 5 Leagues and conflicts between the kings of the south and of the north. 21 The rise of a vile person to power. 30 His impious conduct. 40 His fall.

ALSO I [a] in the first year of [b] Da-ri'us the Mede, even I, stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I show thee the truth. Behold, there shall stand up yet three kings in Per'si-a; and the fourth shall be far richer than they all: and by his strength through his riches he shall stir up all against the realm of Gre'ci-a.

3 And [c] a mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and [d] do according to his will.

4 And when he shall stand up, [e] his kingdom shall be broken, and shall be divided toward the four winds of heaven; and not to his posterity, [f] nor according to his dominion which he ruled: for his kingdom shall be plucked up, even for others besides those.

5 ¶ And the king of the south shall be strong, and one of his princes; and he shall be strong above him, and have dominion; his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of years they [1] shall join themselves together; for the king's daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make [2] an agreement: but she shall not retain the power of the arm; neither shall he stand, nor his arm: but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and [3] he that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.

7 But out of a branch of her roots shall one stand up [4] in his estate, which shall come with an army, and shall enter into the fortress of the king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail:

8 And shall also carry captives into E'gypt their gods, with their princes, and with [5] their precious vessels of silver and of gold; and he shall continue more years than the king of the north.

9 So the king of the south shall come into his kingdom, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his sons [6] shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one shall certainly come, [g] and overflow, and pass through: [7] then shall he return, and be stirred up, [h] even to his fortress.

11 And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great multitude; but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up; and he shall cast down many ten thousands: but he shall not be strengthened by it.

13 For the king of the north shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come [8] after certain years with a great army and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall many stand up against the king of the south: also [9] the robbers of thy people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision; but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take [10] the most fenced cities: and the arms of the south shall not withstand, neither [11] his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him [i] shall do according to his own will, and [k] none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the [12] glorious land, which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 He shall also [l] set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdom, and [13] upright ones with him; thus shall he do: and he shall give him the daughter of women, [14] corrupting her: but she shall not stand on his side, [m] neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the isles, and shall take many: but a prince [15] for his own behalf shall cause [16] the reproach offered by him to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon him.

19 Then he shall turn his face toward the fort of his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, [n] and not be found.

20 Then shall stand up [17] in his estate [18] a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdom: but within few days he shall be destroyed, neither in [19] anger, nor in battle.

21 And [20] in his estate [o] shall stand up a vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdom: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdom by flatteries.

23 And after the league made with him he shall work deceitfully: for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a small people.

24 He shall enter [21]peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province; and he shall do that which his fathers have not done, nor his fathers' fathers; he shall scatter among them the prey, and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall [22]forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a time.

25 And he shall stir up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great army; and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battle with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shall [s]overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings' [23]hearts shall be to do mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for [t]yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

30 ¶ [z]For the ships of Chit'tim shall come against him: therefore he shall be grieved, and return, and have indignation [a]against the holy covenant: so shall he do; he shall even return, and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms shall stand on his part, [b]and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall place the abomination that [24]maketh desolate.

32 And such as do wickedly against the covenant shall he [25]corrupt by flatteries: but the people that do know their God shall be strong, and do exploits.

33 [c]And they that understand among the people shall instruct many: [d]yet they shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil, many days.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shall be holpen with a little help: but many shall cleave to them with flatteries.

35 And some of them of understanding shall fall, [e]to try [26]them, and to purge, and to make them white, [f]even to the time of the end: [g]because it is yet for a time appointed.

37 Neither shall he regard the god of his fathers, [m]nor the desire of women, [n]nor regard any god: for he shall magnify himself above all.

38 But in his estate shall he honour the God of [27]forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not shall he honour with gold, and silver, and with precious stones, and [28]pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in the [29]most strong holds with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for [30]gain.

9 And he said, Go thy way, Dan'iel: for the words are closed up and sealed [y] till the time of the end.

10 [z] Many shall be purified, and made white, and tried; [a] but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand; but [b] the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time [c] that the daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and [5] the abomination that [6] maketh desolate set up, there shall be a thousand two hundred and ninety days.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and five and thirty days.

13 But [d] go thou thy way till the end be: [7] [e] for thou shalt rest, [f] and stand in thy lot at the end of the days.

HOSEA.

Hosea, of whose family we have no certain information, prophesied during the reigns of Uzziah, Jotham, and Ahaz, and in the third year of Hezekiah, kings of Judah, and during the reign of Jeroboam II. king of Israel; and it is most probable that he was an Israelite, who lived in the kingdom of Samaria, or of the ten tribes, as his predictions are chiefly directed against their wickedness and idolatry. But with the severest denunciations of vengeance he blends promises of mercy. The prophecy of Hosea contains fourteen chapters, which may be divided into five sections, or discourses, namely: 1. Under the figure of the supposed infidelity of the prophet's wife is represented the spiritual infidelity of the Israelites, a remnant of whom, it is promised, shall be saved, and they are exhorted to forsake idolatry. Promises are then introduced, on the general conversion of the twelve tribes to Christianity; and the gracious purposes of Jehovah toward the ten tribes, or the kingdom of Israel in particular, are represented under the figure of the prophet taking back his wife on her amendment. 2. A reproof of the bloodshed and idolatry of the Israelites, against which the inhabitants of Judah are exhorted to take warning, interspersed with promises of pardon. 3. The prophet's exhortations to repentance proving ineffectual, God complains by him of their obstinate iniquity and idolatry, and denounces that Israel will be carried into captivity into Assyria by Sennacherib notwithstanding their reliance on Egypt for assistance. 4. The captivity and dispersion of Israel is further threatened; the Israelites are reproved for their idolatry, yet they shall not be utterly destroyed, and their return to their own country is foretold. Renewed denunciations are made on account of their idolatry. 5. After a terrible denunciation of divine punishment, intermixed with promises of restoration from captivity, the prophet exhorts the Israelites to repentance, and furnishes them with a beautiful form of prayer, adapted to their situation; and foretells their reformation from idolatry, together with the subsequent restoration of all the tribes from their dispersed state, and their conversion to the Gospel.

CHAPTER I.

The date of Hosea's prophecy. 2 The prophet, for a sign to the people, taketh an adulterous wife. 4 Their children. 10 The restoration and union of Judah and Israel.

THE word of the Lord that came unto Ho-se'a, the son of Be-e'ri, in the days of Uz-zi'ah, Jo'tham, A'haz, and Hez-e-ki'ah, kings of Ju'dah, and in the days of Jer-o-bo'am the son of Jo'ash, king of Is'ra-el.

2 The beginning of the word of the Lord by Ho-se'a. And the Lord said to Ho-se'a, [a] Go, take unto thee a wife of whoredoms and children of whoredoms: for [b] the land hath committed great whoredom, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went and took Go'mer the daughter of Dib-la'im; which conceived, and bare him a son.

4 And the LORD said unto him, Call his name Jez're-el; for yet a little while, [c]and I will [1]avenge the blood of Jez're-el upon the house of Je'hu, [d]and will cause to cease the kingdom of the house of Is'ra-el.

5 [e]And it shall come to pass at that day, that I will break the bow of Is'ra-el in the valley of Jez're-el.

6 ¶ And she conceived again, and bare a daughter. And God said unto him, Call her name [2]Lo-ru-ha'mah: [f]for [3]I will no more have mercy upon the house of Is'ra-el; [4]but I will utterly take them away.

7 [g]But I will have mercy upon the house of Ju'dah, and will save them by the LORD their God, and [h]will not save them by bow, nor by sword, nor by battle, by horses, nor by horsemen.

8 ¶ Now when she had weaned Lo-ru-ha'mah, she conceived, and bare a son.

9 Then said God, Call his name [5]Lo-am'mi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 ¶ Yet [i]the number of the children of Is'ra-el shall be as the sand of the sea, which cannot be measured nor numbered; [k]and it shall come to pass, that [6]in the place where it was said unto them, [l]Ye are not my people, there it shall be said unto them, Ye are [m]the sons of the living God.

11 [n]Then shall the children of Ju'dah and the children of Is'ra-el be gathered together, and appoint themselves one head, and they shall come up out of the land: for great shall be the day of Jez're-el.

CHAPTER II.

The idolatry of the people. 6 God's judgments against them. 14 His promises of reconciliation.

SAY ye unto your brethren, [1]Am'mi; and to your sisters, [2]Ru-ha'mah.

2 Plead with your mother, plead; for [a]she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her [b]whoredoms out of her sight, and her adulteries from between her breasts;

3 Lest [c]I strip her naked, and set her as in the day that she was [d]born, and make her [e]as a wilderness, and set her like a dry land, and slay her with [f]thirst.

4 And I will not have mercy upon her children; for they be the [g]children of whoredoms.

5 [h]For their mother hath played the harlot: she that conceived them hath done shamefully; for she said, I will go after my lovers, [i]that give me my bread and my water, my wool and my flax, mine oil and my [3]drink.

6 ¶ Therefore, behold, [k]I will hedge up thy way with thorns, and [4]make a wall, that she shall not find her paths.

7 And she shall follow after her lovers, but she shall not overtake them; and she shall seek them, but shall not find them: then shall she say, [l]I will go and return to my [m]first husband; for then was it better with me than now.

8 For she did not [n]know that [o]I gave her corn, and [5]wine, and oil, and multiplied her silver and gold, [6]which they prepared for Ba'al.

9 Therefore will I return, and [p]take away my corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and will [7]recover my wool and my flax given to cover her nakedness.

10 And now [q]will I discover her [8]lewdness in the sight of her lovers, and none shall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 [r]I will also cause all her mirth to cease, her [s]feast days, her new moons, and her sabbaths, and all her solemn feasts.

12 And I will [9]destroy her vines and her fig trees, [t]whereof she hath said, These are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and [u]I will make them a forest, and the beasts of the field shall eat them.

13 And I will visit upon her the days of Ba'al-im, wherein she burned incense to them, and she [x]decked herself with her earrings and her jewels, and she went after her lovers, and forgat me, saith the LORD.

14 ¶ Therefore, behold, I will allure her, and [y]bring her into the wilderness, and speak [10]comfortably unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and [z]the valley of A'chor for a door of hope: and she shall sing there, as in [a]the days of her youth, and [b]as in the day when she came up out of the land of E'gypt.

16 And it shall be at that day, saith the LORD, that thou shalt call me [11]I'shi; and shalt call me no more [12]Ba'al-i.

17 For [c]I will take away the names of Ba'al-im out of her mouth, and they shall no more be remembered by their name.

18 And in that day will I make a [d]covenant for them with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and [e]I will break the bow and the sword and the battle out of the earth, and will make them to [f]lie down safely.

19 And I will betroth thee unto me for ever; yea, I will betroth thee unto me in righteousness, and in judgment, and in lovingkindness, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth thee unto me in faithfulness: and [g]thou shalt know the LORD.

21 And it shall come to pass in that day, [h]I will hear, saith the LORD, I will

CHAPTER III.

The desolation and restoration of Israel typified.

THEN said the LORD unto me, [a]Go yet, love a woman beloved of her [b]friend, yet an adulteress, according to the love of the LORD toward the children of Is'ra-el, who look to other gods, and love flagons [1] of wine.

2 So I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of silver, and for a homer of barley, and a [2]half homer of barley:

3 And I said unto her, Thou shalt [c]abide for me many days; thou shalt not play the harlot, and thou shalt not be for another man: so will I also be for thee.

4 For the children of Is'ra-el shall abide many days [d]without a king, and without a prince, and without a sacrifice, and without [3]an image, and without an [e]ephod, and without [f]teraphim:

5 Afterward shall the children of Is'ra-el return, and [g]seek the LORD their God, and [h]Da'vid their king; and shall fear the LORD and his goodness in the [i]latter days.

CHAPTER IV.

God's controversy with Israel. 6 The sins of the priests. 12 The idolatry of the people. 15 Judah warned by the example of Israel.

HEAR the word of the LORD, ye children of Is'ra-el: for the LORD hath a [a]controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor [b]knowledge of God in the land.

2 By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and [1]blood toucheth blood.

3 Therefore [c]shall the land mourn, and [d]every one that dwelleth therein shall languish, with the beasts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven; yea, the fishes of the sea also shall be taken away.

4 Yet let no man strive, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they [e]that strive with the priest.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall [f]in the day, and the prophet also shall fall with thee in the night, and I will [2]destroy thy mother.

6 ¶ [g]My people are [3]destroyed for lack of knowledge: because thou hast rejected knowledge, I will also reject thee, that thou shalt be no priest to me: seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

9 And there shall be, [k]like people, like priest: and I will [5]punish them for their ways, and [6]reward them their doings.

10 For [l]they shall eat, and not have enough: they shall commit whoredom, and shall not increase: because they have left off to take heed to the LORD.

11 Whoredom and wine and new wine [m]take away the heart.

12 ¶ My people ask counsel at their [n]stocks, and their staff declareth unto them: for [o]the spirit of whoredoms hath caused them to err, and they have gone a whoring from under their God.

13 [p]They sacrifice upon the tops of the mountains, and burn incense upon the hills, under oaks and poplars and elms, because the shadow thereof is good: [q]therefore your daughters shall commit whoredom, and your spouses shall commit adultery.

14 [7]I will not punish your daughters when they commit whoredom, nor your spouses when they commit adultery: for themselves are separated with whores, and they sacrifice with harlots: therefore the people that [r]doth not understand shall [8]fall.

15 ¶ Though thou, Is'ra-el, play the harlot, yet let not Ju'dah offend; [s]and come not ye unto Gil'gal, neither go ye up to [t]Beth-a'ven, [u]nor swear, The LORD liveth.

16 For Is'ra-el [x]slideth back as a backsliding heifer: now the LORD will feed them as a lamb in a large place.

17 E'phra-im is joined to idols: [y]let him alone.

18 Their drink [9]is sour: they have committed whoredom continually: [z]her [10]rulers with shame do love, Give ye.

19 [a]The wind hath bound her up in her wings, and [b]they shall be ashamed because of their sacrifices.

CHAPTER V.

God's judgments against the priests, the people, and the princes of Israel, for their manifold sins.

HEAR ye this, O priests; and hearken, ye house of Is'ra-el; and give ye ear, O house of the king; for judgment is toward you, because [a]ye have been a snare on Miz'pah, and a net spread upon Ta'bor.

2 And the revolters are [b]profound to make slaughter, [1]though I have been [2]a rebuker of them all.

3 [c]I know E'phra-im, and Is'ra-el is not hid from me: for now, O E'phra-im, [d] thou committest whoredom, and Is'ra-el is defiled.

4 [3] They will not frame their doings to turn unto their God: for [e] the spirit of whoredoms is in the midst of them, and they have not known the LORD.

5 And [f] the pride of Is'ra-el doth testify to his face: therefore shall Is'ra-el and E'phra-im fall in their iniquity; Ju'dah also shall fall with them.

6 [g] They shall go with their flocks and with their herds to seek the LORD; but they shall not find him; he hath withdrawn himself from them.

7 They have [h] dealt treacherously against the LORD; for they have begotten strange children: now shall [i] a month devour them with their portions.

8 [k] Blow ye the cornet in Gib'e-ah, and the trumpet in Ra'mah: [l] cry aloud at [m] Beth-a'ven, [n] after thee, O Ben'ja-min.

9 E'phra-im shall be desolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Is'ra-el have I made known that which shall surely be.

10 The princes of Ju'dah were like them that [o] remove the bound: therefore I will pour out my wrath upon them like water.

11 E'phra-im is [p] oppressed and broken in judgment, because he willingly walked after [q] the commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto E'phra-im as a moth, and to the house of Ju'dah [r] as [4] rottenness.

13 When E'phra-im saw his sickness, and Ju'dah saw his [s] wound, then went E'phra-im [t] to the As-syr'i-an, [u] and sent [5] to king Ja'reb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For [x] I will be unto E'phra-im as a lion, and as a young lion to the house of Ju'dah: [y] I, even I, will tear and go away; I will take away, and none shall rescue him.

15 ¶ I will go and return to my place, [6] till [z] they acknowledge their offence, and seek my face: [a] in their affliction they will seek me early.

CHAPTER VI.

An exhortation to repentance. 4 The instability and wickedness of Israel.

COME, and let us return unto the LORD: for [a] he hath torn, and [b] he will heal us; he hath smitten, and he will bind us up.

2 [c] After two days will he revive us: in the third day he will raise us up, and we shall live in his sight.

3 [d] Then shall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared [e] as the morning; and [f] he shall come unto us [g] as the rain, as the latter and former rain unto the earth.

4 ¶ [h] O E'phra-im, what shall I do unto thee? O Ju'dah, what shall I do unto thee? for your [1] goodness is [i] as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I hewed them [k] by the prophets; I have slain them by [l] the words of my mouth: [2] and thy judgments are as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired [m] mercy, and [n] not sacrifice; and the [o] knowledge of God more than burnt offerings.

7 But they [3] like men [p] have transgressed the covenant: there [q] have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 [r] Gil'e-ad is a city of them that work iniquity, and is [4] polluted with blood.

9 And as troops of robbers wait for a man, so [s] the company of priests murder in the way [5] by consent: for they commit [6] lewdness.

10 I have seen [t] a horrible thing in the house of Is'ra-el: there is [u] the whoredom of E'phra-im, Is'ra-el is defiled.

11 Also, O Ju'dah, [x] he hath set a harvest for thee, [y] when I returned the captivity of my people.

CHAPTER VII.

Israel rebuked for their sins. 11 Sore chastisement threatened.

WHEN I would have healed Is'ra-el, then the iniquity of E'phra-im was discovered, and the [1] wickedness of Sa-ma'ri-a: for [a] they commit falsehood; and the thief cometh in, and the troop of robbers [2] spoileth without.

2 And they [3] consider not in their hearts that I [b] remember all their wickedness: now [c] their own doings have beset them about; they are [d] before my face.

3 They make the king glad with their wickedness, and the princes [e] with their lies.

4 [f] They are all adulterers, as an oven heated by the baker, [4] who ceaseth [5] from raising after he hath kneaded the dough, until it be leavened.

5 In the day of our king, the princes have made him sick [6] with bottles of wine; he stretched out his hand with scorners.

6 For they have [7] made ready their heart like an oven, while they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night; in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have devoured their judges; [g] all their kings [h] are fallen: [i] there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 E'phra-im, he [k] hath mixed himself among the people; E'phra-im is a cake not turned.

9 [l] Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, gray hairs are [8] here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

the LORD their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 ¶ [o]E'phra-im also is like a silly dove without heart: [p]they call to E'gypt, they go to As-syr'i-a.

12 When they shall go, [q]I will spread my net upon them; I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven; I will chastise them, [r]as their congregation hath heard.

13 Woe unto them! for they have fled from me: [9]destruction unto them! because they have transgressed against me: though [s]I have redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 [t]And they have not cried unto me with their heart, when they howled upon their beds: they assemble themselves for corn and wine, and they rebel against me.

15 Though I [10]have bound and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

16 [u]They return, but not to the Most High: [x]they are like a deceitful bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the [y]rage of their tongue: this shall be their derision [z]in the land of E'gypt.

CHAPTER VIII.

Destruction threatened to Israel and Judah for their impiety and idolatry.

S*ET* [a]the trumpet to [1]thy mouth. He shall come [b]as an eagle against the house of the LORD, because [c]they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law.

2 [d]Is'ra-el shall cry unto me, My God, [e]we know thee.

3 Is'ra-el hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemy shall pursue him.

4 [f]They have set up kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not: [g]of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.

5 ¶ Thy calf, O Sa-ma'ri-a, hath cast thee off; mine anger is kindled against them: [h]how long will it be ere they attain to innocency?

6 For from Is'ra-el was it also: the workman made it; therefore it is not God: but the calf of Sa-ma'ri-a shall be broken in pieces.

7 For [i]they have sown the wind, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no [2]stalk: the bud shall yield no meal: if so be it yield, [k]the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 [l]Is'ra-el is swallowed up: now shall they be among the Gen'tiles [m]as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For [n]they are gone up to As-syr'i-a, [o]a wild ass alone by himself: E'phra-im [p]hath hired [3]lovers.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now [q]will I gather them, and they shall [4]sorrow [5]a little for the burden of [r]the king of princes.

11 Because E'phra-im hath made [s]many altars to sin, altars shall be unto him to sin.

12 I have written to him [t]the great things of my law, but they were counted as a strange thing.

13 [u][6]They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; [x]but the LORD accepteth them not; [y]now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sins: [z]they shall return to E'gypt.

14 [a]For Is'ra-el hath forgotten [b]his Maker, and [c]buildeth temples; and Ju'dah hath multiplied fenced cities: but [d]I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devour the palaces thereof.

CHAPTER IX.

The distress and captivity of Israel for their idolatry.

REJOICE not, O Is'ra-el, for joy, as other people: for thou [a]hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved a [b]reward [1]upon every cornfloor.

2 [c]The floor and the [2]winepress shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in [d]the LORD's land; [e]but E'phra-im shall return to E'gypt, and [f]they shall eat unclean things [g]in As-syr'i-a.

4 [h]They shall not offer wine offerings to the LORD, [i]neither shall they be pleasing unto him: [k]their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners; all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread [l]for their soul shall not come into the house of the LORD.

5 What will ye do in [m]the solemn day, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?

6 For lo, they are gone because of [3]destruction: [n]E'gypt shall gather them up, Mem'phis shall bury them: [4]the pleasant places for their silver, [o]nettles shall possess them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The days of visitation are come, the days of recompense are come; Is'ra-el shall know it: the prophet is a fool, [p]the [5]spiritual man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The [q]watchman of E'phra-im was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his ways, and hatred [6]in the house of his God.

9 [r]They have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the days of [s]Gib'e-ah: [t]therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sins.

10 I found Is'ra-el like grapes in the wilderness; I saw your fathers as [u]the first ripe in the fig tree [x]at her first time: but they went to [y]Ba'al-pe'or, and [z]separated themselves [a]unto that shame;

15 All their wickedness [k]is in Gil'gal; for there I hated them: [l]for the wickedness of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: [m]all their princes are revolters.

16 E'phra-im is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, [n]though they bring forth, yet will I slay even [8]the beloved fruit of their womb.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be [o]wanderers among the nations.

CHAPTER X.

Judgments upon Israel threatened for their impiety and idolatry.

ISRA-EL is [a][1]an empty vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself: according to the multitude of his fruit [b]he hath increased the altars; according to the goodness of his land [c]they have made goodly [2]images.

2 [3]Their heart is [d]divided; now shall they be found faulty: he shall [4]break down their altars, he shall spoil their images.

3 [e]For now they shall say, We have no king, because we feared not the LORD; what then should a king do to us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsely in making a covenant: thus judgment springeth up [f]as hemlock in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Sa-ma'ri-a shall fear because of [g]the calves of [h]Beth-a'ven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and [5]the priests thereof that rejoiced on it, [i]for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried unto As-syr'i-a for a present to [k]king Ja'reb: E'phra-im shall receive shame, and Is'ra-el shall be ashamed [l]of his own counsel.

7 [m]As for Sa-ma'ri-a, her king is cut off as the foam upon [6]the water.

8 [n]The high places also of A'ven, [o]the sin of Is'ra-el, shall be destroyed: [p]the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; [q]and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 [r]O Is'ra-el, thou hast sinned from the days of Gib'e-ah: there they stood: [s]the battle in Gib'e-ah against the children of iniquity did not overtake them.

10 [t]It is in my desire that I should chastise them; and [u]the people shall be gathered against them, [7]when they shall bind themselves in their two furrows.

11 And E'phra-im is as [x]a heifer that is taught, and loveth to tread out the corn; but I passed over upon [8]her fair neck: I will make E'phra-im to ride; Ju'dah shall plough, and Ja'cob shall break his clods.

12 [y]Sow to yourselves in righteousness, reap in mercy; [z]break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousness upon you.

13 [a]Ye have ploughed wickedness, ye have reaped iniquity; ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 [b]Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as Shal'man spoiled [c]Beth-ar'bel in the day of battle: [d]the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

15 So shall Beth'el do unto you because of [9]your great wickedness: in a morning [e]shall the king of Is'ra-el utterly be cut off.

CHAPTER XI.

God's goodness to Israel, and their ingratitude.

WHEN [a]Is'ra-el was a child, then I loved him, and [b]called my [c]son out of E'gypt.

2 As they called them, so they went from them: [d]they sacrificed unto Ba'al-im, and burned incense to graven images.

3 [e]I taught E'phra-im also to go, taking them by their arms; but they knew not that [f]I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords of a man, with bands of love: and [g]I was to them as they that [1]take off the yoke on their jaws, and [h]I laid meat unto them.

5 ¶ [i]He shall not return into the land of E'gypt, but the As-syr'i-an shall be his king, [k]because they refused to return.

6 And the sword shall abide on his cities, and shall consume his branches, and devour them, [l]because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to [m]backsliding from me: [n]though they called them to the Most High, [2]none at all would exalt him.

8 [o]How shall I give thee up, E'phra-im? how shall I deliver thee, Is'ra-el? how shall I make thee as [p]Ad'mah? how shall I set thee as Ze-bo'im? [q]mine heart is turned within me, my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy E′phra-im: [r] for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the LORD: [s] he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble [t] from the west.

11 They shall tremble as a bird out of E′gypt, [u] and as a dove out of the land of As-syr′i-a: [x] and I will place them in their houses, saith the LORD.

12 [y] E′phra-im compasseth me about with lies, and the house of Is′ra-el with deceit: but Ju′dah yet ruleth with God, and is faithful [3] with the saints.

CHAPTER XII.

Ephraim and Judah reproved for their sins, and exhorted to repentance.

E′PHRA-IM [a] feedeth on wind, and followeth after the east wind: he daily increaseth lies and desolation; [b] and they do make a covenant with the As-syr′i-ans, and [c] oil is carried into E′gypt.

2 [d] The LORD hath also a controversy with Ju′dah, and will [1] punish Ja′cob according to his ways; according to his doings will he recompense him.

3 ¶ He took his brother [e] by the heel in the womb, and by his strength he [2][f] had power with God:

4 Yea, he had power over the angel, and prevailed: he wept, and made supplication unto him: he found him in [g] Beth′el, and there he spake with us;

5 Even the LORD God of hosts; the LORD is his [h] memorial.

6 [i] Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and [k] wait on thy God continually.

7 ¶ He is [3] a merchant, [l] the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to [4] oppress.

8 And E′phra-im said, [m] Yet I am become rich, I have found me out substance: [5] in all my labours they shall find none iniquity in me [6] that were sin.

9 And [n] I that am the LORD thy God from the land of E′gypt [o] will yet make thee to dwell in tabernacles, as in the days of the solemn feast.

10 [p] I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, [7] by the ministry of the prophets.

11 [q] Is there iniquity in Gil′e-ad? surely they are vanity: they sacrifice bullocks in [r] Gil′gal; yea, [s] their altars are as heaps in the furrows of the fields.

12 And Ja′cob [t] fled into the country of Syr′i-a, and Is′ra-el [u] served for a wife, and for a wife he kept sheep.

CHAPTER XIII.

Ephraim's idolatry. 5 Their abuse of God's goodness. 9 Their help is in God. 15 Judgments threatened.

WHEN E′phra-im spake trembling, he exalted himself in Is′ra-el; but [a] when he offended in Ba′al, he died.

2 And now [1] they sin more and more, and [b] have made them molten images of their silver, and idols according to their own understanding, all of it the work of the craftsmen: they say of them, Let [2] the men that sacrifice [c] kiss the calves.

3 Therefore they shall be [d] as the morning cloud, and as the early dew that passeth away, [e] as the chaff that is driven with the whirlwind out of the floor, and as the smoke out of the chimney.

4 Yet [f] I am the LORD thy God from the land of E′gypt, and thou shalt know no god but me: for [g] there is no saviour beside me.

5 ¶ [h] I did know thee in the wilderness, [i] in the land of [3] great drought.

6 [k] According to their pasture, so were they filled; they were filled, and their heart was exalted; therefore [l] have they forgotten me.

7 Therefore [m] I will be unto them as a lion: as [n] a leopard by the way will I observe them:

8 I will meet them [o] as a bear that is bereaved of her whelps, and will rend the caul of their heart, and there will I devour them like a lion: [4] the wild beast shall tear them.

9 ¶ O Is′ra-el, [p] thou hast destroyed thyself; [q] but in me [5] is thine help.

10 I will be thy king: [r] where is any other that may save thee in all thy cities? and thy judges of whom [s] thou saidst, Give me a king and princes?

11 [t] I gave thee a king in mine anger, and took him away in my wrath.

12 [u] The iniquity of E′phra-im is bound up; his sin is hid.

13 [x] The sorrows of a travailing woman shall come upon him: he is [y] an unwise son; for he should not [z] stay [6] long in the place of the breaking forth of children.

14 [a] I will ransom them from [7] the power of the grave; I will redeem them from death: [b] O death, I will be thy plagues, O grave, I will be thy destruction: [c] repentance shall be hid from mine eyes.

CHAPTER XIV.

An exhortation to repentance. 4 Blessings promised.

O ISʹRA-EL, [a]return unto the Lord thy God; [b]for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity.

2 Take with you words, and turn to the Lord: say unto him, Take away all iniquity, and [1]receive us graciously: so will we render the [c]calves of our lips.

3 [d]Asshʹur shall not save us; [e]we will not ride upon horses: [f]neither will we say any more to the work of our hands, Ye are our gods: [g]for in thee the fatherless findeth mercy.

4 ¶ I will heal [h]their backsliding, I will love them [i]freely: for mine anger is turned away from him.

5 I will be as [k]the dew unto Isʹra-el: he shall [2]grow as the lily, and [3]cast forth his roots as Lebʹa-non.

6 His branches [4]shall spread, and [l]his beauty shall be as the olive tree, and [m]his smell as Lebʹa-non.

7 [n]They that dwell under his shadow shall return; they shall revive as the corn, and [5]grow as the vine: the [6]scent thereof shall be as the wine of Lebʹa-non.

8 Eʹphra-im shall say, [o]What have I to do any more with idols? [p]I have heard him, and observed him: I am like a green fir tree. [q]From me is thy fruit found.

9 [r]Who is wise, and he shall understand these things? prudent, and he shall know them? for [s]the ways of the Lord are right, and the just shall walk in them: but the transgressors shall fall therein.

JOEL.

Concerning the family, condition, and pursuits of this prophet nothing certain is known; but from internal evidence we are authorized to place him in the reign of Uzziah. Consequently he was contemporary with Amos and Hosea, if indeed he did not prophesy before Amos. His book consists of three chapters, which may be divided into three discourses or parts, namely: 1. Is an exhortation, both to the priests and to the people, to repent, by reason of the famine brought upon them by the palmerworm, etc., in consequence of their sins, and is followed by a denunciation of still greater calamities if they continued impenitent. 2. An exhortation to keep a public and solemn fast, with a promise of removing the calamities of the Jews on their repentance, and of the effusion of the Holy Spirit. 3. Predicts the general conversion and return of the Jews, and the destruction of their opponents, together with the glorious state of the Church that is to follow.

CHAPTER I.

The judgments of God upon the land. 8 The prophet exhorteth the people to mourning, 14 and to proclaim a fast.

THE word of the Lord that came to Joʹel the son of Pe-thuʹel.

2 Hear this, ye old men, and give ear, all ye inhabitants of the land. [a]Hath this been in your days, or even in the days of your fathers?

3 [b]Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 [c][1]That which the palmerworm hath left hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left hath the cankerworm eaten; and that which the cankerworm hath left hath the caterpillar eaten.

5 Awake, ye drunkards, and weep; and howl, all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine; [d]for it is cut off from your mouth.

6 For [e]a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number, [f]whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek teeth of a great lion.

7 He hath [g]laid my vine waste, and [2]barked my fig tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away; the branches thereof are made white.

8 ¶ [h]Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for [i]the husband of her youth.

9 [k]The meat offering and the drink offering is cut off from the house of the Lord; the priests, the Lord's ministers, mourn.

10 The field is wasted, [l]the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted: [m]the new wine is [3]dried up, the oil languisheth.

11 [n]Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen; howl, O ye vinedressers, for the wheat and for the barley; because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 [o]The vine is dried up, and the fig tree languisheth; the pomegranate tree, the palm tree also, and the apple tree, even all the trees of the field, are withered: because [p]joy is withered away from the sons of men.

13 [q]Gird yourselves, and lament, ye priests: howl, ye ministers of the altar: come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for [r]the meat offering and the drink offering is withholden from the house of your God.

14 ¶ [s]Sanctify ye a fast, call [t]a [4]solemn assembly, gather the elders and [u]all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD,

15 [x]Alas for the day! for [y]the day of the LORD is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, [z]joy and gladness from the house of our God?

17 The [5]seed is rotten under their clods, the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How do [a]the beasts groan! the herds of cattle are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

19 O LORD, [b]to thee will I cry: for [c]the fire hath devoured the [6]pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burned all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field [d]cry also unto thee: for [e]the rivers of waters are dried up, and the fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

CHAPTER II.

Terrible judgments predicted. 12 An exhortation to repent, 15 and to proclaim a fast. 18 Blessings promised thereupon. 28 The outpouring of the Spirit foretold.

[a]BLOW ye the [1]trumpet in Zi′on, and [b]sound an alarm in my holy mountain: let all the inhabitants of the land tremble: for [c]the day of the LORD cometh, for it is nigh at hand;

2 [d]A day of darkness and of gloominess, a day of clouds and of thick darkness, as the morning spread upon the mountains: [e]a great people and a strong; [f]there hath not been ever the like, neither shall be any more after it, even to the years [2]of many generations.

3 [g]A fire devoureth before them; and behind them a flame burneth: the land is as [h]the garden of E′den before them, and behind them a desolate wilderness; yea, and nothing shall escape them.

4 [k]The appearance of them is as the appearance of horses; and as horsemen, so shall they run.

17 Let the priests, the ministers of the LORD, weep [n]between the porch and the altar, and let them say, [o]Spare thy people, O LORD, and give not thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should [5]rule over them: [p]wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?

18 ¶ Then will the LORD [q]be jealous for his land, [r]and pity his people.

19 Yea, the LORD will answer and say unto his people, Behold, I will send you [s]corn, and wine, and oil, and ye shall be satisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen:

God's judgments upon the enemies of his people. 18 Blessings promised to Zion.

FOR, behold, [a] in those days, and in that time, when I shall bring again the captivity of Ju'dah and Je-ru'sa-lem,

2 [b] I will also gather all nations, and will bring them down into [c] the valley of Je-hosh'a-phat, and [d] will plead with them there for my people and for my heritage Is'ra-el, whom they have scattered among the nations, and parted my land.

3 And they have [e] cast lots for my people; and have given a boy for a harlot, and sold a girl for wine, that they might drink.

4 Yea, and what have ye to do with me, [f] O Tyre, and Zi'don, and all the coasts of Pal'es-tine? [g] will ye render me a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompense upon your own head;

5 Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly [1] pleasant things:

6 The children also of Ju'dah and the children of Je-ru'sa-lem have ye sold unto [2] the Gre'ci-ans, that ye might remove them far from their border.

7 Behold, [h] I will raise them out of the place whither ye have sold them, and will return your recompense upon your own head:

8 And I will sell your sons and your daughters into the hand of the children of Ju'dah, and they shall sell them to the [i] Sa-be'ans, to a people [k] far off: for the LORD hath spoken it.

9 ¶ [l] Proclaim ye this among the Gentiles; [3] Prepare war, wake up the mighty men, let all the men of war draw near; let them come up:

10 [m] Beat your ploughshares into swords, and your [4] pruninghooks into spears: [n] let the weak say, I am strong.

11 [o] Assemble yourselves, and come, all ye heathen, and gather yourselves together round about: thither [5] cause [p] thy mighty ones to come down, O LORD.

12 Let the heathen be wakened, [q] and come up to the valley of Je-hosh'a-phat: for there will I sit to [r] judge all the heathen round about.

13 [s] Put ye in the sickle, for [t] the harvest is ripe: come, get you down; for the [u] press is full, the fats overflow; for their wickedness is great.

14 Multitudes, multitudes in [x] the valley of [6] decision: for [y] the day of the LORD is near in the valley of decision.

15 The [z] sun and the moon shall be darkened, and the stars shall withdraw their shining.

16 The LORD also shall [a] roar out of Zi'on, and utter his voice from Je-ru'sa-lem; and [b] the heavens and the earth shall shake: [c] but the LORD will be the [7] hope of his people, and the strength of the children of Is'ra-el.

17 So [d] shall ye know that I am the LORD your God dwelling in Zi'on, [e] my holy mountain: then shall Je-ru'sa-lem

AMOS.

AMOS, the third of the minor prophets, is supposed to have been a native of Tekoah, a small town in the kingdom of Judah, situate about four leagues to the south of Jerusalem. He prophesied during the reigns of Uzziah, king of Judah, and of Jeroboam, son of Joash. His prophecy consists of three parts, namely: 1. The Judgments of God denounced against the neighbouring Gentile nations. 2. The Divine Judgments denounced against Judah and Israel. 3. Consolatory Promises to the Church, describing her Restoration by the Messiah.

CHAPTER I.

The date of the prophecy of Amos. 2 God's judgment upon Syria, 6 upon the Philistines, 9 upon Tyrus, 11 upon Edom, 18 and upon Ammon.

THE words of A'mos, [a] who was among the herdmen of [b] Te-ko'a, which he saw concerning Is'ra-el [c] in the days of Uz-zi'ah king of Ju'dah, and in the days of [d] Jer-o-bo'am the son of Jo'ash king of Is'ra-el, two years before the [e] earthquake.

2 And he said, The LORD will [f] roar from Zi'on, and utter his voice from Je-ru'sa-lem; and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of [g] Car'mel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the LORD; For three transgressions of [h] Da-mas'cus, [1] and for four, I will not [2] turn away the punishment thereof; [i] because they have threshed Gil'e-ad with threshing instruments of iron:

4 [k] But I will send a fire into the house of Ha-za'el, which shall devour the palaces of Ben-ha'dad.

5 I will break also the [l] bar of Da-mas'cus, and cut off the inhabitant from [3] the plain of A'ven, and him that holdeth the sceptre from [4] the house of E'den: and [m] the people of Syr'i-a shall go into captivity [n] unto Kir, saith the LORD.

6 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; For three transgressions of [o] Ga'za, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they [5] carried away captive the whole captivity, [p] to deliver them up to E'dom:

7 [q] But I will send a fire on the wall of Ga'za, which shall devour the palaces thereof:

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant [r] from Ash'dod, and him that holdeth the sceptre from Ash'ke-lon, and I will [s] turn mine hand against Ek'ron: and [t] the remnant of the Phil'is-tines shall perish, saith the Lord GOD.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; For three transgressions of [u] Ty'rus, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; [x] because they delivered up the whole captivity to E'dom, and remembered not [6] the brotherly covenant:

10 [y] But I will send a fire on the wall of Ty'rus, which shall devour the palaces thereof.

11 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; For three transgressions of [z] E'dom, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he did pursue [a] his brother [b] with the sword, and [7] did cast off all pity, [c] and his anger did tear perpetually, and he kept his wrath for ever:

12 But [d] I will send a fire upon Te'man, which shall devour the palaces of Boz'rah.

13 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; For three transgressions of [e] the children of Am'mon, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because they have [8] [f] ripped up the women with child, of Gil'e-ad, [g] that they might enlarge their border:

14 But I will kindle a fire in the wall of [h] Rab'bah, and it shall devour the palaces thereof, [i] with shouting in the day of battle, with a tempest in the day of the whirlwind:

15 And [k] their king shall go into captivity, he and his princes together, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER II.

God's judgments upon Moab, 4 upon Judah, 6 and upon Israel. 9 The ingratitude of the people, and their punishment.

THUS saith the LORD; For three transgressions of [a] Mo'ab, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because he [b] burned the bones of the king of E'dom into lime:

2 But I will send a fire upon Mo'ab, and it shall devour the palaces of [c] Kir'-i-oth: and Mo'ab shall die with tumult, [d] with shouting, and with the sound of the trumpet:

3 And I will cut off [e] the judge from the midst thereof, and will slay all the princes thereof with him, saith the LORD.

4 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; For three transgressions of Ju'dah, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; [f] because they have despised the law of the LORD, and have not kept his commandments, and [g] their lies caused them to err, [h] after the which their fathers have walked:

5 [i] But I will send a fire upon Ju'dah, and it shall devour the palaces of Je-ru'-sa-lem.

6 ¶ Thus saith the LORD; For three transgressions of Is'ra-el, and for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof; because [k] they sold the righteous for silver, and the poor for a pair of shoes;

7 That pant after the dust of the earth on the head of the poor, and [l] turn aside the way of the meek: [m] and a man and his father will go in unto the same [1] maid, [n] to profane my holy name:

8 And they lay themselves down upon clothes [o] laid to pledge [p] by every altar, and they drink the wine of [2] the condemned in the house of their god.

9 ¶ Yet destroyed I the [q] Am'o-rite before them, [r] whose height was like the height of the cedars, and he was strong as the oaks; yet I [s] destroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 Also [t] I brought you up from the land of E'gypt, and [u] led you forty years through the wilderness, to possess the land of the Am'o-rite.

11 And I raised up of your sons for prophets, and of your young men for [x] Naz'a-rites. Is it not even thus, O ye children of Is'ra-el? saith the LORD.

12 But ye gave the Naz'a-rites wine to drink; and commanded the prophets, [y] saying, Prophesy not.

13 [z] Behold, [3] I am pressed under you, as a cart is pressed that is full of sheaves.

14 [a] Therefore the flight shall perish from the swift, and the strong shall not strengthen his force, [b] neither shall the mighty deliver [4] himself:

15 Neither shall he stand that handleth the bow; and he that is swift of foot shall not deliver himself: [c] neither shall he that rideth the horse deliver himself.

16 And he that is [5] courageous among the mighty shall flee away naked in that day, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER III.

The certainty of God's judgments against Israel. 9 The heathen nations called to behold.

HEAR this word that the LORD hath spoken against you, O children of Is'ra-el, against the whole family which I brought up from the land of E'gypt, saying,

2 [a] You only have I known of all the families of the earth: [b] therefore I will [1] punish you for all your iniquities.

3 Can two walk together, except they be ageeed?

4 Will a lion roar in the forest, when he hath no prey? will a young lion [2] cry out of his den, if he have taken nothing?

5 Can a bird fall in a snare upon the earth, where no gin is for him? shall one take up a snare from the earth, and have taken nothing at all?

6 Shall a trumpet be blown in the city, and the people [3] not be afraid? [c] shall there be evil in a city, [4] and the LORD hath not done it?

7 Surely the Lord GOD will do nothing, but [d] he revealeth his secret unto his servants the prophets.

8 [e] The lion hath roared, who will not fear? the Lord GOD hath spoken, [f] who can but prophesy?

9 ¶ Publish in the palaces at Ash'dod, and in the palaces in the land of E'gypt, and say, Assemble yourselves upon the mountains of Sa-ma'ri-a, and behold the great tumults in the midst thereof, and the [5] oppressed in the midst thereof.

10 For they [g] know not to do right, saith the LORD, who store up violence and [6] robbery in their palaces.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD; [h] An adversary there shall be even round about the land; and he shall bring down thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shall be spoiled.

12 Thus saith the LORD; As the shepherd [7] taketh out of the mouth of the lion two legs, or a piece of an ear; so shall the children of Is'ra-el be taken out that dwell in Sa-ma'ri-a in the corner of a bed, and [8] in Da-mas'cus in a couch.

13 Hear ye, and testify in the house of Ja'cob, saith the Lord GOD, the God of hosts,

14 That, in the day that I shall [9] visit the transgressions of Is'ra-el upon him, I will also visit the altars of Beth'el: and the horns of the altar shall be cut off, and fall to the ground.

15 And I will smite [i] the winter house

CHAPTER IV.

Israel reproved for their oppression, 4 for their idolatry, 6 and for their incorrigibleness.

HEAR this word, ye [a]kine of Ba'-shan, that are in the mountain of Sa-ma'ri-a, which oppress the poor, which crush the needy, which say to their masters, Bring, and let us drink.

2 [b]The Lord GOD hath sworn by his holiness, that lo, the days shall come upon you, that he will take you away [c]with hooks, and your posterity with fishhooks.

3 And [d]ye shall go out at the breaches, every cow at that which is before her; and [1]ye shall cast them into the palace, saith the LORD.

4 ¶ [e]Come to Beth'el, and transgress; at [f]Gil'gal multiply transgression; and [g]bring your sacrifices every morning, [h]and your tithes after [2]three years:

5 [i]And [3]offer a sacrifice of thanksgiving with leaven, and proclaim and publish [k]the free offerings: [l]for [4]this liketh you, O ye children of Is'ra-el, saith the Lord GOD.

6 ¶ And I also have given you cleanness of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: [m]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

7 And also I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three months to the harvest: and I caused it to rain upon one city, and caused it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city, to drink water; but they were not satisfied: [n]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

9 [o]I have smitten you with blasting and mildew: [5]when your gardens and your vineyards and your fig trees and your olive trees increased, [p]the palmerworm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

10 I have sent among you the pestilence [6][q]after the manner of E'gypt: your young men have I slain with the sword, [7]and have taken away your horses; and I have made the stink of your camps to come up unto your nostrils: [r]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

11 I have overthrown some of you, as God overthrew [s]Sod'om and Go-mor'rah, [t]and ye were as a firebrand plucked out of the burning: [u]yet have ye not returned unto me, saith the LORD.

12 Therefore thus will I do unto thee, O Is'ra-el: and because I will do this unto thee, [x]prepare to meet thy God, O Is'ra-el.

CHAPTER V.

A lamentation for Israel. 4 An exhortation to repentance. 21 God rejecteth their hypocritical service.

HEAR ye this word which I [a]take up against you, even a lamentation, O house of Is'ra-el.

2 The virgin of Is'ra-el is fallen; she shall no more rise: she is forsaken upon her land; there is none to raise her up.

3 For thus saith the Lord GOD; The city that went out by a thousand shall leave a hundred, and that which went forth by a hundred shall leave ten, to the house of Is'ra-el.

4 ¶ For thus saith the LORD unto the house of Is'ra-el, [b]Seek ye me, [c]and ye shall live:

5 But seek not [d]Beth'el, nor enter into Gil'gal, and pass not to [e]Be-er'she-ba: for Gil'gal shall surely go into captivity, and [f]Beth'el shall come to nought.

6 [g]Seek the LORD, and ye shall live; lest he break out like fire in the house of Jo'seph, and devour it, and there be none to quench it in Beth'el.

7 Ye who [h]turn judgment to wormwood, and leave off righteousness in the earth,

8 Seek him that maketh the [i]seven stars and O-ri'on, and turneth the shadow of death into the morning, [k]and maketh the day dark with night: that [l]calleth for the waters of the sea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: [m]The LORD is his name:

9 That strengtheneth the [1]spoiled against the strong, so that the spoiled shall come against the fortress.

10 [n]They hate him that rebuketh in the gate, and they [o]abhor him that speaketh uprightly.

11 Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poor, and ye take from him burdens of wheat: [p]ye have built houses of hewn stone, but ye shall not dwell in them; ye have planted [2]pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions and your mighty sins: [q]they afflict the just, they take [3]a bribe, and they [r]turn aside the poor in the gate from their right.

13 Therefore [s]the prudent shall keep silence in that time; for it is an evil time.

14 Seek good, and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD, the God of hosts, shall be with you, [t]as ye have spoken.

15 [u]Hate the evil, and love the good, and establish judgment in the gate: [x] it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Jo'seph.

16 Therefore the LORD, the God of hosts, the Lord, saith thus; Wailing shall be in all streets; and they shall say in all the highways, Alas! alas! and they shall call the husbandman to mourning, and [y] such as are skilful of lamentation to wailing.

17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for [z] I will pass through thee, saith the LORD.

18 [a] Woe unto you that desire the day of the LORD! to what end is it for you? [b] the day of the LORD is darkness, and not light.

19 [c] As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the LORD be darkness, and not light? even very dark, and no brightness in it?

21 ¶ [d] I hate, I despise your feast days, and [e] I will not [4] smell in your solemn assemblies.

22 [f] Though ye offer me burnt offerings and your meat offerings, I will not accept them; neither will I regard the [5] peace offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs; for I will not hear the melody of thy viols.

24 [g] But let judgment [6] run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream.

25 [h] Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness forty years, O house of Is'ra-el?

26 But ye have borne [7] the tabernacle [i] of your Mo'loch and Chi'un your images, the star of your god, which ye made to yourselves.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivity [k] beyond Da-mas'cus, saith the LORD, [l] whose name is The God of hosts.

CHAPTER VI.

The pride and luxury of Israel. 7 Severe judgments threatened.

WOE [a] to them that [1] are at ease in Zi'on, and trust in the mountain of Sa-ma'ri-a, which are named [b][2] chief of the nations, to whom the house of Is'ra-el came!

2 [c] Pass ye unto [d] Cal'neh, and see; and from thence go ye to [e] Ha'math the great: then go down to [f] Gath of the Phil-is'tines: [g] be they better than these kingdoms? or their border greater than your border?

3 Ye that [h] put far away the [i] evil day, [k] and cause [l] the [3] seat of violence to come near;

4 That lie upon beds of ivory, and [4] stretch themselves upon their couches, and eat the lambs out of the flock, and the calves out of the midst of the stall;

8 [p] The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD the God of hosts, I abhor [q] the excellency of Ja'cob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the city with all [8] that is therein.

9 And it shall come to pass, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a man's uncle shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No. Then shall he say, [r] Hold thy tongue: [s] for [9] we may not make mention of the name of the LORD.

CHAPTER VII.

Judgments upon Israel symbolized by grasshoppers, 4 by fire, 7 and by a plumbline. 10 Amaziah complaineth of Amos to the king. 14 His defence. 16 Amaziah's doom foretold.

THUS hath the Lord GOD showed unto me: and behold, he formed [1] grasshoppers in the beginning of the shooting up of the latter growth; and lo, it was the latter growth after the king's mowings.

2 And it came to pass, that when they had made an end of eating the grass of the land, then I said, O Lord GOD, forgive, I beseech thee: [a][2] by whom shall Ja'cob arise? for he is small.

3 [b] The LORD repented for this: It shall not be, saith the LORD.

4 ¶ Thus hath the Lord GOD showed unto me: and behold, the Lord GOD called to contend by fire, and it devoured the great deep, and did eat up a part.

5 Then said I, O Lord GOD, cease, I beseech thee: [c]by whom shall Ja′cob arise? for he is small.

6 The LORD repented for this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord GOD.

7 ¶ Thus he showed me: and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumbline, with a plumbline in his hand.

8 And the LORD said unto me, A′mos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumbline. Then said the Lord, Behold, [d]I will set a plumbline in the midst of my people Is′ra-el: [e]I will not again pass by them any more:

9 [f]And the high places of I′saac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Is′ra-el shall be laid waste; and [g]I will rise against the house of Jer-o-bo′am with the sword.

10 ¶ Then Am-a-zi′ah [h]the priest of Beth′el sent to [i]Jer-o-bo′am king of Is′ra-el, saying, A′mos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Is′ra-el: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11 For thus A′mos saith, Jer-o-bo′am shall die by the sword, and Is′ra-el shall surely be led away captive out of their own land.

12 Also Am-a-zi′ah said unto A′mos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Ju′dah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there:

13 But [k]prophesy not again any more at Beth′el: [l]for it is the king's [3]chapel, and it is the [4]king's court.

14 ¶ Then answered A′mos, and said to Am-a-zi′ah, I was no prophet, neither was I [m]a prophet's son; [n]but I was a herdman, and a gatherer of [5]sycamore fruit:

15 And the LORD took me [6]as I followed the flock, and the LORD said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Is′ra-el.

16 ¶ Now therefore hear thou the word of the LORD: Thou sayest, Prophesy not against Is′ra-el, and [o]drop not thy word against the house of I′saac.

17 [p]Therefore thus saith the LORD; [q]Thy wife shall be a harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou shalt die in a polluted land: and Is′ra-el shall surely go into captivity forth of his land.

CHAPTER VIII.

Israel's approaching end typified by a basket of summer fruit. 4 Oppressors of the poor reproved. 11 A famine of the word foretold.

THUS hath the Lord GOD showed unto me: and behold a basket of summer fruit.

2 And he said, A′mos, what seest thou? And I said, A basket of summer fruit. Then said the LORD unto me, [a]The end is come upon my people of Is′ra-el; [b]I will not again pass by them any more.

3 And [c]the songs of the temple [1]shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord GOD: there shall be many dead bodies in every place; [d]they shall cast them forth [2]with silence.

4 ¶ Hear this, O ye that [e]swallow up the needy, even to make the poor of the land to fail,

5 Saying, When will the [3]new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and [f]the sabbath, that we may [4]set forth wheat, [g]making the ephah small, and the shekel great, and [5]falsifying the balances by deceit?

6 That we may buy the poor for [h]silver, and the needy for a pair of shoes; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?

7 The LORD hath sworn by [i]the excellency of Ja′cob, Surely I [k]will never forget any of their works.

8 [l]Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a flood; and it shall be cast out and drowned, [m]as by the flood of E′gypt.

9 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the Lord GOD, [n]that I will cause the sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day:

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation; [o]and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loins, and baldness upon every head; [p]and I will make it as the mourning of an only son, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 ¶ Behold, the days come, saith the Lord GOD, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but [q]of hearing the words of the LORD:

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the north even to the east, they shall run to and fro to seek the word of the LORD, and shall not find it.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 They that [r]swear by [s]the sin of Sa-ma′ri-a, and say, Thy god, O Dan, liveth; and, The [6]manner [t]of Be-er′she-ba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

CHAPTER IX.

The certainty of Israel's desolation. 11 The restoring of the tabernacle of David.

I SAW the Lord standing upon the altar: and he said, Smite the [1]lintel of the door, that the posts may shake: and [2][a]cut them in the head, all of them; and I will slay the last of them with the sword: [b]he that fleeth of them shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them shall not be delivered.

2 [c]Though they dig into hell, thence shall mine hand take them; [d]though they climb up to heaven, thence will I bring them down:

3 And though they hide themselves in the top of Car′mel, I will search and take

11 ¶ [s]In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of Da'vid that is fallen, and [7]close up the breaches thereof; and I will raise up his ruins, and I will build it as in the days of old:

12 [t]That they may possess the remnant of [u]E'dom, and of all the heathen, [8]which are called by my name, saith the LORD that doeth this.

14 [y]And I will bring again the captivity of my people of Is'ra-el, and [z]they shall build the waste cities, and inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof; they shall also make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

OBADIAH.

THE time when this prophet flourished is uncertain: Archbishop Newcome places it, with great probability, between the taking of Jerusalem (which happened in the year 587 before Christ) and the destruction of Idumea, by Nebuchadnezzar, which took place a very few years after. Consequently he was partly contemporary with Jeremiah, one of whose predictions includes the greater part of Obadiah's book. His writings, which consist of only one chapter, unfold a very interesting scene of prophecy, in two parts, namely: 1. Is minatory, and denounces the destruction of Edom for their pride and carnal security; and for their cruel insults and enmity to the Jews, after the capture of their city. 2. Is consolatory, and foretells the restoration of the Jews, their victory over their enemies, and their flourishing state in consequence.

THE vision of O-ba-di'ah. Thus saith the Lord GOD [a]concerning E'dom; [b]We have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassador is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and let us rise up against her in battle.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 ¶ The pride of thine heart hath deceived thee, thou that dwellest in the clefts [c]of the rock, whose habitation is high; [d]that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

4 [e]Though thou exalt thyself as the eagle, and though thou [f]set thy nest among the stars, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.

5 If [g]thieves came to thee, if robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen till they had enough? if the grapegatherers came to thee, [h]would they not leave [1]some grapes?

6 How are the things of E'sau searched out! how are his hidden things sought up!

7 All the men of thy confederacy have brought thee even to the border: [2] [i] the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee; [3] they that eat thy bread have laid a wound under thee: [k] there is none understanding [4] in him.

8 [l] Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, even destroy the wise men out of E'dom, and understanding out of the mount of E'sau?

9 And thy [m] mighty men, O [n] Te'man, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one of the mount of E'sau may be cut off by slaughter.

10 ¶ For thy [o] violence against thy brother Ja'cob, shame shall cover thee, and [p] thou shalt be cut off for ever.

12 But [6] thou shouldest not have [r] looked on [s] the day of thy brother in the day that he became a stranger; neither shouldest thou have [t] rejoiced over the children of Ju'dah in the day of their destruction; neither shouldest thou have [7] spoken proudly in the day of distress.

15 [u] For the day of the LORD is near upon all the heathen: [x] as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee: thy reward shall return upon thine own head.

16 [y] For as ye have drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the heathen drink continually; yea, they shall drink, and they shall [10] swallow down, and they shall be as though they had not been.

17 ¶ [z] But upon mount Zi'on [a] shall be [11] deliverance, and [12] there shall be holiness; and the house of Ja'cob shall possess their possessions.

18 And the house of Ja'cob [b] shall be a fire, and the house of Jo'seph a flame, and the house of E'sau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devour them; and there shall not be any remaining of the house of E'sau; for the LORD hath spoken it.

19 And they of the south [c] shall possess the mount of E'sau; [d] and they of the plain, the Phil-is'tines: and they shall possess the fields of E'phra-im, and the fields of Sa-ma'ri-a: and Ben'ja-min shall possess Gil'e-ad.

20 And the captivity of this host of the children of Is'ra-el shall possess that of the Ca'naan-ites, even [e] unto Zar'e-phath; and the captivity of Je-ru'sa-lem, [13] which is in Seph'a-rad, [f] shall possess the cities of the south.

21 And [g] saviours shall come up on mount Zi'on to judge the mount of E'sau; and the [h] kingdom shall be the LORD'S.

J O N A H.

THIS Book is by the Hebrews called Sepher Jonan, or the Book of Jonah, from its author Jonah, the son of Amittai, who was a native of Gath-Hepher in Galilee. He is supposed to have prophesied to the ten tribes, according to Bishop Lloyd, toward the close of Jehu's reign, or in the beginning of Jehoahaz's reign; though other chronologers place him under Joash and Jeroboam II., about forty years later. The scope of this book is to show, by the very striking example of the Ninevites, the divine forbearance and longsuffering toward sinners who are spared on their sincere repentance. The book of Jonah consists of two parts, namely: 1. His first mission to Nineveh, and his attempt to flee to Tarshish, and its frustration, together with his delivery from the stomach of the great fish which had swallowed him. 2. His second mission, and its happy result to the Ninevites, who, in consequence of the prophet's preaching, repented in dust and ashes; and the discontent of Jonah, who, dreading to be thought a false prophet, repined at the divine mercy in sparing the Ninevites, whose destruction he seems to have expected. The time of Jonah's continuance in the belly of the fish was a type of our Lord's continuance in the grave.

CHAPTER I.

Jonah, sent to Nineveh, fleeth to Tarshish. 4 He is overtaken by a tempest, 11 thrown into the sea, 17 and swallowed by a great fish.

NOW the word of the Lord came unto [a][1] Jo'nah the son of A-mit'tai, saying,

2 Arise, go to Nin'e-veh, that [b] great city, and cry against it; for [c] their wickedness is come up before me.

3 But Jo'nah [d] rose up to flee unto Tar'shish from the presence of the Lord, and went down to [e] Jop'pa; and he found a ship going to Tar'shish: so he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it, to go with them unto Tar'shish [f] from the presence of the Lord.

4 ¶ But [g] the Lord [2] sent out a great wind into the sea, and there was a mighty tempest in the sea, so that the ship was [3] like to be broken.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and [h] cast forth the wares that were in the ship into the sea, to lighten it of them. But Jo'nah was gone down [i] into the sides of the ship; and he lay, and was fast asleep.

6 So the shipmaster came to him, and said unto him, What meanest thou, O sleeper? arise, [k] call upon thy God, [l] if so be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they said every one to his fellow, Come, and let us [m] cast lots, that we may know for whose cause this evil is upon us. So they cast lots, and the lot fell upon Jo'nah.

8 Then said they unto him, [n] Tell us, we pray thee, for whose cause this evil is upon us? What is thine occupation? and whence comest thou? what is thy country? and of what people art thou?

9 And he said unto them, I am a He'brew; and I fear the Lord, the God of heaven, [o] which hath made the sea and the dry land.

10 Then were the men [4] exceedingly afraid, and said unto him, Why hast thou done this? For the men knew that he fled from the presence of the Lord, because he had told them.

11 ¶ Then said they unto him, What shall we do unto thee, that the sea [5] may be calm unto us? for the sea [6] wrought, and was tempestuous.

12 And he said unto them, [p] Take me up, and cast me forth into the sea; so shall the sea be calm unto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is upon you.

13 Nevertheless the men [7] rowed hard to bring it to the land; [q] but they could not: for the sea wrought, and was tempestuous against them.

14 Wherefore they cried unto the Lord, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let us not perish for this man's life, and [r] lay not upon us innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, [s] hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they took up Jo'nah, and cast him forth into the sea: [t] and the sea [8] ceased from her raging.

16 Then the men [u] feared the Lord exceedingly, and [9] offered a sacrifice unto the Lord, and made vows.

17 ¶ Now the Lord had prepared a great fish to swallow up Jo'nah. And [x] Jo'nah was in the [10] belly of the fish three days and three nights.

CHAPTER II.

Jonah's prayer. 10 His deliverance.

THEN Jo'nah prayed unto the Lord his God out of the fish's belly,

2 And said, I [a] cried [1] by reason of mine affliction unto the Lord, [b] and he heard me; out of the belly of [2] hell cried I, and thou heardest my voice.

3 [c] For thou hadst cast me into the deep, in the [3] midst of the seas; and the floods compassed me about: [d] all thy billows and thy waves passed over me.

4 [e] Then I said, I am cast out of thy

CHAPTER III.

Jonah, sent again, preacheth to the Ninevites. 5 Their repentance. 10 God spareth them.

AND the word of the LORD came unto Jo'nah the second time, saying,

2 Arise, go unto Nin'e-veh, that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jo'nah arose, and went unto Nin'e-veh, according to the word of the LORD. Now Nin'e-veh was an [1] exceeding great city of three days' journey.

4 And Jo'nah began to enter into the city a day's journey, and [a] he cried, and said, Yet forty days, and Nin'e-veh shall be overthrown.

5 ¶ So the people of Nin'e-veh [b] believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nin'e-veh, and he arose from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with sackcloth, [c] and sat in ashes.

7 [d] And he caused it to be proclaimed and [2] published through Nin'e-veh by the decree of the king and his [3] nobles, saying, Let neither man nor beast, herd nor flock, taste anything: let them not feed, nor drink water:

8 But let man and beast be covered with sackcloth, and cry mightily unto God: yea, [e] let them turn every one from his evil way, and from [f] the violence that is in their hands.

CHAPTER IV.

Jonah's repinings at God's mercy to Nineveh, 6 and at the withering of his gourd. 9 He is rebuked.

BUT it displeased Jo'nah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and said, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my saying, when I was yet in my country? Therefore I [a] fled before unto Tar'shish: for I knew that thou art a [b] gracious God, and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness, and repentest thee of the evil.

3 [c] Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beseech thee, my life from me; for [d] it is better for me to die than to live.

4 ¶ Then said the LORD, [1] Doest thou well to be angry?

5 So Jo'nah went out of the city, and sat on the east side of the city, and there made him a booth, and sat under it in the shadow, till he might see what would become of the city.

6 And the LORD God prepared a [2] gourd, and made it to come up over Jo'nah, that it might be a shadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jo'nah [3] was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning rose the next day, and it smote the gourd that it withered.

8 And it came to pass, when the sun did arise, that God prepared a [4] vehement east wind; and the sun beat upon the head of Jo'nah, that he fainted, and wished in himself to die, and said, [e] It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God said to Jo'nah, [5] Doest thou well to be angry for the gourd? And he said, [6] I do well to be angry, even unto death.

10 Then said the LORD, Thou hast [7] had pity on the gourd, for the which thou hast not laboured, neither madest it grow; which [8] came up in a night, and perished in a night:

11 And should not I spare Nin'e-veh, [f] that great city, wherein are more than sixscore thousand persons [g] that cannot discern between their right hand and their left hand; and also much [h] cattle?

MICAH.

MICAH, the sixth of the minor prophets, was a native of Morasthi, a small town in the southern part of the territory of Judah; and, as we learn from the commencement of his predictions, prophesied in the reigns of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of that country; consequently he was contemporary with Isaiah, Joel, Hosea, and Amos. His book contains seven chapters, forming three parts, namely: 1. Comprises the prophecies delivered in the reign of Jotham king of Judah, (with whom Pekah king of Israel was contemporary,) in which the divine judgments are denounced against both Israel and Judah for their sins. 2. Contains the predictions delivered in the reigns of Ahaz king of Judah, (with whom his son Hezekiah was associated in the government during the latter part of his life,) and of Pekah king of Israel, who was also contemporary with him. 3. Includes the prophecies delivered by Micah during the reign of Hezekiah king of Judah, the first six years of whose government were contemporary with the greater part of the reign of Hoshea, the last king of Israel. The fifth chapter contains an eminent prediction of the place of the Messiah's nativity, as well as of his kingdom and conquests.

CHAPTER I.

The date of Micah's prophecy. 2 Judgments upon Israel and Judah for idolatry. 10 An exhortation to mourning.

THE word of the LORD that came to [a]Mi'cah the Mo-ras'thite in the days of Jo'tham, A'haz, and Hez-e-ki'ah, kings of Ju'dah, [b]which he saw concerning Sa-ma'ri-a and Je-ru'sa-lem.

2 [1]Hear, all ye people; [c]hearken, O earth, and [2]all that therein is: and let the Lord GOD [d]be witness against you, the Lord from [e]his holy temple.

3 For behold, [f]the LORD cometh forth out of his [g]place, and will come down, and tread upon the [h]high places of the earth.

4 And [i]the mountains shall be molten under him, and the valleys shall be cleft, as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down [3]a steep place.

5 For the transgression of Ja'cob is all this, and for the sins of the house of Is'ra-el. What is the transgression of Ja'cob? is it not Sa-ma'ri-a? and what are the high places of Ju'dah? are they not Je-ru'sa-lem?

6 Therefore I will make Sa-ma'ri-a [k]as a heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard: and I will pour down the stones thereof into the valley, and I will [l]discover the foundations thereof.

7 And all the graven images thereof shall be beaten to pieces, and all the [m]hires thereof shall be burned with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay desolate: for she gathered it of the hire of a harlot, and they shall return to the hire of a harlot.

8 Therefore [n]I will wail and howl, [o]I will go stripped and naked: [p]I will make a wailing like the dragons, and mourning as the [4]owls.

9 For [5]her wound is incurable; for [q]it is come unto Ju'dah; he is come unto the gate of my people, even to Je-ru'sa-lem.

10 ¶ [r]Declare ye it not at Gath, weep ye not at all: in the house of [6]Aph'rah [s]roll thyself in the dust.

11 Pass ye away, [7]thou [8]inhabitant of Saph'ir, having thy [t]shame naked: the inhabitant of [9]Za'a-nan came not forth in the mourning of [10]Beth-e'zel; he shall receive of you his standing.

12 For the inhabitant of Ma'roth [11]waited carefully for good: but [u]evil came down from the LORD unto the gate of Je-ru'sa-lem.

13 O thou inhabitant of [x]La'chish, bind the chariot to the swift beast: she is the beginning of the sin to the daughter of Zi'on: for the transgressions of Is'ra-el were found in thee.

14 Therefore shalt thou [y]give presents [12]to Mo'resh-eth-gath: the houses of [13][z]Ach'zib shall be a lie to the kings of Is'ra-el.

15 Yet will I bring an heir unto thee, O inhabitant of [a]Mar'e-shah: [14]he shall come unto [b]A-dul'lam the glory of Is'ra-el.

16 Make thee [c]bald, and poll thee for thy [d]delicate children; enlarge thy baldness as the eagle; for they are gone into captivity from thee.

CHAPTER II.

Woes denounced upon oppressors. 12 The restoration of Israel promised.

WOE to them [a]that devise iniquity, and [b]work evil upon their beds! when the morning is light, they practise it, because [c]it is in the power of their hand.

2 And they covet [d]fields, and take them by violence; and houses, and take them away: so they [1]oppress a man and his house, even a man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus saith the LORD; Behold, against [e]this family do I devise an evil, from which ye shall not remove your necks; neither shall ye go haughtily: [f]for this time is evil.

4 ¶ In that day shall one [g]take up a parable against you, and [h]lament [2]with a doleful lamentation, and say, We be utterly spoiled: [i]he hath changed the portion of my people: how hath he removed it from me! [3]turning away he hath divided our fields.

5 Therefore thou shalt have none that shall [k]cast a cord by lot in the congregation of the LORD.

6 [4][l]Prophesy ye not, say they to them that prophesy: they shall not prophesy to them, that they shall not take shame.

7 ¶ O thou that art named The house of Ja'cob, is the Spirit of the LORD [5]straitened? are these his doings? do not my words do good to him that walketh [6]uprightly?

8 Even [7]of late my people is risen up as an enemy: ye pull off the robe [8]with the garment from them that pass by securely as men averse from war.

9 The [9]women of my people have ye cast out from their pleasant houses; from their children have ye taken away my glory for ever.

10 Arise ye, and depart; for this is not your [m]rest: because it is [n]polluted, it shall destroy you, even with a sore destruction.

11 If a man [10][o]walking in the spirit and falsehood do lie, saying, I will prophesy unto thee of wine and of strong drink; he shall even be the prophet of this people.

12 ¶ [p]I will surely assemble, O Ja'cob, all of thee; I will surely gather the remnant of Is'ra-el; I will put them together [q]as the sheep of Boz'rah, as the flock in the midst of their fold: [r]they shall make great noise by reason of the multitude of men.

13 The breaker is come up before them: they have broken up, and have passed through the gate, and are gone out by it; and [s]their king shall pass before them,[t] and the LORD on the head of them.

CHAPTER III.

Judgments upon the princes for their cruel exactions, 5 upon the false prophets for their deceptions, 8 and upon Zion for the wickedness of both.

AND I said, Hear, I pray you, O heads of Ja'cob, and ye princes of the house of Is'ra-el; [a]Is it not for you to know judgment?

2 Who hate the good, and love the evil; who pluck off their skin from off them, and their flesh from off their bones;

3 Who also [b]eat the flesh of my people, and flay their skin from off them; and they break their bones, and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and [c]as flesh within the caldron.

4 Then [d]shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not hear them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselves ill in their doings.

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD [e]concerning the prophets that make my people err, that [f]bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace; and [g]he that putteth not into their mouths, they even prepare war against him:

6 [h]Therefore night shall be unto you, [1]that ye shall not have a vision; and it shall be dark unto you, [2]that ye shall not divine; [i]and the sun shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: yea, they shall all cover their [3]lips; [k]for there is no answer of God.

8 ¶ But truly I am full of power by the Spirit of the LORD, and of judgment, and of might, [l]to declare unto Ja'cob his transgression, and to Is'ra-el his sin.

9 Hear this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Ja'cob, and princes of the house of Is'ra-el, that abhor judgment, and pervert all equity.

10 [m]They build up Zi'on with [n][4]blood, and Je-ru'sa-lem with iniquity.

11 [o]The heads thereof judge for reward, and [p]the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: [q]yet will they lean upon the LORD, [5]and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us.

12 Therefore shall Zi'on for your sake be [r]ploughed as a field, [s]and Je-ru'sa-lem shall become heaps, and [t]the mountain of the house as the high places of the forest.

CHAPTER IV.

The enlargement of Zion in the last days. 3 Her peace, 8 dominion, 11 and victory.

BUT [a]in the last days it shall come to pass, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the hills; and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come, and say, Come, and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Ja'cob; and he will teach us of his ways, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zi'on, and the word of the LORD from Je-ru'sa-lem.

3 ¶ And he shall judge among many people, and rebuke strong nations afar off; and they shall beat their swords into [b]ploughshares, and their spears into [1]pruninghooks: nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, [c]neither shall they learn war any more.

4 [d]But they shall sit every man under his vine and under his fig tree; and none shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the LORD of hosts hath spoken it.

in the name of his god, and [f]we will walk in the name of the LORD our God for ever and ever.

6 In that day, saith the LORD, [g]will I assemble her that halteth, [h]and I will gather her that is driven out, and her that I have afflicted;

7 And I will make her that halted [i]a remnant, and her that was cast far off a strong nation: and the LORD [k]shall reign over them in mount Zi'on from henceforth, even for ever.

8 ¶ And thou, O tower of [2]the flock, the strong hold of the daughter of Zi'on, unto thee shall it come, even the first dominion; the kingdom shall come to the daughter of Je-ru'sa-lem.

9 Now why dost thou cry out aloud? [l]is there no king in thee? is thy counsellor perished? for [m]pangs have taken thee as a woman in travail.

10 Be in pain, and labour to bring forth, O daughter of Zi'on, like a woman in travail: for now shalt thou go forth out of the city, and thou shalt dwell in the field, and thou shalt go even to Bab'y-lon; there shalt thou be delivered; there the LORD shall redeem thee from the hand of thine enemies.

11 ¶ [n]Now also many nations are gathered against thee, that say, Let her be defiled, and let our eye [o]look upon Zi'on.

12 But they know not [p]the thoughts of the LORD, neither understand they his counsel: for he shall gather them [q]as the sheaves into the floor.

13 [r]Arise and thresh, O daughter of Zi'on: for I will make thine horn iron, and I will make thy hoofs brass: and thou shalt [s]beat in pieces many people: [t]and I will consecrate their gain unto the LORD, and their substance unto [u]the Lord of the whole earth.

CHAPTER V.

NOW gather thyself in troops, O daughter of troops: he hath laid siege against us: they shall [a]smite the judge of Is'ra-el with a rod upon the cheek.

2 But thou, [b]Beth'le-hem Eph'ra-tah, though thou be little [c]among the [d]thousands of Ju'dah, yet out of thee shall he come forth unto me that is to be [e]ruler in Is'ra-el; [f]whose goings forth have been from of old, from [1]everlasting.

3 Therefore will he give them up, until the time that [g]she which travaileth hath brought forth: then [h]the remnant of his brethren shall return unto the children of Is'ra-el.

4 ¶ And he shall stand and [2][i]feed in the strength of the LORD, in the majesty of the name of the LORD his God; and they shall abide: for now [k]shall he be great unto the ends of the earth.

15 And I will [u]execute vengeance in anger and fury upon the heathen, such as they have not heard.

CHAPTER VI.

God's controversy with his people for their ingratitude, 6 ignorance, 10 injustice, 16 and idolatry.

HEAR ye now what the LORD saith; Arise, contend thou [1]before the mountains, and let the hills hear thy voice.

2 [a]Hear ye, O mountains, [b]the LORD's controversy, and ye strong foundations of the earth: for [c]the LORD hath a controversy with his people, and he will plead with Is'ra-el.

3 O my people, [d]what have I done unto thee? and wherein have I wearied thee? testify against me.

4 [e]For I brought thee up out of the land of E'gypt, and redeemed thee out of the house of servants; and I sent before thee Mo'ses, Aa'ron, and Mir'i-am.

5 O my people, remember now what

[f] Ba'lak king of Mo'ab consulted and what Ba'laam the son of Be'or answered him, from [g] Shit'tim unto Gil'gal; that ye may know [h] the righteousness of the LORD.

6 ¶ Wherewith shall I come before the LORD, and bow myself before the high God? shall I come before him with burnt offerings, with calves [2] of a year old?

7 [i] Will the LORD be pleased with thousands of rams, or with ten thousands of [k] rivers of oil? [l] shall I give my firstborn for my transgression, the fruit of my [3] body for the sin of my soul?

8 He hath [m] showed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the LORD require of thee, but [n] to do justly, and to love mercy, and to [4] walk humbly with thy God?

9 The LORD's voice crieth unto the city, and [5] the man of wisdom shall see thy name: hear ye the rod, and who hath appointed it.

10 ¶ [6] Are there yet the treasures of wickedness in the house of the wicked, and the [7] scant measure [o] that is abominable?

11 [8] Shall I count them pure with [p] the wicked balances, and with the bag of deceitful weights?

12 For the rich men thereof are full of violence, and the inhabitants thereof have spoken lies, and [q] their tongue is deceitful in their mouth.

13 Therefore also will I [r] make thee sick in smiting thee, in making thee desolate because of thy sins.

14 [s] Thou shalt eat, but not be satisfied; and thy casting down shall be in the midst of thee; and thou shalt take hold, but shalt not deliver; and that which thou deliverest will I give up to the sword.

15 Thou shalt [t] sow, but thou shalt not reap; thou shalt tread the olives, but thou shalt not anoint thee with oil; and sweet wine, but shalt not drink wine.

16 ¶ For [9] the statutes of [u] Om'ri are [x] kept, and all the works of the house of [y] A'hab, and ye walk in their counsels; that I should make thee [z] a [10] desolation, and the inhabitants thereof a hissing: therefore ye shall bear the [a] reproach of my people.

CHAPTER VII.

The prophet lamenteth the general corruption of his times, 7 and putteth his trust in God. 8 He encourageth himself against his enemies. 14 His prayer. 16 The ultimate triumph of God's people.

WOE is me! for I am as [1] when they have gathered the summer fruits, as [a] the grape gleanings of the vintage: there is no cluster to eat: [b] my soul desired the first ripe fruit.

2 The [c] [2] good man is perished out of the earth; and there is none upright among men: they all lie in wait for blood; [d] they hunt every man his brother with a net.

3 ¶ That they may do evil with both hands earnestly, [e] the prince asketh, [f] and the judge asketh for a reward; and the great man, he uttereth [3] his mischievous desire: so they wrap it up.

4 The best of them [g] is as a brier: the most upright is sharper than a thorn hedge: the day of thy watchmen and thy visitation cometh; now shall be their perplexity.

5 ¶ [h] Trust ye not in a friend, put ye not confidence in a guide: keep the doors of thy mouth from her that lieth in thy bosom.

6 For [i] the son dishonoureth the father, the daughter riseth up against her mother, the daughter in law against her mother in law; a man's enemies are the men of his own house.

7 Therefore [k] I will look unto the LORD; I will wait for the God of my salvation: my God will hear me.

8 ¶ [l] Rejoice not against me, O mine enemy: [m] when I fall, I shall arise; when I sit in darkness, [n] the LORD shall be a light unto me.

9 [o] I will bear the indignation of the LORD, because I have sinned against him, until he plead my cause, and execute judgment for me: [p] he will bring me forth to the light, and I shall behold his righteousness.

10 [4] Then she that is mine enemy shall see it, and [q] shame shall cover her which said unto me, [r] Where is the LORD thy God? [s] mine eyes shall behold her: now [5] shall she be trodden down [t] as the mire of the streets.

11 In the day that thy [u] walls are to be built, in that day shall the decree be far removed.

12 In that day also [x] he shall come even to thee from As-syr'i-a, [6] and from the fortified cities, and from the fortress even to the river, and from sea to sea, and from mountain to mountain.

13 [7] Notwithstanding, the land shall be desolate because of them that dwell therein, [y] for the fruit of their doings.

14 ¶ [8] Feed thy people with thy rod, the flock of thine heritage, which dwell solitarily in [z] the wood, in the midst of Car'mel: let them feed in Ba'shan and Gil'e-ad, as in the days of old.

15 [a] According to the days of thy coming out of the land of E'gypt will I show unto him marvellous things.

16 ¶ The nations [b] shall see and be confounded at all their might: [c] they shall lay their hand upon their mouth, their ears shall be deaf.

17 They shall lick the [d] dust like a serpent, [e] they shall move out of their holes like [9] worms of the earth: [f] they shall be afraid of the LORD our God, and shall fear because of thee.

N A H U M.

NAHUM, a native of Elkosh, or Elkosha, a village in Galilee, is generally supposed to have lived between the Assyrian and Babylonian captivities, about 715 years before the Christian era. The repentance of the Ninevites, in consequence of Jonah's preaching, being of short duration, Nahum was commissioned to denounce the final and inevitable ruin of Nineveh and the Assyrian empire by the Chaldeans, and to comfort his countrymen in the certainty of their destruction. His prophecy is one entire poem, which, opening with a sublime description of the justice and power of God tempered with longsuffering, foretells the destruction of Sennacherib's forces, and the subversion of the Assyrian empire, together with the deliverance of Hezekiah and the death of Sennacherib. The destruction of Nineveh is then predicted, and described with singular minuteness.

CHAPTER I.

The majesty of God in goodness to his people, and in severity against his enemies.

THE burden [a] of Nin'e-veh. The book of the vision of Na'hum the El'ko-shite.

2 [1] God is [b] jealous, and [c] the LORD revengeth; the LORD revengeth, and [2] is furious; the LORD will take vengeance on his adversaries, and he reserveth wrath for his enemies.

3 The LORD is [d] slow to anger, and [e] great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked: [f] the LORD hath his way in the whirlwind and in the storm, and the clouds are the dust of his feet.

4 [g] He rebuketh the sea, and maketh it dry, and drieth up all the rivers: [h] Ba'shan languisheth, and Car'mel, and the flower of Leb'a-non languisheth.

5 [i] The mountains quake at him, and [k] the hills melt, and [l] the earth is burned at his presence, yea, the world, and all that dwell therein.

6 Who can stand before his indignation? and [m] who can [3] abide in the fierceness of his anger? [n] his fury is poured out like fire, and the rocks are thrown down by him.

7 [o] The LORD is good, a [4] strong hold in the day of trouble; and [p] he knoweth them that trust in him.

8 [q] But with an overrunning flood he will make an utter end of the place thereof, and darkness shall pursue his enemies.

9 [r] What do ye imagine against the LORD? [s] he will make an utter end: affliction shall not rise up the second time.

10 For while they be folden together [t] as thorns, [u] and while they are drunken as drunkards, [x] they shall be devoured as stubble fully dry.

11 There is one come out of thee, [y] that imagineth evil against the LORD, [5] a wicked counsellor.

12 Thus saith the LORD; [6] Though they be quiet, and likewise many, yet thus [z] shall they be [7] cut down, when he shall [a] pass through. Though I have afflicted thee, I will afflict thee no more.

13 For now will I [b] break his yoke from off thee, and will burst thy bonds in sunder.

14 And the LORD hath given a commandment concerning thee, that no more of thy name be sown: out of the house of thy gods will I cut off the graven image and the molten image: [c] I will make thy grave; for thou art vile.

15 Behold [d] upon the mountains the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace! O Ju'dah, [8] keep thy solemn feasts, perform thy vows: for [9] [e] the wicked shall no more pass through thee; [f] he is utterly cut off.

CHAPTER II.

The array of God's armies for the destruction of Nineveh.

[1] HE [a] that dasheth in pieces is come up before thy face: [b] keep the munition, watch the way, make thy loins strong, fortify thy power mightily.

2 [c] For the LORD hath turned away [2] the excellency of Ja'cob, as the excellency of Is'ra-el: for [d] the emptiers have emptied them out, and marred their vine branches.

5 He shall recount his [6]worthies: they shall stumble in their walk; they shall make haste to the wall thereof, and the [7]defence shall be prepared.

6 The gates of the rivers shall be opened, and the palace shall be [8]dissolved.

7 And [9]Huz′zab shall be [10]led away captive, she shall be brought up, and her maids shall lead her as with the voice of [f]doves, tabering upon their breasts.

8 But Nin′e-veh is [11]of old like a pool of water: yet they shall flee away. Stand, stand, shall they cry; but none shall [12]look back.

9 Take ye the spoil of silver, take the spoil of gold: [13]for there is none end of the store and glory out of all the [14]pleasant furniture.

10 She is empty, and void, and waste: and the [g]heart melteth, and [h]the knees smite together, [i]and much pain is in all loins, and [k]the faces of them all gather [15]blackness.

11 Where is the dwelling of [l]the lions, and the feeding place of the young lions, where the lion, even the old lion, walked, and the lion's whelp, and none made them afraid?

12 The lion did tear in pieces enough for his whelps, and strangled for his lionesses, and filled his holes with prey, and his dens with ravin.

13 [m]Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will burn her chariots in the smoke, and the sword shall devour thy young lions: and I will cut off thy prey from the earth, and the voice of [n]thy messengers shall no more be heard.

CHAPTER III.

The utter ruin of Nineveh.

WOE to the [1][a]bloody city! it is all full of lies and robbery; the prey departeth not;

2 The noise of a whip, and [b]the noise of the rattling of the wheels, and of the prancing horses, and of the jumping chariots.

3 The horseman lifteth up both [2]the bright sword and the glittering spear: and there is a multitude of slain, and a great number of carcasses; and there is none end of their corpses; they stumble upon their corpses:

4 Because of the multitude of the whoredoms of the well favoured harlot, [c]the mistress of witchcrafts, that selleth nations through her whoredoms, and families through her witchcrafts.

5 [d]Behold, I am against thee, saith the LORD of hosts; and [e]I will discover thy skirts upon thy face, [f]and I will show the nations thy nakedness, and the kingdoms thy shame.

6 And I will cast abominable filth upon thee, and [g]make thee vile, and will set thee as [h]a gazingstock.

7 And it shall come to pass, that all they that look upon thee [i]shall flee from thee, and say, Nin′e-veh is laid waste: [k]who will bemoan her? whence shall I seek comforters for thee?

8 [l]Art thou better than [3]populous [m]No, that was situate among the rivers, that had the waters round about it, whose rampart was the sea, and her wall was from the sea?

9 E-thi-o′pi-a and E′gypt were her strength, and it was infinite; Phut and Lu′bim were [4]thy helpers.

10 Yet was she carried away, she went into captivity: [n]her young children also were dashed in pieces [o]at the top of all the streets: and they [p]cast lots for her honourable men, and all her great men were bound in chains.

11 Thou also shalt be [q]drunken: thou shalt be hid, thou also shalt seek strength because of the enemy.

12 All thy strong holds shall be like [r]fig trees with the first ripe figs: if they be shaken, they shall even fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, [s]thy people in the midst of thee are women: the gates of thy land shall be set wide open unto thine enemies: the fire shall devour thy [t]bars.

14 Draw thee waters for the siege, [u]fortify thy strong holds: go into clay, and tread the mortar, make strong the brickkiln.

15 There shall the fire devour thee; the sword shall cut thee off, it shall eat thee up like [x]the cankerworm: make thyself many as the cankerworm, make thyself many as the locusts.

16 Thou hast multiplied thy merchants above the stars of heaven: the cankerworm [5]spoileth, and fleeth away.

17 [y]Thy crowned are as the locusts, and thy captains as the great grasshoppers, which camp in the hedges in the cold day, but when the sun ariseth they flee away, and their place is not known where they are.

18 [z]Thy shepherds slumber, O [a]king of As-syr′i-a: thy [6]nobles shall dwell in the dust: thy people is [b]scattered upon the mountains, and no man gathereth them.

19 There is no [7]healing of thy bruise; [c]thy wound is grievous: [d]all that hear the bruit of thee shall clap the hands over thee: for upon whom hath not thy wickedness passed continually?

HABAKKUK.

CONCERNING this prophet we have no certain information; he exercised the prophetic office, most probably, in the reign of Jehoiakim, and consequently was contemporary with Jeremiah. His book consists of two parts. In the first part, which is in the form of a dialogue between God and the prophet, the Babylonish captivity is announced; with a promise, however, of deliverance, and the ultimate destruction of the Babylonian empire. The second part contains the prayer or psalm of Habakkuk, in which he implores God to hasten the deliverance of his people.

CHAPTER I.

The prophet complaineth of the violence done in the land. 5 The fearful punishment thereof through the Chaldeans. 12 The prophet's confidence in God.

THE burden which Ha-bak'kuk the prophet did see.

2 O LORD, how long shall I cry, [a] and thou wilt not hear! even cry out unto thee of violence, and thou wilt not save!

3 Why dost thou show me iniquity, and cause me to behold grievance? for spoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raise up strife and contention.

4 Therefore the law is slacked, and judgment doth never go forth: for the [b] wicked doth compass about the righteous; therefore [1] wrong judgment proceedeth.

5 ¶ [c] Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellously: for I will work a work in your days, which ye will not believe, though it be told you.

6 For lo, [d] I raise up the Chal-de'ans, that bitter and hasty nation, which shall march through the [2] breadth of the land, to possess the dwellingplaces that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and dreadful: [3] their judgment and their dignity shall proceed of themselves.

8 Their horses also are swifter than the leopards, and are more [4] fierce than the [e] evening wolves: and their horsemen shall spread themselves, and their horsemen shall come from far; [f] they shall fly as the eagle that hasteth to eat.

9 They shall come all for violence: [5] their faces shall sup up as the east wind, and they shall gather the captivity as the sand.

10 And they shall scoff at the kings, and the princes shall be a scorn unto them: they shall deride every strong hold; for they shall heap dust, and take it.

11 Then shall his mind change, and he shall pass over, and offend, [g] imputing this his power unto his god.

12 ¶ [h] Art thou not from everlasting, O LORD my God, mine Holy One? We shall not die. O LORD, [i] thou hast ordained them for judgment; and, O [6] mighty God, thou hast [7] established them for correction.

13 [k] Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on [8] iniquity: [l] wherefore lookest thou upon them that deal treacherously, and holdest thy tongue when the wicked devoureth the man that is more righteous than he?

14 And makest men as the fishes of the sea, as the [9] creeping things, that have no ruler over them?

15 They [m] take up all of them with the angle, they catch them in their net, and gather them in their [10] drag: therefore they rejoice and are glad.

16 Therefore [n] they sacrifice unto their net, and burn incense unto their drag; because by them their portion is fat, and their meat [11] plenteous.

17 Shall they therefore empty their net, and not spare continually to slay the nations?

CHAPTER II.

The prophet is directed to wait for the fulfilment of the vision. 5 Woes upon the idolatrous destroyer.

I WILL [a] stand upon my watch, and set me upon the [1] tower, [b] and will watch to see what he will say [2] unto me, and what I shall answer [3] when I am reproved.

2 And the LORD answered me, and said, [c] Write the vision, and make it plain upon tables, that he may run that readeth it.

3 For [d] the vision is yet for an appointed time, but at the end it shall speak, and not lie: though it tarry, wait for it; because it will [e] surely come, it will not tarry.

4 Behold, his soul which is lifted up is not upright in him: but the [f] just shall live by his faith.

5 ¶ [4] Yea also, because he transgresseth by wine, he is a proud man, neither keepeth at home, who enlargeth his desire [g] as hell, and is as death, and cannot be satisfied, but gathereth unto him all

CHAPTER III.

The prayer of Habakkuk. 3 God's majesty and power displayed in the deliverance of his people. 17 The prophet's confidence and joy in God.

A PRAYER of Ha-bak'kuk the prophet [a] [1] upon Shi-gi'o-noth.

2 O LORD, I have heard [2] thy speech, and was afraid: O LORD, [b] [3] revive thy work in the midst of the years, in the midst of the years make known; in wrath remember mercy.

3 God came from [4] Te'man, [c] and the Holy One from mount Pa'ran. Se'lah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.

4 And his brightness was as the light; he had [5] horns coming out of his hand: and there was the hiding of his power.

5 [d] Before him went the pestilence, and [6] [e] burning coals went forth at his feet.

6 He stood, and measured the earth: he beheld, and drove asunder the nations; [f] and the [g] everlasting mountains were scattered, the perpetual hills did bow: his ways are everlasting.

7 I saw the tents of [7] Cush'an [8] in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Mid'i-an did tremble.

8 Was the LORD displeased against the rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, [h] that thou didst ride upon thine horses and [9] thy chariots of salvation?

9 Thy bow was made quite naked, according to the oaths of the tribes, even thy word. Se'lah. [10] [i] Thou didst cleave the earth with rivers.

10 [k] The mountains saw thee, and they trembled: the overflowing of the water passed by: the deep uttered his voice, and [l] lifted up his hands on high.

11 [m] The sun and moon stood still in their habitation: [11] at the light of thine [n] arrows they went, and at the shining of thy glittering spear.

12 Thou didst march through the land in indignation, [o] thou didst thresh the heathen in anger.

13 Thou wentest forth for the salvation of thy people, even for salvation with thine anointed; [p] thou woundedst the head out of the house of the wicked, [12] by discovering the foundation unto the neck. Se'lah.

14 Thou didst strike through with his staves the head of his villages: they [13] came out as a whirlwind to scatter me: their rejoicing was as to devour the poor secretly.

15 [q] Thou didst walk through the sea with thine horses, through the [14] heap of great waters.

16 When I heard, [r] my belly trembled; my lips quivered at the voice: rottenness entered into my bones, and I trembled in myself, that I might rest in the day of trouble: when he cometh up unto

ZEPHANIAH.

THIS prophet, who was "the son of Cushi, the son of Gedaliah, the son of Amariah, the son of Hizkiah," is supposed to have discharged the prophetic office before the eighteenth year of Josiah; that is, before this prince had reformed the abuses and corruptions of his dominions. His prophecy, which consists of three chapters, may be divided into four sections, namely: 1. A denunciation against Judah for their idolatry. 2. Repentance the only means to avert the divine vengeance. 3. Prophecies against the Philistines, Moabites and Ammonites, Ethiopia and Nineveh. 4. The captivity of the Jews by the Babylonians is foretold, together with their future restoration and the ultimate prosperous state of the Church.

CHAPTER I.

The date of the prophecy. 2 Judgments upon Judah and Jerusalem for their sins.

THE word of the LORD which came unto Zeph-a-ni'ah the son of Cush'i, the son of Ged-a-li'ah, the son of Am-a-ri'ah, the son of Hiz-ki'ah, in the days of Jo-si'ah the son of A'mon, king of Ju'dah.

2 [1] I will utterly consume all things from off [2] the land, saith the LORD.

3 [a] I will consume man and beast; I will consume the fowls of the heaven, and the fishes of the sea, and [b] the [3] stumblingblocks with the wicked; and I will cut off man from off the land, saith the LORD.

4 I will also stretch out mine hand upon Ju'dah, and upon all the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem; and [c] I will cut off the remnant of Ba'al from this place, and the name of [d] the Chem'a-rim with the priests;

5 And them [e] that worship the host of heaven upon the housetops; [f] and them that worship and [g] that swear [4] by the LORD, and that swear [h] by Mal'cham;

6 And [i] them that are turned back from the LORD; and those that [k] have not sought the LORD, nor inquired for him.

7 [l] Hold thy peace at the presence of the Lord GOD: [m] for the day of the LORD is at hand: for [n] the LORD hath prepared a sacrifice, he hath [5] bid his guests.

8 And it shall come to pass in the day of the LORD's sacrifice, that I will [6] punish [o] the princes, and the king's children, and all such as are clothed with strange apparel.

9 In the same day also will I punish all those that leap on the threshold, which fill their masters' houses with violence and deceit.

10 And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD, that there shall be the noise of a cry from [p] the fish gate, and a howling from the second, and a great crashing from the hills.

11 [q] Howl, ye inhabitants of Mak'tesh, for all the merchant people are cut down; all they that bear silver are cut off.

12 And it shall come to pass at that time, that I will search Je-ru'sa-lem with candles, and punish the men that are [7] [r] settled on their lees: [s] that say in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil.

13 Therefore, their goods shall become a booty, and their houses a desolation: they shall also build houses, but [t] not inhabit them; and they shall plant vineyards, but [u] not drink the wine thereof.

14 [x] The great day of the LORD is near, it is near, and hasteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD: the mighty man shall cry there bitterly.

15 [y] That day is a day of wrath, a day of trouble and distress, a day of wasteness and desolation, a day of darkness and gloominess, a day of clouds and thick darkness,

16 A day of [z] the trumpet and alarm against the fenced cities, and against the high towers.

17 And I will bring distress upon men, that they shall [a] walk like blind men, because they have sinned against the LORD:

CHAPTER II.

An exhortation to repentance. 4 Judgments upon the Philistines, 8 upon Moab and Ammon, 12 upon Ethiopia and Assyria.

2 Before the decree bring forth, before the day pass [b]as the chaff, before [c]the fierce anger of the Lord come upon you, before the day of the Lord's anger come upon you.

3 [d]Seek ye the Lord, [e]all ye meek of the earth, which have wrought his judgment; seek righteousness, seek meekness: [f]it may be ye shall be hid in the day of the Lord's anger.

4 ¶ For [g]Ga'za shall be forsaken, and Ash'ke-lon a desolation: they shall drive out Ash'dod [h]at the noonday, and Ek'ron shall be rooted up.

5 Woe unto the inhabitants of [i]the sea coast, the nation of the Cher'eth-ites! the word of the Lord is against you; O [k]Ca'naan, the land of the Phil-is'tines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

6 And the sea coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, [l]and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for [m]the remnant of the house of Ju'dah; they shall feed thereupon: in the houses of Ash'ke-lon shall they lie down in the evening: [2]for the Lord their God shall [n]visit them, and [o]turn away their captivity.

8 ¶ [p]I have heard the reproach of Mo'ab, and [q]the revilings of the children of Am'mon, whereby they have reproached my people, and [r]magnified themselves against their border.

9 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord of hosts, the God of Is'ra-el, Surely [s]Mo'ab shall be as Sod'om, and [t]the children of Am'mon as Go-mor'rah, [u]even the breeding of nettles, and saltpits, and a perpetual desolation: [x]the residue of my people shall spoil them, and the remnant of my people shall possess them.

10 This shall they have [y]for their pride, because they have reproached and magnified themselves against the people of the Lord of hosts.

11 The Lord will be terrible unto them: for he will [3]famish all the gods of the earth; [z]and men shall worship him, every one from his place, even all [a]the isles of the heathen.

CHAPTER III.

Jerusalem rebuked for divers sins. 8 An exhortation to wait on God for the restoration of Israel, 14 and to rejoice in their deliverance.

WOE to [1]her that is filthy and polluted, to the oppressing city!

2 She [a]obeyed not the voice; she [b]received not [2]correction; she trusted not in the Lord; she drew not near to her God.

3 [c]Her princes within her are roaring lions; her judges are [d]evening wolves; they gnaw not the bones till the morrow.

4 Her [e]prophets are light and treacherous persons: her priests have polluted the sanctuary, they have done [f]violence to the law.

5 [g]The just Lord [h]is in the midst thereof; he will not do iniquity: [3]every morning doth he bring his judgment to light, he faileth not; but [i]the unjust knoweth no shame.

6 I have cut off the nations: their [4]towers are desolate; I made their streets waste, that none passeth by: their cities are destroyed, so that there is no man, that there is none inhabitant.

7 [k]I said, Surely thou wilt fear me, thou wilt receive instruction; so their dwelling should not be cut off, howsoever I punished them: but they rose early, and [l]corrupted all their doings.

8 ¶ Therefore [m]wait ye upon me, saith the Lord, until the day that I rise up to the prey: for my determination is to [n]gather the nations, that I may assemble the kingdoms, to pour upon them mine indignation, even all my fierce anger: for all the earth [o]shall be devoured with the fire of my jealousy.

9 For then will I turn to the people [p]a pure [5]language, that they may all call upon the name of the Lord, to serve him with one [6]consent.

10 [q]From beyond the rivers of E-thi-o'pi-a my suppliants, even the daughter of my dispersed, shall bring mine offering.

HAGGAI.

NOTHING is certainly known concerning the tribe or birthplace of Haggai, the tenth in order of the minor prophets, but the first of the three who were commissioned to make known the divine will to the Jews after their return from captivity. The Jews having for fourteen years discontinued the rebuilding of the temple, this prophet was commissioned to encourage them in their work, in consequence of the edict issued by Cyrus in their favour. Accordingly the work was resumed, and completed in a few years. His prophecy comprises three distinct prophecies or discourses.

CHAPTER I.

The prophet reproveth the people for neglecting to build the Lord's house. 7 He exhorteth them to build, 12 and promiseth them God's assistance.

IN [a] the second year of Da-ri'us the king, in the sixth month, in the first day of the month, came the word of the LORD [1] by Hag'ga-i the prophet unto [b] Ze-rub'ba-bel the son of She-al'ti-el, [2] governor of Ju'dah, and to [c] Josh'u-a the son of [d] Jos'e-dech, the high priest, saying,

2 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, This people say, The time is not come, the time that the LORD's house should be built.

3 Then came the word of the LORD [e] by Hag'ga-i the prophet, saying,

4 [f] Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your ceiled houses, and this house lie waste?

5 Now therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts; [3] [g] Consider your ways.

6 Ye have [h] sown much, and bring in little; ye eat, but ye have not enough; ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink; ye clothe you, but there is none warm; and [i] he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag [4] with holes.

7 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Consider your ways.

8 Go up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the house; and I will take pleasure in it, and I will be glorified, saith the LORD.

9 [k] Ye looked for much, and lo, it came to little; and when ye brought it home, [l] I did [5] blow upon it. Why? saith the LORD of hosts. Because of mine house that is waste, and ye run every man unto his own house.

10 Therefore [m] the heaven over you is stayed from dew, and the earth is stayed from her fruit.

11 And I [n] called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oil, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattle, and [o] upon all the labour of the hands.

13 Then spake Hag′ga-i the LORD's messenger in the LORD's message unto the people, saying, [r]I am with you, saith the LORD.

14 And [s]the LORD stirred up the spirit of Ze-rub′ba-bel the son of She-al′ti-el, [t]governor of Ju′dah, and the spirit of Josh′u-a the son of Jos′e-dech, the high priest, and the spirit of all the remnant of the people; [u]and they came and did work in the house of the LORD of hosts, their God,

10 ¶ In the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, in the second year of Da-ri′us, came the word of the LORD by Hag′ga-i the prophet, saying,

11 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [l]Ask now the priests concerning the law, saying,

12 If one bear holy flesh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oil, or any meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and said, No.

13 Then said Hag′ga-i, If one that is [m]unclean by a dead body touch any of these, shall it be unclean? And the priests answered and said, It shall be unclean.

14 Then answered Hag′ga-i, and said, [n]So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the LORD; and so is every work of their hands; and that which they offer there is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, [o]consider from this day and upward, from before a stone was laid upon a stone in the temple of the LORD:

16 Since those days were, [p]when one came to a heap of twenty measures, there were but ten: when one came to the pressfat for to draw out fifty vessels out of the press, there were but twenty.

17 [q]I smote you with blasting and with mildew and with hail [r]in all the labours of your hands; [s]yet ye turned not to me, saith the LORD.

18 Consider now from this day and upward, from the four and twentieth day of the ninth month, even from [t]the day that the foundation of the LORD's temple was laid, consider it.

19 [u]Is the seed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive tree, hath not brought forth: [v]from this day will I bless you.

20 ¶ And again the word of the LORD came unto Hag′ga-i in the four and twentieth day of the month, saying,

21 Speak to Ze-rub′ba-bel, [x]governor of Ju′dah, saying, [y]I will shake the heavens and the earth;

22 And [z]I will overthrow the throne of kingdoms, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdoms of the heathen; and [a]I will overthrow the chariots, and those that ride in them; and the horses and their riders shall come down, every one by the sword of his brother.

23 In that day, saith the LORD of hosts, will I take thee, O Ze-rub′ba-bel, my servant, the son of She-al′ti-el, saith the LORD, [b]and will make thee as a signet: for [c]I have chosen thee, saith the LORD of hosts.

Z E C H A R I A H.

Although the names of Zechariah's father and grandfather are specified, it is not known from what tribe or family this prophet was descended, nor where he was born; but that he was one of the captives who returned to Jerusalem in consequence of the decree of Cyrus, is unquestionable. As he opened his prophetic commission in the eighth month of the second year of Darius, the son of Hystaspes, that is, about the year 520 before the Christian era, it is evident that he was contemporary with Haggai, and his authority was equally effectual in promoting the building of the temple. The prophecy of Zechariah consists of two parts, namely: Part one concerns the events which were then taking place, namely: the restoration of the temple, interspersing predictions relative to the advent of the Messiah. These predictions were delivered in the second year of the reign of Darius, king of Persia. Part two comprises prophecies relative to more remote events, particularly the coming of Jesus Christ, and the war of the Romans against the Jews. These prophecies were announced in the fourth year of Darius's reign.

CHAPTER I.

An exhortation to repentance. 7 The vision of the horses. 12 At the prayer of the angel mercies are promised to Jerusalem. 18 The vision of the four horns.

IN the eighth month, [a]in the second year of Da-ri'us, came the word of the LORD [b]unto Zech-a-ri'ah, the son of Ber-e-chi'ah, the son of Id'do the prophet, saying,

2 The LORD hath been [1]sore displeased with your fathers.

3 Therefore say thou unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Turn [c]ye unto me, saith the LORD of hosts, and I will turn unto you, saith the LORD of hosts.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, [d]unto whom the former prophets have cried, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [e]Turn ye now from your evil ways, and from your evil doings: but they did not hear, nor hearken unto me, saith the LORD.

5 Your fathers, where are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But [f]my words and my statutes, which I commanded my servants the prophets, did they not [2]take hold of your fathers? and they returned and said, [g]Like as the LORD of hosts thought to do unto us, according to our ways, and according to our doings, so hath he dealt with us.

7 ¶ Upon the four and twentieth day of the eleventh month, which is the month Se'bat, in the second year of Da-ri'us, came the word of the LORD unto Zech-a-ri'ah, the son of Ber-e-chi'ah, the son of Id'do the prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold [h]a man riding upon a red horse, and he stood among the myrtle trees that were in the bottom; and behind him were there [i]red horses, [3]speckled, and white.

9 Then said I, O my lord, what are these? And the angel that talked with me said unto me, I will show thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrtle trees answered and said, [k]These are they whom the LORD hath sent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 [l]And they answered the angel of the LORD that stood among the myrtle trees, and said, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and behold, all the earth sitteth still, and is at rest.

12 ¶ Then the angel of the LORD answered and said, [m]O LORD of hosts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Je-ru'sa-lem and on the cities of Ju'dah, against which thou hast had indignation [n]these threescore and ten years?

13 And the LORD answered the angel that talked with me with [o]good words and comfortable words.

14 So the angel that communed with me said unto me, Cry thou, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; I am [p]jealous for Je-ru'sa-lem and for Zi'on with a great jealousy.

15 And I am very sore displeased with the heathen that are at ease: for [q]I was but a little displeased, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the LORD; [r]I am returned to Je-ru'sa-lem with mercies: my house shall be built in it, saith the LORD of hosts, and [s]a line shall be stretched forth upon Je-ru'sa-lem.

17 Cry yet, saying, Thus saith the LORD of hosts; My cities through [4]prosperity shall yet be spread abroad; [t]and the LORD shall yet comfort Zi'on, and [u]shall yet choose Je-ru'sa-lem.

18 ¶ Then lifted I up mine eyes, and saw, and behold four horns.

19 And I said unto the angel that talked with me, What be these? And he answered me, [x]These are the horns which have scattered Ju'dah, Is'ra-el, and Je-ru'sa-lem.

20 And the LORD showed me four carpenters.

21 Then said I, What come these to do? And he spake, saying, These are the horns which have scattered Ju'dah, so

CHAPTER II.

The vision of the angel about to measure Jerusalem. 6 God's people called upon to return from Babylon. 10 The promise of his presence.

I LIFTED up mine eyes again, and looked, and behold [a]a man with a measuring line in his hand.

2 Then said I, Whither goest thou? And he said unto me, [b]To measure Je-ru'sa-lem, to see what is the breadth thereof, and what is the length thereof.

3 And behold, the angel that talked with me went forth, and another angel went out to meet him,

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this young man, saying, [c]Je-ru'sa-lem shall be inhabited as towns without walls for the multitude of men and cattle therein:

5 For I, saith the Lord, will be unto her [d]a wall of fire round about, [e]and will be the glory in the midst of her.

6 ¶ Ho, ho, come forth, and flee [f]from the land of the north, saith the Lord: for I have [g]spread you abroad as the four winds of the heaven, saith the Lord.

7 [h]Deliver thyself, O Zi'on, that dwellest with the daughter of Bab'y-lon.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hosts; After the glory hath he sent me unto the nations which spoiled you: for he that [i]toucheth you, toucheth the apple of his eye.

9 For behold, I will [k]shake mine hand upon them, and they shall be a spoil to their servants: and [l]ye shall know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me.

10 ¶ [m]Sing and rejoice, O daughter of Zi'on: for lo, I come, and I [n]will dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord.

11 [o]And many nations shall be joined to the Lord [p]in that day, and shall be [q]my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and [r]thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto thee.

12 And the Lord shall [s]inherit Ju'dah his portion in the holy land, and [t]shall choose Je-ru'sa-lem again.

13 [u]Be silent, O all flesh, before the Lord: for he is raised up [x]out of [1]his holy habitation.

CHAPTER III.

Under the type of Joshua, the restoration of Zion is prefigured. 8 Messiah the Branch is promised.

AND he showed me [a]Josh'u-a the high priest standing before the angel of the Lord, and [b][1]Sa'tan standing at his right hand [2]to resist him.

2 And the Lord said unto Sa'tan, [c]The Lord rebuke thee, O Sa'tan; even the Lord that [d]hath chosen Je-ru'sa-lem rebuke thee: [e]is not this a brand plucked out of the fire?

3 Now Josh'u-a was clothed with [f]filthy garments, and stood before the angel.

4 And he answered and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the filthy garments from him. And unto him he said, Behold, I have caused thine iniquity to pass from thee, [g]and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them set a fair [h]mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments. And the angel of the Lord stood by.

6 And the angel of the Lord protested unto Josh'u-a, saying,

7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts; If thou wilt walk in my ways, and if thou wilt [i]keep my [3]charge, then thou shalt also [k]judge my house, and shalt also keep my courts, and I will give thee [4]places to walk among these that [l]stand by.

8 Hear now, O Josh'u-a the high priest, thou, and thy fellows that sit before thee: for they are [m][5]men wondered at: for behold, I will bring forth [n]my servant the [o]BRANCH.

9 For behold the stone that I have laid before Josh'u-a; [p]upon one stone shall be [q]seven eyes: behold, I will engrave the graving thereof, saith the Lord of hosts, and [r]I will remove the iniquity of that land in one day.

10 [s]In that day, saith the Lord of hosts, shall ye call every man his neighbour [t]under the vine and under the fig tree.

CHAPTER IV.

The vision of the golden candlestick, 5 and the explanation thereof. 11 The two olive trees are the two anointed ones.

AND [a]the angel that talked with me came again, and waked me, [b]as a man that is wakened out of his sleep,

2 And said unto me, What seest thou? And I said, I have looked, and behold [c]a candlestick all of gold, [1]with a bowl upon the top of it, [d]and his seven lamps thereon, and [2]seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are upon the top thereof:

3 [e]And two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4 So I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these, my lord?

5 Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my lord.

6 Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord unto Ze-rub'ba-bel, saying, [f]Not by [3]might, nor by power, but by my Spirit, saith the Lord of hosts.

7 Who art thou, [g]O great mountain? before Ze-rub'ba-bel thou shalt become a plain: and he shall bring forth [h]the

CHAPTER V.

The vision of the flying roll. 5 The vision of the ephah.

THEN I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold a flying [a]roll.

2 And he said unto me, What seest thou? And I answered, I see a flying roll; the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then said he unto me, This is the [b]curse that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for [1]every one that stealeth shall be cut off as on this side according to it; and every one that sweareth shall be cut off as on that side according to it.

4 I will bring it forth, saith the LORD of hosts, and it shall enter into the house of the thief, and into the house of [c]him that sweareth falsely by my name: and it shall remain in the midst of his house, and [d]shall consume it with the timber thereof and the stones thereof.

5 ¶ Then the angel that talked with me went forth, and said unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I said, What is it? And he said, This is an ephah that goeth forth. He said moreover, This is their resemblance through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lifted up a [2]talent of lead: and this is a woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah.

8 And he said, This is wickedness. And he cast it into the midst of the ephah; and he cast the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lifted I up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings; for they had wings like the wings of a stork: and they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then said I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do these bear the ephah?

11 And he said unto me, To [e]build it a house in [f]the land of Shi′nar: and it shall be established, and set there upon her own base.

CHAPTER VI.

The vision of the four chariots. 9 The crowning of Joshua the high priest, a type of Messiah the Branch, and of his dominion.

AND I turned, and lifted up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came four chariots out from between two mountains; and the mountains were mountains of brass.

2 In the first chariot were [a]red horses; and in the second chariot [b]black horses;

3 And in the third chariot [c]white horses; and in the fourth chariot grizzled and [3]bay horses.

4 Then I answered [d]and said unto the angel that talked with me, What are these, my lord?

5 And the angel answered and said unto me, [e]These are the four [4]spirits of the heavens, which go forth from [f]standing before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horses which are therein go forth into [g]the north country; and the white go forth after them; and the grizzled go forth toward the south country.

7 And the bay went forth, and sought to go that they might [h]walk to and fro through the earth: and he said, Get you hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

8 Then cried he upon me, and spake unto me, saying, Behold, these that go toward the north country have quieted my [i]spirit in the north country.

9 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivity, even of Hel′da-i, of To-bi′jah, and of Je-da′iah, which are come from Bab′y-lon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house of Jo-si′ah the son of Zeph-a-ni′ah;

11 Then take silver and gold, and make [k]crowns, and set them upon the head of Josh′u-a the son of Jos′e-dech, the high priest;

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold [l]the man whose name is The [m]BRANCH; and he shall [5]grow up out

14 And the crowns shall be to He'lem, and to To-bi'jah, and to Je-da'iah, and to Hen the son of Zeph-a-ni'ah, [q]for a memorial in the temple of the LORD.

15 And [r]they that are far off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and [s]ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to pass, if ye will diligently obey the voice of the LORD your God.

CHAPTER VII.

The people inquire concerning the keeping of certain fasts. 4 The prophet's answer. 8 Disobedience the cause of their captivity.

AND it came to pass in the fourth year of king Da-ri'us, that the word of the LORD came unto Zech-a-ri'ah in the fourth day of the ninth month, even in Chis'leu;

2 When they had sent unto the house of God She-re'zer and Re'gem-me'lech, and their men, [1]to pray before the LORD,

3 And to [a]speak unto the priests which were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I weep in [b]the fifth month, separating myself, as I have done these so many years?

4 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me, saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the priests, saying, When ye [c]fasted and mourned in the fifth [d]and seventh month, [e]even those seventy years, did ye at all fast [f]unto me, even to me?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, [2]did not ye eat for yourselves, and drink for yourselves?

7 [3]Should ye not hear the words which the LORD hath cried [4]by the former prophets, when Je-ru'sa-lem was inhabited and in prosperity, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited [g]the south and the plain?

8 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto Zech-a-ri'ah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, [h][5]Execute true judgment, and show mercy and compassions every man to his brother:

10 And [i]oppress not the widow, nor the fatherless, the stranger, nor the poor; [k]and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and [l][6]pulled away the shoulder, and [7][m]stopped their ears, that they should not hear.

12 Yea, they made their [n]hearts as an adamant stone, [o]lest they should hear the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts hath sent in his Spirit [8]by the former prophets: [p]therefore came a great wrath from the LORD of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to pass, that as he cried, and they would not hear; so [q]they cried, and I would not hear, saith the LORD of hosts:

14 But [r]I scattered them with a whirlwind among all the nations [s]whom they knew not. Thus [t]the land was desolate after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid [u]the [9]pleasant land desolate.

CHAPTER VIII.

The restoration of Jerusalem. 9 The people encouraged in building the Lord's house. 16 Sundry duties enjoined. 18 Joy and enlargement promised.

AGAIN the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [a]I was jealous for Zi'on with great jealousy, and I was jealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus saith the LORD; [b]I am returned unto Zi'on, and [c]will dwell in the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem: and Je-ru'sa-lem [d]shall be called A city of truth; and [e]the mountain of the LORD of hosts, [f]The holy mountain.

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [g]There shall yet old men and old women dwell in the streets of Je-ru'sa-lem, and every man with his staff in his hand [1]for very age.

5 And the streets of the city shall be full of boys and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; If it be [2]marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these days, [h]should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts.

7 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; Behold, [i]I will save my people from the east country, and from [3]the west country;

8 And I will bring them, and they shall dwell in the midst of Je-ru'sa-lem: [k]and they shall be my people, and I will be their God, [l]in truth and in righteousness.

9 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts; [m]Let your hands be strong, ye that hear in these days these words by the mouth of [n]the prophets, which were in [o]the day that the foundation of the house of the LORD of hosts was laid, that the temple might be built.

10 For before these days [4]there was no [p]hire for man, nor any hire for beasts; [q]neither was there any peace to him that went out or came in because of the affliction: for I set all men every one against his neighbour.

11 But now I will not be unto the residue of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 [r]For the seed shall be [5]prosperous;

13 And it shall come to pass, that as ye were [u] a curse among the heathen, O house of Ju'dah, and house of Is'ra-el; so will I save you, and [x] ye shall be a blessing: fear not, but [y] let your hands be strong.

14 For thus saith the LORD of hosts; [z] As I thought to punish you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, saith the LORD of hosts, [a] and I repented not:

15 So again have I thought in these days to do well unto Je-ru'sa-lem and to the house of Ju'dah: fear ye not.

16 ¶ These are the things that ye shall do; [b] Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; [6] execute the judgment of truth and peace in your gates:

17 [c] And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts against his neighbour; and [d] love no false oath: for all these are things that I hate, saith the LORD.

20 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; It shall yet come to pass, that there shall come people, and the inhabitants of many cities:

21 And the inhabitants of one city shall go to another, saying, [l] Let us go [8] speedily [9] to pray before the LORD, and to seek the LORD of hosts: I will go also.

22 Yea, [m] many people and strong nations shall come to seek the LORD of hosts in Je-ru'sa-lem, and to pray before the LORD.

23 Thus saith the LORD of hosts; In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall [n] take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard [o] that God is with you.

3 And Ty'rus did build herself a strong hold, and [h] heaped up silver as the dust, and fine gold as the mire of the streets.

4 Behold, [i] the Lord will cast her out, and he will smite [k] her power in the sea; and she shall be devoured with fire.

5 [l] Ash'ke-lon shall see it, and fear; Ga'za also shall see it, and be very sorrowful, and Ek'ron; for her expectation shall be ashamed; and the king shall perish from Ga'za, and Ash'ke-lon shall not be inhabited.

6 And a bastard shall dwell [m] in Ash'dod, and I will cut off the pride of the Phil-is'tines.

7 And I will take away his [1] blood out of his mouth, and his abominations from between his teeth: but he that remaineth, even he, shall be for our God, and he shall be as a governor in Ju'dah, and Ek'ron as a Jeb'u-site.

8 And [n] I will encamp about mine house because of the army, because of him that passeth by, and because of him that returneth: and [o] no oppressor shall pass through them any more: for now [p] have I seen with mine eyes.

9 ¶ [q] Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zi'on; shout, O daughter of Je-ru'sa-lem: behold, [r] thy King cometh unto thee: he is just, and [2] having salvation; lowly, and riding upon an ass, and upon a colt the foal of an ass.

10 And I [s] will cut off the chariot from E'phra-im, and the horse from Je-ru'sa-lem, and the battle bow shall be cut off: and he shall speak [t] peace unto the heathen: and his dominion shall be [u] from sea even to sea, and from the river even to the ends of the earth.

11 As for thee also, [3] by the blood of thy covenant I have sent forth thy [x] prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 ¶ Turn you to the strong hold, [y] ye prisoners of hope: even to day do I declare that [z] I will render double unto thee;

13 When I have bent Ju'dah for me, filled the bow with E'phra-im, and raised up thy sons, O Zi'on, against thy sons, O Greece, and made thee as the sword of a mighty man.

14 And the LORD shall be seen over them, and [a] his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord GOD shall blow the trumpet, and shall go [b] with whirlwinds of the south.

15 The LORD of hosts shall defend them; and they shall devour, and [4] subdue with sling stones; and they shall drink, and make a noise as through wine; and they [5] shall be filled like bowls, and as [c] the corners of the altar.

16 And the LORD their God shall save them in that day as the flock of his people: for [d] they shall be as the stones of a crown, [e] lifted up as an ensign upon his land.

17 For [f]how great is his goodness, and how great is his beauty! [g]corn shall make the young men [6]cheerful, and new wine the maids.

CHAPTER X.

God, and not idols, to be sought unto. 5 The Lord will gather and save his people.

ASK ye [a]of the LORD [b]rain [c]in the time of the latter rain; so the LORD shall make [1]bright clouds, and give them showers of rain, to every one grass in the field.

2 For the [d][2]idols have spoken vanity, and the diviners have seen a lie, and have told false dreams; they [e]comfort in vain: therefore they went their way as a flock, they [3]were troubled, [f]because there was no shepherd.

3 Mine anger was kindled against the shepherds, [g]and I [4]punished the goats: for the LORD of hosts [h]hath visited his flock the house of Ju'dah, and [i]hath made them as his goodly horse in the battle.

4 Out of him came forth [k]the corner, out of him [l]the nail, out of him the battle bow, out of him every oppressor together.

5 ¶ And they shall be as mighty men, which [m]tread down their enemies in the mire of the streets in the battle: and they shall fight, because the LORD is with them, and [5]the riders on horses shall be confounded.

6 And I will strengthen the house of Ju'dah, and I will save the house of Jo'seph, and [n]I will bring them again to place them; for I [o]have mercy upon them: and they shall be as though I had not cast them off: for I am the LORD their God, and [p]will hear them.

7 And they of E'phra-im shall be like a mighty man, and their [q]heart shall rejoice as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad; their heart shall rejoice in the LORD.

8 I will [r]hiss for them, and gather them; for I have redeemed them: [s]and they shall increase as they have increased.

9 And [t]I will sow them among the people: and they shall [u]remember me in far countries; and they shall live with their children, and turn again.

10 [x]I will bring them again also out of the land of E'gypt, and gather them out of As-syr'i-a; and I will bring them into the land of Gil'e-ad and Leb'a-non; and [y]place shall not be found for them.

11 [z]And he shall pass through the sea with affliction, and shall smite the waves in the sea, and all the deeps of the river shall dry up: and [a]the pride of As-syr'i-a shall be brought down, and [b]the sceptre of E'gypt shall depart away.

12 And I will strengthen them in the LORD; and [c]they shall walk up and down in his name, saith the LORD.

CHAPTER XI.

The punishment of the Jewish nation. 7 The staves Beauty and Bands. 15 A woe upon the foolish shepherd.

OPEN [a]thy doors, O Leb'a-non, that the fire may devour thy cedars.

2 Howl, fir tree; for the cedar is fallen; because the [1]mighty are spoiled: howl, O ye oaks of Ba'shan; [b]for [2]the forest of the vintage is come down.

3 ¶ There is a voice of the howling of the shepherds; for their glory is spoiled: a voice of the roaring of young lions; for the pride of Jor'dan is spoiled.

4 Thus saith the LORD my God; [c]Feed the flock of the slaughter;

5 Whose possessors slay them, and [d]hold themselves not guilty: and they that sell them [e]say, Blessed be the LORD; for I am rich: and their own shepherds pity them not.

6 For I will no more pity the inhabitants of the land, saith the LORD: but lo, I will [3]deliver the men every one into his neighbour's hand, and into the hand of his king: and they shall smite the land, and out of their hand I will not deliver them.

7 And I will [f]feed the flock of slaughter, [4]even you, [g]O poor of the flock. And I took unto me two staves; the one I called Beauty, and the other I called [5]Bands; and I fed the flock.

8 Three shepherds also I cut off [h]in one month; and my soul [6]loathed them, and their soul also abhorred me.

9 Then said I, I will not feed you: [i]that that dieth, let it die; and that that is to be cut off, let it be cut off; and let the rest eat every one the flesh [7]of another.

10 ¶ And I took my staff, even Beauty, and cut it asunder, that I might break my covenant which I had made with all the people.

11 And it was broken in that day: and [8]so [k]the poor of the flock that waited upon me knew that it was the word of the LORD.

12 And I said unto them, [9]If ye think good, give me my price; and if not, forbear. So they [l]weighed for my price thirty pieces of silver.

13 And the LORD said unto me, Cast it unto the [m]potter: a goodly price that I was prized at of them. And I took the thirty pieces of silver, and cast them to the potter in the house of the LORD.

14 Then I cut asunder mine other staff, even [10]Bands, that I might break the brotherhood between Ju'dah and Is'ra-el.

15 ¶ And the LORD said unto me, [n]Take unto thee yet the instruments of a foolish shepherd.

16 For lo, I will raise up a shepherd in the land, which shall not visit those that be [11]cut off, neither shall seek the young one, nor heal that that is broken, nor [12] feed that that standeth still: but he shall eat the flesh of the fat, and tear their claws in pieces.

17 [o] Woe to the idol shepherd that leaveth the flock! the sword shall be upon his arm, and upon his right eye: his arm shall be clean dried up, and his right eye shall be utterly darkened.

CHAPTER XII.

Jerusalem a cup of trembling and a burdensome stone to her adversaries. 6 The restoration of Judah. 9 The repentance of Jerusalem.

THE burden of the word of the LORD for Is'ra-el, saith the LORD, [a] which stretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and [b] formeth the spirit of man within him.

2 Behold, I will make Je-ru'sa-lem [c] a cup of [1] trembling unto all the people round about, [2] when they shall be in the siege both against Ju'dah and against Je-ru'sa-lem.

3 ¶ [d] And in that day will I make Je-ru'sa-lem [e] a burdensome stone for all people: all that burden themselves with it shall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the LORD, [f] I will smite every horse with astonishment, and his rider with madness: and I will open mine eyes upon the house of Ju'dah, and will smite every horse of the people with blindness.

5 And the governors of Ju'dah shall say in their heart, [3] The inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem shall be my strength in the LORD of hosts their God.

6 ¶ In that day will I make the governors of Ju'dah [g] like a hearth of fire among the wood, and like a torch of fire in a sheaf; and they shall devour all the people round about, on the right hand and on the left: and Je-ru'sa-lem shall be inhabited again in her own place, even in Je-ru'sa-lem.

7 The LORD also shall save the tents of Ju'dah first, that the glory of the house of Da'vid and the glory of the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem do not magnify themselves against Ju'dah.

8 In that day shall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem; and [h] he that is [4] feeble among them at that day shall be as Da'vid; and the house of Da'vid shall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them.

9 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, that I will seek to [i] destroy all the nations that come against Je-ru'sa-lem.

10 [k] And I will pour upon the house of Da'vid, and upon the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem, the spirit of grace and of supplications: and they shall [l] look upon me whom they have pierced, and they shall mourn for him, [m] as one mourneth for his only son, and shall be in bitterness for him, as one that is in bitterness for his firstborn.

11 In that day shall there be a great [n] mourning in Je-ru'sa-lem, [o] as the mourning of Ha'dad–rim'mon in the valley of Me-gid'don.

12 [p] And the land shall mourn, [5] every family apart; the family of the house of Da'vid apart, and their wives apart; the family of the house of [q] Na'than apart, and their wives apart;

13 The family of the house of Le'vi apart, and their wives apart; the family of Shim'e-i apart, and their wives apart;

14 All the families that remain, every family apart, and their wives apart.

CHAPTER XIII.

A fountain opened for sin. 2 The removal of idolatry, and false prophets. 7 The smiting of the Shepherd, and the salvation of a third part of the people.

IN [a] that day there shall be [b] a fountain opened to the house of Da'vid and to the inhabitants of Je-ru'sa-lem for sin and for [1] uncleanness.

2 ¶ And it shall come to pass in that day, saith the LORD of hosts, that I will [c] cut off the names of the idols out of the land, and they shall no more be remembered: and also I will cause [d] the prophets and the unclean spirit to pass out of the land.

3 And it shall come to pass, that when any shall yet prophesy, then his father and his mother that begat him shall say unto him, Thou shalt not live; for thou speakest lies in the name of the LORD: and his father and his mother that begat him [e] shall thrust him through when he prophesieth.

4 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [f] the prophets shall be ashamed every one of his vision, when he hath prophesied; neither shall they wear [g] [2] a rough garment [3] to deceive:

5 [h] But he shall say, I am no prophet, I am a husbandman; for man taught me to keep cattle from my youth.

6 And one shall say unto him, What are these wounds in thine hands? Then he shall answer, Those with which I was wounded in the house of my friends.

7 ¶ Awake, O sword, against [i] my Shepherd, and against the man [k] that is my fellow, saith the LORD of hosts: [l] smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered: and I will turn mine hand upon [m] the little ones.

8 And it shall come to pass, that in all the land, saith the LORD, two parts therein shall be cut off and die; [n] but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part [o] through the fire, and will [p] refine them as silver is refined, and will try them as

CHAPTER XIV.

The destroyers of Jerusalem destroyed. 4 The coming of Messiah, and the glory of his kingdom. 12 The plague of Jerusalem's enemies. 16 The remnant of the nations shall turn to the Lord. 20 Holiness unto the Lord.

BEHOLD, [a]the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be divided in the midst of thee.

2 For [b]I will gather all nations against Je-ru'sa-lem to battle; and the city shall be taken, and [c]the houses rifled, and the women ravished; and half of the city shall go forth into captivity, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the city.

3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he fought in the day of battle.

4 ¶ And his feet shall stand in that day [d]upon the mount of Ol'ives, which is before Je-ru'sa-lem on the east, and the mount of Ol'ives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east and toward the west, [e]and there shall be a very great valley; and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the valley of [1]the mountains; [2]for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto A'zal: yea, ye shall flee, like as ye fled from before the [f]earthquake in the days of Uz-zi'ah king of Ju'dah: [g]and the LORD my God shall come, and [h]all the saints with thee.

6 And it shall come to pass in that day, that the light shall not be [3]clear, nor [4]dark:

7 But [5]it shall be [i]one day [k]which shall be known to the LORD, not day, nor night: but it shall come to pass, that at [l]evening time it shall be light.

8 And it shall be in that day, that living [m]waters shall go out from Je-ru'sa-lem; half of them toward the [6]former sea, and half of them toward the hinder sea: in summer and in winter shall it be.

9 And the LORD shall be [n]king over all the earth: in that day shall there be [o]one LORD, and his name one.

10 All the land shall be [7]turned [p]as a plain from Ge'ba to Rim'mon south of Je-ru'sa-lem: and it shall be lifted up, and [q][8]inhabited in her place, from Ben'ja-min's gate unto the place of the first gate, unto the corner gate, [r]and from the tower of Ha-nan'e-el unto the king's winepresses.

11 And men shall dwell in it, and there shall be [s]no more utter destruction; [t]but Je-ru'sa-lem [9]shall be safely inhabited.

12 ¶ And this shall be the plague wherewith the LORD will smite all the people that have fought against Je-ru'sa-lem; Their flesh shall consume away while they stand upon their feet, and their eyes shall consume away in their holes, and their tongue shall consume away in their mouth.

13 And it shall come to pass in that day, that [u]a great tumult from the LORD shall be among them; and they shall lay hold every one on the hand of his neighbour, and [x]his hand shall rise up against the hand of his neighbour.

14 And [10]Ju'dah also shall fight [11]at Je-ru'sa-lem; [y]and the wealth of all the heathen round about shall be gathered together, gold, and silver, and apparel, in great abundance.

15 And [z]so shall be the plague of the horse, of the mule, of the camel, and of the ass, and of all the beasts that shall be in these tents, as this plague.

16 ¶ And it shall come to pass, that every one that is left of all the nations which came against Je-ru'sa-lem, shall even [a]go up from year to year to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, and to keep [b]the feast of tabernacles.

17 [c]And it shall be, that whoso will not come up of all the families of the earth unto Je-ru'sa-lem to worship the King, the LORD of hosts, even upon them shall be no rain.

18 And if the family of E'gypt go not up, and come not, [12][d]that have no rain; there shall be the plague, wherewith the LORD will smite the heathen that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

19 This shall be the [13]punishment of E'gypt, and the punishment of all nations that come not up to keep the feast of tabernacles.

20 ¶ In that day shall there be upon the [14]bells of the horses, [e]HOLINESS UNTO THE LORD; and the pots in the LORD's house shall be like the bowls before the altar.

21 Yea, every pot in Je-ru'sa-lem and in Ju'dah shall be holiness unto the LORD of hosts; and all they that sacrifice shall come and take of them, and seethe therein: and in that day there shall be no more the [f]Ca'naan-ite in [g]the house of the LORD of hosts.

MALACHI.

Malachi, the last of the minor prophets, delivered his predictions while Nehemiah was governor of Judea, more particularly after his second coming from the Persian court; and he appears to have contributed the weight of his exhortations to the restoration of the Jewish polity, and the final reform established by that pious and excellent governor. The people having relapsed into irreligion, the prophet was commissioned to reprove both priests and people. His writings, which consist of four chapters, comprise two prophetic discourses.

CHAPTER I.

Israel's ingratitude. 6 Their polluted offerings, 12 and contempt of God's worship.

THE burden of the word of the Lord to Is'ra-el [1]by Mal'a-chi.

2 [a]I have loved you, saith the Lord. Yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loved us? Was not E'sau Ja'cob's brother? saith the Lord: yet [b]I loved Ja'cob,

3 And I hated E'sau, and [c]laid his mountains and his heritage waste for the dragons of the wilderness.

4 Whereas E'dom saith, We are impoverished, but we will return and build the desolate places; thus saith the Lord of hosts, They shall build, but I will throw down; and they shall call them, The border of wickedness, and, The people against whom the Lord hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes shall see, and ye shall say, [d]The Lord will be magnified [2]from the border of Is'ra-el.

6 ¶ A son [e]honoureth his father, and a servant his master: [f]if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear? saith the Lord of hosts unto you, O priests, that despise my name. [g]And ye say, Wherein have we despised thy name?

7 [3]Ye offer [h]polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye say, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye say, [i]The table of the Lord is contemptible.

8 And [k]if ye offer the blind [4]for sacrifice, is it not evil? and if ye offer the lame and sick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governor; will he be pleased with thee, or [l]accept thy person? saith the Lord of hosts.

9 And now, I pray you, beseech [5]God that he will be gracious unto us: [m]this hath been [6]by your means: will he regard your persons? saith the Lord of hosts.

10 Who is there even among you that would shut the doors for nought? [n]neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought. I have no pleasure in you, saith the Lord of hosts, [o]neither will I accept an offering at your hand.

11 For, [p]from the rising of the sun even unto the going down of the same, my name shall be great [q]among the Gen'tiles; [r]and in every place [s]incense shall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: [t]for my name shall be great among the heathen, saith the Lord of hosts.

13 Ye said also, Behold, what a weariness is it! [7]and ye have snuffed at it, saith the Lord of hosts; and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the sick; thus ye brought an offering: [x]should I accept this of your hand? saith the Lord.

14 But cursed be [y]the deceiver, [8]which hath in his flock a male, and voweth, and sacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for [z]I am a great King, saith the Lord of hosts, and my name is dreadful among the heathen.

CHAPTER II.

The priests reproved for neglecting their covenant; 11 and also the people for their idolatry, 14 adultery, 17 and perverseness.

AND now, O ye priests, this commandment is for you.

2 [a]If ye will not hear, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory unto my name, saith the Lord of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your blessings: yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will [1]corrupt your seed, and [2]spread dung upon your faces, even the dung of your solemn feasts; and [3]one shall [b]take you away with it.

4 And ye shall know that I have sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Le'vi, saith the Lord of hosts.

5 [c]My covenant was with him of life and peace; and I gave them to him [d]for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before my name.

6 [e]The law of truth was in his mouth, and iniquity was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did [f]turn many away from iniquity.

7 [g]For the priest's lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: [h] for he is the messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are departed out of the way; ye [i] have caused many to [4] stumble at the law; [k] ye have corrupted the covenant of Le'vi, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 Therefore [l] have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my ways, but [5] have been partial in the law.

10 [m] Have we not all one father? [n] hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of our fathers?

11 ¶ Ju'dah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Is'ra-el and in Je-ru'sa-lem; for Ju'dah hath profaned the holiness of the LORD which he [6] loved, [o] and hath married the daughter of a strange god.

12 The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this, [7] the master and the scholar, out of the tabernacles of Ja'cob, [p] and him that offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 ¶ Yet ye say, Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witness between thee and [q] the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: [r] yet is she thy companion, and the wife of thy covenant.

15 And [s] did not he make one? Yet had he the [8] residue of the spirit. And wherefore one? That he might seek [9] [t] a godly seed. Therefore take heed to your spirit, and let none deal [10] treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For [u] the LORD, the God of Is'ra-el, saith [11] that he hateth [12] putting away: for one covereth violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that ye deal not treacherously.

17 ¶ [x] Ye have wearied the LORD with your words. Yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? When ye say, Every one that doeth evil is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or, Where is the God of judgment?

CHAPTER III.

The Messenger of the covenant coming to his temple. 7 The rebellion, 8 sacrilege, 13 and perverseness of the people. 16 The promise of blessing to them that fear God.

BEHOLD, [a] I will send my Messenger, and he shall [b] prepare the way before me: and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, [c] even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, [d] he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.

2 But who may abide [e] the day of his coming? and [f] who shall stand when he appeareth? for [g] he is like a refiner's fire, and like fullers' soap:

3 And [h] he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purify the sons of Le'vi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may [i] offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousness.

4 Then [k] shall the offering of Ju'dah and Je-ru'sa-lem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the days of old, and as in [1] former years.

5 And I will come near to you to judgment; and I will be a swift witness against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, [l] and against false swearers, and against those that [2] oppress the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherless, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

6 For I am the LORD, [m] I change not; [n] therefore ye sons of Ja'cob are not consumed.

7 ¶ Even from the days of [o] your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them. [p] Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts. [q] But ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 ¶ Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? [r] In tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even this whole nation.

10 [s] Bring ye all the tithes into [t] the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the [u] windows of heaven, and [3] [x] pour you out a blessing, that there shall not be room enough to receive it.

11 And I will rebuke [y] the devourer for your sakes, and he shall not [4] destroy the fruits of your ground; neither shall your vine cast her fruit before the time in the field, saith the LORD of hosts.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed: for ye shall be [z] a delightsome land, saith the LORD of hosts.

13 ¶ [a] Your words have been stout against me, saith the LORD. Yet ye say, What have we spoken so much against thee?

14 [b] Ye have said, It is vain to serve God: and what profit is it that we have kept [5] his ordinance, and that we have walked [6] mournfully before the LORD of hosts?

15 And now [c] we call the proud happy; yea, they that work wickedness [7] are set up; yea, they that [d] tempt God are even delivered.

16 ¶ Then they [e] that feared the LORD

HISTORICAL CONNECTION OF THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS.

The Old Testament canon ends with Nehemiah's reform among the Jews. Nehemiah and Malachi were contemporaries; and the latter is the last of the ancient prophets. The Jews who returned from the Babylonish captivity were, after Nehemiah's decease, under a Persian governor of all Syria. The high priest himself was under political control, and was sometimes appointed by the governor.

The Persians and Greeks had been generally in a state of war for 160 years, when Alexander the Great marched 35,000 Greeks into Asia, and in six years conquered the whole Persian empire.

While Alexander was engaged in effecting his conquests in the Persian dominions, he was exceedingly enraged against the Jews for their inflexible adherence to the Persians, to whom they were under great obligations. When he laid siege to Tyre, the Samaritans sent him a considerable body of troops; but the Jews were not disposed to submit to him so long as Darius, to whom they had taken the oath of allegiance, should be alive.

Rollin relates the particulars of an interesting event, which saved the Jews, and changed their haughty foe into a cordial friend: "Jaddus [or Jaddua] the high priest, who governed under the Persians, seeing himself exposed, with all the inhabitants, to the wrath of the conqueror, had recourse to the protection of the Almighty, and gave orders for the offering up public prayers to implore his assistance, and made sacrifices. The night after, God appeared to him in a dream, and bid him 'cause flowers to be scattered up and down the city; to set open all the gates, and go, clothed in his pontifical robes, with all the priests dressed also in their vestments, and all the rest clothed in white, to meet Alexander, and not to fear any evil from that king, inasmuch as He would protect them.' This command was punctually obeyed; and accordingly, this august procession, the very day after, marched out of the city to an eminence called Sapha, whence there was a view of all the plain, as well as of the temple and city of Jerusalem; here the whole procession waited the arrival of Alexander. As soon as the Jews heard of his approach, they set out to meet him, with all the pomp before described. Alexander was struck at the sight of the high priest, in whose mitre and forehead a golden plate was fixed, on which the name of God was written. The moment the king perceived the high priest, he advanced towards him with an air of the most profound respect, bowed his body, adored the august Name upon his front, and saluted him who wore it with a religious veneration. Then the Jews, surrounding Alexander, raised their voices to wish him every kind of prosperity. All the spectators were seized with inexpressible surprise: they could scarce believe their eyes. Parmenio, one of Alexander's generals, who could not yet recover from his astonishment, asked the king how it came to pass that he, who was adored by every one, adored the high priest of the Jews. 'I do not,' replied Alexander, 'adore the high priest, but the God whose minister he is; for whilst I was at Dia in Macedonia, (my mind wholly fixed on the great design of the Persian war,) as I was revolving the methods how to conquer Asia, this very man, dressed in the same robes, appeared to me in a dream, exhorted me to banish every fear, bid me cross the Hellespont boldly, and assured me that God would march at the head of my army, and give me the victory over that of the Persians.' Alexander added, that the instant he saw the priest he knew him, by his habit, his stature, his air, and his face, to be the same person that he had seen at Dia; that he was firmly persuaded it was by the command, and under the immediate conduct of heaven, that he had undertaken this war; that he was sure he should overcome Darius hereafter, and destroy the empire of the Persians; and that this was the reason why he adored this God in the person of his priest. Alexander, after having thus answered Parmenio, embraced the high priest and all his brethren; then walking in the midst of them, he arrived at Jerusalem, where he offered sacrifices to God in the temple, after the manner prescribed to him by the high priest. The high priest afterwards showed him those passages in the prophecy of Daniel which are spoken of that monarch. (Dan. ii, 20, 21, 35, 37; iv, 14, 32, 34–36; vii, 2–6; viii; xi, 2–4.)" Rollin adds: "We may easily figure to ourselves the great joy and admiration with which Alexander was filled, upon hearing such clear, such circumstantial, and advantageous promises. Before he left Jerusalem, he assembled the Jews, and bid them ask any favour whatsoever. They answered, that their request was, to be allowed to live according to the laws which their ancestors had left them, and to be exempted the seventh year from their usual tribute; and for this reason, because they were forbid by their laws to sow their fields, and consequently could have no harvest. Alexander granted their request; and upon the high priest's beseeching him to suffer the Jews who lived in Babylon and Media to live likewise agreeable to their own laws, he also indulged them in this particular with the utmost humanity." Having conquered Egypt, he built Alexandria, and induced many of the Jews to become its inhabitants, granting them equal privileges with the Macedonians. Alexander died at Babylon, in the thirty-second year of his age, and the twelfth of his reign, B. C. 323.

Within fifteen years after the death of Alexander his whole family was murdered, and his empire divided among four of his principal generals. For more than 150 years these were generally in a state of war one with another; nevertheless, the Jews, whose country was between them, were marvellously protected by Providence. Ptolemy Lagus, to whose lot Egypt fell, did indeed invade Judea; for Palestine having been given to Laomedon of Mitylene, one of Alexander's generals, and confirmed to him, the Jews, mindful of their oath of obedience, refused to submit to Ptolemy, who had deprived Laomedon of his dominions. Enraged at their fidelity to the sovereign to whom they had sworn allegiance, Ptolemy took Jerusalem, and carried 100,000 of the people captives into Egypt. Their loyalty and fidelity, however, moved his compassion, and so raised their characters in his estimation, that he appointed them to places of trust and power. In the year B. C. 292 died Simon the Just, who was high priest of the Jews, and son of Onias. This high priest was the last of the men of the great synagogue, consisting of 120 persons, appointed by Ezra for perfecting the restoration of the Jewish Church; and it is believed that he made the last revision of the books of the Old Testament, and completed the sacred canon by adding the books of Chronicles, Ezra, Nehemiah, Esther, and Malachi.

After the death of Ptolemy Soter, B. C. 284, the Jews were favoured with another protector in his son, Ptolemy Philadelphus. This king was engaged in a long war with Antiochus Theos, king of Syria, which they terminated by a treaty of marriage. Antiochus divorced his wife Laodice, and married Berenice, the daughter of Ptolemy, B. C. 249. Ptolemy Philadelphus dying two years afterward, Antiochus separated from Berenice, and took back his first queen, who, fearing another divorce, speedily poisoned him, cut off Berenice and her son, and placed her own son Callinicus on the throne. Ptolemy Euergetes, now king of Egypt, in revenge for the death of his sister Berenice, hastened with a considerable army against Syria, slew Laodice, and having subdued the kingdom, returned laden with spoils; and on his way offered many sacrifices in the temple of Jerusalem, as a grateful acknowledgement to God for his triumphs. Ptolemy Philopater, son of Ptolemy Euergetes, succeeded his father on the throne, B. C. 221. This was a very profligate prince. Antiochus, brother of Callinicus, engaged in war with him, and at first was successful; but Ptolemy ultimately conquered, and made a progress through his provinces. On visiting Jerusalem he offered numerous victims, and gave valuable presents to the temple; but Simon II., the high priest, seriously offended him by not permitting him to enter the holy of holies. He avenged himself in a most barbarous manner; for, on his return to Egypt, he deprived the Jews of their privileges, and assembled multitudes of them at Alexandria to be destroyed by wild beasts, which, however, it is said, instead of slaying them, destroyed their enemies. The dissipated Philopater died B. C. 204, and was succeeded by his infant son Ptolemy Epiphanes. Antiochus now availed himself of favourable circumstances, and marched a large army into Cœlo-Syria and Palestine, and speedily subdued them. Antiochus being soon after engaged in war with Attalus, king of Pergamus, the Egyptians recovered the lost territories, and put a garrison in Jerusalem, B. C. 199. In the year following they were again recovered by Antiochus, and the Egyptians were captured. The Jews cordially espoused the cause of Antiochus, with which he was so pleased that he ordered their city to be repaired, their dispersed to be recalled, and their lost privileges granted by Alexander to be restored. Antiochus was succeeded on the Syrian throne by his son Seleucus Philopater, who finished an inglorious reign, B.C. 176. Antiochus Epiphanes, or the Illustrious, next ascended the throne. Being pressed by the Romans for tribute, he deposed Onias, the Jewish high priest, and sold his sacred office to his brother Jason; and afterward he deposed Jason, and sold it to his brother Menelaus; this was B. C. 172.

Antiochus having marched into Egypt, and a report having spread of his death, Jason collected together a thousand men to recover by force the priesthood, of which he was the first purchaser. He succeeded in surprising the city of Jerusalem, drove Menelaus into the castle, and cruelly put to death all whom he considered as his adversaries. Antiochus being informed of these transactions, hastened out of Egypt to quell the rebellion; and being told that the inhabitants of Jerusalem had made great rejoicings at the news of his death, he was so provoked, that, having stormed the city, he slew 40,000 persons, sold as many as slaves, plundered the temple of gold and furniture, entered the holy of holies, and sacrificed a sow on the altar of burnt offering, and caused the broth of the unclean animal to be sprinkled all over the temple. As a further punishment of the Jews, he appointed one Philip, a Phrygian, a most cruel man, to be governor of Judea, and continued the wicked Menelaus in the high priesthood. Not long after, the Romans having peremptorily ordered him to withdraw his forces from Egypt, he vented his rage at his disappointment by inflicting further punishment on the unfortunate Jews; and despatching Apollonius with 20,000 men, gave him orders to destroy Jerusalem, to put the men to the sword, and to make slaves of the women and children. These commands were executed with savage fierceness on the sabbath day, and none escaped but those who were able to find refuge in the neighbouring caves and mountains. On his arrival at Antioch he published a decree requiring all people in his dominions to conform to the religion of the Greeks; and Atheneus was commissioned to instruct the Jews in the Grecian idolatrous ceremonies, and to put to death all who disobeyed his authority. When the idolater arrived at Jerusalem he obtained aid from some apostate Jews, caused the sacrifices to cease, suppressed the observances of the Jewish religion, polluted the temple, profaned the sabbaths and festivals, forbade the circumcision of the children, burned such copies of the law as could be discovered, dedicated the temple to Jupiter Olympius, raised a statue of the idol on the altar of burnt offering, and put to death all who would not conform to heathenism.

Mattathias, great grandson of Asmoneus, after whom the family were called Asmoneans, retired with his five sons from the persecution of Jerusalem to his native town Modin. Here he made a determined stand against idolatry. Apelles, an officer in command, could influence him neither by compulsion nor bribes. The venerable priest slew the first apostate Jew; and, aided by his sons, put the king's agent to death, with all his attendants, demolished the idols, and withdrew to the mountains; and, after forming a valiant army, he marched through Judea, broke down the heathen altars, restored circumcision, cut off the heathen priests, and restored the worship of God, B. C. 167. Mattathias died the next year; but his third son Judas, called Maccabeus, succeeded him in command. This valiant man defeated army after army sent after him by Antiochus, recovered the temple, repaired and beautified it, restored the worship of God, and repaired Jerusalem, which was nearly in ruins, B. C. 165. The enraged Antiochus resolved to take signal revenge; but was suddenly seized with an incurable disease, of which he died, B. C. 164. His successor, Antiochus Eupator, was a minor, but combined with other enemies to extirpate all the race of Israel. Judas therefore carried on the war prosperously for some years, making the enemies' own territories the scene of action, till he was slain; and he was succeeded by his brother Jonathan. Onias, the high priest, being settled in Egypt, where he built a temple like that of Jerusalem, Jonathan and his brother Simon officiated at Jerusalem, both as high priests and civil governors. Jonathan was treacherously slain by Tryphon, who had usurped the throne of Syria, B. C. 144. Simon succeeded him, reformed Jerusalem, and rendered the Jews independent of all the neighboring nations. He, too, was treacherously murdered, together with two of his sons, by his son in law, Ptolemy, B. C. 135. His son, John Hyrcanus, next succeeded to the government and priesthood; he destroyed the Samaritan temple on Mount Gerizim, B. C. 130, after it had stood 200 years. His son Aristobulus became his successor, B. C. 107; he raised Judea again into a monarchy, and assumed the title of king. His successor was his son Alexander Janneus, who died B. C. 79; his reign was prosperous. His widow Alexandra assumed the government with much prudence during nine years. When she died, her indolent son Hyrcanus reigned during three months only, being dethroned by his younger brother Aristobulus. Through the aid of the Romans, Hyrcanus was soon restored; but was obliged to lay aside the crown, and Judea became tributary to the Romans, B. C. 63. Pompey, the Roman general, with some of his officers, entered the holy of holies; and Crassus, governor of Syria, pillaged the temple of 10,000 talents of silver,

B. C. 54. Antipater, a noble and crafty Idumean, now obtained the rank of procurator of Judea; and Hyrcanus was obliged to be contented with the office of high priest, B. C. 47. Antipater was succeeded by his son, Herod the Great, who, after much bloodshed, obtained the royal dignity, B. C. 40, in which he was confirmed by Augustus Cæsar, B. C. 30. He built many cities, rebuilt the temple, ingratiated himself with the Jews, and discovered great talent; but he was a monster in cruelty. He it was who attempted to murder the infant Redeemer. His sons ascended the throne in succession after him. A. D. 6, Archelaus was deposed by the Romans for mal-administration. Judea was formed into a province; the sceptre thus passed away from Judah. Roman procurators were placed on the seat of authority, till those awful wars commenced which ended in the subversion of the Jewish state, when Titus Vespasian commanded the Roman armies, A. D. 79. The Jews have ever since been scattered abroad, the objects of God's displeasure; but neither beyond our pity nor our prayers.

These are Esdras I. and II., Tobit, Judith, The Rest of Esther, Wisdom of Solomon, Ecclesiasticus, Baruch, Song of the Three Children, History of Susanna, Bel and the Dragon, Prayer of Manasses, Maccabees I. and II. These books are rejected by Protestants, because they have no authority for admission into the canon; none are extant in Hebrew: they were written after the cessation of prophecy, and before the Gospel; not one of the writers directly claims to have been inspired: they were never received into the canon by the Jewish Church; and were rejected by Christ. The Christian Church rejected them during the first four centuries. They contain fabulous matter, Esth. x, 6; 2 Macc. i, 19–22; ii, 4, etc.: contradictory statements, Tobit i, 12, contradicts xii, 15, etc.; contradictory doctrines to Scripture, 2 Macc. xii, 43, 44; Wisd. viii, 19, 20; 1 Esd. viii, 33; Tobit xii, 8, 9; Ecclus. iii, 3, 30: vii, 20; xiii, 24; xxxv, 3; commend immoral practices, 2 Macc. xiv, 41–46; Judith ix, 2–9; Tobit vi, 16, 17: and contradict profane historians without good evidence: see 1 Macc. i, 6, 7: viii, 16.

THE SEPTUAGINT.

This Greek translation of the Holy Scriptures of the Old Testament is here noticed, because it was from this volume that Christ and his apostles made their quotations; a circumstance which will account for certain phrases there found being different from the Old Testament translation, which is made at once from the Hebrew. Ptolemy Philadelphus, king of Egypt, caused this translation to be made, 284 years B. C., the Jews in Egypt having forgotten the Hebrew language. About seventy learned men were employed for the purpose: hence the name Septuagint, or seventy. The Greek language was then extensively spoken; and when the apostles began to preach, they, in appealing to the Septuagint, appealed to a book read by both Jews and Heathens.

ALLUSION IN THE NEW TESTAMENT TO THEATRES AND TO THE GRECIAN GAMES.

Theatrical performances were in great request among the Greeks and Romans, and this will account for so many theatres being erected in Judea, soon after that country became subject to the Roman power. The Epistles of St. Paul, being addressed to Gentiles, abound with elegant allusions drawn from the theatre. Thus, in 1 Cor. vii, 29–31, he refers to the personification of the woes of others, which was common on the stage, while the heart continued unaffected with them, and also to the rapid shifting of the scenes. In 1 Cor. iv, 9, he alludes to the barbarous practice then common in the Roman amphitheatre, where the bestiarii, who in the morning combatted with wild beasts, had armour with which to defend themselves, and to slay their antagonists; but the last, those who were exposed at noon, were naked and unarmed, and set forth (as our version renders it) to certain and cruel death.

But the most splendid and renowned solemnities were the Olympic Games, solemnized every fifth year, in the presence of a cloud of witnesses or spectators, assembled from almost every part of the then known world. The exercises at these games consisted principally in running, wrestling, and the chariot race. The candidates were to be freemen and Greeks of unimpeachable character; and they were subjected to a long and severe regimen. On the day appointed, the names of the candidates were called over by the heralds; and on a given signal those who engaged in the foot race rushed forward toward the goal, in the presence of the assembled multitude, and especially of the Hellanodics, persons venerable for their years and character, who were appointed judges of the games, and whose province it was to distribute chaplets composed of the fading sprigs of the wild olive and palm branches, which were conspicuously exposed to the view of the candidates. The knowledge of these circumstances throws much light and beauty on those animating exhortations of St. Paul, in Hebrews xii, 1, 3, 12, 13; Philippians iii, 12–14; 2 Timothy iv, 7, 8; and 1 Corinthians ix, 24, 25. In the two following verses he alludes to the practice of those who engaged in boxing, as well as to the previous discipline to which all candidates were subjected.

JEWISH MODE OF TREATING THE DEAD—FUNERAL RITES.

By the law of Moses a dead body conveyed a legal pollution to everything that touched it, even to the very house and furniture, which continued seven days. (Num. xix, 14–16.) And this was the reason why the priests, on account of their daily ministrations in holy things, were forbidden to assist at any funerals but those of their nearest relatives; nay, the very dead bones, though they had lain ever so long in the grave, if digged up, conveyed a pollution to any who touched them; and this was the reason why Josiah caused the bones of the false priests to be burned upon the altar at Bethel, (2 Chron. xxxiv, 5,) to the intent that these altars, being thus polluted, might be had in the greater detestation.

When the principle of life was extinguished, the first funeral office among the Jews was to close the eyes of the deceased. This was done by the nearest of kin. Thus it was promised to Jacob, when he took his journey into Egypt, that Joseph should put his hands upon his eyes. (Gen. xlvi, 4.) The next office was the ablution of the corpse. Thus when Tabitha died, it is said that they washed her body, and laid it in an upper chamber. (Acts ix, 37.) This rite was common both to the Greeks and Romans. In Egypt it is still the custom to wash the dead body several times. Loud lamentations attended the decease of persons, especially those who were greatly beloved, not only as soon as they had expired, (Gen. l, 1; Matt. ix, 23; Mark v, 38,) but especially at the time of interment. (Gen. l, 10, 11.) In later times the Jews hired persons, whose profession it was to superintend and conduct these funeral lamentations; (Jer. ix, 17; xvi, 6, 7; xlviii, 36, 37; Ezek. xxiv, 16–18; Amos v, 16;) and in the time of Christ, minstrels and mourners were hired for this purpose. Matt. ix, 23; Mark v, 38.

After the corpse had been washed it was embalmed in costly spices and aromatic drugs, after which it was closely swathed in linen rollers, probably resembling those of the Egyptian mummies now to be seen in the British Museum. So Nicodemus made preparation for the embalming of Jesus Christ; (John xix, 39, 40;) and Lazarus appears to have been swathed in a similar way, when raised to life again by the omnipotent voice of Jesus Christ. (John xi, 44.) At the funerals of some Jewish monarchs great piles of aromatics were set on fire, in which were consumed their bowels, armour, and other things. 2 Chron xvi, 14; Jer. xxxiv, 5.

The Jews showed great regard for the burial of their dead. To be deprived of interment, was deemed one of the greatest dishonours and calamities that could befall any person. (Psa. lxxix, 2; Jer. xxii, 19; xxxvi, 30.) Their burial-places were in gardens, fields, and the sides of mountains; and over the rich and great were erected splendid monuments. To this practice Jesus Christ alludes in Matt. xxiii, 7. From Isa. lxv, 4, and Mark v, 5, it would seem that some tombs had cupolas over them which afforded shelter, similar to those which modern travellers in the East have seen and described. Family sepulchres were in gardens. John xix, 41.

A funeral feast commonly succeeded the Jewish burials. Thus, after Abner's funeral was solemnized, the people came to David to eat meat with him, though they could not persuade him to do so. (2 Sam. iii, 35.) He was the chief mourner, and probably had invited them to this banquet. Of this Jeremiah speaks, (xvi, 7,) where he calls it the cup of consolation, which they drank for their father or their mother; and accordingly the place where this funeral entertainment was made is called in the next verse the house of feasting. Hosea calls it the bread of mourners. (Hos. ix, 4.)

THE GOSPEL

ACCORDING TO

ST. MATTHEW.

MATTHEW, the author of this Gospel, was a native of Galilee, but of what particular city or what tribe of Israel he belonged to is not known. Before his conversion to Christianity he was a publican, or collector of taxes and customs of all goods exported or imported at Capernaum, a maritime town on the Sea of Galilee. While employed at the receipt of custom, Jesus met him and called him to the office of an apostle. After the ascension of Christ Matthew continued in Jerusalem with the other apostles, and with them, on the day of Pentecost, was endued with the gift of the Holy Spirit. The univocal testimony of antiquity is that Matthew wrote his Gospel in Judea, for the Jewish nation, while the Church consisted wholly of the circumcision, and that it was primarily designed for their use, with a view to confirm believers and convict the unbelievers. Of the truth of this the book itself bears conclusive evidence. The Gospel of Matthew is mostly of a historical character, embracing an account of the birth, infancy, life, discourses, and actions of Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER I.

The genealogy of Jesus Christ. 18 The virgin Mary, while espoused to Joseph, conceiveth by the Holy Ghost. 19 An angel removeth the doubts of Joseph. 21 The name Jesus. 25 The birth of Jesus.

THE book of the [a] generation of Je′sus Christ, [b] the son of Da′vid, [c] the son of A′bra-ham.

2 [d] A′bra-ham begat I′saac; and [e] I′saac begat Ja′cob; and [f] Ja′cob begat Ju′das and his brethren;

3 And [g] Ju′das begat Pha′res and Za′ra of Tha′mar; and [h] Pha′res begat Es′rom; and Es′rom begat A′ram;

4 And A′ram begat A-min′a-dab; and A-min′a-dab begat Na-as′son; and Na-as′son begat Sal′mon;

5 And Sal′mon begat Bo′oz of Ra′chab; and Bo′oz begat O′bed of Ruth; and O′bed begat Jes′se;

6 And [i] Jes′se begat Da′vid the king; and [k] Da′vid the king begat Sol′o-mon of her that had been the wife of U-ri′as;

7 And [l] Sol′o-mon begat Ro-bo′am; and Ro-bo′am begat A-bi′a; and A-bi′a begat A′sa;

8 And A′sa begat Jos′a-phat; and Jos′a-phat begat Jo′ram; and Jo′ram begat O-zi′as;

9 And O-zi′as begat Jo′a-tham; and Jo′a-tham begat A′chaz; and A′chaz begat Ez-e-ki′as;

10 And [m] Ez-e-ki′as begat Ma-nas′ses; and Ma-nas′ses begat A′mon; and A′mon begat Jo-si′as;

11 And [1] [n] Jo-si′as begat Jech-o-ni′as and his brethren, about the time they were [o] carried away to Bab′y-lon:

12 And after they were brought to Bab′y-lon, [p] Jech-o-ni′as begat Sa-la′thi-el; and Sa-la′thi-el begat [q] Zo-rob′a-bel;

13 And Zo-rob′a-bel begat A-bi′ud; and A-bi′ud begat E-li′a-kim; and E-li′a-kim begat A′zor;

14 And A′zor begat Sa′doc; and Sa′doc begat A′chim; and A′chim begat E-li′ud;

15 And E-li′ud begat El-e-a′zar; and El-e-a′zar begat Mat′than; and Mat′than begat Ja′cob;

16 And Ja′cob begat Jo′seph the husband of Ma′ry, of whom was born Je′sus, who is called Christ.

17 So all the generations from A′bra-ham to Da′vid are fourteen generations; and from Da′vid until the carrying away into Bab′y-lon are fourteen generations; and from the carrying away into Bab′y-lon unto Christ are fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the [r] birth of Je′sus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Ma′ry was espoused to Jo′seph, before they came together, she was found with child [s] of the Holy Ghost.

19 Then Jo′seph her husband, being a just man, and not willing [t] to make her a public example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Jo′seph, thou son of Da′vid, fear not to take unto thee Ma′ry thy wife: [u] for that which is [2] conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost.

21 [x] And she shall bring forth a son, and thou shalt call his name [3] JE′SUS: for [y] he shall save his people from their sins.

22 Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 [z] Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and [4] they shall call his name Em-man′u-el, which being interpreted is, God with us.

CHAPTER II.

Wise men from the east inquire after Christ. 11 They worship him and offer presents. 14 The flight into Egypt. 16 Herod slayeth the children in Bethlehem. 19 After his death Joseph and his family return and dwell in Nazareth.

NOW when [a]Je′sus was born in Beth′le-hem of Ju-de′a in the days of Her′od the king, behold, there came wise men [b]from the east to Je-ru′sa-lem,

2 Saying, [c]Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen [d]his star in the east, and are come to worship him.

3 When Her′od the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Je-ru′sa-lem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all [e]the chief priests and [f]scribes of the people together, [g]he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Beth′le-hem of Ju-de′a: for thus it is written by the prophet,

6 [h]And thou Beth′le-hem, in the land of Ju′dah, art not the least among the princes of Ju′dah: for out of thee shall come a Governor, [i]that shall [1]rule my people Is′ra-el.

7 Then Her′od, when he had privily called the wise men, inquired of them diligently what time the star appeared.

8 And he sent them to Beth′le-hem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young child; and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed; and lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young child was.

10 When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶ And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Ma′ry his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, [j]they [2]presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

12 And being warned of God [k]in a dream that they should not return to Her′od, they departed into their own country another way.

13 And when they were departed, behold,[l] the angel of the Lord appeareth to Jo′seph in a dream, saying, Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and flee into E′gypt, and be thou there until I bring thee word: for Her′od will seek the young child to destroy him.

15 And was there until the death of Her′od: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, [m]Out of E′gypt have I called my son.

16 ¶ Then Her′od, when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, [n]and slew all the children that were in Beth′le-hem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two years old and under, according to the time which he had diligently inquired of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by [o]Jer′e-my the prophet, saying,

18 In [p]Ra′mah was there a voice heard, lamentation, and weeping, and great mourning, Ra′chel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

19 ¶ But when Her′od was dead, behold, an angel of the Lord appeareth in a dream to Jo′seph in E′gypt,

20 Saying, [q]Arise, and take the young child and his mother, and go into the land of Is′ra-el: [r]for they are dead which sought the young child's life.

21 And he arose, and took the young child and his mother, and came into the land of Is′ra-el.

22 But when he heard that Ar-che-la′us did reign in Ju-de′a in the room of his father Her′od, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside [s]into the parts of Gal′i-lee:

23 And he came and dwelt in a city called [t]Naz′a-reth: that it might be fulfilled [u]which was spoken by the prophets, He shall be called a Naz-a-rene′.

2 And saying, Repent ye: for [c]the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet E-sa′ias, saying, [d]The voice of one crying in the wilderness, [e]Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 And [f]the same John [g]had his raiment of camel's hair, and a leathern girdle about his loins; and his meat was [h]locusts and [i]wild honey.

5 [k]Then went out to him Je-ru′sa-lem, and all Ju-de′a, and all the region round about Jor′dan,

6 [l]And were baptized of him in Jor′dan, confessing their sins.

8 Bring forth therefore fruits [1] meet for repentance:

9 And think not to say within yourselves, [o] We have A'bra-ham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto A'bra-ham.

10 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: [p] therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

16 [y] And Je'sus, when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and lo, the heavens were opened unto him, and he saw [z] the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him:

3 And when [c] the tempter came to him, he said, If thou be the Son of God, command that these stones be made bread.

4 But he answered and said, It is written, [d] Man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him up [e] into the holy city, and setteth him on a pinnacle of the temple,

6 And saith unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down: for it is written, [d] He shall give his angels charge concerning thee: and in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

7 Je'sus said unto him, It is written again, [e] Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and showeth him all the [f] kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them;

9 And saith unto him, All these things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worship me.

10 Then saith Je'sus unto him, Get thee hence, Sa'tan: for it is written, [g] Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

11 Then the devil leaveth him, and behold, [h] angels came and ministered unto him.

12 ¶ [i] Now when Je'sus had heard that John was [1] cast into prison, he departed into Gal'i-lee;

13 And leaving Naz'a-reth, he came and dwelt in Ca-per'na-um, which is upon the sea coast, in the borders of Zeb'u-lun and Neph'tha-lim:

14 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by E-sa'ias the prophet, saying,

15 [k] The land of Zeb'u-lun, and the land of Neph'tha-lim, by the way of the sea, beyond Jor'dan, Gal'i-lee of the Gen'tiles;

16 [l] The people which sat in darkness saw great light; and to them which sat in the region and shadow of death light is sprung up.

17 ¶ [m] From that time Je'sus began to preach, and to say, [n] Repent: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

18 ¶ [o] And Je'sus, walking by the sea of Gal'i-lee, saw two brethren, Si'mon [p] called Pe'ter, and An'drew his brother, casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

19 And he saith unto them, Follow me, and [q] I will make you fishers of men.

20 [r] And they straightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 [s] And going on from thence, he saw other two brethren, James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his brother, in a ship with Zeb'e-dee their father, mending their nets; and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 ¶ And Je'sus went about all Gal'i-lee, [t] teaching in their synagogues, and preaching [u] the gospel of the kingdom, [x] and healing all manner of sickness and all manner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syr'i-a: and they brought unto him all sick people that were taken with divers diseases and torments, and those which

CHAPTER V.

The sermon on the mount: 3 The beatitudes. 13 The disciples of Jesus are the salt of the earth and the light of the world. 17 He came not to destroy the law, but to fulfil it. 21 He showeth its extent by reference to killing, 27 to adultery, 31 to divorce, 33 to swearing, 38 to retaliation, 43 and to love of enemies.

AND seeing the multitudes, [a] he went up into a mountain: and when he was set, his disciples came unto him:

2 And he opened his mouth, and taught them, saying,

3 [b] Blessed are the poor in spirit: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

4 [c] Blessed are they that mourn: for they shall be comforted.

5 [d] Blessed are the meek: for [e] they shall inherit the earth.

6 Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: [f] for they shall be filled.

7 Blessed are the merciful: [g] for they shall obtain mercy.

8 [h] Blessed are the pure in heart: for [i] they shall see God.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 [k] Blessed are they which are persecuted for righteousness' sake: for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

11 [l] Blessed are ye when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of [m] evil against you [1] falsely, for my sake.

12 [n] Rejoice, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for [o] so persecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 ¶ Ye are the salt of the earth: [p] but if the salt have lost its savour, wherewith shall it be salted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men.

14 [q] Ye are the light of the world. A city that is set on a hill cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men [r] light a candle, and put it under [2] a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, [s] that they may see your good works, and [t] glorify your Father which is in heaven.

17 ¶ [u] Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfil.

18 For verily I say unto you, [w] Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 [x] Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed [y] the righteousness of the scribes and Phar′i-sees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven.

21 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said [3] by them of old time, [z] Thou shalt not kill; and whosoever shall kill shall be in danger of the judgment:

22 But I say unto you, That [a] whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause shall be in danger of the judgment: and whosoever shall say to his brother, [4] [b] Raca, shall be in danger of the council: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of hell fire.

23 Therefore [c] if thou bring thy gift to the altar, and there rememberest that thy brother hath aught against thee;

24 [d] Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way; first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 [e] Agree with thine adversary quickly, [f] while thou art in the way with him; lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily I say unto thee, Thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ¶ Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, [g] Thou shalt not commit adultery:

28 But I say unto you, That whosoever [h] looketh on a woman to lust after her hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 [i] And if thy right eye [5] offend thee, [k] pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said, [l] Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement:

32 But I say unto you, That [m] whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced committeth adultery.

33 ¶ Again, ye have heard that [n] it hath been said by them of old time, [o] Thou shalt not forswear thyself, but [p] shalt perform unto the Lord thine oaths:

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

37 [t]But let your communication be, Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these cometh of evil.

38 ¶ Ye have heard that it hath been said, [u]An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth:

39 But I say unto you, [x]That ye resist not evil: [y]but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

45 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven: for [f]he maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 [g]For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicans the same?

47 And if ye salute your brethren only, [h]what do ye more than others? do not even the publicans so?

48 [i]Be ye therefore perfect, even [k]as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

CHAPTER VI.

The sermon on the mount continued: Almsgiving, 5 prayer 16 and fasting. 19 Where our treasure is to be laid up. 24 No man can serve two masters. 25 Anxiety about worldly things forbidden. 33 The kingdom of God to be first sought.

TAKE heed that ye do not your [1]alms before men, to be seen of them: otherwise ye have no reward [2]of your Father which is in heaven.

2 Therefore [a]when thou doest thine alms, [3]do not sound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites do in the synagogues and in the streets, that they may have glory of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

3 But when thou doest alms, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doeth:

4 That thine alms may be in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret himself [a]shall reward thee openly.

5 ¶ And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the [b]hypocrites are: for they love to pray standing in the synagogues and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seen of men. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayest, [c]enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy door, pray to thy Father which is in secret; and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

7 But when ye pray, [d]use not vain repetitions, as the heathen do: [e]for they think that they shall be heard for their much speaking.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of, before ye ask him.

9 After this manner therefore pray ye: [f]Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

10 Thy kingdom come. [g]Thy will be done in earth, [h]as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our [i]daily bread.

12 And [k]forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debtors.

13 [l]And lead us not into temptation, but [m]deliver us from evil: [n]For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory, for ever. Amen.

14 [o]For if ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you:

15 But [p]if ye forgive not men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses.

16 ¶ Moreover [q]when ye fast, be not, as the hypocrites, of a sad countenance: for they disfigure their faces, that they may appear unto men to fast. Verily I say unto you, They have their reward.

17 But thou, when thou fastest, [r]anoint thine head, and wash thy face;

18 That thou appear not unto men to fast, but unto thy Father which is in secret: and thy Father which seeth in secret shall reward thee openly.

19 ¶ [s]Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal:

20 [t]But lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal:

21 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

22 [u]The light of the body is the eye: if therefore thine eye be [v]single, thy whole body shall be full of light.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole body shall be full of darkness. If therefore the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness!

24 ¶ [x] No man can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. [y] Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

25 Therefore I say unto you, [z] Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink; nor yet for your body, what ye shall put on. Is not the life more than meat, and the body than raiment?

26 [a] Behold the fowls of the air: for they sow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

27 Which of you [b] by taking thought can add one cubit unto his stature?

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Consider the lilies of the field how they grow; they toil not, neither do they spin:

29 And yet I say unto you, That [c] even Sol'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

30 Wherefore, if God so clothe the grass of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is cast into the oven, shall he not much more clothe you, [d] O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, saying, [e] What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed?

32 (For after all these things do the Gen'tiles seek:) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all these things.

33 But [f] seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.

34 Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow shall take thought for the things of itself. Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

CHAPTER VII.

The sermon on the mount concluded: Rash judgment reproved. 6 Holy things not to be given to dogs. 7 The duty and efficacy of prayer. 13 The strait gate. 15 False prophets. 24 The house built upon a rock, or upon the sand.

JUDGE [a] not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged: [b] and with what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you again.

3 [c] And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and behold, a beam is in thine own eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brother's eye.

6 ¶ [d] Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rend you.

7 ¶ [e] Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you:

8 For [f] every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

9 [g] Or what man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will he give him a stone?

10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

11 If ye then, [h] being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

12 Therefore all things [i] whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for [k] this is the law and the prophets.

13 ¶ [l] Enter ye in at the strait gate: for wide is the gate, and broad is the way, that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

14 [1] Because strait is the gate, and narrow is the way, which leadeth unto life, and few there be that find it.

15 ¶ [m] Beware of false prophets, [n] which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are [o] ravening wolves.

16 [p] Ye shall know them by their fruits. [q] Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 Even so [r] every good tree bringeth forth good fruit; but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 [s] Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 ¶ Not every one that saith unto me, [t] Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we [u] not prophesied in thy name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many wonderful works?

23 And [x] then will I profess unto them, I never knew you: [y] depart from me, ye that work iniquity.

24 ¶ Therefore [z] whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man, which built his house upon a rock:

25 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell not: for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, [a] and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man, which built his house upon the sand:

27 And the rain descended, and the floods came, and the winds blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell: and great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to pass, when Je'sus had ended these sayings, [b] the people were astonished at his doctrine:

29 [c] For he taught them as one having authority, and not as the scribes.

CHAPTER VIII.

1 leper cleansed. 5 The healing of the centurion's servant, 14 also of Peter's wife's mother and many others. 18 How Jesus must be followed. 23 He stilleth the tempest; 28 and healeth two men possessed with devils. 31 The devils enter into a herd of swine.

WHEN he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

2 [a] And behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Je'sus [b] put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will; be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed.

4 And Je'sus saith unto him, [c] See thou tell no man; but go thy way, show thyself to the priest, and offer the gift that [d] Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

5 ¶ [e] And when Je'sus was entered into Ca-per'na-um, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, [f] my servant lieth at home sick of the palsy, grievously tormented.

7 And Je'sus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 The centurion answered and said, Lord, [g] I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but [h] speak the word only, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man under authority, having soldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Je'sus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Is'ra-el.

11 And I say unto you, That [i] many shall come from the east and west, and shall sit down with A'bra-ham, and I'saac, and Ja'cob, in the kingdom of heaven:

12 But [k] the children of the kingdom [l] shall be cast out into outer darkness: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

13 And Je'sus said unto the centurion, Go thy way; and as thou hast believed,

14 ¶ [k] And when Je'sus was come into Pe'ter's house, he saw [l] his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever.

15 And he touched her hand, and the fever left her: and she arose, and ministered unto them.

16 ¶ [m] When the even was come they brought unto him many that were possessed with devils: and he cast out the spirits with his word, and healed all that were sick:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by E-sa'ias the prophet, saying, [n] Himself took our infirmities, and bare our sicknesses.

18 ¶ Now when Je'sus saw great multitudes about him, he gave commandment to depart unto the other side.

19 [o] And a certain scribe came, and said unto him, Master, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

20 And Je'sus saith unto him, The foxes have holes, and [p] the birds of the air have nests; but the [q] Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

21 [r] And another of his disciples said unto him, Lord, [s] suffer me first to go and bury my father.

22 But Je'sus said unto him, Follow me; and [t] let the dead bury their dead.

23 ¶ And when he was entered into a ship, his disciples followed him.

24 [u] And behold, there arose a great tempest in the sea, insomuch that the ship was covered with the waves: but he was asleep.

25 And his disciples came to him, and awoke him, saying, Lord, save us: we perish.

26 And he saith unto them, Why are ye fearful, O ye of little faith? Then [x] he arose, and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, saying, What manner of man is this, that even the winds and the sea obey him!

28 ¶ [y] And when he was come to the other side into the country of the Ger-ge-senes', there met him two possessed with devils, coming out of the tombs, exceeding fierce, so that no man might pass by that way.

29 And behold, they cried out, saying, [z] What have we to do with thee, Je'sus, thou Son of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was a good way off from them a herd of many swine feeding.

31 So the devils besought him, saying, If thou cast us out, suffer us to go away into the herd of swine.

32 And he said unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of swine: and behold, the whole herd of swine ran violently down

33 And they that kept them fled, and went their ways into the city, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the possessed of the devils.

34 And behold, the whole city came out to meet Je'sus: and when they saw him, [u] they besought him that he would depart out of their coasts.

CHAPTER IX.

Jesus healeth one sick of the palsy; 9 calleth Matthew; 10 eateth with publicans and sinners; 14 and justifieth his disciples in not fasting. 18 A ruler entreateth him. 20 He healeth an issue of blood; 23 raiseth the ruler's daughter; 27 giveth sight to two blind men; 32 healeth a dumb man possessed with a devil; 36 and hath compassion on the multitude.

AND he entered into a ship, and passed over, [a] and came into his own city.

2 [b] And behold, they brought to him a man sick of the palsy, lying on a bed: [c] and Je'sus seeing their faith said unto the sick of the palsy; Son, be of good cheer; thy sins be forgiven thee.

3 And behold, certain of the scribes said within themselves, This man blasphemeth.

4 And Je'sus [d] knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts?

5 For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, [e] Arise, and walk?

6 But that ye may know that the Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (then saith he to the sick of the palsy,) Arise, take up thy bed, and go unto thine house.

7 And he arose, and departed to his house.

8 But when the multitudes saw it, they marvelled, and glorified God, which had given such power unto men.

9 ¶ [f] And as Je'sus passed forth from thence, he saw a man, named Matth'ew, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he saith unto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

10 ¶ [g] And it came to pass, as Je'sus sat at meat in the house, behold, many publicans and sinners came and sat down with him and his disciples.

11 And when the Phar'i-sees saw it, they said unto his disciples, Why eateth your master with [h] publicans and [i] sinners?

12 But when Je'sus heard that, he said unto them, They that be whole need not a physician, but they that are sick.

13 But go ye and learn what that meaneth, [j] I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, [k] but sinners to repentance.

14 ¶ Then came to him the disciples of John, saying, [l] Why do we and the Phar'i-sees fast oft, but thy disciples fast not?

15 And Je'sus said unto them, Can [m] the children of the bridechamber mourn, as long as the bridegroom is with them? but the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken from them, and [n] then shall they fast.

16 No man putteth a piece of [1] new cloth unto an old garment; for that which is put in to fill it up taketh from the garment, and the rent is made worse.

17 Neither do men put new wine into old bottles: else the bottles break, and the wine runneth out, and the bottles perish: but they put new wine into new bottles, and both are preserved.

18 ¶ [o] While he spake these things unto them, behold, there came a certain ruler, and worshipped him, saying, My daughter is even now dead: but come and lay thy hand upon her, and she shall live.

19 And Je'sus arose, and followed him, and so did his disciples.

20 ¶ [p] And behold, a woman, which was diseased with an issue of blood twelve years, came behind him, and touched the hem of his garment:

21 For she said within herself, If I may but touch his garment, I shall be whole.

22 But Je'sus turned him about, and when he saw her, he said, Daughter, be of good comfort; [q] thy faith hath made thee whole. And the woman was made whole from that hour.

23 [r] And when Je'sus came into the ruler's house, and saw [s] the minstrels and the people making a noise,

24 He said unto them, [t] Give place: for the maid is not dead, but sleepeth. And they laughed him to scorn.

25 But when the people were put forth, he went in, and took her by the hand, and the maid arose.

26 And [2] the fame hereof went abroad into all that land.

27 ¶ And when Je'sus departed thence, two blind men followed him, crying, and saying, [u] Thou Son of Da'vid, have mercy on us.

28 And when he was come into the house, the blind men came to him: and Je'sus saith unto them, [v] Believe ye that I am able to do this? They said unto him, Yea, Lord.

29 Then touched he their eyes, saying, According to your faith be it unto you.

30 And their eyes were opened; and Je'sus straitly charged them, saying, [x] See that no man know it.

31 [y] But they, when they were departed, spread abroad his fame in all that country.

32 ¶ [z] As they went out, behold, they brought to him a dumb man possessed with a devil.

33 And when the devil was cast out, the dumb spake: and the multitudes

35 [b] And Je'sus went about all the cities and villages, [c] teaching in their synagogues, and preaching the gospel of the kingdom, and healing every sickness and every disease among the people.

36 ¶ [d] But when he saw the multitudes, he was moved with compassion on them, because they [2] fainted, and were scattered abroad, [e] as sheep having no shepherd.

37 Then saith he unto his disciples, [f] The harvest truly is plenteous, but the labourers are few;

38 [g] Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he will send forth labourers into his harvest.

CHAPTER X.

Jesus giveth the twelve power to work miracles. 5 He sendeth them forth to preach, and giveth them a charge. 40 A blessing promised to those that receive them.

AND [a] when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power [1] against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sickness and all manner of disease.

2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these; The first, Si'mon, [b] who is called Pe'ter, and An'drew his brother; James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John his brother;

3 Phil'ip, and Bar-thol'o-mew; Thom'as, and Matth'ew the publican; James the son of Al-phe'us, and Leb'be-us, whose surname was Thad'de-us;

4 [c] Si'mon the [2] Ca'naan-ite, and Ju'das [d] Is-car'i-ot, who also betrayed him.

5 These twelve Je'sus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, [e] Go not into the way of the Gen'tiles, and into any city of [f] the Sa-mar'i-tans enter ye not:

6 [g] But go rather to the [h] lost sheep of the house of Is'ra-el.

7 [i] And as ye go, preach, saying, [k] The kingdom of heaven is at hand.

8 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: [l] freely ye have received, freely give.

9 [m] [3] Provide neither gold, nor silver, nor [n] brass in your purses;

10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet [4] staves: [o] for the workman is worthy of his meat.

11 [p] And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, inquire who in it is worthy; and there abide till ye go thence.

12 And when ye come into a house, salute it.

13 [q] And if the house be worthy, let your peace come upon it: [r] but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

14 [s] And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words, when ye depart out of that house or city, [t] shake off the dust of your feet.

15 Verily I say unto you, [u] It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sod'om and Go-mor'rah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

16 ¶ [x] Behold, I send you forth as sheep in the midst of wolves: [y] be ye therefore wise as serpents, and [z] [5] harmless as doves.

17 But beware of men: for [a] they will deliver you up to the councils, and [b] they will scourge you in their synagogues;

18 And [c] ye shall be brought before governors and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gen'tiles.

19 [d] But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak: for [e] it shall be given you in that same hour what ye shall speak.

20 [f] For it is not ye that speak, but the Spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 [g] And the brother shall deliver up the brother to death, and the father the child: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death.

22 And [h] ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: [i] but he that endureth to the end shall be saved.

23 But [k] when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, Ye shall not [6] have gone over the cities of Is'ra-el, [l] till the Son of man be come.

24 [m] The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord. If [n] they have called the master of the house [7] Be-el'ze-bub, how much more shall they call them of his household?

26 Fear them not therefore: [o] for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known.

27 What [p] I tell you in darkness, that speak ye in light: and what ye hear in the ear, that preach ye upon the housetops.

28 [q] And fear not them which kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear him which is able to destroy both soul and body in hell.

29 Are not two sparrows sold for a [8] farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.

30 [r] But the very hairs of your head are all numbered.

31 Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

32 [s] Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, [t] him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven.

33 [u] But whosoever shall deny me before men, him will I also deny before my Father which is in heaven.

34 [v] Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

35 For I am come to set a man at variance [x]against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

36 And [y]a man's foes shall be they of his own household.

37 [z]He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me: and he that loveth son or daughter more than me is not worthy of me.

38 [a]And he that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me, is not worthy of me.

39 [b]He that findeth his life shall lose it: and he that loseth his life for my sake shall find it.

40 ¶ [c]He that receiveth you receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

41 [d]He that receiveth a prophet in the name of a prophet shall receive a prophet's reward; and he that receiveth a righteous man in the name of a righteous man shall receive a righteous man's reward.

42 [e]And whosoever shall give to drink unto one of these little ones a cup of cold water only in the name of a disciple, verily I say unto you, he shall in no wise lose his reward.

CHAPTER XI.

John the Baptist sendeth two of his disciples to Jesus. 7 His testimony concerning John. 16 The Jews reject both. 20 Jesus upbraideth Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum; 26 and rejoiceth that the gospel is revealed unto babes. 28 His invitation to the heavy laden.

AND it came to pass, when Je'sus had made an end of commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.

2 [a]Now when John had heard [b]in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,

3 And said unto him, Art thou [c]he that should come, or do we look for another?

4 Je'sus answered and said unto them, Go and show John again those things which ye do hear and see:

5 [d]The blind receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf hear, the dead are raised up, and [e]the poor have the gospel preached to them.

6 And blessed is he, whosoever shall not [f]be offended in me.

7 ¶ [g]And as they departed, Je'sus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderness to see? [h]A reed shaken with the wind?

8 But what went ye out for to see? [i]A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing are in kings' houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, [i]and more than a prophet.

10 For this is he, of whom it is written, [j]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

11 Verily I say unto you, Among them that are born of women, there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding, he that is least in the kingdom of heaven is [k]greater than he.

12 [l]And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven [1]suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

13 [m]For all the prophets and the law prophesied until John.

14 And if ye will receive it, this is [n]E-li'as, which was for to come.

15 [o]He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

16 ¶ [p]But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows,

17 And saying, [q]We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, [r]He hath a devil.

19 The Son of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold a man gluttonous, and a winebibber, [s]a friend of publicans and sinners. [t]But wisdom is justified of her children.

20 ¶ [u]Then began he to upbraid the cities wherein most of his mighty works were done, because they repented not:

21 Woe unto thee, Cho-ra'zin! woe unto thee, Beth-sai'da! for if the mighty works, which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Si'don, they would have repented long ago [v]in sackcloth and ashes.

22 But I say unto you, [w]It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Si'don at the day of judgment, than for you.

23 And thou, Ca-per'na-um, [x]which art exalted unto heaven, shalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works, which have been done in thee, had been done in Sod'om, it would have remained until this day.

24 But I say unto you, [y]That it shall be more tolerable for the land of Sod'om in the day of judgment, than for thee.

25 ¶ [z]At that time Je'sus answered and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, because [a]thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, [b]and hast revealed them unto babes.

26 Even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.

27 [c]All things are delivered unto me of my Father: and no man knoweth the

CHAPTER XII.

The disciples pluck ears of corn on the sabbath. 10 A withered hand restored whole. 14 Jesus healeth many, and chargeth them not to make him known. 22 A blind and dumb man possessed with a devil is healed. 31 Blasphemy against the Holy Ghost. 38 The scribes and Pharisees seek a sign. 46 Jesus' true disciples are his nearest relatives.

AT that time [a]Je'sus went on the sabbath day through the corn; and his disciples were ahungered, and began to pluck the ears of corn, and to eat.

2 But when the Phar'i-sees saw it, they said unto him, Behold, thy disciples do that which is not lawful to do upon the sabbath day.

3 But he said unto them, Have ye not read [b]what Da'vid did, when he was ahungered, and they that were with him;

4 How he entered into the house of God, and did eat [c]the showbread, which was not lawful for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, [d]but only for the priests?

5 Or have ye not read in the [e]law, how that on the sabbath days the priests in the temple profane the sabbath, and are blameless?

6 But I say unto you, That in this place is [f]one greater than the temple.

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, [g]I will have mercy, and not sacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltless.

8 For the Son of man is Lord even of the sabbath day.

9 [h]And when he was departed thence, he went into their synagogue:

10 ¶ And behold, there was a man which had his hand withered. And they asked him, saying, [i]Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath days? that they might accuse him.

11 And he said unto them, What man shall there be among you, that shall have one sheep, and [k]if it fall into a pit on the sabbath day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then [l]is a man better than a sheep? Wherefore [m]it is lawful to do well on the sabbath days.

13 Then saith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it forth; [n]and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14 ¶ Then [o]the Phar'i-sees went out, and [1]held a council against him, how they might destroy him.

15 But when Je'sus knew it, [m]he withdrew himself from thence: [n]and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all;

16 And [o]charged them that they should not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by E-sa'ias the prophet, saying,

18 [p]Behold my servant, whom I have chosen; my beloved, [q]in whom my soul is well pleased: I will put my Spirit upon him, and he shall show judgment to the Gen'tiles.

19 He [r]shall not strive, nor cry; neither shall any man hear his voice in the streets.

20 A [s]bruised reed shall he not break, and smoking flax shall he not quench, till he send forth judgment unto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gen'tiles trust.

22 ¶ [t]Then was brought unto him one possessed with a devil, blind, and dumb: and he healed him, insomuch that the blind and dumb both spake and saw.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this the Son of Da'vid?

24 [u]But when the Phar'i-sees heard it, they said, This fellow doth not cast out devils, but by [2]Be-el'ze-bub the prince of the devils.

25 And Je'sus [v]knew their thoughts, and said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and every city or house divided against itself shall not stand:

26 And if Sa'tan cast out Sa'tan, he is divided against himself; how shall then [w]his kingdom stand?

27 And if I by Be-el'ze-bub cast out devils, by [x]whom do your children cast them out? therefore they shall be your judges.

28 But if I cast out devils by the Spirit of God, then [y]the kingdom of God is come unto you.

29 [z]Or else how can one enter into a strong man's house, and spoil his goods, except he first bind the strong man? and then he will spoil his house.

30 He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth abroad.

31 ¶ Wherefore I say unto you, [a]All manner of sin and blasphemy shall be forgiven unto men: [b]but the blasphemy against the Holy Ghost shall not be forgiven unto men.

32 And whosoever [c]speaketh a word against the Son of man, [d]it shall be forgiven him: but whosoever speaketh against the Holy Ghost, [e]it shall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

rupt, and his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

34 O [a] generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, speak good things? [b] for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh.

35 A [c] good man out of the good treasure of the heart bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treasure bringeth forth evil things.

36 But I say unto you, That [d] every idle word that men shall speak, they shall give account thereof in the day of judgment.

37 For by thy [e] words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned.

38 ¶ [f] Then certain of the scribes and of the Phar'i-sees answered, saying, Master, we would see a sign from thee.

39 But he answered and said unto them, An evil and [g] adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given to it, but the sign of the prophet Jo'nas:

40 [h] For as Jo'nas was three days and three nights in the whale's belly: so shall the Son of man be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 [i] The men of Nin'e-veh shall rise in the judgment with this generation, and [k] shall condemn it: [l] because they repented at the preaching of Jo'nas; and behold, a greater than Jo'nas is here.

42 [m] The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for she came from the uttermost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Sol'o-mon; and behold, a greater than Sol'o-mon is here.

43 [n] When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, [o] he walketh through dry places, seeking rest, and findeth none.

44 Then he saith, I will return into my house from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, swept, and garnished.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himself seven other spirits more wicked than himself, and they enter in and dwell there: [p] and the last state of that man is worse than the first. Even so shall it be also unto this wicked generation.

46 ¶ While he yet talked to the people, [q] behold, his mother and [r] his brethren stood without, desiring to speak with him.

47 Then one said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to speak with thee.

48 But he answered and said unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

49 And he stretched forth his hand toward his disciples, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

50 For [s] whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister, and mother.

CHAPTER XIII.

The parable of the sower, 18 and its exposition. 24 The parable of the tares, 31 of the mustard seed, 33 of the leaven, 44 of the hidden treasure, 45 of the pearl, 47 and of the net cast into the sea. 53 Jesus is contemned of his own countrymen.

THE same day went Je'sus out of the house, [a] and sat by the sea side.

2 [b] And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, so that [c] he went into a ship, and sat; and the whole multitude stood on the shore.

3 And he spake many things unto them in parables, saying, [d] Behold, a sower went forth to sow;

4 And when he sowed, some seeds fell by the way side, and the fowls came and devoured them up:

5 Some fell upon [e] stony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they sprung up, because they had no deepness of earth:

6 And when the [f] sun was up, they were scorched; and because they had no root, they withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns; and the thorns sprung up, and choked them:

8 But others fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, some [g] a hundredfold, some sixtyfold, some thirtyfold.

9 [h] Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 And the disciples came, and said unto him, Why speakest thou unto them in parables?

11 He answered and said unto them, Because [i] it is given unto you to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 [k] For whosoever hath, to him shall be given, and he shall have more abundance: but whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken away even that he hath.

13 Therefore speak I to them in parables: [l] because they seeing see not; and hearing they hear not, neither do they understand.

14 And in them is fulfilled the prophecy of E-sa'ias, which saith, [m] By hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and shall not perceive:

15 For this people's heart is waxed gross, and their ears [n] are dull of hearing, and their [o] eyes they have closed; lest at any time they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and should understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

16 But [p] blessed are your eyes, for they see: and your ears, for they hear.

17 For verily I say unto you, [q] That many prophets and righteous men have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

18 ¶ [n]Hear ye therefore the parable of the sower.

19 When any one heareth the word [o]of the kingdom, [p]and understandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was sown in his heart. This is he which received seed by the way side.

20 But he that received the seed into stony places, the same is he that heareth the word, and anon [q]with joy receiveth it;

21 Yet hath he not root in himself, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by [r]he is offended.

22 [s]He also that receiveth seed [t]among the thorns is he that heareth the word; and the care of this world, and the deceitfulness of riches, choke the word, and he becometh unfruitful.

23 But he that received seed into the good ground is he that heareth the word, and understandeth it; which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some a hundredfold, some sixty, some thirty.

24 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, [u]The kingdom of heaven is likened unto a man which sowed good seed in his field:

25 But while men slept, his enemy came and sowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 [v]So the servants of the householder came and said unto him, Sir, didst not thou sow good seed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said unto them, An enemy hath done this. The servants said unto him, [w]Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he said, Nay; lest while ye gather up the tares, ye root up also the wheat with them.

30 Let [x]both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but [y]gather the wheat into my barn.

31 ¶ Another parable put he forth unto them, saying, [z]The kingdom of heaven is like to a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and sowed in his field:

32 Which indeed is [a]the least of all seeds: but when it is grown, it is the greatest among herbs, and becometh a tree, so that the birds of the air come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ [b]Another parable spake he unto them; The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three [1]measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

34 [y]All these things spake Je'sus unto the multitude in parables; and without a parable spake he not unto them:

35 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying, [z]I will open my mouth in parables; [a]I will utter things which have been kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then Je'sus sent the multitude away, and went into the house: and his disciples came unto him, saying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered and said unto them, He that soweth the good seed is the Son of man;

38 [b]The field is the world; the good seed are the children of the kingdom; but the tares are [c]the children of the wicked one;

39 The enemy that sowed them is the devil; [d]the harvest is the end of the world; and the reapers are the angels.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burned in the fire; so shall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Son of man shall send forth his angels, [e]and they shall gather out of his kingdom all [2]things that offend, and them which do iniquity;

42 [f]And shall cast them into a furnace of fire: [g]there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

43 [h]Then shall the righteous shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. [i]Who hath ears to hear, let him hear.

44 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto treasure hid in a field; the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and [k]selleth all that he hath, and [l]buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a merchantman, seeking goodly pearls:

46 Who, when he had found [m]one pearl of great price, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 ¶ Again, the kingdom of heaven is like unto a net, that was cast into the sea, and [n]gathered of every kind:

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to shore, and sat down, and gathered the good into vessels, but cast the bad away.

49 So shall it be at the end of the world: the angels shall come forth, and [o]sever the wicked from among the just,

50 [p]And shall cast them into the furnace of fire: there shall be wailing and gnashing of teeth.

51 Je'sus saith unto them, Have ye understood all these things? They say unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then said he unto them, Therefore every scribe, which is instructed unto the kingdom of heaven, is like unto a man that is a householder, which bringeth forth out of his treasure [q]things new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to pass, that when Je'sus had finished these parables, he departed thence.

54 [r]And when he was come into his own country, he taught them in their synagogue, insomuch that they were astonished, and said, Whence hath this man this wisdom, and these mighty works?

55 [s]Is not this the carpenter's son? is not his mother called Ma'ry? and [t]his brethren, [u]James, and Jo'ses, and Si'mon, and Ju'das?

56 And his sisters, are they not all with us? Whence then hath this man all these things?

57 And they [x]were offended in him. But Je'sus said unto them, [y]A prophet is not without honour, save in his own country, and in his own house.

58 And [z]he did not many mighty works there because of their unbelief.

CHAPTER XIV.

Herod's opinion of Jesus. 3 Why John the Baptist was beheaded. 13 Jesus feedeth five thousand men. 22 He walketh on the sea. 34 As many as touch the hem of his garment are healed.

AT that time [a]Her'od the tetrarch heard of the fame of Je'sus,

2 And said unto his servants, This is John the Baptist; he is risen from the dead; and therefore mighty works [1]do show forth themselves in him.

3 ¶ [b]For Her'od had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for He-ro'di-as' sake, his brother Phil'ip's wife.

4 For John said unto him, [c]It is not lawful for thee to have her.

5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, [d]because they counted him as a prophet.

6 But when Her'od's birthday was kept, the daughter of He-ro'di-as danced [2]before them, and pleased Her'od.

7 Whereupon he promised with an oath to give her whatsoever she would ask.

8 And she, [e]being before instructed of her mother, said, Give me here John the Baptist's head in a charger.

9 And the king was [f]sorry: nevertheless for the oath's sake, and them which sat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her.

10 And he sent, and [g]beheaded John in the prison.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damsel: and she brought it to her mother.

12 And his disciples came, and took up the body, and buried it, and went and told Je'sus.

13 ¶ [h]When Je'sus heard of it, he departed thence by ship into a desert place apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

14 And Je'sus went forth, and saw a great multitude, and [f]was moved with compassion toward them, and he healed their sick.

15 ¶ [g]And when it was evening, his disciples came to him, saying, This is a desert place, and the time is now past; send the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themselves victuals.

16 But Je'sus said unto them, They need not depart; give ye them to eat.

17 And they say unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fishes.

18 He said, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the grass, and took the five loaves, and the two fishes, and looking up to heaven, [h]he blessed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and [i]were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thousand men, besides women and children.

22 ¶ And straightway Je'sus constrained his disciples to get into a ship, and to go before him unto the other side, while he sent the multitudes away.

23 [k]And when he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray: [l]and when the evening was come, he was there alone.

24 But the ship was now in the midst of the sea,[m] tossed with waves: for the wind was contrary.

25 And in the fourth watch of the night Je'sus went unto them, walking on the sea.

26 And when the disciples saw him [n]walking on the sea, they were troubled, saying, It is a spirit; and they cried out for fear.

27 But straightway Je'sus spake unto them, saying, [o]Be of good cheer; it is I; be not afraid.

28 And Pe'ter answered him and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

29 And he said, Come. And when Pe'ter was come down out of the ship, he walked on the water, to go to Je'sus.

30 But when he saw the wind [3]boisterous, he was afraid; and beginning to sink, he cried, saying, Lord, save me.

31 And immediately Je'sus stretched forth his hand, and caught him, and said unto him, [p]O thou of little faith, wherefore didst thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ship, the wind ceased.

33 Then they that were in the ship came and worshipped him, saying, Of a truth [q]thou art the Son of God.

34 ¶ [n]And when they were gone over, they came into the land of Gen-nes'a-ret.

35 And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that country round about, and brought unto him all that were diseased;

36 And besought him that they might only touch the hem of his garment: and [o]as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

CHAPTER XV.

Jesus reproveth the scribes and Pharisees on account of their traditions; 10 teacheth that what goeth into the mouth defileth not a man; 21 healeth the daughter of a woman of Canaan, and many others; 32 and feedeth four thousand men.

THEN [a]came to Je'sus scribes and Phar'i-sees, which were of Je-ru'sa-lem, saying,

2 [b]Why do thy disciples transgress [c]the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their hands when they eat bread.

3 But he answered and said unto them, [d]Why do ye also transgress the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, saying, [e]Honour thy father and mother: and, [f]He that curseth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye say, Whosoever shall say to his father or his mother, [g]It is a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me;

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he shall be free. [h]Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition.

7 Ye [i]hypocrites, well did E-sa'ias prophesy of you, saying,

8 [j]This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me.

9 But in vain they do worship me, [k]teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ [l]And he called the multitude, and said unto them, Hear, and understand:

11 [m]Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man; but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his disciples, and said unto him, Knowest thou that the Phar'i-sees were offended, after they heard this saying?

13 But he answered and said, [n]Every plant, which my heavenly Father hath not planted, shall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: [o]they be blind leaders of the blind. And if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

15 [p]Then answered Pe'ter and said unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

16 And Je'sus said, [q]Are ye also yet without understanding?

17 Do not ye yet understand, that [r]whatsoever entereth in at the mouth goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But [r]those things which proceed out of the mouth come forth from the heart; and they defile the man.

19 [s]For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, false witness, blasphemies:

20 These are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwashen hands defileth not a man.

21 ¶ [t]Then Je'sus went thence, and departed into the coasts of Tyre and Si'don.

22 And behold, a [u]woman of Ca'naan came out of the same coasts, and cried unto him, saying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou Son of Da'vid; my daughter is grievously vexed with a devil.

23 But [v]he answered her not a word. And his disciples came and besought him, saying, Send her away; for she crieth after us.

24 But he answered and said, [w]I am not sent but unto the lost sheep of the house of Is'ra-el.

25 Then came she and worshipped him, saying, Lord, help me.

26 But he answered and said, It is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it to [x]dogs.

27 And she said, [y]Truth, Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbs which fall from their masters' table.

28 Then Je'sus answered and said unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very hour.

29 [z]And Je'sus departed from thence, and came nigh [a]unto the sea of Gal'i-lee; and went up into a mountain, and sat down there.

30 [b]And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Je'sus' feet; and he healed them:

31 Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they [c]glorified the God of Is'ra-el.

32 ¶ [d]Then Je'sus called his disciples unto him, and said, [e]I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: and I will not send them away fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 [f]And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude?

34 And Je'sus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes.

35 And he commanded the multitude to sit down on the ground.

CHAPTER XVI.

The Pharisees require a sign. 6 Jesus warneth his disciples of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 13 What the people think of Jesus, 16 and Peter's confession of him. 21 Jesus foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 24 Those who will follow him must take up their cross.

THE [a]Phar'i-sees also with the Sad'du-cees came, and tempting desired him that he would show them a sign from heaven.

2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, It will be fair weather: for the sky is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to-day: for the sky is red and lowering. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the sky; but can ye not discern [b]the signs of the times?

4 [c]A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a sign; and there shall no sign be given unto it, but the sign of the prophet Jo'nas. [d]And he left them, and departed.

5 And [e]when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 ¶ Then Je'sus said unto them, [f]Take heed and beware of the [g]leaven of the Phar'i-sees and of the Sad'du-cees.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.

8 Which when Je'sus perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among yourselves, because ye have brought no bread?

9 [h]Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

10 [i]Neither the seven loaves of the four thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

11 How is it that ye do not understand that I spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Phar'i-sees and of the Sad'du-cees?

12 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the [k]doctrine of the Phar'i-sees and of the Sad'du-cees.

13 ¶ When Je'sus came into the coasts of Ces-a-re'a Phil-ip'pi, he asked his disciples, saying, [l]Whom do men say that I, the Son of man, am?

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 And Si'mon Pe'ter answered and said, [i]Thou art the Christ, the Son of the living God.

17 And Je'sus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou, Si'mon Bar-jo'na: [k]for flesh and blood hath not revealed it unto thee, but [l]my Father which is in heaven.

18 And I say also unto thee, That [m]thou art Pe'ter, and [n]upon this rock I will build my church; and [o]the gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19 [p]And I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

20 [q]Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Je'sus the Christ.

21 ¶ From that time forth began Je'sus [r]to show unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Je-ru'sa-lem, and suffer many things of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 Then Pe'ter took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, Be it far from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

23 But he turned, and said unto Pe'ter, Get thee behind me, [s]Sa'tan: [t]thou art an offence unto me: for thou savourest not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 ¶ [u]Then said Je'sus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me.

25 For [x]whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it.

26 For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or [y]what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

and bringeth them up into a high mountain apart,

2 And was transfigured before them: and [a]his face did shine as the sun, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And behold, there appeared unto them Mo'ses and E-li'as talking with him.

4 Then answered Pe'ter, and said unto Je'sus, Lord, [b]it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mo'ses, and one for E-li'as.

5 [c]While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold a voice out of the cloud, which said, [d]This is my beloved Son, [e]in whom I am well pleased; [f]hear ye him.

6 [g]And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Je'sus came and [h]touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lifted up their eyes, they saw no man, save Je'sus only.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, [i]Je'sus charged them, saying, Tell the vision to no man, until the Son of man be risen again from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, [j]Why then say the scribes that E-li'as must first come?

11 And Je'sus answered and said unto them, E-li'as truly shall first come, and [k]restore all things.

12 [l]But I say unto you, That E-li'as is come already, and they knew him not, but [m]have done unto him whatsoever they listed. Likewise [n]shall also the Son of man suffer of them.

13 [o]Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

14 ¶ [p]And when they were come to the multitude, there came to him a certain man, kneeling down to him, and saying,

15 Lord, have mercy on my son; for he is lunatic, and sore vexed: for ofttimes he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they [q]could not cure him.

17 Then Je'sus answered and said, O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Je'sus [r]rebuked the devil; and he departed out of him: and the child was cured from that very hour.

19 Then came the disciples to Je'sus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Je'sus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you, [s]If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove: and nothing shall be impossible unto you.

21 Howbeit this kind goeth not out but by prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ [r]And while they abode in Gal'i-lee, Je'sus said unto them, The Son of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again. And they were exceeding sorry.

24 ¶ And [s]when they were come to Ca-per'na-um, they that received [1]tribute money came to Pe'ter, and said, Doth not your master pay tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Je'sus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Si'mon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custom or tribute? of their own children, or of strangers?

26 Pe'ter saith unto him, Of strangers. Je'sus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast a hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up; and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt find [2]a piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Jesus exhorteth his disciples to humility, 7 to avoid offences, 10 and not to despise the little ones. 15 How to deal with an offending brother; 21 and how often to forgive him. 23 The parable of the king who took account of his servants.

AT [a]the same time came the disciples unto Je'sus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?

2 And Je'sus called a little child unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, [b]Except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

4 [c]Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little child, the same is greatest in the kingdom of heaven.

5 And [d]whoso shall receive one such little child in my name receiveth me.

6 [e]But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which believe in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 ¶ Woe unto the world because of offences! for [f]it must needs be that offences come; but [g]woe to that man by whom the offence cometh!

8 [h]Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet to be cast into [i]everlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather than having two eyes to be cast into hell-fire.

10 Take heed that ye despise not one of these little ones; for I say unto you, That in heaven [i] their angels do always [j] behold the face of my Father which is in heaven.

11 [k] For the Son of man is come to save that which was lost.

12 How think ye? if a man have a hundred sheep, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leave the ninety and nine, and goeth into the mountains, and seeketh that which is gone astray?

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say unto you, he [m] rejoiceth more of that sheep, than of the ninety and nine which went not astray.

14 Even so it is not the will of your Father which is in heaven, that one of these little ones should perish.

15 ¶ Moreover [n] if thy brother shall trespass against thee, go and tell him his fault between thee and him alone: if he shall hear thee, [o] thou hast gained thy brother.

16 But if he will not hear thee, then take with thee one or two more, that in [p] the mouth of two or three witnesses every word may be established.

17 And if he shall neglect to hear them, tell it unto the church: but if he neglect to hear the church, let him be unto thee as a [q] heathen man and a publican.

18 Verily I say unto you, [r] Whatsoever ye shall bind on earth shall be bound in heaven; and whatsoever ye shall loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven.

19 [s] Again I say unto you, That if two of you shall agree on earth as touching any thing that they shall ask, [t] it shall be done for them of my Father which is in heaven.

20 For where [u] two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 ¶ Then came Pe'ter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sin against me, and I forgive him? [v] till seven times?

22 Je'sus saith unto him, I say not unto thee, Until seven times: [x] but, Until seventy times seven.

23 ¶ Therefore is the kingdom of heaven likened unto a certain king, which would take account of his servants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought unto him, which owed him ten thousand talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him [y] to be sold, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and [1] worshipped him, saying, Lord, have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

CHAPTER XIX.

Jesus healeth the sick. 3 He answereth the Pharisees concerning divorce, 10 and his disciples concerning marriage. 13 He blesseth little children; 16 answereth the rich young man; 23 and declareth how hard it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God. 27 The reward of those who forsake all and follow him.

AND it came to pass, [a] that when Je'sus had finished these sayings, he departed from Gal'i-lee, and came into the coasts of Ju-de'a beyond Jor'dan;

2 [b] And great multitudes followed him; and he healed them there.

3 ¶ The Phar'i-sees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife for every cause?

4 And he answered and said unto them, Have ye not read, [c] that he which made them at the beginning made them male and female,

5 And said, [d] For this cause shall a man leave father and mother, and shall cleave to his wife: and [e] they twain shall be one flesh?

6 Wherefore they are no more twain, but one flesh. What therefore [f] God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

7 They say unto him, [g] Why did Mo'ses then command to give a writing of divorcement, and to put her away?

8 He saith unto them, Mo'ses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so.

9 [g] And I say unto you, Whosoever shall put away his wife, except it be for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery: and whoso marrieth her which is put away doth commit adultery.

10 ¶ His disciples say unto him, [h] If the case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them, [i] All men cannot receive this saying, save they to whom it is given.

12 For there are some eunuchs, which were so born from their mother's womb: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and [k] there be eunuchs, which have made themselves eunuchs for the kingdom of heaven's sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ¶ [l] Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples [m] rebuked them.

14 But Je'sus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not, to come unto me; for [n] of such is the kingdom of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ¶ [o] And behold, one came and said unto him, [p] Good Master, what good thing shall I do, that I may have eternal life?

17 And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is [q] none good but one, that is, God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 He saith unto him, Which? Je'sus said, [r] Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, 19 [s] Honour thy father and thy mother: and, [t] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?

21 Je'sus said unto him, If thou wilt be perfect, [u] go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowful: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ Then said Je'sus unto his disciples, Verily I say unto you, That [v] a rich man shall hardly enter into the kingdom of heaven.

24 And again I say unto you, It is [w] easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 But Je'sus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is impossible; but [u] with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ [x] Then answered Pe'ter and said unto him, Behold, [y] we have forsaken all, and followed thee; what shall we have therefore?

28 And Je'sus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, That ye which have followed me, in the regeneration when the Son of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, [z] ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Is'ra-el.

29 [a] And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my name's sake, shall receive a hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

30 [b] But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first.

CHAPTER XX.

The parable of the labourers in the vineyard. 17 Jesus again foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 20 The request of the mother of Zebedee's children. 25 Jesus exhorteth to humility. 30 He giveth sight to two blind men.

FOR the kingdom of heaven is like unto a man that is a householder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a [1] penny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third hour, and saw others standing idle in the marketplace,

4 And said unto them; Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth hour, and did likewise.

6 And about the eleventh hour he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, [a] Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard; and [b] whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh hour, they received every man a penny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more; and they likewise received every man a penny.

11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the good man of the house,

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way: I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.

15 [a]Is it not lawful for me to do what I will with mine own? [b]Is thine eye evil, because I am good?

16 [c]So the last shall be first, and the first last: [d]for many be called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ [e]And Je'sus going up to Je-ru'sa-lem took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 [f]Behold, we go up to Je-ru'sa-lem; and the Son of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests and unto the scribes, and they shall condemn him to death,

19 [g]And shall deliver him to the Gen'tiles to mock, and to scourge, and to crucify him: and the third day he shall rise again.

20 ¶ [h]Then came to him the mother of [i]Zeb'e-dee's children with her sons, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sons [k]may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdom.

22 But Je'sus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to drink of [l]the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with [m]the baptism that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.

23 And he saith unto them, [n]Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to [o]give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24 [p]And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.

25 But Je'sus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gen'tiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them.

26 But [q]it shall not be so among you: but [r]whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister;

27 [s]And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant:

29 [a]And as they departed from Jer'i-cho, a great multitude followed him.

30 ¶ And behold, [b]two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Je'sus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of Da'vid.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou Son of Da'vid.

32 And Je'sus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?

33 They say unto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Je'sus had compassion on them, and [c]touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

CHAPTER XXI.

Jesus' public entry into Jerusalem. 12 He driveth the traders out of the temple; 17 curseth a fig tree; 23 and silenceth those who question his authority. 28 The parable of the two sons; 33 and of the wicked husbandmen.

AND [a]when they drew nigh unto Je-ru'sa-lem, and were come to Beth-pha'ge, unto [b]the mount of Ol'ives, then sent Je'sus two disciples,

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you, and straightway ye shall find an ass tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say aught unto you, ye shall say, [c]The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he will send them.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 [d]Tell ye the daughter of Zi'on, Behold, thy King cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an ass, and a colt the foal of an ass.

6 [e]And the disciples went, and did as Je'sus commanded them,

7 And brought the ass, and the colt, and [f]put on them their clothes, and they set him thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way; [g]others cut down branches from the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cried, saying, [h]Hosanna to the Son of Da'vid: [i]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord; Hosanna in the highest.

10 [j]And when he was come into Je-ru'sa-lem, all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Je'sus [k]the prophet of Naz'a-reth of Gal'i-lee.

12 ¶ [l]And Je'sus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the [1] money changers, and the seats of them that sold doves,

13 And said unto them, It is written, [m] My house shall be called the house of prayer, [n] but ye have made it a den of thieves.

14 And [o] the blind and the lame came to him in the temple; and he healed them.

15 And when the chief priests and scribes saw the wonderful things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the Son of Da'vid; they were sore displeased,

16 And said unto him, Hearest thou what these say? And Je'sus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, [p] Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast perfected praise?

17 ¶ And he left them, and went out of the city into [q] Beth'a-ny; and he lodged there.

18 [r] Now in the morning, as he returned into the city, he hungered.

19 [s] And when he saw [1] a fig tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon, but leaves only, and said unto it, Let no fruit grow on thee henceforward for ever. And presently the fig tree withered away.

20 [t] And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig tree withered away!

21 Je'sus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, [u] If ye have faith, and [x] doubt not, ye shall not only do this which is done to the fig tree, [y] but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done.

22 And [z] all things, whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, believing, ye shall receive.

23 ¶ [a] And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and [b] said, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority?

24 And Je'sus answered and said unto them, [c] I also will ask you one thing, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authority I do these things.

25 The baptism of John, whence was it? from heaven, or of men? And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say unto us, [d] Why did ye not then believe him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people; [e] for all hold John as a prophet.

27 And they answered Je'sus, and said, [f] We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28 ¶ But what think ye? A certain man had two sons; and he came to the first, and said, Son, go work to day in my vineyard.

29 He answered and said, I will not; but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, [c] I go, sir; and went not.

31 Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Je'sus saith unto them, [d] Verily I say unto you, That the publicans and the harlots go into the kingdom of God before you.

32 For [e] John came unto you in the way of righteousness, and ye believed him not; [f] but the publicans and the harlots believed him: and ye, when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might believe him.

33 ¶ Hear another parable: There was a certain householder, [g] which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a winepress in it, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and [h] went into a far country:

34 And when the time of the fruit drew near, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, [i] that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 [k] And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all he sent unto them his son, saying, They will reverence my son.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the son, they said among themselves, [l] This is the heir; [m] come, let us kill him, and let us seize on his inheritance.

39 [n] And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When the lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 [o] They say unto him, [p] He will miserably destroy those wicked men, [q] and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Je'sus saith unto them, [r] Did ye never read in the Scriptures, The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner: this is the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

43 Therefore say I unto you, [s] The kingdom of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever [t] shall fall on this stone shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, [u] it will grind him to powder.

45 And when the chief priests and

Phar'i-sees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because [x] they took him for a prophet.

CHAPTER XXII.

The parable of the marriage of the king's son. 11 The wedding garment. 15 The question of the Pharisees about paying tribute to Cesar, 23 and of the Sadducees concerning the resurrection. 34 The two great commandments. 41 Christ the son of David.

AND Je'sus answered [a] and spake unto them again by parables, and said,

2 The kingdom of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding: and they would not come.

4 Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: [b] my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage.

5 But [c] they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7 But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth [d] his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city.

8 Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not [e] worthy.

9 Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage.

10 So those servants went out into the highways, and [f] gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 ¶ And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man [g] which had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither not having a wedding garment? And he was speechless.

13 Then said the king to the servants, Bind him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him [h] into outer darkness; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

14 [i] For many are called, but few are chosen.

15 ¶ [j] Then went the Phar'i-sees, and took counsel how they might entangle him in his talk.

16 And they sent out unto him their disciples with the He-ro'di-ans, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the person of men.

17 Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawful to give tribute unto Ce'sar, or not?

18 But Je'sus perceived their wickedness, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute money. And they brought unto him a [1] penny.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and [2] superscription?

21 They say unto him, Ce'sar's. Then saith he unto them, [k] Render therefore unto Ce'sar the things which are Ce'sar's; and unto God the things that are God's.

22 When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ [l] The same day came to him the Sad'du-cees, [m] which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him,

24 Saying, Master, [n] Mo'ses said, If a man die, having no children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

25 Now there were with us seven brethren: and the first, when he had married a wife, deceased, and, having no issue, left his wife unto his brother:

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the [3] seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29 Je'sus answered and said unto them, Ye do err, [o] not knowing the Scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marry, nor are given in marriage, but [p] are as the angels of God in heaven.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying,

32 [q] I am the God of A'bra-ham, and the God of I'saac, and the God of Ja'cob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

33 And when the multitude heard this, [r] they were astonished at his doctrine.

34 ¶ [s] But when the Phar'i-sees had heard that he had put the Sad'du-cees to silence, they were gathered together.

35 Then one of them, which was [t] a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 Je'sus said unto him, [u] Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39 And the second is like unto it, [x] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

40 [y] On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41 ¶ [z] While the Phar'i-sees were gathered together, Je'sus asked them,

42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? whose son is he? They say unto him, The son of Da'vid.

43 He saith unto them, How then doth Da'vid in spirit call him Lord, saying,

44 [a] The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If Da'vid then call him Lord, how is he his son?

46 [b] And no man was able to answer him a word, [c] neither durst any man from that day forth ask him any more questions.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Jesus directeth the people to follow the teaching, but not the example of the scribes and Pharisees. 13 He denounceth woes upon them. 34 The blood of all the prophets to come upon that generation. 37 Jesus' lamentation over Jerusalem.

THEN spake Je'sus to the multitude, and to his disciples,

2 Saying, [a] The scribes and the Phar'i-sees sit in Mo'ses' seat:

3 All therefore whatsoever they bid you observe, that observe and do; but do not ye after their works: for [b] they say, and do not.

4 [c] For they bind heavy burdens and grievous to be borne, and lay them on men's shoulders; but they themselves will not move them with one of their fingers.

5 But [d] all their works they do for to be seen of men: [e] they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments,

6 [f] And love the uppermost rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues,

7 And greetings in the markets, and to be called of men, Rab'bi, Rab'bi.

8 [g] But be not ye called Rab'bi: for one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren.

9 And call no man your father upon the earth: [h] for one is your Father, which is in heaven.

10 Neither be ye called masters: for one is your Master, even Christ.

11 But [i] he that is greatest among you shall be your servant.

12 [k] And whosoever shall exalt himself shall be abased; and he that shall humble himself shall be exalted.

13 ¶ But [l] woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye shut up the kingdom of heaven against men: for ye neither go in yourselves, neither suffer ye them that are entering to go in.

14 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! [m] for ye devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayer: therefore ye shall receive the greater damnation.

15 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! for ye compass sea and land to make one proselyte; and when he is made, ye make him twofold more the child of hell than yourselves.

16 Woe unto you, [n] ye blind guides, which say, [o] Whosoever shall swear by the temple, it is nothing; but whosoever shall swear by the gold of the temple, he is a debtor!

17 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gold, [p] or the temple that sanctifieth the gold?

18 And, Whosoever shall swear by the altar, it is nothing; but whosoever sweareth by the gift that is upon it, he is [1] guilty.

19 Ye fools and blind: for whether is greater, the gift, or [q] the altar that sanctifieth the gift?

20 Whoso therefore shall swear by the altar, sweareth by it, and by all things thereon.

21 And whoso shall swear by the temple, sweareth by it, and by [r] him that dwelleth therein.

22 And he that shall swear by heaven, sweareth by [s] the throne of God, and by him that sitteth thereon.

23 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! [t] for ye pay tithe of mint and [2] anise and cummin, and [u] have omitted the weightier matters of the law, judgment, mercy, and faith: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

24 Ye blind guides, which [3] strain at a gnat, and swallow a camel.

25 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! [v] for ye make clean the outside of the cup and of the platter, but within they are full of extortion and excess.

26 Thou blind Phar'i-see, [x] cleanse first that which is within the cup and platter, that the outside of them may be clean also.

27 Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! [y] for ye are like unto whited sepulchres, which indeed appear beautiful outward, but are within full of dead men's bones, and of all uncleanness.

28 Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity.

29 [z] Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! because ye build the tombs of the prophets, and garnish the sepulchres of the righteous,

30 And say, If we had been in the days of our fathers, we would not have been partakers with them in the blood of the prophets.

31 Wherefore ye be witnesses unto yourselves, that [a] ye are the children of them which killed the prophets.

32 [b]Fill ye up then the measure of your fathers.

33 Ye serpents, ye [c]generation of vipers, how can ye escape the damnation of hell?

34 ¶ [d]Wherefore, behold, I send unto you prophets, and wise men, and scribes: and [e]some of them ye shall kill and crucify; and [f]some of them shall ye scourge in your synagogues, and persecute them from city to city:

35 [g]That upon you may come all the righteous blood shed upon the earth, [h]from the blood of righteous A'bel unto [i]the blood of Zach-a-ri'as son of Bar-a-chi'as, whom ye slew between the temple and the altar.

36 Verily I say unto you, All these things shall come upon this generation.

37 [k]O Je-ru'sa-lem, Je-ru'sa-lem, thou that killest the prophets, [l]and stonest them which are sent unto thee, how often would [m]I have gathered thy children together, even as a hen gathereth her chickens [n]under her wings, and ye would not!

38 Behold, your house is left unto you desolate.

39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, [o]Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Jesus foretelleth the destruction of the temple, 3 and the calamities which shall precede it. 29 The signs of his coming. 34 The day and hour thereof unknown. 42 The duty of all to watch.

AND [a]Je'sus went out, and departed from the temple: and his disciples came to him for to show him the buildings of the temple.

2 And Je'sus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, [b]There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 ¶ And as he sat upon the mount of Ol'ives, [c]the disciples came unto him privately, saying, [d]Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 And Je'sus answered and said unto them, [e]Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For [f]many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; [g]and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.

7 For [h]nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes, in divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of sorrows.

9 [i]Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my name's sake.

10 And then shall many [k]be offended, and shall betray one another, and shall hate one another.

11 And [l]many false prophets shall rise, and [m]shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquity shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 [n]But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this [o]gospel of the kingdom [p]shall be preached in all the world for a witness unto all nations; and then shall the end come.

15 [q]When ye therefore shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by [r]Dan'iel the prophet, stand in the holy place, ([s]whoso readeth, let him understand,)

16 Then [t]let them which be in Ju-de'a flee into the mountains:

17 Let him [u]which is on the housetop not come down to take any thing out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the field return back to take his clothes.

19 And [v]woe unto them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the sabbath day:

21 For [w]then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved: [x]but for the elect's sake those days shall be shortened.

23 [y]Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there; believe it not.

24 For [z]there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall show great signs and wonders; insomuch that, [a]if it were possible, they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert; go not forth: behold, he is in the secret chambers; believe it not.

27 [b]For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

28 [c]For wheresoever the carcass is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 ¶ [d]Immediately after the tribulation of those days [e]shall the sun be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the stars shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heavens shall be shaken:

30 [f] And then shall appear the sign of the Son of man in heaven: [g] and then shall all the tribes of the earth mourn, [h] and they shall see the Son of man coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory.

31 [i] And he shall send his angels [1] with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 Now learn [k] a parable of the fig tree; When his branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh:

33 So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know [l] that [2] it is near, even at the doors.

34 Verily I say unto you, [m] This generation shall not pass, till all these things be fulfilled.

35 [n] Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away.

36 ¶ [o] But of that day and hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father only.

37 But as the days of No'ah were, so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

38 [q] For as in the days that were before the flood they were eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, until the day that No'ah entered into the ark,

39 And knew not until the flood came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Son of man be.

40 [r] Then shall two be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 Two women shall be grinding at the mill; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 ¶ [s] Watch therefore; for ye know not what hour your Lord doth come.

43 [t] But know this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 [u] Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an hour as ye think not the Son of man cometh.

45 [x] Who then is a faithful and wise servant, whom his lord hath made ruler over his household, to give them meat in due season?

46 [y] Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

47 Verily I say unto you, That [z] he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

48 But and if that evil servant shall [a] say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming;

49 And shall begin to smite his fellow servants, [b] and to eat and drink with the drunken;

50 The Lord of that servant shall [c] come in a day when he looketh not for him, and in an hour that he is not aware of,

51 And shall [3] cut him asunder, and appoint him his portion with the hypocrites: [a] there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

CHAPTER XXV.

The parable of the ten virgins, 14 and of the talents. 31 The last judgment described.

THEN shall the kingdom of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and went forth to meet [a] the bridegroom.

2 [b] And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oil with them:

4 But the wise took oil in their vessels with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom tarried, [c] they all slumbered and slept.

6 And at midnight [d] there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh; go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and [e] trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise, Give us of your oil; for our lamps are [1] gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; [f] lest there be not enough for us and you: but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for yourselves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came; and they that were ready went in with him to the marriage: and [g] the door was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, [h] Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, [i] I know you not.

13 [j] Watch therefore; for ye know neither the day nor the hour wherein the Son of man cometh.

14 ¶ [k] For the kingdom of heaven is [l] as a man travelling into a far country, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods.

15 And unto one he gave five talents, to another two, and to another one; [m] to every man according to his several ability; and straightway took his journey.

16 Then he that had received the five talents went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had received one went and digged in the earth, and hid his lord's money.

19 After a long time the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had received five talents came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents: behold, I have gained beside them five talents more.

23 His lord said unto him, [o]Well done, good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent came and said, Lord, [p]I knew thee that thou art a hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strewed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo, there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothful servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strewed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

CHAPTER XXVI.

The rulers conspire against Jesus. 6 At Bethany a woman anointeth his head. 14 Judas selleth him. 17 Jesus keepeth the passover; 26 instituteth the Lord's supper; 36 prayeth in the garden; 47 and is betrayed with a kiss. 57 He is brought before the high priest and condemned. 69 Peter denieth him.

AND it came to pass, when Je'sus had finished all these sayings, he said unto his disciples,

2 [a]Ye know that after two days is the feast of the passover, and the Son of man is betrayed to be crucified.

3 [b]Then assembled together the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high priest, who was called Cai'a-phas,

4 And [c]consulted that they might take Je'sus by subtilty, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar among the people.

6 ¶ [d]Now when Je'sus was in [e]Beth'-a-ny, in the house of Si'mon the leper,

7 There came unto him a woman having an alabaster box of [f]very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he sat at meat.

8 [g]But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 For this ointment might have been sold for much, and given to the poor.

10 When Je'sus understood it, he said unto them, [h]Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good work upon me.

11 [f]For ye have the poor always with you; but [g]me ye have not always.

12 For in that she hath poured this ointment on my body, she did it for my burial.

13 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memorial of her.

14 ¶ [h]Then one of the twelve, called [i]Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, went unto the chief priests,

15 And said unto them, [j]What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? And they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of silver.

16 And from that time he sought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ [k]Now the first day of the feast of unleavened bread the disciples came to Je'sus, saying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the passover?

18 And he said, Go into the city to such a man, and say unto him, The Master saith, [l]My time is at hand; I will keep the passover at thy house with my disciples.

19 And the disciples did as Je'sus had appointed them; and they made ready the passover.

20 [m]Now when the even was come, he sat down with the twelve.

21 And as they did eat, he said, Verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding sorrowful, and began every one of them to say unto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he answered and said, [n]He that dippeth his hand with me in the dish, the same shall betray me.

24 The Son of man goeth [o]as it is written of him: but [p]woe unto that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! it had been good for that man if he had not been born.

25 Then Ju'das, which betrayed him, answered and said, Master, is it I? He said unto him, Thou hast said.

26 ¶ [q]And as they were eating, [r]Je'sus took bread, and [1]blessed it, and brake it, and gave it to the disciples, and said, Take, eat; [s]this is my body.

27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, [t]Drink ye all of it;

28 For [u]this is my blood [x]of the new testament, which is shed [y]for many for the remission of sins.

29 But [z]I say unto you, I will not drink henceforth of this fruit of the vine, [a]until that day when I drink it new with you in my Father's kingdom.

30 [b]And when they had sung a [2]hymn, they went out into the mount of Ol'ives.

31 Then saith Je'sus unto them, [c]All ye shall [d]be offended because of me this night: for it is written, [e]I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

32 But after I am risen again, [f]I will go before you into Gal'i-lee.

33 Pe'ter answered and said unto him, Though all men shall be offended because of thee, yet will I never be offended.

34 Je'sus said unto him, [g]Verily I say unto thee, That this night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

35 Pe'ter said unto him, Though I should die with thee, yet will I not deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 ¶ [h]Then cometh Je'sus with them unto a place called Geth-sem'a-ne, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

37 And he took with him Pe'ter and [i]the two sons of Zeb'e-dee, and began to be sorrowful and very heavy.

38 Then saith he unto them, [k]My soul is exceeding sorrowful, even unto death: tarry ye here, and watch with me.

39 And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and [l]prayed, saying, [m]O my Father, if it be possible, [n]let this cup pass from me: nevertheless, [o]not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Pe'ter, What, could ye not watch with me one hour?

41 [p]Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: [q]the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not pass away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: behold, the hour is at hand, and the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 ¶ And [r]while he yet spake, lo, Ju'das, one of the twelve, came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and elders of the people.

48 Now he that betrayed him gave them a sign, saying, Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; hold him fast.

49 And forthwith he came to Je'sus, and said, Hail, Master; [s]and kissed him.

50 And Je'sus said unto him, [t]Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they, and laid hands on Je'sus, and took him.

51 And behold, [t] one of them which were with Je'sus stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and struck a servant of the high priest, and smote off his ear.

52 Then said Je'sus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: [u] for all they that take the sword shall perish with the sword.

53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me [x] more than twelve legions of angels?

54 But how then shall the Scriptures be fulfilled, [y] that thus it must be?

55 In that same hour said Je'sus to the multitudes, Are ye come out as against a thief with swords and staves for to take me? I sat daily with you teaching in the temple, and ye laid no hold on me.

56 But all this was done, that the [z] scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then [a] all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

57 ¶ [b] And they that had laid hold on Je'sus led him away to Cai'a-phas the high priest, where the scribes and the elders were assembled.

58 But Pe'ter followed him afar off unto the high priest's palace, and went in, and sat with the servants, to see the end.

59 Now the chief priests, and elders, and all the council, sought false witness against Je'sus, to put him to death;

60 But found none: yea, though [c] many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came [d] two false witnesses,

61 And said, This fellow said, [e] I am able to destroy the temple of God, and to build it in three days.

62 [f] And the high priest arose, and said unto him, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?

63 But [g] Je'sus held his peace. And the high priest answered and said unto him, [h] I adjure thee by the living God, that thou tell us whether thou be the Christ, the Son of God.

64 Je'sus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, [i] Hereafter shall ye see the Son of man [k] sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

65 [l] Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy; what further need have we of witnesses? behold, now ye have heard his blasphemy.

66 What think ye? They answered and said, [m] He is guilty of death.

67 [n] Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him; and [o] others smote him with [3] the palms of their hands,

68 Saying, [p] Prophesy unto us, thou Christ, Who is he that smote thee?

70 But he denied before them all, saying, I know not what thou sayest.

71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid saw him, and said unto them that were there, This fellow was also with Je'sus of Naz'a-reth.

72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.

73 And after a while came unto him they that stood by, and said to Pe'ter, Surely thou also art one of them; for thy [r] speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then [s] began he to curse and to swear, saying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

75 And Pe'ter remembered the word of Je'sus, which said unto him, [t] Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Jesus is delivered to Pilate. 3 Judas hangeth himself. 19 The message of Pilate's wife. 24 Pilate washeth his hands, releaseth Barabbas, and delivereth Jesus to be crucified. 29 Jesus is crowned with thorns, 34 crucified, 40 reviled, 50 dieth, and is buried. 62 The sepulchre made sure.

WHEN the morning was come, [a] all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Je'sus to put him to death:

2 And when they had [b] bound him, they led him away, and [c] delivered him to Pon'ti-us Pi'late the governor.

3 ¶ [d] Then Ju'das, which had betrayed him, when he saw that he was condemned, [e] repented himself, and brought again the thirty pieces of silver to the chief priests and elders,

4 Saying, [f] I have sinned in that I have betrayed the innocent blood. And they said, What is that to us? see thou to that.

5 And he cast down the pieces of silver in the temple, [g] and departed, and went and hanged himself.

6 And the chief priests took the silver pieces, and said, It is not lawful for to put them into the treasury, because it is the price of blood.

7 And they took counsel, and bought with them the potter's field, to bury strangers in.

8 Wherefore that field was called, [h] The field of blood, unto this day.

9 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Jer'e-my the prophet, saying, [i] And they took the thirty pieces of silver, the price of him that was valued, [1] whom they of the children of Is'ra-el did value;

10 And gave them for the potter's field, as the Lord appointed me.

11 And Je'sus stood before the governor: [k] and the governor asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Jews? And Je′sus said unto him, [h]Thou sayest.

12 And when he was accused of the chief priests and elders, [i]he answered nothing.

13 Then said Pi′late unto him, [k]Hearest thou not how many things they witness against thee?

14 And he answered him to never a word; insomuch that the governor marvelled greatly.

15 [l]Now at that feast the governor was wont to release unto the people a prisoner, whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable prisoner, called Ba-rab′bas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pi′late said unto them, Whom will ye that I release unto you? Ba-rab′bas, or Je′sus which is called Christ?

18 For he knew that for [m]envy they had delivered him.

19 ¶ When he was set down on the judgment seat, his wife sent unto him, saying, Have thou nothing to do with that [n]just man: for I have suffered many things this day in a dream because of him.

20 [o]But the chief priests and elders persuaded the multitude that they should ask Ba-rab′bas, and destroy Je′sus.

21 The governor answered and said unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I release unto you? They said, Ba-rab′bas.

22 Pi′late saith unto them, What shall I do then with Je′sus which is called Christ? They all say unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governor said, [p]Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 ¶ When Pi′late saw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he [q]took water, and washed his hands before the multitude, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this just person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and said, [r]His blood be on us, and on our children.

26 ¶ Then released he Ba-rab′bas unto them: and when [s]he had scourged Je′sus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 [t]Then the soldiers of the governor took Je′sus into the [2]common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of soldiers.

28 And they stripped him, and [u]put on him a scarlet robe.

29 ¶ [v]And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, saying, Hail, King of the Jews!

30 And [w]they spit upon him, and took the reed, and smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they took the robe off from him, and put his own raiment on him, [u]and led him away to crucify him.

32 [x]And as they came out, [y]they found a man of Cy-re′ne, Si′mon by name: him they compelled to bear his cross.

33 ¶ [z]And when they were come unto a place called Gol′goth-a, that is to say, a place of a skull,

34 [a]They gave him vinegar to drink mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 [b]And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, [c]They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 [d]And sitting down they watched him there;

37 And [e]set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JE′SUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 [f]Then were there two thieves crucified with him; one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 ¶ And [g]they that passed by reviled him, wagging their heads,

40 And saying, [h]Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days, save thyself. [i]If thou be the Son of God, come down from the cross.

41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the scribes and elders, said,

42 He saved others; himself he cannot save. If he be the King of Is′ra-el, let him now come down from the cross, and we will believe him.

43 [k]He trusted in God; let him deliver him now, if he will have him: for he said, I am the Son of God.

44 [l]The thieves also, which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 [m]Now from the sixth hour there was darkness over all the land unto the ninth hour.

46 And about the ninth hour [n]Je′sus cried with a loud voice, saying, El′i, El′i, la′ma sa-bach-tha′ni? that is to say, [o]My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for E-li′as.

48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a sponge, [p]and filled it with vinegar, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether E-li′as will come to save him.

50 ¶ [q]Je′sus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yielded up the ghost.

51 And behold, [r]the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom; and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent;

52 And the graves were opened; and many bodies of the saints which slept arose,

53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy city, and appeared unto many.

54 [s] Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Je'sus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Son of God.

55 And many women were there beholding afar off, [t] which followed Je'sus from Gal'i-lee, ministering unto him:

56 [u] Among which was Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, and Ma'ry the mother of James and Jo'ses, and the mother of Zeb'e-dee's children.

57 [x] When the even was come, there came a rich man of Ar-i-ma-the'a, named Jo'seph, who also himself was Je'sus' disciple:

58 He went to Pi'late, and begged the body of Je'sus. Then Pi'late commanded the body to be delivered.

59 And when Jo'seph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a clean linen cloth,

60 And [y] laid it in his own new tomb, which he had hewn out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the door of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, and the other Ma'ry, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ Now the next day, that followed the day of the preparation, [z] the chief priests and Phar'i-sees came together unto Pi'late,

63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, [a] After three days I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure until the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last error shall be worse than the first.

65 Pi'late said unto them, Ye have a watch: go your way, make it as sure as ye can.

66 So they went, and made the sepulchre sure, [b] sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

The resurrection of Jesus. 9 He appeareth to the women. 11 The soldiers bribed. 16 Jesus meeteth his disciples on a mountain in Galilee. 18 The great commission.

IN the [a] end of the sabbath, as it began to dawn toward the first day of the week, came Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne [b] and the other Ma'ry to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there [1] was a great earthquake: for [c] the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the door, and sat upon it.

3 [d] His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow:

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Je'sus, which was crucified.

6 He is not here: for he is risen, [e] as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay.

7 And go quickly, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead; and behold, [f] he goeth before you into Gal'i-lee; there shall ye see him: lo, I have told you.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre with fear and great joy; and did run to bring his disciples word.

9 ¶ And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, [g] Je'sus met them, saying, All hail. And they came and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Je'sus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell [h] my brethren that they go into Gal'i-lee, and there shall they see me.

11 ¶ Now when they were going, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and showed unto the chief priests all the things that were done.

12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsel, they gave large money unto the soldiers,

13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

14 And if this come to the governor's ears, we will persuade him, and secure you.

15 So they took the money, and did as they were taught: and this saying is commonly reported among the Jews until this day.

16 ¶ Then the eleven disciples went away into Gal'i-lee, into a mountain [i] where Je'sus had appointed them.

17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.

18 ¶ And Je'sus came and spake unto them, saying, [k] All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth.

19 [l] Go ye therefore, and [m] [2] teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost;

20 [n] Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world. Amen.

THE GOSPEL

ACCORDING TO

ST. MARK.

THIS Evangelist, whose Hebrew name was John, was a son of Mary, a pious woman in Jerusalem, at whose house the Apostles and Christians often assembled. He is supposed to have adopted the surname of Mark when he left Judea to preach the Gospel in foreign countries. The consent of antiquity attests that he wrote his gospel in the Greek language, under the inspection of the Apostle Peter at Rome, and between the years 60 and 63. It comprises the events connected with the life, actions, discourses, suffering, death, and resurrection of the Lord Jesus Christ.

CHAPTER I.

The preaching of John the Baptist. 9 Jesus is baptized. 12 His temptation. 14 He preacheth in Galilee, 16 and calleth Peter and Andrew, James and John. 23 A man with an unclean spirit healed; 29 also Peter's wife's mother, 32 and many others. 40 A leper cleansed.

THE beginning of the gospel of Je′sus Christ, [a] the Son of God;

2 As it is written in the prophets, [b] Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 [c] The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

4 [d] John did baptize in the wilderness, and preach the baptism of repentance [1] for the remission of sins.

5 [e] And there went out unto him all the land of Ju-de′a, and they of Je-ru′sa-lem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jor′dan, confessing their sins.

6 And John was [f] clothed with camel's hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loins; and he did eat [g] locusts and wild honey;

7 And preached, saying, [h] There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to stoop down and unloose.

8 [i] I indeed have baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you [k] with the Holy Ghost.

9 ¶ [l] And it came to pass in those days, that Je′sus came from Naz′a-reth of Gal′i-lee, and was baptized of John in Jor′dan.

10 [m] And straightway coming up out of the water, he saw the heavens [2] opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him:

11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, [n] Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

12 [o] And immediately the Spirit driveth him into the wilderness.

13 And he was there in the wilderness forty days tempted of Sa′tan; and was with the wild beasts; [p] and the angels ministered unto him.

14 ¶ [q] Now after that John was put in prison, Je′sus came into Gal′i-lee, [r] preaching the gospel of the kingdom of God,

15 And saying, [s] The time is fulfilled, and [t] the kingdom of God is at hand: repent ye, and believe the gospel.

16 [u] Now as he walked by the sea of Gal′i-lee, he saw Si′mon and An′drew his brother casting a net into the sea: for they were fishers.

17 And Je′sus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway [x] they forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 [y] And when he had gone a little further thence, he saw James the son of Zeb′e-dee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zeb′e-dee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 ¶ [z] And they went into Ca-per′na-um; and straightway on the sabbath day he entered into the synagogue, and taught.

22 [a] And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authority, and not as the scribes.

23 [b] And there was in their synagogue a man with an unclean spirit; and he cried out,

24 Saying, Let us alone; [c] what have we to do with thee, thou Je′sus of Naz′a-reth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the Holy One of God.

25 And Je′sus [d] rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the unclean spirit [e] had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region round about Gal'i-lee.

29 [d] And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entered into the house of Si'mon and An'drew, with James and John.

30 But Si'mon's [e] wife's mother lay sick of a fever; and anon [f] they tell him of her.

31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lifted her up; and immediately the fever left her, and she ministered unto them.

32 ¶ [g] And at even, when the sun did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

33 And all the city was gathered together at the door.

34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils; and [h] suffered not the devils [3] to speak, because they knew him.

35 ¶ And [i] in the morning, rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Si'mon and they that were with him followed aft[illegible] him.

37 And when they had found him, they said unto him, All men seek for thee.

38 And he said unto them, [k] Let us go into the next towns, that I may preach there also: for [l] therefore came I forth.

39 [m] And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Gal'i-lee, and cast out devils.

40 ¶ [n] And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Je'sus, moved with [o] compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean.

42 And as soon as he had spoken, [p] immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

44 And saith unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things [q] which Mo'ses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

45 [r] But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Je'sus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: [s] and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAPTER II.

Jesus healeth one sick of the palsy; 14 calleth Levi; 15 eateth with publicans and sinners; 18 and justifieth his disciples in not fasting. 23 The disciples pluck ears of corn on the sabbath.

AND again [a] he entered into Ca-per'na-um after some days; and it was noised that he was in the house.

2 And straightway [b] many were gathered together, insomuch that there was no room to receive them, no, not so much as about the door: and he preached the word unto them.

3 ¶ And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsy, which was borne of four.

4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for the press, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they let down the bed wherein the sick of the palsy lay.

5 When Je'sus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsy, Son, thy sins be forgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the scribes sitting there, and [c] reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? [d] who can forgive sins but God only?

8 And immediately, [e] when Je'sus perceived in his spirit that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 [f] Whether is it easier, to say to the sick of the palsy, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed, and walk?

10 But that ye may know that the [g] Son of man hath power on earth to forgive sins, (he saith to the sick of the palsy,)

11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way unto thine house.

12 And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We never saw it on this fashion.

13 ¶ [h] And he went forth again by the sea side; and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.

14 [i] And as he passed by, he saw Le'vi the son of Al-phe'us sitting [1] at the receipt of custom, and said unto him, Follow me. And he arose and followed him.

15 ¶ [k] And it came to pass, that, as Je'sus sat at meat in his house, many publicans and sinners sat also together with Je'sus and his disciples; for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And [l] when the scribes and Phar'i-sees saw him eat with publicans and sinners, they said unto his disciples, [l] How is it that he eateth and drinketh with publicans and sinners?

17 When Je'sus heard it, he saith unto them, [h]They that are whole have no need of the physician, but they that are sick: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

18 [i]And the disciples of John and of the Phar'i-sees used to fast: and they come and say unto him, Why do the disciples of John and of the Phar'i-sees fast, but thy disciples fast not?

19 And Je'sus said unto them, [k]Can the children of the bridechamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them? as long as they have the bridegroom with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the days will come, when the bridegroom shall be [l]taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those days.

21 No man also seweth a piece of [2]new cloth on an old garment; else the new piece that filled it up taketh away from the old, and the rent is made worse.

22 And no man putteth new wine into old [m]bottles; else the new wine doth burst the bottles, and the wine is spilled, and the bottles will be marred: but new wine must be put into new bottles.

23 ¶ [n]And it came to pass, that he went through the corn fields on the sabbath day; and his disciples began, as they went, [o]to pluck the ears of corn.

24 And the Phar'i-sees said unto him, Behold, why do they on the sabbath day that which is not lawful?

25 And he said unto them, Have ye never read [p]what Da'vid did, when he had need, and was ahungered, he, and they that were with him?

26 How he went into the house of God in the days of A-bi'a-thar the high priest, and did eat the showbread, [q]which is not lawful to eat but for the priests, and gave also to them which were with him?

27 And he said unto them, [r]The sabbath was made for man, and not man for the sabbath:

28 Therefore [s]the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

CHAPTER III.

Jesus healeth a withered hand. 7 Great multitudes follow him, of whom he healeth many. 13 He chooseth the twelve apostles. 22 Blasphemy against the Holy Ghost. 31 His true disciples are his nearest relatives.

AND [a]he entered again into the synagogue; and there was a man there which had a withered hand.

2 And [b]they watched him, whether he would heal him on the sabbath day; that they might accuse him.

3 And he saith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.

4 And he saith unto them, [c]Is it lawful to do good on the sabbath days, or to do evil? to save life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, being grieved for the [1]hardness of their hearts, he saith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he stretched it out: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

6 [b]And the Phar'i-sees went forth, and straightway took counsel with [c]the He-ro'di-ans against him, how they might destroy him.

7 But Je'sus withdrew himself with his disciples to the sea: and a great multitude from Gal'i-lee followed him, [d]and from Ju-de'a,

8 And from Je-ru'sa-lem, and from Id-u-me'a, and from beyond Jor'dan; and they about Tyre and Si'don, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.

9 And he spake to his disciples, that a small ship should wait on him because of the multitude, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many; insomuch that they [2]pressed upon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 [e]And unclean spirits, when they saw him, fell down before him, and cried, saying, [f]Thou art the Son of God.

12 And [g]he straitly charged them that they should not make him known.

13 ¶ [h]And he goeth up into a mountain, and calleth unto him whom he would: and they came unto him.

14 And he ordained twelve, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach,

15 And to have power to heal sicknesses, and to cast out devils:

16 And Si'mon [i]he surnamed Pe'ter;

17 And James the son of Zeb'e-dee, and John the brother of James; and he surnamed them [j]Bo-a-ner'ges, which is, The sons of thunder:

18 And An'drew, and Phil'ip, and Bar-thol'o-mew, and Matth'ew, and Thom'as, and James the son of Al-phe'us, and Thad'de-us, and Si'mon the [3]Ca'naan-ite,

19 And Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, which also betrayed him: and they went [4]into a house.

20 ¶ And the multitude cometh together again, [k]so that they could not so much as eat bread.

21 And when his [5]friends heard of it, they went out to lay hold on him: [l]for they said, He is beside himself.

22 ¶ And the scribes which came down from Je-ru'sa-lem said, [m]He hath Be-el'ze-bub, and by the prince of the devils casteth he out devils.

23 [n]And he called them unto him, and said unto them in parables, How can Sa'tan cast out Sa'tan?

24 And if a kingdom be [o]divided against itself, that kingdom cannot stand.

25 And [p]if a house be divided against itself, that house cannot stand.

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the Holy Ghost hath never forgiveness, but is in danger of eternal damnation:

30 Because [q]they said, He hath an unclean spirit.

31 ¶ [r]There came then his brethren and his mother, and standing without, sent unto him, calling him.

32 And the multitude sat about him, and they said unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren without seek for thee.

33 And he answered them, saying, [s]Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And he looked round about on them which sat about him, and said, Behold my mother and my brethren!

35 For whosoever shall [t]do the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, and mother.

CHAPTER IV.

The parable of the sower, 14 and its exposition. 21 A candle not to be put under a bushel. 26 The parable of the seed growing, 30 and of the mustard seed. 35 Jesus stilleth a storm on the sea.

AND [a]he began again to teach by the sea side: and there was gathered unto him a great multitude, so that he entered into a ship, and sat in the sea; and the whole multitude was by the sea on the land.

2 And he taught them many things by parables, [b]and said unto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken; Behold, there went out a sower to sow:

4 And it came to pass, as he sowed, some fell by the way side, and the fowls of the air came and devoured it up.

5 And some fell on [c]stony ground, where it had not much earth; and immediately it sprang up, because it had no depth of earth:

6 But when the sun was up, it was scorched; and because it had no root, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thorns, and the thorns grew up, and choked it, and it yielded no fruit.

8 And other fell on good ground, [d]and did yield fruit that sprang up and increased; and brought forth, some thirty, and some sixty, and some a hundred.

9 And he said unto them, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

10 [d]And when he was alone, they that were about him with the twelve asked of him the parable.

11 And he said unto them, Unto you it is given to know the mystery of the kingdom of God: but unto [e]them that are without, all these things are done in parables:

12 [f]That seeing they may see, and not perceive; and hearing they may hear, and not understand; lest at any time they should be converted, and their sins should be forgiven them.

13 And he said unto them, Know ye not this parable? and how then will ye know all parables?

14 ¶ [g]The sower soweth the word.

15 And these are they by the way side, where the word is sown; but when they have heard, Sa'tan cometh immediately, and taketh away the word that was sown in their hearts.

16 And these are they likewise which are sown on stony ground; who, when they have heard the word, immediately receive it with gladness;

17 And have no root in themselves, and so endure but for a time: afterward, when affliction or persecution ariseth for the word's sake, immediately they are offended.

18 And these are they which are sown among thorns; such as hear the word,

19 And the cares of this world, [h]and the deceitfulness of riches, and the lusts of other things entering in, choke the word, and it becometh unfruitful.

20 And these are they which are sown on good ground; such as hear the word, and receive it, and bring forth fruit, some thirtyfold, some sixty, and some a hundred.

21 ¶ [i]And he said unto them, Is a candle brought to be put under a [1]bushel, or under a bed? and not to be set on a candlestick?

22 [k]For there is nothing hid, which shall not be manifested; neither was anything kept secret, but that it should come abroad.

23 [l]If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

24 And he said unto them, Take heed what ye hear. [m]With what measure ye mete, it shall be measured to you; and unto you that hear shall more be given.

25 [n]For he that hath, to him shall be given; and he that hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he hath.

26 ¶ And he said, [o]So is the kingdom of God, as if a man should cast seed into the ground;

27 And should sleep, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow up, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth forth fruit of herself; first the blade, then the ear, after that the full corn in the ear.

o Matt.13.24.

29 But when the fruit is [2] brought forth, immediately [p] he putteth in the sickle, because the harvest is come.

30 ¶ And he said, [q] Whereunto shall we liken the kingdom of God? or with what comparison shall we compare it?

31 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which, when it is sown in the earth, is less than all the seeds that be in the earth:

32 But when it is sown, it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and shooteth out great branches; so that the fowls of the air may lodge under the shadow of it.

33 [r] And with many such parables spake he the word unto them, as they were able to hear it.

34 But without a parable spake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 [s] And the same day, when the even was come, he saith unto them, Let us pass over unto the other side.

36 And when they had sent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ship. And there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storm of wind, and the waves beat into the ship, so that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ship, asleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and say unto him, Master, carest thou not that we [t] perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the wind, and said unto the sea, Peace, be still. And the wind ceased, and there was a great calm.

40 And he said unto them, [u] Why are ye so fearful? how is it that ye have no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and said one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the wind and the sea obey him?

CHAPTER V.

Jesus casteth out the legion of devils; 11 which enter into a herd of swine. 22 Jairus entreateth him. 25 He healeth an issue of blood; 35 and raiseth the daughter of Jairus.

AND [a] they came over unto the other side of the sea, into the country of the Gad-a-renes′.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him out of the tombs a man with an unclean spirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombs; and no man could bind him, no, not with chains:

4 Because that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And always, night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombs, crying, and cutting himself with stones.

6 But when he saw Je′sus afar off, he ran and worshipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and said, [b] What have I to do with thee, Je′sus, thou Son of the most high God? I adjure thee by God, [c] that thou torment me not.

8 For he said unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean spirit.

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he besought him much that he would not send them away out of the country.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the mountains a great herd of [d] swine feeding.

12 And all the devils besought him, saying, Send us into the swine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Je′sus [e] gave them leave. And the unclean spirits went out, and entered into the swine; and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the sea, (they were about two thousand,) and were choked in the sea.

14 And they that fed the swine fled, and told it in the city, and in the country. And they went out to see what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Je′sus, and see him that was possessed with the devil, and had the legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right mind; and they were afraid.

16 And [f] they that saw it told them how it befell to him that was possessed with the devil, and also concerning the swine.

17 And [g] they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, [h] he that had been possessed with the devil prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit Je′sus suffered him not, but saith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tell them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compassion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publish in De-cap′o-lis how great things Je′sus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 [i] And when Je′sus was passed over again by ship unto the other side, much people gathered unto him; and he was nigh unto the sea.

22 [k] And behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the synagogue, Ja′i-rus by name; and when he saw him, he fell at his feet,

23 And besought him greatly, saying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death: I pray thee, come and lay thy hands on her, that she may be healed; and she shall live.

24 And Je′sus went with him; and much people followed him, and thronged him.

25 And a certain woman, [f] which had an issue of blood twelve years,

26 And [g] had suffered many things of many physicians, and had spent all that she had, and was nothing [h] bettered, but rather grew worse,

27 When she had heard of Je'sus, came in the press behind, and [i] touched his garment.

28 For she said, If I may touch but his clothes, I shall be whole.

29 And [k] straightway the fountain of her blood was dried up; and she felt in her body that she was healed of that plague.

30 And Je'sus, immediately knowing in himself that [l] virtue had gone out of him, turned him about in the press, and said, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his disciples said unto him, Thou seest the multitude thronging thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

32 And he looked round about to see her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and [m] told him all the truth.

34 And he said unto her, Daughter, [n] thy faith hath made thee whole; go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 [o] While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogue's house certain which said, Thy daughter is dead; why troublest thou the Master any further?

36 As soon as Je'sus heard the word that was spoken, he saith unto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, [p] only believe.

37 And [q] he suffered no man to follow him, save Pe'ter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, and seeth the [r] tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he saith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damsel is not [s] dead, but [t] sleepeth.

40 And they laughed him to scorn. [u] But when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damsel, and them that were with him, and entereth in where the damsel was lying.

41 And he took the damsel by the hand, and said unto her, Tal'i-tha cu'mi; which is, being interpreted, Damsel, (I say unto thee,) arise.

42 And straightway the damsel arose, and walked; for she was of the age of twelve years. And they were astonished with a great astonishment.

CHAPTER VI.

Jesus is contemned of his own countrymen. 7 He giveth the twelve power over unclean spirits, and sendeth them forth to preach. 14 Herod's opinion of Jesus. 17 Why John the Baptist was beheaded. 30 The twelve return. 34 Jesus feedeth five thousand men. 47 He walketh on the sea. 53 All that touch him are healed.

AND [a] he went out from thence, and came into his own country; and his disciples follow him.

2 And when the sabbath day was come, he began to teach in the synagogue: and many hearing him were astonished, saying, [b] From whence hath this man these things? and what wisdom is this which is given unto him, that even such mighty works are wrought by his hands?

3 Is not this the carpenter, the son of Ma'ry, [c] the brother of James, and Jo'ses, and of Ju'das, and Si'mon? and are not his sisters here with us? And they [d] were offended at him.

4 But Je'sus said unto them, [e] A prophet is not without honour, but in his own country, and among his own kin, and in his own house.

5 [f] And he could there do no mighty work, save that he laid his hands upon a few sick folk, and healed them.

6 And [g] he marvelled because of their unbelief. [h] And he went round about the villages, teaching.

7 ¶ [i] And he called unto him the twelve, and began to send them forth by two and two; and gave them power over unclean spirits;

8 And commanded them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse:

9 But [k] be shod with sandals; and not put on two coats.

10 [l] And he said unto them, In what place soever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart from that place.

11 [m] And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear you, when ye depart thence, [n] shake off the dust under your feet for a testimony against them. Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for Sod'om [1] and Go-mor'rah in the day of judgment, than for that city.

12 And they went out, and preached that men should repent.

13 And they cast out many devils, [o] and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed them.

14 [p] And king Her'od heard of him; (for his name was spread abroad;) and he said, That John the Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty works do show forth themselves in him.

15 [q] Others said, That it is E-li'as. And others said, That it is a prophet, or as one of the prophets.

16 [r] But when Her′od heard thereof, he said, It is John, whom I beheaded: he is risen from the dead.

17 For Her′od himself had sent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in prison for He-ro′di-as′ sake, his brother Phil′ip's wife; for he had married her.

18 For John had said unto Her′od, [s] It is not lawful for thee to have thy brother's wife.

19 Therefore He-ro′di-as had [2] a quarrel against him, and would have killed him; but she could not:

20 For Her′od [t] feared John, knowing that he was a just man and a holy, and [3] observed him; and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 [u] And when a convenient day was come, that Her′od [v] on his birthday made a supper to his lords, high captains, and chief estates of Gal′i-lee;

22 And when the daughter of the said He-ro′di-as came in, and danced, and pleased Her′od and them that sat with him, the king said unto the damsel, Ask of me whatsoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23 And he sware unto her, [w] Whatsoever thou shalt ask of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdom.

24 And she went forth, and said unto her mother, What shall I ask? And she said, The head of John the Baptist.

25 And she came in [x] straightway with haste unto the king, and asked, saying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger the head of John the Baptist.

26 [y] And the king was exceeding sorry; yet for his oath's sake, and for their sakes which sat with him, he would not reject her.

27 And immediately the king sent [4] an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison,

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damsel; and the damsel gave it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, [z] they came and took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb.

30 [a] And the apostles gathered themselves together unto Je′sus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 [b] And he said unto them, Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place, and rest a while: for [c] there were many coming and going, and they had no leisure so much as to eat.

32 [d] And they departed into a desert place by ship privately.

33 And the people saw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and outwent them, and came together unto him.

34 [e] And Je′sus, when he came out, saw much people, and was moved with compassion toward them, because they were as sheep not having a shepherd: and [f] he began to teach them many things.

35 [g] And when the day was now far spent, his disciples came unto him, and said, This is a desert place, and now the time is far passed:

36 Send them away, that they may go into the country round about, and into the villages, and buy themselves bread: for they have nothing to eat.

37 He answered and said unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they say unto him, [h] Shall we go and buy two hundred [5] pennyworth of bread, and give them to eat?

38 He saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and see. And when they knew, they say, [i] Five, and two fishes.

39 And he commanded them to make all sit down by companies upon the green grass.

40 And they sat down in ranks, by hundreds, and by fifties.

41 And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fishes, he looked up to heaven, [j] and blessed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his disciples to set before them; and the two fishes divided he among them all.

42 And [k] they did all eat, and were filled.

43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves were about five thousand men.

45 [l] And straightway he constrained his disciples to get into the ship, and to go to the other side before [6] unto Beth-sai′da, while he sent away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 [m] And when even was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land.

48 And he saw them [n] toiling in rowing; for the wind was contrary unto them: and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the sea, and [o] would have passed by them.

49 But when they saw him walking upon the sea, they supposed it had been a spirit, and cried out:

50 For they all saw him, and were troubled. And immediately he talked with them, and saith unto them, [p] Be of good cheer: it is I; be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ship; and the wind ceased: and they were sore amazed in themselves beyond measure, and wondered.

52 For [o] they considered not the miracle of the loaves; for their [p] heart was hardened.

53 [q] And when they had passed over, they came into the land of Gen-nes'a-ret, and drew to the shore.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straightway they knew him,

55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds those that were sick, where they heard he was.

56 And whithersoever he entered, into villages, or cities, or country, they laid the sick in the streets, and besought him that [r] they might touch if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched [7] him were made whole.

CHAPTER VII.

The Pharisees find fault with the disciples for eating with unwashen hands. 6 Jesus reproveth them on account of their traditions; 14 showeth that what goeth into the mouth defileth not a man; 24 healeth the daughter of a Syrophenician woman; 31 and also one that was deaf and had an impediment in his speech.

THEN [a] came together unto him the Phar'i-sees, and certain of the scribes, which came from Je-ru'sa-lem.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eat bread with [1] defiled, that is to say, with unwashen hands, they found fault.

3 For the Phar'i-sees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands [2] oft, eat not, holding the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups, and pots, brazen vessels, and of [3] tables.

5 [b] Then the Phar'i-sees and scribes asked him, Why walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?

6 He answered and said unto them, Well hath E-sa'ias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, [c] This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is far from me.

7 Howbeit in vain [d] do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

8 For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he said unto them, Full well ye [4] reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

10 For Mo'ses said, [e] Honour thy father and thy mother; and, [f] Whoso curseth father or mother, let him die the death:

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is [g] Cor'ban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me; he shall be free.

14 ¶ [e] And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand:

15 There is nothing from without a man, that entering into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.

16 [f] If any man have ears to hear, let him hear.

17 [g] And when he was entered into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he saith unto them, [h] Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entereth into the man, it cannot defile him;

19 Because it entereth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all meats?

20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.

21 [i] For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders,

22 Thefts, covetousness, wickedness, deceit, lasciviousness, an evil eye, blasphemy, pride, foolishness:

23 All these evil things come from within, and [k] defile the man.

24 ¶ [l] And from thence he arose, and went into the borders of Tyre and Si'don, and entered into a house, and would have no man know it: but he could not be hid.

25 For a certain woman, whose young daughter had an unclean spirit, heard of him, and came and fell at his feet:

26 The woman was a [5] Greek, a Sy-ro-phe-nic'i-an by nation; and she besought him that he would cast forth the devil out of her daughter.

27 But Je'sus said unto her, Let the children first be filled: for it is not meet to take the children's bread, and to cast it unto the dogs.

28 And she answered and said unto him, Yes, Lord: yet the dogs under the table eat of the children's crumbs.

29 And he said unto her, For this saying go thy way; the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

31 ¶ [m] And again, departing from the coasts of Tyre and Si'don, he came unto the sea of Gal'i-lee, through the midst of the coasts of De-cap'o-lis.

32 And [n] they bring unto him one that was deaf, and had an impediment in his speech; and they beseech him to put his hand upon him.

33 And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his ears, and [o]he spit, and touched his tongue;

34 And [p]looking up to heaven, [q]he sighed, and saith unto him, Eph′pha-tha, that is, Be opened.

35 [r]And straightway his ears were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

36 And [s]he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it;

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, [t]He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to hear, and the dumb to speak.

CHAPTER VIII.

Jesus feedeth four thousand. 10 The Pharisees require a sign. 14 Jesus warneth his disciples of the leaven of the Pharisees and of Herod. 22 He healeth a blind man. 27 What the people think of Jesus, 29 and Peter's confession of him. 31 Jesus foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 34 Those who will follow him must take up their cross.

IN those days [a]the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Je′sus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them,

2 I have [b]compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three days, and have nothing to eat:

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will [c]faint by the way: for divers of them came from far.

4 And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfy these men with bread here in the wilderness?

5 [d]And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 And he commanded the people to sit down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them; and they did set them before the people.

7 And they had a few small fishes: and [e]he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

8 So they did eat, and were filled: [f]and they took up of the broken meat that was left seven baskets.

9 And they that had eaten were about four thousand: and he sent them away.

10 ¶ And [g]straightway he entered into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dal-ma-nu′tha.

11 [h]And the Phar′i-sees came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a sign from heaven, tempting him.

12 And he sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a sign? verily I say unto you, There shall no sign be given unto this generation.

13 And [e]he left them, and entering into the ship again departed to the other side.

14 ¶ [f]Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.

15 [g]And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Phar′i-sees, and of the leaven of Her′od.

16 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is [h]because we have no bread.

17 And when Je′sus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? [i]perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened?

18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having ears, hear ye not? and do ye not remember?

19 [k]When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

20 And [l]when the seven among four thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, Seven.

21 And he said unto them, How is it that [m]ye do not understand?

22 ¶ And he cometh to Beth-sai′da; and they bring a blind man unto him, and besought him to touch him.

23 And he took the blind man by the hand, and led him out of the town; and when [n]he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw aught.

24 And he looked up, and said, I see men as trees, walking.

25 After that he put his hands again upon his eyes, and made him look up; and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.

26 And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, [o]nor tell it to any in the town.

27 ¶ [p]And Je′sus went out, and his disciples, into the towns of Ces-a-re′a Phil-ip′pi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am?

28 And they answered, [q]John the Baptist: but some say, E-li′as; and others, One of the prophets.

29 And he saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Pe′ter answereth and saith unto him, [r]Thou art the Christ.

30 [s]And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.

31 And [t]he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and scribes, and be killed, and after three days rise again.

37 Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

38 [y] Whosoever therefore [z] shall be ashamed of me and of my words, in this adulterous and sinful generation, of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels.

CHAPTER IX.

The transfiguration. 11 Elias is indeed come. 14 Jesus casteth out a dumb spirit; 30 and foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 33 He exhorteth his disciples to humility. 38 They are not to reject those who are not against them; 42 but to avoid offences.

AND he said unto them, [a] Verily I say unto you, That there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen [b] the kingdom of God come with power.

2 ¶ [c] And after six days Je'sus taketh with him Pe'ter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into a high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment became shining, exceeding [d] white as snow; so as no fuller on earth can white them.

4 And there appeared unto them E-li'as with Mo'ses: and they were talking with Je'sus.

5 And Pe'ter answered and said to Je'sus, Master, it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mo'ses, and one for E-li'as.

6 For he wist not what to say; for they were sore afraid.

7 And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Son: hear him.

8 And suddenly, when they had looked round about, they saw no man any more, save Je'sus only with themselves.

9 [e] And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they should tell no man what things they had seen, till the Son of man were risen from the dead.

10 And they kept that saying with themselves, questioning one with another what the rising from the dead should mean.

11 ¶ And they asked him, saying, Why say the scribes [f] that E-li'as must first come?

12 And he answered and told them, E-li'as verily cometh first, and restoreth all things; and [g] how it is written of the Son of man, that he must suffer many things, and [h] be set at nought.

13 But I say unto you, That [i] E-li'as is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatsoever they listed, as it is written of him.

14 ¶ [k] And when he came to his disciples, he saw a great multitude about them, and the scribes questioning with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him saluted him.

16 And he asked the scribes, What question ye [1] with them?

17 And [l] one of the multitude answered and said, Master, I have brought unto thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit;

18 And wheresoever he taketh him, he [2] teareth him; and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out; and they could not.

19 He answereth him, and saith, [m] O faithless generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him unto me.

20 And they brought him unto him: and [n] when he saw him, straightway the spirit tare him; and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foaming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago since this came unto him? And he said, Of a child.

22 And ofttimes it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, have compassion on us, and help us.

23 Je'sus said unto him, [o] If thou canst believe, all things are possible to him that believeth.

24 And straightway the father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; [p] help thou mine unbelief.

25 When Je'sus saw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul spirit, saying unto him, Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him, and enter no more into him.

26 And the spirit cried, and rent him sore, and came out of him: and he was as one dead; insomuch that many said, He is dead.

28 [o] And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him privately, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he said unto them, This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting.

30 ¶ And they departed thence, and passed through Gal'i-lee; and he would not that any man should know it.

31 [p] For he taught his disciples, and said unto them, The Son of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him; and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they understood not that saying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 ¶ [q] And he came to Ca-per'na-um: and being in the house he asked them, What was it that ye disputed among yourselves by the way?

34 But they held their peace: for by the way they had disputed among themselves, who should be the greatest.

35 And he sat down, and called the twelve, and saith unto them, [r] If any man desire to be first, the same shall be last of all, and servant of all.

36 And [s] he took a child, and set him in the midst of them: and when he had taken him in his arms, he said unto them,

37 Whosoever shall receive one of such children in my name, receiveth me; and [t] whosoever shall receive me, receiveth not me, but him that sent me.

38 ¶ [u] And John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and he followeth not us; and we forbade him, because he followeth not us.

39 But Je'sus said, Forbid him not: [x] for there is no man which shall do a miracle in my name, that can lightly speak evil of me.

40 For [y] he that is not against us is on our part.

41 [z] For whosoever shall give you a cup of water to drink in my name, because ye belong to Christ, verily I say unto you, he shall not lose his reward.

42 [a] And whosoever shall offend one of these little ones that believe in me, it is better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he were cast into the sea.

43 [b] And if thy hand [3] offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter into life maimed, than having two hands to go into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:

44 [c] Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, than having two feet to be cast into hell, into the fire that never shall be quenched:

46 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye [4] offend thee, pluck it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdom of God with one eye, than having two eyes to be cast into hell fire:

48 Where their worm dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For every one shall be salted with fire, [d] and every sacrifice shall be salted with salt.

50 [e] Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his saltness, wherewith will ye season it? [f] Have salt in yourselves, and [g] have peace one with another.

CHAPTER X.

Jesus answereth the Pharisees concerning divorce. 13 He blesseth little children; 17 answereth the rich young man; 28 and showeth how hard it is for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God. 28 The reward of those who forsake all and follow him. 32 He again foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 35 The request of James and John. 42 Jesus exhorteth to humility. 46 He healeth blind Bartimeus at Jericho.

AND [a] he arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Ju-de'a by the farther side of Jor'dan: and the people resort unto him again; and, as he was wont, he taught them again.

2 ¶ [b] And the Phar'i-sees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawful for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Mo'ses command you?

4 And they said, [c] Mo'ses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 And Je'sus answered and said unto them, For the hardness of your heart he wrote you this precept.

6 But from the beginning of the creation [d] God made them male and female.

7 [e] For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife;

8 And they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.

9 What [f] therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.

11 And he saith unto them, [g] Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13 ¶ [h] And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them; and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

14 But when Je'sus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for [h] of such is the kingdom of God.

15 Verily I say unto you, [i] Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child, he shall not enter therein.

16 And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

17 ¶ [k] And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternal life?

18 And Je'sus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, [l] Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21 Then Je'sus beholding him loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest: go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poor, and thou shalt have [m] treasure in heaven: and come, take up the cross, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ [n] And Je'sus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Je'sus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them [o] that trust in riches to enter into the kingdom of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 And Je'sus looking upon them saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for [p] with God all things are possible.

28 ¶ [q] Then Pe'ter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.

29 And Je'sus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's,

30 [r] But he shall receive a hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life.

31 [s] But many that are first shall be last; and the last first.

32 ¶ [t] And they were in the way going up to Je-ru'sa-lem; and Je'sus went before them: and they were amazed; and as they followed, they were afraid. [u] And he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him,

33 Saying, [v] Behold, we go up to Je-ru'sa-lem; and the Son of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the scribes; and [x] they shall condemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gen'tiles:

34 And they shall [y] mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him; and [z] the third day he shall rise again.

35 ¶ [a] And James and John, the sons of Zeb'e-dee, come unto him, saying, Master, [b] we would that thou shouldest do for us whatsoever we shall desire.

36 And he said unto them, What would ye that I should do for you?

37 They said unto him, Grant unto us that we may sit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

38 But Je'sus said unto them, [c] Ye know not what ye ask: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptism that I am baptized with?

39 And they said unto him, [d] We can. And Je'sus said unto them, [e] Ye shall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptism that I am baptized withal shall ye be baptized:

40 But to sit on my right hand and on my left hand is not mine to give; but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

41 [f] And when the ten heard it, they began to be much displeased with James and John.

42 But Je'sus called them to him, and saith unto them, [g] Ye know that they which [1] are accounted to rule over the Gen'tiles exercise lordship over them; and their great ones exercise authority upon them.

43 [h] But so shall it not be among you: but whosoever will be great among you, shall be your minister:

44 And whosoever of you will be the chiefest, shall be servant of all.

45 For even [i] the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and [k] to give his life a ransom for many.

46 ¶ [l] And they came to Jer'i-cho: and as he went out of Jer'i-cho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bar-ti-me'us, the son of Ti-me'us, sat by the highway side begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Je'sus of Naz'a-reth, he began to cry out,

CHAPTER XI.

Jesus' public entry into Jerusalem. 12 He curseth the fig tree; 15 driveth the traders out of the temple; 20 and exhorteth to faith and forgiveness. 27 He silenceth those who question his authority.

AND [a] when they came nigh to Je-ru'sa-lem, unto Beth-pha'ge and Beth'a-ny, at the mount of Ol'ives, he sendeth forth two of his disciples,

2 And saith unto them, Go your way into the village over against you: and as soon as ye be entered into it, ye shall find a colt tied, whereon never man sat; loose him, and bring him.

3 And if any man say unto you, Why do ye this? say ye that [b] the Lord hath need of him; and straightway he will send him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found the colt tied by the door without in a place where two ways met; and they loose him.

5 And certain of them that stood there said unto them, What do ye, loosing the colt?

6 And they said unto them even as Je'sus had commanded: and they let them go.

7 And they brought the colt to Je'sus, and cast their garments on him; and he sat upon him.

8 [c] And many spread their garments in the way; and others [d] cut down branches off the trees, and strewed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, saying, [e] Hosanna; Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord:

10 Blessed be [f] the kingdom of our father Da'vid, that cometh in the name of the Lord: [g] Hosanna in the highest.

11 [h] And Je'sus entered into Je-ru'sa-lem, and into the temple: and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto Beth'a-ny with the twelve.

12 ¶ [e] And on the morrow, when they were come from Beth'a-ny, he was hungry:

13 [f] And seeing a fig tree afar off having leaves, he came, if haply he might find any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet.

14 And Je'sus answered and said unto it, [g] No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his disciples heard it.

15 ¶ [h] And they come to Je-ru'sa-lem: and Je'sus went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seats of them that sold doves;

16 And would not suffer that any man should carry any vessel through the temple.

17 And he taught, saying unto them, Is it not written, [i] My house shall be called [1] of all nations the house of prayer? but [k] ye have made it a den of thieves.

18 And [l] the scribes and chief priests heard it, and sought how they might destroy him: for they feared him, because [m] all the people was astonished at his doctrine.

19 And when even was come, he went out of the city.

20 ¶ [n] And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the fig tree dried up from the roots.

21 And Pe'ter calling to remembrance saith unto him, Master, behold, the fig tree which thou cursedst is withered away.

22 And Je'sus answering saith unto them, [2] Have faith in God.

23 For [o] verily I say unto you, That whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall believe that those things which he saith shall come to pass; he shall have whatsoever he saith.

24 Therefore I say unto you, [p] What things soever ye desire, when ye pray, believe that ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

25 And when ye stand praying, [q] forgive, if ye have aught against any; that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

26 But [r] if ye do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven forgive your trespasses.

27 ¶ And they come again to Je-ru'sa-lem: [s] and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the scribes, and the elders,

28 And say unto him, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authority to do these things?

29 And Je'sus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one [3] question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

30 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then did ye not believe him?

32 But if we shall say, Of men; they feared the people: for [t] all men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed.

33 And they answered and said unto Je'sus, We cannot tell. And Je'sus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

CHAPTER XII.

The parable of the wicked husbandmen. 13 The question of the Pharisees about paying tribute to Cesar, 18 and of the Sadducees concerning the resurrection. 28 The two great commandments. 35 Christ the Son of David. 38 The evil example of the scribes to be avoided. 41 The widow's two mites.

AND [a] he began to speak unto them by parables. A certain man [b] planted a vineyard, [c] and set a hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a far country.

2 And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And again he sent another; and him they killed, and many others; beating some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore [d] one son, his well beloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my son.

7 But those husbandmen said among themselves, [e] This is the heir; come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 And have ye not read this scripture; [f] The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner:

11 This was the Lord's doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes?

12 [g] And they sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

13 ¶ [h] And they send unto him certain of the Phar'i-sees and of the He-ro'di-ans, to catch him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man; for thou regardest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in truth: Is it lawful to give tribute to Ce'sar, or not?

15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he, knowing their hypocrisy, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a [1] penny, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it. And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Ce'sar's.

17 And Je'sus answering said unto them, [d] Render to Ce'sar the things that are Ce'sar's, and to God the things that are God's. And they marvelled at him.

18 ¶ [e] Then come unto him the Sad'du-cees, [f] which say there is no resurrection; and they asked him, saying,

19 Master, [g] Mo'ses wrote unto us, If a man's brother die, and leave his wife behind him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

20 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed.

21 And the second took her, and died, neither left he any seed: and the third likewise.

22 And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 And Je'sus answering said unto them, [h] Do ye not therefore err, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are given in marriage; but [i] are as the angels which are in heaven.

26 And as touching the dead, that they rise; have ye not read in the book of Mo'ses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, [j] I am the God of A'bra-ham, and the God of I'saac, and the God of Ja'cob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore do greatly err.

28 ¶ [k] And one of the scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

29 And Je'sus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, [l] Hear, O Is'ra-el; The Lord our God is one Lord:

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

31 And the second is like, namely this, [m]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself. There is none other commandment greater than these.

32 And the scribe said unto him, Well, Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God; [n]and there is none other but he:

33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, [o]is more than all whole burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Je'sus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not far from the kingdom of God. [p]And no man after that durst ask him any question.

35 ¶ [q]And Je'sus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the scribes that Christ is the son of Da'vid?

36 For Da'vid himself said [r]by the Holy Ghost, [s]The LORD said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 Da'vid therefore himself calleth him Lord; and whence is he then his son? And the common people heard him gladly.

38 ¶ And [t]he said unto them in his doctrine, [u]Beware of the scribes, which love to go in long clothing, and [x]love salutations in the marketplaces,

39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts:

40 [y]Which devour widows' houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41 ¶ [z]And Je'sus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast money [a]into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.

42 And there came a certain poor widow, and she threw in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, That [b]this poor widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury:

44 For all they did cast in of their abundance; but she of her want did cast in all that she had, [c]even all her living.

CHAPTER XIII.

Jesus foretelleth the destruction of the temple, 3 and the calamities that shall precede it. 24 The signs of his coming. 32 The day and hour thereof unknown. 33 The duty of all to watch.

AND [a]as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones and what buildings are here!

2 And Je'sus answering said unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? [b]there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Ol'ives, over against the temple, Pe'ter and James and John and An'drew asked him privately,

4 [c]Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the sign when all these things shall be fulfilled?

5 And Je'sus answering them began to say, [d]Take heed lest any man deceive you:

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and shall deceive many.

7 And when ye shall hear of wars and rumours of wars, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be; but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines and troubles: [e]these are the beginnings of [1]sorrows.

9 ¶ But [f]take heed to yourselves: for they shall deliver you up to councils; and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten: and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them.

10 And [g]the gospel must first be published among all nations.

11 [h]But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that hour, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, [i]but the Holy Ghost.

12 Now [k]the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the son; and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.

13 [l]And ye shall be hated of all men for my name's sake: but [m]he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 ¶ [n]But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, [o]spoken of by Dan'iel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then [p]let them that be in Ju-de'a flee to the mountains:

15 And let him that is on the housetop not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house:

16 And let him that is in the field not turn back again for to take up his garment.

17 [q]But woe to them that are with child, and to them that give suck in those days!

18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter.

19 [r] For in those days shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created unto this time, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those days, no flesh should be saved: but for the elect's sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the days.

21 [s] And then if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ; or lo, he is there; believe him not:

22 For false Christs and false prophets shall rise, and shall show signs and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.

23 But [t] take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

24 ¶ [u] But in those days, after that tribulation, the sun shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light,

25 And the stars of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.

26 [x] And then shall they see the Son of man coming in the clouds with great power and glory.

27 And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the four winds, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

28 [y] Now learn a parable of the fig tree: When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is near:

29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to pass, know that it is nigh, even at the doors.

30 Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not pass, till all these things be done.

31 Heaven and earth shall pass away: but [z] my words shall not pass away.

32 ¶ But of that day and that hour knoweth no man, no, not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Son, but the Father.

33 [a] Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 [b] For the Son of man is as a man taking a far journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.

35 [c] Watch ye therefore: for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cockcrowing, or in the morning:

36 Lest coming suddenly [d] he find you sleeping.

CHAPTER XIV.

The rulers conspire against Jesus. 3 At Bethany a woman anointeth his head. 10 Judas selleth him. 12 Jesus keepeth the passover; 22 instituteth the Lord's supper; 32 prayeth in the garden; 43 and is betrayed with a kiss. 53 He is brought before the high priest and condemned. 66 Peter denieth him.

AFTER [a] two days was the feast of the passover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not on the feast day, lest there be an uproar of the people.

3 ¶ [b] And being in Beth'a-ny, in the house of Si'mon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman having an alabaster box of ointment of [1] spikenard very precious; and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.

4 And [c] there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred [2] pence, and have been given to the poor. [d] And they murmured against her.

6 And Je'sus said, [e] Let her alone; why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.

7 For [f] ye have the poor with you always, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not always.

8 She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verily I say unto you, Wheresoever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of for a memorial of her.

10 ¶ [g] And Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

12 ¶ [h] And the first day of unleavened bread, when they [3] killed the passover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare that thou mayest eat the passover?

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And wheresoever he shall go in, say ye to the goodman of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guestchamber, [i] where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

15 And [k] he will show you a large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

17 [d]And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

18 And as they sat and did eat, Je'sus said, Verily I say unto you, [e]One of you which eateth with me shall betray me.

19 And they began to be sorrowful, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another said, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that dippeth with me in the dish.

21 [f]The Son of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but [g]woe to that man by whom the Son of man is betrayed! good were it for that man if he had never been born.

22 ¶ [h]And as they did eat, Je'sus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat; this is my body.

23 And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my blood of the new testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, until that day that I drink it new in the kingdom of God.

26 ¶ [i]And when they had sung a [4]hymn, they went out into the mount of Ol'ives.

27 [j]And Je'sus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, [k]I will smite the Shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

28 But [l]after that I am risen, I will go before you into Gal'i-lee.

29 [m]But Pe'ter said unto him, Although all shall be offended, yet will not I.

30 And Je'sus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, That this day, even in this night, before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

31 But [n]he spake the more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

32 [o]And they came to a place which was named Geth-sem'a-ne: and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Pe'ter and James and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy;

34 And saith unto them, [p]My soul is exceeding sorrowful unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed that, if it were possible, the hour might pass from him.

36 And he said, [q]Abba, Father, [r]all things are possible unto thee; take away this cup from me: [r]nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.

37 And he cometh, and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Pe'ter, Si'mon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one hour?

38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation. [s]The spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and [t]prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy,) neither [u]wist they what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, [v]the hour is come; behold, the Son of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 [w]Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

43 ¶ [x]And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Ju'das, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests and the scribes and the elders.

44 And he that betrayed him had given them a token, saying, [y]Whomsoever I shall kiss, that same is he; take him, and lead him away safely.

45 And as soon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, Master; and kissed him.

46 ¶ And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 And one of them that stood by drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his ear.

48 [z]And Je'sus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?

49 I was daily with you in the temple, teaching, and ye took me not: but [a]the Scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 [b]And they all forsook him, and fled.

51 And there followed him a certain young man, having a linen cloth cast about his naked body; and the young men laid hold on him:

52 And he left the linen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ [c]And they led Je'sus away to the high priest: and with him were assembled all the chief priests and the elders and the scribes.

54 And Pe'ter followed him afar off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 [d]And the chief priests and all the council sought for witness against Je'sus to put him to death; [e]and found none.

56 For many bare [f]false witness against him, but their witness agreed not together.

57 And there arose certain, and bare false witness against him, saying,

59 But neither so did their witness agree together.

60 [d] And the high priest stood up in the midst, and asked Je'sus, saying, Answerest thou nothing? what is it which these witness against thee?

61 But [e] he held his peace, and answered nothing. [f] Again the high priest asked him, and said unto him, Art thou the Christ, the Son of the Blessed?

62 And Je'sus said, I am; [g] and ye shall see the Son of man sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

63 Then the high priest rent [h] his clothes, and saith, What need we any further witnesses?

64 Ye have heard the blasphemy: what think ye? And they all [i] condemned him to be guilty of death.

65 And some began to spit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to say unto him, Prophesy: and the servants did strike him with the palms of their hands.

66 ¶ [k] And as Pe'ter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high priest:

67 And when she saw Pe'ter warming himself, she looked upon him, and said, And thou also wast with Je'sus of Naz'a-reth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know not, neither understand I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch; and the cock crew.

69 [l] And a maid saw him again, and began to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 And he denied it again. [m] And a little after, they that stood by said again to Pe'ter, Surely thou art one of them: [n] for thou art a Gal-i-le'an, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse and to swear, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speak.

72 [o] And the second time the cock crew. And Pe'ter called to mind the word that Je'sus said unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice. And [5] when he thought thereon, he wept.

CHAPTER XV.

Jesus is delivered over to Pilate; 15 who releaseth Barabbas and delivereth Jesus to be crucified. 17 The crown of thorns. 22 The crucifixion. 29 The priests and others mock. 37 Jesus dieth. 42 His burial.

AND [a] straightway in the morning the chief priests held a consultation with the elders and scribes and the whole council, and bound Je'sus, and carried him away, and delivered him to Pi'late.

2 [b] And Pi'late asked him, Art thou the King of the Jews? And he answering said unto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the chief priests accused him of many things; but he answered nothing.

4 [c] And Pi'late asked him again, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witness against thee.

5 [d] But Je'sus yet answered nothing; so that Pi'late marvelled.

6 Now [e] at that feast he released unto them one prisoner, whomsoever they desired.

7 And there was one named Ba-rab'bas, which lay bound with them that had made insurrection with him, who had committed murder in the insurrection.

8 And the multitude crying aloud began to desire him to do as he had ever done unto them.

9 But Pi'late answered them, saying, [f] Will ye that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

10 For he knew that the chief priests had delivered him [g] for envy.

11 But [h] the chief priests moved the people, that he should rather release Ba-rab'bas unto them.

12 And Pi'late answered and said again unto them, What will ye then that I shall do unto him whom ye call the King of the Jews?

13 And they cried out again, Crucify him.

14 Then Pi'late said unto them, [i] Why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucify him.

15 ¶ [j] And so Pi'late, willing to content the people, released Ba-rab'bas unto them, and delivered Je'sus, when he had scourged him, to be crucified.

16 [k] And the soldiers led him away into the hall, called Pre-to'ri-um; and they call together the whole band.

17 And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head,

18 And began to salute him, Hail, King of the Jews!

19 And they [l] smote him on the head with a reed, and did spit upon him, and bowing their knees worshipped him.

20 And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucify him.

21 [m] And they compel one Si'mon a Cy-re'ni-an, who passed by, coming out of the country, the father of Al-ex-an'der and Ru'fus, to bear his cross.

22 [n] And they bring him unto the place Gol'goth-a, which is, being interpreted, The place of a skull.

23 [o] And they gave him to drink wine mingled with myrrh: but he received it not.

24 And when they had crucified him, [p] they parted his garments, casting lots upon them, what every man should take.

25 And [m]it was the third hour, and they crucified him.

26 And [n]the superscription of his accusation was written over, [o]THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27 And [p]with him they crucify two thieves; the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.

28 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, [q]And he was numbered with the transgressors.

29 And [r]they that passed by railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, [s]thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three days,

30 Save thyself, and come down from the cross.

31 Likewise also the chief priests mocking said among themselves with the scribes, He saved others; himself he cannot save.

32 Let Christ the King of Is′ra-el descend now from the cross, that we may see and believe. And [t]they that were crucified with him reviled him.

33 And [u]when the sixth hour was come, [v]there was darkness over the whole land until the ninth hour.

34 And at the ninth hour Je′sus cried with a loud voice, saying, [w]El′o-i, El′o-i, la′ma sa-bach-tha′ni? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, [x]he calleth E-li′as.

36 And [y]one ran and filled a sponge full of vinegar, and put it on a reed, and [z]gave him to drink, saying, Let alone; let us see whether E-li′as will come to take him down.

37 [a]And Je′sus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.

38 And [b]the vail of the temple was rent in twain from the top to the bottom.

39 ¶ And [c]when the centurion, which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truly this man was the Son of God.

40 [d]There were also women looking on [e]afar off: among whom was Ma′ry Mag-da-le′ne, and Ma′ry the mother of James the less and of Jo′ses, and Sa-lo′me;

41 Who also, when he was in Gal′i-lee, [f]followed him, and ministered unto him; and many other women which came up with him unto Je-ru′sa-lem.

42 ¶ [g]And now when the even was come, because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath,

43 Jo′seph of Ar-i-ma-the′a, an honourable counsellor, which also [h]waited for the kingdom of God, came, and went in boldly unto Pi′late, and craved the body of Je′sus.

44 And Pi′late marvelled if he were already dead: and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead.

45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Jo′seph.

46 [i]And he bought fine linen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linen, [k]and laid him in a sepulchre which was [l]hewn out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the door of the sepulchre.

47 And Ma′ry Mag-da-le′ne and Ma′ry the mother of Jo′ses beheld where he was laid.

CHAPTER XVI.

Jesus' resurrection. 9 He appeareth to Mary Magdalene; 12 to two disciples on their way into the country; 14 and to the eleven, 15 whom he sendeth forth to preach the gospel. 19 His ascension.

AND [a]when the sabbath was past, Ma′ry Mag-da-le′ne, and Ma′ry the mother of James, and Sa-lo′me, [b]had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 [c]And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sun.

3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the door of the sepulchre?

4 And when they looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away: for it was very great.

5 [d]And entering into the sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment; and they were affrighted.

6 [e]And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: Ye seek Je′sus of Naz′a-reth, which was crucified: he is risen; he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go your way, tell his disciples and Pe′ter that he goeth before you into Gal′i-lee: there shall ye see him, [f]as he said unto you.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they trembled and were amazed: [g]neither said they any thing to any man; for they were afraid.

9 ¶ Now when Je′sus was risen early the first day of the week, [h]he appeared first to Ma′ry Mag-da-le′ne, [i]out of whom he had cast seven devils.

10 [k]And she went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 [l]And they, when they had heard that he was alive, and had been seen of her, believed not.

12 ¶ After that he appeared in another form [m]unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the country.

13 And they went and told it unto the residue: [n]neither believed they them.

THE GOSPEL

ST. LUKE.

St. Luke was born of Gentile parents, and in his youth embraced Judaism, from which he was converted to Christianity. He was for the most part a companion of the apostle Paul. The genuineness and authenticity of his Gospel and of the Acts of the Apostles, which he wrote, have never been questioned. His Gospel was written about the year 63 or 64, and was designed for Gentile Christians. The events which he records are not in the same chronological order as those of St. Matthew. It comprises the particulars relative to the Saviour's infancy and youth, the preaching of John, and the baptism, discourses, actions, and miracles of Christ during his entire ministry.

CHAPTER I.

Luke's preface. 5 Zacharias and Elisabeth. 8 The angel Gabriel foretelleth to Zacharias the birth and office of John; 26 and also to Mary the birth and character of Jesus. 39 Mary visiteth Elisabeth. 42 The song of Elisabeth, 46 and of Mary. 57 The birth and circumcision of John. 67 The song of Zacharias.

FORASMUCH as many have taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of [a] those things which are most surely believed among us,

2 [b] Even as they delivered them unto us, which [c] from the beginning were eyewitnesses, and ministers of the word;

3 [d] It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee [e] in order, [f] most excellent The-oph'i-lus,

4 [g] That thou mightest know the certainty of those things, wherein thou hast been instructed.

5 THERE was [h] in the days of Her'od, the king of Ju-de'a, a certain priest named Zach-a-ri'as, [i] of the course of A-bi'a: and his wife was of the daughters of Aa'ron, and her name was E-lis'a-beth.

6 And they were both [i] righteous before God, walking in all the commandments and ordinances of the Lord blameless.

7 And they had no child, because that E-lis'a-beth was barren; and they both were now well stricken in years.

8 And it came to pass, that, while he executed the priest's office before God [k] in the order of his course,

9 According to the custom of the priest's office, his lot was [l] to burn incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 [m] And the whole multitude of the people were praying without at the time of incense.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord standing on the right side of [n] the altar of incense.

12 And when Zach-a-ri'as saw him, [o] he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zach-a-ri'as: for thy prayer is heard; and thy wife E-lis'a-beth shall bear thee a son, and [p] thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladness; and [q]many shall rejoice at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the sight of the Lord, and [r]shall drink neither wine nor strong drink; and he shall be filled with the Holy Ghost, [s]even from his mother's womb.

16 [t]And many of the children of Is'ra-el shall he turn to the Lord their God.

17 [u]And he shall go before him in the spirit and power of E-li'as, to turn the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient [1]to the wisdom of the just; to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

18 And Zach-a-ri'as said unto the angel, [v]Whereby shall I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in years.

19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am [x]Ga'bri-el, that stand in the presence of God; and am sent to speak unto thee, and to show thee these glad tidings.

20 And behold, [y]thou shalt be dumb, and not able to speak, until the day that these things shall be performed, [z]because thou believest not my words, which shall be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zach-a-ri'as, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple; for he beckoned unto them, and remained speechless.

23 And it came to pass, that, as soon as [a]the days of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after those days his wife E-lis'a-beth conceived, and hid herself five months, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the days wherein he looked on me, to [b]take away my reproach among men.

26 ¶ And in the sixth month the angel Ga'bri-el was sent from God unto a city of Gal'i-lee, named Naz'a-reth,

27 To a virgin [c]espoused to a man whose name was Jo'seph, of the house of Da'vid; and the virgin's name was Ma'ry.

28 And the angel came in unto her, and said, [d]Hail, thou that art [2]highly favoured, [e]the Lord is with thee: blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, [f]she was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what manner of salutation this should be.

30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Ma'ry: for thou hast found favour with God.

31 [g]And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy womb, and bring forth a son, and [h]shalt call his name JE'SUS.

32 He shall be great, [i]and shall be called the Son of the Highest; and [k]the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father Da'vid:

33 [l]And he shall reign over the house of Ja'cob for ever; and of his kingdom there shall be no end.

34 Then said Ma'ry unto the angel, How shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

35 And the angel answered and said unto her, [m]The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called [n]the Son of God.

36 And behold, thy cousin E-lis'a-beth, she hath also conceived a son in her old age; and this is the sixth month with her, who was called barren.

37 For [o]with God nothing shall be impossible.

38 And Ma'ry said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord; be it unto me according to thy word. And the angel departed from her.

39 ¶ And Ma'ry arose in those days, and went into the hill country with haste, [p]into a city of Ju'dah;

40 And entered into the house of Zach-a-ri'as, and saluted E-lis'a-beth.

41 And it came to pass, that, when E-lis'a-beth heard the salutation of Ma'ry, the babe leaped in her womb; and E-lis'a-beth was filled with the Holy Ghost:

42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, [q]Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb.

43 And [r]whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For lo, as soon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine ears, the babe leaped in my womb for joy.

45 And blessed is she [3]that believed: for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

46 And Ma'ry said, [s]My soul doth magnify the Lord,

47 And my spirit hath rejoiced in God my Saviour.

48 For [t]he hath regarded the low estate of his handmaiden: for behold, from henceforth [u]all generations shall call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty [v]hath done to me great things; and [x]holy is his name.

50 And [y]his mercy is on them that fear him from generation to generation.

51 [z]He hath showed strength with his arm; [a]he hath scattered the proud in the imagination of their hearts.

52 [b]He hath put down the mighty from their seats, and exalted them of low degree.

53 [c]He hath filled the hungry with good things; and the rich he hath sent empty away.

54 He hath holpen his servant Is′ra-el, [d]in remembrance of his mercy;

55 [e]As he spake to our fathers, to A′bra-ham, and to his seed for ever.

56 And Ma′ry abode with her about three months, and returned to her own house.

57 ¶ Now E-lis′a-beth's full time came that she should be delivered; and she brought forth a son.

58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had showed great mercy upon her; and [f]they rejoiced with her.

59 And it came to pass, that [g]on the eighth day they came to circumcise the child; and they called him Zach-a-ri′as, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answered and said, [h]Not so; but he shall be called John.

61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

62 And they made signs to his father, how he would have him called.

63 And he asked for a writing table, and wrote, saying, [i]His name is John. And they marvelled all.

64 [k]And his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue loosed, and he spake, and praised God.

65 And fear came on all that dwelt round about them: and all these [4]sayings were noised abroad throughout all [l]the hill country of Ju-de′a.

66 And all they that heard them [m]laid them up in their hearts, saying, What manner of child shall this be! And [n]the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 ¶ And his father Zach-a-ri′as [o]was filled with the Holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying,

68 [p]Blessed be the Lord God of Is′ra-el; for [q]he hath visited and redeemed his people,

69 [r]And hath raised up a horn of salvation for us in the house of his servant Da′vid;

70 [s]As he spake by the mouth of his holy prophets, which have been since the world began:

71 That we should be saved from our enemies, and from the hand of all that hate us;

72 [t]To perform the mercy promised to our fathers, and to remember his holy covenant;

73 [u]The oath which he sware to our father A′bra-ham,

74 That he would grant unto us, that we, being delivered out of the hand of our enemies, might [x]serve him without fear,

75 [y]In holiness and righteousness before him, all the days of our life.

76 And thou, child, shalt be called the prophet of the Highest: for [z]thou shalt go before the face of the Lord to prepare his ways;

77 To give knowledge of salvation unto his people [a][5]by the remission of their sins,

78 Through the [6]tender mercy of our God; whereby the [7]dayspring from on high hath visited us,

79 [b]To give light to them that sit in darkness and in the shadow of death, to guide our feet into the way of peace.

80 And [c]the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and [d]was in the deserts till the day of his showing unto Is′ra-el.

AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Ce′sar Au-gus′tus, that all the world should be [1]taxed.

2 [a]And this taxing was first made when Cy-re′ni-us was governor of Syr′i-a.

3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

4 And Jo′seph also went up from Gal′i-lee, out of the city of Naz′a-reth, into Ju-de′a, unto [b]the city of Da′vid, which is called Beth′le-hem; ([c]because he was of the house and lineage of Da′vid,)

5 To be taxed with Ma′ry [d]his espoused wife, being great with child.

6 And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7 And [e]she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

8 And there were in the same country shepherds [f]abiding in the field, keeping [2]watch over their flock by night.

9 And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; [g]and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, [h]which shall be to all people.

11 [i]For unto you is born this day in the city of Da′vid [j]a Saviour, [k]which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

13 [l] And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

14 [m] Glory to God in the highest, and on earth [n] peace, [o] good will toward men.

15 ¶ And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Beth'le-hem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Ma'ry and Jo'seph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this child.

18 And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 [p] But Ma'ry kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 ¶ [q] And when eight days were accomplished for the circumcising of the child, his name was called [r] JE'SUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the womb.

22 And when [s] the days of her purification according to the law of Mo'ses were accomplished, they brought him to Je-ru'sa-lem, to present him to the Lord;

23 (As it is written in the law of the Lord, [t] Every male that openeth the womb shall be called holy to the Lord;)

24 And to offer a sacrifice according to [u] that which is said in the law of the Lord, A pair of turtledoves, or two young pigeons.

25 And behold, there was a man in Je-ru'sa-lem, whose name was Sim'e-on; and the same man was just and devout, [x] waiting for the consolation of Is'ra-el: and the Holy Ghost was upon him.

26 And it was revealed unto him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not [y] see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

27 And he came [z] by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Je'sus, to do for him after the custom of the law,

28 Then took he him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said,

29 Lord, [a] now lettest thou thy servant depart in peace, according to thy word:

30 For mine eyes [b] have seen thy salvation,

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people;

32 [c] A light to lighten the Gen'tiles, and the glory of thy people Is'ra-el.

33 And Jo'seph and his mother marvelled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Sim'e-on blessed them, and said unto Ma'ry his mother, Behold, this child is set for the [c] fall and rising again of many in Is'ra-el; and for [d] a sign which shall be spoken against;

35 (Yea, [e] a sword shall pierce through thy own soul also;) that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed.

36 ¶ And there was one An'na, a prophetess, the daughter of Phan-u'el, of the tribe of [f] A'ser: she was of a great age, and had lived with a husband seven years from her virginity;

37 And she was a widow of about fourscore and four years, which departed not from the temple, but served God with fastings and prayers [g] night and day.

38 And she coming in that instant gave thanks likewise unto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that [h] looked for redemption in [3] Je-ru'sa-lem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Gal'i-lee, to their own city Naz'a-reth.

40 [i] And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom; and the grace of God was upon him.

41 ¶ Now his parents went to Je-ru'sa-lem [k] every year at the feast of the passover.

42 And when he was twelve years old, they went up to Je-ru'sa-lem after the custom of the feast.

43 And when they had [l] fulfilled the days, as they returned, the child Je'sus tarried behind in Je-ru'sa-lem; and Jo'seph and his mother knew not of it.

44 But they, supposing him to have been [m] in the company, went a day's journey; and they sought him among their kinsfolk and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Je-ru'sa-lem, seeking him.

46 And it came to pass, that [n] after three days they found him in the temple, sitting in the midst of the doctors, both hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And [o] all that heard him were astonished at his understanding and answers.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said unto him Son, why hast thou thus dealt with us behold, thy father and I have sought thee sorrowing.

49 And he said unto them, How is it that ye sought me? wist ye not that I must be about [p] my Father's business?

50 And [q] they understood not the saying which he spake unto them.

51 And he went down with them, and came to Naz'a-reth, and was subject unto

CHAPTER III.

The preaching of John the Baptist. 15 His testimony concerning Christ. 19 Herod imprisoneth John. 21 Jesus is baptized. 23 His genealogy.

NOW in the fifteenth year of the reign of Ti-be'ri-us Ce'sar, [a]Pon'ti-us Pi'late being governor of Ju-de'a, and Her'od being tetrarch of Gal'i-lee, and his brother Phil'ip tetrarch of It-u-re'a and of the region of Trach-o-ni'tis, and Ly-sa'ni-as the tetrarch of Ab-i-le'ne,

2 [b]An'nas and Cai'a-phas being the high priests, the word of God came unto John the son of Zach-a-ri'as in the wilderness.

3 [c]And he came into all the country about Jor'dan, preaching the baptism of repentance [d]for the remission of sins;

4 As it is written in the book of the words of E-sa'ias the prophet, saying, [e]The voice of one crying in the wilderness, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

5 Every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill shall be brought low; and the crooked shall be made straight, and the rough ways shall be made smooth;

6 And [f]all flesh shall see the salvation of God.

7 Then said he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, [g]O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore [h]fruits [1]worthy of repentance, and begin not to say within yourselves, [i]We have A'bra-ham to our father: for I say unto you, That God is able of these stones to raise up children unto A'bra-ham.

9 And now also the axe is laid unto the root of the trees: [j]every tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

10 And the people asked him, saying, [k]What shall we do then?

11 He answereth and saith unto them, [l]He that hath two coats, let him impart to him that hath none; and he that hath meat, let him do likewise.

12 Then [m]came also publicans to be baptized, and said unto him, Master, what shall we do?

13 And he said unto them, [n]Exact no more than that which is appointed you.

14 And the soldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said unto them, [2]Do violence to no man, [o]neither accuse any falsely; and be content with your [3]wages.

15 ¶ And as the people were [4]in expectation, and all men [5]mused in their hearts of John, whether he were the Christ, or not;

16 John answered, saying unto them all, [m]I indeed baptize you with water: but one mightier than I cometh, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to unloose: [n]he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire:

17 Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thoroughly purge his floor, and [o]will gather the wheat into his garner; but the chaff he will burn with fire unquenchable.

18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he unto the people.

19 [p]But Her'od the tetrarch, being reproved by him for He-ro'di-as his brother Phil'ip's wife, and for all the evils which Her'od had done,

20 Added yet this above all, that he shut up John in prison.

21 Now when all the people were baptized, [q]it came to pass, that Je'sus also being baptized, and praying, the heaven was opened,

22 And the Holy Ghost descended in a bodily shape like a dove upon him, and a voice came from heaven, which said, [r]Thou art my beloved Son; in thee I am well pleased.

23 ¶ And Je'sus himself began to be [s]about thirty years of age, being (as was supposed) [t]the son of Jo'seph, which was the son of He'li,

24 Which was the son of Mat'that, which was the son of Le'vi, which was the son of Mel'chi, which was the son of Jan'na, which was the son of Jo'seph,

25 Which was the son of Mat-ta-thi'as, which was the son of A'mos, which was the son of Na'um, which was the son of Es'li, which was the son of Nag'ge,

CHAPTER IV.

The temptation of Jesus. 14 He returneth to Galilee; 16 and is rejected at Nazareth. 33 A man with an unclean spirit is healed; 38 also Peter's wife's mother, 40 and many others. 43 Jesus preacheth in Galilee.

AND [a] Je'sus being full of the Holy Ghost returned from Jor'dan, and [b] was led by the Spirit into the wilderness,

2 Being forty days tempted of the devil. And [c] in those days he did eat nothing: and when they were ended, he afterward hungered.

3 And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Je'sus answered him, saying, [d] It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 And the devil, taking him up into a high mountain, showed unto him all the kingdoms of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the devil said unto him, All this power will I give thee, and the glory of them: for [e] that is delivered unto me; and to whomsoever I will, I give it.

7 If thou therefore wilt [1] worship me, all shall be thine.

8 And Je'sus answered and said unto him, Get thee behind me, Sa'tan: for [f] it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve.

9 [g] And he brought him to Je-ru'sa-lem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Son of God, cast thyself down from hence:

11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Je'sus answering said unto him, [i] It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him [k] for a season.

14 ¶ [l] And Je'sus returned [m] in the power of the Spirit into [n] Gal'i-lee: and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 ¶ And he came to [o] Naz'a-reth, where he had been brought up: and, as his custom was, [p] he went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and stood up for to read.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet E-sa'ias. And when he had opened the book, he found the place where it was written,

18 [q] The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath [r] anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; he hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised;

19 To preach [s] the acceptable year of the Lord.

20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down. And [t] the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, This day is this scripture fulfilled in your ears.

22 And all bare him witness, and [u] wondered at the gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, [x] Is not this Jo'seph's son?

23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thyself: whatsoever we have heard done in [y] Ca-per'na-um, do also here in [z] thy country.

24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No [a] prophet is accepted in his own country.

25 But I tell you of a truth, [b] many widows were in Is'ra-el in the days of E-li'as, when the heaven was shut up three years and six months, when great famine was throughout all the land;

26 But unto none of them was E-li'as sent, save unto Sa-rep'ta, a city of Si'don, unto a woman that was a widow.

27 [c] And many lepers were in Is'ra-el in the time of El-i-se'us the prophet; and none of them was cleansed, saving Na'a-man the Syr'i-an.

28 And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath,

29 And rose up, and thrust him out of the city, and led him unto the [2] brow of the hill whereon their city was built, that they might cast him down headlong.

30 But he, [a]passing through the midst of them, went his way,

31 And [b]came down to Ca-per′na-um, a city of Gal′i-lee, and taught them on the sabbath days.

32 And they were astonished at his doctrine: [c]for his word was with power.

33 ¶ [d]And in the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice,

34 Saying, [3]Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Je′sus of Naz′a-reth? art thou come to destroy us? [e]I know thee who thou art; [f]the Holy One of God.

35 And Je′sus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, [g]What a word is this! for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.

37 And [h]the fame of him went out into every place of the country round about.

38 ¶ [i]And he arose out of the synagogue, and entered into Si′mon's house. And Si′mon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; [j]and they besought him for her.

39 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them.

40 ¶ [k]Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

41 [l]And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Son of God. And [m]he rebuking them suffered them not [4]to speak: for they knew that he was Christ.

42 [n]And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.

43 And he said unto them, [o]I must preach the kingdom of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent.

44 [p]And he preached in the synagogues of Gal′i-lee.

CHAPTER V.

Jesus teacheth the people. 4 The miraculous draught of fishes. 10 The calling of Peter, James, and John. 12 Jesus cleanseth a leper; 16 prayeth in the wilderness; 18 healeth one sick of the palsy; 27 and calleth Levi; 29 who maketh a feast, at which Jesus eateth with publicans and sinners. 33 He justifieth his disciples in not fasting.

AND [a]it came to pass, that, as the people pressed upon him to hear the word of God, he stood by the lake of Gen-nes′a-ret,

2 And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.

3 And he entered into one of the ships, which was Si′mon's, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land. And he sat down, and taught the people out of the ship.

4 Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Si′mon, [b]Launch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.

5 And Si′mon answering said unto him, Master, [c]we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: [d]nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes: and their net brake.

7 And they beckoned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came, and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.

8 When Si′mon Pe′ter saw it, he fell down at Je′sus' knees, saying, [e]Depart from me; for I am a sinful man, O Lord.

9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken:

10 And so was also James, and John, the sons of Zeb′e-dee, which were partners with Si′mon. And Je′sus said unto Si′mon, Fear not; [f]from henceforth thou shalt catch men.

11 And when they had brought their ships to land, [g]they forsook all, and followed him.

12 ¶ [h]And it came to pass, when he was in a certain city, behold a man full of leprosy; who seeing Je′sus fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, [i]I will: be thou clean. And immediately the leprosy departed from him.

14 [j]And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and show thyself to the priest, and offer for thy cleansing, [k]according as Mo′ses commanded, for a testimony unto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him: [l]and great multitudes came together to hear, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

16 ¶ [k]And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.

17 And it came to pass on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Phar'i-sees and doctors of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Gal'i-lee, and Ju-de'a, and Je-ru'sa-lem: [l]and the power of the Lord was present to heal them.

18 ¶ [m]And behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsy: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they could not find by what way they might bring him in because of the multitude, they went upon the housetop, and let him down through the tiling with his couch into the midst before Je'sus.

20 And[n] when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sins are forgiven thee.

21 [o]And the scribes and the Phar'i-sees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? [p]Who can forgive sins, but God alone?

22 But [q]when Je'sus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Rise up and walk?

24 But that ye may know that the Son of man [r]hath power upon earth to forgive sins, (he said unto the sick of the palsy,) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go unto thine house.

25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, [s]glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.

27 ¶ [t]And after these things he went forth, and saw a publican, named Le'vi, sitting at the receipt of custom: and he said unto him, Follow me.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.

29 [u]And Le'vi made him a great feast in his own house: and [x]there was a great company of publicans and of others that sat down with them.

30 But their scribes and Phar'i-sees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicans and sinners?

31 And Je'sus answering said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician; but they that are sick.

32 [y]I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

33 ¶ And they said unto him, [z]Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Phar'i-sees; but thine eat and drink?

36 ¶ [b]And he spake also a parable unto them; No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old; if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new [c]agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man putteth new wine into old [d]bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new bottles; and both are preserved.

39 No man also having drunk old wine straightway desireth new; for he saith, The old is better.

CHAPTER VI.

The disciples pluck ears of corn on the sabbath. 6 Jesus healeth a withered hand. 12 He chooseth the twelve apostles; 17 and healeth the multitudes. 20 The beatitudes. 27 Love towards enemies. 37 Rash judgment reproved. 47 The house built upon a rock, or upon the sand.

AND [a]it came to pass on the second sabbath after the first, that he went through the corn fields; [b]and his disciples plucked the ears of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Phar'i-sees said unto them, Why do ye that [c]which is not lawful to do on the sabbath days?

3 And Je'sus answering them said, Have ye not read so much as this, [d]what Da'vid did, when himself was ahungered, and they which were with him;

4 How he went into the house of God, and did take and eat the showbread, and gave also to them that were with him; [e]which it is not lawful to eat but for the priests alone?

5 And he said unto them, That [f]the Son of man is Lord also of the sabbath.

6 [g]And it came to pass also on another sabbath, that he entered into the synagogue and taught: and there was a man whose [h]right hand was withered.

7 And the scribes and Phar'i-sees watched[i] him, whether he would heal on the sabbath day; that they might find an accusation against him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and said to the man which had the withered hand, Rise up, and stand forth in the midst. And he arose and stood forth.

9 Then said Je'sus unto them, I will ask you one thing; Is it lawful on the sabbath days to do good, or to do evil? to save life, or to destroy it?

10 And looking round about upon them all, he said unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand. And he did so: and his hand was restored whole as the other.

11 And [e] they were filled with madness; and communed one with another what they might do to Je'sus.

12 ¶ [f] And it came to pass in those days, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

13 And when it was day, he called unto him his disciples: [g] and of them he chose twelve, whom also he named apostles;

14 Si'mon, [h] whom he also named Pe'ter, and An'drew his brother, James and John, Phil'ip and Bar-thol'o-mew,

15 Matth'ew and Thom'as, James the son of Al-phe'us, and Si'mon called Ze-lo'tes,

16 And Ju'das [i] the brother of James, and Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, which also was the traitor.

17 ¶ And he came down with them, and stood in the plain, and the company of his disciples, [k] and a great multitude of people out of all Ju-de'a and Je-ru'sa-lem, and from the sea coast of Tyre and Si'don, which came to hear him, and to be healed of their diseases;

18 And they that were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude [l] sought to touch him: for [m] there went virtue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ And he lifted up his eyes on his disciples, and said, [n] Blessed be ye poor: for yours is the kingdom of God.

21 [o] Blessed are ye that hunger now: for ye shall be filled. [p] Blessed are ye that weep now: for ye shall laugh.

22 [q] Blessed are ye, when men shall hate you, and when they [r] shall separate you from their company, and shall reproach you, and cast out your name as evil, for the Son of man's sake.

23 [s] Rejoice ye in that day, and leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for [t] in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24 [u] But woe unto you [x] that are rich! for [y] ye have received your consolation.

25 [z] Woe unto you that are full! for ye shall hunger. [a] Woe unto you that laugh now! for ye shall mourn and weep.

26 [b] Woe unto you, when all men shall speak well of you! for so did their fathers to the false prophets.

27 ¶ [c] But I say unto you which hear, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you,

28 Bless them that curse you, and [d] pray for them which despitefully use you.

29 [e] And unto him that smiteth thee on the one cheek offer also the other; [f] and him that taketh away thy cloak forbid not to take thy coat also.

30 [g] Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again.

31 [h] And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.

32 [i] For if ye love them which love you, what thank have ye? for sinners also love those that love them.

33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for sinners also do even the same.

34 [k] And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for sinners also lend to sinners, to receive as much again.

35 But [l] love ye your enemies, and do good, and [m] lend, hoping for nothing again; and your reward shall be great, and [n] ye shall be the children of the Highest: for he is kind unto the unthankful and to the evil.

36 [o] Be ye therefore merciful, as your Father also is merciful.

37 [p] Judge not, and ye shall not be judged: condemn not, and ye shall not be condemned: forgive, and ye shall be forgiven:

38 [q] Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your [r] bosom. For [s] with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.

39 And he spake a parable unto them; [t] Can the blind lead the blind? shall they not both fall into the ditch?

40 [u] The disciple is not above his master: but every one [1] that is perfect shall be as his master.

41 [x] And why beholdest thou the mote that is in thy brother's eye, but perceivest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

42 Either how canst thou say to thy brother, Brother, let me pull out the mote that is in thine eye, when thou thyself beholdest not the beam that is in thine own eye? Thou hypocrite, [y] cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to pull out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.

43 [z] For a good tree bringeth not forth corrupt fruit; neither doth a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

44 For every tree is known by his own fruit. For of thorns men do not gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they [2] grapes.

45 [b] A good man out of the good treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is good; and an evil man out of the evil treasure of his heart bringeth forth that which is evil: for [c] of the abundance of the heart his mouth speaketh.

46 ¶ [d] And why call ye me, Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?

47 [e] Whosoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will show you to whom he is like:

49 But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built a house upon the earth; against which the stream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell; and the ruin of that house was great.

CHAPTER VII.

Jesus healeth the centurion's servant; 11 and raiseth a widow's son at Nain. 19 John the Baptist sendeth two of his disciples to Jesus. 24 His testimony concerning John. 31 The Jews reject both. 36 A woman anointeth the feet of Jesus.

NOW when he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, [a]he entered into Ca-per'na-um.

2 And a certain centurion's servant, who [b]was dear unto him, was sick, and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Je'sus, he sent unto him the elders of the Jews, [c]beseeching him that he would come and heal his servant.

4 And when they came to Je'sus, they besought him instantly, saying, That he was worthy for whom he should do this:

5 For [d]he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a synagogue.

6 Then Je'sus went with them. And when he was now not far from the house, the centurion sent friends to him, saying unto him, Lord, trouble not thyself; [e]for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof:

7 Wherefore neither thought I myself worthy to come unto thee: but [f]say in a word, and my servant shall be healed.

8 For I also am a man set under authority, having under me soldiers, and I say unto one, Go, and he goeth; and to another, Come, and he cometh; and to my servant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Je'sus heard these things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and said unto the people that followed him, I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no, not in Is'ra-el.

10 And they that were sent, returning to the house, found the servant whole that had been sick.

11 ¶ And it came to pass the day after, that he went into a city called Na'in; and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the only son of his mother, and she was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, [g]he had compassion on her, and said unto her, Weep not.

14 And he came and touched the [1]bier: and they that bare him stood still. And he said, Young man, I say unto thee, [a]Arise.

15 And he that was dead sat up, and began to speak. And he delivered him to his mother.

16 [b]And there came a fear on all: and they glorified God, saying, [c]That a great prophet is risen up among us; and, [d]That God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went forth throughout all Ju-de'a, and throughout all the region round about.

18 [e]And the disciples of John showed him of all these things.

19 ¶ And John calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Je'sus, saying, Art thou [f]he that should come? or look we for another?

20 When the men were come unto him, they said, John the Baptist hath sent us unto thee, saying, Art thou he that should come? or look we for another?

21 And in that same hour he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil spirits; and unto many that were blind he gave sight.

22 [g]Then Je'sus answering said unto them, Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; [h]how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, [i]to the poor the gospel is preached.

23 And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me.

24 ¶ [k]And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John. What went ye out into the wilderness for to see? A reed shaken with the wind?

25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings' courts.

26 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet. Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a prophet.

27 This is he, of whom it is written, [l]Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say unto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he.

29 And all the people that heard him, and the publicans, justified God, [m]being baptized with the baptism of John.

30 But the Phar'i-sees and lawyers [2]rejected [n]the counsel of God [3]against themselves, being not baptized of him.

31 ¶ And the Lord said, [o]Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children sitting in the marketplace, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced; we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

33 For [p] John the Baptist came neither eating bread nor drinking wine; and ye say, He hath a devil.

34 The Son of man is come eating and drinking; and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a winebibber, a friend of publicans and sinners!

35 [q] But wisdom is justified of all her children.

36 ¶ [r] And one of the Phar'i-sees desired him that he would eat with him. And he went into the Phar'i-see's house, and sat down to meat.

37 And behold, a woman in the city, which [s] was a sinner, when she knew that Je'sus sat at meat in the Phar'i-see's house, brought an alabaster box of ointment,

38 And stood at his feet behind him [t] weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

39 Now when the Phar'i-see which had bidden him saw it, [u] he spake within himself, saying, [x] This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him; for she is a sinner.

40 And Je'sus answering said unto him, Si'mon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.

41 There was a certain creditor which had two debtors: the one owed five hundred [4] pence, and the other fifty.

42 And when they had nothing to pay, [y] he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most?

43 Si'mon answered and said, I suppose that he, to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto Si'mon, Seest thou this woman? I entered into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kiss: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kiss my feet.

46 [z] My head with oil thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 [a] Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little.

48 And he said unto her, [b] Thy sins are forgiven.

49 And they that sat at meat with him began to say within themselves, [y] Who is this that forgiveth sins also?

50 And he said to the woman, [z] Thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace.

CHAPTER VIII.

Women minister unto Jesus of their substance. 4 The parable of the sower, 11 and its exposition. 16 A candle not to be put under a bushel. 19 Jesus' true disciples are his nearest relatives. 22 He stilleth a tempest; 26 and casteth out the legion of devils; 33 which enter into a herd of swine. 41 Jairus entreateth him. 43 He healeth an issue of blood; 49 and raiseth the daughter of Jairus.

AND it came to pass afterward, that he went throughout every city and village, preaching and showing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God: and the twelve were with him,

2 And [a] certain women, which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Ma'ry called Mag-da-le'ne, [b] out of whom went seven devils,

3 And Jo-an'na the wife of Chu'za Her'od's steward, and Su-san'na, and many others, which ministered unto him of their substance.

4 ¶ [c] And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable:

5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the way side; and it was trodden down, and the fowls of the air devoured it.

6 And some fell upon [d] a rock; and as soon as it was sprung up, it withered away, because it lacked moisture.

7 And some fell among [e] thorns; and the thorns sprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and sprang up, [f] and bare fruit a hundredfold. And when he had said these things, he cried, He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

9 [g] And his disciples asked him, saying, What might this parable be?

10 And he said, Unto you it is given to know the mysteries of the kingdom of God: but to others in parables [h] that seeing they might not see, and hearing they might not understand.

11 [i] Now the parable is this: The seed is the word of God.

12 Those by the way side are they that hear; [k] then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, lest they should believe and be saved.

13 They on the rock are they, which, when they hear, [l] receive the word with joy; and these have no root, which for a while believe, and in time of temptation fall away.

14 And that which fell among thorns are they, which, when they have heard, go forth, [m] and are choked with cares and riches and pleasures of this life, and bring no fruit to perfection.

16 ¶ [g] No man, when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a vessel, or putteth it under a bed; but setteth it on a candlestick, that they which enter in may see the light.

17 [h] For nothing is secret, that shall not be made manifest; neither any thing hid, that shall not be known and come abroad.

18 Take heed therefore how ye hear: [i] for whosoever hath, to him shall be given; and whosoever hath not, from him shall be taken even that which he [1] seemeth to have.

19 ¶ [k] Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the press.

20 And it was told him by certain which said, Thy mother and thy brethren stand without, desiring to see thee.

21 And he answered and said unto them, My mother and my brethren are these which hear the word of God, and do it.

22 ¶ [l] Now it came to pass on a certain day, that he went into a ship with his disciples: and he said unto them, Let us go over unto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 But as they sailed, he fell asleep: and there came down a storm of wind on the lake; and they were filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, Master, we perish. Then he arose, and rebuked the wind and the raging of the water: and they ceased, and there was a calm.

25 And he said unto them, Where is your faith? And they being afraid wondered, saying one to another, [m] What manner of man is this! for he commandeth even the winds and water, and they obey him.

26 ¶ [n] And they arrived at the country of the Gad-a-renes′, which is over against Gal′i-lee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city a certain man, which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in the tombs.

28 When he saw Je′sus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice said, What have I to do with thee, Je′sus, thou Son of God most high? I beseech thee, [o] torment me not.

29 For he had commanded the unclean spirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him: and he was kept bound with chains and in fetters; and he brake the bands, and was driven of the devil into the wilderness.

30 And Je′sus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And he said, Legion: because many devils were entered into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not command them to go out [n] into the deep.

32 And there was there a herd of many swine feeding on the mountain: and they besought him that he would suffer them to enter into them. And he suffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entered into the swine: and the herd ran violently down a steep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them saw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the country.

35 Then they went out to see what was done; and came to Je′sus, and found the man, out of whom the devils were departed, sitting at the feet of Je′sus, clothed, [o] and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which saw it told them by what means he that was possessed of the devils was healed.

37 ¶ [p] Then the whole multitude of the country of the Gad-a-renes′ round about [q] besought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ship, and returned back again.

38 Now [r] the man, out of whom the devils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Je′sus sent him away, saying,

39 Return to thine own house, and show how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, [s] and published throughout the whole city how great things Je′sus had done unto him.

40 And it came to pass, that, when Je′sus was returned, the people gladly received him; for they were all waiting for him.

41 ¶ [t] And behold, there came a man named Ja′i-rus, and he was a ruler of the synagogue; and he fell down at Je′sus′ feet, and besought him that he would come into his house:

42 For he had one only daughter, about twelve years of age, and she lay a dying. But as he went the people thronged him.

43 ¶ [u] And a woman having an issue of blood twelve years, which had spent all her living upon physicians, neither could be healed of any,

44 Came behind him, and touched the border of his garment; and immediately her issue of blood stanched.

45 And Je′sus said, Who touched me? When all denied, Pe′ter and they that were with him said, Master, the multitude throng thee and press thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

49 ¶ [y] While he yet spake, there cometh one from the ruler of the synagogue's house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead; trouble not the Master.

51 And when he came into the house, he [a] suffered no man to go in, save Pe'ter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

56 And her parents were astonished: but [e] he charged them that they should tell no man what was done.

CHAPTER IX.

Jesus giveth the twelve power to work miracles, and sendeth them forth to preach. 8 His charge to them. 7 Herod desireth to see Jesus. 10 The twelve return. 12 Jesus feedeth five thousand men. 18 What the people think of Jesus, 20 and Peter's confession of him. 22 Jesus foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 23 Those who will follow him must take up their cross. 28 The transfiguration. 37 Jesus casteth out an unclean spirit; 43 and again foretelleth his own death. 46 He exhorteth his disciples to humility; 49 and not to reject those who are not against them. 51 James and John are rebuked. 57 How Jesus must be followed.

THEN [a] he called his twelve disciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diseases.

2 And [b] he sent them to preach the kingdom of God, and to heal the sick.

3 [c] And he said unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither staves, nor scrip, neither bread, neither money; neither have two coats apiece.

4 [d] And whatsoever house ye enter into, there abide, and thence depart.

5 [e] And whosoever will not receive you, when ye go out of that city, [f] shake off the very dust from your feet for a testimony against them.

6 [g] And they departed, and went through the towns, preaching the gospel, and healing every where.

7 ¶ [h] Now Her'od the tetrarch heard of all that was done by him: and he was perplexed, because that it was said of some, that John was risen from the dead;

8 And of some, that E-li'as had appeared; and of others, that one of the old prophets was risen again.

9 And Her'od said, John have I beheaded; but who is this, of whom I hear such things? [i] And he desired to see him.

10 ¶ [k] And the apostles, when they were returned, told him all that they had done. [l] And he took them, and went aside privately into a desert place belonging to the city called Beth-sa'i-da.

11 And the people, when they knew it, followed him: and he received them, and spake unto them of the kingdom of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

12 [m] And when the day began to wear away, then came the twelve, and said unto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and country round about, and lodge, and get victuals; for we are here in a desert place.

13 But he said unto them, [n] Give ye them to eat. And they said, [o] We have no more but five loaves and two fishes; except we should go and buy meat for all this people.

14 For they were about five thousand men. And he said to his disciples, [p] Make them sit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all sit down.

16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fishes, and [q] looking up to heaven, he blessed them, and brake, and gave to the disciples to set before the multitude.

17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there was taken up of fragments that remained to them twelve baskets.

18 ¶ [r] And it came to pass, as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him; and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 They answering said, [s] John the Bap'tist; but some say, E-li'as; and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again.

20 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? [t] Pe'ter answering said, The Christ of God.

21 [u] And he straitly charged them, and commanded them to tell no man that thing;

22 Saying, [x] The Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders and chief priests and scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.

23 ¶ [y] And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 [t]For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 [u]For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory, and in his Father's, and of the holy angels.

27 [x]But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdom of God.

28 ¶ [y]And it came to pass about an eight days after these [1]sayings, he took Pe'ter and John and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed [z]the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering.

30 And behold, there talked with him two men, [a]which were Mo'ses and E-li'as:

31 Who appeared in [b]glory, and spake of his decease which he should accomplish at Je-ru'sa-lem.

32 But Pe'ter and they that were with him [c]were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to pass, as they departed from him, Pe'ter said unto Je'sus, Master, [d]it is good for us to be here: and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Mo'ses, and one for E-li'as: not knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, [e]there came a cloud, and overshadowed them: and they feared as they entered into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, [f]This is my beloved Son: [g]hear him.

36 And when the voice was past, Je'sus was found alone. [h]And they kept it close, and told no man in those days any of those things which they had seen.

37 ¶ [i]And it came to pass, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee, look upon my son; [k]for he is mine only child.

39 And lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out; and it teareth him that he foameth again, and bruising him, hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out; [l]and they could not.

41 And Je'sus answering said, [m]O faithless and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy son hither.

42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him. And Je'sus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the child, and delivered him again to his father.

43 ¶ And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God. But while they wondered every one at all things which Je'sus did, he said unto his disciples,

44 [e]Let these sayings sink down into your ears: for the Son of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 [f]But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

46 ¶ [g]Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Je'sus, perceiving the thought of their heart, took a child, and set him by him,

48 And said unto them, [h]Whosoever shall receive this child in my name, receiveth me; and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me: [i]for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49 ¶ [k]And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name; and we forbade him, because he followeth not with us.

50 And Je'sus said unto him, Forbid him not: for [l]he that is not against us is for us.

51 ¶ And it came to pass, when the time was come that [m]he should be received up, he steadfastly set his face to go to Je-ru'sa-lem,

52 And sent messengers before his face: and they went, and entered into a village of the Sa-mar'i-tans, to make ready for him.

53 And [n]they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Je-ru'sa-lem.

54 And when his disciples James and John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as [o]E-li'as did?

55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of spirit ye are of.

56 For [p]the Son of man is not come to destroy men's lives, but to save them. And they went to another village.

57 ¶ [q]And it came to pass, that, as they went in the way, a certain man said unto him, Lord, I will follow thee whithersoever thou goest.

58 And Je'sus said unto him, [r]Foxes have holes, and birds of the air have nests; but the Son of man hath not where to lay his head.

59 [s]And he said unto another, Follow me. But he said, Lord, suffer me first to go and bury my father.

60 Je'sus said unto him, [t] Let the dead bury their dead; but go thou and preach the kingdom of God.

61 And another also said, Lord, [u] I will follow thee; but let me first go bid them farewell, which are at home at my house.

62 And Je'sus said unto him, No man, having put his hand to the plough, [x] and looking back, is fit for the kingdom of God.

CHAPTER X.

Jesus sendeth forth the seventy. 2 His charge to them. 17 The seventy return. 21 Jesus rejoiceth in spirit. 23 The disciples' privilege. 25 A lawyer questioneth Jesus. 30 The parable of the good Samaritan. 38 Martha and Mary.

AFTER these things the Lord appointed other seventy also, and [a] sent them two and two before his face into every city and place, whither he himself would come.

2 Therefore said he unto them, [b] The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: [c] pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 Go your ways: [d] behold, I send you forth as lambs among wolves.

4 [e] Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes; and [f] salute no man by the way.

5 [g] And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if the son of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.

7 [h] And in the same house remain, [i] eating and drinking such things as they give: for [k] the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, eat such things as are set before you:

9 [l] And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, [m] The kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

10 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your ways out into the streets of the same, and say,

11 [n] Even the very dust of your city, which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdom of God is come nigh unto you.

12 But I say unto you, that [o] it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sod'om, than for that city.

13 [p] Woe unto thee, Cho-ra'zin! woe unto thee, Beth-sa'i-da! [q] for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Si'don, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Si'don at the judgment, than for you.

15 [r] And thou, Ca-per'na-um, which art [s] exalted to heaven, [t] shalt be thrust down to hell.

16 [u] He that heareth you heareth me; and [x] he that despiseth you despiseth me; [y] and he that despiseth me despiseth him that sent me.

17 ¶ And [z] the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us through thy name.

18 And he said unto them, [a] I beheld Sa'tan as lightning fall from heaven.

19 Behold, [b] I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means hurt you.

20 Notwithstanding, in this rejoice not, that the spirits are subject unto you; but rather rejoice, because [c] your names are written in heaven.

21 ¶ [d] In that hour Je'sus rejoiced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so, Father; for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 [e] [1] All things are delivered to me of my Father: and [f] no man knoweth who the Son is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Son, and he to whom the Son will reveal him.

23 ¶ And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, [g] Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see:

24 For I tell you, [h] that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to hear those things which ye hear, and have not heard them.

25 ¶ And behold, a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, [i] Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

26 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 And he answering said, [k] Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and [l] thy neighbour as thyself.

28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and [m] thou shalt live.

29 But he, willing to [n] justify himself, said unto Je'sus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Je'sus answering said, A certain man went down from Je-ru'sa-lem to Jer'i-cho, and fell among thieves, which stripped him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed, leaving him half dead.

31 And by chance there came down a certain priest that way; and when he saw him, [o] he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Le'vite, when he was at the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certain [o]Sa-mar'i-tan, as he journeyed, came where he was; and when he saw him, he had compassion on him,

34 And [p]went to him, and bound up his wounds, pouring in oil and wine, and set him on his own beast, and brought him to an inn, and took care of him.

35 And on the morrow when he departed, he took out two [2]pence, and gave them to the host, and said unto him, Take care of him: and whatsoever thou spendest more, when I come again, I will repay thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour unto him that fell among the thieves?

37 And he said, He that showed mercy on him. Then said Je'sus unto him, Go, and do thou likewise.

38 ¶ Now it came to pass, as they went, that he entered into a certain village: and a certain woman named [q]Mar'tha received him into her house.

39 And she had a sister called Ma'ry, [r]which also [s]sat at Je'sus' feet, and heard his word.

40 But Mar'tha was [t]cumbered about much serving, and came to him, and said, Lord, dost thou not care that my sister hath left me to serve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

41 And Je'sus answered and said unto her, Mar'tha, Mar'tha, thou art careful and troubled about many things:

42 But [u]one thing is needful; and Ma'ry hath chosen that good part, which shall not be taken away from her.

CHAPTER XI.

Jesus teacheth his disciples to pray. 5 The efficacy of prayer. 14 He healeth a dumb man possessed with a devil; 17 and reproveth those who ascribe his power to Beelzebub. 29 The sign of Jonas. 33 A candle is not to be put under a bushel. 37 Jesus dineth with one of the Pharisees, and denounceth woes upon them. 49 The blood of all the prophets to come upon that generation.

AND it came to pass, that, as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John also taught his disciples.

2 And he said unto them, When ye pray, say, [a]Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, so in earth.

3 Give us [1]day by day our daily bread.

4 And forgive us our sins; for we also forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil.

5 And he said unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and say unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

6 For a friend of mine [2]in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to set before him:

7 And he from within shall answer and say, Trouble me not: the door is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot rise and give thee?

8 I say unto you, [b]Though he will not rise and give him, because he is his friend, yet because of his importunity he will rise and give him as many as he needeth.

9 [c]And I say unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you; seek, and ye shall find; knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

10 For every one that asketh receiveth; and he that seeketh findeth; and to him that knocketh it shall be opened.

11 [d]If a son shall ask bread of any of you that is a father, will he give him a stone? or if he ask a fish, will he for a fish give him a serpent?

12 Or if he shall ask an egg, will he [3]offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children; how much more shall your heavenly Father give the Holy Spirit to them that ask him?

14 ¶ [e]And he was casting out a devil, and it was dumb. And it came to pass, when the devil was gone out, the dumb spake; and the people wondered.

15 But some of them said, [f]He casteth out devils through [4]Be-el'ze-bub the chief of the devils.

16 And others, tempting him, [g]sought of him a sign from heaven.

17 [h]But [i]he, knowing their thoughts, said unto them, Every kingdom divided against itself is brought to desolation; and a house divided against a house falleth.

18 If Sa'tan also be divided against himself, how shall his kingdom stand? because ye say that I cast out devils through Be-el'ze-bub.

19 And if I by Be-el'ze-bub cast out devils, by whom do your sons cast them out? therefore [j]shall they be your judges.

20 But if I [k]with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the kingdom of God is come upon you.

21 [l]When a strong man armed keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace:

22 But [m]when a stronger than he shall come upon him, and overcome him, he taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted, and divideth his spoils.

23 [n]He that is not with me is against me; and he that gathereth not with me scattereth.

24 [o]When the unclean spirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through dry places, seeking rest; [p]and finding none, he saith, I will return unto my house whence I came out.

25 And when he cometh, he findeth it swept and garnished.

26 Then goeth he, and taketh to him seven other spirits more wicked than himself; and they enter in, and dwell there: and [o]the last state of that man is worse than the first.

27 ¶ And it came to pass, as he spake these things, a certain woman of the company lifted up her voice, and said unto him, [p]Blessed is the womb that bare thee, and the paps which thou hast sucked.

28 But he said, Yea, [q]rather, blessed are they that hear the word of God, and keep it.

29 ¶ [r]And when the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, [s]This is an evil generation: they seek a sign; and there shall no sign be given it, but the sign of Jo'nas the prophet.

30 For as [t]Jo'nas was a sign unto the Nin'e-vites, so shall also the Son of man be to this generation.

31 [u]The queen of the south shall rise up in the judgment with the men of this generation, and condemn them: for she came from the utmost parts of the earth to hear the wisdom of Sol'o-mon; and behold, a greater than Sol'o-mon is here.

32 The men of Nin'e-veh shall rise up in the judgment with this generation, and shall condemn it: for [v]they repented at the preaching of Jo'nas; and behold, a greater than Jo'nas is here.

33 [x]No man, when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a secret place, neither under a [5]bushel, but on a candlestick, that they which come in may see the light.

34 [y]The light of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, thy whole body also is full of light; [z]but when thine eye is evil, thy body also is full of darkness.

35 Take heed therefore, that the light which is in thee be not darkness.

36 If thy whole body therefore be full of light, having no part dark, the whole shall be full of light, as when the bright shining of a candle doth give thee light.

37 ¶ And as he spake, a certain Phar'i-see besought him to dine with him; and he went in, and sat down to meat.

38 And [a]when the Phar'i-see saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.

39 [b]And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Phar'i-sees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter; but [c]your inward part is full of ravening and wickedness.

40 Ye fools, did not he, that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 [d]But rather give alms [6]of such things as ye have; and behold, all things are clean unto you.

42 [d]But woe unto you, Phar'i-sees! for ye tithe mint and rue and all manner of herbs, [e]and pass over judgment and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 [f]Woe unto you, Phar'i-sees! for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 [g]Woe unto you, scribes and Phar'i-sees, hypocrites! [h]for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them are not aware of them.

45 ¶ Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying thou reproachest us also.

46 And he said, Woe unto you also, ye lawyers! [i]for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be borne, and ye yourselves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 [k]Woe unto you! for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truly [l]ye bear witness that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore also said [m]the wisdom of God, [n]I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation;

51 [o]From the blood of A'bel unto [p]the blood of Zach-a-ri'as, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, It shall be required of this generation.

52 [q]Woe unto you, lawyers! for ye have taken away the key of knowledge: ye entered not in yourselves, and them that were entering in ye [7]hindered.

53 And as he said these things unto them, the scribes and the Phar'i-sees began to urge him vehemently, and to provoke him to speak of many things:

54 Laying wait for him, and [r]seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAPTER XII.

Jesus warneth his disciples of the leaven of the Pharisees. 4 They must not fear man. 8 Blasphemy against the Holy Ghost. 13 The people warned against covetousness. 16 The parable of the rich man who would build greater barns. 22 Anxiety about worldly things forbidden. 31 The kingdom of God to be first sought. 35 The duty of watchfulness. 49 The coming of Jesus an occasion of division. 54 The signs of the times to be regarded.

IN [a]the mean time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, [b]Beware ye of the leaven of the Phar'i-sees, which is hypocrisy.

2 [b]For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

3 Therefore, [c]whatsoever ye have spoken in darkness shall be heard in the light; and that which ye have spoken in the ear in closets shall be proclaimed upon the housetops.

4 [d]And I say unto you [e]my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the body, and after that have no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarn you whom ye shall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed hath power to cast into hell; yea, I say unto you, Fear him.

17 And he thought within himself, saying, What shall I do, because I have no room where to bestow my fruits?

18 And he said, This will I do: I will pull down my barns, and build greater; and there will I bestow all my fruits and my goods.

20 But God said unto him, Thou fool, this night [m][2]thy soul shall be required of thee: [n]then whose shall those things be, which thou hast provided?

21 So is he that layeth up treasure for himself, [o]and is not rich toward God.

22 ¶ And he said unto his disciples, Therefore I say unto you, [p]Take no thought for your life, what ye shall eat; neither for the body, what ye shall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

24 Consider the ravens: for they neither sow nor reap; which neither have storehouse nor barn; and [q]God feedeth them: how much more are ye better than the fowls?

25 And which of you with taking thought can add to his stature one cubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the rest?

27 Consider the lilies how they grow: they toil not, they spin not; and yet I say unto you, that Sol'o-mon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these.

28 If then God so clothe the [r]grass, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is cast into the oven; how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 And seek not ye what ye shall eat, or what ye shall drink, [3]neither be ye of doubtful mind.

30 For all these things do the nations of the world seek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of these things.

31 ¶ [s]But rather seek ye the kingdom of God; and all these things shall be added unto you.

32 Fear not, little flock; for [t]it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom.

33 [u]Sell that ye have, and give alms; [v]provide yourselves bags which wax not old, a treasure in the heavens that faileth not, where no thief approacheth, neither moth corrupteth.

34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.

35 [x]Let your loins be girded about, and [y]your lights burning;

36 And ye yourselves like unto men that wait for their lord, when he will return from the wedding; that, when he cometh and knocketh, they may open unto him immediately.

37 [z]Blessed are those servants, whom the lord when he cometh shall find watching: verily I say unto you, that he shall gird himself, and make them to sit down to meat, and will come forth and serve them.

A. D. 33.

38 And if he shall come in the second watch, or come in the third watch, and find them so, blessed are those servants.

39 [a] And this know, that if the goodman of the house had known what hour the thief would come, he would have watched, and not have suffered his house to be broken through.

40 [b] Be ye therefore ready also: for the Son of man cometh at an hour when ye think not.

41 ¶ Then Pe'ter said unto him, Lord, speakest thou this parable unto us, or even to all?

42 And the Lord said, [c] Who then is that faithful and wise steward, whom his lord shall make ruler over his household, to give them their portion of meat in due season?

43 Blessed is that servant, whom his lord when he cometh shall find so doing.

44 [d] Of a truth I say unto you, that he will make him ruler over all that he hath.

45 [e] But and if that servant say in his heart, My lord delayeth his coming; and shall begin to beat the menservants and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken;

46 The lord of that servant will come in a day when he looketh not for him, and at an hour when he is not aware, and will [4] cut him in sunder, and will appoint him his portion with the unbelievers.

47 And [f] that servant, which knew his lord's will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 [g] But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required; and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the more.

49 ¶ [h] I am come to send fire on the earth; and what will I, if it be already kindled?

50 But [i] I have a baptism to be baptized with; and how am I [5] straitened till it be accomplished!

51 [k] Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; [l] but rather division:

52 [m] For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be divided against the son, and the son against the father; the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother; the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 ¶ And he said also to the people, [n] When ye see a cloud rise out of the west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower; and so it is.

CHAPTER XIII.

The slaughter of certain Galileans. 6 The parable of the barren fig tree. 10 Jesus healeth an infirm woman. 18 The kingdom of God is like a grain of mustard seed; 20 and like leaven 23 The strait gate. 31 Jesus' message to Herod 34 His lamentation over Jerusalem.

THERE were present at that season some that told him of the Gal-i-le'ans, whose blood Pi'late had mingled with their sacrifices.

2 And Je'sus answering said unto them, [a] Suppose ye that these Gal-i-le'ans were sinners above all the Gal-i-le'ans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower of Sil'o-am fell, and slew them, think ye that they were [1] sinners above all men that dwelt in Je-ru'sa-lem?

5 I tell you, Nay: but, except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ He spake also this parable; [b] A certain man had a fig tree planted in his vineyard; and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three years I come seeking fruit on this fig tree, and find none: [c] cut it down; why cumbereth it the ground?

8 And he answering said unto him, [d] Lord, let it alone this year also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 ¶ And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself.

12 And when Je'sus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thine infirmity.

13 [e] And he laid his hands on her: and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Je'sus had healed on the sabbath day, and said unto the people, [b]There are six days in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and [c]not on the sabbath day.

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, [d]doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his ass from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman, [e]being a daughter of A'bra-ham, whom Sa'tan hath bound, lo, these eighteen years, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath day?

17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all [f]the people rejoiced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ¶ [g]Then said he, Unto what is the kingdom of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?

19 It is like a grain of mustard seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden; and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the air lodged in the branches of it.

20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdom of God?

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three [2]measures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

22 [h]And he went through the cities and villages, teaching, and journeying toward Je-ru'sa-lem.

23 ¶ Then said one unto him, Lord, are there few that be saved? And he said unto them,

24 [i]Strive to enter in at the strait gate: for [k]many, I say unto you, will seek to enter in, and shall not be able.

25 [l]When once the master of the house is risen up, and [m]hath shut to the door, and ye begin to stand without, and to knock at the door, saying, [n]Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he shall answer and say unto you, [o]I know you not whence ye are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We have eaten and drunk in thy presence, and thou hast taught in our streets.

27 [p]But he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are; [q]depart from me, all ye workers of iniquity.

28 [r]There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, [s]when ye shall see A'bra-ham, and I'saac, and Ja'cob, and all the prophets, in the kingdom of God, and you yourselves thrust out.

29 And they shall come from the east, and from the west, and from the north, and from the south, and shall sit down in the kingdom of God.

CHAPTER XIV.

Jesus on the sabbath healeth one who had the dropsy. 7 The chief rooms not to be chosen. 12 Kindness to the poor enjoined. 15 The parable of the great supper, from which the guests excuse themselves. 25 Jesus' disciples must count the cost.

AND it came to pass, as he went into the house of one of the chief Phar'i-sees to eat bread on the sabbath day, that they watched him.

2 And behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropsy.

3 And Je'sus answering spake unto the lawyers and Phar'i-sees, saying, [a]Is it lawful to heal on the sabbath day?

4 And they held their peace. And he took him, and healed him, and let him go;

5 And answered them, saying, [b]Which of you shall have an ass or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the sabbath day?

6 And they could not answer him again to these things.

7 ¶ And he put forth a parable to those which were bidden, when he marked how they [c]chose out the chief rooms; saying unto them,

8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not down in the highest room; lest a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him;

9 And he that bade thee and him come and say to thee, Give this man place; [d]and thou begin with shame to take the lowest room.

10 [e]But when thou art bidden, go and sit down in the lowest room; that when he that bade thee cometh, he may say unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then shalt thou have worship in the presence of them that sit at meat with thee.

11 [a]For whosoever exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

12 ¶ Then said he also to him that bade him, When thou makest a dinner or a supper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinsmen, nor thy rich neighbours; lest they also bid thee again, and a [b]recompense be made thee.

13 But when thou makest a feast, call [c]the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind:

14 And thou shalt be blessed; for they cannot recompense thee: for thou shalt be recompensed at the [d]resurrection of the just.

15 ¶ And when one of them that sat at meat with him heard these things, he said unto him, [e]Blessed is he that shall eat bread in the kingdom of God.

16 [f]Then said he unto him, A certain man made a great supper, and bade many:

17 And [g]sent his servant at supper time to say to them that were bidden, Come; for all things are now ready.

18 And they all with one [h]consent began to make excuse. The first said unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I must needs go and see it: I pray thee have me excused.

19 And another said, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excused.

20 And another said, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

21 So that servant came, and showed his lord these things. Then the master of the house being angry said to his servant, [i]Go out quickly into the streets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poor, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the servant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is room.

23 And the lord said unto the servant, Go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled.

24 For I say unto you, [j]That none of those men which were bidden shall taste of my supper.

25 ¶ And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and said unto them,

26 [k]If any man come to me, [l]and hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and sisters, [m]yea, and his own life also, he cannot be my disciple.

27 And [n]whosoever doth not bear his cross, and come after me, cannot be my disciple.

28 For [o]which of you, intending to build a tower, sitteth not down first, and counteth the cost, whether he have sufficient to finish it?

29 Lest haply, after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it begin to mock him,

30 Saying, [o]This man began to build, and was not able to finish.

31 Or what king, going to make war against another king, sitteth not down first, and consulteth whether he be able with ten thousand to meet him that cometh against him with twenty thousand?

32 Or else, while the other is yet a great way off, he sendeth an ambassage, and desireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewise, whosoever he be of you that forsaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my disciple.

34 ¶ [p]Salt is good: but if the salt have lost his savour, wherewith shall it be seasoned?

35 It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill; but men cast it out. He that hath ears to hear, let him hear.

CHAPTER XV.

The parable of the lost sheep; 8 of the piece of silver; 11 and of the prodigal son.

THEN [a]drew near unto him all the publicans and sinners for to hear him.

2 And the Phar'i-sees and scribes murmured, saying, This man receiveth sinners, [b]and eateth with them.

3 ¶ And he spake this parable unto them, saying,

4 [c]What man of you, having a hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderness, and go after that which is lost, until he find it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, rejoicing.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, saying unto them, Rejoice with me; for I have found my sheep [d]which was lost.

7 I say unto you, that likewise joy shall be in heaven over one sinner that repenteth, [e]more than over ninety and nine just persons, which need no repentance.

8 ¶ Either what woman having ten [1]pieces of silver, if she lose one piece, doth not light a candle, and sweep the house, and seek diligently till she find it?

9 And when she hath found it, she calleth her friends and her neighbours together, saying, Rejoice with me; for I have found the piece which I had lost.

10 Likewise, I say unto you, [f]there is joy in the presence of the angels of God over one sinner that repenteth.

11 ¶ And he said, A certain man had two sons:

13 And not many days after the younger son gathered all together, and took his journey into a far country, and there wasted his substance with riotous living.

14 And when he had spent all, there arose a mighty famine in that land; and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joined himself to a citizen of that country; and he sent him into his fields to feed swine.

16 And [g]he would fain have filled his belly with the husks that the swine did eat: and [h]no man gave unto him.

17 And [i]when he came to himself, he said, How many hired servants of my father's have bread enough and to spare, and I perish with hunger!

18 I [k]will arise and go to my father, and will say unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, and before thee,

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy son: make me as one of thy hired servants.

20 And he arose, and came to his father. But [l]when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kissed him.

21 And the son said unto him, Father, I have sinned against heaven, [m]and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy son.

22 But the father said to his servants, Bring forth the best robe, and put it on him; and put [n]a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feet:

23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it; and let us eat, and be merry:

24 [o]For this my son was dead, and is alive again; he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merry.

25 Now his elder son was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the house, he heard music and dancing.

26 And he called one of the servants, and asked what these things meant.

27 And he said unto him, Thy brother is come; and thy father hath killed the fatted calf, because he hath received him safe and sound.

28 And [p]he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and entreated him.

29 And he answering said to his father, Lo, [q]these many years do I serve thee, neither transgressed I at any time thy commandment; and [r]yet thou never gavest me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But as soon as this thy son was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou hast killed for him the fatted calf.

CHAPTER XVI.

The parable of the unjust steward. 13 Jesus reproveth the covetous Pharisees. 19 The parable of the rich man and Lazarus.

AND he said also unto his disciples, There was a certain rich man, which had a steward; and the same was accused unto him that he had wasted his goods.

2 And he called him, and said unto him, How is it that I hear this of thee? give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward.

3 Then the steward said within himself, [a]What shall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the stewardship: I cannot dig; to beg I am ashamed.

4 I am resolved what to do, that, when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receive me into their houses.

5 So he called every one of his lord's debtors unto him, and said unto the first, How much owest thou unto my lord?

6 And he said, A hundred [1]measures of oil. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and sit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then said he to another, And how much owest thou? And he said, A hundred [2]measures of wheat. And he said unto him, Take thy bill, and write fourscore.

8 And the lord commended the unjust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their generation wiser than [a]the children of light.

9 And I say unto you, [b]Make to yourselves friends of the [3]mammon of unrighteousness; that, when ye fail, they may receive you into everlasting habitations.

10 [c]He that is faithful in that which is least is faithful also in much: and he that is unjust in the least is unjust also in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithful in the unrighteous [4]mammon, who will commit to your trust the true riches?

12 And if ye have not been faithful in that which is another man's, who shall give you that which is your own?

13 ¶ [d]No servant can serve two masters: for either he will hate the one, and love the other; or else he will hold to the one, and despise the other. Ye cannot serve God and mammon.

14 And the Phar'i-sees also, [e]who were covetous, heard all these things: and they derided him.

15 And he said unto them, Ye are they which [f] justify yourselves before men; but [g] God knoweth your hearts: for [h] that which is highly esteemed among men is abomination in the sight of God.

16 [i] The law and the prophets were until John: since that time the kingdom of God is preached, and every man presseth into it.

17 [k] And it is easier for heaven and earth to pass, than one tittle of the law to fail.

18 [l] Whosoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whosoever marrieth her that is put away from her husband committeth adultery.

19 ¶ There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in [m] purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day:

20 And there was a certain beggar named Laz'a-rus, which was laid at his gate, full of sores,

21 And desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores.

22 And it came to pass, that the beggar died, and was carried [n] by the angels into A'bra-ham's bosom: the rich man also died, and was buried;

23 And [o] in hell he lifted up his eyes, being in torments, and seeth A'bra-ham afar off, and Laz'a-rus in his bosom.

24 And he cried and said, Father A'bra-ham, have mercy on me, and send Laz'a-rus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and [p] cool my tongue; for I [q] am tormented in this flame.

25 But A'bra-ham said, Son, [r] remember that thou in thy lifetime receivedst thy good things, and likewise Laz'a-rus evil things: but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And besides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed: so that they which would pass from hence to you cannot; neither [s] can they pass to us, that would come from thence.

27 Then he said, I pray thee therefore, father, that thou wouldest send him to my father's house:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may testify unto them, lest they also come into this place of torment.

29 A'bra-ham saith unto him, [t] They have Mo'ses and the prophets; let them hear them.

30 And he said, Nay, father A'bra-ham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he said unto him, If they hear not Mo'ses and the prophets, [u] neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead.

CHAPTER XVII.

Jesus exhorteth to avoid offences. 3 How to deal with an offending brother. 5 The necessity and power of faith. 7 All are unprofitable servants. 11 Ten lepers healed. 20 The kingdom of God. 22 The coming of the Son of man.

THEN said he unto the disciples, [a] It is impossible but that offences will come: but woe unto him, through whom they come!

2 It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck, and he cast into the sea, than that he should offend one of these little ones.

3 ¶ Take heed to yourselves: [b] If thy brother trespass against thee, [c] rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.

4 And if he trespass against thee seven times in a day, and seven times in a day turn again to thee, saying, I repent; thou shalt forgive him.

5 And the apostles said unto the Lord, Increase our faith.

6 [d] And the Lord said, If ye had faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye might say unto this sycamine tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the sea; and it should obey you.

7 But which of you, having a servant ploughing or feeding cattle, will say unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and sit down to meat?

8 And will not rather say unto him, Make ready wherewith I may sup, and gird thyself, [e] and serve me, till I have eaten and drunken; and afterward thou shalt eat and drink?

9 Doth he thank that servant because he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.

10 So likewise ye, when ye shall have done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are [f] unprofitable servants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

11 ¶ And it came to pass, [g] as he went to Je-ru'sa-lem, that he passed through the midst of Sa-ma'ri-a and Gal'i-lee.

12 And as he entered into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, [h] which stood afar off:

13 And they lifted up their voices, and said, Je'sus, Master, have mercy on us.

14 And when he saw them, he said unto them, [i] Go show yourselves unto the priests. And it came to pass, that, as they went, they were cleansed.

15 And [k] one of them, when he saw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God,

16 And fell down on his face at his feet, giving him thanks: and he was a Sa-mar'i-tan.

17 And Je'sus answering said, Were there not ten cleansed? but where are the nine?

18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, save this stranger.

19 And he said unto him, Arise, go thy way: thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 ¶ And when he was demanded of the Phar'i-sees, when the kingdom of God should come, he answered them and said, The kingdom of God cometh not [1] with observation:

21 [l] Neither shall they say, Lo here! or, lo there! for behold, [m] the kingdom of God is [2] within you.

22 And he said unto the disciples, [n] The days will come, when ye shall desire to see one of the days of the Son of man, and ye shall not see it.

23 [o] And they shall say to you, See here; or, see there: go not after them, nor follow them.

24 [p] For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day.

25 [q] But first must he suffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.

26 [r] And as it was in the days of No'ah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man.

27 They [s] did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that No'ah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all.

28 [t] Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, they drank, they bought, they sold, they planted, they builded;

29 But [u] the same day that Lot went out of Sod'om it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all.

30 Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man [v] is revealed.

31 In that day, he [x] which shall be upon the housetop, and his stuff in the house, let him not come down to take it away: and he that is in the field, let him likewise not return back.

32 [y] Remember Lot's wife.

33 [z] Whosoever shall seek to save his life shall lose it; and whosoever shall lose his life shall preserve it.

34 [a] I tell you, in that night there shall be two men in one bed; the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left.

35 Two women shall be grinding together; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

36 [3] Two men shall be in the field; the one shall be taken, and the other left.

37 And they answered and said unto him, [b] Where, Lord? And he said unto them, Wheresoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The parable of the importunate widow; 9 and of the Pharisee and publican. 15 Jesus receiveth little children. 18 The rich ruler answered. 24 It is hard for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God. 28 The reward of those who forsake all and follow Jesus. 31 Jesus foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 35 He healeth a blind man at Jericho.

AND he spake a parable unto them to this end, that men ought [a] always to pray, and not to faint;

2 Saying, There was [1] in a city a judge, which feared not God, neither regarded man:

3 And there was a widow in that city; and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man;

5 [b] Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continual coming she weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Hear what the unjust judge saith.

7 And [c] shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he bear long with them?

8 I tell you [d] that he will avenge them speedily. Nevertheless, when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth?

9 And he spake this parable unto certain [e] which trusted in themselves [2] that they were righteous, and despised others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Phar'i-see, and the other a publican.

11 The Phar'i-see [f] stood and prayed thus with himself, [g] God, I thank thee, that I am not [h] as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess.

13 And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: [i] for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted.

15 [j] And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, they rebuked them.

16 But Je'sus called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for [k] of such is the kingdom of God.

17 [l] Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdom of God as a little child shall in no wise enter therein.

18 [m] And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?

19 And Je'sus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good, save one, that is, God.

20 Thou knowest the commandments, [n]Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witness, [o]Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.

22 Now when Je'sus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: [p]sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poor, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come, follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowful: for he was very rich.

24 And when Je'sus saw that he was very sorrowful, he said, [q]How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdom of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.

26 And they that heard it said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, [r]The things which are impossible with men are possible with God.

28 [s]Then Pe'ter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.

29 And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, [t]There is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children, for the kingdom of God's sake,

30 [u]Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 ¶ [x]Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Je-ru'sa-lem, and all things [y]that are written by the prophets concerning the Son of man shall be accomplished.

32 For [z]he shall be delivered unto the Gen'tiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated, and spitted on:

33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death; and the third day he shall rise again.

34 [a]And they understood none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

35 ¶ [b]And it came to pass, that as he was come nigh unto Jer'i-cho, a certain blind man sat by the [c]way side begging:

36 And hearing the multitude pass by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they told him, that Je'sus of Naz'a-reth passeth by.

38 And he cried, saying, Je'sus, thou Son of Da'vid, have mercy on me.

39 And they which went before rebuked [b]him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou Son of Da'vid, have mercy on me.

40 And Je'sus stood, and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come near, he asked him,

41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

42 And Je'sus said unto him, Receive thy sight: [c]thy faith hath saved thee.

43 And immediately he received his sight, and followed him, [d]glorifying God: and all the people, when they saw it, gave praise unto God.

CHAPTER XIX.

Zaccheus the publican. 11 The parable of the ten pounds. 28 Jesus' public entry into Jerusalem. 41 He weepeth over the city; 45 driveth the traders out of the temple; 47 and teacheth daily in it.

AND Je'sus entered and passed through Jer'i-cho.

2 And behold, there was a man named Zac-che'us, [a]which was the chief among the publicans, and he was rich.

3 And [b]he sought to see Je'sus who he was; and could not for the press, because he was little of stature.

4 And he ran before, [c]and climbed up into [d]a sycamore tree to see him; for he was to pass that way.

5 And when Je'sus came to the place, [e]he looked up, and saw him, and said unto him, Zac-che'us, make haste, and come down; [f]for to day I must abide at thy house.

6 And he made haste, and came down, and received him joyfully.

7 And when they saw it, they all murmured, saying, [g]That he was gone to be guest with a man that is a sinner.

8 And Zac-che'us stood, and said unto the Lord; Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poor; and if I have taken any thing from any man by [h]false accusation, [i]I restore him fourfold.

9 And Je'sus said unto him, This day is salvation come to this house, forasmuch as [k]he also is [l]a son of A'bra-ham.

10 [m]For the Son of man is come to seek and to save that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Je-ru'sa-lem, and because [n]they thought that the kingdom of God should immediately appear.

12 [o]He said therefore, A certain nobleman went into a far country to receive for himself a kingdom, and to return.

13 And he called his ten servants, and delivered them ten [1]pounds, and said unto them, Occupy till I come.

14 [p]But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not have this man to reign over us.

15 And it came to pass, that when he was returned, having received the kingdom, then he commanded these servants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the [2]money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he said unto him, Well, thou good servant: because thou hast been [j]faithful in a very little, have thou authority over ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he said likewise to him, Be thou also over five cities.

20 And another came, saying, [k]Lord, behold, here is thy pound, which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

21 [l]For I feared thee, because thou art an austere man: thou takest up that thou layedst not down, and reapest that thou didst not sow.

22 And he saith unto him, [m]Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked servant. [n]Thou knewest that I was an austere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not sow:

23 Wherefore then gavest not thou my money into the bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with [o]usury?

24 And he said unto them that stood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they said unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds.)

26 For I say unto you, [p]That unto every one which hath shall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath shall be taken away from him.

27 But those mine enemies, which would not that I should reign over them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, [q]he went before, ascending up to Je-ru′sa-lem.

29 [r]And it came to pass, when he was come nigh to Beth-pha′ge and Beth′a-ny, at the mount called the mount of Ol′ives, he sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, [s]Go ye into the village over against you; in the which at your entering ye shall find a colt tied, whereon yet never man sat: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye loose him? thus shall ye say unto him, Because [t]the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were sent went their way, and found even as he had said unto them.

33 And as they were loosing the colt, the owners thereof said unto them, Why loose ye the colt?

35 And they brought him to Je′sus: [r]and they cast their garments upon the colt, and they set Je′sus thereon.

36 [s]And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the descent of the mount of Ol′ives, the whole multitude of the disciples began to rejoice and praise God with a loud voice for all the mighty works that they had seen;

38 Saying, [t]Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord: [u]peace in heaven, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Phar′i-sees from among the multitude said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 And he answered and said unto them, I tell you that, if these should hold their peace, [x]the stones would immediately cry out.

41 ¶ And when he was come near, he beheld the city, and [y]wept over it,

42 Saying, If thou hadst known, even thou, at least in this thy day, the things which belong unto thy peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

43 For the days shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall [z]cast a trench about thee, and compass thee round, and keep thee in on every side,

44 And [a]shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee; and [b]they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another; [c]because thou knewest not the time of thy visitation.

45 [d]And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought;

46 Saying unto them, [e]It is written, My house is the house of prayer; but [f]ye have made it a den of thieves.

47 And he taught daily in the temple. But [g]the chief priests and the scribes and the chief of the people sought to destroy him,

48 And could not find what they might do: for all the people [3]were very attentive to hear him.

CHAPTER XX.

Jesus silenceth those who question his authority. 9 The parable of the wicked husbandmen. 19 The question of the priests about paying tribute to Cesar, 27 and of the Sadducees concerning the resurrection. 39 Christ the Son of David. 45 He warneth the disciples to beware of the scribes.

AND [a]it came to pass, that on one of those days, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the scribes came upon him with the elders,

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, [b]by what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authority?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing; and answer me:

4 The baptism of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then believed ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: [c] for they be persuaded that John was a prophet.

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Je'sus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

9 Then began he to speak to the people this parable; [d] A certain man planted a vineyard, and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a far country for a long time.

10 And at the season he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him, and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant: and they beat him also, and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent a third: and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, [e] What shall I do? [f] I will send my beloved son: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir: come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, [g] The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?

18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone shall be broken; but [h] on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grind him to powder.

19 ¶ And the chief priests and the scribes the same hour sought to lay hands on him; and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 [i] And they watched him, and sent forth spies, which should feign themselves just men, that they might take hold of his words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and authority of the governor.

21 And they asked him, saying, [h] Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither acceptest thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God [1] truly:

22 Is it lawful for us to give tribute unto Ce'sar, or no?

23 But he perceived their craftiness, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Show me a [2] penny. Whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Ce'sar's.

25 And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Ce'sar the things which be Ce'sar's, and unto God the things which be God's.

26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people: and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 ¶ [i] Then came to him certain of the Sad'du-cees, [k] which deny that there is any resurrection; and they asked him,

28 Saying, Master, [l] Mo'ses wrote unto us, If any man's brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother.

29 There were therefore seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childless.

31 And the third took her; and in like manner the seven also: and they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.

34 And Je'sus answering said unto them, The children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:

35 But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage:

36 Neither can they die any more: for [m] they are equal unto the angels; and are the children of God, [n] being the children of the resurrection.

37 Now that the dead are raised, [o] even Mo'ses showed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of A'bra-ham, and the God of I'saac, and the God of Ja'cob.

38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living: for [p] all live unto him.

39 ¶ Then certain of the scribes answering said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 [q] And after that they durst not ask him any question at all.

41 And he said unto them, [r] How say they that Christ is Da'vid's son?

42 And Da'vid himself saith in the book of Psalms, [s] The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 Da'vid therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his son?

45 ¶ [s] Then in the audience of all the people he said unto his disciples,

46 [t] Beware of the scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and [u] love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts;

47 [x] Which devour widows' houses, and for a show make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

CHAPTER XXI.

A widow's two mites. 5 Jesus foretelleth the destruction of the temple, 7 and the calamities which shall precede it. 25 The signs of his coming, 34 and the duty of watchfulness and prayer. 37 Jesus abideth by night in the mount of Olives.

AND he looked up; [a] and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.

2 And he saw also a certain poor widow casting in thither two [1] mites.

3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, [b] that this poor widow hath cast in more than they all:

4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God: but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

5 ¶ [c] And as some spake of the temple, how it was adorned with goodly stones and gifts, he said,

6 As for these things which ye behold, the days will come, in the which [d] there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what sign will there be when these things shall come to pass?

8 And he said, [e] Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ; and the time draweth near: go ye not therefore after them.

9 But [f] when ye shall hear of wars and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to pass; but the end is not by and by.

10 [g] Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom:

11 And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences; and fearful sights and great signs shall there be from heaven.

12 [h] But before all these, they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and [i] into prisons, [j] being brought before kings and rulers [k] for my name's sake.

13 And [l] it shall turn to you for a testimony.

24 And they shall fall by the edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations: and Je-ru'sa-lem shall be trodden down of the Gen'tiles, [x] until the times of the Gen'tiles be fulfilled.

25 ¶ [y] And there shall be signs in the sun, and in the moon, and in the stars; and upon the earth distress of nations, with perplexity; the sea and the waves roaring;

26 Men's hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after those things which are coming on the earth: [z] for the powers of heaven shall be shaken.

27 And then shall they see the Son of man [a] coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

28 And when these things begin to come to pass, then look up, and lift up your heads; for [b] your redemption draweth nigh.

29 [c] And he spake to them a parable; Behold the fig tree, and all the trees;

30 When they now shoot forth, ye see and know of your own selves that summer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewise ye, when ye see these things come to pass, know ye that the kingdom of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I say unto you, This generation shall not pass away, till all be fulfilled.

33 [d] Heaven and earth shall pass away; but my words shall not pass away.

34 ¶ And [e] take heed to yourselves, lest at any time your hearts be overcharged with surfeiting, and drunkenness, and cares of this life, and so that day come upon you unawares.

35 For [f] as a snare shall it come on all them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 [g] Watch ye therefore, and [h] pray always, that ye may be accounted worthy to escape all these things that shall come to pass, and [i] to stand before the Son of man.

37 [k] And in the daytime he was teaching in the temple; and [l] at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Ol'ives.

38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to hear him.

CHAPTER XXII.

The rulers conspire against Jesus. 3 Judas selleth him. 7 Jesus keepeth the passover; 19 instituteth the Lord's supper; 24 exhorteth his disciples to humility; 31 and foretelleth Peter's denial of him. 39 He prayeth in the garden; 47 is betrayed with a kiss; 54 and is brought into the high priest's house, where Peter denieth him. 63 He is mocked; 66 and condemned before the council.

NOW [a] the feast of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the passover.

2 And [b] the chief priests and scribes sought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

3 ¶ [c] Then entered Sa'tan into Ju'das surnamed Is-car'i-ot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed with the chief priests and captains, how he might betray him unto them.

5 And they were glad, and [d] covenanted to give him money.

6 And he promised, and sought opportunity to betray him unto them [1] in the absence of the multitude.

7 ¶ [e] Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the passover must be killed.

8 And he sent Pe'ter and John, saying, Go and prepare us the passover, that we may eat.

9 And they said unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10 And he said unto them, Behold, when ye are entered into the city, there shall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water; follow him into the house where he entereth in.

11 And ye shall say unto the good man of the house, The Master saith unto thee, Where is the guestchamber, where I shall eat the passover with my disciples?

12 And he shall show you a large upper room furnished: there make ready.

13 And they went, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passover.

14 [f] And when the hour was come, he sat down, and the twelve apostles with him.

15 And he said unto them, [2] With desire I have desired to eat this passover with you before I suffer:

16 For I say unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, [g] until it be fulfilled in the kingdom of God.

17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and said, Take this, and divide it among yourselves:

18 For [h] I say unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, until the kingdom of God shall come.

19 ¶ [i] And he took bread, and gave thanks, and brake it, and gave unto them, saying, This is my body which is given for you: [k] this do in remembrance of me.

20 Likewise also the cup after supper, saying, [l] This cup is the new testament in my blood, which is shed for you.

21 ¶ [m] But behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me is with me on the table.

22 [n] And truly the Son of man goeth, [o] as it was determined: but woe unto that man by whom he is betrayed!

23 [p] And they began to inquire among themselves, which of them it was that should do this thing.

24 ¶ [q] And there was also a strife among them, which of them should be accounted the greatest.

25 [r] And he said unto them, The kings of the Gen'tiles exercise lordship over them; and they that exercise authority upon them are called benefactors.

26 [s] But ye shall not be so: [t] but he that is greatest among you, let him be as the younger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.

27 [u] For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? but [x] I am among you as he that serveth.

28 Ye are they which have continued with me in [y] my temptations.

29 And [z] I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me;

30 That [a] ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdom, [b] and sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Is'ra-el.

31 ¶ And the Lord said, Si'mon, Si'mon, behold, [c] Sa'tan hath desired to have you, that he may [d] sift you as wheat:

32 But [e] I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: [f] and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

33 And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and to death.

34 [g] And he said, I tell thee, Pe'ter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me.

35 [h] And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye anything? And they said, Nothing.

36 Then said he unto them, [h] But now, he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.

37 For I say unto you, that this that is written must yet be accomplished in me, [i] And he was reckoned among the transgressors: for the things concerning me have an end.

38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.

39 ¶ [k] And he came out, and [l] went, as he was wont, to the mount of Ol'ives; and his disciples also followed him.

40 [m] And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray that ye enter not into temptation.

41 [n] And he was withdrawn from them about a stone's cast, and kneeled down, and prayed,

42 Saying, Father, if thou be [3] willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, [o] not my will, but thine, be done.

43 And there appeared [p] an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.

44 [q] And being in an agony he prayed more earnestly: [r] and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground.

45 And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow,

46 And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and [s] pray, lest ye enter into temptation.

47 ¶ And while he yet spake, [t] behold a multitude, and he that was called Ju'das, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew near unto Je'sus to kiss him.

48 But Je'sus said unto him, Ju'das, [u] betrayest thou the Son of man with a kiss?

49 When they which were about him saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?

50 ¶ And [v] one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear.

51 And Je'sus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him.

52 [w] Then Je'sus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders, which were come to him, Be ye come out, as against a thief, with swords and staves?

53 When I was daily with you in the temple, ye stretched forth no hands against me: [x] but this is your hour, and the power of darkness.

54 ¶ [y] Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priest's house. [z] And Pe'ter followed afar off.

56 But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him.

57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.

58 [b] And after a little while another saw him, and said, Thou art also of them. And Pe'ter said, Man, I am not.

59 [c] And about the space of one hour after another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him; for he is a Gal-i-le'an.

60 And Pe'ter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew.

61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Pe'ter. [d] And Pe'ter remembered the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, [e] Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.

62 And Pe'ter went out, and wept bitterly.

63 ¶ [f] And the men that held Je'sus mocked him, and smote him.

64 And when they had blindfolded him, they struck him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesy, who is it that smote thee?

65 And many other things blasphemously spake they against him.

66 ¶ [g] And as soon as it was day, [h] the elders of the people and the chief priests and the scribes came together, and led him into their council, saying, thou the King of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.

4 Then said Pi′late to the chief priests and to the people, [e] I find no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jew′ry, [f] beginning from Gal′i-lee to this place.

6 When Pi′late heard of Gal′i-lee, he asked whether the man were a Gal-i-le′an.

7 And as soon as he knew that he belonged unto [g] Her′od's jurisdiction, he sent him to Her′od, who himself also was at Je-ru′sa-lem at that time.

8 ¶ And when Her′od saw Je′sus, he was exceeding glad: for [h] he was desirous to see him of a long season, because [i] he had heard many things of him; and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words; [j] but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

11 [k] And Her′od with his men of war set him at nought, and mocked him, and arrayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pi′late.

12 ¶ And the same day [l] Pi′late and Her′od were made friends together; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

13 ¶ [m] And Pi′late, when he had called together the chief priests and the rulers and the people,

14 Said unto them, [n] Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people; and behold, [o] I, having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Her′od: for I sent you to him; and lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

16 [p] I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 [q] For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.

18 And [r] they cried out all at once, saying, [s] Away with this man, and release unto us Ba-rab′bas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the city, and for murder, was cast into prison.)

20 Pi′late therefore, willing to release Je′sus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucify him, crucify him.

22 And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him: [t] I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them and of the chief priests prevailed.

24 And [s] Pi′late [1] gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he released unto them him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Je′sus to their will.

26 [t] And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Si′mon, a Cy-re′ni-an, coming out of the country, and on him they laid the cross, that he might bear it after Je′sus.

27 ¶ And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Je′sus turning unto them said, Daughters of Je-ru′sa-lem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves, and for your children.

29 [u] For behold, the days are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombs that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

30 [x] Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hills, Cover us.

31 [y] For if they do these things in a green tree, what shall be done in the dry?

32 [z] And there were also two others, malefactors, led with him to be put to death.

33 And [a] when they were come to the place, which is called [2] Cal′va-ry, there they crucified him, and the malefactors, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

34 ¶ Then said Je′sus, Father, [b] forgive them; for [c] they know not what they do. And [d] they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And [e] the people stood beholding. And the [f] rulers also with them derided him, saying, He saved others; let him save himself, if he be Christ, the chosen of God.

36 And the soldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vinegar,

37 And saying, If thou be the King of the Jews, save thyself.

38 [g] And a superscription also was written over him in letters of Greek, and Lat′in, and He′brew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ¶ [h] And one of the malefactors which were hanged railed on him, saying, If thou be Christ, save thyself and us.

40 But the other answering rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And [i] we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing amiss.

42 And he said unto Je′sus, Lord, re member me when thou comest into thy kingdom.

43 And Je'sus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 [i] And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the [3] earth until the ninth hour.

45 And the sun was darkened, and [k] the vail of the temple was rent in the midst.

46 ¶ And when Je'sus had cried with a loud voice, he said, [l] Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: [m] and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

47 [n] Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 [o] And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Gal'i-lee, stood afar off, beholding these things.

50 ¶ [p] And behold, there was a man named Jo'seph, a counsellor; and he was a good man, and a just:

51 The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them: he was of Ar-i-ma-the'a, a city of the Jews; [q] who also himself waited for the kingdom of God.

52 This man went unto Pi'late, and begged the body of Je'sus.

53 [r] And he took it down, and wrapped it in linen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewn in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 And that day was [s] the preparation, and the sabbath drew on.

55 And the women also, [t] which came with him from Gal'i-lee, followed after, and [u] beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

56 And they returned, and [x] prepared spices and ointments; and rested the sabbath day [y] according to the commandment.

CHAPTER XXIV.

The resurrection of Jesus. 9 The report of the women. 12 Peter runneth to the sepulchre. 13 Jesus appeareth to two disciples on their way to Emmaus; 36 and to the eleven. 50 His ascension.

NOW [a] upon the first day of the week, very early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, [b] bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

2 [c] And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 [d] And they entered in, and found not the body of the Lord Je'sus.

4 And it came to pass, as they were much perplexed thereabout, [e] behold, two men stood by them in shining garments:

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye [1] the living among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: [f] remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Gal'i-lee,

7 Saying, The Son of man must be delivered into the hands of sinful men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And [g] they remembered his words,

9 [h] And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

10 It was Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne, and [i] Jo-an'na, and Ma'ry the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 [k] And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they believed them not.

12 [l] Then arose Pe'ter, and ran unto the sepulchre; and stooping down, he beheld the linen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to pass.

13 ¶ [m] And behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Em'ma-us, which was from Je-ru'sa-lem about threescore furlongs.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

15 And it came to pass, that, while they communed together and reasoned, [n] Je'sus himself drew near, and went with them.

16 But [o] their eyes were holden that they should not know him.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And the one of them, [p] whose name was Cle'o-pas, answering said unto him, Art thou only a stranger in Je-ru'sa-lem, and hast not known the things which are come to pass there in these days?

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, Concerning Je'sus of Naz'a-reth, [q] which was a prophet [r] mighty in deed and word before God and all the people:

20 [s] And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

21 But we trusted [t] that it had been he which should have redeemed Is'ra-el: and besides all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea, and [u] certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre;

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

24 And [x] certain of them which were with us went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said: but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, [x] O fools, and slow of heart to believe all that the prophets have spoken:

26 [y] Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 [z] And beginning at [a] Mo'ses and [b] all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the Scriptures the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went: and [c] he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But [d] they constrained him, saying, Abide with us; for it is toward evening, and the day is far spent. And he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to pass, as he sat at meat with them, [e] he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him; and he [2] vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the Scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same hour, and returned to Je-ru'sa-lem, [f] and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them,

34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and [g] hath appeared to Si'mon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in breaking of bread.

36 ¶ [h] And as they thus spake, Je'sus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen [i] a spirit.

38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled? and why do thoughts arise in your hearts?

39 Behold my hands and my feet, that it is I myself: [i] handle me, and see; for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he showed them his hands and his feet.

41 And while they yet believed not [k] for joy, and wondered, he said unto them, [l] Have ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of a honeycomb.

43 [m] And he took it, and did eat before them.

44 And he said unto them, [n] These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled, which were written in the law of Mo'ses, and in the prophets, and in the psalms, concerning me.

45 Then [o] opened he their understanding, that they might understand the Scriptures,

46 And said unto them, [p] Thus it is written, and thus it behooved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47 And that repentance and [q] remission of sins should be preached in his name [r] among all nations, beginning at Je-ru'sa-lem.

48 And [s] ye are witnesses of these things.

49 ¶ [t] And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Je-ru'sa-lem, until ye be endued with power from on high.

50 ¶ And he led them out [u] as far as to Beth'a-ny, and he lifted up his hands, and blessed them.

51 [x] And it came to pass, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

52 [y] And they worshipped him, and returned to Je-ru'sa-lem with great joy:

53 And were continually [z] in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

THE GOSPEL

ST. JOHN.

SAINT JOHN the Evangelist, an apostle, was the son of Zebedee, a fisherman, of the town of Bethsaida, on the Sea of Galilee, and the younger brother of James the elder. His mother's name was Salome. He was eminently the object of our Lord's regard and confidence, and was on various occasions admitted to free and intimate intercourse with him. We find him present at several scenes to which most of the other disciples were not admitted. He died a natural death, in the year of our Lord 100, at an advanced age. He wrote his Gospel in Greek, most probably about the year 97, and it has been universally received as genuine. Besides the uninterrupted testimony of antiquity, the circumstantiality of its details prove that the book was written by an eye-witness of the transactions it records. His general design, in common with the rest of the evangelists, is to prove that Jesus is the Messiah, the Son of God; and that, "believing, we may have life through his name." Ancient writers inform us that there were two special motives that induced him to write this Gospel, one of which was to supply those important events in the life of the Saviour which had been omitted by the other evangelists; the other motive was, that he might refute the heresies of Corinthus and the Nicolaitans, who had attempted to corrupt the Christian doctrine. This Gospel is divided into three parts, and contains doctrines laid down in opposition to those of Corinthus, the proofs of those doctrines in a historical manner, and an appendix giving an account of the person of the writer, and his design in writing his Gospel.

CHAPTER I.

The divinity, humanity, and office of Jesus Christ. 15 The testimony of John the Baptist. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, and others.

IN the beginning [a]was the Word, and the Word was [b]with God, [c]and the Word was God.

2 [d]The same was in the beginning with God.

3 [e]All things were made by him; and without him was not any thing made that was made.

4 [f]In him was life; and [g]the life was the light of men.

5 And [h]the light shineth in darkness; and the darkness comprehended it not.

6 ¶ [i]There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 [k]The same came for a witness, to bear witness of the Light, that all men through him might believe.

8 He was not that Light, but was sent to bear witness of that Light.

9 [l]That was the true Light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 He was in the world, and [m]the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 [n]He came unto his own, and his own received him not.

12 But [o]as many as received him, to them gave he [1]power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name:

13 [p]Which were born, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 [q]And the Word [r]was made [s]flesh, and dwelt among us, and [t]we beheld his glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, [u]full of grace and truth.

15 ¶ [w]John bare witness of him, and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, [x]He that cometh after me is preferred before me; [y]for he was before me.

16 And of his [z]fulness have all we received, and grace for grace.

17 For [a]the law was given by Mo'ses, but [b]grace and [c]truth came by Je'sus Christ.

18 [d]No man hath seen God at any time; [e]the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him.

19 ¶ And this is [f]the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Le'vites from Je-ru'sa-lem to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And [g]he confessed, and denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou [h]E-li'as? And he saith, I am not. Art thou [i][2]that Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? that we may give an answer to them that sent us. What sayest thou of thyself?

23 [k]He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as [l]said the prophet E-sa'ias.

24 And they which were sent were of the Phar'i-sees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not that Christ, nor E-li'as, neither that Prophet?

26 John answered them, saying, [m]I baptize with water: [n]but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not;

27 [o]He it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose.

28 These things were done [p]in Beth-ab'a-ra beyond Jor'dan, where John was baptizing.

29 ¶ The next day John seeth Je'sus coming unto him, and saith, Behold [q]the Lamb of God, [r]which [3]taketh away the sin of the world!

30 [s]This is he of whom I said, After me cometh a man which is preferred before me; for he was before me.

31 And I knew him not: but that he should be made manifest to Is'ra-el, [t]therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 [u]And John bare record, saying, I saw the Spirit descending from heaven like a dove, and it abode upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same said unto me, Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending, and remaining on him, [x]the same is he which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost.

34 And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God.

35 ¶ Again the next day after, John stood, and two of his disciples;

36 And looking upon Je'sus as he walked, he saith, [y]Behold the Lamb of God!

37 And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Je'sus.

38 Then Je'sus turned, and saw them following, and saith unto them, What seek ye? They said unto him, Rab'bi, (which is to say, being interpreted, Master,) where [4]dwellest thou?

39 He saith unto them, Come and see. They came and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the tenth hour.

40 One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was [z]An'drew, Si'mon Pe'ter's brother.

41 He first findeth his own brother Si'mon, and saith unto him, We have found the Mes-si'as, which is, being interpreted, [5]the Christ.

42 And he brought him to Je'sus. And when Je'sus beheld him, he said, Thou art Si'mon the son of Jo'nas: [a]thou shalt be called Ce'phas, which is by interpretation, [6]A stone.

43 ¶ The day following Je'sus would go forth into Gal'i-lee, and findeth Phil'ip, and saith unto him, Follow me.

48 Na-than'a-el saith unto him, Whence knowest thou me? Je'sus answered and said unto him, Before that Phil'ip called thee, when thou wast under the fig tree, I saw thee.

49 Na-than'a-el answered and saith unto him, Rab'bi, [i]thou art the Son of God; thou art [k]the King of Is'ra-el.

50 Je'sus answered and said unto him, Because I said unto thee, I saw thee under the fig tree, believest thou? thou shalt see greater things than these.

51 And he saith unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [l]Hereafter ye shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of man.

CHAPTER II.

Jesus at Cana turneth water into wine. 13 He goeth up to Jerusalem, and driveth the traders out of the temple. 18 He foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 23 Many believe on him.

AND the third day there was a marriage in [a]Ca'na of Gal'i-lee; and the mother of Je'sus was there:

2 And both Je'sus was called, and his disciples, to the marriage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Je'sus saith unto him, They have no wine.

4 Je'sus saith unto her, [b]Woman, [c]what have I to do with thee? [d]mine hour is not yet come.

5 His mother saith unto the servants, Whatsoever he saith unto you, do it.

6 And there were set there six waterpots of stone, [e]after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three firkins apiece.

7 Je'sus saith unto them, Fill the waterpots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he saith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governor of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted [f]the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the servants which drew the water knew,) the governor of the feast called the bridegroom,

10 And saith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth set forth good wine; and when men have well drunk, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine until now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Je'sus in Ca'na of Gal'i-lee,[g] and manifested forth his glory; and his disciples believed on him.

12 ¶ After this he went down to Ca-per'na-um, he, and his mother, and [h]his brethren, and his disciples; and they continued there not many days.

13 ¶ [i]And the Jews' passover was at hand, and Je'sus went up to Je-ru'sa-lem,

14 [k]And found in the temple those that sold oxen and sheep and doves, and the changers of money sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep, and the oxen; and poured out the changers' money, and overthrew the tables;

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence; make not [l]my Father's house a house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembered that it was written, [m]The zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

18 ¶ Then answered the Jews and said unto him, [n]What sign showest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Je'sus answered and said unto them, [o]Destroy this temple, and in three days I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Forty and six years was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three days?

21 But he spake [p]of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, [q]his disciples remembered that he had said this unto them; and they believed the Scripture, and the word which Je'sus had said.

23 ¶ Now when he was in Je-ru'sa-lem at the passover, in the feast day, many believed in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 But Je'sus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men,

25 And needed not that any should testify of man; for [r]he knew what was in man.

CHAPTER III.

Jesus' discourse with Nicodemus. 22 He tarrieth in Judea. 23 John the Baptist at Enon. 25 His testimony concerning Jesus.

THERE was a man of the Phar'i-sees, named Nic-o-de'mus, a ruler of the Jews:

2 [a]The same came to Je'sus by night, and said unto him, Rab'bi, we know that thou art a teacher come from God: for [b]no man can do these miracles that thou doest, except [c]God be with him.

3 Je'sus answered and said unto him, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, [d]Except a man be born [1]again, he cannot see the kingdom of God.

4 Nic-o-de'mus saith unto him, How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mother's womb, and be born?

5 Je'sus answered, Verily, verily, I say unto thee, [e]Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdom of God.

6 That which is born of the flesh is flesh; and that which is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born [2]again.

8 [f]The wind bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither it goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 Nic-o-de'mus answered and said unto him, [g]How can these things be?

10 Je'sus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Is'ra-el, and knowest not these things?

11 [h]Verily, verily, I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testify that we have seen; and [i]ye receive not our witness.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye believe not, how shall ye believe, if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And [k]no man hath ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the Son of man which is in heaven.

14 ¶ [l]And as Mo'ses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so [m]must the Son of man be lifted up:

15 That whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but [n]have eternal life.

16 ¶ [o]For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17 [p]For God sent not his Son into the world to condemn the world; but that the world through him might be saved.

18 ¶ [q]He that believeth on him is not condemned: but he that believeth not is condemned already, because he hath not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.

19 And this is the condemnation, [r]that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

20 For [s]every one that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be [3]reproved.

21 But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.

22 ¶ After these things came Je'sus and his disciples into the land of Ju-de'a; and there he tarried with them, [t]and baptized.

23 ¶ And John also was baptizing in E'non near to [u]Sa'lim, because there was much water there: [x] and they came, and were baptized.

24 For [y] John was not yet cast into prison.

25 ¶ Then there arose a question between some of John's disciples and the Jews about purifying.

26 And they came unto John, and said unto him, Rab'bi, he that was with thee beyond Jor'dan, [z] to whom thou barest witness, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.

27 John answered and said, [a] A man can [4] receive nothing, except it be given him from heaven.

28 Ye yourselves bear me witness, that I said, [b] I am not the Christ, but [c] that I am sent before him.

29 [d] He that hath the bride is the bridegroom: but [e] the friend of the bridegroom, which standeth and heareth him, rejoiceth greatly because of the bridegroom's voice: this my joy therefore is fulfilled.

30 He must increase, but I must decrease.

31 [f] He that cometh from above [g] is above all: [h] he that is of the earth is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: [i] he that cometh from heaven is above all.

32 And [k] what he hath seen and heard, that he testifieth; and no man receiveth his testimony.

33 He that hath received his testimony [l] hath set to his seal that God is true.

34 [m] For he whom God hath sent speaketh the words of God: for God giveth not the Spirit [n] by measure unto him.

35 [o] The Father loveth the Son, and hath given all things into his hand.

36 [p] He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: and he that believeth not the Son shall not see life; but the wrath of God abideth on him.

CHAPTER IV.

Jesus' discourse with a woman of Samaria. 27 His disciples marvel. 31 The fields white for the harvest. 39 Many of the Samaritans believe on him. 43 He departeth into Galilee; 46 and healeth a nobleman's son sick at Capernaum.

WHEN therefore the Lord knew how the Phar'i-sees had heard that Je'sus made and [a] baptized more disciples than John,

2 (Though Je'sus himself baptized not, but his disciples,)

3 He left Ju-de'a, and departed again into Gal'i-lee.

4 And he must needs go through Sa-ma'ri-a.

5 Then cometh he to a city of Sa-ma'ri-a, which is called Sy'char, near to the parcel of ground [b] that Ja'cob gave to his son Jo'seph.

6 Now Ja'cob's well was there. Je'sus therefore, being wearied with his journey, sat thus on the well: and it was about the sixth hour.

7 There cometh a woman of Sa-ma'ri-a to draw water: Je'sus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8 For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.

9 Then saith the woman of Sa-ma'ri-a unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Sa-ma'ri-a? for [c] the Jews have no dealings with the Sa-mar'i-tans.

10 Je'sus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee [d] living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Ja'cob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattle?

13 Je'sus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:

14 But [e] whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him [f] shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15 [g] The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Je'sus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Je'sus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, [h] I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 Our fathers worshipped in [i] this mountain; and ye say, that in [k] Je-ru'sa-lem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Je'sus saith unto her, Woman, believe me, the hour cometh, [l] when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Je-ru'sa-lem, worship the Father.

22 Ye worship [m] ye know not what: we know what we worship; for [n] salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the hour cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in [o] spirit [p] and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 [q] God is a Spirit: and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Mes-si'as cometh, which is called Christ: when he is come, [r]he will tell us all things.

26 Je'sus saith unto her, [s]I that speak unto thee am he.

27 ¶ And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her waterpot, and went her way into the city, and saith to the men,

29 Come, see a man, [t]which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ?

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 ¶ In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

32 But he said unto them, [u]I have meat to eat that ye know not of.

33 Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him aught to eat?

34 Je'sus saith unto them, [v]My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and [w]to finish his work.

35 Say not ye, There are yet four months, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields; [x]for they are white already to harvest.

36 [y]And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together.

37 And herein is that saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entered into their labours.

39 ¶ And many of the Sa-mar'i-tans of that city believed on him [z]for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

40 So when the Sa-mar'i-tans were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two days.

41 And [a]many more believed because of his own word;

42 And said unto the woman, Now we believe, not because of thy saying: for [b]we have heard him ourselves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

43 ¶ Now after two days he departed thence, and went into Gal'i-lee.

44 For [c]Je'sus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own country.

45 Then when he was come into Gal'i-lee, the Gal-i-le'ans received him, [d]having seen all the things that he did at Je-ru'sa-lem at the feast: [e]for they also went unto the feast.

46 So Je'sus came again into Ca'na of Gal'i-lee, [f]where he made the water wine. And there was a certain [1]nobleman, whose son was sick at Ca-per'na-um.

49 The nobleman saith unto him, Sir, come [h]down ere my child die.

50 Je'sus saith unto him, Go thy way; thy son liveth. And the man believed the word that Je'sus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy son liveth.

52 Then inquired he of them the hour when he began to amend. And they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same hour, in the which Je'sus said unto him, Thy son liveth: and himself believed, and his whole house.

CHAPTER V.

The pool of Bethesda. 5 An impotent man healed on the sabbath. 10 The Jews find fault. 17 Jesus answereth them, declaring himself to be the Son of God; 32 and proving it by the testimony of John, 36 by his works, 37 and by the witness of the Father in the Scriptures.

AFTER [a]this there was a feast of the Jews; and Je'sus went up to Je-ru'sa-lem.

2 Now there is at Je-ru'sa-lem [b]by the sheep [1]market a pool, which is called in the He'brew tongue Beth-es'da, having five porches.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blind, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight years.

6 When Je'sus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Je'sus saith unto him, [c]Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and [d]on the same day was the sabbath.

10 ¶ The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day: [e]it is not lawful for thee to carry thy bed.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed, and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed, and walk?

13 And he that was healed wist not who it was: for Je'sus had conveyed himself away, [2]a multitude being in that place.

14 Afterward Je'sus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: [f]sin no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that it was Je'sus, which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Je'sus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath day.

17 ¶ But Je'sus answered them, [g]My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews [h]sought the more to kill him, because he not only had broken the sabbath, but said also that God was his Father, [i]making himself equal with God.

19 Then answered Je'sus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [k]The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise.

20 For [l]the Father loveth the Son, and showeth him all things that himself doeth: and he will show him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them; [m]even so the Son quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father judgeth no man, but [n]hath committed all judgment unto the Son:

23 That all men should honour the Son, even as they honour the Father. [o]He that honoureth not the Son honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [p]He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; [q]but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily, verily, I say unto you, The hour is coming, and now is, when [r]the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself;

27 And [s]hath given him authority to execute judgment also, [t]because he is the Son of man.

28 Marvel not at this: for the hour is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall hear his voice,

29 [u]And shall come forth; [x]they that have done good, unto the resurrection of life; and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 [y]I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because [z]I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 [a]If I bear witness of myself, my witness is not true.

32 ¶ [b]There is another that beareth witness of me; and I know that the witness which he witnesseth of me is true.

33 Ye sent unto John, [c]and he bare witness unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and [d]a shining light: and [e]ye were willing for a season to rejoice in his light.

36 ¶ But [f]I have greater witness than that of John: for [g]the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witness of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself, which hath sent me, [h]hath borne witness of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, [i]nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye believe not.

39 ¶ [k]Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life: and [l]they are they which testify of me.

40 [m]And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 [n]I receive not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 [o]How can ye believe, which receive honour one of another, and seek not [p]the honour that cometh from God only?

45 Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: [q]there is one that accuseth you, even Mo'ses, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye believed Mo'ses, ye would have believed me: [r]for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye believe not his writings, how shall ye believe my words?

CHAPTER VI.

Jesus passeth over the sea of Galilee; 5 and feedeth five thousand men. 15 He walketh on the sea. 22 The people follow him to Capernaum. 26 He reproveth their carnal motives; 30 and declareth himself to be the bread of life. 66 Many of his disciples walk no more with him. 68 Peter confesseth him.

AFTER [a] these things Je'sus went over the sea of Gal'i-lee, which is the sea of Ti-be'ri-as.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Je'sus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 [b] And the passover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 ¶ [c] When Je'sus then lifted up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Phil'ip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?

6 And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do.

7 Phil'ip answered him, [d] Two hundred pennyworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, An'drew, Si'mon Pe'ter's brother, saith unto him,

9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: [e] but what are they among so many?

10 And Je'sus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grass in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Je'sus took the loaves; and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down; and likewise of the fishes as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, which remained over and above unto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Je'sus did, said, This is of a truth [f] that Prophet that should come into the world.

15 ¶ When Je'sus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 [g] And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea,

17 And entered into a ship, and went over the sea toward Ca-per'na-um. And it was now dark, and Je'sus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose by reason of a great wind that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty or thirty furlongs, they see Je'sus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, [f] It is I; be not afraid.

21 Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, when the people, which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Je'sus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone;

23 Howbeit there came other boats from Ti-be'ri-as nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks:

24 When the people therefore saw that Je'sus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Ca-per'na-um, [g] seeking for Je'sus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rab'bi, when camest thou hither?

26 Je'sus answered them and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 [1] Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but [h] for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Son of man shall give unto you: [i] for him hath God the Father sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might work the works of God?

29 Je'sus answered and said unto them, [k] This is the work of God, that ye believe on him whom he hath sent.

30 They said therefore unto him, [l] What sign showest thou then, that we may see, and believe thee? what dost thou work?

31 [m] Our fathers did eat manna in the desert; as it is written, [n] He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 Then Je'sus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Mo'ses gave you not that bread from heaven; but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 [o] Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Je'sus said unto them, [p] I am the bread of life: [q] he that cometh to me shall never hunger; and he that believeth on me shall never thirst.

36 [r] But I said unto you, That ye also have seen me, and believe not.

37 [s] All that the Father giveth me shall come to me; and [t] him that cometh to me I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, [u]not to do mine own will, [x]but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Father's will which hath sent me, [y]that of all which he hath given me I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, [z]that every one which seeth the Son, and believeth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, [a]Is not this Je'sus, the son of Jo'seph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Je'sus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmur not among yourselves.

44 [b]No man can come to me, except the Father which hath sent me draw him: and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 [c]It is written in the prophets, And they shall be all taught of God. [d]Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 [e]Not that any man hath seen the Father, [f]save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [g]He that believeth on me hath everlasting life.

48 [h]I am that bread of life.

49 [i]Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderness, and are dead.

50 [k]This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 I am the living bread [l]which came down from heaven: if any man eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and [m]the bread that I will give is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 The Jews therefore [n]strove among themselves, saying, [o]How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53 Then Je'sus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except [p]ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you.

54 [q]Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, [r]dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the Father; so he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 [s]This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Ca-per'na-um.

60 [t]Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is a hard saying; who can hear it?

61 When Je'sus knew in himself that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 [u]What and if ye shall see the Son of man ascend up where he was before?

63 [x]It is the spirit that quickeneth; the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.

64 But [y]there are some of you that believe not. For [z]Je'sus knew from the beginning who they were that believed not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore [a]said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66 ¶ [b]From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Je'sus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Si'mon Pe'ter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast [c]the words of eternal life.

69 [d]And we believe and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Son of the living God.

70 Je'sus answered them, [e]Have not I chosen you twelve, [f]and one of you is a devil?

71 He spake of Ju'das Is-car'i-ot the son of Si'mon: [g]for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

CHAPTER VII.

Jesus in Galilee reproveth his own brethren; 10 goeth up to the feast of tabernacles; 14 and teacheth in the temple. 40 What the people think of Jesus. 45 The officers sent to take him return without him. 50 Nicodemus taketh his part.

AFTER these things Je'sus walked in Gal'i-lee: for he would not walk in Jew'ry, [a]because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 [b]Now the Jews' feast of tabernacles was at hand.

3 [c]His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Ju-de'a, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly. [d]If thou do these things, show thyself to the world.

5 For [e]neither did his brethren believe in him.

6 Then Je'sus said unto them, [f]My time is not yet come: but your time is always ready.

7 [f] The world cannot hate you; but me it hateth, [g] because I testify of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast; [h] for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Gal'i-lee.

10 ¶ But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then [i] the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And [k] there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for [l] some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay; but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit no man spake openly of him [m] for fear of the Jews.

14 ¶ Now about the midst of the feast Je'sus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 [n] And the Jews marvelled, saying, How knoweth this man [1] letters, having never learned?

16 Je'sus answered them, and said, [o] My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 [p] If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of myself.

18 [q] He that speaketh of himself seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousness is in him.

19 [r] Did not Mo'ses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? [s] Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered and said, [t] Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Je'sus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22 [u] Mo'ses therefore gave unto you circumcision; not because it is of Mo'ses, [x] but of the fathers; and ye on the sabbath day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the sabbath day receive circumcision, [2] that the law of Mo'ses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because [y] I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbath day?

24 [z] Judge not according to the appearance, but judge righteous judgment.

25 Then said some of them of Je-ru'sa-lem, Is not this he, whom they seek to kill?

26 But lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him. [a] Do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27 [b] Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Je'sus in the temple as he taught, saying, [c] Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am: and [d] I am not come of myself, but he that sent me [e] is true, [f] whom ye know not.

29 But [g] I know him; for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then [h] they sought to take him: but [i] no man laid hands on him, because his hour was not yet come.

31 And [k] many of the people believed on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 ¶ The Phar'i-sees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him; and the Phar'i-sees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Je'sus unto them, [l] Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34 Ye [m] shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not find him? will he go unto [n] the dispersed among the [3] Gen'tiles, and teach the Gen'tiles?

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not find me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

37 [o] In the last day, that great day of the feast, Je'sus stood and cried, saying, [p] If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38 [q] He that believeth on me, as the Scripture hath said, [r] out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 [s] But this spake he of the Spirit, which they that believe on him should receive: for the Holy Ghost was not yet given; because that Je'sus was not yet [t] glorified.

40 ¶ Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is [u] the Prophet.

41 Others said, [x] This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come [y] out of Gal'i-lee?

42 [z] Hath not the Scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of Da'vid, and out of the town of Beth'le-hem, [a] where Da'vid was?

43 So [b] there was a division among the people because of him.

44 And [c] some of them would have taken him; but no man laid hands on him.

45 ¶ Then came the officers to the chief priests and Phar'i-sees; and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, [d] Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Phar'i-sees, Are ye also deceived?

48 [e] Have any of the rulers or of the Phar'i-sees believed on him?

CHAPTER VIII.

A woman taken in adultery. 12 Jesus the light of the world. 14 He justifieth himself. 31 The unbelieving Jews not Abraham's true seed. 59 Jesus hideth himself from them.

JESUS [a]went unto the mount of Ol'ives.

2 And [b]early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him; and he sat down, and taught them.

3 And the scribes and Phar'i-sees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery; and when they had set her in the midst,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 [c]Now Mo'ses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they said, [d]tempting him, that they might have to accuse him. But Je'sus stooped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lifted up himself, and said unto them, [e]He that is without sin among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stooped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, [f]being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Je'sus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

10 When Je'sus had lifted up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Je'sus said unto her, [g]Neither do I condemn thee: go, and [h]sin no more.

12 ¶ Then spake Je'sus again unto them, saying, [i]I am the light of the world: he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life.

13 The Phar'i-sees therefore said unto him, [k]Thou bearest record of thyself; thy record is not true.

14 Je'sus answered and said unto them, Though I bear record of myself, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but [h]ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 [i]Ye judge after the flesh; [k]I judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgment is true: for [l]I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 [m]It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18 I am one that bear witness of myself, and [n]the Father that sent me beareth witness of me.

19 Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Je'sus answered, [o]Ye neither know me, nor my Father: [p]if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 These words spake Je'sus in [q]the treasury, as he taught in the temple: and [r]no man laid hands on him; for [s]his hour was not yet come.

21 Then said Je'sus again unto them, I go my way, and [t]ye shall seek me, and [u]shall die in your sins: whither I go, ye cannot come.

22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.

23 And he said unto them, [x]Ye are from beneath; I am from above: [y]ye are of this world; I am not of this world.

24 [z]I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sins: [a]for if ye believe not that I am he, ye shall die in your sins.

25 Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Je'sus saith unto them, Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 I have many things to say and to judge of you: but [b]he that sent me is true; and [c]I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.

27 They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

28 Then said Je'sus unto them, When ye have [d]lifted up the Son of man, [e]then shall ye know that I am he, and [f]that I do nothing of myself; but [g]as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29 And [h]he that sent me is with me: [i]the Father hath not left me alone; [k]for I do always those things that please him.

30 As he spake these words, [l]many believed on him.

31 ¶ Then said Je'sus to those Jews which believed on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed;

32 And ye shall know the truth, and [m]the truth shall make you free.

33 They answered him, [n]We be A'bra-ham's seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

34 Je′sus answered them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, [o]Whosoever committeth sin is the servant of sin.

35 And [p]the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Son abideth ever.

36 [q]If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 I know that ye are A′bra-ham's seed; but [r]ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 [s]I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 They answered and said unto him, [t]A′bra-ham is our father. Je′sus saith unto them, [u]If ye were A′bra-ham's children, ye would do the works of A′bra-ham.

40 [x]But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, [y]which I have heard of God: this did not A′bra-ham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication; [z]we have one Father, even God.

42 Je′sus said unto them, [a]If God were your Father, ye would love me: [b]for I proceeded forth and came from God; [c]neither came I of myself, but he sent me.

43 [d]Why do ye not understand my speech? even because ye cannot hear my word.

44 [e]Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the beginning, and [f]abode not in the truth, because there is no truth in him. [g]When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his own: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the truth, ye believe me not.

46 Which of you convinceth me of sin? And if I say the truth, why do ye not believe me?

47 [h]He that is of God heareth God's words: ye therefore hear them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Sa-mar′i-tan, and [i]hast a devil?

49 Je′sus answered, I have not a devil; but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 And [j]I seek not mine own glory: there is one that seeketh and judgeth.

51 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [k]If a man keep my saying, he shall never see death.

52 Then said the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou hast a devil. [l]A′bra-ham is dead, and the prophets; and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shall never taste of death.

53 Art thou greater than our father A′bra-ham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makest thou thyself?

54 Je′sus answered, [m]If I honour myself, my honour is nothing: [n]it is my Father that honoureth me; of whom ye say, that he is your God:

55 Yet [o]ye have not known him; but I know him: and if I should say, I know him not, I shall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his saying.

56 Your father A′bra-ham [p]rejoiced to see my day: [q]and he saw it, and was glad.

57 Then said the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty years old, and hast thou seen A′bra-ham?

58 Je′sus said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before A′bra-ham was, [r]I am.

59 Then [s]took they up stones to cast at him: but Je′sus hid himself, and went out of the temple, [t]going through the midst of them, and so passed by.

CHAPTER IX.

A man born blind is healed. 13 The Pharisees are offended, and cast him out. 35 Jesus receiveth him. 39 Those whom Jesus came to enlighten.

AND as Je′sus passed by, he saw a man which was blind from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, [a]who did sin, this man, or his parents, that he was born blind?

3 Je′sus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor his parents: [b]but that the works of God should be made manifest in him.

4 [c]I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day: the night cometh, when no man can work.

5 As long as I am in the world, [d]I am the light of the world.

6 When he had thus spoken, [e]he spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and he [1]anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,

7 And said unto him, Go, wash [f]in the pool of Sil′o-am, (which is by interpretation, Sent.) [g]He went his way therefore, and washed, and came seeing.

8 ¶ The neighbours therefore, and they which before had seen him that he was blind, said, Is not this he that sat and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: others said, He is like him: but he said, I am he.

10 Therefore said they unto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered and said, [h]A man that is called Je′sus made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said unto me, Go to the pool of Sil′o-am, and wash: and I went and washed, and I received sight.

12 Then said they unto him, Where is he? He said, I know not.

13 ¶ They brought to the Phar'i-sees him that aforetime was blind.

14 And it was the [h] sabbath day when Je'sus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Phar'i-sees also asked him how he had received his sight. He said unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I washed, and do see.

16 Therefore said some of the Phar'i-sees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the sabbath day. Others said, [i] How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? And [j] there was a division among them.

17 They say unto the blind man again, What sayest thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He said, [k] He is a prophet.

18 But the Jews did not [l] believe concerning him, that he had been blind, and received his sight, until they called the parents of him that had received his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your son, who ye say was born blind? how then doth he now see?

20 His parents answered them and said, We know that this is our son, and that he was born blind:

21 But by what means he now seeth, we know not; or who hath opened his eyes, we know not: he is of age; ask him: he shall speak for himself.

22 These words spake his parents, because [m] they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confess that he was Christ, he [n] should be put out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore said his parents, He is of age; ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that was blind, and said unto him, [o] Give God the praise: [p] we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that, whereas I was blind, now I see.

26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not hear: wherefore would ye hear it again? will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple; but we are Mo'ses' disciples.

29 We know that God spake unto Mo'ses: as for this fellow, [q] we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered and said unto them, [r] Why herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 Now we know that [s] God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doeth his will, him he heareth.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was born blind.

33 [t] If this man were not of God, he could do nothing.

34 They answered and said unto him, [u] Thou wast altogether born in sins, and dost thou teach us? And they [2] cast him out.

35 Je'sus heard that they had cast him out; and when he had found him, he said unto him, Dost thou believe on [x] the Son of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is he, Lord, that I might believe on him?

37 And Je'sus said unto him, Thou hast both seen him, and [y] it is he that talketh with thee.

41 Je'sus said unto them, [c] If ye were blind, ye should have no sin: but now ye say, We see; therefore your sin remaineth.

CHAPTER X.

Jesus is the door, and the good shepherd. 19 A division among the Jews concerning him. 22 His works prove him to be the Son of God. 39 He escapeth from the Jews, and goeth again beyond Jordan; 41 where many believe on him.

VERILY, verily, I say unto you, He that entereth not by the door into the sheepfold, but climbeth up some other way, [a] the same is a thief and a robber.

2 But he that entereth in by the door is the shepherd of the sheep.

3 To him the porter openeth; and the sheep hear his voice: and he calleth his own sheep by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when he putteth forth his own sheep, he goeth [b] before them, and the sheep follow him; for they know his voice.

5 And a stranger will they not follow, but will flee from him: for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This parable spake Je'sus unto them; but they understood [c] not what things they were which he spake unto them.

7 Then said Je'sus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep.

8 All that ever came before me are thieves and robbers: but the sheep did not hear them.

9 [d] I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture.

10 The thief cometh not, but for to steal, and to kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly.

11 [b]I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep.

12 But he that is a hireling, and not the shepherd, whose own the sheep are not, seeth the wolf coming, and [c]leaveth the sheep, and fleeth; and the wolf catcheth them, and scattereth the sheep.

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is a hireling, and careth not for the sheep.

14 I am the good shepherd, and [d]know my sheep, and am known of mine.

15 [e]As the Father knoweth me, even so know I the Father: [f]and I lay down my life for the sheep.

16 And [g]other sheep I have, which are not of this fold: them also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice; [h]and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd.

17 Therefore doth my Father love me, [i]because I lay down my life, that I might take it again.

18 No man taketh it from me, but I lay it down of myself. I have power to lay it down, and I [k]have power to take it again. [l]This commandment have I received of my Father.

19 ¶ [m]There was a division therefore again among the Jews for these sayings.

20 And many of them said, [n]He hath a devil, and is mad; why hear ye him?

21 Others said, These are not the words of him that hath a devil. [o]Can a devil [p]open the eyes of the blind?

22 ¶ And it was at Je-ru'sa-lem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter.

23 And Je'sus walked in the temple [q]in Sol'o-mon's porch.

24 Then came the Jews round about him, and said unto him, How long dost thou [1]make us to doubt? If thou be the Christ, tell us plainly.

25 Je'sus answered them, I told you, and ye believed not: [r]the works that I do in my Father's name, they bear witness of me.

26 But [s]ye believe not, because ye are not of my sheep, as I said unto you.

27 [t]My sheep hear my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:

28 And I give unto them eternal life; and [u]they shall never perish, neither shall any man pluck them out of my hand.

29 [x]My Father, [y]which gave them me, is greater than all; and no man is able to pluck them out of my Father's hand.

30 [z]I and my Father are one.

31 Then [a]the Jews took up stones again to stone him.

33 The Jews answered him, saying, For a good work we stone thee not; but for blasphemy; and because that thou, being a man, [b]makest thyself God.

34 Je'sus answered them, [c]Is it not written in your law, I said, Ye are gods?

35 If he called them gods, [d]unto whom the word of God came, and the Scripture cannot be broken;

36 Say ye of him, [e]whom the Father hath sanctified, and [f]sent into the world, Thou blasphemest; [g]because I said, I am [h]the Son of God?

39 [m]Therefore they sought again to take him; but he escaped out of their hand,

40 And went away again beyond Jor'dan into the place [n]where John at first baptized; and there he abode.

41 And many resorted unto him, and said, John did no miracle: [o]but all things that John spake of this man were true.

42 [p]And many believed on him there.

CHAPTER XI.

The raising of Lazarus from the dead. 45 Many Jews believe. 47 The chief priests and Pharisees conspire against Jesus. 49 The counsel of Caiaphas. 54 Jesus retireth to the city Ephraim. 55 At the passover many inquire after him.

NOW a certain man was sick, named Laz'a-rus, of Beth'a-ny, the town of [a]Ma'ry and her sister Mar'tha.

2 [b]It was that Ma'ry which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feet with her hair, whose brother Laz'a-rus was sick.

3 Therefore his sisters sent unto him, saying, Lord, behold, [c]he whom thou lovest is sick.

4 When Je'sus heard that, he said, This sickness is not unto death, [d]but for the glory of God, that the Son of God might be glorified thereby.

5 Now Je'sus loved Mar'tha, and her sister, and Laz'a-rus.

6 When he had heard therefore that he was sick, [e]he abode two days still in the same place where he was.

7 Then after that saith he to his disciples, Let us go into Ju-de'a again.

8 His disciples say unto him, Master, [f]the Jews of late sought to stone thee; and goest thou thither again?

9 Je'sus answered, Are there not twelve hours in the day? [g]If any man walk in the day, he stumbleth not, because he seeth the light of this world.

10 But [f] if a man walk in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.

11 These things said he: and after that he saith unto them, Our friend Laz'a-rus [g] sleepeth; but I go, that I may awake him out of sleep.

12 Then said his disciples, Lord, if he sleep, he shall do well.

13 Howbeit Je'sus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleep.

14 Then said Je'sus unto them plainly, Laz'a-rus is dead.

15 And I am glad for your sakes that I was not there, to the intent ye may believe; nevertheless let us go unto him.

16 Then said Thom'as, which is called Did'y-mus, unto his fellow disciples, Let us also go, [h] that we may die with him.

17 Then when Je'sus came, he found that he had lain in the grave four days already.

18 Now Beth'a-ny was nigh unto Je-ru'sa-lem, [1] about fifteen furlongs off:

19 And many of the Jews came to Mar'tha and Ma'ry, to comfort them concerning their brother.

20 Then Mar'tha, as soon as she heard that Je'sus was coming, went and met him: but Ma'ry sat still in the house.

21 Then said Mar'tha unto Je'sus, Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

22 But I know, that even now, [i] whatsoever thou wilt ask of God, God will give it thee.

23 Je'sus saith unto her, Thy brother shall rise again.

24 Mar'tha saith unto him, [k] I know that he shall rise again in the resurrection at the last day.

25 Je'sus said unto her, I am [l] the resurrection, and the [m] life: [n] he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live:

26 And whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this?

27 She saith unto him, Yea, Lord: [o] I believe that thou art the Christ, the Son of God, which should come into the world.

28 And when she had so said, she went her way, [p] and called Ma'ry her sister secretly, saying, The Master is come, and calleth for thee.

29 [q] As soon as she heard that, she arose quickly, and came unto him.

30 Now Je'sus was not yet come into the town, but was in that place where Mar'tha met him.

31 [r] The Jews then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they saw Ma'ry, that she rose up hastily and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth unto the grave to weep there.

32 Then when Ma'ry was come where Je'sus was, and saw him, she fell down at his feet, saying unto him, [p] Lord, if thou hadst been here, my brother had not died.

33 When Je'sus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jews also weeping which came with her, he [q] groaned in the spirit, and [2] was troubled,

34 And said, Where have ye laid him? They said unto him, Lord, come and see.

35 [r] Je'sus wept.

36 Then said the Jews, Behold how he loved him!

37 And some of them said, Could not this man, [s] which opened the eyes of the blind, have caused that even this man should not have died?

38 Je'sus therefore again groaning in himself cometh to the grave. It was a cave, and a stone lay upon it.

39 Je'sus said, Take ye away the stone. Mar'tha, the sister of him that was dead, saith unto him, Lord, by this time he stinketh: for he hath been dead four days.

40 Je'sus saith unto her, Said I not unto thee, that, if thou wouldest believe, thou shouldest [t] see the glory of God?

41 Then they took away the stone from the place where the dead was laid. And Je'sus lifted up his eyes, and said, Father, I thank thee that thou hast heard me.

42 And I knew that thou hearest me always: but [u] because of the people which stand by I said it, that they may believe that thou hast sent me.

43 And when he thus had spoken, he cried with a loud voice, Laz'a-rus, come forth.

44 And he that was dead came forth, bound hand and foot with graveclothes; and [x] his face was bound about with a napkin. Je'sus saith unto them, Loose him, and let him go.

45 Then many of the Jews which came to Ma'ry, [y] and had seen the things which Je'sus did, believed on him.

46 But some of them went their ways to the Phar'i-sees, and told them what things Je'sus had done.

47 ¶ [z] Then gathered the chief priests and the Phar'i-sees a council, and said, [a] What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.

48 If we let him thus alone, all men will believe on him; and the Ro'mans shall come and take away both our place and nation.

49 And one of them, named [b] Cai'a-phas, being the high priest that same year, said unto them, Ye know nothing at all,

50 [c] Nor consider that it is expedient for us, that one man should die for the people, and that the whole nation perish not.

51 And this spake he not of himself:

but being high priest that year, he prophesied that Je′sus should die for that nation;

52 And [d]not for that nation only, [e]but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.

53 Then from that day forth they took counsel together for to put him to death.

54 Je′sus [f]therefore walked no more openly among the Jews; but went thence unto a country near to the wilderness, into a city called [g]E′phra-im, and there continued with his disciples.

55 ¶ [h]And the Jews' passover was nigh at hand; and many went out of the country up to Je-ru′sa-lem before the passover, to purify themselves.

56 [i]Then sought they for Je′sus, and spake among themselves, as they stood in the temple, What think ye, that he will not come to the feast?

57 Now both the chief priests and the Phar′i-sees had given a commandment, that, if any man knew where he were, he should show it, that they might take him.

CHAPTER XII.

The supper at Bethany. 3 Mary anointeth the feet of Jesus. 10 The chief priests consult to put Lazarus to death. 12 Jesus' public entry into Jerusalem. 20 Certain Greeks desire to see him. 23 He foretelleth his own death and resurrection. 37 The Jews are blinded. 42 Many rulers believe, but do not confess him. 44 The danger of rejecting him.

THEN Je′sus six days before the passover came to Beth′a-ny, [a]where Laz′a-rus was which had been dead, whom he raised from the dead.

2 [b]There they made him a supper; and Mar′tha served: but Laz′a-rus was one of them that sat at the table with him.

3 Then took [c]Ma′ry a pound of ointment of spikenard, very costly, and anointed the feet of Je′sus, and wiped his feet with her hair: and the house was filled with the odour of the ointment.

4 Then saith one of his disciples, Ju′das Is-car′i-ot, Si′mon's son, which should betray him,

5 Why was not this ointment sold for three hundred pence, and given to the poor?

6 This he said, not that he cared for the poor; but because he was a thief, and [d]had the bag, and bare what was put therein.

7 Then said Je′sus, Let her alone: against the day of my burying hath she kept this.

8 For [e]the poor always ye have with you; but me ye have not always.

9 Much people of the Jews therefore knew that he was there: and they came not for Je′sus' sake only, but that they might see Laz′a-rus also, [f]whom he had raised from the dead.

10 ¶ [g]But the chief priests consulted that they might put Laz′a-rus also to death;

11 [h]Because that by reason of him many of the Jews went away, and believed on Je′sus.

12 ¶ [i]On the next day much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Je′sus was coming to Je-ru′sa-lem,

13 Took branches of palm trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, [k]Hosanna: Blessed is the King of Is′ra-el that cometh in the name of the Lord.

14 [l]And Je′sus, when he had found a young ass, sat thereon; as it is written,

15 [m]Fear not, daughter of Zi′on: behold, thy King cometh, sitting on an ass's colt.

16 These things [n]understood not his disciples at the first: [o]but when Je′sus was glorified, [p]then remembered they that these things were written of him, and that they had done these things unto him.

17 The people therefore that was with him when he called Laz′a-rus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record.

18 [q]For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle.

19 The Phar′i-sees therefore said among themselves, [r]Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him.

20 ¶ And there [s]were certain Greeks among them [t]that came up to worship at the feast:

21 The same came therefore to Phil′ip, [u]which was of Beth-sa′i-da of Gal′i-lee, and desired him, saying, Sir, we would see Je′sus.

22 Phil′ip cometh and telleth An′drew: and again An′drew and Phil′ip tell Je′sus.

23 ¶ And Je′sus answered them, saying, [w]The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified.

24 Verily, verily, I say unto you, [x]Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: [y]but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.

25 [z]He that loveth his life shall lose it; and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it unto life eternal.

26 If any man serve me, let him follow me; and [a]where I am, there shall also my servant be: if any man serve me, him will my Father honour.

27 [b]Now is my soul troubled; and what shall I say? Father, save me from this hour: [c]but for this cause came I unto this hour.

28 Father, glorify thy name. [d]Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again.

29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said that it thundered: others said, An angel spake to him.

30 Je'sus answered and said, [e]This voice came not because of me, but for your sakes.

31 Now is the judgment of this world: now shall [f]the prince of this world be cast out.

32 And I, [g]if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw [h]all men unto me.

33 [i]This he said, signifying what death he should die.

34 The people answered him, [k]We have heard out of the law that Christ abideth for ever: and how sayest thou, The Son of man must be lifted up? who is this Son of man?

35 Then Je'sus said unto them, Yet a little while [l]is the light with you. [m]Walk while ye have the light, lest darkness come upon you: for [n]he that walketh in darkness knoweth not whither he goeth.

36 While ye have light, believe in the light, that ye may be [o]the children of light. These things spake Je'sus, and departed, and [p]did hide himself from them.

37 ¶ But though he had done so many miracles before them, yet they believed not on him:

38 That the saying of E-sa'ias the prophet might be fulfilled, which he spake, [q]Lord, who hath believed our report? and to whom hath the arm of the Lord been revealed?

39 Therefore they could not believe, because that E-sa'ias said again,

40 [r]He hath blinded their eyes, and hardened their heart; that they should not see with their eyes, nor understand with their heart, and be converted, and I should heal them.

41 [s]These things said E-sa'ias, when he saw his glory, and spake of him.

42 ¶ Nevertheless among the chief rulers also many believed on him; but [t]because of the Phar'i-sees they did not confess him, lest they should be put out of the synagogue:

43 [u]For they loved the praise of men more than the praise of God.

44 ¶ Je'sus cried and said, [x]He that believeth on me, believeth not on me, but on him that sent me.

45 And [y]he that seeth me seeth him that sent me.

46 [z]I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness.

47 And if any man hear my words, and believe not, [a]I judge him not: for [b]I came not to judge the world, but to save the world.

48 [c]He that rejecteth me, and receiveth not my words, hath one that judgeth him: [d]the word that I have spoken, the same shall judge him in the last day.

49 For [e]I have not spoken of myself; but the Father which sent me, he gave me a commandment, [f]what I should say, and what I should speak.

50 And I know that his commandment is life everlasting: whatsoever I speak therefore, even as the Father said unto me, so I speak.

CHAPTER XIII.

Jesus washeth his disciples' feet; 12 and exhorteth them to humility and brotherly love. 18 He foretelleth that one of them should betray him. 31 The Son of man glorified. 34 The new commandment to love one another. 36 Peter forewarned of his denial.

NOW [a]before the feast of the passover, when Je'sus knew that [b]his hour was come that he should depart out of this world unto the Father, having loved his own which were in the world, he loved them unto the end.

2 And supper being ended, [c]the devil having now put into the heart of Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, Si'mon's son, to betray him;

3 Je'sus knowing [d]that the Father had given all things into his hands, and [e]that he was come from God, and went to God;

4 [f]He riseth from supper, and laid aside his garments; and took a towel, and girded himself.

5 After that he poureth water into a basin, and began to wash the disciples' feet, and to wipe them with the towel wherewith he was girded.

6 Then cometh he to Si'mon Pe'ter: and [1]Pe'ter saith unto him, Lord, [g]dost thou wash my feet?

7 Je'sus answered and said unto him, What I do thou knowest not now; [h]but thou shalt know hereafter.

8 Pe'ter saith unto him, Thou shalt never wash my feet. Je'sus answered him, [i]If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.

9 Si'mon Pe'ter saith unto him, Lord, not my feet only, but also my hands and my head.

10 Je'sus saith to him, He that is washed needeth not save to wash his feet, but is clean every whit: and [k]ye are clean, but not all.

11 For [l]he knew who should betray him; therefore said he, Ye are not all clean.

12 So after he had washed their feet, and had taken his garments, and was set down again, he said unto them, Know ye what I have done to you?

13 [m]Ye call me Master and Lord: and ye say well; for so I am.

14 [n]If I then, your Lord and Master, have washed your feet; [o]ye also ought to wash one another's feet.

15 For [p]I have given you an example, that ye should do as I have done to you.

16 [q] Verily, verily, I say unto you, The servant is not greater than his lord; neither he that is sent greater than he that sent him.

17 [r] If ye know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.

18 ¶ I speak not of you all: I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, [s] He that eateth bread with me hath lifted up his heel against me.

19 [t] [2] Now I tell you before it come, that, when it is come to pass, ye may believe that I am he.

20 [u] Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that receiveth whomsoever I send receiveth me; and he that receiveth me receiveth him that sent me.

21 [x] When Je'sus had thus said, [y] he was troubled in spirit, and testified, and said, Verily, verily, I say unto you, that [z] one of you shall betray me.

22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.

23 Now [a] there was leaning on Je'sus' bosom one of his disciples, whom Je'sus loved.

24 Si'mon Pe'ter therefore beckoned to him, that he should ask who it should be of whom he spake.

25 He then lying on Je'sus' breast saith unto him, Lord, who is it?

26 Je'sus answered, He it is, to whom I shall give a [3] sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Ju'das Is-car'i-ot, the son of Si'mon.

27 [b] And after the sop Sa'tan entered into him. Then said Je'sus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.

28 Now no man at the table knew for what intent he spake this unto him.

29 For some of them thought, because [c] Ju'das had the bag, that Je'sus had said unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast; or, that he should give something to the poor.

30 He then, having received the sop, went immediately out; and it was night.

31 ¶ Therefore, when he was gone out, Je'sus said, [d] Now is the Son of man glorified, and [e] God is glorified in him.

32 [f] If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorify him in himself, and [g] shall straightway glorify him.

33 Little children, yet a little while I am with you. Ye shall seek me; [h] and as I said unto the Jews, Whither I go, ye cannot come; so now I say to you.

34 [i] A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another.

35 [k] By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.

36 ¶ Si'mon Pe'ter said unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Je'sus answered him, Whither I go, thou canst not follow me now; but [l] thou shalt follow me afterwards.

37 Pe'ter said unto him, Lord, why cannot I follow thee now? I will [m] lay down my life for thy sake.

38 Je'sus answered him, Wilt thou lay down thy life for my sake? Verily, verily, I say unto thee, The cock shall not crow, till thou hast denied me thrice.

CHAPTER XIV.

Jesus discourseth with his disciples, and comforteth them. 6 He is the way, the truth, and the life. 15 He promiseth to send the Holy Ghost, the Comforter; 27 and leaveth his peace with them.

LET [a] not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me.

2 In my Father's house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. [b] I go to prepare a place for you.

3 And if I go and prepare a place for you, [c] I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that [d] where I am, there ye may be also.

4 And whither I go ye know, and the way ye know.

5 Thom'as saith unto him, Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how can we know the way?

6 Je'sus saith unto him, I am [e] the way, [f] the truth, and [g] the life: [h] no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

7 [i] If ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also: and from henceforth ye know him, and have seen him.

8 Phil'ip saith unto him, Lord, show us the Father, and it sufficeth us.

9 Je'sus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Phil'ip? [k] he that hath seen me hath seen the Father; and how sayest thou then, Show us the Father?

10 Believest thou not that [l] I am in the Father, and the Father in me? the words that I speak unto you [m] I speak not of myself: but the Father that dwelleth in me, he doeth the works.

11 Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me: [n] or else believe me for the very works' sake.

12 [o] Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.

13 [p] And whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do, that the Father may be glorified in the Son.

14 If ye shall ask any thing in my name, I will do it.

15 ¶ [q] If ye love me, keep my commandments.

16 And I will pray the Father, and [r] he shall give you another Comforter, that he may abide with you for ever;

20 At that day ye shall know that [b]I am in my Father, and ye in me, and I in you.

21 [c]He that hath my commandments, and keepeth them, he it is that loveth me: and he that loveth me shall be loved of my Father, and I will love him, and will manifest myself to him.

22 [d]Ju'das saith unto him, not Is-car'i-ot, Lord, how is it that thou wilt manifest thyself unto us, and not unto the world?

23 Je'sus answered and said unto him, [e]If a man love me, he will keep my words: and my Father will love him, and [f]we will come unto him, and make our abode with him.

24 He that loveth me not keepeth not my sayings: and [g]the word which ye hear is not mine, but the Father's which sent me.

25 These things have I spoken unto you, being yet present with you.

26 But [h]the Comforter, which is the Holy Ghost, whom the Father will send in my name, [i]he shall teach you all things, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have said unto you.

27 [k]Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you: not as the world giveth, give I unto you. [l]Let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid.

28 Ye have heard how [m]I said unto you, I go away, and come again unto you. If ye loved me, ye would rejoice, because I said, [n]I go unto the Father: for [o]my Father is greater than I.

29 And [p]now I have told you before it come to pass, that, when it is come to pass, ye might believe.

30 Hereafter I will not talk much with you: [q]for the prince of this world cometh, and hath nothing in me.

31 But that the world may know that I love the Father; and [r]as the Father gave me commandment, even so I do. Arise, let us go hence.

CHAPTER XV.

Jesus' discourse continued: He is the true vine. 9 The mutual love of Christ and his members. 18 He comforteth them in view of persecution.

I AM the true vine, and my Father is the husbandman.

2 [a]Every branch in me that beareth not fruit he taketh away: and every branch that beareth fruit, he purgeth it, that it may bring forth more fruit.

3 [b]Now ye are clean through the word which I have spoken unto you.

4 [c]Abide in me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in me.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches. He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much [d]fruit; for [1]without me ye can do nothing.

6 If a man abide not in me, [e]he is cast forth as a branch, and is withered; and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they are burned.

7 If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, [f]ye shall ask what ye will, and it shall be done unto you.

8 [g]Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; [h]so shall ye be my disciples.

9 As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love.

10 [i]If ye keep my commandments, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Father's commandments, and abide in his love.

11 These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy might remain in you, and [k]that your joy might be full.

12 [l]This is my commandment, That ye love one another, as I have loved you.

13 [m]Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends.

14 [n]Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

15 Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth: but I have called you friends; [o]for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

16 [p]Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and [q]ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that [r]whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

17 [s]These things I command you, that ye love one another.

18 [t]If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 [u]If ye were of the world, the world would love his own; but [x]because ye are not of the world, but I have chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 Remember the word that I said unto you, [y]The servant is not greater than his lord. If they have persecuted me, they will also persecute you; [z]if they have kept my saying, they will keep yours also.

21 But [a]all these things will they do unto you for my name's sake, because they know not him that sent me.

22 [b]If I had not come and spoken unto them, they had not had sin; [c] but now they have no [2] cloak for their sin.

23 [d] He that hateth me hateth my Father also.

24 If I had not done among them [e] the works which none other man did, they had not had sin; but now have they both seen and hated both me and my Father.

25 But this cometh to pass, that the word might be fulfilled that is written in their law, [f] They hated me without a cause.

26 [g] But when the Comforter is come, whom I will send unto you from the Father, even the Spirit of truth, which proceedeth from the Father, [h] he shall testify of me:

27 And [i] ye also shall bear witness, because [k] ye have been with me from the beginning.

CHAPTER XVI.

Jesus' discourse concluded: He reneweth the promise of the Comforter; 17 removeth the perplexity of his disciples; 23 and assureth them that prayer in his name is acceptable. 33 Peace in Jesus, but in the world tribulation.

THESE things have I spoken unto you, that ye [a] should not be offended.

2 [b] They shall put you out of the synagogues: yea, the time cometh, [c] that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service.

3 And [d] these things will they do unto you, because they have not known the Father, nor me.

4 But [e] these things have I told you, that when the time shall come, ye may remember that I told you of them. And [f] these things I said not unto you at the beginning, because I was with you.

5 But now [g] I go my way to him that sent me; and none of you asketh me, Whither goest thou?

6 But because I have said these things unto you, [h] sorrow hath filled your heart.

7 Nevertheless I tell you the truth; It is expedient for you that I go away: for if I go not away, [i] the Comforter will not come unto you; but [k] if I depart, I will send him unto you.

8 And when he is come, he will [1] reprove the world of sin, and of righteousness, and of judgment:

9 [l] Of sin, because they believe not on me;

10 [m] Of righteousness, [n] because I go to my Father, and ye see me no more;

11 [o] Of judgment, because [p] the prince of this world is judged.

12 I have yet many things to say unto you, [q] but ye cannot bear them now.

13 Howbeit when he, [r] the Spirit of truth, is come, [s] he will guide you into all truth: for he shall not speak of himself; but whatsoever he shall hear, that shall he speak: and he will show you things to come.

14 He shall glorify me: for he shall receive of mine, and shall show it unto you.

15 [t] All things that the Father hath are mine: therefore said I, that he shall take of mine, and shall show it unto you.

16 [u] A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me, [w] because I go to the Father.

17 Then said some of his disciples among themselves, What is this that he saith unto us, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me: and, Because I go to the Father?

18 They said therefore, What is this that he saith, A little while? we cannot tell what he saith.

19 Now Je'sus knew that they were desirous to ask him, and said unto them, Do ye inquire among yourselves of that I said, A little while, and ye shall not see me: and again, a little while, and ye shall see me?

20 Verily, verily, I say unto you, That ye shall weep and lament, but the world shall rejoice; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy.

21 [x] A woman when she is in travail hath sorrow, because her hour is come: but as soon as she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for joy that a man is born into the world.

22 [y] And ye now therefore have sorrow: but I will see you again, and [z] your heart shall rejoice, and your joy no man taketh from you.

23 And in that day ye shall ask me nothing. [a] Verily, verily, I say unto you, Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in my name, he will give it you.

24 Hitherto have ye asked nothing in my name: ask, and ye shall receive, [b] that your joy may be full.

25 These things have I spoken unto you in [2] proverbs: but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in [3] proverbs, but I shall show you plainly of the Father.

26 [c] At that day ye shall ask in my name: and I say not unto you, that I will pray the Father for you:

27 [d] For the Father himself loveth you, because ye have loved me, and [e] have believed that I came out from God.

28 [f] I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world: again, I leave the world, and go to the Father.

29 His disciples said unto him, Lo, now speakest thou plainly, and speakest no [4] proverb.

30 Now are we sure that [g] thou knowest all things, and needest not that any man should ask thee: by this [h] we believe that thou camest forth from God.

31 Je'sus answered them, Do ye now believe?

32 [i]Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, [k]every man to [5]his own, and shall leave me alone: and [l]yet I am not alone, because the Father is with me.

33 These things I have spoken unto you, that [m]in me ye might have peace. [n]In the world ye shall have tribulation: [o]but be of good cheer; [p]I have overcome the world.

CHAPTER XVII.

Jesus' last prayer with his apostles, 20 and for all who should believe on him through their word.

THESE words spake Je'sus, and lifted up his eyes to heaven, and said, Father, [a]the hour is come; glorify thy Son, that thy Son also may glorify thee:

2 [b]As thou hast given him power over all flesh, that he should give eternal life to as many [c]as thou hast given him.

3 And [d]this is life eternal, that they might know thee [e]the only true God, and Je'sus Christ, [f]whom thou hast sent.

4 [g]I have glorified thee on the earth: [h]I have finished the work [i]which thou gavest me to do.

5 And now, O Father, glorify thou me with thine own self with the glory [k]which I had with thee before the world was.

6 [l]I have manifested thy name unto the men [m]which thou gavest me out of the world: thine they were, and thou gavest them me; and they have kept thy word.

7 Now they have known that all things whatsoever thou hast given me are of thee.

8 For I have given unto them the words [n]which thou gavest me; and they have received them, [o]and have known surely that I came out from thee, and they have believed that thou didst send me.

9 I pray for them: [p]I pray not for the world, but for them which thou hast given me; for they are thine.

10 And all mine are thine, and [q]thine are mine; and I am glorified in them.

11 [r]And now I am no more in the world, but these are in the world, and I come to thee. Holy Father, [s]keep through thine own name those whom thou hast given me, [t]that they may be one, [u]as we are.

12 While I was with them in the world, [x]I kept them in thy name: those that thou gavest me I have kept, and [y]none of them is lost, [z]but the son of perdition; [a]that the scripture might be fulfilled.

13 And now come I to thee; and these things I speak in the world, that they might have my joy fulfilled in themselves.

14 [b]I have given them thy word; [c]and the world hath hated them, because they are not of the world, [d]even as I am not of the world.

15 I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but [e]that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.

16 [f]They are not of the world, even as I am not of the world.

17 [g]Sanctify them through thy truth: [h]thy word is truth.

18 [i]As thou hast sent me into the world, even so have I also sent them into the world.

19 And [k]for their sakes I sanctify myself, that they also might be [1]sanctified through the truth.

20 Neither pray I for these alone, but for them also which shall believe on me through their word;

21 [l]That they all may be one; as [m]thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be one in us: that the world may believe that thou hast sent me.

22 And the glory which thou gavest me I have given them; [n]that they may be one, even as we are one:

23 I in them, and thou in me, [o]that they may be made perfect in one; and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, and hast loved them, as thou hast loved me.

24 [p]Father, I will that they also, whom thou hast given me, be with me where I am; that they may behold my glory, which thou hast given me: [q]for thou lovedst me before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, [r]the world hath not known thee: but [s]I have known thee, and [t]these have known that thou hast sent me.

26 [u]And I have declared unto them thy name, and will declare it; that the love [x]wherewith thou hast loved me may be in them, and I in them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

Judas betrayeth Jesus. 10 Peter smiteth the high priest's servant. 12 Jesus is bound and led away first to Annas. 15 Peter's first denial. 19 Jesus before Caiaphas. 25 Peter's second denial. 28 Jesus is delivered over to Pilate; 38 who seeketh to release him, but the Jews demand Barabbas.

WHEN Je'sus had spoken these words, [a]he went forth with his disciples over [b]the brook Ce'dron, where was a garden, into the which he entered, and his disciples.

2 And Ju'das also, which betrayed him, knew the place: [c]for Je'sus ofttimes resorted thither with his disciples.

3 [d]Ju'das then, having received a band of men and officers from the chief priests and Phar'i-sees, cometh thither with lanterns and torches and weapons.

4 Je'sus therefore, knowing all things that should come upon him, [e]went forth, and said unto them, Whom seek ye?

5 They answered him, Je'sus of Naz'a-reth. Je'sus saith unto them, I am he. And Ju'das also, which betrayed him, [d] stood with them.

6 As soon then as he had said unto them, I am he, they went backward, and fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them again, Whom seek ye? And they said, Je'sus of Naz'a-reth.

8 Je'sus answered, I have told you that I am he: if therefore ye seek me, let these go their way:

9 That the saying might be fulfilled, which he spake, [e] Of them which thou gavest me have I lost none.

10 [f] Then Si'mon Pe'ter having a sword drew it, and smote the high priest's servant, and cut off his right ear. The servant's name was Mal'chus.

11 Then said Je'sus unto Pe'ter, Put up thy sword into the sheath: [g] the cup which my Father hath given me, shall I not drink it?

12 Then the band and the captain and officers of the Jews took Je'sus, and bound him,

13 And [h] led him away to [i] An'nas first; for he was father in law to Cai'a-phas, which was the high priest that same year.[1]

14 [k] Now Cai'a-phas was he, which gave counsel to the Jews, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 ¶ [l] And Si'mon Pe'ter followed Je'sus, and so did another disciple: that disciple was known unto the high priest, and went in with Je'sus into the palace of the high priest.

16 [m] But Pe'ter stood at the door without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known unto the high priest, and spake unto her that kept the door, and brought in Pe'ter.

17 Then saith the damsel that kept the door unto Pe'ter, Art not thou also one of this man's disciples? He saith, I am not.

18 And the servants and officers stood there, who had made a fire of coals, for it was cold; and they warmed themselves: [n] and Pe'ter stood with them, and warmed himself.

19 ¶ The high priest then asked Je'sus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Je'sus answered him, [o] I spake openly to the world; I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither the Jews always resort; and in secret have I said nothing.

21 Why askest thou me? ask them which heard me, what I have said unto them; behold, they know what I said.

22 And when he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by [p] struck Je'sus [2] with the palm of his hand, saying, Answerest thou the high priest so?

23 Je'sus answered him, If I have spoken evil, bear witness of the evil: but if well, why smitest thou me?

24 [p] Now An'nas had sent him bound unto Cai'a-phas the high priest.

25 And Si'mon Pe'ter stood and warmed himself. [q] They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not.

26 One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Pe'ter cut off, saith, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Pe'ter then denied again; and [r] immediately the cock crew.

28 ¶ [s] Then led they Je'sus from Cai'a-phas unto [3] the hall of judgment: and it was early; [t] and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover.

29 Pi'late then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?

30 They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee.

31 Then said Pi'late unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, [u] It is not lawful for us to put any man to death:

32 [v] That the saying of Je'sus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death he should die.

33 [w] Then Pi'late entered into the judgment hall again, and called Je'sus, and said unto him, Art thou the King of the Jews?

34 Je'sus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thyself, or did others tell it thee of me?

35 Pi'late answered, Am I a Jew? [x] Thine own nation and the chief priests have delivered thee unto me: what hast thou done?

36 [y] Je'sus answered, [z] My kingdom is not of this world: if my kingdom were of this world, then would my servants fight, that I should not be delivered to the Jews: but now is my kingdom not from hence.

37 Pi'late therefore said unto him, Art thou a king then? Je'sus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king. To this end was I born, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should bear witness unto the truth. Every one that [a] is of the truth heareth my voice.

38 Pi'late saith unto him, What is truth? And when he had said this, he went out again unto the Jews, and saith unto them, [b] I find in him no fault at all.

39 [c] But ye have a custom, that I should release unto you one at the passover: will ye therefore that I release unto you the King of the Jews?

40 [d]Then cried they all again, saying, Not this man, but Ba-rab'bas. [e]Now Ba-rab'bas was a robber.

CHAPTER XIX.

Jesus is scourged, and crowned with thorns. 4 Pilate seeketh again to release him; 8 as also the third time; 18 but yieldeth and delivereth him to be crucified. 17 The crucifixion. 23 The soldiers cast lots for his garments. 25 He commendeth his mother to John. 28 He dieth. 38 His burial.

THEN [a]Pi'late therefore took Je'sus, and scourged him.

2 And the soldiers platted a crown of thorns, and put it on his head, and they put on him a purple robe,

3 And said, Hail, King of the Jews! and they smote him with their hands.

4 Pi'late therefore went forth again, and saith unto them, Behold, I bring him forth to you, [b]that ye may know that I find no fault in him.

5 Then came Je'sus forth, wearing the crown of thorns, and the purple robe. And Pi'late saith unto them, Behold the man!

6 [c]When the chief priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried out, saying, Crucify him, crucify him. Pi'late saith unto them, Take ye him, and crucify him: for I find no fault in him.

7 The Jews answered him, [d]We have a law, and by our law he ought to die, because [e]he made himself the Son of God.

8 ¶ When Pi'late therefore heard that saying, he was the more afraid;

9 And went again into the judgment hall, and saith unto Je'sus, Whence art thou? [f]But Je'sus gave him no answer.

10 Then saith Pi'late unto him, Speakest thou not unto me? knowest thou not that I have power to crucify thee, and have power to release thee?

11 Je'sus answered, [g]Thou couldest have no power at all against me, except it were given thee from above: [h]therefore he that delivered me unto thee hath the greater sin.

12 And from thenceforth Pi'late sought to release him: but the Jews cried out, saying, [i]If thou let this man go, thou art not Ce'sar's friend: [j]whosoever maketh himself a king speaketh against Ce'sar.

13 ¶ When Pi'late therefore heard that saying, he brought Je'sus forth, and sat down in the judgment seat in a place that is called the Pavement, but in the He'brew, Gab'ba-tha.

14 And [k]it was the preparation of the passover, and about the sixth hour: and he saith unto the Jews, Behold your King!

15 But they cried out, Away with him, away with him, crucify him. Pi'late saith unto them, Shall I crucify your King? The chief priests answered, [l]We have no king but Ce'sar.

16 [m]Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified. And they took Je'sus, and led him away.

17 ¶ [n]And he bearing his cross [o]went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in the He'brew Gol'go-tha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two others with him, on either side one, and Je'sus in the midst.

19 [p]And Pi'late wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was, JE'SUS OF NAZ'A-RETH THE KING OF THE JEWS.

20 This title then read many of the Jews; for the place where Je'sus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in He'brew, and Greek, and Lat'in.

21 Then said the chief priests of the Jews to Pi'late, Write not, The King of the Jews; but that he said, I am King of the Jews.

22 Pi'late answered, What I have written I have written.

23 ¶ [q]Then the soldiers, when they had crucified Je'sus, took his garments, and made four parts, to every soldier a part; and also his coat: now the coat was without seam, [1]woven from the top throughout.

24 They said therefore among themselves, Let us not rend it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the scripture might be fulfilled, which saith, [r]They parted my raiment among them, and for my vesture they did cast lots. These things therefore the soldiers did.

25 ¶ [s]Now there stood by the cross of Je'sus his mother, and his mother's sister, Ma'ry the wife of [2][t]Cle'o-pas, and Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne.

26 When Jesus therefore saw his mother, and [u]the disciple standing by, whom he loved, he saith unto his mother, [x]Woman, behold thy son!

27 Then saith he to the disciple, Behold thy mother! And from that hour that disciple took her [y]unto his own home.

28 ¶ After this, Je'sus knowing that all things were now accomplished, [z]that the scripture might be fulfilled, saith, I thirst.

29 Now there was set a vessel full of vinegar: and [a]they filled a sponge with vinegar, and put it upon hyssop, and put it to his mouth.

30 When Je'sus therefore had received the vinegar, he said, [b]It is finished: and he bowed his head, and gave up the ghost.

31 The Jews therefore, [c]because it was the preparation, [d]that the bodies should not remain upon the cross on the sabbath day, (for that sabbath day was a high day,) besought Pi'late that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken away.

32 Then came the soldiers, and brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Je'sus, and saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs:

34 But one of the soldiers with a spear pierced his side, and forthwith [e]came thereout blood and water.

35 And he that saw it bare record, and his record is true; and he knoweth that he saith true, that ye might believe.

36 For these things were done, [f]that the scripture should be fulfilled, A bone of him shall not be broken.

37 And again another scripture saith, [g]They shall look on him whom they pierced.

38 ¶ [h]And after this Jo'seph of Ar-i-ma-the'a, being a disciple of Je'sus, but secretly [i]for fear of the Jews, besought Pi'late that he might take away the body of Je'sus: and Pi'late gave him leave. He came therefore, and took the body of Je'sus.

39 And there came also [k]Nic-o-de'mus, (which at the first came to Je'sus by night,) and brought a mixture of myrrh and aloes, about a hundred pounds weight.

40 Then took they the body of Je'sus, and [l]wound it in linen clothes with the spices, as the manner of the Jews is to bury.

41 Now in the place where he was crucified there was a garden; and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was never man yet laid.

42 [m]There laid they Je'sus therefore [n]because of the Jews' preparation day; for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

CHAPTER XX.

Mary Magdalene cometh to the sepulchre and findeth it empty. 3 Peter and John run thither. 11 Jesus appeareth to Mary Magdalene; 19 and also at evening to the disciples. 24 The unbelief of Thomas. 26 After eight days Jesus again appeareth to the disciples, and Thomas believeth. 30 The object for which John wrote his gospel.

THE [a]first day of the week cometh Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne early, when it was yet dark, unto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the sepulchre.

2 Then she runneth, and cometh to Si'mon Pe'ter, and to the [b]other disciple, whom Je'sus loved, and saith unto them, They have taken away the Lord out of the sepulchre, and we know not where they have laid him.

3 [c]Pe'ter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 So they ran both together: and the other disciple did [d]outrun Pe'ter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And he stooping down, and looking in, saw [e]the linen clothes lying; yet went he not in.

6 Then cometh Si'mon Pe'ter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linen clothes lie,

7 And [e]the napkin, that was about his head, not lying with the linen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by itself.

8 Then went in also that other disciple, which came first to the sepulchre, and he saw, and believed.

9 For as yet they knew not the [f]scripture, that he must rise again from the dead.

10 Then the disciples went away again unto their own home.

11 ¶ [g]But Ma'ry stood without at the sepulchre weeping: and as she wept, she stooped down, and looked into the sepulchre,

12 And seeth two angels in white sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Je'sus had lain.

13 And they say unto her, Woman, [h]why weepest thou? She saith unto them, Because they have taken away my Lord, and I know not where they have laid him.

14 [i]And when she had thus said, she turned herself back, and saw Je'sus standing, and [j]knew not that it was Je'sus.

15 Je'sus saith unto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She, supposing him to be the gardener, saith unto him, Sir, if thou have borne him hence, tell me where thou hast laid him, and I will take him away.

16 Je'sus saith unto her, Ma'ry. She turned herself, and saith unto him, Rabbo'ni; which is to say, Master.

17 Je'sus saith unto her, Touch me not; for I am not yet ascended to my Father: but go to [k]my brethren, and say unto them, [l]I ascend unto my Father, and your Father; and to [m]my God, and your God.

18 [n]Ma'ry Mag-da-le'ne came and told the disciples that she had seen the Lord, and that he had spoken these things unto her.

19 ¶ [o]Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Je'sus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

20 And when he had so said, he showed unto them his hands and his side. [p]Then were the disciples glad when they saw the Lord.

21 Then said Je'sus to them again, Peace be unto you: [q]as my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.

22 And when he had said this, he breathed on them, and saith unto them, Receive ye the Holy Ghost:

23 [r]Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them; and whosesoever sins ye retain, they are retained.

24 ¶ But Thom'as, one of the twelve, called [r]Did'y-mus, was not with them when Je'sus came.

25 The other disciples therefore said unto him, [s]We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, [t]Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

26 ¶ And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thom'as with them: then came Je'sus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you.

27 Then saith he to Thom'as, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and [u]reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side; and be not faithless, but believing.

30 ¶ [x]And many other signs truly did Je'sus in the presence of his disciples, which are not written in this book:

31 [y]But these are written, that ye might believe that Je'sus is the Christ, the Son of God; [z]and that believing ye might have life through his name.

CHAPTER XXI.

Jesus appeareth to the disciples at the sea of Tiberias. 6 The great draught of fishes. 15 He trieth Peter's love; 18 signifieth by what death he should die; 20 and rebuketh his curiosity concerning John. 24 The conclusion.

AFTER these things Je'sus showed himself again to the disciples at the sea of Ti-be'ri-as; and on this wise showed he himself.

2 There were together Si'mon Pe'ter, and Thom'as called Did'y-mus, and [a]Na-than'a-el of Ca'na in Gal'i-lee, and [b]the sons of Zeb'e-dee, and two other of his disciples.

3 Si'mon Pe'ter saith unto them, I go a fishing. They say unto him, We also go with thee. They went forth, and entered into a ship immediately; and that night they caught nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Je'sus stood on the shore; but the disciples [c]knew not that it was Je'sus.

5 Then [d]Je'sus saith unto them, [1]Children, have ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he said unto them, [e]Cast the net on the right side of the ship, and ye shall find. They cast therefore, and now they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 Therefore [f]that disciple whom Je'sus loved saith unto Pe'ter, It is the Lord. Now when Si'mon Pe'ter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his fisher's coat unto him, for he was naked, and did cast himself into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little ship, (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits,) dragging the net with fishes.

9 As soon then as they were come to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread.

10 Je'sus saith unto them, Bring of the fish which ye have now caught.

11 Si'mon Pe'ter went up, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, a hundred and fifty and three: and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Je'sus saith unto them, [e]Come and dine. And none of the disciples durst ask him, Who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Je'sus then cometh, and taketh bread, and giveth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now [f]the third time that Je'sus showed himself to his disciples, after that he was risen from the dead.

15 ¶ So when they had dined, Je'sus saith to Si'mon Pe'ter, Si'mon, son of Jo'nas, [g]lovest thou me more than these? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. He saith unto him, [h]Feed my lambs.

16 He saith to him again the second time, Si'mon, son of Jo'nas, lovest thou me? He saith unto him, Yea, Lord; thou knowest that I love thee. [i]He saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

17 He saith unto him the third time, Si'mon, son of Jo'nas, lovest thou me? Pe'ter was grieved because he said unto him the third time, Lovest thou me? And he said unto him, Lord, [k]thou knowest all things; thou knowest that I love thee. Je'sus saith unto him, Feed my sheep.

18 [l]Verily, verily, I say unto thee, When thou wast young, thou girdedst thyself, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be old, thou shalt stretch forth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and carry thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 This spake he, signifying [m]by what death he should glorify God. And when he had spoken this, he saith unto him, Follow me.

20 Then Pe'ter, turning about, seeth the disciple [n]whom Je'sus loved following, which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 Pe'ter seeing him saith to Je'sus, Lord, and what shall this man do?

22 Je'sus saith unto him, If I will that

THE ACTS
OF THE APOSTLES.

The book of the Acts of the Apostles connects the Gospels with the Epistles, being a useful postscript to the former and a proper introduction to the latter. That St. Luke was the author of the Acts of the Apostles is evident, not only from the introduction, but from the unanimous testimony of the early Christians. The Gospel and book of Acts of the Apostles are both inscribed to Theophilus, and in the first verse of the Acts there is a reference made to the Gospel, which he calls "the former treatise." It has been supposed by some that St. Luke wrote the Gospel and Acts in one book, and that they were subsequently divided. This book was written about A.D. 63, and for its genuineness and authenticity all the Christian fathers bear testimony. It is divided into three parts, the first of which contains an account of the rise and progress of the mother Church at Jerusalem, from the time of the Saviour's ascension to the first Jewish persecution; the second comprises the dispersion of the disciples, the propagation of Christianity among the Samaritans, the conversion of St. Paul, and the foundation of a Christian Church at Antioch; the third part describes the conversion of the more remote Gentiles by Barnabas and Paul, and after their separation, by Paul and his associates, particularly Silas, and among them was Luke himself.

CHAPTER I.

Jesus is seen of his apostles forty days after his resurrection. 4 His charge to them. 9 His ascension. 10 Two angels foretell his second coming. 12 The disciples return from mount Olivet, and give themselves to prayer. 15 Matthias is chosen an apostle in the place of Judas.

THE former treatise have I made, O [a]The-oph'i-lus, of all that Je'sus began both to do and teach,

2 [b]Until the day in which he was taken up, after that he through the Holy Ghost [c]had given commandments unto the apostles whom he had chosen:

3 [d]To whom also he showed himself alive after his passion by many infallible proofs, being seen of them forty days, and speaking of the things pertaining to the kingdom of God:

4 [e]And [1]being assembled together with them, commanded them that they should not depart from Je-ru'sa-lem, but wait for the promise of the Father, [f]which, saith he, ye have heard of me.

5 [g]For John truly baptized with water; [h]but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, [i]Lord, wilt thou at this time [k]restore again the kingdom to Is'ra-el?

7 And he said unto them, [l]It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in his own power.

8 [m]But ye shall receive [2]power, [n]after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you: and [o]ye shall be witnesses unto me both in Je-ru'sa-lem, and in all Ju-de'a, and in Sa-ma'ri-a, and unto the uttermost part of the earth.

9 [p]And when he had spoken these things, while they beheld, [q]he was taken up; and a cloud received him out of their sight.

10 And while they looked steadfastly toward heaven as he went up, behold, two men stood by them [r]in white apparel;

11 Which also said, [s]Ye men of Gal'i-lee, why stand ye gazing up into heaven? this same Je'sus, which is taken up from you into heaven, [t]shall so come in like manner as ye have seen him go into heaven.

12 [u] Then returned they unto Je-ru'sa-lem from the mount called Ol'i-vet, which is from Je-ru'sa-lem a sabbath day's journey.

13 And when they were come in, they went up [x] into an upper room, where abode both [y] Pe'ter, and James, and John, and An'drew, Phil'ip, and Thom'as, Bar-thol'o-mew, and Matth'ew, James the son of Al-phe'us, and [z] Si'mon Ze-lo'tes, and [a] Ju'das the brother of James.

14 [b] These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with [c] the women, and Ma'ry the mother of Je'sus, and with [d] his brethren.

15 ¶ And in those days Pe'ter stood up in the midst of the disciples, and said, (the number [e] of names together were about a hundred and twenty,)

16 Men and brethren, this scripture must needs have been fulfilled, [f] which the Holy Ghost by the mouth of Da'vid spake before concerning Ju'das, [g] which was guide to them that took Je'sus.

17 For [h] he was numbered with us, and had obtained part of [i] this ministry.

18 [k] Now this man purchased a field with [l] the reward of iniquity; and falling headlong, he burst asunder in the midst, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was known unto all the dwellers at Je-ru'sa-lem; insomuch as that field is called, in their proper tongue, A-cel'da-ma, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the book of Psalms, [m] Let his habitation be desolate, and let no man dwell therein: and, [n] His [3] bishopric let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which have companied with us all the time that the Lord Je'sus went in and out among us,

22 [o] Beginning from the baptism of John, unto that same day that [p] he was taken up from us, must one be ordained [q] to be a witness with us of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Jo'seph called [r] Bar'sa-bas, who was surnamed Jus'tus, and Mat-thi'as.

24 And they prayed, and said, Thou, Lord, [s] which knowest the hearts of all men, show whether of these two thou hast chosen,

25 [t] That he may take part of this ministry and apostleship, from which Ju'das by transgression fell, that he might go to his own place.

26 And they gave forth their lots: and the lot fell upon Mat-thi'as; and he was numbered with the eleven apostles.

CHAPTER II.

The outpouring of the Spirit on the day of Pentecost, and the gift of tongues. 14 Peter's discourse. 37 Three thousand repent and are baptized. 44 The disciples have all things common. 47 Converts are daily added to the church.

AND when [a] the day of Pen'te-cost was fully come, [b] they were all with one accord in one place.

2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and [c] it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them.

4 And [d] they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, and began [e] to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

5 And there were dwelling at Je-ru'sa-lem Jews, devout men, out of every nation under heaven.

6 Now [1] when this was noised abroad, the multitude came together, and were [2] confounded, because that every man heard them speak in his own language.

7 And they were all amazed and marvelled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speak [f] Gal-i-le'ans?

8 And how hear we every man in our own tongue, wherein we were born?

9 Par'thi-ans, and [g] Medes, and [h] E'lam-ites, and the dwellers in [i] Mes-o-po-ta'-mi-a, and in Ju-de'a, and [k] Cap-pa-do'ci-a, in Pon'tus, and A'si-a,

10 [l] Phryg'i-a, and Pam-phyl'i-a, in E'gypt, and in the parts of [m] Lib'y-a about [n] Cy-re'ne, and strangers of Rome, Jews and proselytes,

11 Cre'tes and A-ra'bi-ans, we do hear them speak in our tongues the wonderful works of God.

12 And they were all amazed, and were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Others mocking said, [o] These men are full of new wine.

14 ¶ But Pe'ter, standing up with the eleven, lifted up his voice, and said unto them, Ye men of Ju-de'a, and all ye that dwell at Je-ru'sa-lem, be this known unto you, and hearken to my words:

15 For these are not drunken, as ye suppose, [p] seeing it is but the third hour of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the prophet Jo'el;

17 [q] And it shall come to pass in the last days, saith God, [r] I will pour out of my Spirit upon all flesh: and your sons and [s] your daughters shall prophesy, and your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams:

18 And on my servants and on my handmaidens I will pour out in those days of my Spirit; [l]and they shall prophesy:

19 [m]And I will show wonders in heaven above, and signs in the earth beneath; blood, and fire, and vapour of smoke:

20 [n]The sun shall be turned into darkness, and the moon into blood, before that great and notable day of the Lord come:

21 And it shall come to pass, that [o]whosoever shall call on the name of the Lord shall be saved.

22 Ye men of Is'ra-el, hear these words; Je'sus of Naz'a-reth, a man approved of God among you [p]by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know:

23 Him, [q]being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, [r]ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain:

24 [s]Whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it.

25 For Da'vid speaketh concerning him, [t]I foresaw the Lord always before my face; for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moved:

26 Therefore did my heart rejoice, and my tongue was glad; moreover also my flesh shall rest in hope:

27 Because thou wilt not [u]leave my soul in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

28 Thou hast made known to me the ways of life; thou shalt make me full of joy with thy countenance.

29 Men and brethren, [3]let me freely speak unto you [v]of the patriarch Da'vid, that he is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with us unto this day.

30 Therefore being a prophet, [x]and knowing that God had sworn with an oath to him, that of the fruit of his loins, according to the flesh, he would raise up Christ to sit on his throne;

31 He, seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, [y]that his soul was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

32 [z]This Je'sus hath God raised up, [a]whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Therefore [b]being by the right hand of God exalted, and [c]having received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, he [d]hath shed forth this, which ye now see and hear.

34 For Da'vid is not ascended into the heavens: but he saith himself, [e]The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

35 Until I make thy foes thy footstool.

36 Therefore let all the house of Is'ra-el know assuredly, that God [f]hath made that same Je'sus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 ¶ Now when they heard this, [g]they were pricked in their heart, and said unto Pe'ter and to the rest of the apostles, Men and brethren, what shall we do?

38 Then Pe'ter said unto them, [h]Repent, and be baptized every one of you in the name of Je'sus Christ for the remission of sins, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Ghost.

39 For the promise is unto you, and [i]to your children, and [k]to all that are afar off, even as many as the Lord our God shall call.

40 And with many other words did he testify and exhort, saying, Save yourselves from this untoward generation.

41 ¶ Then they that gladly received his word were baptized: and the same day there were added unto them about three thousand souls.

42 [l]And they continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And fear came upon every soul: and [m]many wonders and signs were done by the apostles.

44 And all that believed were together, and [n]had all things common;

45 And sold their possessions and goods, and [o]parted them to all men, as every man had need.

46 [p]And they, continuing daily with one accord [q]in the temple, and [r]breaking bread [4]from house to house, did eat their meat with gladness and singleness of heart, 47 Praising God, and [s]having favour with all the people. And [t]the Lord added to the church daily such as should be saved.

CHAPTER III.

Peter and John go up to the temple. 2 A lame man healed. 12 Peter's discourse in Solomon's porch. 19 He exhorteth to repentance and faith in Christ.

NOW Pe'ter and John went up together [a]into the temple at the hour of prayer, [b]being the ninth hour.

2 And [c]a certain man lame from his mother's womb was carried, whom they laid daily at the gate of the temple which is called Beautiful, [d]to ask alms of them that entered into the temple;

3 Who, seeing Pe'ter and John about to go into the temple, asked an alms.

4 And Pe'ter, fastening his eyes upon him with John, said, Look on us.

5 And he gave heed unto them, expecting to receive something of them.

6 Then Pe'ter said, Silver and gold have I none; but such as I have give I thee: [e]In the name of Je'sus Christ of Naz'a-reth rise up and walk.

7 ¶ And he took him by the right hand, and lifted him up: and immediately his feet and ankle bones received strength.

e ch. 4. 10.

8 And he [f] leaping up stood, and walked, and entered with them into the temple, walking, and leaping, and praising God.

9 [g] And all the people saw him walking and praising God:

10 And they knew that it was he which [h] sat for alms at the Beautiful gate of the temple: and they were filled with wonder and amazement at that which had happened unto him.

11 And as the lame man which was healed held Pe'ter and John, all the people ran together unto them in the porch [i] that is called Sol'o-mon's, greatly wondering.

12 ¶ And when Pe'ter saw it, he answered unto the people, Ye men of Is'ra-el, why marvel ye at this? or why look ye so earnestly on us, as though by our own power or holiness we had made this man to walk?

13 [k] The God of A'bra-ham, and of I'saac, and of Ja'cob, the God of our fathers, [l] hath glorified his Son Je'sus; whom ye [m] delivered up, and [n] denied him in the presence of Pi'late, when he was determined to let him go.

14 But ye denied [o] the Holy One [p] and the Just, and desired a murderer to be granted unto you;

15 And killed the [1] Prince of life, [q] whom God hath raised from the dead; [r] whereof we are witnesses.

16 [s] And his name, through faith in his name, hath made this man strong, whom ye see and know: yea, the faith which is by him hath given him this perfect soundness in the presence of you all.

17 And now, brethren, I wot that [t] through ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers.

18 But [u] those things, which God before had showed [x] by the mouth of all his prophets, that Christ should suffer, he hath so fulfilled.

19 ¶ [y] Repent ye therefore, and be converted, that your sins may be blotted out, when the times of refreshing shall come from the presence of the Lord;

20 And he shall send Je'sus Christ, which before was preached unto you:

21 [z] Whom the heaven must receive until the times of [a] restitution of all things, [b] which God hath spoken by the mouth of all his holy prophets since the world began.

22 For Mo'ses truly said unto the fathers, [c] A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me; him shall ye hear in all things whatsoever he shall say unto you.

23 And it shall come to pass, [d] that every soul, which will not hear that Prophet, shall be destroyed from among the people.

24 Yea, and all the prophets from

25 [d] Ye are the children of the prophets, and of the covenant which God made with our fathers, saying unto A'bra-ham, [e] And in thy seed shall all the kindreds of the earth be blessed.

26 [f] Unto you first, God having raised up his Son Je'sus [g] sent him to bless you, [h] in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.

CHAPTER IV.

Peter and John imprisoned. 4 Five thousand believe. 5 Peter and John brought before the council. 8 Peter's defence. 18 The rulers command them not to teach in the name of Jesus. 23 They return to their own company, who lift up their voice in prayer. 31 They are all filled with the Holy Ghost. 34 Barnabas and others sell their possessions.

AND as they spake unto the people, the priests, and the [1] captain of the temple, and the Sad'du-cees, came upon them,

2 [a] Being grieved that they taught the people, and preached through Je'sus the resurrection from the dead.

3 And they laid hands on them, and put them in hold unto the next day: for it was now eventide.

4 Howbeit many of them which heard the word believed; and the number of the men was about five thousand.

5 ¶ And it came to pass on the morrow, that their rulers, and elders, and scribes,

6 And [b] An'nas the high priest, and Cai'a-phas, and John, and Al-ex-an'der, and as many as were of the kindred of the high priest, were gathered together at Je-ru'sa-lem.

7 And when they had set them in the midst, they asked, [c] By what power, or by what name, have ye done this?

8 [d] Then Pe'ter, filled with the Holy Ghost, said unto them, Ye rulers of the people, and elders of Is'ra-el,

9 If we this day be examined of the good deed done to the impotent man, by what means he is made whole;

10 Be it known unto you all, and to all the people of Is'ra-el, [e] that by the name of Je'sus Christ of Naz'a-reth, whom ye crucified, [f] whom God raised from the dead, even by him doth this man stand here before you whole.

11 [g] This is the stone which was set at nought of you builders, which is become the head of the corner.

12 [h] Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

13 ¶ Now when they saw the boldness of Pe'ter and John, [i] and perceived that they were unlearned and ignorant men, they marvelled; and they took knowl edge of them, that they had been with Je'sus.

14 And beholding the man which was healed [k] standing with them, they could say nothing against it.

15 But when they had commanded them to go aside out of the council, they conferred among themselves,

16 Saying, [l] What shall we do to these men? for that indeed a notable miracle hath been done by them is [m] manifest to all them that dwell in Je-ru'sa-lem; and we cannot deny it.

17 But that it spread no further among the people, let us straitly threaten them, that they speak henceforth to no man in this name.

18 [n] And they called them, and commanded them not to speak at all nor teach in the name of Je'sus.

19 But Pe'ter and John answered and said unto them, [o] Whether it be right in the sight of God to hearken unto you more than unto God, judge ye.

20 [p] For we cannot but speak the things which [q] we have seen and heard.

21 So when they had further threatened them, they let them go, finding nothing how they might punish them, [r] because of the people: for all men glorified God for [s] that which was done.

22 For the man was above forty years old, on whom this miracle of healing was showed.

23 ¶ And being let go, [t] they went to their own company, and reported all that the chief priests and elders had said unto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lifted up their voice to God with one accord, and said, Lord, [u] thou art God, which hast made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all that in them is;

25 Who by the mouth of thy servant Da'vid hast said, [x] Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vain things?

26 The kings of the earth stood up, and the rulers were gathered together against the Lord, and against his Christ.

27 For [y] of a truth against [z] thy holy child Je'sus, [a] whom thou hast anointed, both Her'od, and Pon'ti-us Pi'late, with the Gen'tiles, and the people of Is'ra-el, were gathered together,

28 [b] For to do whatsoever thy hand and thy counsel determined before to be done.

29 And now, Lord, behold their threatenings: and grant unto thy servants, [c] that with all boldness they may speak thy word,

30 By stretching forth thy hand to heal; [d] and that signs and wonders may be done [e] by the name of [f] thy holy child Je'sus.

31 ¶ And when they had prayed, [g] the place was shaken where they were assembled together; and they were all filled with the Holy Ghost, [h] and they spake the word of God with boldness.

CHAPTER V.

The death of Ananias and Sapphira. 12 Signs and wonders wrought by the apostles. 17 They are imprisoned; 19 but are delivered by an angel, and teach in the temple. 29 Their defence before the council. 33 Gamaliel's advice. 40 The apostles are beaten and dismissed. 41 They rejoice that they are counted worthy to suffer shame for Christ.

BUT a certain man named An-a-ni'as, with Sap-phi'ra his wife, sold a possession,

2 And [a] kept back part of the price, his wife also being privy to it, [b] and brought a certain part, and laid it at the apostles' feet.

3 [c] But Pe'ter said, An-a-ni'as, why hath [d] Sa'tan filled thine heart [1] to lie to the Holy Ghost, and to keep back part of the price of the land?

4 While it remained, was it not thine own? and after it was sold, was it not in thine own power? why hast thou conceived this thing in thine heart? [e] thou hast not lied unto men, but unto God.

5 And An-a-ni'as hearing these words [f] fell down, and gave up the ghost: and great fear came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the young men arose, [g] wound him up, and carried him out, and buried him.

7 And it was about the space of three hours after, when his wife, not knowing what was done, came in.

8 And Pe'ter answered unto her, Tell me whether ye sold the land for so much? And she said, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Pe'ter said unto her, How is it that ye have agreed together [h] to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? behold, the feet

10 [g] Then fell she down straightway at his feet, and yielded up the ghost: and the young men came in, and found her dead, and, carrying her forth, buried her by her husband.

11 [h] And great fear came upon all the church, and upon as many as heard these things.

12 ¶ And [i] by the hands of the apostles were many signs and wonders wrought among the people; ([k] and they were all with one accord in Sol'o-mon's porch.

13 And [l] of the rest durst no man join himself to them: [m] but the people magnified them.

14 And believers were the more added to the Lord, multitudes both of men and women;)

15 Insomuch that they brought forth the sick [2] into the streets, and laid them on beds and couches, [n] that at the least the shadow of Pe'ter passing by might overshadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Je-ru'sa-lem, bringing [o] sick folks, and them which were vexed with unclean spirits: and they were healed every one.

17 ¶ [p] Then the high priest rose up, and all they that were with him, (which is the sect of the Sad'du-cees,) and were filled with [3] indignation, 18 [q] And laid their hands on the apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But [r] the angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doors, and brought them forth, and said,

20 Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people [s] all the words of this life.

21 And when they heard that, they entered into the temple early in the morning, and taught. [t] But the high priest came, and they that were with him, and called the council together, and all the senate of the children of Is'ra-el, and sent to the prison to have them brought.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and told,

23 Saying, The prison truly found we shut with all safety, and the keepers standing without before the doors: but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Now when the high priest and [u] the captain of the temple and the chief priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and told them, saying, Behold, the men whom ye put in prison are standing in the temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captain with the officers, and brought them without violence: [x] for they feared the people, lest they should have been stoned.

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the council: and the high priest asked them,

28 Saying, [y] Did not we straitly command you that ye should not teach in this name? and behold, ye have filled Je-ru'sa-lem with your doctrine, [z] and intend to bring this man's [a] blood upon us.

29 ¶ Then Pe'ter and the other apostles answered and said, [b] We ought to obey God rather than men.

30 [c] The God of our fathers raised up Je'sus, whom ye slew and [d] hanged on a tree.

31 [e] Him hath God exalted with his right hand to be [f] a Prince and [g] a Saviour, [h] for to give repentance to Is'ra-el, and forgiveness of sins.

32 And [i] we are his witnesses of these things; and so is also the Holy Ghost, [j] whom God hath given to them that obey him.

33 ¶ [k] When they heard that, they were cut to the heart, and took counsel to slay them.

34 Then stood there up one in the council, a Phar'i-see, named [l] Ga-ma'li-el, a doctor of the law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the apostles forth a little space;

35 And said unto them, Ye men of Is'ra-el, take heed to yourselves what ye intend to do as touching these men.

36 For before these days rose up Theu'das, boasting himself to be somebody; [m] to whom a number of men, about four hundred, joined themselves: who was slain; and all, as many as [4] obeyed him, were scattered, and brought to nought.

37 After this man rose up Ju'das of Gal'i-lee in the days of the taxing, and drew away much people after him: he also perished; and all, even as many as obeyed him, were dispersed.

38 And now I say unto you, Refrain from these men, and let them alone: [n] for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to nought:

39 [o] But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even [p] to fight against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had [q] called the apostles, [r] and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speak in the name of Je'sus, and let them go.

41 ¶ And they departed from the presence of the council, [s] rejoicing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his name.

42 And daily [t] in the temple, and in every house, [u] they ceased not to teach and preach Je'sus Christ.

CHAPTER VI.

For the care of the poor, seven deacons are chosen. 7 The number of disciples greatly multiplied. 8 Stephen worketh miracles; 11 is falsely accused of blasphemy; 12 and brought before the council.

AND in those days, [a]when the number of the disciples was multiplied, there arose a murmuring of the [b]Gre′ci-ans against the He′brews, because their widows were neglected [c]in the daily ministration.

2 Then the twelve called the multitude of the disciples unto them, and said, [d]It is not reason that we should leave the word of God, and serve tables.

3 Wherefore, brethren, [e]look ye out among you seven men of honest report, full of the Holy Ghost and wisdom, whom we may appoint over this business.

4 But we [f]will give ourselves continually to prayer, and to the ministry of the word.

5 ¶ And the saying pleased the whole multitude: and they chose Ste′phen, [g]a man full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and [h]Phil′ip, and Proch′o-rus, and Ni-ca′-nor, and Ti′mon, and Par′me-nas, and [i]Nic′o-las a proselyte of An′ti-och;

6 Whom they set before the apostles: and [k]when they had prayed, [l]they laid their hands on them.

7 And [m]the word of God increased; and the number of the disciples multiplied in Je-ru′sa-lem greatly; and a great company [n]of the priests were obedient to the faith.

8 ¶ And Ste′phen, [o]full of faith and power, did great wonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certain of the synagogue, which is called the synagogue of the Lib′er-tines, and Cy-re′ni-ans, and Al-ex-an′dri-ans, and of them of Cil-i′ci-a and of A′si-a, disputing with Ste′phen.

10 And [p]they were not able to resist the wisdom and the spirit by which he spake.

11 [q]Then they suborned men, which said, We have heard him speak blasphemous words against Mo′ses, and against God.

12 And they [r]stirred up the people, and the elders, and the scribes, and came upon him, and caught him, and brought him to the council,

13 And set up false witnesses, which said, This man ceaseth not to speak blasphemous words against this holy place, and the law:

14 [s]For we have heard him say, that this Je′sus of Naz′a-reth shall [t]destroy this place, and shall change the [1]customs which Mo′ses delivered us.

15 And all that sat in the council, looking steadfastly on him, [u]saw his face as it had been the face of an angel.

CHAPTER VII.

Stephen's defence. 51 He accuseth the Jews of slaying the prophets and the Just One; 54 at which they are enraged. 55 His vision of the Son of man. 57 He is stoned to death.

THEN said the high priest, Are these things so?

2 And he said, [a]Men, brethren, and fathers, hearken; The God of glory appeared unto our father A′bra-ham, when he was in Mes-o-po-ta′mi-a, before he dwelt in Char′ran,

3 And said unto him, [b]Get thee out of thy country, and from thy kindred, and come into the land which I shall show thee.

4 Then [c]came he out of the land of the Chal-de′ans, and dwelt in Char′ran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he removed him into this land, wherein ye now dwell.

5 And he gave him none inheritance in it, no, not so much as to set his foot on: [d]yet he promised that he would give it to him for a possession, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no child.

6 And God spake on this wise, [e]That his seed should sojourn in a strange land; and that they should bring them into bondage, and entreat them evil [f]four hundred years.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage will I judge, said God: and after that shall they come forth, and [g]serve me in this place.

8 [h]And he gave him the covenant of circumcision: [i]and so A′bra-ham begat I′saac, and circumcised him the eighth day; [k]and I′saac begat Ja′cob; and [l]Ja′cob begat the twelve patriarchs.

9 [m]And the patriarchs, moved with envy, sold Jo′seph into E′gypt: [n]but God was with him,

10 And delivered him out of all his afflictions, [o]and gave him favour and wisdom in the sight of Pha′raoh king of E′gypt; and he made him governor over E′gypt and all his house.

11 [p]Now there came a dearth over all the land of E′gypt and Ca′naan, and great affliction: and our fathers found no sustenance.

12 [q]But when Ja′cob heard that there was corn in E′gypt, he sent out our fathers first.

13 [r]And at the second time Jo′seph was made known to his brethren; and Jo′seph's kindred was made known unto Pha′raoh.

14 [s]Then sent Jo′seph, and called his father Ja′cob to him, and [t]all his kindred, threescore and fifteen souls.

15 [u]So Ja′cob went down into E′gypt, [w]and died, he, and our fathers,

16 And [x]were carried over into Sy′chem, and laid in [y]the sepulchre that A′bra-ham bought for a sum of money of the sons of Em′mor, the father of Sy′chem.

17 But when [z]the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworn to A'bra-ham, [a]the people grew and multiplied in E'gypt,

18 Till another king arose, which knew not Jo'seph.

19 The same dealt subtilely with our kindred, and evil entreated our fathers, [b]so that they cast out their young children, to the end they might not live.

20 [c]In which time Mo'ses was born, and [d]was [1]exceeding fair, and nourished up in his father's house three months:

21 And [e]when he was cast out, Pha'raoh's daughter took him up, and nourished him for her own son.

22 And Mo'ses was learned in all the wisdom of the E-gyp'tians, and was [f]mighty in words and in deeds.

23 [g]And when he was full forty years old, it came into his heart to visit his brethren the children of Is'ra-el.

24 And seeing one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and avenged him that was oppressed, and smote the E-gyp'tian:

25 For he supposed his brethren would have understood how that God by his hand would deliver them; [h]but they understood not.

26 [i]And the next day he showed himself unto them as they strove, and would have set them at one again, saying, Sirs, ye are brethren; why do ye wrong one to another?

27 But he that did his neighbour wrong thrust him away, saying, [j]Who made thee a ruler and a judge over us?

28 Wilt thou kill me, as thou didst the E-gyp'tian yesterday?

29 [k]Then fled Mo'ses at this saying, and was a stranger in the land of Mid'i-an, where he begat two sons.

30 [l]And when forty years were expired, there appeared to him in the wilderness of mount Si'nai an angel of the Lord in a flame of fire in a bush.

31 When Mo'ses saw it, he wondered at the sight: and as he drew near to behold it, the voice of the Lord came unto him,

32 Saying, [m]I am the God of thy fathers, the God of A'bra-ham, and the God of I'saac, and the God of Ja'cob. Then Mo'ses trembled, and durst not behold.

33 [n]Then said the Lord to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feet: for the place where thou standest is holy ground.

34 [o]I have seen, I have seen the affliction of my people which is in E'gypt, and I have heard their groaning, and am come down to deliver them. And now come, I will send thee into E'gypt.

35 This Mo'ses whom they refused, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliverer [p]by the hand of the angel which appeared to him in the bush.

36 [q]He brought them out, after that he had [r]showed wonders and signs in the land of E'gypt, [s]and in the Red sea, [t]and in the wilderness forty years.

37 ¶ This is that Mo'ses, which said unto the children of Is'ra-el, [u]A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, [2]like unto me; [x]him shall ye hear.

38 [y]This is he, that was in the church in the wilderness with [z]the angel which spake to him in the mount Si'nai, and with our fathers: [a]who received the lively [b]oracles to give unto us:

39 To whom our fathers would not obey, but thrust him from them, and in their hearts turned back again into E'gypt,

40 [c]Saying unto Aa'ron, Make us gods to go before us: for as for this Mo'ses, which brought us out of the land of E'gypt, we wot not what is become of him.

41 [d]And they made a calf in those days, and offered sacrifice unto the idol, and rejoiced in the works of their own hands.

42 Then [e]God turned, and gave them up to worship [f]the host of heaven; as it is written in the book of the prophets, [g]O ye house of Is'ra-el, have ye offered to me slain beasts and sacrifices by the space of forty years in the wilderness?

43 Yea, ye took up the tabernacle of Mo'loch, and the star of your god Rem'phan, figures which ye made to worship them: and I will carry you away beyond Bab'y-lon.

44 Our fathers had the tabernacle of witness in the wilderness, as he had appointed, speaking unto Mo'ses, [h]that he should make it according to the fashion that he had seen.

45 [i]Which also our fathers [3]that came after brought in with [4]Je'sus into the possession of the Gen'tiles, [k]whom God drave out before the face of our fathers, unto the days of Da'vid;

46 [l]Who found favour before God, and [m]desired to find a tabernacle for the God of Ja'cob.

47 [n]But Sol'o-mon built him a house.

48 Howbeit [o]the Most High dwelleth not in temples made with hands; as saith the prophet,

49 [p]Heaven is my throne, and earth is my footstool: what house will ye build me? saith the Lord: or what is the place of my rest?

50 Hath not my hand made all these things?

51 ¶ Ye [q]stiffnecked and [r]uncircumcised in heart and ears, ye do always resist the Holy Ghost: as your fathers did, so do ye.

52 [s]Which of the prophets have not your fathers persecuted? and they have slain them which showed before of the coming of [t]the Just One; of whom ye

54 ¶ [x] When they heard these things, they were cut to the heart, and they gnashed on him with their teeth.

55 But he, [y] being full of the Holy Ghost, looked up steadfastly into heaven, and saw the glory of God, and Je'sus standing on the right hand of God,

56 And said, Behold, [z] I see the heavens opened, and the [a] Son of man standing on the right hand of God.

57 Then they cried out with a loud voice, and stopped their ears, and ran upon him with one accord,

58 And [b] cast him out of the city, [c] and stoned him: and [d] the witnesses laid down their clothes at a young man's feet, whose name was Saul.

59 And they stoned Ste'phen, [e] calling upon God, and saying, Lord Je'sus, [f] receive my spirit.

60 And he [g] kneeled down, and cried with a loud voice, [h] Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep.

CHAPTER VIII.

The disciples are scattered abroad and preach the word. 5 Philip preacheth at Samaria. 9 Simon the sorcerer is baptized. 14 Peter and John are sent to Samaria; in answer to whose prayer, and with the laying on of their hands, the Holy Ghost is given. 18 Simon offereth them money for the like power. 20 Peter rebuketh him. 26 Philip is sent to teach and to baptize the Ethiopian eunuch.

AND [a] Saul was consenting unto his death. And at that time there was a great persecution against the church which was at Je-ru'sa-lem; and [b] they were all scattered abroad throughout the regions of Ju-de'a and Sa-ma'ri-a, except the apostles.

2 And devout men carried Ste'phen to his burial, and [c] made great lamentation over him.

3 As for Saul, [d] he made havoc of the church, entering into every house, and haling men and women, committed them to prison.

4 Therefore [e] they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

5 Then [f] Phil'ip went down to the city of Sa-ma'ri-a, and preached Christ unto them.

6 And the people with one accord [g] gave heed unto those things which Phil'ip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did.

7 For [h] unclean spirits, crying with loud voice, came out of many that were possessed with them: and many taken with palsies, and that were lame, were healed.

8 And [i] there was great joy in that city.

9 But there was a certain man, called Si'mon, which beforetime in the same city [g] used sorcery, and bewitched the people of Sa-ma'ri-a, [h] giving out that himself was some great one:

10 [i] To whom they all gave heed, from the least to the greatest, saying, This man is [j] the great power of God.

11 And to him they had regard, because that of long time he had bewitched them with sorceries.

12 But when they believed Phil'ip preaching the things [k] concerning the kingdom of God, and the name of Je'sus Christ, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Si'mon himself believed also: and when he was baptized, he continued with Phil'ip, and wondered, beholding the [1] miracles and signs which were done.

14 Now when the apostles which were at Je-ru'sa-lem heard that Sa-ma'ri-a had received the word of God, they sent unto them Pe'ter and John:

15 Who, when they were come down, prayed for them, [l] that they might receive the Holy Ghost:

16 For [m] as yet he was fallen upon none of them: only [n] they were baptized in [o] the name of the Lord Je'sus.

17 Then [p] laid they their hands on them, and they received the Holy Ghost.

18 And when Si'mon saw that through laying on of the apostles' hands the Holy Ghost was given, he offered them money

19 Saying, Give me also this power, that on whomsoever I lay hands, he may receive the Holy Ghost.

20 But Pe'ter said unto him, Thy money perish with thee, because [q] thou hast thought that [r] the gift of God may be purchased with money.

21 Thou hast neither part nor lot in this matter: for thy heart is not right in the sight of God.

22 Repent therefore of this thy wickedness, and pray God, [s] if perhaps the thought of thine heart may be forgiven thee.

23 For I perceive that thou art in [t] the gall of bitterness, and in the bond of iniquity.

24 Then answered Si'mon, and said, [u] Pray ye to the Lord for me, that none of these things which ye have spoken come upon me.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned to Je-ru'sa-lem, and preached the gospel in many villages of the Sa-mar'i-tans.

26 And the angel of the Lord spake unto Phil'ip, saying, Arise, and go toward the south, unto the way that goeth down from Je-ru'sa-lem unto Ga'za, which is desert.

27 And he arose and went: and behold,

[x] a man of E-thi-o'pi-a, a eunuch of great authority under Can'dace queen of the E-thi-o'pi-ans, who had the charge of all her treasure, and [y] had come to Je-ru'sa-lem for to worship,

28 Was returning, and sitting in his chariot read E-sa'ias the prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said unto Phil'ip, Go near, and join thyself to this chariot.

30 And Phil'ip ran thither to him, and heard him read the prophet E-sa'ias, and said, Understandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And he desired Phil'ip that he would come up and sit with him.

32 The place of the Scripture which he read was this, [z] He was led as a sheep to the slaughter; and like a lamb dumb before his shearer, so opened he not his mouth:

33 In his humiliation his judgment was taken away: and who shall declare his generation? for his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the eunuch answered Phil'ip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the prophet this? of himself, or of some other man?

35 Then Phil'ip opened his mouth, [a] and began at the same scripture, and preached unto him Je'sus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came unto a certain water: and the eunuch said, See, here is water; [b] what doth hinder me to be baptized?

37 And Phil'ip said, [c] If thou believest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And he answered and said, [d] I believe that Je'sus Christ is the Son of God.

38 And he commanded the chariot to stand still: and they went down both into the water, both Phil'ip and the eunuch; and he baptized him.

39 And when they were come up out of the water, [e] the Spirit of the Lord caught away Phil'ip, that the eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way rejoicing.

40 But Phil'ip was found at A-zo'tus: and passing through he preached in all the cities, till he came to Ces-a-re'a.

CHAPTER IX.

Saul's conversion near Damascus. 10 Ananias baptizeth him. 20 He preacheth Christ boldly. 23 After many days the Jews lay wait to kill him. 25 He escapeth and cometh to Jerusalem; 29 where the Grecians go about to slay him; 30 but he is taken by the brethren and sent to Tarsus. 32 Peter healeth Eneas of the palsy; 36 and restoreth Tabitha to life.

AND [a] Saul, yet breathing out threatenings and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord, went unto the high priest,

2 And desired of him letters to Da-mas'cus to the synagogues, that if he found any [a] of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound unto Je-ru'sa-lem.

3 And [b] as he journeyed, he came near Da-mas'cus: and suddenly there shined round about him a light from heaven:

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voice saying unto him, Saul, Saul, [c] why persecutest thou me?

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Je'sus whom thou persecutest: [d] it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

6 And he trembling and astonished said, Lord, [e] what wilt thou have me to do? And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the city, and it shall be told thee what thou must do.

7 And [f] the men which journeyed with him stood speechless, hearing a voice, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth; and when his eyes were opened, he saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Da-mas'cus.

9 And he was three days without sight, and neither did eat nor drink.

10 ¶ And there was a certain disciple at Da-mas'cus, [g] named An-a-ni'as; and to him said the Lord in a vision, An-a-ni'as. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord said unto him, Arise, and go into the street which is called Straight, and inquire in the house of Ju'das for one called Saul, [h] of Tar'sus: for [i] behold, he prayeth,

12 And hath seen in a vision a man named An-a-ni'as coming in, and putting his hand on him, that he might receive his sight.

13 Then An-a-ni'as answered, Lord, I have heard by many of this man, [j] how much evil he hath done to thy saints at Je-ru'sa-lem:

14 And here he hath authority from the chief priests to bind all [k] that call on thy name.

15 But the Lord said unto him, Go thy way: for [l] he is a chosen vessel unto me, to bear my name before [m] the Gen'tiles, and [n] kings, and the children of Is'ra-el:

16 For [o] I will show him how great things he must suffer for my name's sake.

17 [p] And An-a-ni'as went his way, and entered into the house; and [q] putting his hands on him said, Brother Saul, the Lord, even Je'sus, that appeared unto thee in the way as thou camest, hath sent me, that thou mightest receive thy sight, and [r] be filled with the Holy Ghost.

18 And immediately there fell from his eyes as it had been scales: and he received sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had received meat, he was strengthened. [s]Then was Saul certain days with the disciples which were at Da-mas'cus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the synagogues, [t]that he is the Son of God.

21 But all that heard him were amazed, and said; [u]Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this name in Je-ru'sa-lem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound unto the chief priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, [x]and confounded the Jews which dwelt at Da-mas'cus, proving that this is very Christ.

23 ¶ And after that many days were fulfilled, [y]the Jews took counsel to kill him:

24 [z]But their laying wait was known of Saul. And they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

25 Then the disciples took him by night, and [a]let him down by the wall in a basket.

26 And [b]when Saul was come to Je-ru'sa-lem, he assayed to join himself to the disciples: but they were all afraid of him, and believed not that he was a disciple.

27 [c]But Bar'na-bas took him, and brought him to the apostles, and declared unto them how he had seen the Lord in the way, and that he had spoken to him, [d]and how he had preached boldly at Da-mas'cus in the name of Je'sus.

28 And [e]he was with them coming in and going out at Je-ru'sa-lem.

29 And he spake boldly in the name of the Lord Je'sus, and disputed against the [f]Gre'ci-ans: [g]but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knew, they brought him down to Ces-a-re'a, and sent him forth to Tar'sus.

31 [h]Then had the churches rest throughout all Ju-de'a and Gal'i-lee and Sa-ma'ri-a, and were edified; and walking in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost, were multiplied.

32 ¶ And it came to pass, as Pe'ter passed [i]throughout all quarters, he came down also to the saints which dwelt at Lyd'da.

33 And there he found a certain man named E-ne'as, which had kept his bed eight years, and was sick of the palsy.

34 And Pe'ter said unto him, E-ne'as, [k]Je'sus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediately.

35 And all that dwelt at Lyd'da and [l]Sa'ron saw him, and [m]turned to the Lord.

36 ¶ Now there was at Jop'pa a certain disciple named Tab'i-tha, which by interpretation is called Dor'cas: this woman was full [n]of good works and almsdeeds which she did.

37 And it came to pass in those days, that she was sick, and died: whom when they had washed, they laid her in [o]an upper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lyd'da was nigh to Jop'pa, and the disciples had heard that Pe'ter was there, they sent unto him two men, desiring him that he would not [1]delay to come to them.

39 Then Pe'ter arose and went with them. When he was come, they brought him into the upper chamber: and all the widows stood by him weeping, and showing the coats and garments which Dor'cas made, while she was with them.

40 But Pe'ter [p]put them all forth, and [q]kneeled down, and prayed; and turning him to the body [r]said, Tab'i-tha, arise. And she opened her eyes: and when she saw Pe'ter, she sat up.

41 And he gave her his hand, and lifted her up; and when he had called the saints and widows, he presented her alive.

42 And it was known throughout all Jop'pa; [s]and many believed in the Lord.

43 And it came to pass, that he tarried many days in Jop'pa with one [t]Si'mon a tanner.

CHAPTER X.

The vision of Cornelius. 7 He sendeth for Peter. 9 Peter's vision. 19 He goeth to Cornelius; 24 who receiveth him gladly. 34 Peter preacheth Christ. 44 The Holy Ghost falleth on all that heard the word; 47 and they are baptized.

THERE was a certain man in Ces-a-re'a called Cor-ne'li-us, a centurion of the band called the Italian band,

2 [a]A devout man, and one that [b]feared God with all his house, which gave much alms to the people, and prayed to God always.

3 [c]He saw in a vision evidently, about the ninth hour of the day, an angel of God coming in to him, and saying unto him, Cor-ne'li-us.

4 And when he looked on him, he was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said unto him, [d]Thy prayers and thine alms are come up for a memorial before God.

5 And now send men to Jop'pa, and call for one Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter:

6 He lodgeth with one [e]Si'mon a tanner, whose house is by the sea side: [f]he shall tell thee what thou oughtest to do.

7 And when the angel which spake unto Cor-ne'li-us was departed, he called two of his household servants, and a devout soldier of them that waited on him continually;

8 And when he had declared all these things unto them, he sent them to Jop'pa.

9 ¶ On the morrow, as they went on their journey, and drew nigh unto the city, [f] Pe'ter went up upon the housetop to pray about the sixth hour:

10 And he became very hungry, and would have eaten: but while they made ready, he fell into a trance,

11 And [g] saw heaven opened, and a certain vessel descending unto him, as it had been a great sheet knit at the four corners, and let down to the earth:

12 Wherein were all manner of fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Pe'ter; kill, and eat.

14 But Pe'ter said, Not so, Lord; [h] for I have never eaten any thing that is common or unclean.

15 And the voice spake unto him again the second time, [i] What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

16 This was done thrice: and the vessel was received up again into heaven.

17 Now while Pe'ter doubted in himself what this vision which he had seen should mean, behold, the men which were sent from Cor-ne'li-us had made inquiry for Si'mon's house, and stood before the gate,

18 And called, and asked whether Si'mon, which was surnamed Pe'ter, were lodged there.

19 ¶ While Pe'ter thought on the vision, [k] the Spirit said unto him, Behold, three men seek thee.

20 [l] Arise therefore, and get thee down, and go with them, doubting nothing: for I have sent them.

21 Then Pe'ter went down to the men which were sent unto him from Cor-ne'li-us; and said, Behold, I am he whom ye seek: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, [m] Cor-ne'li-us the centurion, a just man, and one that feareth God, and [n] of good report among all the nation of the Jews, was warned from God by a holy angel to send for thee into his house, and to hear words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them. And on the morrow Pe'ter went away with them, [o] and certain brethren from Jop'pa accompanied him.

24 And the morrow after they entered into Ces-a-re'a. And Cor-ne'li-us waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and near friends.

25 And as Pe'ter was coming in, Cor-ne'li-us met him, and fell down at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Pe'ter took him up, saying, [p] Stand up; I myself also am a man.

27 And as he talked with him, he went in, and found many that were come together.

28 And he said unto them, Ye know how [q] that it is an unlawful thing for a man that is a Jew to keep company, or come unto one of another nation; but [r] God hath showed me that I should not call any man common or unclean.

29 Therefore came I unto you without gainsaying, as soon as I was sent for: I ask therefore for what intent ye have sent for me?

30 And Cor-ne'li-us said, Four days ago I was fasting until this hour; and at the ninth hour I prayed in my house, and behold, [s] a man stood before me [t] in bright clothing,

31 And said, Cor-ne'li-us, [u] thy prayer is heard, [x] and thine alms are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Jop'pa, and call hither Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter; he is lodged in the house of one Si'mon a tanner by the sea side: who, when he cometh, shall speak unto thee.

33 Immediately therefore I sent to thee; and thou hast well done that thou art come. Now therefore are we all here present before God, to hear all things that are commanded thee of God.

34 ¶ Then Pe'ter opened his mouth, and said, [y] Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons:

35 But [z] in every nation he that feareth him, and worketh righteousness, is accepted with him.

36 The word which God sent unto the children of Is'ra-el, [a] preaching peace by Je'sus Christ: [b] he is Lord of all:

37 That word, I say, ye know, which was published throughout all Ju-de'a, and [c] began from Gal'i-lee, after the baptism which John preached;

38 How [d] God anointed Je'sus of Naz'a-reth with the Holy Ghost and with power: who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the devil; [e] for God was with him.

39 And [f] we are witnesses of all things which he did both in the land of the Jews, and in Je-ru'sa-lem; [g] whom they slew and hanged on a tree:

40 Him [h] God raised up the third day, and showed him openly;

41 [i] Not to all the people, but unto witnesses chosen before of God, even to us, [k] who did eat and drink with him after he rose from the dead.

42 And [l] he commanded us to preach unto the people, and to testify [m] that it is he which was ordained of God to be the Judge [n] of quick and dead.

43 [o] To him give all the prophets witness, that through his name [p] whosoever believeth in him shall receive remission of sins.

44 ¶ While Pe'ter yet spake these words, [q] the Holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 [r] And they of the circumcision which believed were astonished, as many as came with Pe'ter, [s]because that on the Gen'tiles also was poured out the gift of the Holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them [t]speak with tongues, and magnify God. Then answered Pe'ter, 47 Can [u]any man forbid water, that these should not be baptized, which have received the Holy Ghost [v]as well as we?

48 [w]And he commanded them to be baptized [x]in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tarry certain days.

CHAPTER XI.

Peter accused of consorting with the Gentiles. 4 His defence. 19 The gospel is preached to the Gentiles in Antioch. 22 Barnabas is sent from Jerusalem to Antioch, 25 and seeketh for Saul. 26 The disciples are called Christians first in Antioch. 27 A great dearth foretold. 29 The disciples send relief to the brethren in Judea.

AND the apostles and brethren that were in Ju-de'a heard that the Gen'tiles had also received the word of God.

2 And when Pe'ter was come up to Je-ru'sa-lem, [a]they that were of the circumcision contended with him,

3 Saying, [b]Thou wentest in to men uncircumcised, [c]and didst eat with them.

4 But Pe'ter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it [d]by order unto them, saying,

5 [e]I was in the city of Jop'pa praying: and in a trance I saw a vision, A certain vessel descend, as it had been a great sheet, let down from heaven by four corners; [f]and it came even to me:

6 Upon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and saw fourfooted beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and creeping things, and fowls of the air.

7 And I heard a voice saying unto me, Arise, Pe'ter; slay and eat.

8 But I said, Not so, Lord: for nothing common or unclean hath at any time entered into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me again from heaven, [g]What God hath cleansed, that call not thou common.

10 And this was done three times: and all were drawn up again into heaven.

11 And, behold, immediately there were three men already come unto the house where I was, sent from Ces-a-re'a unto me.

12 And [h]the Spirit bade me go with them, nothing doubting. Moreover [i]these six brethren accompanied me, and we entered into the man's house:

13 [j]And he showed us how he had seen an angel in his house, which stood and said unto him, Send men to Jop'pa, and call for Si'mon, whose surname is Pe'ter;

14 Who shall tell thee words, whereby thou and [k]all thy house shall be saved.

15 And as I began to speak, the Holy

1 Or, began.

Ghost fell on them, [i]as on us at the beginning.

16 Then remembered I the word of the Lord, how that he said, [k]John indeed baptized with water; but [l]ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost.

17 [m]Forasmuch then as God gave them the like gift as he did unto us, who believed on the Lord Je'sus Christ, [n]what was I, that I could withstand God?

18 When they heard these things, they held their peace, and glorified God, saying, [o]Then hath God also to the Gen'tiles granted repentance unto life.

19 ¶ [p]Now they which were scattered abroad upon the persecution that arose about Ste'phen travelled as far as Phe-ni'ce, and Cy'prus, and An'ti-och, preaching the word to none but unto the Jews only.

20 And some of them were men of Cy'prus and Cy-re'ne, which, when they were come to An'ti-och, spake unto [q]the Gre'ci-ans, preaching the Lord Je'sus.

21 And [r]the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number believed, and [s]turned unto the Lord.

22 ¶ Then tidings of these things came unto the ears of the church which was in Je-ru'sa-lem: and they sent forth [t]Bar'na-bas, that he should go as far as An'ti-och.

23 Who, when he came, and had seen the grace of God, was glad, and [u]exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleave unto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man, and [x]full of the Holy Ghost and of faith: [y]and much people was added unto the Lord.

25 Then departed Bar'na-bas to [z]Tar'sus, for to seek Saul:

26 And when he had found him, he brought him unto An'ti-och. And it came to pass, that a whole year they assembled themselves [1]with the church, and taught much people. And the disciples were called Chris'tians first in An'ti-och.

27 ¶ And in these days came [a]prophets from Je-ru'sa-lem unto An'ti-och.

28 And there stood up one of them named [b]Ag'a-bus, and signified by the Spirit that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to pass in the days of Clau'di-us Ce'sar.

29 Then the disciples, every man according to his ability, determined to send [c]relief unto the brethren which dwelt in Ju-de'a:

30 [d]Which also they did, and sent it to the elders by the hands of Bar'na-bas and Saul.

CHAPTER XII.

Herod killeth James and imprisoneth Peter. 6 An angel delivereth him from prison. 20 Herod's miserable death. 24 The word of God increaseth.

NOW about that time Her'od the king [1]stretched forth his hands to vex certain of the church.

2 And he killed James [a]the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Jews, he proceeded further to take Pe'ter also. Then were [b]the days of unleavened bread.

4 And [c]when he had apprehended him, he put him in prison, and delivered him to four quaternions of soldiers to keep him; intending after [2]Eas'ter to bring him forth to the people.

5 Pe'ter therefore was kept in prison: but [3]prayer was made without ceasing of the church unto God for him.

6 And when Her'od would have brought him forth, the same night Pe'ter was sleeping between two soldiers, bound with two chains: and the keepers before the door kept the prison.

7 And, behold, [d]the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Pe'ter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands.

8 And the angel said unto him, Gird thyself, and bind on thy sandals: and so he did. And he saith unto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And he went out, and followed him; and [e]wist not that it was true which was done by the angel; but thought [f]he saw a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second ward, they came unto the iron gate that leadeth unto the city; [g]which opened to them of his own accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street; and forthwith the angel departed from him.

11 And when Pe'ter was come to himself, he said, Now I know of a surety, that [h]the Lord hath sent his angel, and [i]hath delivered me out of the hand of Her'od, and from all the expectation of the people of the Jews.

12 And when he had considered the thing, [k]he came to the house of Ma'ry the mother of [l]John, whose surname was Mark; where many were gathered together [m]praying.

13 And as Pe'ter knocked at the door of the gate, a damsel came [4]to hearken, named Rho'da.

14 And when she knew Pe'ter's voice, she opened not the gate for gladness, but ran in, and told how Pe'ter stood before the gate.

15 And they said unto her, Thou art mad. But she constantly affirmed that it was even so. Then said they, [n]It is his angel.

16 But Pe'ter continued knocking: and when they had opened the door, and saw him, they were astonished.

17 But he, [o]beckoning unto them with the hand to hold their peace, declared unto them how the Lord had brought him out of the prison. And he said, Go show these things unto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now as soon as it was day, [n]there was no small stir among the soldiers, what was become of Pe'ter.

19 And when Her'od had sought for him, and found him not, he examined the keepers, and commanded that they should be put to death. And he went down from Ju-de'a to Cæs-a-re'a, and there abode.

20 ¶ And Her'od [5]was highly displeased with them of Tyre and Si'don: but they came with one accord to him, and, having made Blas'tus [6]the king's chamberlain their friend, desired peace; because [o]their country was nourished by the king's country.

21 And upon a set day Her'od, arrayed in royal apparel, sat upon his throne, and made an oration unto them.

22 And the people gave a shout, [p]saying, It is the voice of a god, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the angel of the Lord [q]smote him, because [r]he gave not God the glory: and he was eaten of worms, and gave up the ghost.

24 ¶ But [s]the word of God grew and multiplied.

25 And Bar'na-bas and Saul returned from Je-ru'sa-lem, when they had fulfilled their [7]ministry, and [t]took with them [u]John, whose surname was Mark.

CHAPTER XIII.

Paul and Barnabas sent forth to the Gentiles. 4 Of Sergius Paulus and Elymas the sorcerer in Cyprus. 14 Paul preacheth Jesus at Antioch in Pisidia. 42 Many believe. 45 The Jews opposing and blaspheming, Paul and Barnabas turn to the Gentiles. 50 They are driven away, and go to Iconium.

NOW there were [a]in the church that was at An'ti-och certain prophets and teachers; as [b]Bar'na-bas, and Sim'e-on that was called Ni'ger, and [c]Lu'ci-us of Cy-re'ne, and Man'a-en, [1]which had been brought up with Her'od the tetrarch, and Saul.

2 As they ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, [d]Separate me Bar'na-bas and Saul for the work [e]whereunto I have called them.

3 And [f]when they had fasted and prayed, and laid their hands on them, they sent them away.

4 ¶ So they, being sent forth by the Holy Ghost, departed unto Se-leu'ci-a; and from thence they sailed to [g]Cy'prus.

5 And when they were at Sal'a-mis, [h]they preached the word of God in the synagogues of the Jews: and they had also [i]John to their minister.

6 And when they had gone through the isle unto Pa'phos, they found [k]a certain sorcerer, a false prophet, a Jew, whose name was Bar-je'sus:

7 Which was with the deputy of the country, Ser'gi-us Pau'lus, a prudent man; who called for Bar'na-bas and Saul, and desired to hear the word of God.

8 But [k]El'y-mas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstood them, seeking to turn away the deputy from the faith.

9 Then Saul, who also is called Paul, [l]filled with the Holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And said, O full of all subtilty and all mischief, [m]thou child of the devil, thou enemy of all righteousness, wilt thou not cease to pervert the right ways of the Lord?

11 And now, behold, [n]the hand of the Lord is upon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sun for a season. And immediately there fell on him a mist and a darkness; and he went about seeking some to lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputy, when he saw what was done, believed, [o]being astonished at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Now when Paul and his company loosed from Pa'phos, they came to Per'ga in Pam-phyl'i-a: and [p]John departing from them returned to Je-ru'sa-lem.

14 ¶ But when they departed from Per'ga, they came to An'ti-och in Pi-sid'i-a, and [q]went into the synagogue on the sabbath day, and sat down.

15 And [r]after the reading of the law and the prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent unto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if ye have [s]any word of exhortation for the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stood up, and [t]beckoning with his hand said, Men of Is'ra-el, and [u]ye that fear God, give audience.

17 The God of this people of Is'ra-el [x]chose our fathers, and exalted the people [y]when they dwelt as strangers in the land of E'gypt, [z]and with a high arm brought he them out of it.

18 And [a]about the time of forty years [2]suffered he their manners in the wilderness.

19 And when [b]he had destroyed seven nations in the land of Ca'naan, [c]he divided their land to them by lot.

20 And after that [d]he gave unto them judges about the space of four hundred and fifty years, [e]until Sam'u-el the prophet.

21 [f]And afterward they desired a king: and God gave unto them Saul the son of Cis, a man of the tribe of Ben'ja-min, by the space of forty years.

22 And [g]when he had removed him, [h]he raised up unto them Da'vid to be their king; to whom also he gave testimony, and said, [i]I have found Da'vid the son of Jes'se, [k]a man after mine own heart, which shall fulfil all my will.

23 [l]Of this man's seed hath God, according [m]to his promise, raised unto Is'ra-el [n]a Saviour, Je'sus:

24 [o]When John had first preached before his coming the baptism of repentance to all the people of Is'ra-el.

25 And as John fulfilled his course, he said, [p]Whom think ye that I am? I am not he. But behold, there cometh one after me, whose shoes of his feet I am not worthy to loose.

26 Men and brethren, children of the stock of A'bra-ham, and whosoever among you feareth God, [q]to you is the word of this salvation sent.

27 For they that dwell at Je-ru'sa-lem, and their rulers, [r]because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the prophets [s]which are read every sabbath day, [t]they have fulfilled them in condemning him.

28 [u]And though they found no cause of death in him, [x]yet desired they Pi'late that he should be slain.

29 [y]And when they had fulfilled all that was written of him, [z]they took him down from the tree, and laid him in a sepulchre.

30 [a]But God raised him from the dead:

31 And [b]he was seen many days of them which came up with him [c]from Gal'i-lee to Je-ru'sa-lem, [d]who are his witnesses unto the people.

32 And we declare unto you glad tidings, how that [e]the promise which was made unto the fathers,

33 God hath fulfilled the same unto us their children, in that he hath raised up Je'sus again; as it is also written in the second psalm, [f]Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee.

34 And as concerning that he raised him up from the dead, now no more to return to corruption, he said on this wise, [g]I will give you the sure [3]mercies of Da'vid.

35 Wherefore he saith also in another psalm, [h]Thou shalt not suffer thine Holy One to see corruption.

36 For Da'vid, [4]after he had served his own generation by the will of God, [i]fell on sleep, and was laid unto his fathers, and saw corruption:

37 But he, whom God raised again, saw no corruption.

38 ¶ Be it known unto you therefore, men and brethren, that [k]through this man is preached unto you the forgiveness of sins:

39 And [l]by him all that believe are justified from all things, from which ye could not be justified by the law of Mo'ses.

40 Beware therefore, lest that come upon you, which is spoken of in [m]the prophets;

41 Behold, ye despisers, and wonder and perish: for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it unto you.

42 And when the Jews were gone out of the synagogue, the Gen'tiles besought that these words might be preached to them [5]the next sabbath.

43 Now when the congregation was broken up, many of the Jews and religious proselytes followed Paul and Bar'na-bas; who, speaking to them, [n]persuaded them to continue in [o]the grace of God.

44 ¶ And the next sabbath day came almost the whole city together to hear the word of God.

45 But when the Jews saw the multitudes, they were filled with envy, and [p]spake against those things which were spoken by Paul, contradicting and blaspheming.

46 Then Paul and Bar'na-bas waxed bold, and said, [q]It was necessary that the word of God should first have been spoken to you: but [r]seeing ye put it from you, and judge yourselves unworthy of everlasting life, lo, [s]we turn to the Gen'tiles.

47 For so hath the Lord commanded us, saying, [t]I have set thee to be a light of the Gen'tiles, that thou shouldest be for salvation unto the ends of the earth.

48 And when the Gen'tiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lord: [u]and as many as were ordained to eternal life believed.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Jews stirred up the devout and honourable women, and the chief men of the city, and [x]raised persecution against Paul and Bar'na-bas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 [y]But they shook off the dust of their feet against them, and came unto I-co'ni-um.

52 And the disciples [z]were filled with joy, and with the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER XIV.

At Iconium Paul and Barnabas are persecuted, 6 and flee to Lystra and Derbe. 8 At Lystra Paul healeth a cripple. 11 The people hold them to be gods. 19 Paul is stoned. 21 He and Barnabas pass through divers provinces, confirming the churches. 26 Returning to Antioch they rehearse what God had done.

AND it came to pass in I-co'ni-um, that they went both together into the synagogue of the Jews, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Jews and also of the Greeks believed.

2 But the unbelieving Jews stirred up the Gen'tiles, and made their minds evil affected against the brethren.

3 Long time therefore abode they speaking boldly in the Lord, [a]which gave testimony unto the word of his grace, and granted signs and wonders to be done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the city was divided: and part held with the Jews, and part with the [b]apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gen'tiles, and also of the Jews with their rulers, [c]to use them despitefully, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and [d]fled unto Lys'tra and Der'be, cities of Ly-ca-o'ni-a, and unto the region that lieth round about:

7 And there they preached the gospel.

8 ¶ [e]And there sat a certain man at Lys'tra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked:

9 The same heard Paul speak: who steadfastly beholding him, and [f]perceiving that he had faith to be healed,

10 Said with a loud voice, [g]Stand upright on thy feet. And he leaped and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lifted up their voices, saying in the speech of Ly-ca-o'ni-a, [h]The gods are come down to us in the likeness of men.

12 And they called Bar'na-bas, Ju'pi-ter; and Paul, Mer-cu'ri-us, because he was the chief speaker.

13 Then the priest of Ju'pi-ter, which was before their city, brought oxen and garlands unto the gates, [i]and would have done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the apostles, Bar'na-bas and Paul, heard of, [k]they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying out,

15 And saying, Sirs, [l]why do ye these things? [m]We also are men of like passions with you, and preach unto you that ye should turn from [n]these vanities [o]unto the living God, [p]which made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and all things that are therein:

16 [q]Who in times past suffered all nations to walk in their own ways.

17 [r]Nevertheless he left not himself without witness, in that he did good, and [s]gave us rain from heaven, and fruitful seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladness.

18 And with these sayings scarce restrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice unto them.

19 ¶ [t]And there came thither certain Jews from An'ti-och and I-co'ni-um, who persuaded the people, [u]and, having stoned Paul, drew him out of the city, supposing he had been dead.

20 Howbeit, as the disciples stood round about him, he rose up, and came into the city: and the next day he departed with Bar'na-bas to Der'be.

21 And when they had preached the gospel to that city, [x] and [1] had taught many, they returned again to Lys′tra, and to I-co′ni-um, and An′ti-och,

22 Confirming the souls of the disciples, and [y] exhorting them to continue in the faith, and that [z] we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God.

23 And when they had [a] ordained them elders in every church, and had prayed with fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whom they believed.

24 And after they had passed throughout Pi-sid′i-a, they came to Pam-phyl′i-a.

26 And thence sailed to An′ti-och, [b] from whence they had been [c] recommended to the grace of God for the work which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the church together, [d] they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and how he had [e] opened the door of faith unto the Gen′tiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

CHAPTER XV.

Dissension at Antioch about circumcision. 2 Paul and Barnabas sent to Jerusalem. 6 In an assembly of the apostles and elders, after much disputing, Peter and James give their advice. 22 The decision of the assembly is sent by letters to the Gentile churches. 36 Paul and Barnabas separate one from the other.

AND [a] certain men which came down from Ju-de′a taught the brethren, and said, [b] Except ye be circumcised [c] after the manner of Mo′ses, ye cannot be saved.

2 When therefore Paul and Bar′na-bas had no small dissension and disputation with them, they determined that [d] Paul and Bar′na-bas, and certain other of them, should go up to Je-ru′sa-lem unto the apostles and elders about this question.

3 And [e] being brought on their way by the church, they passed through Phe-ni′ce and Sa-ma′ri-a, [f] declaring the conversion of the Gen′tiles: and they caused great joy unto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Je-ru′sa-lem, they were received of the church, and of the apostles and elders, and [g] they declared all things that God had done with them.

5 But there rose up certain of the sect of the Phar′i-sees which believed, saying, [h] That it was needful to circumcise them, and to command them to keep the law of Mo′ses.

6 ¶ And the apostles and elders came together for to consider of this matter.

7 And when there had been much disputing, Pe′ter rose up, and said unto them, [i] Men and brethren, ye know how that a good while ago God made choice among us, that the Gen′tiles by my mouth should hear the word of the gospel, and believe.

8 And God, [k] which knoweth the hearts, bare them witness, [l] giving them the Holy Ghost, even as he did unto us;

9 [m] And put no difference between us and them, [n] purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, [o] to put a yoke upon the neck of the disciples, which neither our fathers nor we were able to bear?

11 But [p] we believe that through the grace of the Lord Je′sus Christ we shall be saved, even as they.

12 ¶ Then all the multitude kept silence, and gave audience to Bar′na-bas and Paul, declaring what miracles and wonders God had [q] wrought among the Gen′tiles by them.

13 ¶ And after they had held their peace, [r] James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken unto me:

14 [s] Sim′e-on hath declared how God at the first did visit the Gen′tiles, to take out of them a people for his name.

15 And to this agree the words of the prophets; as it is written,

16 [t] After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of Da′vid, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up:

17 That [u] the residue of men might seek after the Lord, and all the Gen′tiles, upon whom my name is called, saith the Lord, who doeth all these things.

18 Known unto God are all his works from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore [v] my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gen′tiles [x] are turned to God:

20 But that we write unto them, that they abstain [y] from pollutions of idols, and [z] from fornication, and from things strangled, [a] and from blood.

21 For Mo′ses of old time hath in every city them that preach him, [b] being read in the synagogues every sabbath day.

22 Then pleased it the apostles and elders, with the whole church, to send chosen men of their own company to An′ti-och with Paul and Bar′na-bas; namely, Ju′das surnamed [c] Bar′sa-bas, and Si′las, chief men among the brethren:

23 And they wrote letters by them after this manner; The apostles and elders and brethren send greeting unto the brethren which are of the Gen′tiles in An′ti-och and Syr′i-a and Ci-li′ci-a:

24 Forasmuch as we have heard, that [d] certain which went out from us have troubled you with words, subverting your souls, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keep the law; to whom we gave no such commandment:

25 It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Bar'na-bas and Paul,

26 [e]Men that have hazarded their lives for the name of our Lord Je'sus Christ.

27 We have sent therefore Ju'das and Si'las, who shall also tell you the same things by [1]mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost, and to us, to lay upon you no greater burden than these necessary things;

29 [f]That ye abstain from meats offered to idols, and [g]from blood, and from things strangled, and from fornication: from which if ye keep yourselves, ye shall do well. Fare ye well.

30 So when they were dismissed, they came to An'ti-och; and when they had gathered the multitude together, they delivered the epistle:

31 Which when they had read, they rejoiced for the [2]consolation.

32 And Ju'das and Si'las, being prophets also themselves, [h]exhorted the brethren with many words, and confirmed them.

33 And after they had tarried there a space, they were let [i]go in peace from the brethren unto the apostles.

34 Notwithstanding it pleased Si'las to abide there still.

35 [k]Paul also and Bar'na-bas continued in An'ti-och, teaching and preaching the word of the Lord, with many others also.

36 ¶ And some days after, Paul said unto Bar'na-bas, Let us go again and visit our brethren [l]in every city where we have preached the word of the Lord, and see how they do.

37 And Bar'na-bas determined to take with them [m]John, whose surname was Mark.

38 But Paul thought not good to take him with them, [n]who departed from them from Pam-phyl'i-a, and went not with them to the work.

39 And the contention was so sharp between them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Bar'na-bas took Mark, and sailed unto Cy'prus;

40 And Paul chose Si'las, and departed, [o]being recommended by the brethren unto the grace of God.

41 And he went through Syr'i-a and Ci-li'ci-a, [p]confirming the churches.

CHAPTER XVI.

Paul circumciseth Timothy. 6 Being forbidden by the Spirit to preach in Asia and Bithynia, he cometh to Troas. 9 By a vision he is led to pass into Macedonia. 14 Lydia converted. 16 A spirit of divination cast out. 19 Paul and Silas scourged and imprisoned. 25 The prison doors miraculously opened. 31 The jailer converted. 35 Paul and Silas set at liberty.

THEN came he to [a]Der'be and Lys'tra: and, behold, a certain disciple was there, [b]named Ti-mo'the-us, [c]the son of a certain woman, which was a Jew'ess, and believed; but his father was a Greek:

2 Which [d]was well reported of by the brethren that were at Lys'tra and I-co'ni-um.

3 Him would Paul have to go forth with him; and [e]took and circumcised him because of the Jews which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greek.

4 And as they went through the cities, they delivered them the decrees for to keep, [f]that were ordained of the apostles and elders which were at Je-ru'sa-lem.

5 And [g]so were the churches established in the faith, and increased in number daily.

6 Now when they had gone throughout Phryg'i-a and the region of Ga-la'ti-a, and were forbidden of the Holy Ghost to preach the word in A'si-a,

7 After they were come to Mys'i-a, they assayed to go into Bi-thyn'i-a: but the Spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing by Mys'i-a [h]came down to Tro'as.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night; There stood a [i]man of Mac-e-do'ni-a, and prayed him, saying, Come over into Mac-e-do'ni-a, and help us.

10 And after he had seen the vision, immediately we endeavoured to go [k]into Mac-e-do'ni-a, assuredly gathering that the Lord had called us for to preach the gospel unto them.

11 Therefore loosing from Tro'as, we came with a straight course to Sam-o-thra'ci-a, and the next day to Ne-ap'o-lis;

12 And from thence to [l]Phil-ip'pi, which is [1]the chief city of that part of Mac-e-do'ni-a, and a colony: and we were in that city abiding certain days.

13 And on the sabbath we went out of the city by a river side, where prayer was wont to be made; and we sat down, and spake unto the women which resorted thither.

14 ¶ And a certain woman named Lyd'i-a, a seller of purple, of the city of Thy-a-ti'ra, which worshipped God, heard us: whose [m]heart the Lord opened, that she attended unto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought us, saying, If ye have judged me to be faithful to the Lord, come into my house, and abide there. And [n]she constrained us.

16 ¶ And it came to pass, as we went to prayer, a certain damsel [o]possessed with a spirit [2]of divination met us, which brought her masters [p]much gain by soothsaying:

17 The same followed Paul and us, and cried, saying, These men are the servants of the most high God, which show unto us the way of salvation.

18 And this did she many days. But Paul, [q] being grieved, turned and said to the spirit, I command thee in the name of Je′sus Christ to come out of her. [r] And he came out the same hour.

19 ¶ And [s] when her masters saw that the hope of their gains was gone, [t] they caught Paul and Si′las, and [u] drew them into the [3] marketplace unto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the magistrates, saying, These men, being Jews, [x] do exceedingly trouble our city,

21 And teach customs, which are not lawful for us to receive, neither to observe, being Ro′mans.

22 And the multitude rose up together against them; and the magistrates rent off their clothes, [y] and commanded to beat them.

23 And when they had laid many stripes upon them, they cast them into prison, charging the jailer to keep them safely:

24 Who, having received such a charge, thrust them into the inner prison, and [z] made their feet fast in the stocks.

25 ¶ And at midnight Paul and Si′las prayed, and sang praises unto God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 [a] And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundations of the prison were shaken: and immediately [b] all the doors were opened, and every one's bands were loosed.

27 And the keeper of the prison awaking out of his sleep, and seeing the prison doors open, he drew out his sword, and [c] would have killed himself, supposing that the prisoners had been fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Do thyself no harm: for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell down before Paul and Si′las,

30 And brought them out, and said, [d] Sirs, what must I do to be saved?

31 And they said, [e] Believe on the Lord Je′sus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house.

32 And they spake unto him the word of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 And he took them the same hour of the night, [f] and washed their stripes; and was baptized, he and all his, straightway.

34 And when he had brought them into his house, [g] he set meat before them, and rejoiced, believing in God with all his house.

35 And when it was day, the magistrates sent the serjeants, saying, Let those men go.

36 And the keeper of the prison told this saying to Paul, The magistrates have sent to let you go: now therefore depart, and go in peace.

37 But Paul said unto them, They have beaten us openly uncondemned, [e] being Ro′mans, and have cast us into prison; and now do they thrust us out privily? nay verily; but [f] let them come themselves and fetch us out.

38 And the serjeants told these words unto the magistrates: and they feared, when they heard that they were Ro′mans.

39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and [g] desired them to depart out of the city.

40 And they went out of the prison, [h] and entered into the house of Lyd′i-a: and when they had seen the brethren, they comforted them, and departed.

CHAPTER XVII.

Paul preacheth at Thessalonica with success; 5 but is persecuted by the Jews. 10 He is sent to Berea, and preacheth there. 18 Being persecuted there also, he cometh to Athens. 16 He disputeth publicly. 22 His discourse on Mars' hill. 32 Some mock and others believe.

NOW when they had passed through Am-phip′o-lis and Ap-ol-lo′ni-a, they came to Thes-sa-lo-ni′ca, where was a synagogue of the Jews:

2 And Paul, as his manner was, [a] went in unto them, and three sabbath days reasoned with them out of the Scriptures,

3 Opening and alleging, [b] that Christ must needs have suffered, and risen again from the dead; and that this Je′sus, whom I preach unto you, is Christ.

4 [c] And some of them believed, and consorted with Paul and [d] Si′las; and of the devout Greeks a great multitude, and of the chief women not a few.

5 ¶ But the Jews which believed not, moved with envy, took unto them certain lewd fellows of the baser sort, and gathered a company, and set all the city on an uproar, and assaulted the house of [e] Ja′son, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Ja′son and certain brethren unto the rulers of the city, crying, [f] These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also;

7 Whom Ja′son hath received: and these all do contrary to the decrees of Ce′sar, [g] saying that there is another king, one Je′sus.

8 And they troubled the people, and the rulers of the city, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken security of Ja′son, and of the others, they let them go.

10 ¶ And [h] the brethren immediately sent away Paul and Si′las by night unto Be-re′a: who coming thither went into the synagogue of the Jews.

11 These were more noble than those in Thes-sa-lo-ni′ca, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and [i]searched the Scriptures daily, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them believed; also of honourable women which were Greeks, and of men, not a few.

13 But when the Jews of Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Be-re'a, they came thither also, and stirred up the people.

14 [k]And then immediately the brethren sent away Paul to go as it were to the sea: but Si'las and Ti-mo'the-us abode there still.

15 And they that conducted Paul brought him unto Ath'ens: and [l]receiving a commandment unto Si'las and Ti-mo'the-us for to come to him with all speed, they departed.

16 ¶ Now while Paul waited for them at Ath'ens, [m]his spirit was stirred in him, when he saw the city [1]wholly given to idolatry.

17 Therefore disputed he in the synagogue with the Jews, and with the devout persons, and in the market daily with them that met with him.

18 Then certain philosophers of the Ep-i-cu're-ans, and of the Sto'ics, encountered him. And some said, What will this [2]babbler say? other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of strange gods: because he preached unto them Je'sus, and the resurrection.

19 And they took him, and brought him unto [3]A-re-op'a-gus, saying, May we know what this new doctrine, whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certain strange things to our ears: we would know therefore what these things mean.

21 For all the A-the'ni-ans, and strangers which were there, spent their time in nothing else, but either to tell or to hear some new thing.

22 ¶ Then Paul stood in the midst of [4]Mars' hill, and said, Ye men of Ath'ens, I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld your [5]devotions, I found an altar with this inscription, TO THE UNKNOWN GOD. Whom therefore ye ignorantly worship, him declare I unto you.

24 [n]God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is [o]Lord of heaven and earth, [p]dwelleth not in temples made with hands;

25 Neither is worshipped with men's hands, [q]as though he needed anything, seeing [r]he giveth to all life, and breath, and all things;

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and [s]the bounds of their habitation;

27 [t]That they should seek the Lord, if haply they might feel after him, and find him, [u]though he be not far from every one of us:

28 For [x]in him we live, and move, and have our being; [y]as certain also of your own poets have said, For we are also his offspring.

29 Forasmuch then as we are the offspring of God, [z]we ought not to think that the Godhead is like unto gold, or silver, or stone, graven by art and man's device.

30 And [a]the times of this ignorance God winked at; but [b]now commandeth all men every where to repent:

31 Because he hath appointed a day, in the which [c]he will judge the world in righteousness by that man whom he hath ordained; whereof he hath [6]given assurance unto all men, in that [d]he hath raised him from the dead.

32 ¶ And when they heard of the resurrection of the dead, some mocked: and others said, [e]We will hear thee again of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit certain men clave unto him, and believed: among the which was Di-o-nys'i-us the A-re-op'a-gite, and a woman named Dam'a-ris, and others with them.

CHAPTER XVIII.

At Corinth Paul laboureth with his hands and preacheth. 6 The Jews oppose him. 9 The Lord encourageth him in a vision. 12 He is brought before Gallio, but dismissed. 18 He cometh to Ephesus on his way to Syria; 23 and afterward visiteth Galatia and Phrygia. 24 Apollos preacheth at Ephesus and in Achaia.

AFTER these things Paul departed from Ath'ens, and came to Cor'inth;

2 And found a certain Jew named [a]A-quil'a, born in Pon'tus, lately come from Italy, with his wife Pris-cil'la, (because that Clau'di-us had commanded all Jews to depart from Rome,) and came unto them.

3 And because he was of the same craft, he abode with them, [b]and wrought: for by their occupation they were tentmakers.

4 [c]And he reasoned in the synagogue every sabbath, and persuaded the Jews and the Greeks.

5 And [d]when Si'las and Ti-mo'the-us were come from Mac-e-do'ni-a, Paul was [e]pressed in the spirit, and testified to the Jews that Je'sus [1]was Christ.

6 And [f]when they opposed themselves, and blasphemed, [g]he shook his raiment, and said unto them, [h]Your blood be upon your own heads; [i]I am clean: [k]from henceforth I will go unto the Gen'tiles.

7 ¶ And he departed thence, and entered into a certain man's house, named Jus'tus, one that worshipped God, whose house joined hard to the synagogue.

8 [l] And Cris'pus, the chief ruler of the synagogue, believed on the Lord with all his house; and many of the Co-rin'thi-ans hearing believed, and were baptized.

9 Then [m] spake the Lord to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speak, and hold not thy peace:

10 [n] For I am with thee, and no man shall set on thee to hurt thee: for I have much people in this city.

11 And he [2] continued there a year and six months, teaching the word of God among them.

12 ¶ And when Gal'li-o was the deputy of A-cha'ia, the Jews made insurrection with one accord against Paul, and brought him to the judgment seat,

13 Saying, This fellow persuadeth men to worship God contrary to the law.

14 And when Paul was now about to open his mouth, Gal'li-o said unto the Jews, [o] If it were a matter of wrong or wicked lewdness, O ye Jews, reason would that I should bear with you:

15 But if it be a question of words and names, and of your law, look ye to it; for I will be no judge of such matters.

16 [p] And he drave them from the judgment seat.

17 Then all the Greeks took [q] Sos'the-nes, the chief ruler of the synagogue, and beat him before the judgment seat. And Gal'li-o cared for none of those things.

18 ¶ And Paul after this tarried there yet a good while, and then took his leave of the brethren, and sailed thence into Syr'i-a, and with him Pris-cil'la and A-quil'a; having [r] shorn his head in [s] Cen'chre-a: for he had a vow.

19 And he came to Eph'e-sus, and left them there: but he himself entered into the synagogue, and reasoned with the Jews.

20 When they desired him to tarry longer time with them, he consented not;

21 But bade them farewell, saying, [t] I must by all means keep this feast that cometh in Je-ru'sa-lem: but I will return again unto you, [u] if God will. And he sailed from Eph'e-sus.

22 And when he had landed at Ces-a-re'a, and gone up, and saluted the church, he went down to An'ti-och.

23 And after he had spent some time there, he departed, and went over all the country of [v] Ga-la'ti-a and Phryg'i-a in order, [x] strengthening all the disciples.

24 ¶ [y] And a certain Jew named A-pol'los, born at A-lex-an'dri-a, an eloquent man, and mighty in the Scriptures, came to Eph'e-sus.

25 This man was instructed in the way of the Lord; and being [z] fervent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lord, [a] knowing only the baptism of John.

26 And he began to speak boldly in the synagogue: whom when A-quil'a and Pris-cil'la had heard, they took him unto them, and expounded unto him the way of God more perfectly.

27 And when he was disposed to pass into A-cha'ia, the brethren wrote, exhorting the disciples to receive him: who, when he was come, [b] helped them much which had believed through grace:

28 For he mightily convinced the Jews, and that publicly, [c] showing by the Scriptures that Je'sus [3] was Christ.

CHAPTER XIX.

At Ephesus Paul baptizeth certain disciples of John. 9 Being opposed by the Jews in the synagogue, he disputeth daily in the school of Tyrannus. 13 Certain Jewish exorcists are overcome. 19 Many of those, who used curious arts, burn their books. 21 Paul's purposed journey. 23 Demetrius the silversmith exciteth a tumult against him; 35 which is appeased by the townclerk.

AND it came to pass, that, while [a] A-pol'los was at Cor'inth, Paul having passed through the upper coasts came to Eph'e-sus; and finding certain disciples,

2 He said unto them, Have ye received the Holy Ghost since ye believed? And they said unto him, [b] We have not so much as heard whether there be any Holy Ghost.

3 And he said unto them, Unto what then were ye baptized? And they said, [c] Unto John's baptism.

4 Then said Paul, [d] John verily baptized with the baptism of repentance, saying unto the people, that they should believe on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Je'sus.

5 When they heard this, they were baptized [e] in the name of the Lord Je'sus.

6 And when Paul had [f] laid his hands upon them, the Holy Ghost came on them; and [g] they spake with tongues, and prophesied.

7 And all the men were about twelve.

8 [h] And he went into the synagogue, and spake boldly for the space of three months, disputing and persuading the things [i] concerning the kingdom of God.

9 But [k] when divers were hardened, and believed not, but spake evil [l] of that way before the multitude, he departed from them, and separated the disciples, disputing daily in the school of one Ty-ran'nus.

10 And [m] this continued by the space of two years; so that all they which dwelt in A'si-a heard the word of the Lord Je'sus, both Jews and Greeks.

11 And [n] God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12 [o] So that from his body were brought unto the sick handkerchiefs or aprons, and the diseases departed from them, and the evil spirits went out of them.

13 ¶ [p] Then certain of the vagabond Jews, exorcists, [q] took upon them to call over them which had evil spirits the name of the Lord Je'sus, saying, We adjure you by Je'sus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seven sons of one Sce'va, a Jew, and chief of the priests, which did so.

15 And [q]the evil spirit answered and said, Je'sus I know, and Paul I know; but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overcame them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was known to all the Jews and Greeks also dwelling at Eph'e-sus; and [r]fear fell on them all, and the name of the Lord Je'sus was magnified.

18 And many that believed came, and [s]confessed, and showed their deeds.

19 Many of them also which used curious arts brought their books together, and burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fifty thousand pieces of silver.

20 [t]So mightily grew the word of God and prevailed.

21 ¶ [u]After these things were ended, Paul [x]purposed in the spirit, when he had passed through Mac-e-do'ni-a and A-cha'ia, to go to Je-ru'sa-lem, saying, After I have been there, [y]I must also see Rome.

22 So he sent into Mac-e-do'ni-a two of [z]them that ministered unto him, Ti-mo'the-us and [a]E-ras'tus; but he himself stayed in A'si-a for a season.

23 And [b]the same time there arose no small stir about [c]that way.

24 For a certain man named De-me'tri-us, a silversmith, which made silver shrines for Di-an'a, brought [d]no small gain unto the craftsmen;

25 Whom he called together with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we have our wealth.

26 Moreover ye see and hear, that not alone at Eph'e-sus, but almost throughout all A'si-a, this Paul hath persuaded and turned away much people, saying that [e]they be no gods, which are made with hands:

27 So that not only this our craft is in danger to be set at nought; but also that the temple of the great goddess Di-an'a should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all A'si-a and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cried out, saying, Great is Di-an'a of the E-phe'si-ans.

29 And the whole city was filled with confusion: and having caught [f]Ga'ius and [g]Ar-is-tar'chus, men of Mac-e-do'ni-a, Paul's companions in travel, they rushed with one accord into the theatre.

30 And when Paul would have entered in unto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 And certain of the chief of A'si-a, which were his friends, sent unto him, desiring him that he would not adventure himself into the theatre.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: for the assembly was confused; and the more part knew not wherefore they were come together.

33 And they drew Al-ex-an'der out of the multitude, the Jews putting him forward. And [h]Al-ex-an'der [i]beckoned with the hand, and would have made his defence unto the people.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, all with one voice about the space of two hours cried out, Great is Di-an'a of the E-phe'si-ans.

35 And when the townclerk had appeased the people, he said, Ye men of Eph'e-sus, what man is there that knoweth not how that the city of the E-phe'si-ans is [1]a worshipper of the great goddess Di-an'a, and of the image which fell down from Ju'pi-ter?

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to do nothing rashly.

37 For ye have brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddess.

38 Wherefore if De-me'tri-us, and the craftsmen which are with him, have a matter against any man, [2]the law is open, and there are deputies: let them implead one another.

39 But if ye inquire anything concerning other matters, it shall be determined in a [3]lawful assembly.

40 For we are in danger to be called in question for this day's uproar, there being no cause whereby we may give an account of this concourse.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he dismissed the assembly.

CHAPTER XX.

Paul goeth from Ephesus through Macedonia into Greece. 4 He returneth through Macedonia to Troas. 7 He celebrateth the Lord's supper; 9 and restoreth Eutychus. 13 His journey to Miletus. 17 He sendeth for the elders of the church at Ephesus. 18 His farewell charge to them.

AND after the uproar was ceased, Paul called unto him the disciples, and embraced them, and [a]departed for to go into Mac-e-do'ni-a.

2 And when he had gone over those parts, and had given them much exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there abode three months. And [b]when the Jews laid wait for him, as he was about to sail into Syr'i-a, he purposed to return through Mac-e-do'ni-a.

4 And there accompanied him into A'si-a Sop'a-ter of Be-re'a; and of the Thes-sa-lo'ni-ans, [c]Ar-is-tar'chus and Se-cun'dus; and [d]Ga'ius of Der'be, and [e]Ti-mo'the-us; and of A'si-a, [f]Tych'i-cus and [g]Troph'i-mus.

5 These going before tarried for us at Tro'as.

6 And we sailed away from Phil-ip'pi after [h]the days of unleavened bread, and came unto them [i]to Tro'as in five days; where we abode seven days.

7 And upon [k]the first day of the week, when the disciples came together [l]to break bread, Paul preached unto them, ready to depart on the morrow; and continued his speech until midnight.

8 And there were many lights [m]in the upper chamber, where they were gathered together.

9 And there sat in a window a certain young man named Eu'ty-chus, [n]being fallen into a deep sleep: and as Paul was long preaching, he sunk down with sleep, and fell down from the third loft, and was taken up dead.

10 And Paul went down, and [o]fell on him, and embracing him said, [p]Trouble not yourselves; for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come up again, and had broken bread, and eaten, and talked a long while, even till break of day, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man alive, and [q]were not a little comforted.

13 ¶ And we went before to ship, and sailed unto As'sos, there intending to take in Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himself to go afoot.

14 And when he met with us at As'sos, we took him in, and came to Mit-y-le'ne.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day over against Chi'os; and the next day we arrived at Sa'mos, and tarried at Tro-gyl'li-um; and the next day we came to Mi-le'tus.

16 For Paul had determined to sail by Eph'e-sus, because he would not spend the time in A'si-a: for [r]he hasted, if it were possible for him, [s]to be at Je-ru'sa-lem [t]the day of Pen'te-cost.

17 ¶ And from Mi-le'tus he sent to Eph'e-sus, and called the elders of the church.

18 And when they were come to him, he said unto them, Ye know, [u]from the first day that I came into A'si-a, after what manner I have been with you at all seasons,

19 Serving the Lord [v]with all humility of mind, and with many tears, and temptations, which befell me [x]by the lying in wait of the Jews:

20 And how [y]I kept back nothing that was profitable unto you, but have showed you, and have taught you publicly, and from house to house,

21 [z]Testifying both to the Jews, and also to the Greeks, [a]repentance toward God, and faith toward our Lord Je'sus Christ.

22 And now behold, [b]I go bound in the spirit unto Je-ru'sa-lem, not knowing the things that shall befall me there:

23 Save that [a]the Holy Ghost witnesseth in every city, saying that bonds and afflictions [1]abide me.

24 But [b]none of these things move me, neither count I my life dear unto myself, [c]so that I might finish my course with joy, [d]and the ministry, [e]which I have received of the Lord Je'sus, to testify the gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now behold, [f]I know that ye all, among whom I have gone preaching the kingdom of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore I take you to record this day, that I am [g]pure from the blood of all men.

27 For [h]I have not shunned to declare unto you all [i]the counsel of God.

28 ¶ [k]Take heed therefore unto yourselves, and to all the flock, over the which the Holy Ghost [l]hath made you overseers, to feed the church of God, [m]which he hath purchased [n]with his own blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing [o]shall grievous wolves enter in among you, not sparing the flock.

30 Also [p]of your own selves shall men arise, speaking perverse things, to draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember, that [q]by the space of three years I ceased not to warn every one night and day with tears.

32 And now, brethren, I commend you to God, and [r]to the word of his grace, which is able [s]to build you up, and to give you [t]an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 [u]I have coveted no man's silver, or gold, or apparel.

34 Yea, ye yourselves know, [x]that these hands have ministered unto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I have showed you all things, [y]how that so labouring ye ought to support the weak, and to remember the words of the Lord Je'sus, how he said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.

36 ¶ And when he had thus spoken, he [z]kneeled down, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept sore, and [a]fell on Paul's neck, and kissed him,

38 Sorrowing most of all for the words [b]which he spake, that they should see his face no more. And they accompanied him unto the ship.

launched, we came with a straight course unto Co'os, and the day following unto Rhodes, and from thence unto Pat'a-ra:

2 And finding a ship sailing over unto [y]Phe-ni'ci-a, we went aboard, and set forth.

3 Now when we had discovered Cy'prus, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syr'i-a, and landed at Tyre: for there the ship was to unlade her burden.

4 And [z]finding disciples, we tarried there seven days: [a]who said to Paul through the Spirit, that he should not go up to Je-ru'sa-lem.

5 And when we had accomplished those days, we departed and went our way; and they all brought us on our way, with wives and children, till we were out of the city: and [b]we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leave one of another, we took ship; and they returned [c]home again.

7 And when we had finished our course from Tyre, we came to Ptol-e-ma'is, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day we that were of Paul's company departed, and came unto Ces-a-re'a; and we entered into the house of Phil'ip [d]the evangelist, [e]which was one of the seven; and abode with him.

9 And the same man had four daughters, virgins, [f]which did prophesy.

10 And as we tarried there many days, there came down from Ju-de'a a certain prophet, named [g]Ag'a-bus.

11 And when he was come unto us, he took Paul's girdle, and bound his own hands and feet, and said, Thus saith the Holy Ghost, [h]So shall the Jews at Je-ru'sa-lem bind the man that owneth this girdle, and shall deliver him into the hands of the Gen'tiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we, and they of that place, besought him not to go up to Je-ru'sa-lem.

13 Then Paul answered, [i]What mean ye to weep and to break mine heart? for I am ready not to be bound only, but also to die at Je-ru'sa-lem for the name of the Lord Je'sus.

14 And when he would not be persuaded, we ceased, saying, [k]The will of the Lord be done.

15 And after those days we took up our carriages, and went up to Je-ru'sa-lem.

16 There went with us also certain of the disciples of Ces-a-re'a, and brought with them one Mna'son of Cy'prus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 [l]And when we were come to Je-ru'sa-lem, the brethren received us gladly.

18 And the day following Paul went in with us unto [m]James; and all the elders were present.

19 And when he had saluted them, [n]he declared particularly what things God had wrought among the Gen'tiles [o]by his ministry.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said unto him, Thou seest, brother, how many thousands of Jews there are which believe; and they are all [p]zealous of the law:

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Jews which are among the Gen'tiles to forsake Mo'ses, saying that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walk after the customs.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needs come together: for they will hear that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We have four men which have a vow on them;

24 Them take, and purify thyself with them, and be at charges with them, that they may [q]shave their heads: and all may know that those things, whereof they were informed concerning thee, are nothing; but that thou thyself also walkest orderly, and keepest the law.

25 As touching the Gen'tiles which believe, [r]we have written and concluded that they observe no such thing, save only that they keep themselves from things offered to idols, and from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

26 Then Paul took the men, and the next day purifying himself with them [s]entered into the temple, [t]to signify the accomplishment of the days of purification, until that an offering should be offered for every one of them.

27 And when the seven days were almost ended, [u]the Jews which were of A'si-a, when they saw him in the temple, stirred up all the people, and [x]laid hands on him,

28 Crying out, Men of Is'ra-el, help: This is the man [y]that teacheth all men every where against the people, and the law, and this place: and further brought Greeks also into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 For they had seen before with him in the city [z]Troph'i-mus an E-phe'si-an, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.

30 And [a]all the city was moved, and the people ran together: and they took Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doors were shut.

31 And as they went about to kill him, tidings came unto the chief captain of the band, that all Je-ru'sa-lem was in an uproar:

32 [b]Who immediately took soldiers and centurions, and ran down unto them: and when they saw the chief captain and the soldiers, they left beating of Paul.

33 Then the chief captain came near, and took him, and [c]commanded him to be bound with two chains; and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 [b]And some cried one thing, some another, among the multitude: and when he [c]could not know the certainty for the tumult, he commanded him to be carried into the castle.

35 And when he came upon the stairs, so it was, that he was borne of the soldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, [d]Away with him.

37 And as Paul was to be led into the castle, he said unto the chief captain, May I speak unto thee? Who said, Canst thou speak Greek?

38 [e]Art not thou that E-gyp'tian, which before these days madest an uproar, and leddest out into the wilderness four thousand men that were murderers?

39 But Paul said, [f]I am a man which am a Jew of Tar'sus, a city in Ci-li'ci-a, a citizen of no mean city: and I beseech thee, suffer me to speak unto the people.

40 And when he had given him license, Paul stood on the stairs, and [g]beckoned with the hand unto the people. And when there was made a great silence, he spake unto them in the He'brew tongue, saying,

CHAPTER XXII.

Paul declareth to the people the manner of his conversion. 22 They cry out against him. 24 The chief captain commandeth to scourge him. 25 He declareth himself a Roman, and is spared. 30 He is brought before the council.

MEN, [a]brethren, and fathers, hear ye my defence which I make now unto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the He'brew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith,)

3 [b]I am verily a man which am a Jew, born in Tar'sus, a city in Ci-li'ci-a, yet brought up in this city [c]at the feet of [d]Ga-ma'li-el, and taught [e]according to the perfect manner of the law of the fathers, and [f]was zealous toward God, [g]as ye all are this day.

4 [h]And I persecuted this way unto the death, binding and delivering into prisons both men and women.

5 As also the high priest doth bear me witness, and [i]all the estate of the elders: [k]from whom also I received letters unto the brethren, and went to Da-mas'cus, to bring them which were there bound unto Je-ru'sa-lem, for to be punished.

6 And [l]it came to pass, that, as I made my journey, and was come nigh unto Da-mas'cus about noon, suddenly there shone from heaven a great light round about me.

7 And I fell unto the ground, and heard a voice saying unto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord?

And he said unto me, I am Je'sus of Naz'a-reth, whom thou persecutest.

9 And [m]they that were with me saw indeed the light, and were afraid; but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I do, Lord? And the Lord said unto me, Arise, and go into Da-mas'cus; and there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to do.

11 And when I could not see for the glory of that light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Da-mas'cus.

12 And [n]one An-a-ni'as, a devout man according to the law, [o]having a good report of all the [p]Jews which dwelt there,

13 Came unto me, and stood, and said unto me, Brother Saul, receive thy sight. And the same hour I looked up upon him.

14 And he said, [q]The God of our fathers [r]hath chosen thee, that thou shouldest know his will, and [s]see [t]that Just One, and [u]shouldest hear the voice of his mouth.

15 [x]For thou shalt be his witness unto all men of [y]what thou hast seen and heard.

16 And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, [z]and wash away thy sins, [a]calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And [b]it came to pass, that, when I was come again to Je-ru'sa-lem, even while I prayed in the temple, I was in a trance;

18 And [c]saw him saying unto me, [d]Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Je-ru'sa-lem: for they will not receive thy testimony concerning me.

19 And I said, Lord, [e]they know that I imprisoned and [f]beat in every synagogue them that believed on thee:

20 [g]And when the blood of thy martyr Ste'phen was shed, I also was standing by, and [h]consenting unto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said unto me, Depart: [i]for I will send thee far hence unto the Gen'tiles.

22 And they gave him audience unto this word, and then lifted up their voices, and said, [k]Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is not fit that [l]he should live.

23 And as they cried out, and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the air,

24 The chief captain commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be [m]examined by scourging; that he might know wherefore they cried so against him.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said unto the centurion that stood by, [n]Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a Ro'man, and uncondemned?

26 When the centurion heard that, he went and told the chief captain, saying,

Take heed what thou doest; for this man is a Ro'man.

27 Then the chief captain came, and said unto him, Tell me, art thou a Ro'man? He said, Yea.

28 And the chief captain answered, With a great sum obtained I this freedom. And Paul said, But I was free born.

29 Then straightway they departed from him which should have [1]examined him: and the chief captain also was afraid, after he knew that he was a Ro'man, and because he had bound him.

30 On the morrow, because he would have known the certainty wherefore he was accused of the Jews, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the chief priests and all their council to appear, and brought Paul down, and set him before them.

CHAPTER XXIII.

Paul's defence before the council. 7 Dissension between the Pharisees and Sadducees, his accusers. 11 The Lord encourageth him. 12 The Jews conspire against him. 16 The chief captain informed thereof. 23 He sendeth Paul to Cesarea, to Felix the governor.

AND Paul, earnestly beholding the council, said, Men and brethren, [a]I have lived in all good conscience before God until this day.

2 And the high priest An-a-ni'as commanded them that stood by him [b]to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then said Paul unto him, God shall smite thee, thou whited wall: for sittest thou to judge me after the law, and [c]commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

4 And they that stood by said, Revilest thou God's high priest?

5 Then said Paul, [d]I wist not, brethren, that he was the high priest: for it is written, [e]Thou shalt not speak evil of the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceived that the one part were Sad'du-cees, and the other Phar'i-sees, he cried out in the council, Men and brethren, [f]I am a Phar'i-see, the son of a Phar'i-see: [g]of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am called in question.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a dissension between the Phar'i-sees and the Sad'du-cees: and the multitude was divided.

8 [h]For the Sad'du-cees say that there is no resurrection, neither angel, nor spirit: but the Phar'i-sees confess both.

9 And there arose a great cry: and the scribes that were of the Phar'i-sees' part arose, and strove, saying, [i]We find no evil in this man: but [k]if a spirit or an angel hath spoken to him, [l]let us not fight against God.

10 And when there arose a great dissension, the chief captain, fearing lest Paul should have been pulled in pieces of them, commanded the soldiers to go down, and to take him by force from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And [m]the night following the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheer, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Je-ru'sa-lem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, [n]certain of the Jews banded together, and bound themselves [1]under a curse, saying that they would neither eat nor drink till they had killed Paul.

13 And they were more than forty which had made this conspiracy.

14 And they came to the chief priests and elders, and said, We have bound ourselves under a great curse, that we will eat nothing until we have slain Paul.

15 Now therefore ye with the council signify to the chief captain [o]that he bring him down unto you to morrow, as though ye would inquire something more perfectly concerning him: and we, or ever he come near, are ready to kill him.

16 And when Paul's sister's son heard of their lying in wait, he went and entered into the castle, and told Paul.

17 Then Paul called one of the centurions unto him, and said, Bring this young man unto the chief captain: for he hath a certain thing to tell him.

18 So he took him, and brought him to the chief captain, and said, Paul the prisoner called me unto him, and prayed me to bring this young man unto thee, who hath something to say unto thee.

19 Then the chief captain took him by the hand, and went with him aside privately, and asked him, What is that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, [p]The Jews have agreed to desire thee that thou wouldest bring down Paul to morrow into the council, as though they would inquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But do not thou yield unto them: [q]for there lie in wait for him of them more than forty men, which have bound themselves with an oath, that they will neither eat nor drink till they have killed him: and now are they ready, looking for a promise from thee.

22 So the chief captain then let the young man depart, and charged him, See thou tell no man that thou hast showed these things to me.

23 And he called unto him two centurions, saying, Make ready two hundred soldiers to go to Ces-a-re'a, and horsemen threescore and ten, and spearmen two hundred, at the third hour of the night;

24 And provide them beasts, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe unto Fe'lix the governor.

25 And he wrote a letter after this manner:

26 Clau′di-us Lys′i-as unto the most excellent governor Fe′lix sendeth greeting.

27 [p] This man was taken of the Jews, and should have been killed of them: then came I with an army, and rescued him, having understood that he was a Ro′man.

28 [q] And when I would have known the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their council:

29 Whom I perceived to be accused [r] of questions of their law, [s] but to have nothing laid to his charge worthy of death or of bonds.

30 And [t] when it was told me how that the Jews laid wait for the man, I sent straightway to thee, and [u] gave commandment to his accusers also to say before thee what they had against him. Farewell.

31 Then the soldiers, as it was commanded them, took Paul, and brought him by night to An-ti-pa′tris.

32 On the morrow they left the horsemen to go with him, and returned to the castle:

33 Who, when they came to Ces-a-re′a, and delivered the epistle to the governor, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the governor had read the letter, he asked of what province he was. And when he understood that he was of [x] Ci-li′ci-a;

35 [y] I will hear thee, said he, when thine accusers are also come. And he commanded him to be kept in [z] Her′od's judgment hall.

CHAPTER XXIV.

Paul accused by Tertullus, 10 answereth for himself. 24 He preacheth Christ before Felix and Drusilla. 25 Felix trembleth. 27 He is succeeded by Festus, and leaveth Paul bound.

AND after [a] five days [b] An-a-ni′as the high priest descended with the elders, and with a certain orator named Ter-tul′lus, who informed the governor against Paul.

2 And when he was called forth, Ter-tul′lus began to accuse him, saying, [c] Seeing that by thee we enjoy great quietness, and that very worthy deeds are done unto this nation by thy providence,

3 We accept it always, and in all places, most noble Fe′lix, with all thankfulness.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not further tedious unto thee, I pray thee that thou wouldest hear us of thy clemency a few words.

5 [d] For we have found this man a pestilent fellow, and a mover of sedition among all the Jews throughout the world, and a ringleader of the sect of the Naz-a-renes′:

6 [e] Who also hath gone about to profane the temple: whom we took, and would [e] have judged according to our law.

7 [f] But the chief captain Lys′i-as came upon us, and with great violence took him away out of our hands,

8 [g] Commanding his accusers to come unto thee: by examining of whom thyself mayest take knowledge of all these things, whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Jews also assented, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the governor had beckoned unto him to speak, answered, Forasmuch as I know that thou hast been of many years a judge unto this nation, I do the more cheerfully answer for myself:

11 Because that thou mayest understand, that there are yet but twelve days since I went up to Je-ru′sa-lem [h] for to worship.

12 [i] And they neither found me in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising up the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the city:

13 Neither can they prove the things whereof they now accuse me.

14 But this I confess unto thee, that after [k] the way which they call heresy, so worship I the [l] God of my fathers, believing all things which are written in [m] the law and in the prophets:

15 And [n] have hope toward God, which they themselves also allow, [o] that there shall be a resurrection of the dead, both of the just and unjust.

16 And [p] herein do I exercise myself, to have always a conscience void of offence toward God, and toward men.

17 Now after many years [q] I came to bring alms to my nation, and offerings.

18 [r] Whereupon certain Jews from A′si-a found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor with tumult.

19 [s] Who ought to have been here before thee, and object, if they had aught against me.

20 Or else let these same here say, if they have found any evil doing in me, while I stood before the council,

21 Except it be for this one voice, that I cried standing among them, [t] Touching the resurrection of the dead I am called in question by you this day.

22 And when Fe′lix heard these things, having more perfect knowledge of that way, he deferred them, and said, When [u] Lys′i-as the chief captain shall come down, I will know the uttermost of your matter.

23 And he commanded a centurion to keep Paul, and to let him have liberty, and [x] that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister or come unto him.

24 And after certain days, when Fe′lix came with his wife Dru-sil′la, which was a Jew′ess, he sent for Paul, and heard him concerning the faith in Christ.

25 And as he reasoned of righteousness, temperance, and judgment to come, Fe′lix trembled, and answered, [x] Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee.

26 He hoped also that [y] money should have been given him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftener, and communed with him.

27 But after two years Por′cius Fes′tus came into Fe′lix′ room: and Fe′lix, [z] willing to show the Jews a pleasure, left Paul bound.

CHAPTER XXV.

The Jews inform Festus, in Jerusalem, against Paul. 6 At Cesarea he heareth the apostle and his accusers. 10 Paul appealeth unto Cesar. 13 Festus declareth the matter to king Agrippa. 23 Paul is brought forth before Festus and Agrippa.

NOW when Fes′tus was come into the province, after three days he ascended from Ces-a-re′a to Je-ru′sa-lem.

2 [a] Then the high priest and the chief of the Jews informed him against Paul, and besought him,

3 And desired favour against him, that he would send for him to Je-ru′sa-lem, [b] laying wait in the way to kill him.

4 But Fes′tus answered, that Paul should be kept at Ces-a-re′a, and that he himself would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, go down with me, and accuse this man, [c] if there be any wickedness in him.

6 And when he had tarried among them [1] more than ten days, he went down unto Ces-a-re′a; and the next day sitting on the judgment seat commanded Paul to be brought.

7 And when he was come, the Jews which came down from Je-ru′sa-lem stood round about, [d] and laid many and grievous complaints against Paul, which they could not prove.

8 While he answered for himself, [e] Neither against the law of the Jews, neither against the temple, nor yet against Ce′sar, have I offended any thing at all.

9 But Fes′tus, [f] willing to do the Jews a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, [g] Wilt thou go up to Je-ru′sa-lem, and there be judged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Ce′sar′s judgment seat, where I ought to be judged: to the Jews have I done no wrong, as thou very well knowest.

11 [h] For if I be an offender, or have committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof these accuse me, no man may deliver me unto them. [i] I appeal unto Ce′sar.

12 Then Fes′tus, when he had conferred with the council, answered, Hast thou appealed unto Ce′sar? unto Ce′sar shalt thou go.

13 And after certain days king A-grip′pa and Ber-ni′ce came unto Ces-a-re′a to salute Fes′tus.

14 And when they had been there many days, Fes′tus declared Paul′s cause unto the king, saying, [k] There is a certain man left in bonds by Fe′lix:

15 [l] About whom, when I was at Je-ru′sa-lem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me, desiring to have judgment against him.

16 [m] To whom I answered, It is not the manner of the Ro′mans to deliver any man to die, before that he which is accused have the accusers face to face, and have license to answer for himself concerning the crime laid against him.

17 Therefore, when they were come hither, [n] without any delay on the morrow I sat on the judgment seat, and commanded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom when the accusers stood up, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 [o] But had certain questions against him of their own superstition, and of one Je′sus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be alive.

20 And because [2] I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether he would go to Je-ru′sa-lem, and there be judged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to be reserved unto the [3] hearing of Au-gus′tus, I commanded him to be kept till I might send him to Ce′sar.

22 Then [p] A-grip′pa said unto Fes′tus, I would also hear the man myself. To-morrow, said he, thou shalt hear him.

23 And on the morrow, when A-grip′pa was come, and Ber-ni′ce, with great pomp, and was entered into the place of hearing, with the chief captains, and principal men of the city, at Fes′tus′ commandment Paul was brought forth.

24 And Fes′tus said, King A-grip′pa, and all men which are here present with us, ye see this man, about whom [q] all the multitude of the Jews have dealt with me, both at Je-ru′sa-lem, and also here, crying that he ought [r] not to live any longer.

25 But when I found that [s] he had committed nothing worthy of death, [t] and that he himself hath appealed to Au-gus′tus, I have determined to send him.

26 Of whom I have no certain thing to write unto my lord. Wherefore I have brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, O king A-grip′pa, that, after examination had, I might have somewhat to write.

27 For it seemeth to me unreasonable to send a prisoner, and not withal to signify the crimes laid against him.

CHAPTER XXVI.

Paul before Agrippa recounteth his life, 12 and the manner of his conversion. 24 Festus declareth him to be mad. 25 Paul's reply. 28 Agrippa almost persuaded to be a Christian. 30 Paul pronounced innocent.

THEN A-grip'pa said unto Paul, [a]Thou art permitted to speak for thyself. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himself:

2 I think myself happy, king A-grip'pa, because I shall answer for myself this day before thee touching all the things whereof I am accused of the Jews:

3 Especially because I know thee to be expert in all customs and questions which are among the Jews: wherefore I beseech thee to hear me patiently.

4 My manner of life from my youth, which was at the first among mine own nation at Je-ru'sa-lem, know all the Jews;

5 Which knew me from the beginning, if they would testify, that after [a]the most straitest sect of our religion I lived a Phar'i-see.

6 [b]And now I stand and am judged for the hope of [c]the promise made of God unto our fathers:

7 Unto which promise [d]our twelve tribes, instantly serving God [e]day and night, [f]hope to come. For which hope's sake, king A-grip'pa, I am accused of the Jews.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you, that God should raise the dead?

9 [g]I verily thought with myself, that I ought to do many things contrary to the name of Je'sus of Naz'a-reth.

10 [h]Which thing I also did in Je-ru'sa-lem: and many of the saints did I shut up in prison, having received authority [i]from the chief priests; and when they were put to death, I gave my voice against them.

11 [k]And I punished them oft in every synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme; and being exceedingly mad against them, I persecuted them even unto strange cities.

12 [l]Whereupon as I went to Da-mas'cus with authority and commission from the chief priests,

13 At midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heaven, above the brightness of the sun, shining round about me and them which journeyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking unto me, and saying in the He'brew tongue, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me? it is hard for thee to kick against the pricks.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Je'sus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise, and stand upon thy feet: for I have appeared unto thee for this purpose, [m]to make thee a minister and a witness both of these things which thou hast seen, and of those things in the which I will appear unto thee;

17 Delivering thee from the people, and from the Gen'tiles, [n]unto whom now I send thee,

18 [o]To open their eyes, and [p]to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Sa'tan unto God, [q]that they may receive forgiveness of sins, and [r]inheritance among them which are [s]sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Whereupon, O king A-grip'pa, I was not disobedient unto the heavenly vision:

20 But [t]showed first unto them of Da-mas'cus, and at Je-ru'sa-lem, and throughout all the coasts of Ju-de'a, and then to the Gen'tiles, that they should repent and turn to God, and do [u]works meet for repentance.

21 For these causes [x]the Jews caught me in the temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Having therefore obtained help of God, I continue unto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things than those [y]which the prophets and [z]Mo'ses did say should come:

23 [a]That Christ should suffer, and [b]that he should be the first that should rise from the dead, and [c]should show light unto the people, and to the Gen'tiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himself, Fes'tus said with a loud voice, Paul, [d]thou art beside thyself; much learning doth make thee mad.

25 But he said, I am not mad, most noble Fes'tus; but speak forth the words of truth and soberness.

26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speak freely: for I am persuaded that none of these things are hidden from him; for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King A-grip'pa, believest thou the prophets? I know that thou believest.

28 Then A-grip'pa said unto Paul, [e]Almost thou persuadest me to be a Chris'tian.

29 And Paul said, [f]I would to God, that not only thou, but also all that hear me this day, were both almost, and altogether such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose up, and the governor, and Ber-ni'ce, and they that sat with them:

31 And when they were gone aside, they talked between themselves, saying, [g]This man doeth nothing worthy of death or of bonds.

32 Then said A-grip'pa unto Fes'tus, This man might have been set at liberty, [h]if he had not appealed unto Ce'sar.

CHAPTER XXVII.

Paul sailing toward Rome, 9 foretelleth the danger of the voyage; 11 but is not believed. 14 They are driven up and down by a tempest, 27 and, after fourteen days, draw near to land. 39 They suffer shipwreck, 43 but all escape safe to land.

AND when [a]it was determined that we should sail into It'a-ly, they delivered Paul and certain other prisoners unto one named Ju'li-us, a centurion of Au-gus'tus' band.

2 And entering into a ship of Ad-ra-myt'ti-um, we launched, meaning to sail by the coasts of A'si-a; one [b]Ar-is-tar'chus, a Mac-e-do'ni-an of Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca, being with us.

3 And the next day we touched at Si'don. And Ju'li-us [c]courteously entreated Paul, and gave him liberty to go unto his friends to refresh himself.

4 And when we had launched from thence, we sailed under Cy'prus, because the winds were contrary.

5 And when we had sailed over the sea of Ci-li'ci-a and Pam-phyl'i-a, we came to My'ra, a city of Ly'ci-a.

6 And there the centurion found a ship of Al-ex-an'dri-a sailing into It'a-ly; and he put us therein.

7 And when we had sailed slowly many days, and scarce were come over against Cni'dus, the wind not suffering us, we sailed under [1]Crete, over against Sal-mo'ne;

8 And, hardly passing it, came unto a place which is called the Fair Ha'vens; nigh whereunto was the city of La-se'a.

9 Now when much time was spent, and when sailing was now dangerous, [d]because the fast was now already past, Paul admonished them,

10 And said unto them, Sirs, I perceive that this voyage will be with [2]hurt and much damage, not only of the lading and ship, but also of our lives.

11 Nevertheless the centurion believed the master and the owner of the ship, more than those things which were spoken by Paul.

12 And because the haven was not commodious to winter in, the more part advised to depart thence also, if by any means they might attain to Phe-ni'ce, and there to winter; which is a haven of Crete, and lieth toward the southwest and northwest.

13 And when the south wind blew softly, supposing that they had obtained their purpose, loosing thence, they sailed close by Crete.

14 But not long after there [3]arose against it a tempestuous wind, called Eu-roc'ly-don.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not bear up into the wind, we let her drive.

16 And running under a certain island which is called Clau'da, we had much work to come by the boat:

17 Which when they had taken up, they used helps, undergirding the ship; and, fearing lest they should fall into the quicksands, strake sail, and so were driven.

18 And we being exceedingly tossed with a tempest, the next day they lightened the ship;

19 And the third day [d]we cast out with our own hands the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither sun nor stars in many days appeared, and no small tempest lay on us, all hope that we should be saved was then taken away.

21 But [e]after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the midst of them, and said, Sirs, ye should have hearkened unto me, and not have loosed from Crete, and to have gained this harm and loss.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheer: for there shall be no loss of any man's life among you, but of the ship.

23 [f]For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and [g]whom I serve,

24 Saying, Fear not, Paul; thou must be brought before Ce'sar: and lo, God hath given thee [h]all them that sail with thee.

25 Wherefore, sirs, be of good cheer: [i]for I believe God, that it shall be even as it was told me.

26 Howbeit [j]we must be cast upon a certain island.

27 But when the fourteenth night was come, as we were driven up and down in A'dri-a, about midnight the shipmen deemed that they drew near to some country;

28 And sounded, and found it twenty fathoms: and when they had gone a little further, they sounded again, and found it fifteen fathoms.

29 Then fearing lest we should have fallen upon rocks, they cast four anchors out of the stern, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let down the boat into the sea, under colour as though they would have cast anchors out of the foreship,

31 Paul said to the centurion and to the soldiers, Except these abide in the ship, ye cannot be saved.

32 Then the soldiers cut off the ropes of the boat, and let her fall off.

33 And while the day was coming on, Paul besought them all to take meat, saying, This day is the fourteenth day that ye have tarried and continued fasting, having taken nothing.

34 Wherefore I pray you to take some meat; for this is for your health: for [k]there shall not a hair fall from the head of any of you.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he took bread, and [l]gave thanks to God in presence of them all; and when he had broken it, he began to eat.

36 Then were they all of good cheer, and they also took some meat.

37 And we were in all in the ship two hundred threescore and sixteen [m]souls.

38 And when they had eaten enough, they lightened the ship, and cast out the wheat into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they discovered a certain creek with a shore, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had [4]taken up the anchors, they committed themselves unto the sea, and loosed the rudder bands, and hoised up the mainsail to the wind, and made toward shore.

41 And falling into a place where two seas met, [n]they ran the ship aground; and the forepart stuck fast, and remained unmoveable, but the hinder part was broken with the violence of the waves.

42 And the soldiers' counsel was [o]to kill the prisoners, lest any of them should swim out, and escape.

43 But the centurion, [p]willing to save Paul, kept them from their purpose; and commanded that they which could swim should cast themselves first into the sea, and get to land:

44 And the rest, some on boards, and some on broken pieces of the ship. And so it came to pass, [q]that they escaped all safe to land.

CHAPTER XXVIII.

Paul is kindly entertained by the barbarous people of Melita. 3 A viper fasteneth on his hand without harm. 8 He healeth many who had diseases. 11 His journey to Rome. 17 He declareth to the Jews the cause of his coming, and persuadeth them concerning Jesus. 24 Some believe. 30 Paul preacheth two whole years in his own hired house at Rome.

AND when they were escaped, then they knew that [a]the island was called Me-li'ta.

2 And the [b]barbarous people showed us no little kindness: for they kindled a fire, and received us every one, because of the present rain, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and laid them on the fire, there came a viper out of the heat, and fastened on his hand.

4 And when the barbarians saw the venomous beast hang on his hand, they said among themselves, No doubt this man is a murderer, whom, though he hath escaped the sea, yet vengeance suffereth not to live.

5 And he shook off the beast into the fire, and [c]felt no harm.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chief man of the island, whose name was Pub'li-us; who received us, and lodged us three days courteously.

8 And it came to pass, that the father of Pub'li-us lay sick of a fever and of a bloody flux: to whom Paul entered in, and [c]prayed, and [d]laid his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, others also, which had diseases in the island, came, and were healed:

10 Who also honoured us with many [e]honours; and when we departed, they laded us with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three months we departed in a ship of Al-ex-an'dri-a, which had wintered in the isle, whose sign was Cas'tor and Pol'lux.

12 And landing at Syr'a-cuse, we tarried there three days.

13 And from thence we fetched a compass, and came to Rhe'gi-um: and after one day the south wind blew, and we came the next day to Pu-te-o'li:

14 Where [f]we found brethren, and were desired to tarry with them seven days: and so we went toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of us, they came to meet us as far as Ap'pi-i Fo'rum, and the Three Taverns; whom when Paul saw, he thanked God, and [g]took courage.

16 And when we came to Rome, the centurion delivered the prisoners to the captain of the guard: but [h]Paul was suffered to dwell by himself with a soldier that kept him.

17 And it came to pass, that after three days Paul called the chief of the Jews together: and when they were come together, he said unto them, Men and brethren, [i]though I have committed nothing against the people, or customs of our fathers, yet [k]was I delivered prisoner from Je-ru'sa-lem into the hands of the Ro'mans:

18 Who, [l]when they had examined me, would have let me go, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Jews spake against it, [m]I was constrained to appeal unto Ce'sar; not that I had aught to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause therefore have I called for you, to see you, and to speak with you: because that [n]for the hope of Is'ra-el I am bound with [o]this chain.

24 And [s]some believed the things which were spoken, and some believed not.

25 And when they agreed not among themselves, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, Well spake the Holy Ghost by E-sa'ias the prophet unto our fathers,

26 Saying, [t]Go unto this people, and say, Hearing ye shall hear, and shall not understand; and seeing ye shall see, and not perceive:

27 For the heart of this people is waxed gross, and their ears are dull of hearing, and their eyes have they closed: lest they should see with their eyes, and hear with their ears, and understand with their heart, and should be converted, and I should heal them.

28 Be it known therefore unto you, that the salvation of God is sent [u]unto the Gen'tiles, and that they will hear it.

29 And when he had said these words, the Jews departed, and had great reasoning among themselves.

30 And Paul dwelt two whole years in his own hired house, and received all that came in unto him,

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE ROMANS.

THE Epistle to the Romans, though later in the order of time than several others, is placed first of all the apostolical letters, either from the pre-eminence of Rome as being the mistress of the world, or perhaps because it is the longest and most comprehensive of all of Paul's epistles. The most probable date of the epistle is that which refers it to 57, or the beginning of 58, at which time the author was at Corinth. Christianity is generally supposed to have been planted at Rome by some of those "Jews and proselytes" of that city who were present at Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost and were converted under the preaching of Peter. The writing of this epistle was occasioned by Paul's being made acquainted with the condition and circumstances of the Christians at Rome by Aquila, Priscilla, and other Jews who had been expelled from that city by the decree of Claudius. Being desirous of seeing them, that he might instruct them in religious matters, and being prevented from visiting them, as he had contemplated while on his journey to Spain, he availed himself of the opportunity presenting itself of the departure of Phœbe to Rome to send them this epistle. As the Church at Rome was composed partly of heathen who had embraced the Gospel, and partly of Jews, who, with many remaining prejudices, believed in Jesus as the Messiah, and a controversy having arisen among them on account of the Gentiles claiming equal privileges with the Christian Jews, he accordingly wrote this epistle to settle those disputes, and also to settle and strengthen the faith of Roman Christians in the doctrines of the Gospel. The Epistle consists of four parts: first, the introduction; the second consists of the doctrine of justification; the third comprises the hortatory or practical part of the epistle, the fourth contains sundry personal references and salutations to the brethren at Rome.

CHAPTER I.

10 [t] Making request, if by any means now at length I might have a prosperous journey [u] by the will of God to come unto you.

11 For I long to see you, that [x] I may impart unto you some spiritual gift, to the end ye may be established;

12 That is, that I may be comforted together [4] with you by [y] the mutual faith both of you and me.

13 Now I would not have you ignorant, brethren, that [z] oftentimes I purposed to come unto you, (but [a] was let hitherto,) that I might have some [b] fruit [5] among you also, even as among other Gen'tiles.

14 [c] I am debtor both to the Greeks, and to the Bar-ba'ri-ans; both to the wise, and to the unwise.

15 So, as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For [d] I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for [e] it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; [f] to the Jew first, and also to the Greek.

17 For [g] therein is the righteousness of God revealed from faith to faith: as it is written, [h] The just shall live by faith.

18 [i] For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of men, who hold the truth in unrighteousness;

19 Because [k] that which may be known of God is manifest [6] in them; for [l] God hath showed it unto them.

20 For [m] the invisible things of him from the creation of the world are clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made, even his eternal power and Godhead; [7] so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that, when they knew God, they glorified him not as God, neither were thankful; but [n] became vain in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was darkened.

22 [o] Professing themselves to be wise, they became fools,

23 And changed the glory of the uncorruptible [p] God into an image made like to corruptible man, and to birds, and fourfooted beasts, and creeping things.

24 [q] Wherefore God also gave them up to uncleanness, through the lusts of their own hearts, [r] to dishonour their own bodies [s] between themselves:

25 Who changed [t] the truth of God [u] into a lie, and worshipped and served the creature [8] more than the Creator, who is blessed for ever. Amen.

26 For this cause God gave them up unto [x] vile affections: for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature:

27 And likewise also the men, leaving the natural use of the woman, burned in their lust one toward another; men with men working that which is unseemly, and receiving in themselves that recompense of their error which was meet.

28 And even as they did not like [9] to retain God in their knowledge, God gave them over to [10] a reprobate mind, to do those things [y] which are not convenient;

29 Being filled with all unrighteousness, fornication, wickedness, covetousness, maliciousness; full of envy, murder, debate, deceit, malignity; whisperers,

30 Backbiters, haters of God, despiteful, proud, boasters, inventors of evil things, disobedient to parents,

31 Without understanding, covenant-breakers, [11] without natural affection, implacable, unmerciful:

32 Who, [z] knowing the judgment of God, that they which commit such things [a] are worthy of death, not only do the same, but [12] [b] have pleasure in them that do them.

CHAPTER II.

He that sinneth cannot excuse himself, 3 nor escape the judgment of God; 6 who will render to every man according to his deeds. 12 The Gentiles will be judged by the law written in their hearts. 17 The greater privileges of the Jews will increase their guilt, if they keep not the law.

THEREFORE thou art [a] inexcusable, O man, whosoever thou art that judgest: [b] for wherein thou judgest another, thou condemnest thyself; for thou that judgest doest the same things.

2 But we are sure that the judgment of God is according to truth against them which commit such things.

3 And thinkest thou this, O man, that judgest them which do such things, and doest the same, that thou shalt escape the judgment of God?

4 Or despisest thou [c] the riches of his goodness and [d] forbearance and [e] longsuffering; [f] not knowing that the goodness of God leadeth thee to repentance?

5 But, after thy hardness and impenitent heart, [g] treasurest up unto thyself wrath against the day of wrath and revelation of the righteous judgment of God;

6 [h] Who will render to every man according to his deeds:

7 To them who by patient continuance in well doing seek for glory and honour and immortality, eternal life:

8 But unto them that are contentious, and [i] do not obey the truth, but obey unrighteousness, indignation and wrath,

9 Tribulation and anguish, upon every soul of man that doeth evil; of the Jew [k] first, and also of the [1] Gen'tile;

10 [l] But glory, honour, and peace, to every man that worketh good; to the Jew first, and also to the [2] Gen'tile:

11 For [m] there is no respect of persons with God.

12 For as many as have sinned without law shall also perish without law; and as many as have sinned in the law shall be judged by the law;

13 (For [n] not the hearers of the law are just before God, but the doers of the law shall be justified.

14 For when the Gen'tiles, which have not the law, do by nature the things contained in the law, these, having not the law, are a law unto themselves:

15 Which show the work of the law written in their hearts, [3] their conscience also bearing witness, and their thoughts [4] the mean while accusing or else excusing one another;)

16 [o] In the day when God shall judge the secrets of men [p] by Je'sus Christ [q] according to my gospel.

17 Behold, [r] thou art called a Jew, and [s] restest in the law, [t] and makest thy boast of God,

18 And [u] knowest his will, and [5] [x] approvest the things that are more excellent, being instructed out of the law;

19 And [y] art confident that thou thyself art a guide of the blind, a light of them which are in darkness,

20 An instructor of the foolish, a teacher of babes, [z] which hast the form of knowledge and of the truth in the law.

21 [a] Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thyself? thou that preachest a man should not steal, dost thou steal?

22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit adultery, dost thou commit adultery? thou that abhorrest idols, [b] dost thou commit sacrilege?

23 Thou that [c] makest thy boast of the law, through breaking the law dishonourest thou God?

24 For the name of God is blasphemed among the Gen'tiles through you, as it is [d] written.

25 [e] For circumcision verily profiteth, if thou keep the law: but if thou be a breaker of the law, thy circumcision is made uncircumcision.

26 Therefore, [f] if the uncircumcision keep the righteousness of the law, shall not his uncircumcision be counted for circumcision?

27 And shall not uncircumcision which is by nature, if it fulfil the law, [g] judge thee, who by the letter and circumcision dost transgress the law?

28 For [h] he is not a Jew, which is one outwardly; neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh:

29 But he is a Jew, [i] which is one inwardly; and [k] circumcision is that of the heart, [l] in the spirit, and not in the letter; [m] whose praise is not of men, but of God.

CHAPTER III.

Objections answered. 9 All men are under sin. 20 No flesh justified by the law. 28 A man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law. 31 The law is not made void through faith.

WHAT advantage then hath the Jew? or what profit is there of circumcision?

2 Much every way: chiefly, because that [a] unto them were committed the oracles of God.

3 For what if [b] some did not believe? [c] shall their unbelief make the faith of God without effect?

4 [d] God forbid: yea, let [e] God be true, but [f] every man a liar; as it is written, [g] That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, and mightest overcome when thou art judged.

5 But if our unrighteousness commend the righteousness of God, what shall we say? Is God unrighteous who taketh vengeance? [h] I speak as a man;

6 God forbid: for then [i] how shall God judge the world?

7 For if the truth of God hath more abounded through my lie unto his glory; why yet am I also judged as a sinner?

8 And not rather, as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirm that we say, [k] Let us do evil, that good may come? whose damnation is just.

9 What then? are we better than they? No, in no wise: for we have before [1] proved both Jews and Gen'tiles, that [l] they are all under sin;

10 As it is written, [m] There is none righteous, no, not one:

11 There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no, not one.

13 [n] Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; [o] the poison of asps is under their lips:

14 [p] Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness:

15 [q] Their feet are swift to shed blood:

16 Destruction and misery are in their ways:

17 And the way of peace have they not known:

18 [r] There is no fear of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soever [s] the law saith, it saith to them who are under the law: that [t] every mouth may be stopped, and [u] all the world may become [2] guilty before God.

20 Therefore [x] by the deeds of the law there shall no flesh be justified in his sight: for [y] by the law is the knowledge of sin.

21 But now [z] the righteousness of God without the law is manifested, [a] being witnessed by the law [b] and the prophets;

22 Even the righteousness of God which is [c] by faith of Je'sus Christ unto all and upon all them that believe; for [d] there is no difference;

23 For [e] all have sinned, and come short of the glory of God;

24 Being justified freely [f] by his grace [g] through the redemption that is in Christ Je'sus:

25 Whom God hath [3] set forth [h] to be a propitiation through faith [i] in his blood, to declare his righteousness [k] for the [4] remission of [l] sins that are past, through the forbearance of God;

26 To declare, I say, at this time his righteousness: that he might be just, and the justifier of him which believeth in Je'sus.

27 [m] Where is boasting then? It is excluded. By what law? of works? Nay; but by the law of faith.

28 Therefore we conclude [n] that a man is justified by faith without the deeds of the law.

29 Is he the God of the Jews only? is he not also of the Gen'tiles? Yes, of the Gen'tiles also:

30 Seeing [o] it is one God, which shall justify the circumcision by faith, and uncircumcision through faith.

31 Do we then make void the law through faith? God forbid: yea, we establish the law.

CHAPTER IV.

Abraham's faith was counted unto him for righteousness, 10 before he was circumcised. 13 The promise to him was through the righteousness of faith. 18 The strength of his faith. 23 His example recorded for our sake.

WHAT shall we say then that [a] A'bra-ham, our father, as pertaining to the flesh hath found?

2 For if A'bra-ham were [b] justified by works, he hath whereof to glory; but not before God.

3 For what saith the Scripture? [c] A'bra-ham believed God, and it was counted unto him for righteousness.

4 Now [d] to him that worketh is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of debt.

5 But to him that worketh not, but believeth on him that justifieth [e] the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness.

6 Even as Da'vid also describeth the blessedness of the man unto whom God imputeth righteousness without works,

7 Saying, [f] Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered.

8 Blessed is the man to whom the Lord will not impute sin.

9 Cometh this blessedness then upon the circumcision only, or upon the uncircumcision also? for we say that faith was reckoned to A'bra-ham for righteousness.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in circumcision, or in uncircumcision? Not in circumcision, but in uncircumcision.

11 And [g] he received the sign of circumcision, a seal of the righteousness of the faith which he had yet being uncircumcised: that [h] he might be the father of all them that believe, though they be not circumcised; that righteousness might be imputed unto them also:

12 And the father of circumcision to them who are not of the circumcision only, but who also walk in the steps of that faith of our father A'bra-ham, which he had being yet uncircumcised.

13 For the promise, that he should be the [i] heir of the world, was not to A'bra-ham, or to his seed, through the law, but through the righteousness of faith.

14 For [k] if they which are of the law be heirs, faith is made void, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because [l] the law worketh wrath: for where no law is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore it is of faith, that it might be [m] by grace; [n] to the end the promise might be sure to all the seed; not to that only which is of the law, but to that also which is of the faith of A'bra-ham; [o] who is the father of us all,

17 (As it is written, [p] I have made thee a father of many nations,) [1] before him whom he believed, even God, [q] who quickeneth the dead, and calleth those [r] things which be not as though they were:

18 Who against hope believed in hope, that he might become the father of many nations, according to that which was spoken, [s] So shall thy seed be.

19 And being not weak in faith, [t] he considered not his own body now dead, when he was about a hundred years old, neither yet the deadness of Sa'rah's womb:

20 He staggered not at the promise of God through unbelief; but was strong in faith, giving glory to God;

21 And being fully persuaded, that what he had promised, [u] he was able also to perform.

22 And therefore it was imputed to him for righteousness.

23 Now [x]it was not written for his sake alone, that it was imputed to him;

24 But for us also, to whom it shall be imputed, if we believe [y]on him that raised up Je'sus our Lord from the dead;

25 [z]Who was delivered for our offences, and [a]was raised again for our justification.

CHAPTER V.

The fruits of justification by faith: Peace with God, 2 joy, 3 glorying in tribulation, 5 and assurance of hope. 12 As sin and death came by Adam, 17 so righteousness and life came by Jesus Christ. 20 Where sin abounded, grace did much more abound.

THEREFORE [a]being justified by faith, we have [b]peace with God through our Lord Je'sus Christ:

2 [c]By whom also we have access by faith into this grace [d]wherein we stand, and [e]rejoice in hope of the glory of God.

3 And not only so, but [f]we glory in tribulations also; [g]knowing that tribulation worketh patience;

4 [h]And patience, experience; and experience, hope:

5 [i]And hope maketh not ashamed; [k]because the love of God is shed abroad in our hearts by the Holy Ghost which is given unto us.

6 For when we were yet without strength, [1]in due time [l]Christ died for the ungodly.

7 For scarcely for a righteous man will one die: yet peradventure for a good man some would even dare to die.

8 But [m]God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us.

9 Much more then, being now justified [n]by his blood, we shall be saved [o]from wrath through him.

10 For [p]if, when we were enemies, [q]we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son; much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved [r]by his life.

11 And not only so, but we also [s]joy in God through our Lord Je'sus Christ, by whom we have now received the [2]atonement.

12 Wherefore, as [t]by one man sin entered into the world, and [u]death by sin; and so death passed upon all men, [3]for that all have sinned:

13 For until the law sin was in the world: but [x]sin is not imputed when there is no law.

14 Nevertheless death reigned from Ad'am to Mo'ses, even over them that had not sinned after the similitude of Ad'am's transgression, [y]who is the figure of him that was to come.

15 But not as the offence, so also is the free gift: for if through the offence of one many be dead, much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man, Je'sus Christ, hath abounded [z]unto many.

16 And not as it was by one that sinned, so is the gift: for the judgment was by one to condemnation, but the free gift is of many offences unto justification.

17 For if [4]by one man's offence death reigned by one; much more they which receive abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousness shall reign in life by one, Je'sus Christ.

18 Therefore, as [5]by the offence of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so [6]by the righteousness of one the free gift came [a]upon all men unto justification of life.

19 For as by one man's disobedience many were made sinners, so by the obedience of one shall many be made righteous.

20 Moreover [b]the law entered, that the offence might abound. But where sin abounded, grace did much [c]more abound:

21 That as sin hath reigned unto death, even so might grace reign through righteousness unto eternal life by Je'sus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VI.

We may not live in sin, 2 for we are dead unto it. 12 Believers exhorted to holiness. 23 The wages of sin is death.

WHAT shall we say then? [a]Shall we continue in sin, that grace may abound?

2 God forbid. How shall we, that are [b]dead to sin, live any longer therein?

3 Know ye not, that [c]so many of us as [1]were baptized into Je'sus Christ [d]were baptized into his death?

4 Therefore we are [e]buried with him by baptism into death: that [f]like as Christ was raised up from the dead by [g]the glory of the Father, [h]even so we also should walk in newness of life.

5 [i]For if we have been planted together in the likeness of his death, we shall be also in the likeness of his resurrection:

6 Knowing this, that [k]our old man is crucified with him, that [l]the body of sin might be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serve sin.

7 For [m]he that is dead is [2]freed from sin.

8 Now [n]if we be dead with Christ, we believe that we shall also live with him:

9 Knowing that [o]Christ being raised from the dead dieth no more; death hath no more dominion over him.

10 For in that he died, [p]he died unto sin once: but in that he liveth, [q]he liveth unto God.

11 Likewise reckon ye also yourselves to be [r]dead indeed unto sin, but [s]alive unto God through Je'sus Christ our Lord.

12 [t]Let not sin therefore reign in your mortal body, that ye should obey it in the lusts thereof.

13 Neither yield ye your [u]members as [3]instruments of unrighteousness unto sin:

but [x] yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead, and your members as instruments of righteousness unto God.

14 For [y] sin shall not have dominion over you: for ye are not under the law, but under grace.

15 What then? shall we sin, [z] because we are not under the law, but under grace? God forbid.

16 Know ye not, that [a] to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are to whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness?

17 But God be thanked, that ye were the servants of sin, but ye have obeyed from the heart [b] that form of doctrine [4] which was delivered you.

18 Being then [c] made free from sin, ye became the servants of righteousness.

19 I speak after the manner of men, because of the infirmity of your flesh: for as ye have yielded your members servants to uncleanness and to iniquity unto iniquity; even so now yield your members servants to righteousness unto holiness.

20 For when ye were [d] the servants of sin, ye were free [5] from righteousness.

21 [e] What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? for [f] the end of those things is death.

22 But now [g] being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life.

23 For [h] the wages of sin is death; but [i] the gift of God is eternal life through Je'sus Christ our Lord.

CHAPTER VII.

They are dead to the law by the body of Christ. 7 Conviction of sin is by the law. 12 The law is holy. 14 The conflict between the law in the members and the law of the mind. 24 Deliverance through Jesus Christ.

KNOW ye not, brethren, (for I speak to them that know the law,) how that the law hath dominion over a man as long as he liveth?

2 For [a] the woman which hath a husband is bound by the law to her husband so long as he liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then [b] if, while her husband liveth, she be married to another man, she shall be called an adulteress: but if her husband be dead, she is free from that law; so that she is no adulteress, though she be married to another man.

4 Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become [c] dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be married to another, even to him who is raised from the dead, that we should [d] bring forth fruit unto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the [1] motions of sins, which were by the law, [e] did work in our members [f] to bring forth fruit unto death.

6 But now we are delivered from the law, [2] that being dead wherein we were held; that we should serve [g] in newness of spirit, and not in the oldness of the letter.

7 What shall we say then? Is the law sin? God forbid. Nay, [h] I had not known sin, but by the law: for I had not known [3] lust, except the law had said, [i] Thou shalt not covet.

8 But [k] sin, taking occasion by the commandment, wrought in me all manner of concupiscence. For [l] without the law sin was dead.

9 For I was alive without the law once: but when the commandment came, sin revived, and I died.

10 And the commandment, [m] which was ordained to life, I found to be unto death.

11 For sin, taking occasion by the commandment, deceived me, and by it slew me.

12 Wherefore [n] the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good.

13 Was then that which is good made death unto me? God forbid. But sin, that it might appear sin, working death in me by that which is good; that sin by the commandment might become exceeding sinful.

14 For we know that the law is spiritual: but I am carnal, [o] sold under sin.

15 For that which I do, I [4] allow not: for [p] what I would, that do I not; but what I hate, that do I.

16 If then I do that which I would not, I consent unto the law that it is good.

17 Now then it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know that [q] in me, that is, in my flesh, dwelleth no good thing: for to will is present with me; but how to perform that which is good I find not.

19 For the good that I would, I do not: but the evil which I would not, that I do.

20 Now if I do that I would not, it is no more I that do it, but sin that dwelleth in me.

21 I find then a law, that, when I would do good, evil is present with me.

22 For I [r] delight in the law of God after [s] the inward man:

23 But [t] I see another law in [u] my members, warring against the law of my mind, and bringing me into captivity to the law of sin which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am! who shall deliver me from [5] the body of this death?

25 [x] I thank God through Je'sus Christ our Lord. So then with the mind I myself serve the law of God; but with the flesh the law of sin.

CHAPTER VIII.

The security of believers: They are free from condemnation. 5 They are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit. 12 They are children of God. 18 The glory to be revealed in them. 26 The Spirit helpeth their infirmities. 28 All things work together for their good. 32 God gave his Son to save them. 35 Nothing can separate them from his love.

THERE is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Je'sus, who [a] walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For [b] the law of [c] the Spirit of life in Christ Je'sus hath made me free from [d] the law of sin and death.

3 For [e] what the law could not do, in that it was weak through the flesh, [f] God sending his own Son in the likeness of sinful flesh, and [1] for sin, condemned sin in the flesh:

4 That the righteousness of the law might be fulfilled in us, [g] who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For [h] they that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the Spirit, [i] the things of the Spirit.

6 For [k] [2] to be carnally minded is death; but [3] to be spiritually minded is life and peace.

7 Because [4] [l] the carnal mind is enmity against God: for it is not subject to the law of God, [m] neither indeed can be.

8 So then they that are in the flesh cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that [n] the Spirit of God dwell in you. Now if any man have not [o] the Spirit of Christ, he is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of sin; but the Spirit is life because of righteousness.

11 But if the Spirit of [p] him that raised up Je'sus from the dead dwell in you, [q] he that raised up Christ from the dead shall also quicken your mortal bodies [5] by his Spirit that dwelleth in you.

12 [r] Therefore, brethren, we are debtors, not to the flesh, to live after the flesh.

13 For [s] if ye live after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit do [t] mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live.

14 For [u] as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God.

15 For [x] ye have not received the spirit of bondage again [y] to fear; but ye have received the [z] Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, [a] Ab'ba, Father.

16 [b] The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God:

17 And if children, then heirs; [c] heirs of God, and joint heirs with Christ; [d] if so be that we suffer with him, that we may be also glorified together.

18 For I reckon that [e] the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us.

19 For [f] the earnest expectation of the creature waiteth for the [g] manifestation of the sons of God.

20 For [h] the creature was made subject to vanity, not willingly, but by reason of him who hath subjected the same in hope;

21 Because the creature itself also shall be delivered from the bondage of corruption into the glorious liberty of the children of God.

22 For we know that [6] the whole creation [i] groaneth and travaileth in pain together until now.

23 And not only they, but ourselves also, which have [k] the firstfruits of the Spirit, [l] even we ourselves groan within ourselves, [m] waiting for the adoption, to wit, the [n] redemption of our body.

24 For we are saved by hope: but [o] hope that is seen is not hope: for what a man seeth, why doth he yet hope for?

25 But if we hope for that we see not, then do we with patience wait for it.

26 Likewise the Spirit also helpeth our infirmities: for [p] we know not what we should pray for as we ought: but [q] the Spirit itself maketh intercession for us with groanings which cannot be uttered.

27 And [r] he that searcheth the hearts knoweth what is the mind of the Spirit, [7] because he maketh intercession for the saints [s] according to the will of God.

28 And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them [t] who are the called according to his purpose.

29 For whom [u] he did foreknow, [x] he also did predestinate [y] to be conformed to the image of his Son, [z] that he might be the firstborn among many brethren.

30 Moreover, whom he did predestinate, them he also [a] called: and whom he called, them he also [b] justified: and whom he justified, them he also [c] glorified.

31 What shall we then say to these things? [d] If God be for us, who can be against us?

32 [e] He that spared not his own Son, but [f] delivered him up for us all, how shall he not with him also freely give us all things?

33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of God's elect? [g] It is God that justifieth.

34 [h] Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ that died, yea rather, that is risen again, [i] who is even at the right hand of God, [k] who also maketh intercession for us.

35 Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

36 As it is written, [l] For thy sake we

CHAPTER IX.

Paul's sorrow for the Jews. 6 All are not Israel who are of Israel. 8 The children of the promise are counted for the seed of Abraham. 18 God hath mercy upon whom he will. 25 The calling of the Gentiles and the rejection of the Jews were foretold. 32 The reason why the Jews were rejected.

I [a]SAY the truth in Christ, I lie not, my conscience also bearing me witness in the Holy Ghost,

2 [b]That I have great heaviness and continual sorrow in my heart.

3 For [c]I could wish that myself were [1]accursed from Christ for my brethren, my kinsmen according to the flesh:

4 [d]Who are Is'ra-el-ites; [e]to whom pertaineth the adoption, and [f]the glory, and [g]the [2]covenants, and [h]the giving of the law, and [i]the service of God, and [k]the promises;

5 [l]Whose are the fathers, and [m]of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came, [n]who is over all, God blessed for ever. Amen.

6 [o]Not as though the word of God hath taken none effect. For [p]they are not all Is'ra-el, which are of Is'ra-el:

7 [q]Neither, because they are the seed of A'bra-ham, are they all children: but, In [r]I'saac shall thy seed be called.

8 That is, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but [s]the children of the promise are counted for the seed.

9 For this is the word of promise, [t]At this time will I come, and Sa'rah shall have a son.

10 And not only this; but when [u]Rebec'ca also had conceived by one, even by our father I'saac, 12 It was said unto her, [y]The [3]elder shall serve the [4]younger.

13 As it is written, [z]Ja'cob have I loved, but E'sau have I hated.

14 What shall we say then? [a]Is there unrighteousness with God? God forbid.

I will have compassion on whom I will have compassion.

16 So then it is not of him that willeth, nor of him that runneth, but of God that showeth mercy.

17 For [c]the Scripture saith unto Pha'raoh, [d]Even for this same purpose have I raised thee up, that I might show my power in thee, and that my name might be declared throughout all the earth.

18 Therefore hath he mercy on whom he will have mercy, and whom he will he hardeneth.

19 Thou wilt say then unto me, Why doth he yet find fault? For [e]who hath resisted his will?

20 Nay but, O man, who art thou that [5]repliest against God? [f]Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus?

21 Hath not the [g]potter power over the clay, of the same lump to make [h]one vessel unto honour, and another unto dishonour?

22 What if God, willing to show his wrath, and to make his power known, endured with much longsuffering [i]the vessels of wrath [6][k]fitted to destruction:

23 And that he might make known [l]the riches of his glory on the vessels of mercy, which he had [m]afore prepared unto glory,

24 Even us, whom he hath called, [n]not of the Jews only, but also of the Gen'tiles?

25 As he saith also in Ho-se'a, [o]I will call them my people, which were not my people; and her beloved, which was not beloved.

26 [p]And it shall come to pass, that in the place where it was said unto them, Ye are not my people; there shall they be called the children of the living God.

27 E-sa'ias also crieth concerning Is'ra-el, [q]Though the number of the children of Is'ra-el be as the sand of the sea, [r]a remnant shall be saved:

28 For he will finish [7]the work, and cut it short in righteousness: [s]because a short work will the Lord make upon the earth.

29 And as E-sa'ias said before, [t]Except the Lord of Sab-a'oth had left us a seed, [u]we had been as Sod'om, and been made like unto Go-mor'rah.

30 What shall we say then? [x]That the Gen'tiles, which followed not after righteousness, have attained to righteousness, [y]even the righteousness which is of faith.

31 But Is'ra-el, [z]which followed after the law of righteousness, [a]hath not attained to the law of righteousness.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the works of the law. For [b]they stumbled at that stumblingstone;

33 As it is written, [c]Behold, I lay in Zi'on a stumblingstone and rock of offence: and [d]whosoever believeth on him shall not be [8]ashamed.

CHAPTER X.

Paul's desire for the salvation of Israel. 2 The difference between the righteousness of the law and that of faith. 11 All, both Jew and Gentile, who believe, shall be saved. 19 Israel not ignorant of these things.

BRETHREN, my heart's desire and prayer to God for Is'ra-el is, that they might be saved.

2 For I bear them record [a]that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge.

3 For they, being ignorant of [b]God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own [c]righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God.

4 For [d]Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth.

5 For Mo'ses describeth the righteousness which is of the law, [e]That the man which doeth those things shall live by them.

6 But the righteousness which is of faith speaketh on this wise, [f]Say not in thine heart, Who shall ascend into heaven? that is, to bring Christ down from above:

7 Or, Who shall descend into the deep? that is, to bring up Christ again from the dead.

8 But what saith it? [g]The word is nigh thee, even in thy mouth, and in thy heart: that is, the word of faith, which we preach;

9 That [h]if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Lord Je'sus, and shalt believe in thine heart that God hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

10 For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness; and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation.

11 For the Scripture saith, [i]Whosoever believeth on him shall not be ashamed.

12 For [k]there is no difference between the Jew and the Greek: for [l]the same Lord over all [m]is rich unto all that call upon him.

13 [n]For whosoever shall call [o]upon the name of the Lord shall be saved.

14 How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him of whom they have not heard? and how shall they hear [p]without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? as it is written, [q]How beautiful are the feet of them that preach the gospel of peace, and bring glad tidings of good things!

16 But [r]they have not all obeyed the gospel. For E-sa'ias saith, [s]Lord, who hath believed [1]our [2]report?

17 So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God.

18 But I say, Have they not heard? Yes verily, [t]their sound went into all the earth, [u]and their words unto the ends of the world.

19 But I say, Did not Is'ra-el know? First Mo'ses saith, [x]I will provoke you to jealousy by them that are no people, and by a [y]foolish nation I will anger you.

20 But E-sa'ias is very bold, and saith, [z]I was found of them that sought me not; I was made manifest unto them that asked not after me.

21 But to Is'ra-el he saith, [a]All day long I have stretched forth my hands unto a disobedient and gainsaying people.

CHAPTER XI.

God hath not cast off all Israel. 5 There is a remnant according to the election of grace, and the rest are blinded. 11 Through their fall salvation is come to the Gentiles. 12 If the fall of them be the riches of the world, how much more their fulness. 24 They will be restored. 33 God's judgments are unsearchable.

I SAY then, [a]Hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For [b]I also am an Is'ra-el-ite, of the seed of A'bra-ham, of the tribe of Ben'ja-min.

2 God hath not cast away his people which [c]he foreknew. Wot ye not what the Scripture saith [1]of E-li'as? how he maketh intercession to God against Is'ra-el, saying,

3 [d]Lord, they have killed thy prophets, and digged down thine altars; and I am left alone, and they seek my life.

4 But what saith the answer of God unto him? [e]I have reserved to myself seven thousand men, who have not bowed the knee to the image of Ba'al.

5 [f]Even so then at this present time also there is a remnant according to the election of grace.

6 And [g]if by grace, then is it no more of works: otherwise grace is no more grace. But if it be of works, then is it no more grace: otherwise work is no more work.

7 What then? [h]Is'ra-el hath not obtained that which he seeketh for; but the election hath obtained it, and the rest were [2]blinded;

8 According as it is written, [i]God hath given them the spirit of [3]slumber, [k]eyes that they should not see, and ears that they should not hear, unto this day.

9 And Da'vid saith, [l]Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumblingblock, and a recompense unto them:

10 [m]Let their eyes be darkened, that they may not see, and bow down their back alway.

11 I say then, Have they stumbled that they should fall? God forbid: but rather [n]through their fall salvation is come unto the Gen'tiles, for to provoke them to jealousy.

12 Now if the fall of them be the riches of the world, and the [4]diminishing of them the riches of the Gen'tiles; how much more their fulness?

13 For I speak to you Gen'tiles, inasmuch as [o]I am the apostle of the Gen'tiles, I magnify mine office:

14 If by any means I may provoke to emulation them which are my flesh, and [p]might save some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiving of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if [q]the firstfruit be holy, the lump is also holy: and if the root be holy, so are the branches.

17 And if [r]some of the branches be broken off, [s]and thou, being a wild olive tree, wert graffed in [5]among them, and with them partakest of the root and fatness of the olive tree;

18 [t]Boast not against the branches. But if thou boast, thou bearest not the root, but the root thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches were broken off, that I might be graffed in.

20 Well; because of unbelief they were broken off, and thou standest by faith. [u]Be not highminded, but [x]fear:

21 For if God spared not the natural branches, take heed lest he also spare not thee.

22 Behold therefore the goodness and severity of God: on them which fell, severity; but toward thee, goodness, [y]if thou continue in his goodness: otherwise [z]thou also shalt be cut off.

23 And they also, [a]if they abide not still in unbelief, shall be graffed in: for God is able to graff them in again.

24 For if thou wert cut out of the olive tree which is wild by nature, and wert graffed contrary to nature into a good olive tree; how much more shall these, which be the natural branches, be graffed into their own olive tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mystery, lest ye should be [b]wise in your own conceits, that [c][6]blindness in part is happened to Is'ra-el, [d]until the fulness of the Gen'tiles be come in.

26 And so all Is'ra-el shall be saved: as it is written, [e]There shall come out of Zi'on the Deliverer, and shall turn away ungodliness from Ja'cob:

27 [f]For this is my covenant unto them, when I shall take away their sins.

28 As concerning the gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the election, they are [g]beloved for the fathers' sakes.

29 For the gifts and calling of God are [h]without repentance.

30 For as ye [i]in times past have not [7]believed God, yet have now obtained mercy through their unbelief:

31 Even so have these also now not [8]believed, that through your mercy they also may obtain mercy.

32 For [k]God hath [9]concluded them all in unbelief, that he might have mercy upon all.

33 Oh the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! [l]how unsearchable are his judgments, and [m]his ways past finding out!

34 [n]For who hath known the mind of the Lord? or [o]who hath been his counsellor?

35 Or [p]who hath first given to him, and it shall be recompensed unto him again?

36 For [q]of him, and through him, and to him, are all things: [r]to [10]whom be glory for ever. Amen.

CHAPTER XII.

They are exhorted to devote themselves to the service of God, 3 to be humble, 6 and to use diligently their various gifts. 9 Sundry other duties enjoined.

I [a]BESEECH you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, [b]that ye [c]present your bodies [d]a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

2 And [e]be not conformed to this world: but [f]be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may [g]prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

3 For I say, [h]through the grace given unto me, to every man that is among you, [i]not to think of himself more highly than he ought to think; but to think [1]soberly, according as God hath dealt [k]to every man the measure of faith.

4 For [l]as we have many members in one body, and all members have not the same office:

5 So [m]we, being many, are one body in Christ, and every one members one of another.

6 [n]Having then gifts differing [o]according to the grace that is given to us, whether [p]prophecy, let us prophesy according to the proportion of faith;

7 Or ministry, let us wait on our ministering; or [q]he that teacheth, on teaching;

8 Or [r]he that exhorteth, on exhortation: [s]he that [2]giveth, let him do it [3]with simplicity; [t]he that ruleth, with diligence; he that showeth mercy, [u]with cheerfulness.

9 [x]Let love be without dissimulation. [y]Abhor that which is evil; cleave to that which is good.

10 [z]Be kindly affectioned one to another [4]with brotherly love; [a]in honour preferring one another;

21 Be not overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good.

CHAPTER XIII.

Subjection, and many other duties, we owe to magistrates. 8 Love is the fulfilling of the law. 11 Gluttony, drunkenness, and other works of darkness, are to be put away.

LET every soul [a] be subject unto the higher powers. For [b] there is no power but of God: the powers that be are [1] ordained of God.

2 Whosoever therefore resisteth [c] the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist shall receive to themselves damnation.

3 For rulers are not a terror to good works, but to the evil. Wilt thou then not be afraid of the power? [d] do that which is good, and thou shalt have praise of the same:

4 For he is the minister of God to thee for good. But if thou do that which is evil, be afraid; for he beareth not the sword in vain: for he is the minister of God, a revenger to execute wrath upon him that doeth evil.

5 Wherefore [e] ye must needs be subject, not only for wrath, [f] but also for conscience' sake.

6 For, for this cause pay ye tribute also: for they are God's ministers, attending continually upon this very thing.

7 [g] Render therefore to all their dues: tribute to whom tribute is due; custom to whom custom; fear to whom fear; honour to whom honour.

8 Owe no man any thing, but to love one another: for [h] he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law.

9 For this, [i] Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not kill, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witness, Thou shalt not covet; and if there be any other commandment, it is briefly comprehended in this saying, namely, [k] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

10 Love worketh no ill to his neighbour: therefore [l] love is the fulfilling of the law.

11 And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time [m] to awake out of sleep: for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed.

12 The night is far spent, the day is at hand: [n] let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and [o] let us put on the armour of light.

13 [p] Let us walk [2] honestly, as in the day; [q] not in rioting and drunkenness, [r] not in chambering and wantonness, [s] not in strife and envying:

14 But [t] put ye on the Lord Je'sus Christ, and [u] make not provision for the flesh, to fulfil the lusts thereof.

CHAPTER XIV.

Men may not despise nor condemn one another for things indifferent; 13 but must take heed that they give no offence in them; 15 for that the apostle proveth unlawful by many reasons.

HIM that [a] is weak in the faith receive ye, but [1] not to doubtful disputations.

2 For one believeth that he [b] may eat all things: another, who is weak, eateth herbs.

3 Let not him that eateth despise him that eateth not; and [c] let not him which eateth not judge him that eateth: for God hath received him.

4 [d] Who art thou that judgest another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth; yea, he shall be holden up: for God is able to make him stand.

5 [e] One man esteemeth one day above another: another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be [2] fully persuaded in his own mind.

6 He that [f] [3] regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day, to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for [g] he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

7 For [h] none of us liveth to himself, and no man dieth to himself.

8 For whether we live, we live unto the Lord; and whether we die, we die unto the Lord: whether we live therefore, or die, we are the Lord's.

9 For [i] to this end Christ both died, and rose, and revived, that he might be [k] Lord both of the dead and living.

10 But why dost thou judge thy brother? or why dost thou set at nought thy brother? for [l] we shall all stand before the judgment seat of Christ.

11 For it is written, [m] As I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God.

12 So then [n] every one of us shall give account of himself to God.

13 Let us not therefore judge one another any more: but judge this rather, that [o] no man put a stumblingblock or an occasion to fall in his brother's way.

14 I know, and am persuaded by the Lord Je'sus, [p] that there is nothing [4] unclean of itself: but [q] to him that esteemeth any thing to be [5] unclean, to him it is unclean.

15 But if thy brother be grieved with thy meat, now walkest thou not [6] charitably. [r] Destroy not him with thy meat, for whom Christ died.

16 [s] Let not then your good be evil spoken of:

17 [t] For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serveth Christ [u] is acceptable to God, and approved of men.

19 [x] Let us therefore follow after the things which make for peace, and things wherewith [y] one may edify another.

20 [z] For meat destroy not the work of God. [a] All things indeed are pure; [b] but it is evil for that man who eateth with offence.

21 It is good neither to eat [c] flesh, nor to drink wine, nor any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, or is offended, or is made weak.

22 Hast thou faith? have it to thyself before God. [d] Happy is he that condemneth not himself in that thing which he alloweth.

23 And he that [7] doubteth is damned if he eat, because he eateth not of faith: for [e] whatsoever is not of faith is sin.

CHAPTER XV.

The strong must bear with the weak: we may not please ourselves, for so did not Christ. 7 We must receive one another, as Christ did us all, both Jews and Gentiles. 15 Paul excuseth his manner of writing, 28 and promiseth to see them, 30 and requesteth their prayers.

WE [a] then that are strong ought to bear the [b] infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves.

2 [c] Let every one of us please his neighbour for his good [d] to edification.

3 [e] For even Christ pleased not himself; but, as it is written, [f] The reproaches of them that reproached thee fell on me.

4 For [g] whatsoever things were written aforetime were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures might have hope.

5 [h] Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be likeminded one toward another [1] according to Christ Je'sus:

6 That ye may [i] with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Je'sus Christ.

7 Wherefore [k] receive ye one another, [l] as Christ also received us, to the glory of God.

8 Now I say that [m] Je'sus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the truth of God, [n] to confirm the promises made unto the fathers:

9 And [o] that the Gen'tiles might glorify God for his mercy; as it is written, [p] For this cause I will confess to thee among the Gen'tiles, and sing unto thy name.

10 And again he saith, [q] Rejoice, ye Gen'tiles, with his people.

11 And again, [r] Praise the Lord, all ye Gen'tiles; and laud him, all ye people.

12 And again, E-sa'ias saith, [s] There shall be a root of Jes'se, and he that shall rise to reign over the Gen'tiles; in him shall the Gen'tiles trust.

13 Now the God of hope fill you with all [t] joy and peace in believing, that ye may abound in hope, through the power of the Holy Ghost.

14 And [u] I myself also am persuaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodness, [w] filled with all knowledge, able also to admonish one another.

15 Nevertheless, brethren, I have written the more boldly unto you in some sort, as putting you in mind, [x] because of the grace that is given to me of God,

16 That [y] I should be the minister of Je'sus Christ to the Gen'tiles, ministering the gospel of God, that the [2] [z] offering up of the Gen'tiles might be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost.

17 I have therefore whereof I may glory through Je'sus Christ [a] in those things which pertain to God.

18 For I will not dare to speak of any of those things [b] which Christ hath not wrought by me, [c] to make the Gen'tiles obedient, by word and deed,

19 [d] Through mighty signs and wonders, by the power of the Spirit of God; so that from Je-ru'sa-lem, and round about unto Il-lyr'i-cum, I have fully preached the gospel of Christ.

20 Yea, so have I strived to preach the gospel, not where Christ was named, [e] lest I should build upon another man's foundation:

21 But as it is written, [f] To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that have not heard shall understand.

22 For which cause also [g] I have been [3] much hindered from coming to you.

23 But now having no more place in these parts, and [h] having a great desire these many years to come unto you;

24 Whensoever I take my journey into Spain, I will come to you: for I trust to see you in my journey, [i] and to be brought 26 For [l] it hath pleased them of Ma-ce-do'ni-a and A-cha'i-a to make a certain contribution for the poor saints which are at Je-ru'sa-lem.

27 It hath pleased them verily; and their debtors they are. For [m] if the Gen'tiles have been made partakers of their spiritual things, [n] their duty is also to minister unto them in carnal things.

28 When therefore I have performed this, and have sealed to them [o] this fruit, I will come by you into Spain.

29 [p] And I am sure that, when I come unto you, I shall come in the fulness of the blessing of the gospel of Christ.

CHAPTER XVI.

The apostle commendeth Phebe, and desireth the brethren to greet many; 17 he beseecheth them to mark those who cause divisions and offences: 21 and after sundry salutations endeth with praise and thanks to God.

I COMMEND unto you Phe'be our sister, which is a servant of the church which is at [a] Cen'chre-a:

2 [b] That ye receive her in the Lord, as becometh saints, and that ye assist her in whatsoever business she hath need of you: for she hath been a succourer of many, and of myself also.

3 Greet [c] Pris-cil'la and A-quil'a, my helpers in Christ Je'sus:

4 Who have for my life laid down their own necks: unto whom not only I give thanks, but also all the churches of the Gen'tiles.

5 Likewise greet [d] the church that is in their house. Salute my well beloved E-pen-e'tus, who is [e] the firstfruits of A-cha'i-a unto Christ.

6 Greet Ma'ry, who bestowed much labour on us.

7 Salute An-dron'i-cus and Ju'ni-a, my kinsmen, and my fellow prisoners, who are of note among the apostles, who also [f] were in Christ before me.

8 Greet Am'pli-as, my beloved in the Lord.

17 Now I beseech you, brethren, mark them [i] which cause divisions and offences contrary to the doctrine which ye have learned; and [k] avoid them.

18 For they that are such serve not our Lord Je'sus Christ, but [l] their own belly; and [m] by good words and fair speeches deceive the hearts of the simple.

23 [y] Ga'ius mine host, and of the whole church, saluteth you. [z] E-ras'tus the chamberlain of the city saluteth you, and Quar'tus a brother.

24 [a] The grace of our Lord Je'sus Christ be with you all. Amen.

25 Now [b] to him that is of power to stablish you [c] according to my gospel, and the preaching of Je'sus Christ, [d] according to the revelation of the mystery, [e] which was kept secret since the world began,

26 But [f] now is made manifest, and by the scriptures of the prophets, according to the commandment of the everlasting God, made known to all nations for [g] the obedience of faith:

27 To [h] God only wise, be glory through Je'sus Christ for ever. Amen.

THE
FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
TO THE CORINTHIANS.

The genuineness of this epistle was never called in question. It was written from Ephesus about the year 57. Christianity was first planted at Corinth by Paul, who resided in that city a year and six months between the years 51 and 53. The Church was composed of Jews and Gentiles, but chiefly of the latter, and the apostle had to combat Jewish superstition and heathen licentiousness. On his departure from Corinth he was succeeded by Apollos, "an eloquent man and mighty in the Scriptures," who preached with great success. Aquila and Sosthenes were also eminent teachers in this Church. Shortly after Paul left Corinth disputes began to arise, and parties were formed in the Church, calling themselves by the names of their distinguished teachers, one party boasting that they were the followers of Paul, and another that they were followers of Apollos, and still another that they were disciples of Cephas. The design of this epistle was to correct this state of things, and also to answer some queries addressed to Paul by the Christians at Corinth. It is divided into three parts. The first contains the introduction, and refers to the gifts of the Holy Spirit received by the Corinthians; the second is a discussion of various points connected with the Christian Church, and a reproof of the corruptions which disgraced it; the third comprises directions relative to the contributions for the saints at Jerusalem, and various salutations.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation and thanksgiving. 10 He reproveth their contentions. 18 The preaching of the cross the power of God. 26 No flesh may glory before him.

PAUL, [a] called to be an apostle of Je'sus Christ [b] through the will of God, and [c] Sos'the-nes our brother,

2 Unto the church of God which is at Cor'inth, [d] to them that [e] are sanctified in Christ Je'sus, [f] called to be saints, with all that in every place [g] call upon the name of Je'sus Christ [h] our Lord, [i] both theirs and ours:

3 [k] Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father, and from the Lord Je'sus Christ.

4 [l] I thank my God always on your behalf, for the grace of God which is given you by Je'sus Christ;

5 That in every thing ye are enriched by him, [m] in all utterance, and in all knowledge;

6 Even as [n] the testimony of Christ was confirmed in you:

7 So that ye come behind in no gift; [o] waiting for the [1] coming of our Lord Je'sus Christ:

8 [p] Who shall also confirm you unto the end, [q] that ye may be blameless in the day of our Lord Je'sus Christ.

9 [r] God is faithful, by whom ye were called unto [s] the fellowship of his Son Je'sus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Je'sus Christ, [t] that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no [2] divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment.

11 For it hath been declared unto me of you, my brethren, by them which are of the house of Chlo'e, that there are contentions among you.

12 Now this I say, [u] that every one of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of [x] A-pol'los; and I of [y] Ce'phas; and I of Christ.

13 [z] Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were ye baptized in the name of Paul?

14 I thank God that I baptized none of you, but [a] Cris'pus and [b] Ga'ius;

15 Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name.

16 And I baptized also the household of [c] Steph'a-nas: besides, I know not whether I baptized any other.

17 For Christ sent me not to baptize, but to preach the gospel: [d] not with wisdom of [3] words, lest the cross of Christ should be made of none effect.

18 For the preaching of the cross is to [e] them that perish, [f] foolishness; but unto us [g] which are saved, it is the [h] power of God.

19 For it is written, [i] I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and will bring to nothing the understanding of the prudent.

20 [k] Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? [l] hath not God made foolish the wisdom of this world?

21 [m] For after that in the wisdom of God the world by wisdom knew not God, it pleased God by the foolishness of preaching to save them that believe.

22 For the [n]Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom:

23 But we preach Christ crucified, [o]unto the Jews a stumblingblock, and unto the Greeks [p]foolishness;

24 But unto them which are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ [q]the power of God, and [r]the wisdom of God.

25 Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men; and the weakness of God is stronger than men.

26 For ye see your calling, brethren, how that [s]not many wise men after the flesh, not many mighty, not many noble, are called:

27 But [t]God hath chosen the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; and God hath chosen the weak things of the world to confound the things which are mighty;

28 And base things of the world, and things which are despised, hath God chosen, yea, and [u]things which are not, [x]to bring to nought things that are:

29 [y]That no flesh should glory in his presence.

30 But of him are ye in Christ Je'sus, who of God is made unto us [z]wisdom, and [a]righteousness, and [b]sanctification, and [c]redemption:

31 That, according as it is written, [d]He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

CHAPTER II.

The manner in which the apostle had preached the gospel to them. 6 The wisdom of God is revealed in the gospel, 14 but the natural man receiveth it not.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, [a]came not with excellency of speech or of wisdom, declaring unto you [b]the testimony of God.

2 For I determined not to know any thing among you, [c]save Je'sus Christ, and him crucified.

3 And [d]I was with you [e]in weakness, and in fear, and in much trembling.

4 And my speech and my preaching [f]was not with [1]enticing words of man's wisdom, [g]but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power:

5 That your faith should not [2]stand in the wisdom of men, but [h]in the power of God.

6 Howbeit we speak wisdom among them [i]that are perfect: yet not [k]the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, [l]that come to nought:

7 But we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, [m]which God ordained before the world unto our glory;

8 [n]Which none of the princes of this world knew: for [o]had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.

9 But as it is written, [p]Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that love him.

10 But [q]God hath revealed them unto us by his Spirit: for the Spirit searcheth all things, yea, the deep things of God.

11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, [r]save the spirit of man which is in him? [s]even so the things of God knoweth no man, but the Spirit of God.

12 Now we have received, not the spirit of the world, but [t]the spirit which is of God; that we might know the things that are freely given to us of God.

13 [u]Which things also we speak, not in the words which man's wisdom teacheth, but which the Holy Ghost teacheth; comparing spiritual things with spiritual.

14 [x]But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God; [y]for they are foolishness unto him: [z]neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.

15 [a]But he that is spiritual [3]judgeth all things, yet he himself is [4]judged of no man.

16 [b]For who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he [5]may instruct him? [c]But we have the mind of Christ.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle speaketh unto them as unto babes and as carnal. 5 He and Apollos ministers by whom they believed. 11 Christ the only foundation. 16 Believers are the temple of God. 19 The wisdom of the world is foolishness with God.

AND I, brethren, could not speak unto you as unto [a]spiritual, but as unto [b]carnal, even as unto [c]babes in Christ.

2 I have fed you with [d]milk, and not with meat: [e]for hitherto ye were not able to bear it, neither yet now are ye able.

3 For ye are yet carnal: for [f]whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and [1]divisions, are ye not carnal, and walk [2]as men?

4 For while one saith, [g]I am of Paul; and another, I am of A-pol'los; are ye not carnal?

5 Who then is Paul, and who is A-pol'los, but [h]ministers by whom ye believed, [i]even as the Lord gave to every man?

6 [k]I have planted, [l]A-pol'los watered; [m]but God gave the increase.

7 So then [n]neither is he that planteth any thing, neither he that watereth; but God that giveth the increase.

8 Now he that planteth and he that watereth are one: [o]and every man shall receive his own reward according to his own labour.

9 For [p]we are labourers together with God: ye are God's [3]husbandry, ye are [q]God's building.

10 [r]According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid [s]the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But [t]let every man take heed how he buildeth thereupon.

11 For other foundation can no man lay than [u]that is laid, [x]which is Je'sus Christ.

12 Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble;

13 [y]Every man's work shall be made manifest: for the day [z]shall declare it, because [a]it [4]shall be revealed by fire; and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is.

14 If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon, [b]he shall receive a reward.

15 If any man's work shall be burned, he shall suffer loss: but he himself shall be saved; [c]yet so as by fire.

16 [d]Know ye not that ye are the temple of God, and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in you?

17 If any man [5]defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy; for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 [e]Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.

19 For [f]the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God: for it is written, [g]He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.

20 And again, [h]The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

21 Therefore [i]let no man glory in men: for [k]all things are yours;

22 Whether Paul, or A-pol'los, or Ce'phas, or the world, or life, or death, or things present, or things to come; all are yours;

23 And [l]ye are Christ's; and Christ is God's.

CHAPTER IV.

Paul and his fellow labourers the ministers of Christ. 7 Vain boasting reproved. 9 The apostles a spectacle to the world, angels, and men. 14 As his beloved sons the apostle warneth the Corinthians.

LET a man so account of us, as of [a]the ministers of Christ, [b]and stewards of the mysteries of God.

2 Moreover it is required in stewards, that a man be found faithful.

3 But with me it is a very small thing that I should be judged of you, or of man's [1]judgment: yea, I judge not mine own self.

4 For I know nothing by myself; [c]yet am I not hereby justified: but he that judgeth me is the Lord.

5 [d]Therefore judge nothing before the time, until the Lord come, [e]who both will bring to light the hidden things of darkness, and will make manifest the counsels of the hearts: and [f]then shall every man have praise of God.

6 And these things, brethren, [g]I have in a figure transferred to myself and to A-pol'los for your sakes; [h]that ye might learn in us not to think of men above that which is written, that no one of you [i]be puffed up for one against another.

7 For who [2]maketh thee to differ from another? and [k]what hast thou that thou didst not receive? now if thou didst receive it, why dost thou glory, as if thou hadst not received it?

8 Now ye are full, [l]now ye are rich, ye have reigned as kings without us: and I would to God ye did reign, that we also might reign with you.

9 For I think that God hath set forth us the apostles last, [m]as it were appointed to death: for [n]we are made a [3]spectacle unto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 [o]We are [p]fools for Christ's sake, but ye are wise in Christ; [q]we are weak, but ye are strong; ye are honourable, but we are despised.

11 [r]Even unto this present hour we both hunger, and thirst, and [s]are naked, and [t]are buffeted, and have no certain dwellingplace;

12 [u]And labour, working with our own hands: [x]being reviled, we bless; being persecuted, we suffer it:

13 Being defamed, we entreat: [y]we are made as the filth of the world, and are the offscouring of all things unto this day.

14 I write not these things to shame you, but [z]as my beloved sons I warn you.

15 For though ye have ten thousand instructors in Christ, yet have ye not many fathers: for [a]in Christ Je'sus I have begotten you through the gospel.

16 Wherefore I beseech you, [b]be ye followers of me.

17 For this cause have I sent unto you [c]Ti-mo'the-us, [d]who is my beloved son, and faithful in the Lord, who shall bring you [e]into remembrance of my ways which be in Christ, as I [f]teach every where [g]in every church.

18 [h]Now some are puffed up, as though I would not come to you.

19 [i]But I will come to you shortly, [k]if the Lord will, and will know, not the speech of them which are puffed up, but the power.

20 For [l]the kingdom of God is not in word, but in power.

21 What will ye? [m]shall I come unto you with a rod, or in love, and in the spirit of meekness?

CHAPTER V.

The incestuous person to be excommunicated. 7 The old leaven is to be purged out. 10 Offenders in the church are to be avoided.

IT is reported commonly that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as is not so much as [a]named among the Gen'tiles, [b]that one should have his [c]father's wife.

2 [d]And ye are puffed up, and have not rather [e]mourned, that he that hath done this deed might be taken away from among you.

3 [f]For I verily, as absent in body, but present in spirit, have [1]judged already, as though I were present, concerning him that hath so done this deed,

4 In the name of our Lord Je'sus Christ, when ye are gathered together, and my spirit, [g]with the power of our Lord Je'sus Christ,

5 [h]To deliver such a one unto [i]Sa'tan for the destruction of the flesh, that the spirit may be saved in the day of the Lord Je'sus.

6 [k]Your glorying is not good. Know ye not that [l]a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump?

7 Purge out therefore the old leaven, that ye may be a new lump, as ye are unleavened. For even [m]Christ our [n]passover [2]is sacrificed for us:

8 Therefore [o]let us keep [3]the feast, [p]not with old leaven, neither [q]with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth.

9 I wrote unto you in an epistle [r]not to company with fornicators:

10 [s]Yet not altogether with the fornicators [t]of this world, or with the covetous, or extortioners, or with idolaters; for then must ye needs go [u]out of the world.

11 But now I have written unto you not to keep company, [x]if any man that is called a brother be a fornicator, or covetous, or an idolater, or a railer, or a drunkard, or an extortioner; with such a one [y]no not to eat.

12 For what have I to do to judge [z]them also that are without? do not ye judge [a]them that are within?

13 But them that are without God judgeth. Therefore [b]put away from among yourselves that wicked person.

CHAPTER VI.

The apostle reproveth them for going to law with each other before unbelievers, 8 and for defrauding one another. 12 All things are not expedient. 15 Their bodies are the members of Christ, 19 and temples of the Holy Ghost.

DARE any of you, having a matter against another, go to law before the unjust, and not before the saints?

2 Do ye not know that [a]the saints shall judge the world? and if the world shall be judged by you, are ye unworthy to judge the smallest matters?

3 Know ye not that we shall [b]judge angels? how much more things that pertain to this life?

4 [c]If then ye have judgments of things pertaining to this life, set them to judge who are least esteemed in the church.

5 I speak to your shame. Is it so, that there is not a wise man among you? no, not one that shall be able to judge between his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that before the unbelievers.

7 Now therefore there is utterly a fault among you, because ye go to law one with another. [d]Why do ye not rather take wrong? Why do ye not rather suffer yourselves to be defrauded?

8 Nay, ye do wrong, and defraud, [e]and that your brethren.

9 Know ye not that the unrighteous shall not inherit the kingdom of God? Be not deceived: [f]neither fornicators nor idolaters, nor adulterers, nor effeminate, nor abusers of themselves with mankind,

10 Nor thieves, nor covetous, nor drunkards, nor revilers, nor extortioners, shall inherit the kingdom of God.

11 And such were [g]some of you: [h]but ye are washed, but ye are sanctified, but ye are justified in the name of the Lord Je'sus, and by the Spirit of our God.

12 [i]All things are lawful unto me, but all things are not [1]expedient: all things are lawful for me, but I will not be brought under the power of any.

13 [k]Meats for the belly, and the belly for meats: but God shall destroy both it and them. Now the body is not for fornication, but [l]for the Lord; [m]and the Lord for the body.

14 And [n]God hath both raised up the Lord, and will also raise up us [o]by his own power.

15 Know ye not that [p]your bodies are the members of Christ? shall I then take the members of Christ, and make them the members of a harlot? God forbid.

16 What! know ye not that he which is joined to a harlot is one body? for [q]two, saith he, shall be one flesh.

17 [r]But he that is joined unto the Lord is one spirit.

18 [s]Flee fornication. Every sin that a man doeth is without the body; but he that committeth fornication sinneth [t]against his own body.

19 What! [u]know ye not that your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost which is in you, which ye have of God, [x]and ye are not your own?

20 For [y]ye are bought with a price: therefore glorify God in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.

CHAPTER VII.

The apostle treateth of marriage and its duties 10 The believing partner is not to forsake the unbelieving. 17 Every man must be content with the lot in which God hath called him.

NOW concerning the things whereof ye wrote unto me: [a]It is good for a man not to touch a woman.

2 Nevertheless, to avoid fornication, let every man have his own wife, and let every woman have her own husband.

[a] ver. 8, 26.

3 [b]Let the husband render unto the wife due benevolence: and likewise also the wife unto the husband.

4 The wife hath not power of her own body, but the husband: and likewise also the husband hath not power of his own body, but the wife.

5 [c]Defraud ye not one the other, except it be with consent for a time, that ye may give yourselves to fasting and prayer; and come together again, that [d]Sa'tan tempt you not for your incontinency.

6 But I speak this by permission, [e]and not of commandment.

7 For [f]I would that all men were [g]even as I myself. But [h]every man hath his proper gift of God, one after this manner, and another after that.

8 I say therefore to the unmarried and widows, [i]It is good for them if they abide even as I.

9 But [k]if they cannot contain, let them marry: for it is better to marry than to burn.

10 And unto the married I command, [l]yet not I, but the Lord, [m]Let not the wife depart from her husband:

11 But and if she depart, let her remain unmarried, or be reconciled to her husband: and let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the rest speak I, [n]not the Lord: If any brother hath a wife that believeth not, and she be pleased to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath a husband that believeth not, and if he be pleased to dwell with her, let her not leave him.

14 For the unbelieving husband is sanctified by the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified by the husband: else [o]were your children unclean; but now are they holy.

15 But if the unbelieving depart, let him depart. A brother or a sister is not under bondage in such cases: but God hath called us [p][1]to peace.

16 For what knowest thou, O wife, whether thou shalt [q]save thy husband? or [2]how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt save thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to every man, as the Lord hath called every one, so let him walk. And [r]so ordain I in all churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not become uncircumcised. Is any called in uncircumcision? [s]let him not be circumcised.

19 [t]Circumcision is nothing, and uncircumcision is nothing, but [u]the keeping of the commandments of God.

20 Let every man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called being a servant? care not for it: but if thou mayest be made free, use it rather.

22 For he that is called in the Lord, being a servant, is [x]the Lord's [3]freeman: likewise also he that is called, being free, is [y]Christ's servant.

23 [z]Ye are bought with a price; be not ye the servants of men.

24 Brethren, [a]let every man, wherein he is called, therein abide with God.

25 Now concerning virgins [b]I have no commandment of the Lord: yet I give my judgment, as one [c]that hath obtained mercy of the Lord [d]to be faithful.

26 I suppose therefore that this is good for the present [4]distress, I say, [e]that it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound unto a wife? seek not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seek not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned; and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned. Nevertheless such shall have trouble in the flesh: but I spare you.

29 But [f]this I say, brethren, the time is short: it remaineth, that both they that have wives be as though they had none;

30 And they that weep, as though they wept not; and they that rejoice, as though they rejoiced not; and they that buy, as though they possessed not;

31 And they that use this world, as not [g]abusing it: for [h]the fashion of this world passeth away.

32 But I would have you without carefulness. [i]He that is unmarried careth for the things [5]that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that is married careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference also between a wife and a virgin. The unmarried woman [k]careth for the things of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married careth for the things of the world, how she may please her husband.

35 And this I speak for your own profit; not that I may cast a snare upon you, but for that which is comely, and that ye may attend upon the Lord without distraction.

36 But if any man think that he behaveth himself uncomely toward his virgin, if she pass the flower of her age, and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them marry.

37 Nevertheless he that standeth stedfast in his heart, having no necessity, but hath power over his own will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keep his virgin, doeth well.

38 [l]So then he that giveth her in marriage doeth well; but he that giveth her not in marriage doeth better.

39 [m]The wife is bound by the law as

CHAPTER VIII.

Concerning meats offered to idols. 9 Their Christian liberty must not become a stumblingblock to them that are weak.

NOW [a]as touching things offered unto idols, we know that we all have [b]knowledge. [c]Knowledge puffeth up, but charity edifieth.

2 And [d]if any man think that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man love God, [e]the same is known of him.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice unto idols, we know that [f]an idol is nothing in the world, [g]and that there is none other God but one.

5 For though there be that are [h]called gods, whether in heaven or in earth, as there be gods many, and lords many,

6 But [i]to us there is but one God, the Father, [k]of whom are all things, and we [1]in him; and [l]one Lord Je'sus Christ, [m]by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 Howbeit there is not in every man that knowledge: for some [n]with conscience of the idol unto this hour eat it as a thing offered unto an idol; and their conscience being weak is [o]defiled.

8 But [p]meat commendeth us not to God: for neither, if we eat, [2]are we the better; neither, if we eat not, [3]are we the worse.

9 But [q]take heed lest by any means this [4]liberty of yours become [r]a stumblingblock to them that are weak.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge sit at meat in the idol's temple, shall not [s]the conscience of him which is weak be [5]emboldened to eat those things which are offered to idols;

11 And [t]through thy knowledge shall the weak brother perish, for whom Christ died?

12 But [u]when ye sin so against the brethren, and wound their weak conscience, ye sin against Christ.

13 Wherefore, [x]if meat make my brother to offend, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I make my brother to offend.

CHAPTER IX.

Paul asserteth his apostleship, 7 and that they who preach the gospel ought to live by it; 15 yet that he himself had not been chargeable to them, 19 and had made himself the servant of all. 24 He striveth for an incorruptible crown.

[a]AM I not an apostle? am I not free? [b]have I not seen Je'sus Christ our Lord? [c]are not ye my work in the Lord?

2 If I be not an apostle unto others, yet doubtless I am to you: for [d]the seal of mine apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3 Mine answer to them that do examine me is this:

4 [e]Have we not power to eat and to drink?

5 Have we not power to lead about a sister, a [1]wife, as well as other apostles, and as [f]the brethren of the Lord, and [g]Cephas?

6 Or I only and Bar'na-bas, [h]have not we power to forbear working?

7 Who [i]goeth a warfare any time at his own charges? who [k]planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who [l]feedeth a flock, and eateth not of the milk of the flock?

8 Say I these things as a man? or saith not the law the same also?

9 For it is written in the law of Mo'ses, [m]Thou shalt not muzzle the mouth of the ox that treadeth out the corn. Doth God take care for oxen?

10 Or saith he it altogether for our sakes? For our sakes, no doubt, this is written: that [n]he that ploweth should plough in hope; and that he that thresheth in hope should be partaker of his hope.

11 [o]If we have sown unto you spiritual things, is it a great thing if we shall reap your carnal things?

12 If others be partakers of this power over you, are not we rather? [p]Nevertheless we have not used this power; but suffer all things, [q]lest we should hinder the gospel of Christ.

13 [r]Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things [2]live of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar are partakers with the altar?

14 Even so [s]hath the Lord ordained [t]that they which preach the gospel should live of the gospel.

15 But [u]I have used none of these things: neither have I written these things, that it should be so done unto me: for [x]it were better for me to die, than that any man should make my glorying void.

16 For though I preach the gospel, I have nothing to glory of: for [y]necessity is laid upon me; yea, woe is unto me, if I preach not the gospel!

17 For if I do this thing willingly, [z]I have a reward: but if against my will, a [a]dispensation of the gospel is committed unto me.

18 What is my reward then? Verily that, [b]when I preach the gospel, I may make the gospel of Christ without charge, that I [c]abuse not my power in the gospel.

19 For though I be [d]free from all men, yet have [e]I made myself servant unto all, [f]that I might gain the more.

20 And [g]unto the Jews I became as a Jew, that I might gain the Jews; to them that are under the law, as under the law, that I might gain them that are under the law;

CHAPTER X.

Certain miracles in the Old Testament used as types of our sacraments. 5 The punishment of the rebellious Jews a warning to us to avoid the like sins, 15 especially in partaking of the Lord's supper. 24 In things indifferent we must have regard to our brethren and the glory of God.

MOREOVER, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under [a]the cloud, and all passed through [b]the sea;

2 And were all baptized unto Mo'ses in the cloud and in the sea;

3 And did all eat the same [c]spiritual meat;

4 And did all drink the same [d]spiritual drink; for they drank of that spiritual Rock that [1]followed them: and that Rock was Christ.

5 But with many of them God was not well pleased: for they [e]were overthrown in the wilderness.

6 Now these things were [2]our examples, to the intent we should not lust after evil things, as [f]they also lusted.

7 [g]Neither be ye idolaters, as were some of them; as it is written, [h]The people sat down to eat and drink, and rose up to play.

8 [i]Neither let us commit fornication, as some of them committed, and [k]fell in one day three and twenty thousand.

9 Neither let us tempt Christ, as [l]some of them also tempted, and [m]were destroyed of serpents.

10 Neither murmur ye, as [n]some of them also murmured, and [o]were destroyed of [p]the destroyer.

11 Now all these things happened unto them for [3]ensamples: and [q]they are written for our admonition, [r]upon whom the ends of the world are come.

12 Wherefore [s]let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

13 There hath no temptation taken you but such as is [4]common to man: but [t]God is faithful, [u]who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able; but will with the temptation also [x]make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it.

14 Wherefore, my dearly beloved, [y]flee from idolatry.

15 I speak as to [z]wise men; judge ye what I say.

16 [a]The cup of blessing which we bless, is it not the communion of the blood of Christ? [b]The bread which we break, is it not the communion of the body of Christ?

17 For [c]we being many are one bread, and one body: for we are all partakers of that one bread.

18 Behold [d]Is'ra-el [e]after the flesh: [f]are not they which eat of the sacrifices partakers of the altar?

19 What say I then? [g]that the idol is any thing, or that which is offered in sacrifice to idols is any thing?

20 But I say, that the things which the Gen'tiles [h]sacrifice, they sacrifice to devils, and not to God: and I would not that ye should have fellowship with devils.

21 [i]Ye cannot drink the cup of the Lord, and [k]the cup of devils: ye cannot be partakers of the Lord's table, and of the table of devils.

22 Do we [l]provoke the Lord to jealousy? [m]are we stronger than he?

23 [n]All things are lawful for me, but all things are not expedient: all things are lawful for me, but all things edify not.

24 [o]Let no man seek his own, but every man another's wealth.

25 [p]Whatsoever is sold in the shambles, that eat, asking no question for conscience' sake:

26 For [q]the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof.

27 If any of them that believe not bid you to a feast, and ye be disposed to go; [r]whatsoever is set before you, eat, asking no question for conscience' sake.

28 But if any man say unto you, This is offered in sacrifice unto idols, eat not [s]for his sake that showed it, and for conscience' sake: for [t]the earth is the Lord's, and the fulness thereof:

29 Conscience, I say, not thine own, but of the other: for [u]why is my liberty judged of another man's conscience?

30 For if I by [5]grace be a partaker, why am I evil spoken of for that [x]for which I give thanks?

31 [y]Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

32 [z]Give none offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the [6]Gen'tiles, nor to [a]the church of God:

33 Even as [b]I please all men in all things, [c]not seeking mine own profit, but the profit of many, that they may be saved.

CHAPTER XI.

The apostle reproveth the practice of men praying with their heads covered, and of women with theirs uncovered. 17 He rebuketh them for their divisions, 20 and for profaning the Lord's supper. 23 His account of its institution.

BE [a]ye followers of me, even as I also am of Christ.

2 Now I praise you, brethren, [b]that ye remember me in all things, and [c]keep the [1]ordinances, as I delivered them to you.

3 But I would have you know, that [d]the head of every man is Christ; and [e]the head of the woman is the man; and [f]the head of Christ is God.

4 Every man praying or [g]prophesying, having his head covered, dishonoureth his head.

5 But [h]every woman that prayeth or prophesieth with her head uncovered dishonoureth her head: for that is even all one as if she were [i]shaven.

6 For if the woman be not covered, let her also be shorn: but if it be [k]a shame for a woman to be shorn or shaven, let her be covered.

7 For a man indeed ought not to cover his head, forasmuch as [l]he is the image and glory of God: but the woman is the glory of the man.

8 For [m]the man is not of the woman; but the woman of the man.

9 [n]Neither was the man created for the woman; but the woman for the man.

10 For this cause ought the woman [o]to have [2]power on her head [p]because of the angels.

11 Nevertheless [q]neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, even so is the man also by the woman; [r]but all things of God.

13 Judge in yourselves: is it comely that a woman pray unto God uncovered?

14 Doth not even nature itself teach you, that, if a man have long hair, it is a shame unto him?

15 But if a woman have long hair, it is a glory to her: for her hair is given her for a [3]covering.

16 But [s]if any man seem to be contentious, we have no such custom, [t]neither the churches of God.

17 Now in this that I declare unto you I praise you not, that ye come together not for the better, but for the worse.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the church, [u]I hear that there be [4]divisions among you; and I partly believe it.

19 For [x]there must be also [5]heresies among you, [y]that they which are approved may be made manifest among you.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, [6]this is not to eat the Lord's supper.

21 For in eating every one taketh before other his own supper: and one is hungry, and [z]another is drunken.

22 What! have ye not houses to eat and to drink in? or despise ye [a]the church of God, and [b]shame [7]them that have not? What shall I say to you? shall I praise you in this? I praise you not.

23 For [c]I have received of the Lord that which also I delivered unto you, [d]That the Lord Je'sus, the same night in which he was betrayed, took bread:

24 And when he had given thanks, he brake it, and said, Take, eat; this is my body, which is broken for you: this do [8]in remembrance of me.

25 After the same manner also he took the cup, when he had supped, saying, This cup is the new testament in my blood: this do ye, as oft as ye drink it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, [9]ye do show the Lord's death [e]till he come.

27 [f]Wherefore whosoever shall eat this bread, and drink this cup of the Lord, unworthily, shall be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord.

28 But [g]let a man examine himself, and so let him eat of that bread, and drink of that cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh unworthily, eateth and drinketh [10]damnation to himself, not discerning the Lord's body.

30 For this cause many are weak and sickly among you, and many sleep.

31 For [h]if we would judge ourselves, we should not be judged.

32 But when we are judged, [i]we are chastened of the Lord, that we should not be condemned with the world.

33 Wherefore, my brethren, when ye come together to eat, tarry one for another.

34 And if any man [k]hunger, let him eat at [l]home; that ye come not together unto [11]condemnation. And the rest [m]will I set in order when [n]I come.

CHAPTER XII.

Concerning spiritual gifts. 4 Diversities of gifts, but the same Spirit. 12 As in the natural body there are many members, and all have not the same office, 27 so in the church there are different gifts and offices.

NOW [a]concerning spiritual gifts, brethren, I would not have you ignorant.

2 Ye know [b]that ye were Gen'tiles, carried away unto these [c]dumb idols, even as ye were led.

3 Wherefore I give you to understand, [d]that no man speaking by the Spirit of God calleth Je'sus [1]accursed: and [e]that no man can say that Je'sus is the Lord, but by the Holy Ghost.

4 Now [f]there are diversities of gifts, but [g]the same Spirit.

5 [h]And there are differences of [2]administrations, but the same Lord.

6 And there are diversities of operations, but it is the same God [i]which worketh all in all.

7 [k]But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to every man to profit withal.

8 For to one is given by the Spirit [l]the word of wisdom; to another [m]the word of knowledge by the same Spirit;

9 [n]To another faith by the same Spirit; to another [o]the gifts of healing by the same Spirit;

10 [p]To another the working of miracles; to another [q]prophecy; [r]to another discerning of spirits; to another [s]divers kinds of tongues; to another the interpretation of tongues:

11 But all these worketh that one and the selfsame Spirit, [t]dividing to every man severally [u]as he will.

12 For [x]as the body is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one body, being many, are one body: [y]so also is Christ.

13 For [z]by one Spirit are we all baptized into one body, [a]whether we be Jews or [3]Gen'tiles, whether we be bond or free; and [b]have been all made to drink into one Spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot shall say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the ear shall say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body; is it therefore not of the body?

17 If the whole body were an eye, where were the hearing? If the whole were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath [c]God set the members every one of them in the body, [d]as it hath pleased him.

19 And if they were all one member, where were the body?

20 But now are they many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say unto the hand, I have no need of thee: nor again the head to the feet, I have no need of you.

22 Nay, much more those members of the body, which seem to be more feeble, are necessary:

23 And those members of the body, which we think to be less honourable, upon these we [4]bestow more abundant honour; and our uncomely parts have more abundant comeliness.

24 For our comely parts have no need: but God hath tempered the body together, having given more abundant honour to that part which lacked:

25 That there should be no [5]schism in the body; but that the members should have the same care one for another.

26 And whether one member suffer, all the members suffer with it; or one member be honoured, all the members rejoice with it.

27 Now [e]ye are the body of Christ, and [f]members in particular.

28 And [g]God hath set some in the church, first [h]apostles, secondarily [i]prophets, thirdly teachers, after that [k]miracles, then [l]gifts of healings, [m]helps, [n]governments, [6]diversities of tongues.

29 Are all apostles? are all prophets? are all teachers? are all [7]workers of miracles?

30 Have all the gifts of healing? do all speak with tongues? do all interpret?

31 But [o]covet earnestly the best gifts: and yet show I unto you a more excellent way.

CHAPTER XIII.

All gifts, however excellent, are worth nothing without charity. 4 The praises thereof. 13 It is greater than hope and faith.

THOUGH I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

2 And though I have the gift of [a]prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, [b]so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing.

3 And [c]though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing.

4 [d]Charity suffereth long, and is kind; charity envieth not; charity [1]vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up,

5 Doth not behave itself unseemly, [e]seeketh not her own, is not easily provoked, thinketh no evil;

6 [f]Rejoiceth not in iniquity, but [g]rejoiceth [2]in the truth;

7 [h]Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Charity never faileth: but whether there be prophecies, they shall fail; whether there be tongues, they shall cease; whether there be knowledge, it shall vanish away.

9 [i] For we know in part, and we prophesy in part.

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part shall be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child, I [3] thought as a child: but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For [k] now we see through a glass, [4] darkly; but then [l] face to face: now I know in part; but then shall I know even as also I am known.

13 And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.

The gift of prophecy preferred to speaking with tongues. 12 The end of both is the edification of the church. 26 Directions how to use these gifts. 34 Women forbidden to speak in the church.

FOLLOW after charity, and [a] desire spiritual gifts, [b] but rather that ye may prophesy.

2 For he that [c] speaketh in an unknown tongue speaketh not unto men, but unto God: for no man [1] understandeth him; howbeit in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophesieth speaketh unto men to [d] edification, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh in an unknown tongue edifieth himself; but he that prophesieth edifieth the church.

5 I would that ye all spake with tongues, but rather that ye prophesied: for greater is he that prophesieth than he that speaketh with tongues, except he interpret, that the church may receive edifying.

6 Now brethren, if I come unto you speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speak to you either by [e] revelation, or by knowledge, or by prophesying, or by doctrine?

7 And even things without life giving sound, whether pipe or harp, except they give a distinction in the [2] sounds, how shall it be known what is piped or harped?

8 For [f] if the trumpet give an uncertain sound, who shall prepare himself to the battle?

9 So likewise ye, except ye utter by the tongue words [3] easy to be understood, how shall it be known what is spoken? for ye shall speak into the air.

10 There are, it may be, so many kinds of voices in the world, and none of them is without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be unto him that speaketh a barbarian, and he that speaketh shall be a barbarian unto me.

12 Even so ye, forasmuch as ye are zealous [4] of spiritual gifts, seek that ye may excel to the edifying of the church.

13 Wherefore let him that speaketh in an unknown tongue pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray in an unknown tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my understanding is unfruitful.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and I will pray with the understanding also: [g] I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing [h] with the understanding also.

16 Else, when thou shalt bless with the spirit, how shall he that occupieth the room of the unlearned say Amen [i] at thy giving of thanks, seeing he understandeth not what thou sayest?

17 For thou verily givest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thank my God, I speak with tongues more than ye all:

19 Yet in the church I had rather speak five words with my understanding, that by my voice I might teach others also, than ten thousand words in an unknown tongue.

20 Brethren, [k] be not children in understanding: howbeit in malice [l] be ye children, but in understanding be [5] men.

21 [m] In the law it is [n] written, With men of other tongues and other lips will I speak unto this people; and yet for all that will they not hear me, saith the Lord.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a sign, not to them that believe, but to them that believe not: but prophesying serveth not for them that believe not, but for them which believe.

23 If therefore the whole church be come together into one place, and all speak with tongues, and there come in those that are unlearned, or unbelievers, [o] will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophesy, and there come in one that believeth not, or one unlearned, he is convinced of all, he is judged of all:

25 And thus are the secrets of his heart made manifest; and so falling down on his face he will worship God, and report [p] that God is in you of a truth.

26 How is it then, brethren? when ye come together, every one of you hath a psalm, [q] hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a revelation, hath an interpretation. [r] Let all things be done unto edifying.

27 If any man speak in an unknown tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, and that by course; and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keep silence in the church; and let him speak to himself, and to God.

29 Let the prophets speak two or three, and [s] let the others judge.

30 If any thing be revealed to another that sitteth by, [t] let the first hold his peace.

31 For ye may all prophesy one by one, that all may learn, and all may be comforted.

32 And [u] the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets.

33 For God is not the author of [6] confusion, but of peace, [x] as in all churches of the saints.

34 [y] Let your women keep silence in the churches: for it is not permitted unto them to speak; but [z] they are commanded to be under obedience, as also saith the [a] law.

35 And if they will learn any thing, let them ask their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speak in the church.

36 What! came the word of God out from you? or came it unto you only?

37 [b] If any man think himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him acknowledge that the things that I write unto you are the commandments of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore, brethren, [c] covet to prophesy, and forbid not to speak with tongues.

40 [d] Let all things be done decently and in order.

CHAPTER XV.

The certainty of the resurrection proved by the resurrection of Christ. 35 The manner of the resurrection. 51 Those then living on the earth shall be changed, and the dead raised incorruptible. 54 Death swallowed up in victory.

MOREOVER, brethren, I declare unto you the gospel [a] which I preached unto you, which also ye have received, and [b] wherein ye stand;

2 [c] By which also ye are saved, if ye [1] keep in memory [2] what I preached unto you, unless [d] ye have believed in vain.

3 For [e] I delivered unto you first of all that [f] which I also received, how that Christ died for our sins [g] according to the Scriptures:

4 And that he was buried, and that he rose again the third day [h] according to the Scriptures:

5 [i] And that he was seen of Ce'phas, then [k] of the twelve:

6 After that, he was seen of above five hundred brethren at once; of whom the greater part remain unto this present, but some are fallen asleep.

7 After that, he was seen of James; then [l] of all the apostles.

8 [m] And last of all he was seen of me also, as of [3] one born out of due time.

9 For I am [n] the least of the apostles, that am not meet to be called an apostle, because [o] I persecuted the church of God.

10 But [p] by the grace of God I am what I am: and his grace which was bestowed upon me was not in vain; but [q] I laboured more abundantly than they all: [r] yet not I, but the grace of God which was with me.

11 Therefore whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so ye believed.

12 Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 But if there be no resurrection of the dead, [s] then is Christ not risen:

14 And if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain.

15 Yea, and we are found false witnesses of God; because [t] we have testified of God that he raised up Christ: whom he raised not up, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ raised:

17 And if Christ be not raised, your faith is vain; [u] ye are yet in your sins.

18 Then they also which are fallen asleep in Christ are perished.

19 [x] If in this life only we have hope in Christ, we are of all men most miserable.

20 But now [y] is Christ risen from the dead, and become [z] the firstfruits of them that slept.

21 For [a] since by man came death, [b] by man came also the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as in Ad'am all die, even so in Christ shall all be made alive.

23 But [c] every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming.

24 Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up [d] the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule, and all authority and power.

25 For he must reign, [e] till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

26 [f] The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death.

27 For he [g] hath put all things under his feet. But when he saith, All things are put under him, it is manifest that he is excepted, which did put all things under him.

28 [h] And when all things shall be subdued unto him, then [i] shall the Son also himself be subject unto him that put all things under him, that God may be all in all.

29 Else what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? why are they then baptized for the dead?

30 And [k] why stand we in jeopardy every hour?

31 I protest by [4] [l] your rejoicing which I have in Christ Je'sus our Lord, [m] I die daily.

32 If [5] after the manner of men [n] I have fought with beasts at Eph'e-sus, what advantageth it me, if the dead rise not? [o] let us eat and drink; for to morrow we die.

33 Be not deceived: [p]evil communications corrupt good manners.

34 [q]Awake to righteousness, and sin not; [r]for some have not the knowledge of God: [s]I speak this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, [t]How are the dead raised up? and with what body do they come?

36 Thou fool, [u]that which thou sowest is not quickened, except it die:

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shall be, but bare grain, it may chance of wheat, or of some other grain:

38 But God giveth it a body as it hath pleased him, and to every seed his own body.

39 All flesh is not the same flesh: but there is one kind of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestrial: but the glory of the celestial is one, and the glory of the terrestrial is another.

41 There is one glory of the sun, and another glory of the moon, and another glory of the stars; for one star differeth from another star in glory.

42 [x]So also is the resurrection of the dead. It is sown in corruption, it is raised in incorruption:

43 [y]It is sown in dishonour, it is raised in glory: it is sown in weakness, it is raised in power:

44 It is sown a natural body, it is raised a spiritual body. There is a natural body, and there is a spiritual body.

45 And so it is written, The first man Ad'am [z]was made a living soul; [a]the last Ad'am was made [b]a quickening spirit.

46 Howbeit that was not first which is spiritual, but that which is natural; and afterward that which is spiritual.

47 [c]The first man is of the earth, [d]earthy: the second man is the Lord [e]from heaven.

48 As is the earthy, such are they also that are earthy: [f]and as is the heavenly, such are they also that are heavenly.

49 And [g]as we have borne the image of the earthy, [h]we shall also bear the image of the heavenly.

50 Now this I say, brethren, that [i]flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Behold, I show you a mystery; [k]We shall not all sleep, [l]but we shall all be changed, 52 In a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: [m]for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and [n]this mortal must put on immortality.

54 So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, [o]Death is swallowed up in victory.

55 [p]O death, where is thy sting? O [6]grave, where is thy victory?

56 The sting of death is sin; and [q]the strength of sin is the law.

57 [r]But thanks be to God, which giveth us [s]the victory through our Lord Je'sus Christ.

58 [t]Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding in the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know [u]that your labour is not in vain in the Lord.

CHAPTER XVI.

The apostle exhorteth them to relieve the wants of the brethren at Jerusalem; 10 commendeth Timothy; 13 and after friendly admonitions, 19 concludeth his epistle with divers salutations.

NOW concerning [a]the collection for the saints, as I have given order to the churches of Ga-la'ti-a, even so do ye.

2 [b]Upon the first day of the week let every one of you lay by him in store, as God hath prospered him, that there be no gatherings when I come.

3 And when I come, [c]whomsoever ye shall approve by your letters, them will I send to bring your [1]liberality unto Je-ru'sa-lem.

4 [d]And if it be meet that I go also, they shall go with me.

5 Now I will come unto you, [e]when I shall pass through Ma-ce-do'ni-a: for I do pass through Ma-ce-do'ni-a.

6 And it may be that I will abide, yea, and winter with you, that ye may [f]bring me on my journey whithersoever I go.

7 For I will not see you now by the way; but I trust to tarry a while with you, [g]if the Lord permit.

8 But I will tarry at Eph'e-sus until Pen'te-cost.

9 For [h]a great door and effectual is opened unto me, and [i]there are many adversaries.

10 Now [k]if Ti-mo'the-us come, see that he may be with you without fear: for [l]he worketh the work of the Lord, as I also do.

11 [m]Let no man therefore despise him: but conduct him forth [n]in peace, that he may come unto me: for I look for him with the brethren.

12 As touching our brother [o]A-pol'los, I greatly desired him to come unto you with the brethren: but his will was not at all to come at this time; but he will come when he shall have convenient time.

13 [p]Watch ye, [q]stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, [r]be strong.

14 [s]Let all your things be done with charity.

¶ The first epistle to the Corinthians was written from Philippi by Stephanas, and Fortunatus, and Achaicus, and Timotheus.

THE SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE CORINTHIANS.

This second epistle was written from Philippi, a city of Macedonia, and within a year after the first. Its genuineness was never doubted. In vindication of his apostolic character, Paul furnishes many interesting details in regard to his personal history and sufferings for the cause of Christ. He commends the faithful members of the Church of Corinth for their obedience to his injunctions contained in the first epistle, and particularly for excommunicating an incestuous person, and exhorts them to finish their contributions for their poor brethren in Judea. The epistle consists of three parts, the introduction, the apologetic discourse, and the conclusion.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 3 The consolation God had given him in his tribulation enabled him to comfort others. 8 His trouble in Asia. 12 The ground of his rejoicing. 15 His reasons in not visiting them.

PAUL, [a]an apostle of Je'sus Christ by the will of God, and Tim'o-thy our brother, unto the church of God which is at Cor'inth, [b]with all the saints which are in all A-cha'ia:

2 [c]Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Je'sus Christ.

3 [d]Blessed be God, even the Father of our Lord Je'sus Christ, the Father of mercies, and the God of all comfort;

4 Who [e]comforteth us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in any trouble, by the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God.

5 For as [f]the sufferings of Christ abound in us, so our consolation also aboundeth by Christ.

6 And whether we be afflicted, [g]it is for your consolation and salvation, which [1]is effectual in the enduring of the same sufferings which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and salvation.

7 And our hope of you is steadfast, knowing, that [h]as ye are partakers of the sufferings, so shall ye be also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, have you ignorant of [i]our trouble which came to us in A'si-a, that we were pressed out of measure, above strength, insomuch that we despaired even of life:

9 But we had the [2]sentence of death in ourselves, that we should [j]not trust in ourselves, but in God which raiseth the dead:

10 [k]Who delivered us from so great a death, and doth deliver: in whom we trust that he will yet deliver us;

11 Ye also [l]helping together by prayer for us, that [m]for the gift bestowed upon us by the means of many persons thanks may be given by many on our behalf.

12 For our rejoicing is this, the testimony of our conscience, that in simplicity and [n]godly sincerity, [o]not with fleshly wisdom, but by the grace of God, we have had our conversation in the world, and more abundantly to you-ward.

13 For we write none other things unto you, than what ye read or acknowledge; and I trust ye shall acknowledge even to the end;

14 As also ye have acknowledged us in part, [p]that we are your rejoicing, even as [q]ye also are ours in the day of the Lord Je'sus.

15 And in this confidence [r]I was minded to come unto you before, that ye might have [s]a second [3]benefit;

16 And to pass by you into Ma-ce-do'ni-a, and [t]to come again out of Ma-ce-do'ni-a unto you, and of you to be brought on my way toward Ju-de'a.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I use lightness? or the things that I purpose, do I purpose [u]according to the flesh, that with me there should be yea, yea, and nay, nay?

18 But as God is true, our [4]word toward you was not yea and nay.

19 For [x]the Son of God, Je'sus Christ, who was preached among you by us, even by me and Sil-va'nus and Ti-mo'the-us, was not yea and nay, [y]but in him was yea.

20 [z]For all the promises of God in him are yea, and in him Amen, unto the glory of God by us.

21 Now he which stablisheth us with you in Christ, and [a]hath anointed us, is God;

22 Who [b]hath also sealed us, and [c]given the earnest of the Spirit in our hearts.

23 Moreover [d]I call God for a record upon my soul, [e]that to spare you I came not as yet unto Cor'inth.

24 Not for [f]that we have dominion over your faith, but are helpers of your joy: for [g]by faith ye stand.

CHAPTER II.

Having shown why he came not to them, 6 the apostle directeth them to receive again the excommunicated person. 12 His disappointment in not finding Titus at Troas. 14 His thanksgiving to God for his success in preaching the gospel.

BUT I determined this with myself, [a]that I would not come again to you in heaviness.

2 For [b]if I make you sorry, who is he then that maketh me glad, but the same which is made sorry by me?

3 And I wrote this same unto you, lest, when I came, [c]I should have sorrow from them of whom I ought to rejoice; [d]having confidence in you all, that my joy is the joy of you all.

4 For out of much affliction and anguish of heart I wrote unto you with many tears; [e]not that ye should be grieved, but that ye might know the love which I have more abundantly unto you.

5 But [f]if any have caused grief, he hath not [g]grieved me, but in part: that I may not overcharge you all.

6 Sufficient to such a man is this [1]punishment, which was inflicted [h]of many.

7 [i]So that contrariwise ye ought rather to forgive him, and comfort him, lest perhaps such a one should be swallowed up with overmuch sorrow.

8 Wherefore I beseech you that ye would confirm your love toward him.

9 For to this end also did I write, that I might know the proof of you, whether ye be [j]obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgive any thing, I forgive also: for if I forgave any thing, to whom I forgave it, for your sakes forgave I it [2]in the person of Christ;

11 Lest Sa'tan should get an advantage of us: for we are not ignorant of his devices.

12 Furthermore, [k]when I came to Tro'as to preach Christ's gospel, and [l]a door was opened unto me of the Lord,

13 [m]I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Ti'tus my brother; but taking my leave of them, I went from thence into Ma-ce-do'ni-a.

14 Now thanks be unto God, which always causeth us to triumph in Christ, and maketh manifest [n]the savour of his knowledge by us in every place.

15 For we are unto God a sweet savour of Christ, [o]in them that are saved, and [p]in them that perish:

16 [q]To the one we are the savour of death unto death; and to the other the savour of life unto life. And [r]who is sufficient for these things?

17 For we are not as many, which [3][s]corrupt the word of God: but as [t]of sincerity, but as of God, in the sight of God speak we [4]in Christ.

CHAPTER III.

They are his epistle of commendation. 7 The ministration of the spirit shown to be more glorious than the ministration of condemnation.

DO [a]we begin again to commend ourselves? or need we, as some others, [b]epistles of commendation to you, or letters of commendation from you?

2 [c]Ye are our epistle written in our hearts, known and read of all men:

3 Forasmuch as ye are manifestly declared to be the epistle of Christ [d]ministered by us, written not with ink, but with the Spirit of the living God; not [e]in tables of stone, but [f]in fleshly tables of the heart.

4 And such trust have we through Christ to God-ward:

5 [g]Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think any thing as of ourselves; but [h]our sufficiency is of God;

6 Who also hath made us able [i]ministers of [k]the new testament; not [l]of the letter, but of the spirit: for [m]the letter killeth; [n]but the spirit [1]giveth life.

7 But if [o]the ministration of death, [p]written and engraven in stones, was glorious, [q]so that the children of Is′ra-el could not steadfastly behold the face of Mo′ses for the glory of his countenance; which glory was to be done away;

8 How shall not [r]the ministration of the spirit be rather glorious?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory, much more doth the ministration [s]of righteousness exceed in glory.

10 For even that which was made glorious had no glory in this respect, by reason of the glory that excelleth.

11 For if that which is done away was glorious, much more that which remaineth is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we have such hope, [t]we use great [2]plainness of speech:

13 And not as Mo′ses, [u]which put a vail over his face, that the children of Is′ra-el could not steadfastly look to [x]the end of that which is abolished:

14 But [y]their minds were blinded: for until this day remaineth the same vail untaken away in the reading of the old testament; which vail is done away in Christ.

15 But even unto this day, when Mo′ses is read, the vail is upon their heart.

16 Nevertheless, [z]when it shall turn to the Lord, [a]the vail shall be taken away.

17 Now [b]the Lord is that Spirit: and where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty.

18 But we all, with open face beholding [c]as in a glass [d]the glory of the Lord, [e]are changed into the same image from glory to glory, even as [3]by the Spirit of the Lord.

CHAPTER IV.

The apostle's sincerity and diligence in preaching the gospel. 7 How his troubles and persecutions did redound to the praise of God's power, 12 to the benefit of the church, 16 and to the apostle's own eternal glory.

THEREFORE, seeing we have [a]this ministry, [b]as we have received mercy, we faint not;

2 But have renounced the hidden things of [1]dishonesty, not walking in craftiness, [c]nor handling the word of God deceitfully; but, [d]by manifestation of the truth, [e]commending ourselves to every man's conscience in the sight of God.

3 But if our gospel be hid, [f]it is hid to them that are lost:

4 In whom [g]the god of this world [h]hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest [i]the light of the glorious gospel of Christ, [k]who is the image of God, should shine unto them.

5 [l]For we preach not ourselves, but Christ Je′sus the Lord; and [m]ourselves your servants for Je′sus' sake.

6 For God, [n]who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, [2]hath [o]shined in our hearts, to give [p]the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Je′sus Christ.

7 But we have this treasure in [q]earthen vessels, [r]that the excellency of the power may be of God, and not of us.

8 We are [s]troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but [3]not in despair;

9 Persecuted, but not forsaken; [t]cast down, but not destroyed;

10 [u]Always bearing about in the body the dying of the Lord Je′sus, [x]that the life also of Je′sus might be made manifest in our body.

11 For we which live [y]are alway delivered unto death for Je′sus' sake, that the life also of Je′sus might be made manifest in our mortal flesh.

12 So then [z]death worketh in us, but life in you.

13 We having [a]the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, [b]I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak;

14 Knowing that [c]he which raised up the Lord Je′sus shall raise up us also by Je′sus, and shall present us with you.

15 For [d]all things are for your sakes, that [e]the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God.

16 For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet [f]the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For [g]our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory;

18 [h]While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: [i]for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

CHAPTER V.

The apostle's assurance of eternal life, 2 and desire to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord. 9 He laboureth to be accepted of him. 12 The love of Christ constraineth him to act. 18 The ministry of reconciliation.

FOR we know that, if [a]our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.

2 For in this [b]we groan, earnestly desiring to be clothed upon with our house which is from heaven:

3 If so be that [c]being clothed we shall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but [d]clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

5 Now [e]he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also [f]hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit.

6 Therefore we are always confident, knowing that, whilst we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord:

7 For [g]we walk by faith, not by sight:

8 We are confident, I say, and [h]willing rather to be absent from the body, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Wherefore we [1]labour, that, whether present or absent, we may be accepted of him.

10 [i]For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; [k]that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore [l]the terror of the Lord, we persuade men; but [m]we are made manifest unto God; and I trust also are made manifest in your consciences.

12 For [n]we commend not ourselves again unto you, but give you occasion [o]to glory on our behalf, that ye may have somewhat to answer them which glory [2]in appearance, and not in heart.

13 For [p]whether we be beside ourselves, it is to God: or whether we be sober, it is for your cause.

14 For the love of Christ constraineth us; because we thus judge, that [q]if one died for all, then were all dead:

15 And that he died for all, [r]that they which live should not henceforth live unto themselves, but unto him which died for them, and rose again.

16 [s]Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh: yea, though we have known Christ after the flesh, [t]yet now henceforth know we him no more.

17 Therefore if any man [u]be in Christ, [3]he is [x]a new creature: [y]old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, [z]who hath reconciled us to himself by Je'sus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation;

19 To wit, that [a]God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself, not imputing their trespasses unto them; and hath [4]committed unto us the word of reconciliation.

20 Now then we are [b]ambassadors for Christ, as [c]though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God.

21 For [d]he hath made him to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made [e]the righteousness of God in him.

CHAPTER VI.

Paul beseecheth them not to receive the grace of God in vain. 3 His faithful and selfdenying labours in the ministry. 11 His strong affection for them, 13 and desire that they should live as becometh the gospel.

WE then, as [a]workers together with him, [b]beseech you also [c]that ye receive not the grace of God in vain.

2 (For he saith, [d]I have heard thee in a time accepted, and in the day of salvation have I succoured thee: behold, now is the accepted time; behold, now is the day of salvation.)

3 [e]Giving no offence in any thing, that the ministry be not blamed:

4 But in all things [1]approving ourselves [f]as the ministers of God, in much patience, in afflictions, in necessities, in distresses,

5 [g]In stripes, in imprisonments, [2]in tumults, in labours, in watchings, in fastings;

6 By pureness, by knowledge, by longsuffering, by kindness, by the Holy Ghost, by love unfeigned,

7 [h]By the word of truth, by [i]the power of God, by [k]the armour of righteousness on the right hand and on the left,

8 By honour and dishonour, by evil report and good report: as deceivers, and yet true;

9 As unknown, and [l]yet well known; [m]as dying, and behold, we live; [n]as chastened, and not killed;

10 As [o]sorrowful, yet alway rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich; as having nothing, and yet possessing all things.

11 O ye Co-rinth'i-ans, our mouth is open unto you, [p]our heart is enlarged.

12 Ye are not straitened in us, but [q]ye are straitened in your own bowels.

13 Now for a recompense in the same, ([r]I speak as unto my children,) be ye also enlarged.

14 [s]Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for [t]what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?

15 And what concord hath Christ with Be'li-al? or what part hath he that believeth with an infidel?

16 And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for [u]ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, [x]I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.

17 [y]Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you,

18 [z]And will be a Father unto you, and ye shall be my sons and daughters, saith the Lord Almighty.

CHAPTER VII.

The apostle exhorteth them to purity of life, and to bear him like affection as he doth to them. 4 He declareth what comfort he received in his afflictions from the coming of Titus, 7 and from the report he gave of the godly sorrow his former epistle had wrought in them. 18 Their kindness to Titus.

HAVING [a]therefore these promises, dearly beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of God.

2 Receive us; we have wronged no man, we have corrupted no man, [b]we have defrauded no man.

3 I speak not this to condemn you: for [c]I have said before, that ye are in our hearts to die and live with you.

4 [d]Great is my boldness of speech toward you, [e]great is my glorying of you: [f]I am filled with comfort, I am exceeding joyful in all our tribulation.

5 For, [g]when we were come into Ma-ce-do'ni-a, our flesh had no rest, but [h]we were troubled on every side; [i]without were fightings, within were fears.

6 Nevertheless [j]God, that comforteth those that are cast down, comforted us by [k]the coming of Ti'tus;

7 And not by his coming only, [l]but by the consolation wherewith he was comforted in you, when he told us your earnest desire, your mourning, your fervent mind toward me; so that I rejoiced the more.

8 For though I made you sorry with a letter, I do not repent, [m]though I did repent: for I perceive that the same epistle hath made you sorry, though it were but for a season.

9 Now I rejoice, not that ye were made sorry, but that ye sorrowed to repentance: for ye were made sorry [1]after a godly manner, that ye might receive damage by us in nothing.

10 For [n]godly sorrow worketh repentance to salvation not to be repented of: [o]but the sorrow of the world worketh death.

11 For behold this selfsame thing, that ye sorrowed after a godly sort, what [p]carefulness it wrought in you, yea, what clearing of yourselves, yea, what [q]indignation, yea, what fear, yea, what vehement desire, yea, what zeal, yea, what revenge! In all things ye have approved yourselves to be clear in this matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote unto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the wrong, nor for his cause that suffered wrong, [r]but that our care for you in the sight of God might appear unto you.

13 Therefore we were [s]comforted in your comfort: yea, and exceedingly the more joyed we for the joy of Ti'tus, because his spirit [t]was refreshed by you all.

14 For if I have boasted any thing to him of you, I am not ashamed; but as we spake all things to you in truth, even so our boasting, which I made before Ti'tus, is found a truth.

15 And his [2]inward affection is more abundant toward you, whilst he remembereth [u]the obedience of you all, how with fear and trembling ye received him.

16 I rejoice therefore that [v]I have confidence in you in all things.

CHAPTER VIII.

He stirreth them up to a liberal contribution for the poor saints at Jerusalem; 16 and commendeth to them Titus and others, who were coming to them in reference to this business.

MOREOVER, brethren, we do you to wit of the grace of God bestowed on the churches of Ma-ce-do'ni-a;

2 How that, in a great trial of affliction, the abundance of their joy and [a]their deep poverty abounded unto the riches of their [1]liberality.

3 For to their power, I bear record, yea, and beyond their power they were willing of themselves;

4 Praying us with much entreaty that we would receive the gift, and take upon us [b]the fellowship of the ministering to the saints.

5 And this they did, not as we hoped, but first gave their own selves to the Lord, and unto us by the will of God.

6 Insomuch that [c]we desired Ti'tus, that as he had begun, so he would also finish in you the same [2]grace also.

7 Therefore, as [d]ye abound in every thing, in faith, and utterance, and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see [e]that ye abound in this grace also.

8 [f]I speak not by commandment, but by occasion of the forwardness of others, and to prove the sincerity of your love.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Je'sus Christ, [g]that, though he was rich, yet for your sakes he became poor, that ye through his poverty might be rich.

10 And herein [h]I give my advice: for [i]this is expedient for you, who have begun before, not only to do, but also to be [3][k]forward a year ago.

11 Now therefore perform the doing of it; that as there was a readiness to will, so there may be a performance also out of that which ye have.

12 For [l]if there be first a willing mind, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 For I mean not that [m]other men be eased, and ye burdened:

14 But by an equality, that now at this time your abundance may be a supply for their want, that their abundance also may be a supply for your want; that there may be equality:

15 As it is written, [n]He that had gathered much had nothing over; and he that had gathered little had no lack.

16 But [o]thanks be to God, which put the same earnest care into the heart of Ti'tus for you.

17 For indeed he accepted [p]the exhortation; but being more forward, of his own accord he went unto you.

18 And we have sent with him [q]the brother, whose praise is in the gospel throughout all the churches;

19 And not that only, but who was also [r]chosen of the churches to travel with us with this [4]grace, which is administered by us [s]to the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready mind:

20 Avoiding this, that no man should blame us in this abundance which is administered by us;

21 [t]Providing for honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

22 And we have sent with them our brother, [u]whom we have oftentimes proved diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, upon the great confidence which [5]I have in you.

23 Whether any do inquire of Ti'tus, he is my partner and fellow helper concerning you: or our brethren be inquired of, they are [v]the messengers of the churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore show ye to them, and before the churches, the proof of your love, and of our [x]boasting on your behalf.

CHAPTER IX.

The apostle showeth why, though he knew their forwardness, he yet sent Titus and his brethren beforehand; 6 and exhorteth them to give bountifully. 15 God's unspeakable gift.

FOR as touching [a]the ministering to the saints, it is superfluous for me to write to you:

2 For I know [b]the forwardness of your mind, [c]for which I boast of you to them of Ma-ce-do'ni-a, that [d]A-cha'ia was ready a year ago; and your zeal hath provoked very many.

3 [e]Yet have I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should be in vain in this behalf; that, as I said, ye may be ready:

4 Lest haply if they of Ma-ce-do'ni-a come with me, and find you unprepared, we (that we say not, ye) should be ashamed in this same confident boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would go before unto you, and make up beforehand your [1]bounty, [2]whereof ye had notice before, that the same might be ready, as a matter of bounty, and not as of covetousness.

6 [f]But this I say, He which soweth sparingly shall reap also sparingly; and he which soweth bountifully shall reap also bountifully.

CHAPTER X.

Against those who disparaged his bodily presence and speech, he asserteth his spiritual might and authority; 12 and reproveth them for stretching themselves beyond their measure, and for boasting themselves of other men's labours.

NOW [a]I Paul myself beseech you by the meekness and gentleness of Christ, [b]who [1]in presence am base among you, but being absent am bold toward you:

2 But I beseech you, [c]that I may not be bold when I am present with that confidence, wherewith I think to be bold against some, which [2]think of us as if we walked according to the flesh.

3 For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh:

4 ([d]For the weapons [e]of our warfare are not carnal, but [f]mighty [3]through God [g]to the pulling down of strong holds;)

5 [h]Casting down [4]imaginations, and every high thing that exalteth itself against the knowledge of God, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Christ;

6 [i]And having in a readiness to revenge all disobedience, when [k]your obedience is fulfilled.

7 [l]Do ye look on things after the outward appearance? [m]If any man trust to himself that he is Christ's, let him of himself think this again, that, as he is Christ's, even so are [n] we Christ's.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more [o] of our authority, which the Lord hath given us for edification, and not for your destruction, [p] I should not be ashamed.

9 That I may not seem as if I would terrify you by letters:

10 For his letters, [5] say they, are weighty and powerful; but [q] his bodily presence is weak, and his [r] speech contemptible:

11 Let such a one think this, that, such as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such will we be also in deed when we are present.

12 [s] For we dare not make ourselves of the number, or compare ourselves with some that commend themselves: but they, measuring themselves by themselves, and comparing themselves among themselves, [6] are not wise.

13 [t] But we will not boast of things without our measure, but according to the measure of the [7] rule which God hath distributed to us, a measure to reach even unto you.

14 For we stretch not ourselves beyond our measure, as though we reached not unto you; [u] for we are come as far as to you also in preaching the gospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting of things without our measure, that is, [x] of other men's labours; but having hope, when your faith is increased, that we shall be [8] enlarged by you according to our rule abundantly,

16 To preach the gospel in the regions beyond you, and not to boast in another man's [9] line of things made ready to our hand.

17 [y] But he that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

18 For [z] not he that commendeth himself is approved, but [a] whom the Lord commendeth.

CHAPTER XI.

The apostle's jealousy over them. 5 He is not behind the chiefest of the apostles. 7 His preaching the gospel freely to them. 13 The false apostles. 16 He asketh to be indulged in boasting himself a little; 21 and showeth that, in respect to birth, he was not inferior to those deceitful workers, 23 and, as to sufferings and labours for Christ, far superior.

WOULD to God ye could bear with me a little in [a] my folly: and indeed [1] bear with me.

2 For I am [b] jealous over you with godly jealousy: for [c] I have espoused you to one husband, [d] that I may present you [e] as a chaste virgin to Christ.

3 But I fear, lest by any means, as [f] the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds [g] should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ.

4 For if he that cometh preacheth another Je'sus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or [h] another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear [2] with him.

5 For I suppose [i] I was not a whit behind the very chiefest apostles.

6 But though [k] I be rude in speech, yet not [l] in knowledge; but [m] we have been thoroughly made manifest among you in all things.

7 Have I committed an offence [n] in abasing myself that ye might be exalted, because I have preached to you the gospel of God freely?

8 I [o] robbed other churches, taking wages of them, to do you service.

9 And when I was present with you, and wanted, [p] I was chargeable to no man: for that which was lacking to me [q] the brethren which came from Ma-ce-do'ni-a supplied: and in all things I have kept myself [r] from being burdensome unto you, and so will I keep myself.

10 [s] As the truth of Christ is in me, [3] [t] no man shall stop me of this boasting in the regions of A-cha'ia.

11 Wherefore? [u] because I love you not? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that I will do, [w] that I may cut off occasion from them which desire occasion; that wherein they glory, they may be found even as we.

13 For such [x] are false apostles, [y] deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ.

14 And no marvel; for Sa'tan himself is transformed into [z] an angel of light.

15 Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the [a] ministers of righteousness; [b] whose end shall be according to their works.

16 [c] I say again, Let no man think me a fool; if otherwise, yet as a fool [4] receive me, that I may boast myself a little.

17 That which I speak, [d] I speak it not after the Lord, but as it were foolishly, [e] in this confidence of boasting.

18 [f] Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glory also.

19 For ye suffer fools gladly, [g] seeing ye yourselves are wise.

20 For ye suffer, [h] if a man bring you into bondage, if a man devour you, if a man take of you, if a man exalt himself, if a man smite you on the face.

21 I speak as concerning reproach, [i] as though we had been weak. Howbeit, [k] whereinsoever any is bold, (I speak foolishly,) I am bold also.

22 Are they He'brews? [l] so am I. Are they Is'ra-el-ites? so am I. Are they the seed of A'bra-ham? so am I.

23 Are they ministers of Christ? (I speak as a fool,) I am more; [m] in labours more abundant, [n] in stripes above measure, in prisons more frequent, [o] in deaths oft.

24 Of the Jews five times received I [p]forty stripes save one.

25 Thrice was I [q]beaten with rods, [r]once was I stoned, thrice I [s]suffered shipwreck, a night and a day I have been in the deep;

26 In journeyings often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, [t]in perils by mine own countrymen, [u]in perils by the heathen, in perils in the city, in perils in the wilderness, in perils in the sea, in perils among false brethren;

27 In weariness and painfulness, [x]in watchings often, [y]in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in cold and nakedness.

28 Besides those things that are without, that which cometh upon me daily, [z]the care of all the churches.

29 [a]Who is weak, and I am not weak? who is offended, and I burn not?

30 If I must needs glory, [b]I will glory of the things which concern mine infirmities.

31 [c]The God and Father of our Lord Je'sus Christ, [d]which is blessed for evermore, knoweth that I lie not.

32 [e]In Da-mas'cus the governor under A-re'tas the king kept the city of the Dam-a-scenes' with a garrison, desirous to apprehend me:

33 [f]And through a window in a basket was I let down by the wall, and escaped his hands.

CHAPTER XII.

Though he might glory in his wonderful revelations, 9 yet he rather chooseth to glory in his infirmities. 11 They had forced him to this vain boasting. 14 He promiseth to come to them again; but yet in the affection of a father, 20 although he feareth he shall find many offenders.

IT is not expedient for me doubtless to glory. [1]I will come to visions and revelations of the Lord.

2 I knew a man [a]in Christ above fourteen years ago, whether in the body I cannot tell, or whether out of the body I cannot tell; God knoweth: such a one [b]caught up to the third heaven.

3 And I knew such a man, whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell; God knoweth:

4 How that he was caught up into [c]paradise, and heard unspeakable words, which it is not [2]lawful for a man to utter.

5 Of such a one will I glory: [d]yet of myself I will not glory, but in mine infirmities.

6 For [e]though I would desire to glory, I shall not be a fool; for [f]I will say the truth: but now I forbear, lest any man should think of me above that which he seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.

7 And lest I should be exalted above measure through the abundance of the revelations, there was given to me a [g]thorn in the flesh, [h]the messenger of Sa'tan to buffet me, lest I should be exalted above measure.

8 [i]For this thing I besought the Lord thrice, that it might depart from me.

9 And he said unto me, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakness. Most gladly therefore [j]will I rather glory in my infirmities, [k]that the power of Christ may rest upon me.

10 Therefore [l]I take pleasure in infirmities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: [m]for when I am weak, then am I strong.

11 I am become [n]a fool in glorying; ye have compelled me: for I ought to have been commended of you: for [o]in nothing am I behind the very chiefest apostles, though [p]I be nothing.

12 [q]Truly the signs of an apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signs, and wonders, and mighty deeds.

13 [r]For what is it wherein ye were inferior to other churches, except it be that [s]I myself was not burdensome to you? forgive me [t]this wrong.

14 [u]Behold, the third time I am ready to come to you; and I will not be burdensome to you: for [x]I seek not yours, but you: [y]for the children ought not to lay up for the parents, but the parents for the children.

15 And [z]I will very gladly spend and be spent [a]for [3]you; though [b]the more abundantly I love you, the less I be loved.

16 But be it so, [c]I did not burden you: nevertheless, being crafty, I caught you with guile.

17 [d]Did I make a gain of you by any of them whom I sent unto you?

18 [e]I desired Ti'tus, and with him I sent a [f]brother. Did Ti'tus make a gain of you? walked we not in the same spirit? walked we not in the same steps?

19 [g]Again, think ye that we excuse ourselves unto you? [h]we speak before God in Christ: [i]but we do all things, dearly beloved, for your edifying.

20 For I fear, lest, when I come, I shall not find you such as I would, and that [k]I shall be found unto you such as ye would not: lest there be debates, envyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, tumults:

21 And lest, when I come again, my God [l]will humble me among you, and that I shall bewail many [m]which have sinned already, and have not repented of the uncleanness and [n]fornication and lasciviousness which they have committed.

CHAPTER XIII.

The apostle threateneth obstinate offenders. 5 An exhortation to self examination, 7 and to a reformation of life. 11 He concludeth his epistle with a general exhortation, and a salutation.

THIS is [a]the third time I am coming to you. [b]In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.

2 [c]I told you before, and foretell you, as if I were present, the second time; and being absent now I write to them [d]which heretofore have sinned, and to all others, that, if I come again, [e]I will not spare:

3 Since ye seek a proof of Christ [f]speaking in me, which to you-ward is not weak, but is mighty [g]in you.

4 [h]For though he was crucified through weakness, yet [i]he liveth by the power of God. For [k]we also are weak [1]in him, but we shall live with him by the power of God toward you.

5 [l]Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. Know ye not your own selves, [m]how that Je'sus Christ is in you, except ye be [n]reprobates?

6 But I trust that ye shall know that we are not reprobates.

7 Now I pray to God that ye do [o]no evil; not that we should appear approved, but that ye should do that which is honest, though [p]we be as reprobates.

8 For we can do nothing against the truth, but for the truth.

9 For we are glad, [q]when we are weak, and ye are strong: and this also we wish, [r]even your perfection.

10 [s]Therefore I write these things being absent, lest being present [t]I should use sharpness, [u]according to the power which the Lord hath given me to edification, and not to destruction.

11 Finally, brethren, farewell. Be perfect, be of good comfort, [v]be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love [x]and peace shall be with you.

12 [y]Greet one another with a holy kiss.

13 All the saints salute you.

14 [z]The grace of the Lord Je'sus Christ, and the love of God, and [a]the communion of the Holy Ghost, be with you all. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE GALATIANS.

The Epistle to the Galatians, among whom Christianity was planted by Paul, was most probably written from Corinth toward the close of the year 52. The apostle's design in writing it was, first, to assert his apostolical character and authority; and secondly, to confirm the Galatian Churches in the faith of Christ, especially in regard to the doctrine of justification by faith alone, and to expose the errors which had been disseminated among them by demonstrating the true nature and use of the moral and ceremonial law. The epistle is written with great force and energy, and affords an example of Paul's logical power in conducting an argument.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 6 He marvelleth that they are so soon turned to another gospel, 8 and accurseth those that preach any other gospel than he did. 11 He learned the gospel not of men, but of God. 13 What he was before his conversion, 15 and what he did immediately after it.

PAUL, an apostle, [a]not of men, neither by man, but [b]by Je'sus Christ, and God the Father, [c]who raised him from the dead;

2 And all the brethren [d]which are with me, [e]unto the churches of Ga-la'ti-a:

3 [f]Grace be to you, and peace, from God the Father and from our Lord Je'sus Christ,

4 [g]Who gave himself for our sins, that he might deliver us [h]from this present evil world, according to the will of God and our Father:

5 To whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

6 I marvel that ye are so soon removed [i]from him that called you into the grace of Christ unto another gospel:

7 [k]Which is not another; but there be some [l]that trouble you, and would pervert the gospel of Christ.

8 But though [m]we, or an angel from heaven, preach any other gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed.

9 As we said before, so say I now again,

If any man preach any other gospel unto you [n] than that ye have received, let him be accursed.

10 For [o] do I now [p] persuade men, or God? or [q] do I seek to please men? for if I yet pleased men, I should not be the servant of Christ.

11 [r] But I certify you, brethren, that the gospel which was preached of me is not after man.

12 For [s] I neither received it of man, neither was I taught it, but [t] by the revelation of Je'sus Christ.

13 For ye have heard of my conversation in time past in the Jews' religion, how that [u] beyond measure I persecuted the church of God, and [x] wasted it:

14 And profited in the Jews' religion above many my [1] equals in mine own nation, [y] being more exceedingly zealous [z] of the traditions of my fathers.

15 But when it pleased God, [a] who separated me from my mother's womb, and called me by his grace,

16 [b] To reveal his Son in me, that [c] I might preach him among the heathen; immediately I conferred not with [d] flesh and blood:

17 Neither went I up to Je-ru'sa-lem to them which were apostles before me; but I went into A-ra'bi-a, and returned again unto Da-mas'cus.

18 Then after three years [e] I [2] went up to Je-ru'sa-lem to see Pe'ter, and abode with him fifteen days.

19 But [f] other of the apostles saw I none, save [g] James the Lord's brother.

20 Now the things which I write unto you, [h] behold, before God, I lie not.

21 [i] Afterwards I came into the regions of Syr'i-a and Si-li'ci-a;

22 And was unknown by face [k] unto the churches of Ju-de'a which [l] were in Christ:

23 But they had heard only, That [m] he which persecuted us in times past now preacheth the faith which once he destroyed.

24 And they [n] glorified God in me.

CHAPTER II.

The apostle showeth when and for what purpose he went up again to Jerusalem; 3 that Titus was not compelled to be circumcised; 11 and that he withstood Peter at Antioch for his dissimulation, 14 because, through fear of the Jews, he acted as if justification came by works of law. 20 His life by the faith of the Son of God.

THEN fourteen years after [a] I went up again to Je-ru'sa-lem with Bar'na-bas, and took Ti'tus with me also.

2 And I went up by revelation, [b] and communicated unto them that gospel which I preach among the Gen'tiles, but [1] privately to them which were of reputation, lest by any means [c] I should run, or had run, in vain.

3 But neither Ti'tus, who was with me, being a Greek, was compelled to be [d] circumcised:

4 And that because of [e] false brethren unawares brought in, who came in privily to spy out our [f] liberty which we have in Christ Je'sus, [g] that they might bring us into bondage:

5 To whom we gave place by subjection, no, not for an hour; that [h] the truth of the gospel might continue with you.

6 But of those [i] who seemed to be somewhat, whatsoever they were, it maketh no matter to me; [j] God accepteth no man's person: for they who seemed to be somewhat in [k] conference added nothing to me:

7 But contrariwise, [l] when they saw that the gospel of the uncircumcision [m] was committed unto me, as the gospel of the circumcision was unto Pe'ter;

8 (For he that wrought effectually in Pe'ter to the apostleship of the circumcision, [n] the same was [o] mighty in me toward the Gen'tiles;)

9 And when James, Ce'phas, and John, who seemed to be [p] pillars, perceived [q] the grace that was given unto me, they gave to me and Bar'na-bas the right hands of fellowship; that we should go unto the heathen, and they unto the circumcision.

10 Only they would that we should remember the poor; [r] the same which I also was forward to do.

11 [s] But when Pe'ter was come to An'ti-och, I withstood him to the face, because he was to be blamed.

12 For before that certain came from James, [t] he did eat with the Gen'tiles: but when they were come, he withdrew and separated himself, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Jews dissembled likewise with him; insomuch that Bar'na-bas also was [u] carried away with their dissimulation.

14 But when I saw that they walked not uprightly according to [v] the truth of the gospel, I said unto Pe'ter [x] before them all, [y] If thou, being a Jew, livest after the manner of Gen'tiles, and not as do the Jews, why compellest thou the Gen'tiles to live as do the Jews?

15 [z] We who are Jews by nature, and not [a] sinners of the Gen'tiles,

16 [b] Knowing that a man is not justified by the works of the law, but [c] by the faith of Je'sus Christ, even we have believed in Je'sus Christ, that we might be justified by the faith of Christ, and not by the works of the law: for [d] by the works of the law shall no flesh be justified.

17 But if, while we seek to be justified by Christ, we ourselves also are found [e] sinners, is therefore Christ the minister of sin? God forbid.

18 For if I build again the things which I destroyed, I make myself a transgressor.

19 For I [f] through the law [g] am dead to the law, that I might [h] live unto God.

20 I am [i] crucified with Christ: nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ liveth in me: and the life which I now live in the flesh [k] I live by the faith of the Son of God, [l] who loved me, and gave himself for me.

21 I do not frustrate the grace of God: for [m] if righteousness come by the law, then Christ is dead in vain.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle reproveth them for being drawn away from the simplicity of the gospel; 6 and showeth that those who believe are justified, 9 and blessed with faithful Abraham.

O FOOLISH Ga-la'ti-ans, [a] who hath bewitched you, that ye should not obey [b] the truth, before whose eyes Je'sus Christ hath been evidently set forth, crucified among you?

2 This only would I learn of you, Received ye [c] the Spirit by the works of the law, [d] or by the hearing of faith?

3 Are ye so foolish? [e] having begun in the Spirit, are ye now made perfect by [f] the flesh?

4 [g] Have ye suffered [1] so many things in vain? if it be yet in vain.

5 He therefore [h] that ministereth to you the Spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it by the works of the law, or by the hearing of faith?

6 Even as [i] A'bra-ham believed God, and it was [2] accounted to him for righteousness.

7 Know ye therefore that [k] they which are of faith, the same are the children of A'bra-ham.

8 And [l] the Scripture, foreseeing that God would justify the heathen through faith, preached before the gospel unto A'bra-ham, saying, [m] In thee shall all nations be blessed.

9 So then they which be of faith are blessed with faithful A'bra-ham.

10 For as many as are of the works of the law are under the curse: for it is written, [n] Cursed is every one that continueth not in all things which are written in the book of the law to do them.

11 But [o] that no man is justified by the law in the sight of God, it is evident: for, [p] The just shall live by faith.

12 And [q] the law is not of faith: but, [r] The man that doeth them shall live in them.

13 [s] Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us: for it is written, [t] Cursed is every one that hangeth on a tree:

14 [u] That the blessing of A'bra-ham might come on the Gen'tiles through Je'sus Christ; that we might receive [x] the promise of the Spirit through faith.

15 Brethren, I speak after the manner of men; [y] Though it be but a man's [3] covenant, yet if it be confirmed, no man disannulleth, or addeth thereto.

16 Now [z] to A'bra-ham and his seed were the promises made. He saith not, And to seeds, as of many; but as of one, And to thy seed, which is [a] Christ.

17 And this I say, that the covenant, that was confirmed before of God in Christ, the law, [b] which was four hundred and thirty years after, cannot disannul, [c] that it should make the promise of none effect.

18 For if [d] the inheritance be of the law, [e] it is no more of promise: but God gave it to A'bra-ham by promise.

19 Wherefore then serveth the law? [f] It was added because of transgressions, till [g] the seed should come to whom the promise was made; and it was [h] ordained by angels in the hand [i] of a mediator.

20 Now a mediator is not a mediator of one, [k] but God is one.

21 Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: [l] for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law.

22 But [m] the Scripture hath concluded [n] all under sin, [o] that the promise by faith of Je'sus Christ might be given to them that believe.

23 But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterward be revealed.

24 Wherefore [p] the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, [q] that we might be justified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster.

26 For ye [r] are all the children of God by faith in Christ Je'sus.

27 For [s] as many of you as have been baptized into Christ [t] have put on Christ.

28 [u] There is neither Jew nor Greek, there is neither bond nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all [x] one in Christ Je'sus.

29 And [y] if ye be Christ's, then are ye A'bra-ham's seed, and [z] heirs according to the promise.

CHAPTER IV.

We were under the law till Christ came, as the heir is under his guardian till he is of age. 5 But Christ freed us from the law: 7 therefore we are no longer servants to it. 14 He remembereth their good will to him; 22 and showeth that we are Abraham's seed according to the promise.

NOW I say, That the heir, as long as he is a child, differeth nothing from a servant, though he be lord of all;

2 But is under tutors and governors until the time appointed of the father.

3 Even so we, when we were children, [a] were in bondage under the [1] elements of the world:

4 But [b] when the fulness of the time was come, God sent forth his Son, [c]made [d]of a woman, [e]made under the law,

5 [f]To redeem them that were under the law, [g]that we might receive the adoption of sons.

6 And because ye are sons, God hath sent forth [h]the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Ab'ba, Father.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; [i]and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ.

8 Howbeit then, [k]when ye knew not God, [l]ye did service unto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now, [m]after that ye have known God, or rather are known of God, [n]how turn ye [2]again to [o]the weak and beggarly [3]elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?

10 [p]Ye observe days, and months, and times, and years.

11 I am afraid of you, [q]lest I have bestowed upon you labour in vain.

12 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am; for I am as ye are: [r]ye have not injured me at all.

13 Ye know how [s]through infirmity of the flesh I preached the gospel unto you [t]at the first.

14 And my temptation which was in my flesh ye despised not, nor rejected; but received me [u]as an angel of God, [x]even as Christ Je'sus.

15 [4]Where is then the blessedness ye spake of? for I bear you record, that, if it had been possible, ye would have plucked out your own eyes, and have given them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemy, [y]because I tell you the truth?

17 They [z]zealously affect you, but not well; yea, they would exclude [5]you, that ye might affect them.

18 But it is good to be zealously affected always in a good thing, and not only when I am present with you.

19 [a]My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you,

20 I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice; for [6]I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be under the law, do ye not hear the law?

22 For it is written, that A'bra-ham had two sons, [b]the one by a bondmaid, [c]the other by a free woman.

23 But he who was of the bondwoman [d]was born after the flesh; [e]but he of the free woman was by promise.

24 Which things are an allegory: for these are the two [7]covenants; the one from the mount [f]Si'nai, which gendereth to bondage, which is A'gar.

25 For this A'gar is mount Si'nai in A-ra'bi-a, and [8]answereth to Je-ru'sa-lem which now is, and is in bondage with her children.

27 For it is written, [h]Rejoice, thou barren that bearest not; break forth and cry, thou that travailest not: for the desolate hath many more children than she which hath a husband.

28 Now we, brethren, as I'saac was, are [i]the children of promise.

29 But as then [k]he that was born after the flesh persecuted him that was born after the Spirit, [l]even so it is now.

30 Nevertheless what saith [m]the Scripture? [n]Cast out the bondwoman and her son: for [o]the son of the bondwoman shall not be heir with the son of the free woman.

31 So then, brethren, we are not children of the bondwoman, [p]but of the free.

CHAPTER V.

The apostle urgeth them to stand fast in their liberty, 3 and not to observe circumcision; 13 but by love to serve one another. 19 He reckoneth up the works of the flesh, 22 and the fruits of the Spirit, 25 and exhorteth to walk in the Spirit.

STAND fast therefore in [a]the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again [b]with the yoke of bondage.

2 Behold, I Paul say unto you, that [c]if ye be circumcised, Christ shall profit you nothing.

3 For I testify again to every man that is circumcised, [d]that he is a debtor to do the whole law.

4 [e]Christ is become of no effect unto you, whosoever of you are justified by the law; [f]ye are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the Spirit [g]wait for the hope of righteousness by faith.

6 For [h]in Je'sus Christ neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision; but [i]faith which worketh by love.

7 Ye [k]did run well; [1][l]who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?

8 This persuasion cometh not of him [m]that calleth you.

9 [n]A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump.

10 [o]I have confidence in you through the Lord, that ye will be none otherwise minded: but [p]he that troubleth you [q]shall bear his judgment, whosoever he be.

11 [r]And I, brethren, if I yet preach circumcision, [s]why do I yet suffer persecution? then is [t]the offence of the cross ceased.

12 [u]I would they were even cut off [x]which trouble you.

13 For, brethren, ye have been called unto liberty; only [y]use not liberty for an occasion to the flesh, but [z]by love serve one another.

14 For [a]all the law is fulfilled in one word, even in this; [b]Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself.

15 But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

16 This I say then, [c] Walk in the Spirit, and [2] ye shall not fulfil the lust of the flesh.

17 For [d] the flesh lusteth against the Spirit, and the Spirit against the flesh: and these are contrary the one to the other; [e] so that ye cannot do the things that ye would.

18 But [f] if ye be led of the Spirit, ye are not under the law.

19 Now [g] the works of the flesh are manifest, which are these; Adultery, fornication, uncleanness, lasciviousness,

20 Idolatry, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, strife, seditions, heresies,

21 Envyings, murders, drunkenness, revellings, and such like: of the which I tell you before, as I have also told you in time past, that [h] they which do such things shall not inherit the kingdom of God.

22 But [i] the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, [k] gentleness, [l] goodness, [m] faith,

23 Meekness, temperance: [n] against such there is no law.

24 And they that are Christ's [o] have crucified the flesh with the [3] affections and lusts.

25 [p] If we live in the Spirit, let us also walk in the Spirit.

26 [q] Let us not be desirous of vain-glory, provoking one another, envying one another.

CHAPTER VI.

They are exhorted to deal mildly with an offending brother, 2 and to bear one another's burdens; 6 to be liberal to their teachers, 9 and not to be weary in well doing. 12 He showeth what they intend that preach circumcision; 14 and glorieth in nothing, save in the cross of Christ.

BRETHREN, [a] [1] if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye [b] which are spiritual, restore such a one [c] in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, [d] lest thou also be tempted.

2 [e] Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil [f] the law of Christ.

7 [n] Be not deceived; [o] God is not mocked: for [p] whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

8 [q] For he that soweth to his flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the Spirit shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting.

9 And [r] let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, [s] if we faint not.

10 [t] As we have therefore opportunity, [u] let us do good unto all men, especially unto them who are of [x] the household of faith.

11 Ye see how large a letter I have written unto you with mine own hand.

12 As many as desire to make a fair show in the flesh, [y] they constrain you to be circumcised; [z] only lest they should [a] suffer persecution for the cross of Christ.

13 For neither they themselves who are circumcised keep the law; but desire to have you circumcised, that they may glory in your flesh.

14 [b] But God forbid that I should glory, save in the cross of our Lord Je'sus Christ, [2] by whom the world is [c] crucified unto me, and I unto the world.

15 For [d] in Christ Je'sus neither circumcision availeth any thing, nor uncircumcision, but [e] a new creature.

16 [f] And as many as walk [g] according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercy, and upon [h] the Is'ra-el of God.

17 From henceforth let no man trouble me: for [i] I bear in my body the marks of the Lord Je'sus.

18 Brethren, [k] the grace of our Lord Je'sus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
TO THE EPHESIANS.

EPHESUS was the metropolis of the consular Asia, and was distinguished for its magnificent temple of Diana, devoted to luxury and lasciviousness. Christianity was planted in Ephesus in the year 54 by Paul, who was the author of this Epistle, the genuineness of which was never questioned. It was written in the year 61, when Paul was a prisoner at Rome. The Epistle exhibits the grand design of the Gospel, and contains an exhortation to the converts, warning them against those evil practices and customs to which they were addicted when heathens, and which, as Christians, they had renounced. It urges them to walk in a manner becoming their profession, in the faithful discharge of the general and special duties of religion, encouraging them to fight the good fight of faith and lay hold on eternal life.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation and thanksgiving. 4 He treateth of our election and adoption by grace. 13 They trusted in Christ, and were sealed by the Holy Spirit of promise. 15 Wherefore he prayeth that they may come to a full knowledge of the salvation wrought in Christ. 20 whom God had exalted to his own right hand.

PAUL, an apostle of Je'sus Christ [a]by the will of God, [b]to the saints which are at Eph'e-sus, [c]and to the faithful in Christ Je'sus:

2 [d]Grace be to you, and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Je'sus Christ.

3 [e]Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Je'sus Christ, who hath blessed us with all spiritual blessings in heavenly [1]places in Christ:

4 According as [f]he hath chosen us in him [g]before the foundation of the world, that we should [h]be holy and without blame before him in love:

5 [i]Having predestinated us unto [k]the adoption of children by Je'sus Christ to himself, [l]according to the good pleasure of his will,

6 To the praise of the glory of his grace, [m]wherein he hath made us accepted in [n]the beloved:

7 [o]In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to [p]the riches of his grace;

8 Wherein he hath abounded toward us in all wisdom and prudence;

9 [q]Having made known unto us the mystery of his will, according to his good pleasure [r]which he hath purposed in himself:

10 That in the dispensation of [s]the fulness of times [t]he might gather together in one [u]all things in Christ, both which are in [2]heaven, and which are on earth; even in him:

11 [x]In whom also we have obtained an inheritance, [y]being predestinated according to [z]the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsel of his own will:

12 [a]That we should be to the praise of his glory, [b]who first [3]trusted in Christ.

13 In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard [c]the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also, after that ye believed, [d]ye were sealed with that Holy Spirit of promise,

14 [e]Which is the earnest of our inheritance [f]until the redemption of [g]the purchased possession, [h]unto the praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also, [i]after I heard of your faith in the Lord Je'sus, and love unto all the saints,

16 [k]Cease not to give thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers;

17 That [l]the God of our Lord Je'sus Christ, the Father of glory, [m]may give unto you the spirit of wisdom and revelation [4]in the knowledge of him:

18 [n]The eyes of your understanding being enlightened; that ye may know what is [o]the hope of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his [p]inheritance in the saints,

19 And what is the exceeding greatness of his power to us-ward who believe, [q]according to the working [5]of his mighty power,

20 Which he wrought in Christ, when [r]he raised him from the dead, and [s]set him at his own right hand in the heavenly places,

21 [t]Far above all [u]principality, and power, and might, and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this world, but also in that which is to come:

22 And [x]hath put all things under his

CHAPTER II.

Their former state. 4 God's great mercy in their deliverance. 10 They are created in Christ Jesus unto good works. 11 Wherefore he remindeth them of their former alienation, 13 and exhorteth them, being now made nigh by the blood of Christ, 19 to live not as aliens, but as fellow citizens with the saints.

AND [a] you hath he quickened, [b] who were dead in trespasses and sins;

2 [c] Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course of this world, according to [d] the prince of the power of the air, the spirit that now worketh in [e] the children of disobedience:

3 [f] Among whom also we all had our conversation in times past in [g] the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling [1] the desires of the flesh and of the mind; and [h] were by nature the children of wrath, even as others.

4 But God, [i] who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us,

5 [k] Even when we were dead in sins, hath [l] quickened us together with Christ, ([2] by grace ye are saved,)

6 And hath raised us up together, and made us sit together [m] in heavenly places in Christ Je'sus:

7 That in the ages to come he might show the exceeding riches of his grace, in [n] his kindness toward us, through Christ Je'sus.

8 [o] For by grace are ye saved [p] through faith; and that not of yourselves: [q] it is the gift of God:

9 [r] Not of works, lest any man should boast.

10 For we are [s] his workmanship, created in Christ Je'sus unto good works, [t] which God hath before [3] ordained that we should walk in them.

11 Wherefore [u] remember, that ye being in time past Gen'tiles in the flesh, who are called Uncircumcision by that which is called [x] the Circumcision in the flesh made by hands;

12 [y] That at that time ye were without Christ, [z] being aliens from the commonwealth of Is'ra-el, and strangers from [a] the covenants of promise, [b] having no hope, [c] and without God in the world:

13 [d] But now, in Christ Je'sus, ye who sometime were [e] far off are made nigh by the blood of Christ.

14 For [f] he is our peace, [g] who hath made both one, and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us;

15 [h] Having abolished [i] in his flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances; for to make in himself of twain one [k] new man, so making peace;

16 And that he might [l] reconcile both unto God in one body by the cross, [m] having slain the enmity [4] thereby:

17 And came [n] and preached peace to you which were afar off, and to [o] them that were nigh.

18 For [p] through him we both have access [q] by one Spirit unto the Father.

19 Now therefore ye are no more strangers and foreigners, but [r] fellow citizens with the saints, and of [s] the household of God;

20 And are [t] built [u] upon the foundation of the [x] apostles and prophets, Je'sus Christ himself being [y] the chief corner stone;

21 [z] In whom all the building fitly framed together groweth unto [a] a holy temple in the Lord:

22 [b] In whom ye also are builded together for a habitation of God through the Spirit.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle a prisoner of Christ for them. 3 The salvation of the Gentiles revealed to him and to the other apostles. 8 His special commission to preach the gospel to the Gentiles. 13 Wherefore he desireth them not to faint at his tribulations, and prayeth that they may be able to comprehend the great love of Christ towards them.

FOR this cause I Paul, [a] the prisoner of Je'sus Christ [b] for you Gen'tiles,

2 If ye have heard of [c] the dispensation of the grace of God [d] which is given me to you-ward:

3 [e] How that [f] by revelation [g] he made known unto me the mystery; [h] as I wrote [1] afore in few words;

4 Whereby, when ye read, ye may understand my knowledge [i] in the mystery of Christ,

5 [k] Which in other ages was not made known unto the sons of men, as it is now revealed unto his holy apostles and prophets by the Spirit;

6 That the Gen'tiles [m] should be fellow heirs, and [n] of the same body, and [o] partakers of his promise in Christ by the gospel:

7 [p] Whereof I was made a minister, [q] according to the gift of the grace of God given unto me by [r] the effectual working of his power.

8 Unto me, [s] who am less than the least of all saints, is this grace given, that [t] I should preach among the Gen'tiles [u] the unsearchable riches of Christ;

9 And to make all men see what is the fellowship of [x] the mystery, [y] which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, [z] who created all things by Je'sus Christ:

10 [a] To the intent that now [b] unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places [c] might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God,

11 [d] According to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Je'sus our Lord:

15 Of whom [k]the whole family in heaven and earth is named,

16 That he would grant you, [l]according to the riches of his glory, [m]to be strengthened with might by his Spirit in [n]the inner man;

17 [o]That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith; that ye, [p]being rooted and grounded in love,

18 [q]May be able to comprehend with all saints [r]what is the breadth, and length, and depth, and height;

19 And to know the love of Christ, which passeth knowledge, that ye might be filled [s]with all the fulness of God.

20 Now [t]unto him that is able to do exceeding abundantly [u]above all that we ask or think, [x]according to the power that worketh in us,

21 [y]Unto him be glory in the church by Christ Je'sus throughout all ages, world without end. Amen.

CHAPTER IV.

The apostle exhorteth to unity; 7 showeth that God hath given divers gifts to men for the perfecting of the saints; 17 and, therefore, urgeth them to put off the old man which is corrupt, 24 and to put on the new man which after God is created in righteousness and true holiness.

I THEREFORE, [a]the prisoner [1] of the Lord, beseech you that ye [b]walk worthy of the vocation wherewith ye are called,

2 [c]With all lowliness and meekness, with long-suffering, forbearing one another in love;

3 Endeavouring to keep the unity of the Spirit [d]in the bond of peace.

4 [e]There is one body, and [f]one Spirit, even as ye are called in one [g]hope of your calling;

5 [h]One Lord, [i]one faith, [k]one baptism,

6 [l]One God and Father of all, who is above all, and [m]through all, and in you all.

7 But [n]unto every one of us is given grace according to the measure of the gift of Christ.

8 Wherefore he saith, [o]When he ascended up on high, [p]he led [2]captivity captive, and gave gifts unto men.

9 [q]Now that he ascended, what is it but that he also descended first into the lower parts of the earth?

10 He that descended is the same also [r]that ascended up far above all heavens, [s]that he might [3]fill all things.

11 [t]And he gave some, apostles; and some, prophets; and some, [u]evangelists; and some, [x]pastors and [y]teachers;

12 [z]For the perfecting of the saints, for the work of the ministry, [a]for the edifying of [b]the body of Christ:

13 Till we all come [4] in the unity of the faith, [c]and of the knowledge of the Son of God, unto [d]a perfect man, unto the measure of the [5]stature of the fulness of Christ:

14 That we henceforth be no more [e]children, [f]tossed to and fro, and carried about with every [g]wind of doctrine, by the sleight of men, and cunning craftiness, [h]whereby they lie in wait to deceive;

15 But [i][6]speaking the truth in love, [k]may grow up into him in all things, [l]which is the head, even Christ:

16 [m]From whom the whole body fitly joined together and compacted by that which every joint supplieth, according to the effectual working in the measure of every part, maketh increase of the body unto the edifying of itself in love.

17 This I say therefore, and testify in the Lord, that [n]ye henceforth walk not as other Gen'tiles walk, [o]in the vanity of their mind,

18 [p]Having the understanding darkened, [q]being alienated from the life of God through the ignorance that is in them, because of the [r][7]blindness of their heart:

19 [s]Who being past feeling [t]have given themselves over unto lasciviousness to work all uncleanness with greediness.

20 But ye have not so learned Christ;

21 [u]If so be that ye have heard him, and have been taught by him, as the truth is in Je'sus:

22 That ye [x]put off concerning [y]the former conversation [z]the old man, which is corrupt according to the deceitful lusts;

23 And [a]be renewed in the spirit of your mind;

24 And that ye [b]put on the new man, which after God [c]is created in righteousness and [8]true holiness.

25 Wherefore putting away lying,[d] speak every man truth with his neighbour: for [e]we are members one of another.

26 [f]Be ye angry, and sin not: let not the sun go down upon your wrath:

27 [g]Neither give place to the devil.

28 Let him that stole steal no more: but rather [h]let him labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have [9] to give [i]to him that needeth.

29 [k]Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but [l]that which is good [10]to the use of edifying, [m]that it may minister grace unto the hearers.

30 And [n]grieve not the Holy Spirit of God, [o]whereby ye are sealed unto the day of [p]redemption.

31 [q]Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and [r] evil speaking, be put away from you, [s] with all malice:

32 And [t] be ye kind one to another, tender-hearted, [u] forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

CHAPTER V.

They are to be followers of God, 2 to walk in love, 3 to avoid all kinds of impurity, 7 to have no fellowship with the works of darkness, 15 to live circumspectly, 18 and to be filled with the Spirit. 22 The duty of wives to their husbands, 25 and of husbands to their wives.

BE [a] ye therefore followers of God, as dear children;

2 And [b] walk in love, [c] as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God [d] for a sweet-smelling savour.

3 But [e] fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, [f] let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints;

4 [g] Neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, [h] which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that [i] no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, [k] who is an idolater, [l] hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God.

6 [m] Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things [n] cometh the wrath of God [o] upon the children of [1] disobedience.

7 Be not ye therefore partakers with them.

8 [p] For ye were sometime darkness, but now [q] are ye light in the Lord: walk as [r] children of light;

9 (For [s] the fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth;)

10 [t] Proving what is acceptable unto the Lord.

11 And [u] have no fellowship with [x] the unfruitful works of darkness, but rather [y] reprove them.

12 [z] For it is a shame even to speak of those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But [a] all things that are [2] reproved are made manifest by the light: for whatsoever doth make manifest is light.

14 Wherefore [3] he saith, [b] Awake thou that sleepest, and [c] arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light.

15 [d] See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools, but as wise,

16 [e] Redeeming the time, [f] because the days are evil.

17 [g] Wherefore be ye not unwise, but [h] understanding [i] what the will of the Lord is.

18 And [k] be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit;

19 Speaking to yourselves [l] in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody in your heart to the Lord;

20 [m] Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father [n] in the name of our Lord Je'sus Christ;

21 [o] Submitting yourselves one to another in the fear of God.

22 [p] Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, [q] as unto the Lord.

23 For [r] the husband is the head of the wife, even as [s] Christ is the head of the church: and he is the Saviour of [t] the body.

24 Therefore as the church is subject unto Christ, so let the wives be to their own husbands [u] in every thing.

25 [x] Husbands, love your wives, even as Christ also loved the church, and [y] gave himself for it;

26 That he might sanctify and cleanse it [z] with the washing of water [a] by the word,

27 [b] That he might present it to himself a glorious church, [c] not having spot, or wrinkle, or any such thing; [d] but that it should be holy and without blemish.

28 So ought men to love their wives as their own bodies. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

29 For no man ever yet hated his own flesh; but nourisheth and cherisheth it, even as the Lord the church:

30 For [e] we are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 [f] For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and shall be joined unto his wife, and they [g] two shall be one flesh.

32 This is a great mystery: but I speak concerning Christ and the church.

33 Nevertheless, [h] let every one of you in particular so love his wife even as himself; and the wife see that she [i] reverence her husband.

CHAPTER VI.

The duty of children, and of parents; 5 of servants, and of masters. 10 The apostle exhorteth his brethren to be strong in the Lord, 11 to put on the whole armour of God, 18 and pray with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit. 21 Tychicus commended.

CHILDREN, [a] obey your parents in the Lord: for this is right.

2 [b] Honour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise;

3 That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

4 And, [c] ye fathers, provoke not your children to wrath: but [d] bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

5 [e] Servants, be obedient to them that are your masters according to the flesh, [f] with fear and trembling, [g] in singleness of your heart, as unto Christ;

6 [h] Not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but as the servants of Christ, doing the will of God from the heart;

7 With good will doing service, as to the Lord, and not to men:

8 [i]Knowing that whatsoever good thing any man doeth, the same shall he receive of the Lord, [k]whether he be bond or free.

9 And, ye [l]masters, do the same things unto them, [1][m]forbearing threatening: knowing that [2][n]your Master also is in heaven; [o]neither is there respect of persons with him.

10 Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord, and [p]in the power of his might.

11 [q]Put on the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil.

12 For we wrestle not against [3][r]flesh and blood, but against [s]principalities, against powers, against [t]the rulers of the darkness of this world, against [4]spiritual wickedness in [5]high places.

13 [u]Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God, that ye may be able to withstand [x]in the evil day, and [6]having done all, to stand.

14 Stand therefore, [y]having your loins girt about with truth, and [z]having on the breastplate of righteousness;

15 [a]And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace;

16 Above all, taking [b]the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked.

17 And [c]take the helmet of salvation, and [d]the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God:

18 [e]Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and [f]watching thereunto with all perseverance and [g]supplication for all saints;

19 [h]And for me, that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth [i]boldly, to make known the mystery of the gospel,

20 For which [k]I am an ambassador [l][7]in bonds; that [8]therein [m]I may speak boldly, as I ought to speak.

21 But [n]that ye also may know my affairs, and how I do, [o]Tych′i-cus, a beloved brother and faithful minister in the Lord, shall make known to you all things:

22 [p]Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that ye might know our affairs, and that he might comfort your hearts.

23 [q]Peace be to the brethren, and love with faith, from God the Father and the Lord Je′sus Christ.

24 Grace be with all them that love our Lord Je′sus Christ [r][9]in sincerity. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE PHILIPPIANS.

THIS Epistle was also written by Paul while in prison at Rome about the close of the year 62, and its genuineness was never disputed. Its design was to confirm the Philippians in the faith of the Gospel, and to encourage them to walk worthy of their high vocation. It contains cautions against Judaizing teachers, who preached Christ through envy and strife, and concludes by an expression of gratitude to the Philippians for their Christian bounty to the apostle during his imprisonment.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 3 His thanksgiving to God for their fellowship in the gospel. 7 His affection for them, 9 and prayer for their increase in grace. 12 His trials were the means of furthering the gospel. 21 His willingness to glorify Christ by his life or death. 27 He exhorteth them to live as becometh the gospel.

PAUL and Ti-mo′the-us, the servants of Je′sus Christ, to all the saints [a]in Christ Je′sus which are at Phil-ip′pi, with the bishops and deacons:

2 [b]Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and from the Lord Je′sus Christ.

3 [c]I thank my God upon every [1]remembrance of you,

4 Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy,

5 [d]For your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now;

6 Being confident of this very thing, that he which hath begun [e]a good work in you [2]will perform it [f]until the day of Je′sus Christ:

f ver. 10.

7 Even as it is meet for me to think this of you all, because [3]I have you [g]in my heart; inasmuch as both in [h]my bonds, and in [i]the defence and confirmation of the gospel, [k]ye all are [4]partakers of my grace.

8 For [l]God is my record, [m]how greatly I long after you all in the bowels of Je'sus Christ.

9 And this I pray, [n]that your love may abound yet more and more in knowledge and in all [5]judgment;

10 That [o]ye may [6]approve things that [7]are excellent; [p]that ye may be sincere and without offence [q]till the day of Christ;

11 Being filled with the fruits of righteousness, [r]which are by Je'sus Christ, [s]unto the glory and praise of God.

12 But I would ye should understand, brethren, that the things which happened unto me have fallen out rather unto the furtherance of the gospel;

13 So that my bonds [8]in Christ are manifest [t]in all [9]the palace, and [10]in all other places;

14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, waxing confident by my bonds, are much more bold to speak the word without fear.

15 Some indeed preach Christ even of envy and [u]strife; and some also of good will:

16 The one preach Christ of contention, not sincerely, supposing to add affliction to my bonds:

17 But the other of love, knowing that I am set for [x]the defence of the gospel.

18 What then? notwithstanding, every way, whether in pretence, or in truth, Christ is preached; and I therein do rejoice, yea, and will rejoice.

19 For I know that this shall turn to my salvation [y]through your prayer, and the supply of [z]the Spirit of Je'sus Christ,

20 According to my [a]earnest expectation and my hope, that [b]in nothing I shall be ashamed, but that [c]with all boldness, as always, so now also Christ shall be magnified in my body, whether it be by life, or by death.

21 For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain.

22 But if I live in the flesh, this is the fruit of my labour: yet what I shall choose I wot not.

23 For [d]I am in a strait betwixt two, having a desire to [e]depart, and to be with Christ; which is far better:

24 Nevertheless to abide in the flesh is more needful for you.

25 And [f]having this confidence, I know that I shall abide and continue with you all for your furtherance and joy of faith;

26 That [g]your rejoicing may be more abundant in Je'sus Christ for me by my coming to you again.

27 Only [h]let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ: that whether I come and see you, or else be absent, I may hear of your affairs, [i]that ye stand fast in one spirit, [k]with one mind [l]striving together for the faith of the gospel;

28 And in nothing terrified by your adversaries: [m]which is to them an evident token of perdition, [n]but to you of salvation, and that of God.

29 For unto you [o]it is given in the behalf of Christ, [p]not only to believe on him, but also to suffer for his sake;

30 [q]Having the same conflict [r]which ye saw in me, and now hear to be in me.

CHAPTER II.

The apostle exhorteth them to be of one mind, 3 to be humble and condescending like Christ, 12 and to work out their salvation with fear and trembling. 17 His willingness to suffer for them. 19 He hopeth to send Timothy to them, whom he commendeth. 25 He sendeth to them Epaphroditus, his faithful companion and fellow soldier.

IF there be therefore any consolation in Christ, if any comfort of love, [a]if any fellowship of the Spirit, if any [b]bowels and mercies,

2 [c]Fulfil ye my joy, [d]that ye be likeminded, having the same love, being of one accord, of one mind.

3 [e]Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory; but [f]in lowliness of mind let each esteem others better than themselves.

4 [g]Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others.

5 [h]Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Je'sus:

6 Who, [i]being in the form of God, [k]thought it not robbery to be equal with God:

7 [l]But made himself of no reputation, and took upon him the form [m]of a servant, and [n]was made in the [1]likeness of men:

8 And being found in fashion as a man, he humbled himself, and [o]became obedient unto death, even the death of the cross.

9 Wherefore God also [p]hath highly exalted him, and [q]given him a name which is above every name:

10 [r]That at the name of Je'sus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth;

11 And [s]that every tongue should confess that Je'sus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father.

12 Wherefore, my beloved, [t]as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with [u]fear and trembling:

13 For [x]it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure.

14 Do all things [y] without murmurings and [z] disputings:

15 That ye may be blameless and [2] harmless, [a] the sons of God, without rebuke, [b] in the midst of [c] a crooked and perverse nation, among whom [3] [d] ye shine as lights in the world;

16 Holding forth the word of life; that [e] I may rejoice in the day of Christ, that [f] I have not run in vain, neither laboured in vain.

17 Yea, and if [g] I be [4] offered upon the sacrifice [h] and service of your faith, [i] I joy, and rejoice with you all.

18 For the same cause also do ye joy, and rejoice with me.

19 [5] But I trust in the Lord Je'sus to send [k] Ti-mo'the-us shortly unto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.

20 For I have no man [l] [6] like-minded, who will naturally care for your state.

21 For all [m] seek their own, not the things which are Je'sus Christ's.

22 But ye know the proof of him, [n] that, as a son with the father, he hath served with me in the gospel.

23 Him therefore I hope to send presently, so soon as I shall see how it will go with me.

24 But [o] I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.

25 Yet I supposed it necessary to send to you [p] E-paph-ro-di'tus, my brother, and companion in labour, and [q] fellow-soldier, [r] but your messenger, and [s] he that ministered to my wants.

26 [t] For he longed after you all, and was full of heaviness, because that ye had heard that he had been sick.

27 For indeed he was sick nigh unto death: but God had mercy on him; and not on him only, but on me also, lest I should have sorrow upon sorrow.

28 I sent him therefore the more carefully, that, when ye see him again, ye may rejoice, and that I may be the less sorrowful.

29 Receive him therefore in the Lord with all gladness; and [7] [u] hold such in reputation:

30 Because for the work of Christ he was nigh unto death, not regarding his life, [x] to supply your lack of service toward me.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle warneth them against false teachers, 4 showing that he hath greater reason than they to trust in the flesh, 7 but that he counteth all things loss for Christ. 12 Acknowledging his own imperfection, he presseth onward, 15 and exhorteth them to imitate his example.

FINALLY, my brethren, [a] rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe.

2 [b] Beware of dogs, beware of [c] evil workers, [d] beware of the concision.

3 For we are [e] the circumcision, [f] which worship God in the spirit, and [g] rejoice in Christ Je'sus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

4 Though [h] I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 [i] Circumcised the eighth day, [k] of the stock of Is'ra-el, [l] of the tribe of Ben'ja-min, [m] a He'brew of the He'brews; as touching the law, [n] a Phar'i-see;

6 [o] Concerning zeal, [p] persecuting the church; [q] touching the righteousness which is in the law, [r] blameless.

7 But [s] what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ.

8 Yea doubtless, and I count all things but loss [t] for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Je'sus my Lord: for whom I have suffered the loss of all things, and do count them but dung, that I may win Christ,

9 And be found in him, not having [u] mine own righteousness, which is of the law, but [x] that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousness which is of God by faith:

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and [y] the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death;

11 If by any means I might [z] attain unto the resurrection of the dead.

12 Not as though I had already [a] attained, either were already [b] perfect: but I follow after, if that I may apprehend that for which also I am apprehended of Christ Je'sus.

13 Brethren, I count not myself to have apprehended: but this one thing I do, [c] forgetting those things which are behind, and [d] reaching forth unto those things which are before,

14 [e] I press toward the mark for the prize of [f] the high calling of God in Christ Je'sus.

15 Let us therefore, as many as be [g] perfect, [h] be thus minded: and if in any thing ye be otherwise minded, God shall reveal even this unto you.

16 Nevertheless, whereto we have already attained, [i] let us walk [k] by the same rule, [l] let us mind the same thing.

17 Brethren, [m] be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as [n] ye have us for an ensample.

18 (For many walk, of whom I have told you often, and now tell you even weeping, that they are [o] the enemies of the cross of Christ:

19 [p] Whose end is destruction, [q] whose God is their belly, and [r] whose glory is in their shame, [s] who mind earthly things.)

20 For [t] our conversation is in heaven;

[u]from whence also we [x]look for the Saviour, the Lord Je'sus Christ:

21 [y]Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto his glorious body, [z]according to the working whereby he is able [a]even to subdue all things unto himself.

CHAPTER IV.

Particular admonitions. 4 An exhortation to sundry duties. 10 His grateful acknowledgment of their kindness in communicating with his affliction. 19 Their reward. 21 Salutations and prayer.

THEREFORE, my brethren dearly beloved and [a]longed for, [b]my joy and crown, so [c]stand fast in the Lord, my dearly beloved.

2 I beseech Eu-o'di-as, and beseech Syn'ty-che, [d]that they be of the same mind in the Lord.

3 And I entreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which [e]laboured with me in the gospel, with Clem'ent also, and with other my fellow labourers, whose names are in [f]the book of life.

4 [g]Rejoice in the Lord always: and again I say, Rejoice.

5 Let your moderation be known unto all men. [h]The Lord is at hand.

6 [i]Be careful for nothing; but in every thing by prayer and supplication with thanksgiving let your requests be made known unto God.

7 And [k]the peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall keep your hearts and minds through Christ Je'sus.

8 Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are [1]honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, [l]whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things.

9 [m]Those things, which ye have both learned, and received, and heard, and seen in me, do: and [n]the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I rejoiced in the Lord greatly, that now at the last [o]your care of me [2]hath flourished again; wherein ye were also careful, but ye lacked opportunity.

11 Not that I speak in respect of want: for I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, [p]therewith to be content.

12 [q]I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound: everywhere and in all things I am instructed both to be full and to be hungry, both to abound and to suffer need.

13 I can do all things [r]through Christ which strengtheneth me.

14 Notwithstanding, ye have well done, that [s]ye did communicate with my affliction.

15 Now ye Phil-ip'pi-ans know also, that in the beginning of the gospel, when I departed from Ma-ce-do'ni-a, [t]no church communicated with me as concerning giving and receiving, but ye only.

16 For even in Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca ye sent once and again unto my necessity.

17 Not because I desire a gift: but I desire [u]fruit that may abound to your account.

18 But [3]I have all, and abound: I am full, having received [x]of E-paph-ro-di'tus the things which were sent from you, [y]an odour of a sweet smell, a sacrifice acceptable, well pleasing to God.

19 But my God [a]shall supply all your need [b]according to his riches in glory by Christ Je'sus.

20 [c]Now unto God and our Father be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

21 Salute every saint in Christ Je'sus. The brethren [d]which are with me greet you.

22 All the saints salute you, [e]chiefly they that are of Ce'sar's household.

23 [f]The grace of our Lord Je'sus Christ be with you all. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
TO THE COLOSSIANS.

This Epistle bears so strong a resemblance to that to the Ephesians that they should be read together in order to be fully understood. It is not known who planted Christianity at Colosse. Its date is inferred from internal evidence, and put down at 62. Its scope is, first, to show, in opposition to some errors of Judaizing teachers, that all hope of man's redemption is founded on Christ, in whom alone all complete fulness is centered; and, secondly, to caution the Colossians against Jewish errors and philosophical speculations and human traditions, as contrary to the teachings of Christ. The Epistle concludes with matters chiefly of a private nature, except the directions for reading it in the Church of Laodicea.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 3 His thanksgiving to God for the fruits of the gospel among them, 9 and prayer for their increase in grace. 12 He praiseth the Father for his mercy to them through Christ, 15 who is the image of the invisible God. 21 Their reconciliation. 24 The apostle's ministry.

PAUL, [a]an apostle of Je′sus Christ by the will of God, and Ti-mo′the-us our brother,

2 To the saints [b]and faithful brethren in Christ which are at Co-los′se: [c]Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Je′sus Christ.

3 [d]We give thanks to God and the Father of our Lord Je′sus Christ, praying always for you,

4 [e]Since we heard of your faith in Christ Je′sus, and of [f]the love which ye have to all the saints,

5 For the hope [g]which is laid up for you in heaven, whereof ye heard before in the word of the truth of the gospel;

6 Which is come unto you, [h]as it is in all the world; and [i]bringeth forth fruit, as it doth also in you, since the day ye heard of it, and knew [k]the grace of God in truth:

7 As ye also learned of [l]Ep′a-phras our dear fellow servant, who is for you [m]a faithful minister of Christ;

8 Who also declared unto us your [n]love in the Spirit.

9 [o]For this cause we also, since the day we heard it, do not cease to pray for you, and to desire [p]that ye might be filled with [q]the knowledge of his will [r]in all wisdom and spiritual understanding;

10 [s]That ye might walk worthy of the Lord [t]unto all pleasing, [u]being fruitful in every good work, and increasing in the knowledge of God;

11 [x]Strengthened with all might, according to his glorious power, [y]unto all patience and longsuffering [z]with joyfulness;

12 [a]Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of [b]the inheritance of the saints in light:

13 Who hath delivered us from [c]the power of darkness, [d]and hath translated us into the kingdom of [1]his dear Son:

14 [e]In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

15 Who is [f]the image of the invisible God, [g]the firstborn of every creature:

16 For [h]by him were all things created, that are in heaven, and that are in earth, visible and invisible, whether they be thrones, or [i]dominions, or principalities, or powers: all things were created [k]by him, and for him:

17 [l]And he is before all things, and by him all things consist.

18 And [m]he is the head of the body, the church: who is the beginning, [n]the firstborn from the dead; that [2]in all things he might have the preeminence.

19 For it pleased the Father that [o]in him should all fulness dwell;

20 And, [3][p]having made peace through the blood of his cross, [q]by him to reconcile [r]all things unto himself; by him, I say, whether they be things in earth, or things in heaven.

21 And you, [s]that were sometime alienated and enemies [4]in your mind [t]by wicked works, yet now hath he reconciled,

22 [u]In the body of his flesh through death, [x]to present you holy and unblameable and unreproveable in his sight:

23 If ye continue in the faith [y]grounded and settled, and be [z]not moved away from the hope of the gospel, which ye have heard, [a]and which was preached

25 Whereof I am made a minister, according to [h]the dispensation of God which is given to me for you, [5]to fulfil the word of God;

26 Even [i]the mystery which hath been hid from ages and from generations, [k]but now is made manifest to his saints:

27 [l]To whom God would make known what is [m]the riches of the glory of this mystery among the Gen'tiles; which is Christ [6]in you, [n]the hope of glory:

28 Whom we preach, [o]warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; [p]that we may present every man perfect in Christ Je'sus:

29 [q]Whereunto I also labour, [r]striving [s]according to his working, which worketh in me mightily.

CHAPTER II.

The apostle's solicitude for them. 5 He exhorteth them to constancy in Christ, 8 to beware of philosophy and vain deceit, 16 and not to submit to legal ordinances, 20 which are ended in Christ.

FOR I would that ye knew what great [1][a]conflict I have for you, and for them at La-od-i-ce'a, and for as many as have not seen my face in the flesh;

2 [b]That their hearts might be comforted, [c]being knit together in love, and unto all riches of the full assurance of understanding, [d]to the acknowledgment of the mystery of God, and of the Father, and of Christ;

3 [2][e]In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdom and knowledge.

4 And this I say, [f]lest any man should beguile you with enticing words.

5 For [g]though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, joying and beholding [h]your order, and the [i]steadfastness of your faith in Christ.

6 [k]As ye have therefore received Christ Je'sus the Lord, so walk ye in him:

7 [l]Rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving.

8 [m]Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after [n]the tradition of men, after the [3][o]rudiments of the world, and not after Christ.

9 For [p]in him dwelleth all the fulness of the Godhead bodily.

10 [q]And ye are complete in him, [r]which is the head of all [s]principality and power:

11 In whom also ye are [t]circumcised with the circumcision made without hands, in [u]putting off the body of the sins of the flesh by the circumcision of Christ:

12 [x]Buried with him in baptism, wherein also [y]ye are risen with him through [z]the faith of the operation of God, [a]who hath raised him from the dead.

13 [b]And you, being dead in your sins and the uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, having forgiven you all trespasses;

14 [c]Blotting out the handwriting of ordinances that was against us, which was contrary to us, and took it out of the way, nailing it to his cross;

15 And [d]having spoiled [e]principalities and powers, he made a show of them openly, triumphing over them [4]in it.

16 Let no man therefore [f]judge you [5][g]in meat, or in drink, or [6]in respect [h]of a holyday, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days:

17 [i]Which are a shadow of things to come; but the body is of Christ.

18 [k]Let no man [7]beguile you of your reward [8]in a voluntary humility and worshipping of angels, intruding into those things [l]which he hath not seen, vainly puffed up by his fleshly mind.

19 And not holding [m]the Head, from which all the body by joints and bands having nourishment ministered, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.

20 Wherefore if ye be [n]dead with Christ from [o]the [9]rudiments of the world, [p]why, as though living in the world, are ye subject to ordinances,

21 ([q]Touch not, taste not, handle not;

22 Which all are to perish with the using,) [r]after the commandments and doctrines of men?

23 [s]Which things have indeed a show of wisdom in [t]will-worship, and humility, and [10]neglecting of the body; not in any honour to the satisfying of the flesh.

CHAPTER III.

They are exhorted to set their affection on things above, 5 to mortify their carnal desires, 9 to speak the truth, 12 to be kind and humble, 16 and to let the word of Christ dwell in them richly. 18 Sundry relative duties enjoined.

IF ye then [a]be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where [b]Christ sitteth on the right hand of God.

2 Set your [1]affection on things above, not on things on the earth.

3 [c]For ye are dead, [d]and your life is hid with Christ in God.

4 [e]When Christ, who is [f]our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him [g]in glory.

5 [h]Mortify therefore [i]your members which are upon the earth; [k]fornication, uncleanness, inordinate affection, [l]evil concupiscence, and covetousness, [m]which is idolatry:

6 [n]For which things' sake the wrath of God cometh on [o]the children of disobedience:

7 [p]In the which ye also walked sometime, when ye lived in them.

8 [q]But now ye also put off all these; anger, wrath, malice, blasphemy, [r]filthy communication out of your mouth.

9 [s]Lie not one to another, [t]seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds;

10 And have put on the new man, which [u]is renewed in knowledge [x]after the image of him that [y]created him:

11 Where there is neither [z]Greek nor Jew, circumcision nor uncircumcision, Bar-ba'ri-an, Scyth'i-an, bond nor free: [a]but Christ is all, and in all.

12 [b]Put on therefore, [c]as the elect of God, holy and beloved, [d]bowels of mercies, kindness, humbleness of mind, meekness, longsuffering;

13 [e]Forbearing one another, and forgiving one another, if any man have a [2]quarrel against any: even as Christ forgave you, so also do ye.

14 [f]And above all these things [g]put on charity, which is the [h]bond of perfectness.

15 And let [i]the peace of God rule in your hearts, [k]to the which also ye are called [l]in one body; [m]and be ye thankful.

16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another [n]in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing [o]with grace in your hearts to the Lord.

17 And [p]whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Je'sus, [q]giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

18 [r]Wives, submit yourselves unto your own husbands, [s]as it is fit in the Lord.

19 [t]Husbands, love your wives, and be not [u]bitter against them.

20 [x]Children, obey your parents [y]in all things: for this is well pleasing unto the Lord.

21 [z]Fathers, provoke not your children to anger, lest they be discouraged.

22 [a]Servants, obey [b]in all things your masters [c]according to the flesh; not with eyeservice, as menpleasers; but in singleness of heart, fearing God:

23 [d]And whatsoever ye do, do it heartily, as to the Lord, and not unto men;

24 [e]Knowing that of the Lord ye shall receive the reward of the inheritance: [f]for ye serve the Lord Christ.

25 But he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong which he hath done: and [g]there is no respect of persons.

CHAPTER IV.

The duty of masters. 2 An exhortation to continue in prayer, 5 and to walk wisely toward them that are without. 7 Tychicus and Onesimus commended. 10 Sundry salutations.

MASTERS, [a]give unto your servants that which is just and equal; knowing that ye also have a Master in heaven.

2 [b]Continue in prayer, and watch in the same [c]with thanksgiving;

3 [d]Withal praying also for us, that God would [e]open unto us a door of utterance, to speak [f]the mystery of Christ, [g]for which I am also in bonds:

4 That I may make it manifest, as I ought to speak.

5 [h]Walk in wisdom toward them that are without, [i]redeeming the time.

6 Let your speech be always [k]with grace, [l]seasoned with salt, [m]that ye may know how ye ought to answer every man.

7 [n]All my state shall Tych'i-cus declare unto you, who is a beloved brother, and a faithful minister and fellow servant in the Lord:

8 [o]Whom I have sent unto you for the same purpose, that he might know your estate, and comfort your hearts;

9 With [p]O-nes'i-mus, a faithful and beloved brother, who is one of you. They shall make known unto you all things which are done here.

10 [q]Ar-is-tar'chus my fellow prisoner saluteth you, and [r]Mar'cus, sister's son to Bar'na-bas, (touching whom ye received commandments: if he come unto you, receive him,)

11 And Je'sus, which is called Jus'tus, who are [s]of the circumcision. These only are my fellow workers unto the kingdom of God, which have been a comfort unto me.

12 [t]Ep'a-phras, who is one of you, a servant of Christ, saluteth you, always [1][u]labouring fervently for you in prayers, that ye may stand [v]perfect and [2]complete in all the will of God.

13 For I bear him record, that he hath a great zeal for you, and them that are in La-od-i-ce'a, and them in Hi-er-ap'o-lis.

14 [x]Luke, the beloved physician, and [y]De'mas, greet you.

15 Salute the brethren which are in La-od-i-ce'a, and Nym'phas, and [z]the church which is in his house.

16 And when [a]this epistle is read among you, cause that it be read also in the church of the La-od-i-ce'ans; and that ye likewise read the epistle from La-od-i-ce'a.

17 And say to [b]Ar-chip'pus, Take heed to [c]the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it.

18 [d]The salutation by the hand of me Paul. [e]Remember my bonds. [f]Grace be with you. Amen.

THE
FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
TO THE THESSALONIANS.

Thessalonica was a large city of Macedonia, containing a vast number of Jews. Christianity was first planted here by Paul in the year 50. The First Epistle to the Thessalonians was the earliest of all the apostle's writings. Its date is assigned to 52, and its genuineness has never been questioned. The design of the Epistle was to confirm the faith of the Thessalonians, and to incite them to walk worthy of their vocation. With this view the apostle proceeds to show the divine origin of the Christian revelation, first, by the miracles wrought in attestation of the divine commission of the preachers of the Gospel; secondly, that the character of these and the doctrines they inculcated was further evidence; and thirdly, that the Lord Jesus Christ, the author of our religion, was declared to be the Son of God and judge of the world by his resurrection from the dead, and thus its divinity is rendered absolutely certain. The Epistle concludes with various practical advices and instructions.

CHAPTER I.

The salutation. 2 The apostle's thanksgiving and prayer to God in their behalf. 5 The manner in which the gospel came to them. 7 The influence of their example in spreading the gospel.

PAUL, and [a] Sil-va'nus, and Ti-mo'the-us, unto the church of the Thes-sa-lo'ni-ans which is in God the Father and in the Lord Je'sus Christ: [b] Grace be unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Je'sus Christ.

2 [c] We give thanks to God always for you all, making mention of you in our prayers;

3 [d] Remembering without ceasing [e] your work of faith, [f] and labour of love, and patience of hope in our Lord Je'sus Christ, in the sight of God and our Father;

4 Knowing, brethren [1] beloved, [g] your election of God.

5 For [h] our gospel came not unto you in word only, but also in power, and [i] in the Holy Ghost, [k] and in much assurance; as [l] ye know what manner of men we were among you for your sake.

6 And [m] ye became followers of us, and of the Lord, having received the word in much affliction, [n] with joy of the Holy Ghost:

7 So that ye were ensamples to all that believe in Ma-ce-do'ni-a and A-cha'ia.

8 For from you [o] sounded out the word of the Lord not only in Ma-ce-do'ni-a and A-cha'ia, but also [p] in every place your faith to God-ward is spread abroad; so that we need not to speak any thing.

9 For they themselves show of us [q] what manner of entering in we had unto you, [r] and how ye turned to God from idols to serve the living and true God;

10 And [s] to wait for his Son [t] from heaven, [u] whom he raised from the dead, even Je'sus, which delivered us [x] from the wrath to come.

CHAPTER II.

The manner in which the gospel was first preached to them. 7 How the apostle had behaved himself among them. 13 Their reception of the gospel, and suffering for its sake. 17 His desire to see them, and the reason of his absence.

FOR [a] yourselves, brethren, know our entrance in unto you, that it was not in vain:

2 But even after that we had suffered before, and were shamefully entreated, as ye know, at [b] Phil-ip'pi, [c] we were bold in our God [d] to speak unto you the gospel of God [e] with much contention.

3 [f] For our exhortation was not of deceit, nor of uncleanness, nor in guile:

4 But as [g] we were allowed of God [h] to be put in trust with the gospel, even so we speak; [i] not as pleasing men, but God, [k] which trieth our hearts.

5 For [l] neither at any time used we flattering words, as ye know, nor a cloak of covetousness; [m] God is witness:

6 [n] Nor of men sought we glory, neither of you, nor yet of others, when [o] we might have [1] been [p] burdensome, [q] as the apostles of Christ.

7 But [r] we were gentle among you, even as a nurse cherisheth her children:

8 So being affectionately desirous of you, we were willing [s] to have imparted unto you, not the gospel of God only, but also [t] our own souls, because ye were dear unto us.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and travail: for [u] labouring night and day, [x] because we would not be chargeable

11 As ye know how we exhorted and comforted and charged every one of you, as a father doth his children,

12 [a]That ye would walk worthy of God, [b]who hath called you unto his kingdom and glory.

13 For this cause also thank we God [c]without ceasing, because, when ye received the word of God which ye heard of us, ye received it [d]not as the word of men, but, as it is in truth, the word of God, which effectually worketh also in you that believe.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers [e]of the churches of God which in Ju-de'a are in Christ Je'sus: for [f]ye also have suffered like things of your own countrymen, [g]even as they have of the Jews:

15 [h]Who both killed the Lord Je'sus, and [i]their own prophets, and have [2]persecuted us; and they please not God, [k]and are contrary to all men:

16 [l]Forbidding us to speak to the Gen'tiles that they might be saved, [m]to fill up their sins always: [n]for the wrath is come upon them to the uttermost.

17 But we, brethren, being taken from you for a short time [o]in presence, not in heart, endeavoured the more abundantly [p]to see your face with great desire.

18 Wherefore we would have come unto you, even I Paul, once and again; but [q]Sa'tan hindered us.

19 For [r]what is our hope, or joy, or [s]crown of [3]rejoicing? Are not even ye in the presence of our Lord Je'sus Christ [t]at his coming?

20 For ye are our glory and joy.

CHAPTER III.

Why the apostle had sent Timotheus to them. 6 The comfort he took in his report concerning them. 10 His desire to see them, 12 and that they may abound in love one toward another.

WHEREFORE [a]when we could no longer forbear, [b]we thought it good to be left at Ath'ens alone;

2 And sent [c]Ti-mo'the-us, our brother, and minister of God, and our fellow labourer in the gospel of Christ, to establish you, and to comfort you concerning your faith:

3 [d]That no man should be moved by these afflictions: for yourselves know that [e]we are appointed thereunto.

4 [f]For verily, when we were with you, we told you before that we should suffer tribulation; even as it came to pass, and ye know.

5 For this cause, [g]when I could no longer forbear, I sent to know your faith, [h]lest by some means the tempter have tempted you, and [i]our labour be in vain.

6 [k]But now when Ti-mo'the-us came from you unto us, and brought us good tidings of your faith and charity, and that ye have good remembrance of us always, desiring greatly to see us, [l]as we also to see you:

7 Therefore, brethren, [m]we were comforted over you in all our affliction and distress by your faith:

8 For now we live, if ye [n]stand fast in the Lord.

9 [o]For what thanks can we render to God again for you, for all the joy wherewith we joy for your sakes before our God;

10 [p]Night and day [q]praying exceedingly [r]that we might see your face, [s]and might perfect that which is lacking in your faith?

11 Now God himself and our Father, and our Lord Je'sus Christ, [1][t]direct our way unto you.

12 And the Lord [u]make you to increase and abound in love [x]one toward another, and toward all men, even as we do toward you:

13 To the end he may [y]stablish your hearts unblameable in holiness before God, even our Father, at the coming of our Lord Je'sus Christ [z]with all his saints.

CHAPTER IV.

They are exhorted to increase in godliness, 3 to abstain from fornication and fraud, 9 to love one another, 11 and quietly to follow their own business. 13 He comforteth them in relation to those who had fallen asleep in Jesus.

FURTHERMORE then we [1]beseech you, brethren, and [2]exhort you by the Lord Je'sus, [a]that as ye have received of us [b]how ye ought to walk [c]and to please God, so ye would abound more and more.

2 For ye know what commandments we gave you by the Lord Je'sus.

3 For this is [d]the will of God, even [e]your sanctification, [f]that ye should abstain from fornication:

4 [g]That every one of you should know how to possess his vessel in sanctification and honour;

5 [h]Not in the lust of concupiscence, [i]even as the Gen'tiles [k]which know not God:

6 [l]That no man go beyond and [3]defraud his brother [4]in any matter: because that the Lord [m]is the avenger of all such, as we also have forewarned you and testified.

7 For God hath not called us unto uncleanness, [n]but unto holiness.

8 [o]He therefore that [5]despiseth, despiseth not man, but God, [p]who hath also given unto us his Holy Spirit.

9 But as touching brotherly love [q]ye need not that I write unto you: for [r]ye yourselves are taught of God [s] to love one another.

10 [t] And indeed ye do it toward all the brethren which are in all Ma-ce-do′ni-a: but we beseech you, brethren, [u] that ye increase more and more;

11 And that ye study to be quiet, and [x] to do your own business, and [y] to work with your own hands, as we commanded you;

12 [z] That ye may walk honestly toward them that are without, and that ye may have lack [6] of nothing.

13 But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that ye sorrow not, [a] even as others [b] which have no hope.

14 For [c] if we believe that Je′sus died and rose again, even so [d] them also which sleep in Je′sus will God bring with him.

15 For this we say unto you [e] by the word of the Lord, that [f] we which are alive and remain unto the coming of the Lord shall not prevent them which are asleep.

16 For [g] the Lord himself shall descend from heaven with a shout, with the voice of the archangel, and with [h] the trump of God: [i] and the dead in Christ shall rise first:

17 [k] Then we which are alive and remain shall be caught up together with them [l] in the clouds, to meet the Lord in the air: and so [m] shall we ever be with the Lord.

18 [n] Wherefore [7] comfort one another with these words.

CHAPTER V.

The coming of the Lord. 6 They are exhorted to be sober and watchful, 12 to respect and love their spiritual teachers, 14 to warn the unruly, and to follow that which is good. 16 Sundry precepts. 23 The conclusion.

BUT of [a] the times and the seasons, brethren, [b] ye have no need that I write unto you.

2 For yourselves know perfectly that [c] the day of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night.

3 For when they shall say, Peace and safety; then [d] sudden destruction cometh upon them, [e] as travail upon a woman with child; and they shall not escape.

4 [f] But ye, brethren, are not in darkness, that that day should overtake you as a thief.

5 Ye are all [g] the children of light, and the children of the day: we are not of the night, nor of darkness.

6 [h] Therefore let us not sleep, as do others; but [i] let us watch and be sober.

7 For [k] they that sleep sleep in the night; and they that be drunken [l] are drunken in the night.

8 But let us, who are of the day, be sober, [m] putting on the breastplate of faith and love; and for a helmet, the hope of salvation.

9 For [n] God hath not appointed us to wrath, [o] but to obtain salvation by our Lord Je′sus Christ,

10 [p] Who died for us, that, whether we wake or sleep, we should live together with him.

11 [q] Wherefore [1] comfort yourselves together, and edify one another, even as also ye do.

12 And we beseech you, brethren, [r] to know them which labour among you, and are over you in the Lord, and admonish you;

13 And to esteem them very highly in love for their work's sake. [s] And be at peace among yourselves.

14 Now we [2] exhort you, brethren, [t] warn them that are [3] unruly, [u] comfort the feebleminded, [x] support the weak, [y] be patient toward all men.

15 [z] See that none render evil for evil unto any man; but ever [a] follow that which is good, both among yourselves, and to all men.

16 [b] Rejoice evermore.

17 [c] Pray without ceasing.

18 [d] In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Je′sus concerning you.

19 [e] Quench not the Spirit.

20 [f] Despise not prophesyings.

21 [g] Prove all things; [h] hold fast that which is good.

22 [i] Abstain from all appearance of evil.

23 And [k] the very God of peace [l] sanctify you wholly; and I pray God your whole spirit and soul and body [m] be preserved blameless unto the coming of our Lord Je′sus Christ.

24 [n] Faithful is he that calleth you, who also will do it.

25 Brethren, [o] pray for us.

26 [p] Greet all the brethren with a holy kiss.

27 I [4] charge you by the Lord, that [q] this epistle be read unto all the holy brethren.

28 [r] The grace of our Lord Je′sus Christ be with you. Amen.

THE

SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO THE

THESSALONIANS.

THIS Epistle was evidently written soon after the first. Its scope is principally to rectify a mistake of the Thessalonians, who from misunderstanding a passage in the first letter imagined that the day of judgment was at hand. It consists of five parts: the inscription, thanksgiving and prayer for them, the rectification of their mistake and the doctrine concerning the man of sin, various advices relative to Christian virtues, and the conclusion.

CHAPTER I.

The salutation. 3 The apostle's thanksgiving to God for their faith, love, and patience in persecution. 6 He consoleth them under trials in view of the judgment of God; 11 and prayeth that Christ may be glorified in them.

PAUL, [a] and Sil-va'nus, and Ti-mo'the-us, unto the church of the Thes-sa-lo'ni-ans [b] in God our Father and the Lord Je'sus Christ:

2 [c] Grace unto you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Je'sus Christ.

3 [d] We are bound to thank God always for you, brethren, as it is meet, because that [e] your faith groweth exceedingly, and the charity of every one of you all toward each other aboundeth;

4 So that [f] we ourselves glory in you in the churches of God, [g] for your patience and faith [h] in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye endure:

5 Which is [i] a manifest token of the righteous judgment of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdom of God, [j] for which ye also suffer:

6 [k] Seeing it is a righteous thing with God to recompense tribulation to them that trouble you;

7 And to you who are troubled [l] rest with us, when [m] the Lord Je'sus shall be revealed from heaven with [1] his mighty angels,

8 [n] In flaming fire [2] taking vengeance on them [o] that know not God, and [p] that obey not the gospel of our Lord Je'sus Christ:

9 [q] Who shall be punished with everlasting destruction from the presence of the Lord, and [r] from the glory of his power;

10 [s] When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, [t] and to be admired in all them that believe (because our testimony among you was believed) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray always for you, that our God would [3] [u] count you worthy of this calling, and fulfil all the good pleasure of his goodness, and [x] the work of faith with power:

12 [y] That the name of our Lord Je'sus Christ may be glorified in you, and ye in him, according to the grace of our God and the Lord Je'sus Christ.

CHAPTER II.

The coming of the Lord not immediately at hand. 3 A great apostasy to precede it. 15 They are exhorted to stand fast in the truth.

NOW we beseech you, brethren, [a] by the coming of our Lord Je'sus Christ, [b] and by our gathering together unto him,

2 [c] That ye be not soon shaken in mind, or be troubled, neither by spirit, nor by word, nor by letter as from us, as that the day of Christ is at hand.

3 [d] Let no man deceive you by any means: for that day shall not come, [e] except there come a falling away first, and [f] that man of sin be revealed, [g] the son of perdition;

4 Who opposeth and [h] exalteth himself [i] above all that is called God, or that is worshipped; so that he as God sitteth in the temple of God, showing himself that he is God.

5 [j] Remember ye not, that, when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now ye know what [1] withholdeth that he might be revealed in his time.

7 For [k] the mystery of iniquity doth already work: only he who now letteth will let, until he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that Wicked be revealed, [l] whom the Lord shall consume [m] with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy [n] with the brightness of his coming:

9 Even him, whose coming is [o] after the working of Sa'tan with all power and [p] signs and lying wonders,

10 And with all deceivableness of unrighteousness in [q] them that perish; because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved.

13 But [u] we are bound to give thanks always to God for you, brethren beloved of the Lord, because God [x] hath [y] from the beginning chosen you to salvation [z] through sanctification of the Spirit and belief of the truth:

14 Whereunto he called you by our gospel, to [a] the obtaining of the glory of our Lord Je'sus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, [b] stand fast, and hold [c] the traditions which ye have been taught, whether by word, or our epistle.

16 [d] Now our Lord Je'sus Christ himself, and God, even our Father, [e] which hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and [f] good hope through grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, [g] and stablish you in every good word and work.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle desireth their prayers for himself. 3 His confidence in them. 6 He commandeth them to withdraw from every one that walketh disorderly. 16 Prayer and salutation.

FINALLY, brethren, [a] pray for us, that the word of the Lord [1] may have free course, and be glorified, even as it is with you:

2 And [b] that we may be delivered from [2] unreasonable and wicked men: [c] for all men have not faith.

3 But [d] the Lord is faithful, who shall stablish you, and [e] keep you from evil.

4 And [f] we have confidence in the Lord touching you, that ye both do and will do the things which we command you.

5 And [g] the Lord direct your hearts into the love of God, and into [3] the patient waiting for Christ.

6 Now we command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Je'sus Christ, [h] that ye withdraw yourselves [i] from every brother that walketh [k] disorderly, and not after [l] the tradition which he received of us.

7 For yourselves know [m] how ye ought to follow us: for [n] we behaved not ourselves disorderly among you;

8 Neither did we eat any man's bread for nought; but [o] wrought with labour and travail night and day, that we might not be chargeable to any of you:

9 [p] Not because we have not power, but to make [q] ourselves an ensample unto you to follow us.

10 For even when we were with you, this we commanded you, [r] that if any would not work, neither should he eat.

11 For we hear that there are some [s] which walk among you disorderly, [t] working not at all, but are busybodies.

12 [u] Now them that are such we command and exhort by our Lord Je'sus Christ, [x] that with quietness they work, and eat their own bread.

13 But ye, brethren, [y] [4] be not weary in well doing.

14 And if any man obey not our word by this epistle, [5] note that man, and [z] have no company with him, that he may be ashamed.

15 [a] Yet count him not as an enemy, [b] but admonish him as a brother.

16 Now [c] the Lord of peace himself give you peace always by all means. The Lord be with you all.

17 [d] The salutation of Paul with mine own hand, which is the token in every epistle: so I write.

18 [e] The grace of our Lord Je'sus Christ be with you all. Amen.

THE
FIRST EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
TO TIMOTHY.

Timothy was a native of Lystra, a city of Lycaonia, in Asia Minor. His father was a Greek, but his mother was a Jewess, and, as well as his grandmother Lois, a person of excellent character. It is generally supposed that he was converted to the Christian faith during the first visit made by Paul and Barnabas to Lystra. From the time of his conversion Timothy made such proficiency in the knowledge of the Gospel, and was so remarkable for the sanctity of his manners, as well as for his zeal in the cause of Christ, that he attracted the esteem of all the brethren in those parts. Accordingly, when the apostle came from Antioch, in Syria, to Lystra, the second time, they commended Timothy so highly to him, that Paul selected him to be the companion of his travels, having previously circumcised him, and ordained him in a solemn manner by imposition of hands, though at that time he probably was not more than twenty years of age. The date of this Epistle has been much disputed, some writers placing it so early as the year 56, and others so late as the year 64. The latter is considered the most probable. This Epistle has always been acknowledged to be the undisputed production of Paul. Timothy having been left at Ephesus to regulate the affairs of the Church in that city, Paul wrote this Epistle chiefly to instruct him in the choice of proper officers in the Church, as well as in the exercise of a regular ministry. Another and very important part of the apostle's design, was to caution him against the influence of those false teachers who, by their subtle distinctions, and endless controversies, had corrupted the purity and simplicity of the Gospel; to press upon him, in all his preaching, a constant regard to the interests of practical religion; and to animate him to the greatest diligence, fidelity, and zeal in the discharge of his office. The Epistle, therefore, consists of three parts: the introduction, instructions to Timothy how to behave in the administration of the Church at Ephesus, and the conclusion.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 3 The reason why he left him at Ephesus. 5 The use and end of the law. 12 Paul's gratitude to Christ in being put into the ministry. 18 This charge he committed to Timothy. 20 Hymeneus and Alexander delivered to Satan.

PAUL, an apostle of Je'sus Christ [a] by the commandment [b] of God our Saviour, and Lord Je'sus Christ, [c] which is our hope;

2 Unto [d] Tim'o-thy, [e] my own son in the faith: [f] Grace, mercy, and peace, from God our Father and Je'sus Christ our Lord.

3 As I besought thee to abide still at Eph'e-sus, [g] when I went into Ma-ce-do'ni-a, that thou mightest charge some [h] that they teach no other doctrine,

4 [i] Neither give heed to fables and endless genealogies, [k] which minister questions, rather than godly edifying which is in faith: so do.

5 Now [l] the end of the commandment is charity [m] out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith unfeigned:

6 From which some [1] having swerved have turned aside unto [n] vain jangling;

7 Desiring to be teachers of the law; [o] understanding neither what they say, nor whereof they affirm.

8 But we know that [p] the law is good, if a man use it lawfully;

9 [q] Knowing this, that [r] the law is not made for a righteous man, but for the lawless and disobedient, for the ungodly and for sinners, for unholy and profane, for murderers of fathers and murderers of mothers, for manslayers,

10 For whoremongers, for them that defile themselves with mankind, for menstealers, for liars, for perjured persons, and if there be any other thing that is contrary [s] to sound doctrine;

11 According to the glorious gospel of [t] the blessed God, [u] which was committed to my trust.

12 And I thank Christ Je'sus our Lord, [v] who hath enabled me, [x] for that he counted me faithful, [y] putting me into the ministry;

13 [z] Who was before a blasphemer, and a persecutor, and injurious: but I obtained mercy, because [a] I did it ignorantly in unbelief.

14 [b] And the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant [c] with faith [d] and love which is in Christ Je'sus.

15 [e] This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation, that [f] Christ Je'sus came into the world to save sinners; of whom I am chief.

16 Howbeit for this cause [g] I obtained mercy, that in me first Je'sus Christ might show forth all longsuffering, [h] for 18 This charge [o]I commit unto thee, son Tim'o-thy, [p]according to the prophecies which went before on thee, that thou by them mightest [q]war a good warfare;

19 [r]Holding faith, and a good conscience; which some having put away concerning faith [s]have made shipwreck:

20 Of whom is [t]Hy-men-e'us and [u]Al-ex-an'der; whom I have [x]delivered unto Sa'tan, that they may learn not to [y]blaspheme.

CHAPTER II.

Prayer to be made for all men. 9 How women are to be attired. 11 They are to learn in silence, and are not to usurp authority over men.

I [1]EXHORT therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks, be made for all men;

2 [a]For kings, and [b]for all that are in [2]authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty.

3 For this is [c]good and acceptable in the sight [d]of God our Saviour;

4 [e]Who will have all men to be saved, [f]and to come unto the knowledge of the truth.

5 [g]For there is one God, and [h]one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Je'sus;

6 [i]Who gave himself a ransom for all, [k][3]to be testified [l]in due time.

7 [m]Whereunto I am ordained a preacher, and an apostle, ([n]I speak the truth in Christ, and lie not,) [o]a teacher of the Gen'tiles in faith and verity.

8 I will therefore that men pray [p]every where, [q]lifting up holy hands, without wrath and doubting.

9 In like manner also, that [r]women adorn themselves in modest apparel, with shamefacedness and sobriety; not with [4]braided hair, or gold, or pearls, or costly array;

10 [s]But, which becometh women professing godliness, with good works.

11 Let the woman learn in silence with all subjection.

12 But [t]I suffer not a woman to teach, [u]nor to usurp authority over the man, but to be in silence.

13 For [x]Ad'am was first formed, then Eve.

14 And [y]Ad'am was not deceived, but the woman being deceived was in the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding she shall be saved in childbearing, if they continue in faith and charity and holiness with sobriety.

CHAPTER III.

The qualifications of a bishop, 8 and of deacons. 14 Why he writeth these things to Timothy. 16 The mystery of godliness.

THIS [a]is a true saying, If a man desire the office of a [b]bishop, he desireth a good [c]work.

2 [d]A bishop then must be blameless, [e]the husband of one wife, vigilant, sober, [1]of good behaviour, given to hospitality, [f]apt to teach;

3 [g][2]Not given to wine, [h]no striker, [i]not greedy of filthy lucre; but [k]patient, not a brawler, not covetous;

4 One that ruleth well his own house, [l]having his children in subjection with all gravity;

5 For if a man know not how to rule his own house, how shall he take care of the church of God?

6 Not [3]a novice, lest being lifted up with pride [m]he fall into the condemnation of the devil.

7 Moreover he must have a good report [n]of them which are without; lest he fall into reproach [o]and the snare of the devil.

8 Likewise must [p]the deacons be grave, not double-tongued, [q]not given to much wine, not greedy of filthy lucre;

9 [r]Holding the mystery of the faith in a pure conscience.

10 And let these also first be proved; then let them use the office of a deacon, being found blameless.

11 [s]Even so must their wives be grave, not slanderers, sober, faithful in all things.

12 Let the deacons be the husbands of one wife, ruling their children and their own houses well.

13 For [t]they that have [4]used the office of a deacon well purchase to themselves a good degree, and great boldness in the faith which is in Christ Je'sus.

14 These things write I unto thee, hoping to come unto thee shortly:

15 But if I tarry long, that thou mayest know how thou oughtest to behave thyself [u]in the house of God, which is the church of the living God, the pillar and [5]ground of the truth.

16 And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: [x]God was [6]manifest in the flesh, [y]justified in the Spirit, [z]seen of angels, [a]preached unto the Gen'tiles, [b]believed on in the world, [c]received up into glory.

CHAPTER IV.

The Spirit speaketh of a departure from the faith in the latter times. 6 Timothy is to put the brethren in remembrance of these things. 8 Godliness is profitable. 12 He is to be an example of the believers.

NOW the Spirit [a]speaketh expressly, that [b]in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed [c]to seducing spirits, [d]and doctrines of devils;

2 [e] Speaking lies in hypocrisy; [f] having their conscience seared with a hot iron;

3 [g] Forbidding to marry, [h] and commanding to abstain from meats, which God hath created [i] to be received [k] with thanksgiving of them which believe and know the truth.

4 For [l] every creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be received with thanksgiving:

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Je'sus Christ, [m] nourished up in the words of faith and of good doctrine, whereunto thou hast attained.

7 But [n] refuse profane and old wives' fables, and [o] exercise thyself rather unto godliness.

8 For [p] bodily exercise profiteth [1] little: [q] but godliness is profitable unto all things, [r] having promise of the life that now is, and of that which is to come.

9 [s] This is a faithful saying, and worthy of all acceptation.

10 For therefore [t] we both labour and suffer reproach, because we [u] trust in the living God, [x] who is the Saviour of all men, specially of those that believe.

11 [y] These things command and teach.

12 [z] Let no man despise thy youth; but [a] be thou an example of the believers, in word, in conversation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in purity.

13 Till I come, give attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 [b] Neglect not the gift that is in thee, which was given thee [c] by prophecy, [d] with the laying on of the hands of the presbytery.

15 Meditate upon these things; give thyself wholly to them; that thy profiting may appear [2] to all.

16 [e] Take heed unto thyself, and unto the doctrine; continue in them: for in doing this thou shalt both [f] save thyself, and [g] them that hear thee.

CHAPTER V.

Rules to be observed in reproving. 3 Of widows. 17 Of elders. 23 A precept for Timothy's health. 24 Some men's sins go before them unto judgment, and some men's do follow after.

REBUKE [a] not an elder, but entreat him as a father; and the younger men as brethren;

2 The elder women as mothers; the younger as sisters, [b] with all purity.

3 Honour widows [c] that are widows indeed.

4 But if any widow have children or nephews, let them learn first to show [1] piety at home, and [d] to requite their parents: [e] for that is good and acceptable before God.

5 [f] Now she that is a widow indeed, and desolate, trusteth in God, and [g] continueth in supplications and prayers [h] night and day.

6 [i] But she that liveth [2] in pleasure is dead while she liveth.

7 [j] And these things give in charge, that they may be blameless.

8 But if any provide not for his own, [k] and specially for those of his own [3] house, [l] he hath denied the faith, [m] and is worse than an infidel.

9 Let not a widow be [4] taken into the number under threescore years old, [n] having been the wife of one man,

10 Well reported of for good works; if she have brought up children, if she have [o] lodged strangers, if she have [p] washed the saints' feet, if she have relieved the afflicted, if she have diligently followed every good work.

11 But the younger widows refuse: for when they have begun to wax wanton against Christ, they will marry;

12 Having damnation, because they have cast off their first faith.

13 [q] And withal they learn to be idle, wandering about from house to house; and not only idle, but tattlers also and busybodies, speaking things which they ought not.

14 [r] I will therefore that the younger women marry, bear children, guide the house, [s] give none occasion to the adversary [5] to speak reproachfully.

15 For some [t] are already turned aside after Sa'tan.

16 If any man or woman that believeth have widows, let them relieve them, and let not the church be charged; that it may relieve [u] them that are widows indeed.

17 [v] Let the elders that rule well [x] be counted worthy of double honour, especially they who labour in the word and doctrine.

18 For the Scripture saith, [y] Thou shalt not muzzle the ox that treadeth out the corn. And, [z] The labourer is worthy of his reward.

19 Against an elder receive not an accusation, but [6] [a] before two or three witnesses.

20 [b] Them that sin rebuke before all, [c] that others also may fear.

21 [d] I charge thee before God, and the Lord Je'sus Christ, and the elect angels, that thou observe these things [7] without preferring one before another, doing nothing by partiality.

22 [e] Lay hands suddenly on no man, [f] neither be partaker of other men's sins: keep thyself pure.

23 Drink no longer water, but use a little wine [g] for thy stomach's sake and thine often infirmities.

24 [h] Some men's sins are open beforehand, going before to judgment; and some men they follow after.

CHAPTER VI.

The duty of servants. 6 The gain of godliness. 10 The love of money the root of all evil. 11 What Timothy is to flee, and what to follow, 17 and whereof to admonish the rich. 20 He is exhorted to keep that which is committed to his trust.

LET as many [a]servants as are under the yoke count their own masters worthy of all honour, [b]that the name of God and his doctrine be not blasphemed.

2 And they that have believing masters, let them not despise them, [c]because they are brethren; but rather do them service, because they are [1]faithful and beloved, partakers of the benefit. [d]These things teach and exhort.

3 If any man [e]teach otherwise, and consent [f]not to wholesome words, even the words of our Lord Je'sus Christ, [g]and to the doctrine which is according to godliness;

4 He is [2]proud, [h]knowing nothing, but [3]doting about [i]questions and strifes of words, whereof cometh envy, strife, railings, evil surmisings,

5 [k][4]Perverse disputings of [l]men of corrupt minds, and destitute of the truth, [m]supposing that gain is godliness: [n]from such withdraw thyself.

6 But [o]godliness with contentment is great gain.

7 For [p]we brought nothing into this world, and it is certain we can carry nothing out.

8 And [q]having food and raiment, let us be therewith content.

9 But [r]they that will be rich fall into temptation [s]and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, [t]which drown men in destruction and perdition.

10 [u]For the love of money is the root of all evil: which while some coveted after, they have [5]erred from the faith, and pierced themselves through with many sorrows.

11 [x]But thou, [y]O man of God, flee these things; and follow after righteousness, godliness, faith, love, patience, meekness.

12 [z]Fight the good fight of faith, [a]lay hold on eternal life, whereunto thou art also called, [b]and hast professed a good profession before many witnesses.

13 [c]I give thee charge in the sight of God, [d]who quickeneth all things, and before Christ Je'sus, [e]who before Pon'ti-us Pi'late witnessed a good [6]confession;

14 That thou keep this commandment without spot, unrebukeable, [f]until the appearing of our Lord Je'sus Christ:

15 Which in his times he shall show, who is [g]the blessed and only Potentate, [h]the King of kings, and Lord of lords;

16 [i]Who only hath immortality, dwelling in the light which no man can approach unto; [k]whom no man hath seen, nor can see: [l]to whom be honour and power everlasting. Amen.

17 Charge them that are rich in this world, that they be not highminded, [m]nor trust in [7][n]uncertain riches, but in [o]the living God, [p]who giveth us richly all things to enjoy;

18 That they do good, that [q]they be rich in good works, [r]ready to distribute, [8][s]willing to communicate;

19 [t]Laying up in store for themselves a good foundation against the time to come, that they may [u]lay hold on eternal life.

20 O Tim'o-thy, [x]keep that which is committed to thy trust, [y]avoiding profane and vain babblings, and oppositions of science falsely so called:

21 Which some professing [z]have erred concerning the faith. Grace be with thee. Amen.

THE

SECOND EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE

TO TIMOTHY.

THIS Epistle was written during Paul's second imprisonment, and not long before his martyrdom, most probably in the month of July or August, A. D. 65. The immediate design of Paul in writing it was to apprise Timothy of the circumstances that had befallen him during his second imprisonment at Rome, and to request him to come to him before the ensuing winter. But, being uncertain whether he should live so long, he gave him in this letter a variety of advices, charges, and encouragements for the faithful discharge of his ministerial functions, in order that, if he should be put to death before his arrival, the loss might, in some measure, be compensated to him by the instructions contained in this Epistle. With this view he exhorts him to stir up the gift which had been conferred upon him; not to be ashamed of the testimony of the Lord, nor of Paul's sufferings; to hold fast the form of sound words, and to guard inviolable that good deposit of Gospel doctrine which he was to commit to faithful men who should be able to teach others; to endure, with fortitude, persecutions for the sake of the Gospel; to suppress and avoid logomachies; to approve himself a faithful minister of the word; and to forewarn him of the perils of the last days, in consequence of wicked hypocritical seducers and enemies of the truth, who, even then, were beginning to rise in the Church. These Paul admonishes Timothy to flee, giving him various cautions against them.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 3 His remembrance of Timothy in his prayers. 5 The faith of Timothy, of his mother, and of his grandmother. 6 He is exhorted to stir up the gift of God in him. 8 to be steadfast in the faith, 13 and to hold fast the form of sound words. 15 Some were turned away from the apostle. 16 The kindness of Onesiphorus.

PAUL, [a] an apostle of Je'sus Christ by the will of God, according to [b] the promise of life which is in Christ Je'sus,

2 [c] To Tim'o-thy, my dearly beloved son: Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and Christ Je'sus our Lord.

3 [d] I thank God, [e] whom I serve from my forefathers with pure conscience, that [f] without ceasing I have remembrance of thee in my prayers night and day;

4 [g] Greatly desiring to see thee, being mindful of thy tears, that I may be filled with joy;

5 When I call to remembrance [h] the unfeigned faith that is in thee, which dwelt first in thy grandmother Lo'is, and [i] thy mother Eu-ni'ce; and I am persuaded that in thee also.

6 Wherefore I put thee in remembrance, [k] that thou stir up the gift of God, which is in thee by the putting on of my hands.

7 For [l] God hath not given us the spirit of fear; [m] but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

8 [n] Be not thou therefore ashamed of [o] the testimony of our Lord, nor of me [p] his prisoner: [q] but be thou partaker of the afflictions of the gospel according to the power of God;

9 [r] Who hath saved us, and [s] called us with a holy calling, [t] not according to our works, but [u] according to his own purpose and grace, which was given us in Christ Je'sus [x] before the world began;

10 But [y] is now made manifest by the appearing of our Saviour Je'sus Christ, [z] who hath abolished death, and hath brought life and immortality to light through the gospel:

11 [a] Whereunto I am appointed a preacher, and an apostle, and a teacher of the Gen'tiles.

12 [b] For the which cause I also suffer these things: nevertheless I am not ashamed; [c] for I know whom I have [1] believed, and am persuaded that he is able to [d] keep that which I have committed unto him [e] against that day.

13 [f] Hold fast [g] the form of [h] sound words, [i] which thou hast heard of me, [k] in faith and love which is in Christ Je'sus.

14 [l] That good thing which was committed unto thee keep by the Holy Ghost [m] which dwelleth in us.

15 This thou knowest, that [n] all they which are in A'si-a be [o] turned away from me; of whom are Phy-gel'lus and Her-mog'e-nes.

16 The Lord [p] give mercy unto [q] the house of On-e-siph'o-rus; [r] for he oft refreshed me, and [s] was not ashamed of [t] my chain:

17 But, when he was in Rome, he sought me out very diligently, and found me.

18 The Lord grant unto him [u] that he

CHAPTER II.

Timothy is again exhorted to faithfulness in preaching the gospel, 16 and to shun profane and vain babblings. 19 The foundation of the Lord is sure. 22 What Timothy is to flee, and what to follow. 24 The servant of the Lord must not strive.

THOU therefore, [a]my son, [b]be strong in the grace that is in Christ Je'sus.

2 [c]And the things that thou hast heard of me [1]among many witnesses, [d]the same commit thou to faithful men, who shall be [e]able to teach others also.

3 [f]Thou therefore endure hardness, [g]as a good soldier of Je'sus Christ.

4 [h]No man that warreth entangleth himself with the affairs of this life; that he may please him who hath chosen him to be a soldier.

5 And [i]if a man also strive for masteries, yet is he not crowned, except he strive lawfully.

6 [k][2]The husbandman that laboureth must be first partaker of the fruits.

7 Consider what I say; and the Lord give thee understanding in all things.

8 Remember that Je'sus Christ [l]of the seed of Da'vid [m]was raised from the dead, [n]according to my gospel:

9 [o]Wherein I suffer trouble, as an evil doer, [p]even unto bonds; [q]but the word of God is not bound.

10 Therefore [r]I endure all things for the elect's sakes, [s]that they may also obtain the salvation which is in Christ Je'sus with eternal glory.

11 [t]It is a faithful saying: For [u]if we be dead with him, we shall also live with him:

12 [x]If we suffer, we shall also reign with him: [y]if we deny him, he also will deny us:

13 [z]If we believe not, yet he abideth faithful: [a]he cannot deny himself.

14 Of these things put them in remembrance, [b]charging them before the Lord [c]that they strive not about words to no profit, but to the subverting of the hearers.

15 Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

16 But [d]shun profane and vain babblings: for they will increase unto more ungodliness.

17 And their word will eat as doth a [3]canker: of whom is [e]Hy-men-e'us and Phi-le'tus;

18 Who [f]concerning the truth have erred, [g]saying that the resurrection is past already; and overthrow the faith of some.

19 Nevertheless [h]the foundation of God standeth [4]sure, having this seal, The Lord [i]knoweth them that are his. And, Let every one that nameth the name of Christ depart from iniquity.

20 [k]But in a great house there are not only vessels of gold and of silver, but also of wood and of earth; [l]and some to honour, and some to dishonour.

21 [m]If a man therefore purge himself from these, he shall be a vessel unto honour, sanctified, and meet for the master's use, and [n]prepared unto every good work.

22 [o]Flee also youthful lusts: but follow righteousness, faith, charity, peace, with them that [p]call on the Lord [q]out of a pure heart.

23 But [r]foolish and unlearned questions avoid, knowing that they do gender strifes.

24 And [s]the servant of the Lord must not strive; but be gentle unto all men, [t]apt to teach, [5]patient;

25 [u]In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; [x]if God peradventure will give them repentance [y]to the acknowledging of the truth;

26 And that they may [6]recover themselves [z]out of the snare of the devil, who are [7]taken captive by him at his will.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle foretelleth perilous times, 2 and describeth the enemies of the truth. 10 He encourageth Timothy by his own example. 12 The godly shall suffer persecution. 14 Steadfastness in the truth urged. 16 All Scripture given by inspiration.

THIS know also, that [a]in the last days perilous times shall come.

2 For men shall be [b]lovers of their own selves, [c]covetous, [d]boasters, [e]proud, [f]blasphemers, [g]disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy,

3 [h]Without natural affection, [i]trucebreakers, [1]false accusers, [k]incontinent, fierce, despisers of those that are good,

4 [l]Traitors, heady, highminded, [m]lovers of pleasures more than lovers of God;

5 Having a form of godliness, but [n]denying the power thereof: [o]from such turn away.

6 For [p]of this sort are they which creep into houses, and lead captive silly women laden with sins, led away with divers lusts,

7 Ever learning, and never able [q]to come to the knowledge of the truth.

8 [r]Now as Jan'nes and Jam'bres withstood Mo'ses, so do these also resist the truth: [s]men of corrupt minds, [t][2]reprobate concerning the faith.

9 But they shall proceed no further: for their folly shall be manifest unto all men, [u]as theirs also was.

CHAPTER IV.

The apostle's charge to Timothy. 6 The time of his own departure at hand. 9 He exhorteth Timothy to come to him speedily. 16 No one stood with him at his first answer. 19 Salutations.

I [a]CHARGE thee therefore before God, and the Lord Je'sus Christ, [b]who shall judge the quick and the dead at his appearing and his kingdom;

2 Preach the word; be instant in season, out of season; reprove, [c]rebuke, [d]exhort with all longsuffering and doctrine.

3 [e]For the time will come when they will not endure [f]sound doctrine; [g]but after their own lusts shall they heap to themselves teachers, having itching ears;

4 And they shall turn away their ears from the truth, and [h]shall be turned unto fables.

5 But watch thou in all things, [i]endure afflictions, do the work of [k]an evangelist, [1]make full proof of thy ministry.

6 For [l]I am now ready to be offered, and the time of my [m]departure is at hand.

7 [n]I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:

8 Henceforth there is laid up for me [o]a crown of righteousness, which the Lord, the righteous judge, shall give me [p]at that day: and not to me only, but unto all them also that love his appearing.

9 Do thy diligence to come shortly unto me:

10 For [q]De'mas hath forsaken me, [r]having loved this present world, and is departed unto Thes-sa-lo-ni'ca; Cres'cens to Ga-la'ti-a, Ti'tus unto Dal-ma'ti-a.

11 [s]Only [t]Luke is with me. Take [u]Mark, and bring him with thee: for he is profitable to me for the ministry.

12 And [x]Tych'i-cus have I sent to Eph'e-sus.

13 The cloak that I left at Tro'as with Car'pus, when thou comest, bring with thee, and the books, but especially the parchments.

14 [y]Al-ex-an'der the coppersmith did me much evil: [z]the Lord reward him according to his works:

15 Of whom be thou ware also; for he hath greatly withstood [2]our words.

16 At my first answer no man stood with me, [a]but all men forsook me: [b]I pray God that it may not be laid to their charge.

17 [c]Notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me; [d]that by me the preaching might be fully known, and that all the Gen'tiles might hear: and I was delivered [e]out of the mouth of the lion.

18 [f]And the Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: [g]to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

19 Salute [h]Pris'ca and A-quil'a, and [i]the household of On-e-siph'o-rus.

20 [k]E-ras'tus abode at Cor'inth: but [l]Troph'i-mus have I left at Mi-le'tum sick.

21 [m]Do thy diligence to come before winter. Eu-bu'lus greeteth thee, and Pu'dens, and Li'nus, and Clau'di-a, and all the brethren.

22 [n]The Lord Je'sus Christ be with thy spirit. Grace be with you. Amen.

¶ The second epistle unto Timotheus, ordained the first bishop of the Church of the Ephesians, was written from Rome, when Paul was brought before [3]Nero the second time.

THE

EPISTLE OF PAUL

TO TITUS.

TITUS was a Greek, and one of St. Paul's early converts, who attended him and Barnabas to the first council at Jerusalem, A. D. 49, and afterward on his ensuing circuit. Subsequently, he was confidentially employed by the apostle on various occasions; and, as appears from this Epistle, was specially appointed by him to regulate the Christian Churches in Crete. Whether Titus ever quitted that island, we know not; neither have we any certain information concerning the time, place, or manner of his death; but, according to ancient ecclesiastical tradition, he lived to the age of ninety-four years, and died and was buried in that island. This Epistle, the genuineness of which was never questioned, is supposed to have been written after Paul's liberation from his first imprisonment, 64. Titus having been left in Crete to settle the Churches in the several cities of that island, according to the apostolical plan, Paul wrote this Epistle to him, that he might discharge his ministry among the Cretans with the greater success, and to give him particular instructions concerning his behaviour toward the Judaizing teachers, who endeavored to pervert the faith, and disturb the peace of the Christian Church. It consists of three parts: the inscription; instructions to Titus concerning the ordination of elders, that is, of bishops and deacons, to accommodate his exhortations to the respective ages, sexes, and circumstances of those whom he was commissioned to instruct; an invitation to Titus, to come to the apostle at Nicopolis, together with various directions.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 5 Why he left Titus in Crete. 7 The qualifications of a bishop. 10 Many vain talkers and deceivers among the Cretians. 13 He is to rebuke them sharply.

PAUL, a servant of God, and an apostle of Je'sus Christ, according to the faith of God's elect, and [a] the acknowledging of the truth [b] which is after godliness;

2 [1] [c] In hope of eternal life, which God, [d] that cannot lie, promised [e] before the world began;

3 [f] But hath in due times manifested his word through preaching, [g] which is committed unto me [h] according to the commandment of God our Saviour;

4 To [i] Titus, [k] mine own son after [l] the common faith: [m] Grace, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and the Lord Je'sus Christ our Saviour.

5 For this cause left I thee in Crete, that thou shouldest [n] set in order the things that are [2] wanting, and [o] ordain elders in every city, as I had appointed thee:

6 [p] If any be blameless, [q] the husband of one wife, [r] having faithful children not accused of riot or unruly.

7 For a bishop must be blameless, as [s] the steward of God; not selfwilled, not soon angry, [t] not given to wine, no striker, [u] not given to filthy lucre;

8 [x] But a lover of hospitality, a lover of [3] good men, sober, just, holy, temperate;

9 [y] Holding fast [z] the faithful word [4] as he hath been taught, that he may be able [a] by sound doctrine both to exhort and to convince the gainsayers.

10 For [b] there are many unruly and vain talkers and [c] deceivers, [d] specially they of the circumcision:

11 Whose mouths must be stopped, [e] who subvert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, [f] for filthy lucre's sake.

12 [g] One of themselves, even a prophet of their own, said, The Cre'tians are always liars, evil beasts, slow bellies.

13 This witness is true. [h] Wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be [i] sound in the faith;

14 [k] Not giving heed to Jew'ish fables, and [l] commandments of men that turn from the truth.

15 [m] Unto the pure all things are pure: but [n] unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled.

16 They profess that they know God; but [o] in works they deny him, being abominable, and disobedient, [p] and unto every good work [5] reprobate.

CHAPTER II.

Titus is to teach the things which become sound doctrine, 7 and to be an example of good works. 9 The duty of servants. 11 The grace of God teacheth us to live godly.

BUT speak thou the things which become [a] sound doctrine:

2 That the aged men be [1] sober, grave, temperate, [b] sound in faith, in charity, in patience.

3 [c] The aged women likewise, that they be in behaviour as becometh [2] holiness,

6 Young men likewise exhort to be [5]soberminded.

7 [g]In all things showing thyself a pattern of good works: in doctrine showing uncorruptness, gravity, [h]sincerity,

8 [i]Sound speech, that cannot be condemned; [k]that he that is of the contrary part [l]may be ashamed, having no evil thing to say of you.

9 Exhort [m]servants to be obedient unto their own masters, and to please them well [n]in all things; not [6]answering again;

10 Not purloining, but showing all good fidelity; [o]that they may adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things.

11 For [p]the grace of God [7]that bringeth salvation [q]hath appeared to all men,

12 Teaching us [r]that, denying ungodliness [s]and worldly lusts, we should live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world;

13 [t]Looking for that blessed [u]hope, and the glorious [x]appearing of the great God and our Saviour Je'sus Christ;

14 [y]Who gave himself for us, that he might redeem us from all iniquity, [z]and purify unto himself [a]a peculiar people, [b]zealous of good works.

15 These things speak, and [c]exhort, and rebuke with all authority. [d]Let no man despise thee.

CHAPTER III.

Titus is farther directed to teach men to obey magistrates, and to be gentle to all. 8 Believers are to maintain good works. 9 He is to avoid foolish questions; 10 and to reject obstinate heretics. 12 Where he is to meet the apostle.

PUT them in mind [a]to be subject to principalities and powers, to obey magistrates, [b]to be ready to every good work,

2 [c]To speak evil of no man, [d]to be no brawlers, but [e]gentle, showing all [f]meekness unto all men,

3 For [g]we ourselves also were sometime foolish, disobedient, deceived, serving divers lusts and pleasures, living in malice and envy, hateful, and hating one another.

4 But after that [h]the kindness and [1]love of [i]God our Saviour toward man appeared,

5 [k]Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by [l]the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost;

6 [m]Which he shed on us [2]abundantly through Je'sus Christ our Saviour;

7 [n]That being justified by his grace, [o]we should be made heirs [p]according to the hope of eternal life.

8 [q]This is a faithful saying, and these things I will that thou affirm constantly, that they which have believed in God might be careful [r]to maintain good works. These things are good and profitable unto men.

9 But [s]avoid foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; [t]for they are unprofitable and vain.

10 A man that is a heretic, [u]after the first and second admonition, [x]reject;

11 Knowing that he that is such is subverted, and sinneth, [y]being condemned of himself.

12 When I shall send Ar'te-mas unto thee, or [z]Tych'i-cus, be diligent to come unto me to Ni-cop'o-lis: for I have determined there to winter.

13 Bring Ze'nas the lawyer and [a]A-pol'los on their journey diligently, that nothing be wanting unto them.

14 And let ours also learn [b]to [3]maintain good works for necessary uses, that they be [c]not unfruitful.

15 All that are with me salute thee. Greet them that love us in the faith. Grace be with you all. Amen.

¶ It was written to Titus, ordained the first bishop of the Church of the Cretians, from Nicopolis of Macedonia.

THE

EPISTLE OF PAUL

TO PHILEMON.

PHILEMON was an inhabitant of Colosse, most probably a converted Gentile, and it should seem, an opulent and benevolent Christian. As it is evident, from the Epistle itself, that St. Paul was under confinement when he wrote it, and as he expresses his expectation of being shortly released, it is probable that it was written during his first imprisonment at Rome, toward the end of 62, or early in 63; and was sent, together with the Epistles to the Ephesians and Colossians, by Tychicus and Onesimus. Though some, formerly, questioned the genuineness of this Epistle, the attestations it has received, from the earliest antiquity, are deemed sufficient to establish that point. The design of this short and persuasive letter is, to recommend Onesimus, and to entreat Philemon to receive him as a brother beloved.

The apostle's salutation. 4 His thanksgiving to God for Philemon's faith and love. 8 He desireth him to forgive his servant Onesimus, and lovingly to receive him again.

PAUL, [a] a prisoner of Je'sus Christ, and Tim'o-thy our brother, unto Phi-le'mon our dearly beloved, [b] and fellow labourer,

2 And to our beloved Apph'i-a, and [c] Ar-chip'pus [d] our fellow soldier, and to [e] the church in thy house:

3 [f] Grace to you, and peace, from God our Father and the Lord Je'sus Christ.

4 [g] I thank my God, making mention of thee always in my prayers,

5 [h] Hearing of thy love and faith, which thou hast toward the Lord Je'sus, and toward all saints;

6 That the communication of thy faith may become effectual [i] by the acknowledging of every good thing which is in you in Christ Je'sus.

7 For we have great joy and consolation in thy love, because the bowels of the saints [k] are refreshed by thee, brother.

8 Wherefore, [l] though I might be much bold in Christ to enjoin thee that which is convenient,

9 Yet for love's sake I rather beseech thee, being such a one as Paul the aged, [m] and now also a prisoner of Je'sus Christ.

10 I beseech thee for my son [n] O-nes'i-mus, [o] whom I have begotten in my bonds:

11 Which in time past was to thee unprofitable, but now profitable to thee and to me:

12 Whom I have sent again: thou therefore receive him, that is, mine own bowels:

13 Whom I would have retained with me, [p] that in thy stead he might have ministered unto me in the bonds of the gospel:

14 But without thy mind would I do nothing; [q] that thy benefit should not be as it were of necessity, but willingly.

15 [r] For perhaps he therefore departed for a season, that thou shouldest receive him for ever;

16 Not now as a servant, but above a servant, [s] a brother beloved, specially to me, but how much more unto thee, [t] both in the flesh, and in the Lord?

17 If thou count me therefore [u] a partner, receive him as myself.

18 If he hath wronged thee, or oweth thee aught, put that on mine account;

19 I Paul have written it with mine own hand, I will repay it: albeit I do not say to thee how thou owest unto me even thine own self besides.

20 Yea, brother, let me have joy of thee in the Lord: [x] refresh my bowels in the Lord.

21 [y] Having confidence in thy obedience I wrote unto thee, knowing that thou wilt also do more than I say.

22 But withal prepare me also a lodging: for [z] I trust that [a] through your prayers I shall be given unto you.

23 There salute thee [b] Ep'a-phras, my fellow prisoner in Christ Je'sus;

24 [c] Mar'cus, [d] Ar-is-tar'chus, [e] De'mas, [f] Lu'cas, my fellow labourers.

25 [g] The grace of our Lord Je'sus Christ be with your spirit. Amen.

THE EPISTLE OF PAUL THE APOSTLE
TO THE HEBREWS.

THE Hebrews, to whom this Epistle is addressed, were Jewish Christians, resident in Palestine; and, though considerable difference of opinion exists concerning its author, yet the similarity of its style and expressions to that of Paul's other epistles, proves that it was written by him in Greek, and not in Hebrew, as some eminent critics have supposed. The absence of his name is accounted for by the consideration that he withheld it, lest he should give umbrage to the Jews. It was written from Rome, not long before he left Italy; namely, at the end of A.D. 62, or early in 63. The occasion of writing it will be sufficiently apparent from an attentive review of its contents. The Jews did everything in their power to withdraw their brethren, who had been converted, from the Christian faith: to specious arguments, drawn from the excellency of the Jewish religion, they added others more cogent, namely, persecution and menaces. The object of the apostle, therefore, in writing this letter, is to show the divinity of Jesus Christ, and the excellency of his Gospel, when compared with the institutions of Moses; to prevent the Hebrews, or Jewish converts, from relapsing into those rites and ceremonies which were now abolished; and to point out their total insufficiency, as means of reconciliation and atonement. At length Paul shows the nature, efficacy, and triumph of faith, by which all the saints in former ages had been accepted by God, and enabled to obey, suffer, and perform exploits in defence of their holy religion; from which he takes occasion to exhort the Hebrew Christians to steadfastness and perseverance in the true faith. The Epistle consists of three parts: part one demonstrates the deity of Christ, by the explicit declarations of Scripture concerning his superiority to angels, to Moses, to Aaron, and the whole Jewish priesthood, and the typical nature of the Mosaic ritual; part two comprehends the application of the preceding arguments and proofs, in which the Hebrews are exhorted to steadfastness in the faith of Christ, and are encouraged by the examples of believers in former ages; part three, the conclusion, containing a prayer for the Hebrews, and apostolical salutations.

CHAPTER I.

God in these last days hath spoken to us by his Son, who is the brightness of his glory; 4 and is preferred above the angels, both in person and office.

GOD, who at sundry times and [a]in divers manners spake in time past unto the fathers by the prophets,

2 Hath [b]in these last days [c]spoken unto us by his Son, [d]whom he hath appointed heir of all things, [e]by whom also he made the worlds;

3 [f]Who, being the brightness of his glory and the express image of his person, and [g]upholding all things by the word of his power, [h]when he had by himself purged our sins, [i]sat down on the right hand of the Majesty on high;

4 Being made so much better than the angels, as [k]he hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name than they.

5 For unto which of the angels said he at any time, [l]Thou art my Son, this day have I begotten thee? And again, [m]I will be to him a Father, and he shall be to me a Son?

6 [1]And again, when he bringeth in [n]the firstbegotten into the world, he saith, [o]And let all the angels of God worship him.

7 And [2]of the angels he saith, [p]Who maketh his angels spirits, and his ministers a flame of fire.

8 But unto the Son he saith, [q]Thy throne, O God, is for ever and ever: a sceptre of [3]righteousness is the sceptre of thy kingdom.

9 Thou hast loved righteousness, and hated iniquity; therefore God, even thy God, [r]hath anointed thee with the oil of gladness above thy fellows.

10 And, [s]Thou, Lord, in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heavens are the works of thine hands.

11 [t]They shall perish, but thou remainest: and they all shall wax old as doth a garment;

12 And as a vesture shalt thou fold them up, and they shall be changed: but thou art the same, and thy years shall not fail.

13 But to which of the angels said he at any time, [u]Sit on my right hand, until I make thine enemies thy footstool?

14 [x]Are they not all ministering spirits, sent forth to minister for them who shall be [y]heirs of salvation?

CHAPTER II.

We ought to be obedient to the gospel, 5 especially because Christ vouchsafed to take our nature upon him, 17 as it behooved him.

THEREFORE we ought to give the more earnest heed to the things which we have heard, lest at any time we should let them slip.[1]

2 For if the word [a]spoken by angels was steadfast, and [b]every transgression and disobedience received a just recompense of reward;

3 [c]How shall we escape, if we neglect so great salvation; [d]which at the first began to be spoken by the Lord, and was [e]confirmed unto us by them that heard him;

4 [f]God also bearing them witness, [g]both with signs and wonders, and with divers miracles, and [2] [h]gifts of the Holy Ghost, [i]according to his own will?

5 For unto the angels hath he not put in subjection [k]the world to come, whereof we speak.

6 But one in a certain place testified, saying, [l]What is man, that thou art mindful of him? or the son of man, that thou visitest him?

7 Thou madest him [3]a little lower than the angels; thou crownedst him with glory and honour, and didst set him over the works of thy hands:

8 [m]Thou hast put all things in subjection under his feet. For in that he put all in subjection under him, he left nothing that is not put under him. But now [n]we see not yet all things put under him.

9 But we see Je'sus, [o]who was made a little lower than the angels [4]for the suffering of death, [p]crowned with glory and honour; that he by the grace of God should taste death [q]for every man.

10 [r]For it became him, [s]for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make [t]the Captain of their salvation [u]perfect through sufferings.

11 For [x]both he that sanctifieth and they who are sanctified [y]are all of one: for which cause [z]he is not ashamed to call them brethren,

12 Saying, [a]I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee.

13 And again, [b]I will put my trust in him. And again, [c]Behold, I and the children [d]which God hath given me.

14 Forasmuch then as the children are partakers of flesh and blood, he [e]also himself likewise took part of the same; [f]that through death he might destroy him that had the power of death, that is, the devil;

15 And deliver them, who [g]through fear of death were all their lifetime subject to bondage.

16 For verily [5]he took not on him the nature of angels; but he took on him the seed of A'bra-ham.

17 Wherefore in all things it behooved him [h]to be made like unto his brethren, that he might be [i]a merciful and faithful high priest in things pertaining to God, to make reconciliation for the sins of the people.

18 [k]For in that he himself hath suffered being tempted, he is able to succour them that are tempted.

CHAPTER III.

Christ is more worthy than Moses: 7 therefore if we believe not in him, we shall be more worthy of punishment than unbelieving Israel.

WHEREFORE, holy brethren, partakers of [a]the heavenly calling, consider [b]the Apostle and High Priest of our profession, Christ Je'sus;

2 Who was faithful to him that [1]appointed him, as also [c]Mo'ses was faithful in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory than Mo'ses, inasmuch as [d]he who hath builded the house hath more honour than the house.

4 For every house is builded by some man; but [e]he that built all things is God.

5 [f]And Mo'ses verily was faithful in all his house as [g]a servant, [h]for a testimony of those things which were to be spoken after;

6 But Christ as [i]a son over his own house; [k]whose house are we, [l]if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm unto the end.

7 Wherefore as [m]the Holy Ghost saith, [n]To day if ye will hear his voice,

8 [o]Harden not your hearts, as in the provocation, in the day of temptation in the wilderness:

9 When your fathers tempted me, proved me, and saw my works forty years.

10 Wherefore I was grieved with that generation, and said, They do always err in their heart; and they have not known my ways.

11 So I sware in my wrath, [2]They shall not enter into my rest.

12 Take heed, brethren, lest there be in any of you an evil heart of unbelief, in departing from the living God.

13 But [p]exhort one another daily, while it is called To day; lest any of you be hardened through the deceitfulness of sin.

14 For we are made partakers of Christ, [q]if we hold the beginning of our confidence steadfast unto the end;

15 While it is said, [r]To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the provocation.

16 [s]For some, when they had heard, did provoke: howbeit not all that came out of E'gypt by Mo'ses.

17 But with whom was he grieved forty years? was it not with them that had sinned, [t]whose carcasses fell in the wilderness?

18 And [u]to whom sware he that they should not enter into his rest, but to them that believed not?

19 [x]So we see that they could not enter in because of unbelief.

CHAPTER IV.

The rest of Christians is attained by faith. 12 The power of God's word. 14 By our high priest, Jesus the Son of God, 16 we may come boldly to the throne of grace.

LET [a]us therefore fear, lest, a promise being left us of entering into his rest, any of you should seem to come short of it.

2 For unto us was the gospel preached, as well as unto them: but [1]the word preached did not profit them, [2]not being mixed with faith in them that heard it.

3 [b]For we which have believed do enter into rest, as he said, [c]As I have sworn in my wrath, if they shall enter into my rest: although the works were finished from the foundation of the world.

4 For he spake in a certain place of the seventh day on this wise, [d]And God did rest the seventh day from all his works.

5 And in this place again, If they shall enter into my rest.

6 Seeing therefore it remaineth that some must enter therein, [e]and they to whom [3]it was first preached entered not in because of unbelief:

7 Again, he limiteth a certain day, saying in Da'vid, To day, after so long a time; as it is said, [f]To day if ye will hear his voice, harden not your hearts.

8 For if [4]Je'sus had given them rest, then would he not afterward have spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore a [5]rest to the people of God.

10 For he that is entered into his rest, he also [g]hath ceased from his own works, as God did from his.

11 Let us labour therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall [h]after the same example of [6]unbelief.

12 For the word of God is [i]quick, and powerful, and [k]sharper than any [l]twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is [m]a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart.

13 [n]Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in his sight: but all things are naked [o]and opened unto the eyes of him with whom we have to do.

14 Seeing then that we have [p]a great high priest, [q]that is passed into the heavens, Je'sus the Son of God, [r]let us hold fast our profession.

15 For [s]we have not a high priest which cannot be touched with the feeling of our infirmities; but [t]was in all points tempted like as we are, [u]yet without sin.

16 [x]Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need.

CHAPTER V.

Of the high priests from among men; 5 Christ's priesthood compared with theirs. 11 The want of knowledge respecting the doctrines of the gospel reproved.

FOR every high priest taken from among men [a]is ordained for men [b]in things pertaining to God, [c]that he may offer both gifts and sacrifices for sins:

2 [d]Who [1]can have compassion on the ignorant, and on them that are out of the way; for that [e]he himself also is compassed with infirmity.

3 And [f]by reason hereof he ought, as for the people, so also for himself, to offer for sins.

4 [g]And no man taketh this honour unto himself, but he that is called of God, as [h]was Aa'ron.

5 [i]So also Christ glorified not himself to be made a high priest; but he that said unto him, [k]Thou art my Son, to day have I begotten thee.

6 As he saith also in another place, [l]Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Mel-chiz'e-dek.

7 Who in the days of his flesh, when he had [m]offered up prayers and supplications [n]with strong crying and tears unto him [o]that was able to save him from death, and was heard [2][p]in that he feared;

8 [q]Though he were a Son, yet learned he [r]obedience by the things which he suffered;

9 And [s]being made perfect, he became the author of eternal salvation unto all them that obey him;

10 Called of God a high priest [t]after the order of Mel-chiz'e-dek.

11 Of whom [u]we have many things to say, and hard to be uttered, seeing ye are [x]dull of hearing.

12 For when for the time ye ought to be teachers, ye have need that one teach you again which be [y]the first principles of the oracles of God; and are become such as have need of [z]milk, and not of strong meat.

13 For every one that useth milk [3]is unskilful in the word of righteousness: for he is [a]a babe.

14 But strong meat belongeth to them that are [4]of full age, even those who by reason [5]of use have their senses exercised [b]to discern both good and evil.

3 And this will we do, [g] if God permit.

4 For [h] it is impossible for those [i] who were once enlightened, and have tasted of [k] the heavenly gift, and [l] were made partakers of the Holy Ghost,

5 And have tasted the good word of God, and the powers of [m] the world to come,

6 If they shall fall away, to renew them again unto repentance; [n] seeing they crucify to themselves the Son of God afresh, and put him to an open shame.

7 For the earth which drinketh in the rain that cometh oft upon it, and bringeth forth herbs meet for them [2] by whom it is dressed, [o] receiveth blessing from God:

8 [p] But that which beareth thorns and briers is rejected, and is nigh unto cursing; whose end is to be burned.

9 But, beloved, we are persuaded better things of you, and [q] things that accompany salvation, though we thus speak.

10 [r] For [s] God is not unrighteous to forget [t] your work and labour of love, which ye have showed toward his name, in that ye have [u] ministered to the saints, and do minister.

11 And we desire that [v] every one of you do show the same diligence [w] to the full assurance of hope unto the end:

12 That ye be not slothful, but followers of them who through faith and patience [x] inherit the promises.

13 For when God made promise to A′bra-ham, because he could swear by no greater, [y] he sware by himself,

14 Saying, Surely blessing I will bless thee, and [z] multiplying I will multiply thee.

15 And so, after he had patiently endured, he obtained the promise.

16 For men verily swear by the greater: and [a] an oath for confirmation is to them an end of all strife.

17 Wherein God, willing more abundantly to show unto [b] the heirs of promise [c] the immutability of his counsel, [3] confirmed it by an oath:

18 That by two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might have a strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold upon the hope [d] set before us:

19 Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, [e] and which entereth into that within the vail;

20 [f] Whither the forerunner is for us entered, even Je′sus, [g] made [h] a high priest for ever after the order of Mel-chiz′e-dek.

CHAPTER VII.

Christ Jesus is a priest after the order of Melchizedek; 11 and so, far more excellent than the priests of Aaron's order.

FOR this [a] Mel-chiz′e-dek, king of [b] Sa′lem, priest of [c] the most high God, who met A′bra-ham returning from the slaughter of the kings, and blessed him;

2 To whom also A′bra-ham gave [d] a tenth part of all; first being by interpretation King of righteousness, and after that also King of Sa′lem, which is, King of peace;

3 Without father, without mother, [1] without [e] descent, having neither beginning of days, nor end of life; but made like unto the Son of God; abideth a priest continually.

4 Now consider how great this man was, [f] unto whom even the patriarch A′bra-ham gave the tenth of the spoils.

5 And verily [g] they that are of the sons of Le′vi, who receive the office of the priesthood, have a commandment [h] to take tithes of the people according to the law, that is, of their brethren, though they come out of the loins of A′bra-ham:

6 But he whose [2] descent is not counted from them received tithes of A′bra-ham, [i] and blessed [j] him that had the promises.

7 And without all contradiction [k] the less is blessed of the better.

8 And here men that die receive tithes; but there he receiveth them, [l] of whom it is witnessed that he liveth.

9 And as I may so say, Le′vi also, who receiveth tithes, [m] paid tithes in A′bra-ham.

10 For he was yet [n] in the loins of his father, when Mel-chiz′e-dek met him.

11 [o] If therefore perfection were by the Le-vit′i-cal priesthood, (for under it the people received the law,) what further need was there that another priest should rise after the order of Mel-chiz′e-dek, and not be called after the order of Aa′ron?

12 For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity [p] a change also of the law.

13 For he of whom these things are spoken pertaineth to another tribe, of which no man gave attendance at the altar.

14 For it is evident that [q] our Lord sprang out of Ju′dah; of which tribe Mo′ses spake nothing concerning priesthood.

15 And it is yet far more evident: for that [r] after the similitude of Mel-chiz′e-dek there ariseth another priest,

16 Who is made, not after the [s] law of a carnal commandment, but after the power of an endless life.

17 For he testifieth, [t] Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Mel-chiz′e-dek.

18 For there is verily a disannulling of the commandment going before for [u]the weakness and unprofitableness thereof.

19 For [w]the law made nothing perfect, [3]but the bringing in of [x]a better hope did; by the which [y]we draw nigh unto God.

20 And inasmuch as not without an oath he was made priest:

21 (For those priests were made [4]without an oath; but this with an oath by him that said unto him, [z]The Lord sware and will not repent, Thou art a priest for ever after the order of Mel-chiz′e-dek:)

22 By so much [a]was Je′sus made a surety of a better testament.

23 And they truly [b]were many priests, because they were not suffered to continue by reason of death:

24 But this man, because he continueth ever, hath [5]an unchangeable priesthood.

25 Wherefore he is able also to save them [6]to the uttermost that come unto God by him, seeing he ever liveth [c]to make intercession for them.

26 For such a high priest became us, [d]who is holy, harmless, undefiled, separate from sinners, [e]and made higher than the heavens;

27 Who needeth not daily, as those high priests, to offer up sacrifice, [f]first for his own sins, [g]and then for the people's: for [h]this he did once, when he offered up himself.

28 For the law maketh [i]men high priests which have infirmity; but the word of the oath, which was since the law, maketh the Son, [k]who is [7]consecrated for evermore.

CHAPTER VIII.

Christ the minister of the heavenly sanctuary. 6 The Levitical priesthood abolished by the more excellent ministry of Christ, the mediator of a better covenant.

NOW of the things which we have spoken this is the sum: We have such a high priest, [a]who is set on the right hand of the throne of the Majesty in the heavens;

2 A minister [1]of [b]the sanctuary, and of [c]the true tabernacle, which the Lord pitched, and not man.

3 For [d]every high priest is ordained to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore [e]it is of necessity that this man have somewhat also to offer.

4 For if he were on earth, he should not be a priest, seeing that [2]there are priests that offer gifts according to the law:

5 Who serve unto the example and [f]shadow of heavenly things, as Mo′ses was admonished of God when he was about to make the tabernacle: [g]for, See, saith he, that thou make all things according to the pattern showed to thee in the mount.

6 But now [h]hath he obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also he is the mediator of a better [3]covenant, which was established upon better promises.

7 [i]For if that first covenant had been faultless, then should no place have been sought for the second.

8 For finding fault with them, he saith, [k]Behold, the days come, saith the Lord, when I will make a new covenant with the house of Is′ra-el and with the house of Ju′dah:

9 Not according to [l]the covenant that I made with their fathers, in the day when I took them by the hand to lead them out of the land of E′gypt; because they continued not in my covenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.

10 For [m]this is the covenant that I will make with the house of Is′ra-el after those days, saith the Lord; I will [4]put my laws into their mind, and write them [5]in their hearts; and [n]I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people:

11 And [o]they shall not teach every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest.

12 For I will be merciful to their unrighteousness, [p]and their sins and their iniquities will I remember no more.

13 [q]In that he saith, A new covenant, he hath made the first old. Now that which decayeth and waxeth old is [r]ready to vanish away.

CHAPTER IX.

The description of the rites and bloody sacrifices of the law, 11 which are far inferior to the dignity and perfection of the blood and sacrifice of Christ.

THEN verily the first covenant had also [1]ordinances of divine service, and [a]a worldly sanctuary.

2 [b]For there was a tabernacle made; the first, [c]wherein was [d]the candlestick, and [e]the table, and the showbread; which is called [2]the sanctuary.

3 [f]And after the second vail, the tabernacle which is called the holiest of all;

4 Which had the golden censer, and [g]the ark of the covenant overlaid round about with gold, wherein was [h]the golden pot that had manna, and [i]Aa′ron's rod that budded, and [k]the tables of the covenant;

5 And [l]over it the cherubim of glory shadowing the mercyseat; of which we cannot now speak particularly.

6 Now when these things were thus ordained, [m]the priests went always into the first tabernacle, accomplishing the service of God.

7 But into the second went the high priest alone [n]once every year, not without blood, [o]which he offered for himself, and for the errors of the people:

8 [p]The Holy Ghost this signifying, that

[q]the way into the holiest of all was not yet made manifest, while as the first tabernacle was yet standing:

9 Which was a figure for the time then present, in which were offered both gifts and sacrifices, [r]that could not make him that did the service perfect, as pertaining to the conscience;

10 Which stood only in [s]meats and drinks, and [t]divers washings, [u]and carnal [3]ordinances, imposed on them until the time of reformation.

11 But Christ being come [x]a high priest [y]of good things to come, [z]by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building;

12 Neither [a]by the blood of goats and calves, but [b]by his own blood he entered in [c]once into the holy place, [d]having obtained eternal redemption for us.

13 For if [e]the blood of bulls and of goats, and [f]the ashes of a heifer sprinkling the unclean, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh;

14 How much more [g]shall the blood of Christ, [h]who through the eternal Spirit [i]offered himself without [4]spot to God, [k]purge your conscience from [l]dead works [m]to serve the living God?

15 [n]And for this cause [o]he is the mediator of the new testament, [p]that by means of death, for the redemption of the transgressions that were under the first testament, [q]they which are called might receive the promise of eternal inheritance.

16 For where a testament is, there must also of necessity [5]be the death of the testator.

17 For [r]a testament is of force after men are dead: otherwise it is of no strength at all while the testator liveth.

18 [s]Whereupon neither the first testament was [6]dedicated without blood.

19 For when Mo'ses had spoken every precept to all the people according to the law, [t]he took the blood of calves and of goats, [u]with water, and [7]scarlet wool, and hyssop, and sprinkled both the book and all the people,

20 Saying, [x]This is the blood of the testament which God hath enjoined unto you.

21 Moreover [y]he sprinkled likewise with blood both the tabernacle, and all the vessels of the ministry.

22 And almost all things are by the law purged with blood; and [z]without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It was therefore necessary that [a]the patterns of things in the heavens should be purified with these; but the heavenly things themselves with better sacrifices than these.

24 For [b]Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of [c]the true; but into heaven itself, now [d]to appear in the presence of God for us:

25 Nor yet that he should offer himself often, as [e]the high priest entereth into the holy place every year with blood of others;

26 For then must he often have suffered since the foundation of the world: but now [f]once [g]in the end of the world hath he appeared to put away sin by the sacrifice of himself.

27 [h]And as it is appointed unto men once to die, [i]but after this the judgment:

28 So [k]Christ was once [l]offered to bear the sins [m]of many; and unto them that [n]look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation.

CHAPTER X.

The weakness of the law sacrifices. 10 The sacrifice of Christ's body, once offered, 14 for ever hath taken away sins. 19 An exhortation to hold fast the faith with patience and thanksgiving.

FOR the law having [a]a shadow [b]of good things to come, and not the very image of the things, [c]can never with those sacrifices, which they offered year by year continually, make the comers thereunto [d]perfect.

2 For then [1]would they not have ceased to be offered? because that the worshippers once purged should have had no more conscience of sins.

3 [e]But in those sacrifices there is a remembrance again made of sins every year.

4 For [f]it is not possible that the blood of bulls and of goats should take away sins.

5 Wherefore, when he cometh into the world, he saith, [g]Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not, but a body [2]hast thou prepared me:

6 In burnt offerings and sacrifices for sin thou hast had no pleasure.

7 Then said I, [h]Lo, I come (in the volume of the book it is written of me) to do thy will, O God.

8 Above when he said, Sacrifice and offering and burnt offerings and offering for sin thou wouldest not, neither hadst pleasure therein; which are offered by the law;

9 Then said he, [i]Lo, I come to do thy will, O God. He taketh away the first, that he may establish the second.

10 [j]By the which will we are sanctified [k]through the offering of the body of Je'sus Christ once for all.

11 And every priest standeth [l]daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, [m]which can never take away sins:

12 [n]But this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins for ever, sat down on the right hand of God;

13 From henceforth expecting [o]till his enemies be made his footstool.

14 For by one offering [p] he hath perfected for ever them that are sanctified.

15 Whereof [q] the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before,

16 [r] This is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord; I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them;

17 [3] And their sins and iniquities will I remember no more.

18 Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin.

19 Having therefore, brethren, [s] [4] boldness to enter [t] into the holiest by the blood of Je'sus,

20 By [u] a new and living way, which he hath [5] consecrated for us, [v] through the vail, that is to say, his flesh;

21 And having [w] a high priest over [x] the house of God;

22 [y] Let us draw near with a true heart [z] in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled [a] from an evil conscience, and [b] our bodies washed with pure water.

23 [c] Let us hold fast the profession of our faith without wavering; for [d] he is faithful that promised;

24 And let us consider one another to provoke unto love and to good works:

25 [e] Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another: and [f] so much the more, as ye see [g] the day approaching.

26 For [h] if we sin wilfully [i] after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins,

27 But a certain fearful looking for of judgment and [k] fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries.

28 [l] He that despised Mo'ses' law died without mercy [m] under two or three witnesses:

29 [n] Of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and [o] hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, [p] and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace?

30 For we know him that hath said, [q] Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, [r] The Lord shall judge his people.

31 [s] It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.

32 But [t] call to remembrance the former days, in which, [u] after ye were illuminated, ye endured [x] a great fight of afflictions;

33 Partly, whilst ye were made [y] a gazingstock both by reproaches and afflictions; and partly, whilst [z] ye became companions of them that were so used.

34 For ye had compassion of me [a] in my bonds, and [b] took joyfully the spoiling of your goods, knowing [6] in yourselves that [c] ye have in heaven a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, [d] which hath great recompense of reward.

36 [e] For ye have need of patience, that, after ye have done the will of God, [f] ye might receive the promise.

37 For [g] yet a little while, and [h] he that shall come will come, and will not tarry.

38 Now [i] the just shall live by faith: but if any man draw back, my soul shall have no pleasure in him.

39 But we are not of them [k] who draw back unto perdition; but of them that [l] believe to the saving of the soul.

CHAPTER XI.

What faith is. 2 Its efficacy and power illustrated by the example of divers saints mentioned in the Scriptures.

NOW faith is the [1] substance of things hoped for, the evidence [a] of things not seen.

2 For [b] by it the elders obtained a good report.

3 Through faith we understand that [c] the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear.

4 By faith [d] A'bel offered unto God a more excellent sacrifice than Cain, by which he obtained witness that he was righteous, God testifying of his gifts: and by it he being dead [e] [2] yet speaketh.

5 By faith [f] E'noch was [g] translated that he should not see death; [h] and was not found, because God had translated him: for before his translation he had this testimony, that he pleased God.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him.

7 By faith [i] No'ah, being warned of God of things not seen as yet, [3] moved with fear, [j] prepared an ark to the saving of his house; by the which he condemned the world, and became heir of [k] the righteousness which is by faith.

8 By faith [l] A'bra-ham, when he was called to go out into a place which he should after receive for an inheritance, obeyed; and he went out, not knowing whither he went.

9 By faith he sojourned in the land of promise, as in a strange country, [m] dwelling in tabernacles with I'saac and Ja'cob, [n] the heirs with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for [o] a city which hath foundations, [p] whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also [q] Sa'rah herself received strength to conceive seed, and [r] was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him [s] faithful who had promised.

12 Therefore sprang there even of one, and [t] him as good as dead, [u] so many as the stars of the sky in multitude, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 These all died [4] in faith, [w] not having received the promises, but [x] having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and [y] confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things [z] declare plainly that they seek a country.

15 And truly, if they had been mindful of that country from whence they came out, they might have had opportunity to have returned.

16 But now they desire a better country, that is, a heavenly: wherefore God is not ashamed [a] to be called their God: for [b] he hath prepared for them a city.

17 By faith [c] A'bra-ham, when he was tried, offered up I'saac: and he that had received the promises [d] offered up his only begotten son,

18 [5] Of whom it was said, [e] That in I'saac shall thy seed be called:

19 Accounting that God [f] was able to raise him up, even from the dead; from whence also he received him in a figure.

20 By faith [g] I'saac blessed Ja'cob and E'sau concerning things to come.

21 By faith Ja'cob, when he was a dying, [h] blessed both the sons of Jo'seph; and [i] worshipped, leaning upon the top of his staff.

22 By faith [k] Jo'seph, when he died, [6] made mention of the departing of the children of Is'ra-el; and gave commandment concerning his bones.

23 By faith [l] Mo'ses, when he was born, was hid three months of his parents, because they saw he was a proper child; and they were not afraid of the king's [m] commandment.

24 By faith [n] Mo'ses, when he was come to years, refused to be called the son of Pha'raoh's daughter;

25 [o] Choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God, than to enjoy the pleasures of sin for a season;

26 Esteeming [p] the reproach [7] of Christ greater riches than the treasures in E'gypt: for he had respect unto [q] the recompense of the reward.

27 By faith [r] he forsook E'gypt, not fearing the wrath of the king: for he endured, as [s] seeing him who is invisible.

28 Through faith [t] he kept the passover, and the sprinkling of blood, lest he that destroyed the firstborn should touch them.

29 By faith [u] they passed through the Red Sea as by dry land: which the E-gyp'tians assaying to do were drowned.

30 By faith [x] the walls of Jer'i-cho fell down, after they were compassed about seven days.

31 By faith [y] the harlot Ra'hab perished not with them [8] that believed not, when [z] she had received the spies with peace.

32 And what shall I more say? for the time would fail me to tell of [a] Gid'e-on, and of [b] Ba'rak, and of [c] Sam'son, and of [d] Jeph'thah; of [e] Da'vid also, and [f] Sam'u-el, and of the prophets:

33 Who through faith subdued kingdoms, wrought righteousness, [g] obtained promises, [h] stopped the mouths of lions,

34 [i] Quenched the violence of fire, [k] escaped the edge of the sword, [l] out of weakness were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, [m] turned to flight the armies of the aliens.

35 [n] Women received their dead raised to life again: and others were [o] tortured, not accepting deliverance; that they might obtain a better resurrection:

36 And others had trial of cruel mockings and scourgings, yea, moreover [p] of bonds and imprisonment:

37 [q] They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword: [r] they wandered about [s] in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented;

38 Of whom the world was not worthy: they wandered in deserts and in mountains, and [t] in dens and caves of the earth.

39 And these all, [u] having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise:

40 God having [9] provided [x] some better thing for us, that they without us should not be [y] made perfect.

CHAPTER XII.

An exhortation to constant faith, patience, and godliness. 22 A commendation of the new covenant above the old.

WHEREFORE, seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, [a] let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and [b] let us run [c] with patience the race that is set before us,

2 Looking unto Je'sus the [1] author and finisher of our faith; [d] who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and [e] is set down at the right hand of the throne of God.

3 [f] For consider him that endured such contradiction of sinners against himself, [g] lest ye be wearied and faint in your minds.

4 [h] Ye have not yet resisted unto blood, striving against sin.

5 And ye have forgotten the exhortation which speaketh unto you as unto children, [i] My son, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, nor faint when thou art rebuked of him:

6 For [k] whom the Lord loveth he chasteneth, and scourgeth every son whom he receiveth.

7 [1] If ye endure chastening, God dealeth with you as with sons; for what son is he whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, [m] whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sons.

9 Furthermore, we have had fathers of our flesh which corrected us, and we gave them reverence: shall we not much rather be in subjection unto [n] the Father of spirits, and live?

10 For they verily for a few days chastened us [2] after their own pleasure; but he for our profit, [o] that we might be partakers of his holiness.

11 Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous, but grievous: nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth [p] the peaceable fruit of righteousness unto them which are exercised thereby.

12 Wherefore [q] lift up the hands which hang down, and the feeble knees;

13 [r] And make [3] straight paths for your feet, lest that which is lame be turned out of the way; [s] but let it rather be healed.

14 [t] Follow peace with all men, and holiness, [u] without which no man shall see the Lord:

15 [x] Looking diligently [y] lest any man [4] fail of the grace of God; [z] lest any root of bitterness springing up trouble you, and thereby many be defiled;

16 [a] Lest there be any fornicator, or profane person, as E'sau, [b] who for one morsel of meat sold his birthright.

17 For ye know how that afterward, [c] when he would have inherited the blessing, he was rejected: [d] for he found no [5] place of repentance, though he sought it carefully with tears.

18 For ye are not come unto [e] the mount that might be touched, and that burned with fire, nor unto blackness, and darkness, and tempest,

19 And the sound of a trumpet, and the voice of words; which voice they that heard [f] entreated that the word should not be spoken to them any more:

20 For they could not endure that which was commanded, [g] And if so much as a beast touch the mountain, it shall be stoned, or thrust through with a dart:

21 [h] And so terrible was the sight, that Mo'ses said, I exceedingly fear and quake:

22 But ye are come [i] unto mount Zi'on, [k] and unto the city of the living God, the heavenly Je-ru'sa-lem, [l] and to an innumerable company of angels,

23 To the general assembly and church of [m] the firstborn, [n] which are [6] written in heaven, and to God [o] the Judge of all,

24 And to Je'sus [q] the mediator of the new [7] covenant, and to [r] the blood of sprinkling, that speaketh better things [s] than that of A'bel.

25 See that ye refuse not him that speaketh: for [t] if they escaped not who refused him that spake on earth, much more shall not we escape, if we turn away from him that speaketh from heaven:

26 [u] Whose voice then shook the earth: but now he hath promised, saying, [x] Yet once more I shake not the earth only, but also heaven.

27 And this word, Yet once more, signifieth [y] the removing of those things that [8] are shaken, as of things that are made, that those things which cannot be shaken may remain.

28 Wherefore we receiving a kingdom which cannot be moved, [9] let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and godly fear:

29 For [z] our God is a consuming fire.

CHAPTER XIII.

Exhortations to sundry duties. 18 The apostle asketh them to pray for him. 20 The conclusion.

LET [a] brotherly love continue.

2 [b] Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby [c] some have entertained angels unawares.

3 [d] Remember them that are in bonds, as bound with them; and them which suffer adversity, as being yourselves also in the body.

4 Marriage is honourable in all, and the bed undefiled: [e] but whoremongers and adulterers God will judge.

5 Let your conversation be without covetousness; and [f] be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, [g] I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.

6 So that we may boldly say, [h] The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me.

7 [i] Remember them which [1] have the rule over you, who have spoken unto you the word of God: [k] whose faith follow, considering the end of their conversation:

8 Je'sus Christ [l] the same yesterday, and to day, and for ever.

9 [m] Be not carried about with divers and strange doctrines: for it is a good thing that the heart be established with grace; [n] not with meats, which have not profited them that have been occupied therein.

10 [o] We have an altar, whereof they have no right to eat which serve the tabernacle.

11 For [p] the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the sanctuary by the high priest for sin, are burned without the camp.

12 Wherefore Je'sus also, that he might

[q] sanctify the people with his own blood, [r] suffered without the gate.

13 Let us go forth therefore unto him without the camp, bearing [s] his reproach.

14 [t] For here have we no continuing city, but we seek one to come.

15 [u] By him therefore let us offer [w] the sacrifice of praise to God continually, that is, [x] the fruit of our lips, [2] giving thanks to his name.

16 [y] But to do good and to communicate forget not: for [z] with such sacrifices God is well pleased.

17 [a] Obey them that [3] have the rule over you, and submit yourselves: for [b] they watch for your souls, as they that must give account, that they may do it with joy, and not with grief: for that is unprofitable for you.

18 [c] Pray for us: for we trust we have [d] a good conscience, in all things willing to live honestly.

19 But I beseech you [e] the rather to do this, that I may be restored to you the sooner.

20 Now [f] the God of peace, [g] that brought again from the dead our Lord Je'sus, [h] that great Shepherd of the sheep, [i] through the blood of the everlasting [4] covenant,

21 [k] Make you perfect in every good work to do his will, [5] [l] working in you that which is well pleasing in his sight, through Je'sus Christ; [m] to whom be glory for ever and ever. Amen.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation: for [n] I have written a letter unto you in few words.

23 Know ye that [o] our brother Tim'o-thy [p] is set at liberty; with whom, if he come shortly, I will see you.

24 Salute all them [q] that have the rule over you, and all the saints. They of It'a-ly salute you.

25 [r] Grace be with you all. Amen.

THE

GENERAL EPISTLE

JAMES.

THE Epistles of Paul are followed in the canon of the New Testament by seven Epistles, bearing the names of the apostles James, Peter, Jude, and John. For many centuries these Epistles have been generally termed Catholic, or General Epistles, because they are not addressed to the believers of any particular city or country, or to individuals, as Paul's Epistles were, but to Christians in general, or to Christians of several countries. Although the authenticity of the Epistle of James, the second of Peter, the Epistle of Jude, and the second and third Epistles of John, was questioned by some ancient fathers, as well as by some modern writers, yet we have every reason to believe that they are the genuine and authentic productions of the inspired writers whose names they bear. The ancient Christians had such good opportunities for examining this subject, they exercised so much caution in guarding against imposition, and so well founded was their judgment concerning the books of the New Testament, that no writing which they pronounced genuine has yet been proved spurious; nor have we, at this day, the least reason to believe any book to be genuine which they rejected.

James, the author of this Epistle, was the son of Alpheus, or Cleophas; and is by Paul termed the "brother," or near relation of our Lord, and is also generally termed "the Less," partly to distinguish him from the other James, and probably, also, because he was lower in stature. That he was an apostle is evident from various passages in the New Testament, though it does not appear when his designation to this office took place. He was honored by Jesus Christ with a separate interview soon after his resurrection. He was distinguished as one of the apostles of the circumcision; and soon after the death of Stephen, A.D. 34, he seems to have been appointed president, or bishop of the Christian Church at Jerusalem, to have dwelt in that city, and to have presided at the council of the apostles, which was convened there in 49. On account of his distinguished piety and sanctity, he was surnamed "the Just." He is said to have been stoned to death by the Jews, A.D. 62; and most learned men agree in placing his Epistle in the year 61. It is cited by two of the apostolic fathers, and by several succeeding writers. But the most decisive proof of its canonical authority is, that the Epistle of James is inserted in the Syriac version of the New Testament, executed at the close of the first, or early in the second century, in which the second Epistle of Peter, the second and third of John, the Epistle of Jude, and the Book of Revelation are omitted. The persons to whom this Epistle is addressed were Hebrew Christians, who were in danger of falling into the sins which abounded among the Jews of that time. The apostle, therefore, cautions them against those sins, and comforts them under the persecutions to which they were exposed; and in the course of his epistle he takes occasion to rectify the notions of the Hebrew Christians concerning the doctrine of justification by faith. For as they were not to be justified by the law, but by the method proposed in the Gospel, and that method was said to be by faith, without the works of the law, some of them weakly, and others, perhaps, willfully, perverted that discovery, and were for understanding, by faith, a bare assent to the truth of the Gospel, without that living, fruitful, and evangelical faith which "worketh by love," and is required of all that would be saved. The Epistle of James divides itself into three parts, exclusive of the Introduction: Exhortations to patience, humility, and suitable dispositions for receiving the word of God aright; censures and condemns nations of various sinful practices and erroneous notions, and their mistaken notions of justification by faith without works; various exhortations and cautions.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 2 He exhorteth his brethren to rejoice under trials, 5 to ask wisdom of God, 13 and not to impute to him their temptations to sin. 16 The source and requirements of true religion.

[a] JAMES, [b] a servant of God and of the Lord Je'sus Christ, [c] to the twelve tribes [d] which are scattered abroad, greeting.

2 My brethren, [e] count it all joy [f] when ye fall into divers temptations;

3 [g] Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience.

4 But let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing.

5 [h] If any of you lack wisdom, [i] let him ask of God, that giveth to all men liberally, and upbraideth not; and [k] it shall be given him.

6 [l] But let him ask in faith, nothing wavering: for he that wavereth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.

7 For let not that man think that he shall receive any thing of the Lord.

8 [m] A doubleminded man is unstable in all his ways.

9 Let the brother of low degree [1] rejoice in that he is exalted:

10 But the rich, in that he is made low: because [n] as the flower of the grass he shall pass away.

11 For the sun is no sooner risen with a burning heat, but it withereth the grass, and the flower thereof falleth, and the grace of the fashion of it perisheth: so also shall the rich man fade away in his ways.

12 [o] Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive [p] the crown of life, [q] which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.

13 Let no man say when he is tempted, I am tempted of God: for God cannot be tempted with [2] evil, neither tempteth he any man:

14 But every man is tempted, [r] when he is drawn away of his own lust, and enticed.

15 Then [s] when lust hath conceived, it bringeth forth sin: and sin, when it is finished, [t] bringeth forth death.

16 Do not err, my beloved brethren.

17 [u] Every good gift and every perfect gift is from above, and cometh down from the Father of lights, [v] with whom is no variableness, neither shadow of turning.

18 [x] Of his own will begat he us with the word of truth, [y] that we should be a kind of [z] firstfruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my beloved brethren, [a] let every man be swift to hear, [b] slow to speak, [c] slow to wrath:

20 For the wrath of man worketh not the righteousness of God.

21 Wherefore [d] lay apart all filthiness and superfluity of naughtiness, and receive with meekness the engrafted word, [e] which is able to save your souls.

22 But [f] be ye doers of the word, and not hearers only, deceiving your own selves.

23 For [g] if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like unto a man beholding his natural face in a glass:

24 For he beholdeth himself, and goeth his way, and straightway forgetteth [h] what manner of man he was.

25 But [i] whoso looketh into the perfect [k] law of liberty, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetful hearer, but a doer of the work, [l] this man shall be blessed in his [3] deed.

26 If any man among you seem to be religious, and [m] bridleth not his tongue, but deceiveth his own heart, this man's religion is vain.

27 Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this, [n] To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, [o] and to keep himself unspotted from the world.

CHAPTER II.

The apostle warneth them against respect of persons; 10 exhorteth them to keep the whole law; 14 and showeth that faith without works is dead.

MY brethren, have not the faith of our Lord Je'sus Christ, [a] the Lord of glory, with [b] respect of persons.

2 For if there come unto your [1] assembly a man with a gold ring, in [c] goodly apparel, and there come in also a poor man [d] in vile raiment;

3 And ye have respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say unto him, Sit thou here [2] in a good place; and say to the poor, Stand thou there, or sit here under my footstool:

4 Are ye not then partial in yourselves, and are become judges of evil thoughts?

5 Hearken, my beloved brethren, [e] Hath not God chosen the poor of this world [f] rich in faith, and heirs of [3] the kingdom [g] which he hath promised to them that love him?

6 But [h] ye have despised the poor. Do not rich men oppress you, [i] and draw you before the judgment seats?

7 Do not they blaspheme that worthy name by the which ye are called?

8 If ye fulfil the royal law according to the scripture, [j] Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thyself, ye do well:

9 But [k] if ye have respect to persons, ye commit sin, and are convinced of the law as transgressors.

10 For whosoever shall keep the whole law, and yet offend in one point, [l] he is guilty of all.

11 For [4] he that said, [m] Do not commit adultery, said also, Do not kill. Now if thou commit no adultery, yet if thou kill, thou art become a transgressor of the law.

12 So speak ye, and so do, as they that shall be judged by [n] the law of liberty.

13 For [o] he shall have judgment without mercy, that hath showed no mercy; an [p] mercy [5] rejoiceth against judgment.

14 [q] What doth it profit, my brethr though a man say he hath faith, a have not works? can faith save him?

15 [r] If a brother or sister be naked, and destitute of daily food,

16 And [s] one of you say unto them, Depart in peace, be ye warmed and filled; notwithstanding ye give them not those things which are needful to the body; what doth it profit?

17 Even so faith, if it hath not works, is dead, being [6] alone.

18 Yea, a man may say, Thou hast faith, and I have works: show me thy faith [7] without thy works, [t] and I will show thee my faith by my works.

19 Thou believest that there is one God; thou doest well: [u] the devils also believe, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O vain man, that faith without works is dead?

23 And the scripture was fulfilled which saith, [y] A'bra-ham believed God, and it was imputed unto him for righteousness: and he was called [z] the Friend of God.

24 Ye see then how that by works a man is justified, and not by faith only.

25 Likewise also [a] was not Ra'hab the harlot justified by works, when she had received the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

26 For [b] as the body without the [9] spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle dissuadeth his brethren from being too forward in assuming the office of teachers; 5 and exhorteth them to bridle the tongue. 13 The wisdom of the world contrasted with that which is from above.

MY brethren, [a] be not many masters, [b] knowing that we shall receive the greater [1] condemnation.

2 For [c] in many things we offend all. [d] If any man offend not in word, [e] the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle the whole body.

3 Behold, [f] we put bits in the horses' mouths, that they may obey us; and we turn about their whole body.

4 Behold also the ships, which though they be so great, and are driven of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helm, whithersoever the governor listeth.

5 Even so [g] the tongue is a little member, and [h] boasteth great things. Behold, how great [2] a matter a little fire kindleth!

6 And [i] the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity: so is the tongue among our members, that [k] it defileth the whole body, and setteth on fire the [3] course of nature; and it is set on fire of hell.

7 For every [4] kind of beasts, and of birds, and of serpents, and of things in the sea, is tamed, and hath been tamed of [5] mankind:

8 But the tongue can no man tame; it is [l] an unruly evil, [m] full of deadly poison.

9 Therewith bless we God, even the Father; and therewith curse we men, [n] which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of the same mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing. My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doth a fountain send forth at the same [6] place sweet water and bitter?

12 Can [o] the fig tree, my brethren, bear olive berries? either a vine, figs? so can no fountain both yield salt water and fresh.

CHAPTER IV.

The apostle showeth the evils that come from the lusts of men; 7 and exhorteth them to humble themselves before God, 11 not to speak evil one of another, 13 and to keep in mind their dependence on God in the arrangement of their affairs.

FROM whence come wars and [1] fightings among you? come they not hence, even of your [2] lusts [a] that war in your members?

2 Ye lust, and have not: ye [3] kill, and desire to have, and cannot obtain: ye fight and war, yet ye have not, because ye ask not.

3 [b] Ye ask, and receive not, [c] because ye ask amiss, that ye may consume it upon your [4] lusts.

4 [d] Ye adulterers and adulteresses, know ye not that [e] the friendship of the world is enmity with God? [f] whosoever therefore will be a friend of the world is the enemy of God.

5 Do ye think that the Scripture saith in vain, [g] The spirit that dwelleth in us lusteth [5] to envy?

6 But he giveth more grace. Wherefore he saith, [h] God resisteth the proud, but giveth grace unto the humble.

7 Submit yourselves therefore to God. [i] Resist the devil, and he will flee from you.

8 [k] Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you. [l] Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and [m] purify your hearts, ye [n] doubleminded.

9 [o] Be afflicted, and mourn, and weep: let your laughter be turned to mourning, and your joy to heaviness.

10 [p] Humble yourselves in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you up.

11 [q] Speak not evil one of another, brethren. He that speaketh evil of his brother, [r] and judgeth his brother, speaketh evil of the law, and judgeth the law: but if thou judge the law, thou art not a doer of the law, but a judge.

12 There is one lawgiver, [s] who is able to save and to destroy: [t] who art thou that judgest another?

CHAPTER V.

The apostle rebuketh wicked rich men; 7 exhorteth his brethren to be patient in their afflictions; 12 and to abstain from swearing. 13 His counsels to the afflicted and the sick. 16 The efficacy of prayer.

GO [a]to now, ye rich men, weep and howl for your miseries that shall come upon you.

2 Your riches are corrupted, and [b]your garments are motheaten.

3 Your gold and silver is cankered; and the rust of them shall be a witness against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. [c]Ye have heaped treasure together for the last days.

4 Behold, [d]the hire of the labourers who have reaped down your fields, which is of you kept back by fraud, crieth: and [e]the cries of them which have reaped are entered into the ears of the Lord of Sab'a-oth.

5 [f]Ye have lived in pleasure on the earth, and been wanton; ye have nourished your hearts, as in a day of slaughter.

6 [g]Ye have condemned and killed the just; and he doth not resist you.

7 [1]Be patient therefore, brethren, unto the coming of the Lord. Behold, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience for it, until he receive [h]the early and latter rain.

8 Be ye also patient; stablish your hearts: [i]for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 [k] [2]Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be condemned: behold, the judge [l]standeth before the door.

10 [m]Take, my brethren, the prophets, who have spoken in the name of the Lord, for an example of suffering affliction, and of patience.

11 Behold, [n]we count them happy which endure. Ye have heard of [o]the patience of Job, and have seen [p]the end of the Lord; that [q]the Lord is very pitiful, and of tender mercy.

12 But above all things, my brethren, [r]swear not, neither by heaven, neither by the earth, neither by any other oath: but let your yea be yea; and your nay, nay; lest ye fall into condemnation.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? [s]let him sing psalms.

14 Is any sick among you? let him call for the elders of the church; and let the pray over him, [t]anointing him with oi in the name of the Lord:

15 And the prayer of faith shall save the sick, and the Lord shall raise him up; [u]and if he have committed sins, they shall be forgiven him.

16 Confess your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed. [x]The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much.

17 E-li'as was a man [y]subject to like passions as we are, and [z]he prayed [3]earnestly that it might not rain: [a]an it rained not on the earth by the spa of three years and six months.

18 And [b]he prayed again, and t heaven gave rain, and the earth broug forth her fruit.

19 Brethren, [c]if any of you do err fr the truth, and one convert him;

20 Let him know, that he which c verteth the sinner from the error of way [d]shall save a soul from death, a [e]shall hide a multitude of sins.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL
OF PETER.

SIMON, surnamed Cephas or Peter, which appellation signifies a stone or rock, was the son of Jonas or Jonah, and was born at Bethsaida, on the coast of Galilee. He had a brother, called Andrew, and they jointly pursued the occupation of fishermen on that lake. These two brothers were hearers of John the Baptist; from whose press testimony, and their own personal conversation with Jesus Christ, they were fully convinced that he was Messiah; and, from this time, it is probable that they had frequent intercourse with our Saviour, and were nesses of some of the miracles wrought by him, particularly that performed at Cana in Galilee. Both Peter Andrew seem to have followed their trade, until Jesus Christ called them to "follow him," and promised to them both "fishers of men." From this time they became his companions, and when he completed the number of his apostles they were included among them. Peter, in particular, was honored with his master's primacy, together with James and John: he is frequently mentioned in the Gospels, and in the former part of the Acts of the Apostles. We know nothing of his personal history after the apostolic council related in Acts xv, until, many years afterward, ecclesiastical history informs us that he received the crown of martyrdom at Rome, in the year 63, during the Neronian persecution, being crucified with his head downward. The genuineness and authenticity of his first Epistle were never disputed: it was addressed to the same persecuted Hebrew Christians to whom James and Paul respectively wrote their letters. Its design is partly to support them under their afflictions and trials, and also to instruct them how to behave under persecution. It may be conveniently divided into four sections, exclusive of the introduction and conclusion. Section 1 contains an exhortation to the Jewish Christians to persevere steadfastly in the faith, and to maintain a holy conversation, amid all their sufferings and persecutions: Section 2 comprises exhortations to a holy conversation in general: to a particular discharge of their several duties, as dutiful subjects to their sovereign, who at this time was the ferocious Nero: as servants to their masters, and as husbands to their wives: Section 3 contains an exhortation to patience, submission, and to holiness of life, enforced by considering the example of Christ, and various other examples and affecting considerations: Section 4 directions to the ministers of the churches, and to the people, how to behave toward each other. The Conclusion.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 3 He blesseth God for the hope of the gospel. 6 His brethren greatly rejoice in Christ even in tribulation. 10 Salvation through Christ foretold by the prophets. 13 He exhorteth them to a godly conversation.

PETER, an apostle of Je'sus Christ, to the strangers [a]scattered throughout Pon'tus, Ga-la'ti-a, Cap-pa-do'ci-a, A'si-a, and Bi-thyn'i-a,

2 [b]Elect [c]according to the foreknowledge of God the Father, [d]through sanctification of the Spirit, unto obedience and [e]sprinkling of the blood of Je'sus Christ: [f]Grace unto you, and peace, be multiplied.

3 [g]Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Je'sus Christ, which [h]according to his [1]abundant mercy [i]hath begotten us again unto a lively hope [k]by the resurrection of Je'sus Christ from the dead,

4 To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, [l]and that fadeth not away, [m]reserved in heaven [2]for you,

5 [n]Who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time.

6 [o]Wherein ye greatly rejoice, though now [p]for a season, if need be, [q]ye are in heaviness through manifold temptations:

7 That [r]the trial of your faith, being much more precious than of gold that perisheth, though [s]it be tried with fire,[t]might be found unto praise and honour and glory at the appearing of Je'sus Christ:

8 [u]Whom having not seen, ye love; [x]in whom, though now ye see him not, yet believing, ye rejoice with joy unspeakable and full of glory:

9 Receiving [y]the end of your faith, even the salvation of your souls.

10 [z]Of which salvation the prophets have inquired and searched diligently, who prophesied of the grace that should come unto you:

11 Searching what, or what manner of time [a]the Spirit of Christ which was in them did signify, when it testified beforehand [b]the sufferings of Christ, and the glory that should follow.

12 [c]Unto whom it was revealed, that [d]not unto themselves, but unto us they did minister the things, which are now reported unto you by them that have preached the gospel unto you with [e]the Holy Ghost sent down from heaven; [f] which things the angels desire to look into.

13 Wherefore [g] gird up the loins of your mind, [h] be sober, and hope [3] to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you [i] at the revelation of Je'sus Christ;

14 As obedient children, [k] not fashioning yourselves according to the former lusts [l] in your ignorance:

15 [m] But as he which hath called you is holy, so be ye holy in all manner of conversation;

16 Because it is written, [n] Be ye holy; for I am holy.

17 And if ye call on the Father, [o] who without respect of persons judgeth according to every man's work, [p] pass the time of your [q] sojourning here in fear:

18 Forasmuch as ye know [r] that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as silver and gold, from your vain conversation [s] received by tradition from your fathers;

19 But [t] with the precious blood of Christ, [u] as of a lamb without blemish and without spot:

20 [x] Who verily was foreordained before the foundation of the world, but was manifest [y] in these last times for you,

21 Who by him do believe in God, [z] that raised him up from the dead, and [a] gave him glory; that your faith and hope might be in God.

22 Seeing ye [b] have purified your souls in obeying the truth through the Spirit unto unfeigned [c] love of the brethren, see that ye love one another with a pure heart fervently:

23 [d] Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, [e] by the word of God, which liveth and abideth for ever.

24 [4] For [f] all flesh is as grass, and all the glory of man as the flower of grass. The grass withereth, and the flower thereof falleth away:

25 [g] But the word of the Lord endureth for ever. [h] And this is the word which by the gospel is preached unto you.

CHAPTER II.

The apostle urgeth them to lay aside all malice and guile, and to desire the pure word of God. 4 Christ is their precious corner stone. 11 They are exhorted to abstain from fleshly lusts, 13 and to be obedient to magistrates. 18 The duty of servants.

WHEREFORE [a] laying aside all malice, and all guile, and hypocrisies, and envies, and all evil speakings,

2 [b] As newborn babes, desire the sincere [c] milk of the word, that ye may grow thereby:

3 If so be ye have [d] tasted that the Lord is gracious.

4 To whom coming, as unto a living stone, [e] disallowed indeed of men, but chosen of God, and precious,

5 [f] Ye also, as lively stones, [1] are built up [g] a spiritual house, [h] a holy priesthood, to offer up [i] spiritual sacrifices, [k] acceptable to God by Je'sus Christ.

6 Wherefore also it is contained in the Scripture, [l] Behold, I lay in Zi'on a chief corner stone, elect, precious: and he that believeth on him shall not be confounded.

7 Unto you therefore which believe he is [2] precious: but unto them which be disobedient, [m] the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner,

8 [n] And a stone of stumbling, and a rock of offence, [o] even to them which stumble at the word, being disobedient: [p] whereunto also they were appointed.

9 But ye are [q] a chosen generation, [r] a royal priesthood, [s] a holy nation, [t] a peculiar people; that ye should sho forth the [4] praises of him who hath calle you out of [u] darkness into his marvellous light:

10 [x] Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which had not obtained mercy, but now have obtained mercy.

11 Dearly beloved, I beseech you [y] as strangers and pilgrims, [z] abstain from fleshly lusts, [a] which war against the soul;

12 [b] Having your conversation honest among the Gen'tiles: that, [5] whereas they speak against you as evil doers, [c] they may by your good works, which they shall behold, glorify God [d] in the day of visitation.

13 [e] Submit yourselves to every ordinance of man for the Lord's sake: whether it be to the king, as supreme;

14 Or unto governors, as unto the that are sent by him [f] for the punishmen of evil doers, and [g] for the praise of the that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that [h] wi well doing ye may put to silence the ignorance of foolish men:

16 [i] As free, and not [6] using your liberty for a cloak of maliciousness, but as [k] the servants of God.

17 [l] [7] Honour all men. [m] Love the brotherhood. [n] Fear God. Honour the king.

18 [o] Servants, be subject to your masters with all fear; not only to the good and gentle, but also to the froward.

19 For this is [8] [p] thankworthy, if a man for conscience toward God endure grief, suffering wrongfully.

20 For [q] what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is [9] acceptable with God.

21 For [r] even hereunto were ye call because [s] Christ also suffered [10] for us, [t] leaving us an example, that ye shou follow his steps:

23 [x] Who, when he was reviled, reviled not again; when he suffered, he threatened not; but [y] [11] committed himself to him that judgeth righteously:

24 [z] Who his own self bare our sins in his own body [12] on the tree, [a] that we, being dead to sins, should live unto righteousness: [b] by whose stripes ye were healed.

25 For [c] ye were as sheep going astray; but are now returned [d] unto the Shepherd and Bishop of your souls.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle teacheth the duty of wives and of husbands; 8 and exhorteth all to be of one mind, 9 to return good for evil, 15 and to be ready always to give a reason for their hope. 18 The suffering of Christ.

LIKEWISE, [a] ye wives, be in subjection to your own husbands; that, if any obey not the word, [b] they also may without the word [c] be won by the conversation of the wives;

2 [d] While they behold your chaste conversation coupled with fear.

3 [e] Whose adorning, let it not be that outward adorning of plaiting the hair, and of wearing of gold, or of putting on of apparel;

4 But let it be [f] the hidden man of the heart, in that which is not corruptible, even the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price.

5 For after this manner in the old time [g] the holy women also, who trusted in God, adorned themselves, being in subjection unto their own husbands:

6 Even as Sa'rah obeyed A'bra-ham, calling him lord: whose [1] daughters ye be, as long as ye do well, and are not afraid with any amazement.

7 [i] Likewise, ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giving honour unto the wife, [j] as unto the weaker vessel, and as being heirs together of the grace of life; [k] that your prayers be not hindered.

8 Finally, [l] be ye all of one mind, having compassion one of another; [m] [2] love as brethren, [n] be pitiful, be courteous:

9 [o] Not rendering evil for evil, or railing for railing: but contrariwise blessing; knowing that ye are thereunto called, [p] that ye should inherit a blessing.

10 For [q] he that will love life, and see good days, [r] let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips that they speak no guile:

11 Let him [s] eschew evil, and do good; let him seek peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are over the righteous, [u] and his ears are open unto their prayers: but the face of the Lord is against them that do evil.

13 [x] And who is he that will harm you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

14 [y] But and if ye suffer for righteousness' sake, happy are ye: and [z] be not afraid of their terror, neither be troubled;

15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts: and [a] be ready always to give an answer to every man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you, with meekness and [4] fear:

16 [b] Having a good conscience; [c] that, whereas they speak evil of you, as of evil doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conversation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the will of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, than for evil doing.

18 For Christ also hath [d] once suffered for sins, the just for the unjust, that he might bring us to God, [e] being put to death [f] in the flesh, but [g] quickened by the Spirit:

19 By which also he went and [h] preached unto the spirits [i] in prison;

20 Which sometime were disobedient, [k] when once the longsuffering of God waited in the days of No'ah, while [l] the ark was a preparing, [m] wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.

21 [n] The like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us, (not the putting away of [o] the filth of the flesh, [p] but the answer of a good conscience toward God,) [q] by the resurrection of Je'sus Christ:

22 Who is gone into heaven, and [r] is on the right hand of God; [s] angels and authorities and powers being made subject unto him.

CHAPTER IV.

The apostle exhorteth them to cease from sin; 7 to be sober and watchful unto prayer; 12 and comforteth them against persecution.

FORASMUCH then [a] as Christ hath suffered for us in the flesh, arm yourselves likewise with the same mind: for [b] he that hath suffered in the flesh hath ceased from sin;

2 [c] That he no longer [d] should live the rest of his time in the flesh to the lusts of men, [e] but to the will of God.

3 [f] For the time past of our life may suffice us [g] to have wrought the will of the Gen'tiles, when we walked in lasciviousness, lusts, excess of wine, revellings, banquetings, and abominable idolatries:

4 Wherein they think it strange that ye run not with them to the same excess of riot, [h] speaking evil of you:

5 Who shall give account to him that is ready [i] to judge the quick and the dead.

6 For, for this cause [k] was the gospel preached also to them that are dead, that they might be judged according to men in the flesh, but live according to God in the spirit.

7 But [l]the end of all things is at hand: [m]be ye therefore sober, and watch unto prayer.

8 [n]And above all things have fervent charity among yourselves: for [o]charity [1]shall cover the multitude of sins.

9 [p]Use hospitality one to another [q]without grudging.

10 [r]As every man hath received the gift, even so minister the same one to another, [s]as good stewards of [t]the manifold grace of God.

11 [u]If any man speak, let him speak as the oracles of God; [x]if any man minister, let him do it as of the ability which God giveth; that [y]God in all things may be glorified through Je'sus Christ: [z]to whom be praise and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 Beloved, think it not strange concerning [a]the fiery trial which is to try you, as though some strange thing happened unto you:

13 [b]But rejoice, inasmuch as [c]ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; [d]that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy.

14 [e]If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: [f]on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 But [g]let none of you suffer as a murderer, or as a thief, or as an evil doer, [h]or as a busybody in other men's matters.

16 Yet if any man suffer as a Chris'tian, let him not be ashamed; [i]but let him glorify God on this behalf.

17 For the time is come [k]that judgment must begin at the house of God: and [l]if it first begin at us, [m]what shall the end be of them that obey not the gospel of God?

18 [n]And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear?

19 Wherefore, let them that suffer according to the will of God [o]commit the keeping of their souls to him in well doing, as unto a faithful Creator.

CHAPTER V.

The elders are exhorted to feed the flock of God, 5 the younger to submit themselves to the elder, 8 and all to be sober and vigilant. 13 Salutations.

THE elders which are among you I exhort, who am also [a]an elder, and [b]a witness of the sufferings of Christ, and also [c]a partaker of the glory that shall be revealed:

2 [d]Feed the flock of God [1]which is among you, taking the oversight thereof, [e]not by constraint, but willingly; [f]not for filthy lucre, but of a ready mind;

3 Neither as [2] [g]being lords over [h]God's heritage, but [i]being ensamples to the flock.

4 And when [k]the chief Shepherd shall appear, ye shall receive [l]a crown of glory [m]that fadeth not away.

5 Likewise, ye younger, submit yourselves unto the elder. Yea, [n]all of you be subject one to another, and be clothed with humility: for [o]God resisteth the proud, and [p]giveth grace to the humble.

6 [q]Humble yourselves therefore under the mighty hand of God, that he may exalt you in due time:

7 [r]Casting all your care upon him; for he careth for you.

8 [s]Be sober, be vigilant; because [t]your adversary the devil, as a roaring lion, walketh about, seeking whom he may devour:

9 [u]Whom resist steadfast in the faith, [x]knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace, [y]who hath called us unto his eternal glory by Christ Je'sus, after that ye have suffered [z]a while, [a]make you perfect, [b]stablish, strengthen, settle you.

11 [c]To him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen.

12 [d]By Sil-va'nus, a faithful brother unto you, as I suppose, I have [e]written briefly, exhorting, and testifying [f]that this is the true grace of God wherein ye stand.

13 The church that is at Bab'y-lon, elected together with you, saluteth you; and so doth [g]Mar'cus my son.

14 [h]Greet ye one another with a kiss of charity. [i]Peace be with you all that are in Christ Je'sus. Amen.

THE

SECOND EPISTLE GENERAL

OF

PETER.

THOUGH some doubts have been entertained respecting the authenticity of this Epistle, which has been received as the genuine production of Peter ever since the fourth century, except by the Syrian Church, in which it is read as an excellent book, though not of canonical authority, yet we have the most satisfactory evidence of its genuineness and authenticity. It is cited or alluded to by three apostolic fathers, and by another writer of the second century; and though no writer in the third century appears to have cited it, yet ever since the fourth century it has been recognized as a genuine and canonical epistle. It was also addressed to Hebrew Christians under persecution, and a short time before the apostle's martyrdom, most probably early in the year 65. This Epistle consists of three parts: 1st. The Introduction; 2d. A statement of the blessings to which God had called them, and exhortations to the Christians, who had received these precious gifts, to endeavor to improve in the most substantial graces and virtues; 3d. The Conclusion, in which the apostle declares the agreement of his doctrine with that of Paul.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's salutation. 5 He exhorteth Christians to add to their faith sundry virtues. 10 and to make their calling and election sure. 12 His faithfulness to them in view of his own death. 16 The doctrines taught them not cunningly devised fables.

A. D. 66.

1 [1]SIMON Pe'ter, a servant and an apostle of Je'sus Christ, to them that have obtained [a]like precious faith with us through the righteousness [2]of God and our Saviour Je'sus Christ:

2 [b]Grace and peace be multiplied unto you through the knowledge of God, and of Je'sus our Lord,

3 According as his divine power hath given unto us all things that pertain unto life and godliness, [c]through the knowledge of him [d]that hath called us [3]to glory and virtue:

4 [e]Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises: that by these ye might be [f]partakers of the divine nature, [g]having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust.

5 And besides this, [h]giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue; and to virtue, [i]knowledge;

6 And to knowledge, [j]temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness;

7 And to godliness, brotherly kindness; and [k]to brotherly kindness, charity.

8 For if these things be in you, and abound, they make you that ye shall neither be [4]barren [l]nor unfruitful in the knowledge of our Lord Je'sus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things [m]is blind, and cannot see afar off, and hath forgotten that he was [n]purged from his old sins.

10 Wherefore the rather, brethren, give diligence [o]to make your calling and election sure: for if ye do these things, [p]ye shall never fall:

11 For so an entrance shall be ministered unto you abundantly into the everlasting kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Je'sus Christ.

12 Wherefore [q]I will not be negligent to put you always in remembrance of these things, [r]though ye know them, and be established in the present truth.

13 Yea, I think it meet, [s]as long as I am in this tabernacle, [t]to stir you up by putting you in remembrance;

14 [u]Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, even as [x]our Lord Je'sus Christ hath showed me.

15 Moreover I will endeavor that ye may be able after my decease to have these things always in remembrance.

16 For we have not followed [y]cunningly devised fables, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Je'sus Christ, but [z]were eyewitnesses of his majesty.

17 For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, [a]This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.

18 And this voice which came from heaven we heard, when we were with him in [b]the holy mount.

19 We have also a more sure word of prophecy; whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto [c]a light that shineth in a dark place, until the day dawn, and [d]the daystar arise in your hearts:

20 Knowing this first, that [e]no prophecy of the Scripture is of any private interpretation.

21 For [f] the prophecy came not [5] in old time by the will of man: [g] but holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost.

CHAPTER II.

The coming of false teachers foretold. 2 Many shall follow their pernicious ways. 3 The certainty of their punishment shown. 10 The character of these false teachers described.

BUT [a] there were false prophets also among the people, even as [b] there shall be false teachers among you, who privily shall bring in damnable heresies, even [c] denying the Lord [d] that bought them, [e] and bring upon themselves swift destruction.

2 And many shall follow their [1] pernicious ways; by reason of whom the way of truth shall be evil spoken of.

3 And [f] through covetousness shall they with feigned words [g] make merchandise of you: [h] whose judgment now of a long time lingereth not, and their damnation slumbereth not.

4 For if God spared not [i] the angels [k] that sinned, but [l] cast them down to hell, and delivered them into chains of darkness, to be reserved unto judgment;

5 And spared not the old world, but saved [m] No′ah the eighth person, [n] a preacher of righteousness, [o] bringing in the flood upon the world of the ungodly;

6 And [p] turning the cities of Sod′om and Go-mor′rah into ashes condemned them with an overthrow, [q] making them an ensample unto those that after should live ungodly;

7 And [r] delivered just Lot, vexed with the filthy conversation of the wicked:

8 (For that righteous man dwelling among them, [s] in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds:)

9 [t] The Lord knoweth how to deliver the godly out of temptation, and to reserve the unjust unto the day of judgment to be punished:

10 But chiefly [u] them that walk after the flesh in the lust of uncleanness, and despise [2] government. [x] Presumptuous are they, selfwilled, they are not afraid to speak evil of dignities.

11 Whereas [y] angels, which are greater in power and might, bring not railing accusation [3] against them before the Lord.

12 But these, [z] as natural brute beasts made to be taken and destroyed, speak evil of the things that they understand not; and shall utterly perish in their own corruption;

13 [a] And shall receive the reward of unrighteousness, as they that count it pleasure [b] to riot in the daytime. [c] Spots they are and blemishes, sporting themselves with their own deceivings while [d] they feast with you;

14 Having eyes full of [4] adultery, and that cannot cease from sin; beguiling unstable souls: [e] a heart they have exercised with covetous practices; cursed children:

15 Which have forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of [f] Ba′laam the son of Bo′sor, who loved the wages of unrighteousness;

16 But was rebuked for his iniquity: the dumb ass speaking with man's voice forbade [g] the madness of the prophet.

17 [h] These are wells without water, clouds that are carried with a tempest; to whom the mist of darkness is reserved for ever.

18 For when [i] they speak great swelling words of vanity, they allure through the lusts of the flesh, through much wantonness, those that [j] were [5] clean escaped from them who live in error.

19 While they promise them [k] liberty, they themselves are [l] the servants of corruption: for of whom a man is overcome, of the same is he brought in bondage.

20 For [m] if after they [n] have escaped the pollutions of the world [o] through the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Je′sus Christ, they are again entangled therein, and overcome, the latter end is worse with them than the beginning.

21 For [p] it had been better for them not to have known the way of righteousness, than, after they have known it, to turn from the holy commandment delivered unto them.

22 But it is happened unto them according to the true proverb, [q] The dog is turned to his own vomit again; and, The sow that was washed to her wallowing in the mire.

CHAPTER III.

The apostle's object in both of his epistles. 3 The character and teaching of scoffers in the last days. 5 He answereth their objection, 10 and affirmeth the certainty of Christ's coming to judgment. 11 An exhortation to holiness of life. 15 How to regard the longsuffering of the Lord.

THIS second epistle, beloved, I now write unto you; in both which [a] I stir up your [b] pure minds by way of remembrance:

2 That ye may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets, [c] and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Saviour:

3 [d] Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, [e] walking after their own lusts,

4 And saying, [f] Where is the promise of his coming? for since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they willingly are ignorant of, that [g] by the word of God the heavens

6 [i] Whereby the world that then was, being overflowed with water, perished:

7 But [j] the heavens and the earth, which are now, by the same word are kept in store, reserved unto [k] fire against the day of judgment and perdition of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and [l] a thousand years as one day.

9 [m] The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but [n] is longsuffering to usward, [o] not willing that any should perish, but [p] that all should come to repentance.

10 But [q] the day of the Lord will come as a thief in the night; in the which [r] the heavens shall pass away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with fervent heat, the earth also and the works that are therein shall be burned up.

12 [t] Looking for and [2] hasting unto the coming of the day of God, wherein the heavens being on fire shall [u] be dissolved, and the elements shall [x] melt with fervent heat?

13 Nevertheless we, according to his promise, look for [y] new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness.

14 Wherefore, beloved, seeing that ye look for such things, be diligent [z] that ye may be found of him in peace, without spot, and blameless.

15 And account that [a] the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation; even as our beloved brother Paul also according to the wisdom given unto him hath written unto you;

16 As also in all his epistles, [b] speaking in them of these things; in which are some things [c] hard to be understood, which they that are unlearned and unstable [d] wrest, as they do also the other Scriptures, unto their own destruction.

17 Ye therefore, beloved, [e] seeing ye know these things before, [f] beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness.

18 [g] But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Je'sus Christ. [h] To him be glory both now and for ever. Amen.

THE FIRST EPISTLE GENERAL
JOHN.

THE canonical authority of this Epistle, which appears to have been written A. D. 68 or 69, was never questioned. We have the strongest internal evidence that it was written by the Apostle John. Artless simplicity and benevolence, together with a wonderful sublimity of sentiment, are the characteristics of this Epistle, which is justly considered a catholic epistle; it being written for the use of Christians of every denomination and of every country, and designed to animate them to communion with God and a holy life. This Epistle consists of six sections, besides the conclusion, which is a recapitulation of the whole. Section 1 asserts the true divinity and humanity of Christ, in opposition to the false teachers, and urges the union of faith and holiness of life as absolutely necessary to enable Christians to enjoy communion with God. Section 2 shows that all have sinned, and explains the doctrine of Christ's propitiation: whence the apostle takes occasion to illustrate the marks of true faith, viz.: Obeying his commandments, and sincere love of the brethren; and shows that the love of the world is inconsistent with the love of God. Section 3 asserts Jesus to be the same person with Christ, in opposition to the false teachers who denied it. Section 4 on the privileges of true believers, and their consequent happiness and duties, and the marks by which they are known to be "the sons of God." Section 5 contains criteria by which to distinguish Antichrist and false Christians, with an exhortation to brotherly love. Section 6 shows the connection between faith in Christ, the being born of God, love to God and his children, obedience to his commandments, and victory over the world; and that Jesus Christ is truly the Son of God, able to save us, and to hear the prayers we make for ourselves and others.

CHAPTER I.

The apostle's object in declaring what he had seen and known of the Word of life. 5 His message concerning God, and fellowship with him. 7 The blood of Christ cleanseth from sin.

THAT [a] which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, [b] which we have looked upon, and [c] our hands have handled, of the Word of life;

2 For [d] the life [e] was manifested, and we have seen it, [f] and bear witness, [g] and show unto you that eternal life, [h] which was with the Father, and was manifested unto us;

3 [i] That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly [k] our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Je'sus Christ.

4 And these things write we unto you, [l] that your joy may be full.

5 [m] This then is the message which we have heard of him, and declare unto you, that [n] God is light, and in him is no darkness at all.

6 [o] If we say that we have fellowship with him, and walk in darkness, [p] we lie, and do not the truth:

7 But if we walk in the light, as he is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and [q] the blood of Je'sus Christ his Son cleanseth us from all sin.

8 [r] If we say that we have no sin, we deceive ourselves, [s] and the truth is not in us.

9 [t] If we confess our sins, he is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to [u] cleanse us from all unrighteousness.

10 If we say that we have not sinned, we make him a liar, and his word is not in us.

CHAPTER II.

Christ our advocate and the propitiation for our sins. 3 The evidence of love to God is in obedience to his commandments. 18 A caution to beware of seducers. 22 Who antichrist is. 24 The safety of the godly is in their abiding in the faith.

MY little children, these things write I unto you, that ye sin not. And if any man sin, [a] we have an advocate with the Father, Je'sus Christ the righteous:

2 And [b] he is the propitiation for our sins: and not for ours only, but [c] also for the sins of the whole world.

3 And hereby we do know that we know him, if we keep his commandments.

4 [d] He that saith, I know him, and keepeth not his commandments, [e] is a liar, and the truth is not in him.

5 But [f] whoso keepeth his word, [g] in him verily is the love of God perfected: [h] hereby know we that we are in him.

6 [i] He that saith he abideth in him [k] ought himself also so to walk, even as he walked.

7 Brethren, [l] I write no new commandment unto you, but an old commandment [m] which ye had from the beginning. The old commandment is the word which ye have heard from the beginning.

8 Again, [n] a new commandment I write unto you, which thing is true in him and in you: [o] because the darkness is past, and [p] the true light now shineth.

9 [q] He that saith he is in the light, and hateth his brother, is in darkness even until now.

10 [r] He that loveth his brother abideth in the light, and [s] there is none [1] occasion of stumbling in him.

11 But he that hateth his brother is in darkness, and [t] walketh in darkness, and knoweth not whither he goeth, because that darkness hath blinded his eyes.

12 I write unto you, little children, because [u] your sins are forgiven you for his name's sake.

13 I write unto you, fathers, because ye have known him [w] that is from the beginning. I write unto you, [x] young men, because ye have overcome the wicked one. I write unto you, little children, because ye have known the Father.

14 I have written unto you, fathers, because ye have known him that is from the beginning. I have written unto you, young men, because [y] ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye have overcome the wicked one.

15 [z] Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. [a] If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, [b] and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world.

17 And [c] the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever.

18 [d] Little children, [e] it is the last time: and as ye have heard that [f] antichrist shall come, [g] even now are there many antichrists; whereby we know [h] that it is the last time.

19 [i] They went out from us, but they were not of us; for [k] if they had been of us, they would no doubt have continued with us: but they went out, [l] that they might be made manifest that they were not all of us.

20 But [m] ye have an unction [n] from the Holy One, and [o] ye know all things.

21 I have not written unto you because ye know not the truth, but because ye know it, and that no lie is of the truth.

22 [p] Who is a liar but he that denieth that Je'sus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son.

23 [q] Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: but [r] he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also.

24 Let that therefore abide in you, [s] which ye have heard from the beginning. If that which ye have heard from the beginning shall remain in you, [t] ye also shall continue in the Son, and in the Father.

25 [u] And this is the promise that he hath promised us, even eternal life.

26 These things have I written unto you [x] concerning them that seduce you.

27 But [y] the anointing which ye have received of him abideth in you, and [z] ye need not that any man teach you: but as the same anointing [a] teacheth you of all things, and is truth, and is no lie, and even as it hath taught you, ye shall abide in [2] him.

28 And now, little children, abide in him; that, [b] when he shall appear, we may have confidence, [c] and not be ashamed before him at his coming.

29 [d] If ye know that he is righteous, [3] ye know that [e] every one that doeth righteousness is born of him.

CHAPTER III.

God's great love to us. 3 The influence of a hope in Christ. 11 We should love one another. 19 How we may know that we are of the truth, 22 and shall receive what we ask.

BEHOLD, what manner of love the Father hath bestowed upon us, that [a] we should be called the sons of God: therefore the world knoweth us not, [b] because it knew him not.

2 Beloved, [c] now are we the sons of God, and [d] it doth not yet appear what we shall be: but we know that, when he shall appear, [e] we shall be like him; for [f] we shall see him as he is.

3 [g] And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as he is pure.

4 Whosoever committeth sin transgresseth also the law: for [h] sin is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know [i] that he was manifested [k] to take away our sins; and [l] in him is no sin.

6 Whosoever abideth in him sinneth not: [m] whosoever sinneth hath not seen him, neither known him.

7 Little children, [n] let no man deceive you: [o] he that doeth righteousness is righteous, even as he is righteous.

8 [p] He that committeth sin is of the devil; for the devil sinneth from the beginning. For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, [q] that he might destroy the works of the devil.

9 [r] Whosoever is born of God doth not commit sin; for [s] his seed remaineth in him: and he cannot sin, because he is born of God.

10 In this the children of God are manifest, and the children of the devil: [t] whosoever doeth not righteousness is not of God, [u] neither he that loveth not his brother.

11 For [x] this is the [1] message that ye heard from the beginning, [y] that we should love one another.

12 Not as [z] Cain, who was of that wicked one, and slew his brother. And wherefore slew he him? Because his own works were evil, and his brother's righteous.

13 Marvel not, my brethren, if [a] the world hate you.

14 [b] We know that we have passed from death unto life, because we love the brethren. [c] He that loveth not his brother abideth in death.

15 [d] Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer: and ye know that [e] no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him.

16 [f] Hereby perceive we the love of God, because he laid down his life for us: and we ought to lay down our lives for the brethren.

17 But [g] whoso hath this world's good, and seeth his brother have need, and shutteth up his bowels of compassion from him, [h] how dwelleth the love of God in him?

18 My little children, [i] let us not love in word, neither in tongue; but in deed and in truth.

19 And hereby we know [k] that we are of the truth, and shall [2] assure our hearts before him.

20 [l] For if our heart condemn us, God is greater than our heart, and knoweth all things.

21 [m] Beloved, if our heart condemn us not, [n] then have we confidence toward God.

22 And [o] whatsoever we ask, we receive of him, because we keep his commandments, [p] and do those things that are pleasing in his sight.

23 [q] And this is his commandment, That we should believe on the name of his Son Je'sus Christ, [r] and love one another, [s] as he gave us commandment.

24 And [t] he that keepeth his commandments [u] dwelleth in him, and he in him. And [x] hereby we know that he abideth in us, by the Spirit which he hath given us.

CHAPTER IV.

They are not to believe every spirit. 2 How they may know the spirit that is of God. 7 An exhortation to love one another.

BELOVED, [a] believe not every spirit, but [b] try the spirits whether they are of God: because [c] many false prophets are gone out into the world.

2 Hereby know ye the Spirit of God: [d] Every spirit that confesseth that Je'sus Christ is come in the flesh is of God:

3 And [e] every spirit that confesseth not that Je'sus Christ is come in the flesh is not of God: and this is that spirit of antichrist, whereof ye have heard that it should come; and [f] even now already is it in the world.

4 [g] Ye are of God, little children, and have overcome them: because greater is he that is in you, than [h] he that is in the world.

5 [i] They are of the world: therefore speak they of the world, and [k] the world heareth them.

6 We are of God: [l] he that knoweth God heareth us; he that is not of God heareth not us. Hereby know we [m] the spirit of truth, and the spirit of error.

7 [n] Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.

8 He that loveth not, [o]knoweth not God; for [p]God is love.

9 [q]In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent his only begotten Son into the world, [r]that we might live through him.

10 Herein is love, [s]not that we loved God, but that he loved us, and sent his Son [t]to be the propitiation for our sins.

11 Beloved, [u]if God so loved us, we ought also to love one another.

12 [x]No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and [y]his love is perfected in us.

13 [z]Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit.

14 And [a]we have seen and do testify that [b]the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world.

15 [c]Whosoever shall confess that Je'sus is the Son of God, God dwelleth in him, and he in God.

16 And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. [d]God is love; and [e]he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him.

17 Herein is [1]our love made perfect, that [f]we may have boldness in the day of judgment: [g]because as he is, so are we in this world.

18 There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth [h]is not made perfect in love.

19 We love him, because he first loved us.

20 [i]If a man say, I love God, and hateth his brother, he is a liar: for he that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God [k]whom he hath not seen?

21 And [l]this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also.

CHAPTER V.

He that is born of God believeth that Jesus is the Christ, loveth the children of God, 4 and overcometh the world. 10 The believer hath eternal life through Christ. 14 His confidence in him.

WHOSOEVER [a]believeth that [b]Je'sus is the Christ is [c]born of God: [d]and every one that loveth him that begat, loveth him also that is begotten of him.

2 By this [e]we know that we love the children of God, when we love God, and keep his commandments.

3 [f]For this is the love of God, that we keep his commandments: and [g]his commandments are not grievous.

4 For [h]whatsoever is born of God overcometh the world: and this is the victory that overcometh the world, even our faith.

5 Who is he that overcometh the world, but [i]he that believeth that Je'sus is the Son of God?

6 This is he that came [j]by water and blood, even Je'sus Christ; not by water only, but by water and blood. [k]And it is the Spirit that beareth witness, because the Spirit is truth.

7 For there are three that bear record in heaven, the Father, [l]the Word, and the Holy Ghost: [m]and these three are one.

8 And there are three that bear witness in earth, [n]the spirit, and the water, and the blood: and these three agree in one.

9 If we receive [o]the witness of men, the witness of God is greater: [p]for this is the witness of God which he hath testified of his Son.

10 He that believeth on the Son of God [q]hath the witness in himself: he that believeth not God [r]hath made him a liar; because he believeth not the record that God gave of his Son.

11 [s]And this is the record, that God hath given to us eternal life, and [t]this life is in his Son.

12 [u]He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life.

13 [v]These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; [w]that ye may know that ye have eternal life, and that ye may believe on the name of the Son of God.

14 And this is the confidence that we have [1]in him, that, [x]if we ask any thing according to his will, he heareth us:

15 And if we know that he hear us, whatsoever we ask, we know that we have the petitions that we desired of him.

16 If any man see his brother sin a sin which is not unto death, he shall ask, and [y]he shall give him life for them that sin not unto death. [z]There is a sin unto death: [a]I do not say that he shall pray for it.

17 [b]All unrighteousness is sin: and there is a sin not unto death.

18 We know that [c]whosoever is born of God sinneth not; but he that is begotten of God [d]keepeth himself, and that wicked one toucheth him not.

19 And we know that we are of God, and [e]the whole world lieth in wickedness.

20 And we know that the Son of God is come, and [f]hath given us an understanding, [g]that we may know him that is true; and we are in him that is true, even in his Son Je'sus Christ. [h]This is the true God, [i]and eternal life.

21 Little children, [k]keep yourselves from idols. Amen.

THE SECOND EPISTLE
JOHN.

THE Second Epistle of John is addressed to an eminent Christian matron, the Lady Electa, whom the apostle commends for her virtuous and religious education of her children; and who is exhorted to abide in the doctrine of Christ, to persevere in the truth, and carefully to avoid the delusions of false teachers. But chiefly the apostle beseeches this Christian matron to practice the great and indispensable commandment of Christian love and charity.

The apostle's salutation to the elect lady and her children. 4 His rejoicing. 5 He exhorteth her to persevere in Christian love, 7 and not to receive false teachers.

THE elder unto the elect lady and her children, [a] whom I love in the truth; and not I only, but also all they that have known [b] the truth;

2 For the truth's sake, which dwelleth in us, and shall be with us for ever.

3 [c] Grace [1] be with you, mercy, and peace, from God the Father and from the Lord Je′sus Christ, the Son of the Father, [d] in truth and love.

4 I rejoiced greatly that I found of thy children [e] walking in truth, as we have received a commandment from the Father.

5 And now I beseech thee, lady, [f] not as though I wrote a new commandment unto thee, but that which we had from the beginning, [g] that we love one another.

6 And [h] this is love, that we walk after his commandments. This is the commandment, That, [i] as ye have heard from the beginning, ye should walk in it.

7 For [k] many deceivers are entered into the world, [l] who confess not that Je′sus Christ is come in the flesh. [m] This is a deceiver and an antichrist.

8 [n] Look to yourselves, [o] that we lose not those things which we have [2] wrought, but that we receive a full reward.

9 [p] Whosoever transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God. He that abideth in the doctrine of Christ, he hath both the Father and the Son.

10 If there come any unto you, and bring not this doctrine, receive him not into your house, [q] neither bid him God speed:

11 For he that biddeth him God speed is partaker of his evil deeds.

12 [r] Having many things to write unto you, I would not write with paper and ink: but I trust to come unto you, and speak [3] face to face, [s] that [4] our joy may be full.

13 [t] The children of thy elect sister greet thee. Amen.

THE THIRD EPISTLE
JOHN.

THE Third Epistle of John is addressed to a converted Gentile, a respectable member of some Christian Church, called Gaius or Caius: most probably Gaius of Corinth, whom Paul calls his "host, and the host of the whole Church." The scope of this Epistle is to commend his steadfastness in the faith, and his general hospitality, especially to the ministers of Christ; to caution him against the ambitious and turbulent practices of Diotrephes, and to recommend Demetrius to his friendship, referring what he further had to say to a personal interview.

The apostle commendeth Gaius for his piety, 5 and hospitality. 9 The conduct of Diotrephes rebuked. 11 Gaius exhorted to follow that which is good. 12 The character of Demetrius.

THE elder unto the well beloved Ga′ius, [a] whom I love [1] in the truth.

2 Beloved, I [2] wish above all things that [b] thou mayest prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth.

3 For I rejoiced greatly, when the brethren came and testified of the truth that is in thee, even as [c] thou walkest in the truth.

4 I have no greater joy than to hear that [d] my children walk in truth.

5 Beloved, [e] thou doest faithfully whatsoever thou doest to the brethren, and to strangers;

6 Which have borne witness of thy charity before the church: whom if thou bring forward on their journey [3] after a godly sort, thou shalt do well:

7 Because that for his name's sake they went forth, [f] taking nothing of the Gen'tiles.

8 We therefore ought to receive such, that we might be fellow helpers to the truth.

9 I wrote unto the church: but Di-ot're-phes, [g] who loveth to have the preeminence among them, receiveth us not.

10 Wherefore, if I come, [h] I will remember his deeds which he doeth, prating against us with malicious words: an not content therewith, neither doth h himself receive the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and casteth them out of the church.

11 Beloved, [i] follow not that which is evil, but that which is good. [k] He that doeth good is of God: but he that doeth evil hath not seen God.

12 De-me'tri-us [l] hath good report of all men, and of the truth itself: yea, and we also bear record; [m] and ye know that ou record is true.

13 [n] I had many things to write, but I will not with ink and pen write unto thee:

14 But I trust I shall shortly see thee, and we shall speak [4] face to face. Peace be to thee. Our friends salute thee. Greet the friends by name.

THE GENERAL EPISTLE

JUDE.

JUDE, or Judas, who was surnamed Thaddeus and Lebbeus, and was also called the brother of our Lord, the son of Alpheus, brother of James the Less, and one of the twelve apostles. We are not informed when or he was called to the apostleship; and there is scarcely any mention of him in the New Testament, except in different catalogues of the twelve apostles. Although the Epistle which bears his name was rejected in the ages of Christianity by some persons, we have satisfactory evidences of its authenticity; for it is found in all ancient catalogues of the sacred writings of the New Testament; it is asserted to be genuine by Christian of the third and following centuries; and, independently of this external evidence, the genuineness of the of Jude is confirmed by the subjects discussed in it, which are in every respect worthy of an apostle Christ. There is great similarity between this Epistle and the second chapter of Peter's second Epistl addressed his letter to all who had embraced the Gospel; its design is to guard them against the false teac had begun to insinuate themselves into the Christian Church, and to contend with the utmost earnestness zeal for the true faith, against the dangerous tenets which they disseminated, resolving the whole of Christianity into a speculative belief and outward profession of the Gospel. And having thus cancelled the obligations of morality and personal holiness, they taught their disciples to live in all manner of licentiousness, and at the same time flattered them with the hope of divine favour, and of obtaining eternal life. The vile characters of these seducers are further shown, and their sentence is denounced; and the Epistle concludes with warnings, admonitions, and counsels to believers how to persevere in faith and godliness themselves, and to rescue others from the snares of the false teachers.

The apostle's salutation, 3 He exhorteth to contend earnestly for the faith. 4 False teachers among them. 5 Their punishment certain. 8 Their character described. 17 Such mockers were foretold. 20 An exhortation to adhere to the truth, 22 and to save others.

JUDE, the servant of Je'sus Christ, and [a] brother of James, to them that are sanctified by God the Father, and [b] preserved in Je'sus Christ, and [c] called:

2 Mercy unto you, and [d] peace, and love, be multiplied.

3 Beloved, when I gave all diligence t write unto you [e] of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unt you, and exhort you that [f] ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

ordained to this condemnation, ungodly men, [i]turning [k]the grace of our God into lasciviousness, and [l]denying the only Lord God, and our Lord Je'sus Christ.

5 I will therefore put you in remembrance, though ye once knew this, how that [m]the Lord, having saved the people out of the land of E'gypt, afterward [n]destroyed them that believed not.

6 And [o]the angels which kept not their [1]first estate, but left their own habitation, [p]he hath reserved in everlasting chains under darkness [q]unto the judgment of the great day.

7 Even as [r]Sod'om and Go-mor'rah and the cities about them, in like manner giving themselves over to fornication, and going after [2]strange flesh, are set forth for an example, suffering the vengeance of eternal fire.

8 [s]Likewise also these filthy dreamers defile the flesh, despise dominion, and [t]speak evil of dignities.

9 Yet [u]Mi'cha-el the archangel, when contending with the devil he disputed about the body of Mo'ses, [x]durst not bring against him a railing accusation, but said, [y]The Lord rebuke thee.

10 [z]But these speak evil of those things which they know not: but what they know naturally, as brute beasts, in those things they corrupt themselves.

11 Woe unto them! for they have gone in the way [a]of Cain, and [b]ran greedily after the error of Ba'laam for reward, and perished [c]in the gainsaying of Ko'rah.

12 [d]These are spots in your [e]feasts of charity, when they feast with you, feeding themselves without fear: [f]clouds they are without water, [g]carried about of winds; trees whose fruit withereth, without fruit, twice dead, [h]plucked up by the roots;

24 [d]Now unto him that is able to keep you from falling, and [e]to present you faultless before the presence of his glory with exceeding joy,

25 [f]To the only wise God our Saviour, be glory and majesty, dominion and power, both now and ever. Amen.

THE
ST. JOHN THE DIVINE.

It is a remarkable circumstance that the authenticity of this book was very generally, if not universally, acknowledged during the first two centuries, and yet in the third century it began to be questioned. This seems to have been occasioned by some absurd notions concerning the Millennium, which a few wellmeaning but fanciful expositors grounded on this book; which notions their opponents injudiciously and presumptuously endeavored to discredit, by denying the authority of the book itself. So little, however, has this portion of holy writ suffered from the ordeal of criticism, to which it has in consequence been subjected, that there is no other book of the New Testament so strongly attested, or commented upon so early, as the Apocalypse, or Revelation of John; for, besides the strong internal evidence afforded by the similarity of its style to that of the apostle's other writings, we have an unbroken series of external, or historical testimony, from the apostolic age downward. The revelations contained in this book were made to John during his exile in the isle of Patmos, toward the end of Domitian's reign, though the book containing them could not have been published until after his release, on the emperor's death, in the year 96, and after his return to Ephesus. The year 96 or 97 may therefore be considered as its true date. The scope of this book is twofold: first, generally to make known to the apostle "the things which are," that is, the then present state of the Christian Churches in Asia; and, secondly and principally, to reveal to him "the things which shall be hereafter," or the constitution and fates of the Christian Church, through its several periods of propagation, corruption, and amendment, from its beginning to its consummation in glory. The Apocalypse, therefore, consists of two principal divisions, or parts: Part 1 contains the "things which are;" that is, the then present state of the Church: it includes the epistles to the seven Asiatic Churches of Ephesus, Smyrna, Pergamos, Thyatira, Sardis, Philadelphia, and Laodicea. These Churches, in the Lydian, or Proconsular Asia, are supposed to have been planted by the Apostle Paul and his assistants during their ministry. They lie nearly in an amphitheatre, and are addressed according to their geographical positions, as may be seen on reference to a Map of the Travels of the Apostles. These seven epistles contain excellent precepts and exhortations, commendations and reproofs, promises and threatenings, which are calculated to afford instruction to the Universal Church of Christ at all times. Part 2 contains a prophecy of "the things which shall be hereafter," or the future state of the Church through succeeding ages, from the time when the apostle beheld the apocalyptic visions, to the grand consummation of all things.

day, and heard behind me [d] a great voice, as of a trumpet,

11 Saying, [e] I am Al'pha and O'me-ga, [f] the first and the last: and, [g] What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in A'si-a; unto Eph'e-sus, and unto Smyr'na, and unto Per'ga-mos, and unto Thy-a-ti'ra, and unto Sar'dis, and unto Phil-a-del'phi-a, and unto La-od-i-ce'a.

12 And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, [h] I saw seven golden candlesticks;

13 [i] And in the midst of the seven candlesticks [j] one like unto the Son of man, [k] clothed with a garment down to the foot, and [l] girt about the paps with a golden girdle.

14 His head and [m] his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and [n] his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15 [o] And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and [p] his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 [q] And he had in his right hand seven stars: and [r] out of his mouth went a sharp twoedged sword: [s] and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And [t] when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And [u] he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; [x] I am the first and the last:

18 [y] I am he that liveth, and was dead; and behold, [z] I am alive for evermore, Amen; and [a] have the keys of hell and of death.

19 Write [b] the things which thou hast seen, [c] and the things which are, [d] and the things which shall be hereafter;

20 The mystery [e] of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, [f] and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are [g] the angels of the seven churches: and [h] the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches.

CHAPTER II.

Christ's message to the angel of the church in Ephesus, 8 in Smyrna, 12 in Pergamos, 18 and in Thyatira.

UNTO the angel of the church of Eph'e-sus write; These things saith [a] he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, [b] who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks;

2 [c] I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and [d] thou hast tried them [e] which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast [f] not fainted.

4 Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because [g] thou hast left thy first love.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; [h] or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of [i] the Nic-o-la'i-tans, which I also hate.

7 [j] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give [k] to eat of [l] the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God.

8 And unto the angel of the church in Smyr'na write; These things saith [m] the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive;

9 [n] I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, but thou art [o] rich; and I know the blasphemy of [p] them which say they are Jews, and are not, [q] but are the synagogue of Sa'tan.

10 [r] Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: [s] be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee [t] a crown of life.

11 [u] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of [x] the second death.

12 And to the angel of the church in Per'ga-mos write; These things saith [y] he which hath the sharp sword with two edges;

13 [z] I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even [a] where Sa'tan's seat is: and [b] thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein An'ti-pas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Sa'tan dwelleth.

14 But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of [c] Ba'laam, who taught Ba'lak to cast a stumblingblock before the children of Is'ra-el, [d] to eat things sacrificed unto idols, [e] and to commit fornication.

15 So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine [f] of the Nic-o-la'i-tans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and [g] will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 [h] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone [i] a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it.

18 And unto the angel of the church in Thy-a-ti'ra write; These things saith the Son of God, [j] who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass;

19 [k] I know thy works, and [l] charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first.

20 Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman [m] Jez'e-bel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants [n] to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.

21 And I gave her space [o] to repent of her fornication; and she repented not.

22 Behold, I will cast her into a bed, [p] and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, [q] except they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that [r] I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and [s] I will give unto every one of you according to your works.

24 But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thy-a-ti'ra, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Sa'tan, as they speak; [t] I will put upon you none other burden.

25 But [u] that which ye have already, hold fast till I come.

26 And he that overcometh, and keepeth [v] my works unto the end, [w] to him will I give power over the nations:

27 [x] And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I received of my Father.

28 And I will give him [y] the morning star.

29 [z] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

CHAPTER III.

Christ's message to the angel of the church in Sardis, 7 in Philadelphia, 14 and in Laodicea.

AND unto the angel of the church in Sar'dis write; These things saith he [a] that hath the seven spirits of God, and the seven stars; [b] I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, [c] and art dead.

2 Be watchful, and [d] strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God.

3 [e] Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and [f] repent. [g] If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee.

4 Thou hast [h] a few names even in Sar'dis which have not [i] defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me [j] in white: for they are worthy.

5 He that overcometh, [k] the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not [l] blot out his name out of the [m] book of life, but [n] I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels.

6 [o] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

7 And to the angel of the church in Phil-a-del'phi-a write; These things saith [p] he that is holy, [q] he that is true, he that hath [r] the key of Da'vid, [s] he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and [t] shutteth, and no man openeth;

8 [u] I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee [x] an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name.

9 Behold, I will make [y] them of the synagogue of Sa'tan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, [z] I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee.

10 Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, [a] I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon [b] all the world, to try them that dwell [c] upon the earth.

11 Behold, [d] I come quickly: [e] hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take [f] thy crown.

12 Him that overcometh will I make [g] a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and [h] I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is [i] new Je-ru'sa-lem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: [k] and I will write upon him my new name.

13 [l] He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches.

14 And unto the angel of the church [1] of the La-od-i-ce'ans write; [m] These things saith the Amen, [n] the faithful and true witness, [o] the beginning of the creation of God;

15 [p] I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot.

16 So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, [q] I will spew thee out of my mouth.

17 Because thou sayest, [r] I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked:

18 I counsel thee [s] to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and [t] white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see.

19 [u] As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent.

20 Behold, [w] I stand at the door, and knock: [x] if any man hear my voice, and

CHAPTER IV.

John's vision of the throne of God in heaven, 4 and of the four and twenty elders around it. 10 The elders worship him that sitteth on the throne.

AFTER this I looked, and behold, a door was opened in heaven: and [a]the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, [b]Come up hither, [c]and I will show thee things which must be hereafter.

2 And immediately [d]I was in the Spirit: and behold, [e]a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne.

3 And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone: [f]and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald.

4 [g]And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, [h]clothed in white raiment; [i]and they had on their heads crowns of gold.

5 And out of the throne proceeded [k]lightnings and thunderings and voices: [l]and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are [m]the seven spirits of God.

6 And before the throne there was [n]a sea of glass like unto crystal: [o]and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts full of eyes before [p]and behind.

7 [q]And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle.

8 And the four beasts had each of them [r]six wings about him; and they were full of eyes [s]within: and [1]they rest not day and night, saying, [t]Holy, holy, holy, [u]Lord God Almighty, [x]which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beasts give glory and honour and thanks to him that sat on the throne, [y]who liveth for ever and ever,

10 [z]The four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, [a]and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, [b]and cast their crowns before the throne, saying,

11 [c]Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: [d]for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created.

CHAPTER V.

The book sealed with seven seals. 3 No man is able to open it. 5 The Lamb that was slain taketh the book; 8 whereupon the elders and angels around the throne join in thanksgiving and praise to him.

AND I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne [a]a book written within and on the back side, [b]sealed with seven seals.

2 And I saw a [c]strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, [d]Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof?

3 And no man [e]in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon.

4 And I wept much, [f]because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon.

5 And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, [g]the Lion of the tribe of Ju'dah, [h]the Root of Da'vid, hath prevailed to open the book, [i]and to loose the seven seals thereof.

6 And I beheld, and lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood [j]a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and [k]seven eyes, which are [l]the seven spirits of God sent forth into all the earth.

7 And he came and took the book out of the right hand [m]of him that sat upon the throne.

8 And when he had taken the book, [n]the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them [o]harps, and golden vials full of [1]odours, [p]which are the prayers of saints.

9 And [q]they sung a new song, saying, [r]Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: [s]for thou wast slain, and [t]hast redeemed us to God by thy blood [u]out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation;

10 [v]And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels [w]round about the throne, and the beasts, and the elders: and the number of them was [x]ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands;

12 Saying with a loud voice, [y]Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And [z]every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, [a]Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him [b]that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever.

14 [c]And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him [d]that liveth for ever and ever.

CHAPTER VI.

What the apostle saw when the Lamb opened the first seal, 3 the second seal, 5 the third seal, 7 the fourth seal, 9 the fifth seal, 12 and the sixth seal.

AND [a]I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, [b]one of the four beasts saying, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and behold [c]a white horse: [d]and he that sat on him had a bow; [e]and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer.

3 And when he had opened the second seal, [f]I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 [g]And there went out another horse that was red: and [h]power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the third seal, [i]I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo [j]a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, [1]A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and [k]see thou hurt not the oil and the wine.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seal, [l]I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 [m]And I looked, and behold a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and hell followed with him. And power was given [2]unto them over the fourth part of the earth, [n]to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, [o]and with the beasts of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under [p]the altar [q]the souls of them that were slain [r]for the word of God, and for [s]the testimony which they held:

10 And they cried with a loud voice, saying, [t]How long, O Lord, [u]holy and true, [x]dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And [y]white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, [z]that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow servants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, [a]and lo, there was a great earthquake; and [b]the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood;

13 [c]And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her [3]untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind;

14 [d]And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and [e]every mountain and island were moved out of their places.

15 And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bond man, and every free man, [f]hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains;

16 [g]And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb:

17 [h]For the great day of his wrath is come; [i]and who shall be able to stand?

CHAPTER VII.

An angel sealeth the servants of God in their foreheads. 4 The number that were sealed. 9 A countless multitude of the redeemed in heaven ascribe salvation to God and the Lamb. 13 The glory and happiness of those who came out of great tribulation.

AND after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, [a]holding the four winds of the earth, [b]that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the [c]seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, [d]Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have [e]sealed the servants of our God [f]in their foreheads.

4 [g]And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed [h]a hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Is'ra'el.

5 Of the tribe of Ju'dah were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reu'ben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand.

6 Of the tribe of A'ser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nepth'a-lim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Ma-nas'seh were sealed twelve thousand.

7 Of the tribe of Sim'e-on were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Le'vi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Is'sa-char were sealed twelve thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zeb'u-lun were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Jo'seph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Ben'ja-min were sealed twelve thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and lo, [i]a great multitude, which no man could number,

[j]of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, [k]clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands;

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God [m]which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb.

11 [n]And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God,

12 [o]Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.

13 And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in [p]white robes? and whence came they?

14 And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, [q]These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have [r]washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb.

15 Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall [s]dwell among them.

16 [t]They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; [u]neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat.

17 For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne [x]shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: [y]and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

CHAPTER VIII.

The seventh seal opened. 2 To seven angels seven trumpets are given. 3 Another angel offereth incense with the prayers of the saints. 6 Four angels sound their trumpets, and great plagues follow.

AND [a]when he had opened the seventh seal, there was [b]silence in heaven about the space of half an hour.

2 [c]And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; [d]and to them were given seven trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should [1]offer it with [e]the prayers of all saints upon [f]the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And [g]the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand.

5 And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it [2]into the earth: and [h]there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, [i]and an earthquake.

6 And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.

7 The first angel sounded, [j]and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast [k]upon the earth: and the third part [l]of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up.

8 And the second angel sounded, [m]and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: [n]and the third part of the sea [o]became blood;

9 [p]And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel sounded, [q]and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, [r]and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters;

11 [s]And the name of the star is called Wormwood: [t]and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 [u]And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise.

13 And I beheld, [x]and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, [y]Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabiters of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound!

CHAPTER IX.

The fifth angel soundeth, and the bottomless pit is opened, and smoke and locusts issue from it. 7 These locusts described. 12 The first woe is past. 13 The sixth angel soundeth, and four angels are let loose for the work of destruction.

AND the fifth angel sounded, [a]and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of [b]the bottomless pit.

2 And he opened the bottomless pit; [c]and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the smoke [d]locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, [e]as the scorpions of the earth have power.

4 And it was commanded them [f]that they should not hurt [g]the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not [h]the seal of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was given that they should not kill them, [i]but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man.

6 And in those days [k]shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall

7 And [l]the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; [m]and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, [n]and their faces were as the faces of men.

8 And they had hair as the hair of women, and [o]their teeth were as the teeth of lions.

9 And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was [p]as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle.

10 And they had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: [q]and their power was to hurt men five months.

11 [r]And they had a king over them, which is [s]the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the He'brew tongue is A-bad'don, but in the Greek tongue hath his name [1]A-poll'yon.

12 [t]One woe is past; and, behold, there come two woes more hereafter.

13 And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God,

14 Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound [u]in the great river Eu-phra'tes.

15 And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared [2]for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men.

16 And [x]the number of the army [y]of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: [z]and I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: [a]and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone.

18 By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths.

19 For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: [b]for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt.

20 And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues [c]yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship [d]devils, [e]and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood; which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk:

21 Neither repented they of their murders, [f]nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts.

CHAPTER X.

A mighty angel appeareth with an open book, 6 and sweareth by him that liveth for ever, that time shall be no longer. 8 John is commanded to take and eat the book.

AND I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud: [a]and a rainbow was upon his head, and [b]his face was as it were the sun, and [c]his feet as pillars of fire:

2 And he had in his hand a little book open: [d]and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth,

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, [e]seven thunders uttered their voices.

4 And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, [f]Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth [g]lifted up his hand to heaven,

6 And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, [h]who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, [i]that there should be time no longer:

7 But [k]in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets.

8 And [l]the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth.

9 And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, [m]Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

10 And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; [n]and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, [o]my belly was bitter.

11 And he said unto me, [p]Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings.

CHAPTER XI.

John is directed to measure the temple. 3 The two witnesses, 6 and their power. 7 The beast shall kill them. 8 Their bodies unburied, 11 after three days and a half are raised to life. 14 The second woe is past. 15 The seventh angel soundeth, and there is rejoicing in heaven.

AND there was given me [a]a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, [b]Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein.

2 But [c]the court which is without the temple [1]leave out, and measure it not; [d]for it is given unto the Gen'tiles: and the holy city shall they [e]tread under foot [f]forty and two months.

3 And [2]I will give power unto my two [g]witnesses, [h]and they shall prophesy [i]a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are the [k]two olive trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, [l]fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: [m]and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed.

6 These [n]have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and [o]have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they [p]shall have finished their testimony, [q]the beast that ascendeth [r]out of the bottomless pit [s]shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them.

8 And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of [t]the great city, which spiritually is called Sod'om and E'gypt, [u]where also our Lord was crucified.

9 [x]And they of the people and kindreds and tongues and nations shall see their dead bodies three days and a half, [y]and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves.

10 [z]And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, [a]and shall send gifts one to another; [b]because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth.

11 [c]And after three days and a half [d]the spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. [e]And they ascended up to heaven [f]in a cloud; [g]and their enemies beheld them.

13 And the same hour [h]was there a great earthquake, [i]and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain [3]of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, [k]and gave glory to the God of heaven.

14 [l]The second woe is past; and behold, the third woe cometh quickly.

15 And [m]the seventh angel sounded; [n]and there were great voices in heaven, saying, [o]The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; [p]and he shall reign for ever and ever.

16 And [q]the four and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God,

17 Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, [r]which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, [s]and hast reigned.

18 [t]And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, [u]and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, [x]small and great; [y]and shouldest destroy them which [4]destroy the earth.

19 And [z]the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and [a]there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, [b]and great hail.

CHAPTER XII.

A woman clothed with the sun travaileth. 3 A great dragon standeth ready to devour her child. 5 Being delivered, and the child caught up unto God, the woman fleeth into the wilderness. 7 Michael and his angels overcome the dragon. 13 The dragon cast down into the earth persecuteth the woman.

AND there appeared a great [1]wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the [a]sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars:

2 And she being with child cried, [b]travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered.

3 And there appeared another [2]wonder in heaven; and behold [c]a great red dragon, [d]having seven heads and ten horns, [e]and seven crowns upon his heads.

4 And [f]his tail drew the third part [g]of the stars of heaven, [h]and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood [i]before the woman which was ready to be delivered, [j]for to devour her child as soon as it was born.

5 And she brought forth a man child, [k]who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne.

6 And [l]the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there [m]a thousand two hundred and threescore days.

7 And there was war in heaven: [n]Mi'cha-el and his angels fought [o]against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels,

8 And prevailed not; neither was [p]their place found any more in heaven.

9 And [q]the great dragon was cast out, [r]that old serpent, called the devil, and Sa'tan, [s]which deceiveth the whole world: [t]he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, [u]Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, [v] which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And [x] they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; [y] and they loved not their lives unto the death.

12 Therefore [z] rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. [a] Woe to the inhabiters of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, [b] because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted [c] the woman which brought forth the man child.

14 [d] And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, [e] that she might fly [f] into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished [g] for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent.

15 And the serpent [h] cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood.

16 And the earth [i] helped the woman; and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the dragon was wroth with the woman, [k] and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, [l] which keep the commandments of God, and have [m] the testimony of Je′sus Christ.

CHAPTER XIII.

A beast riseth out of the sea with seven heads and ten horns, to whom the dragon giveth his power. 11 Another beast cometh up out of the earth; and causeth men to worship the first beast, 16 and to receive his mark.

AND I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw [a] a beast rise up out of the sea, [b] having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the [1] name of blasphemy.

2 [c] And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, [d] and his feet were as the feet of a bear, [e] and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and [f] the dragon gave him his power, [g] and his seat, [h] and great authority.

3 And I saw one of his heads [i] as it were [2] wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and [k] all the world wondered after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, [l] Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him?

5 And there was given unto him [m] a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him [3] to continue [n] forty and two months.

6 And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, [o] and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven.

7 And it was given unto him [p] to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: [q] and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, [r] whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain [s] from the foundation of the world.

9 [t] If any man have an ear, let him hear.

10 [u] He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: [v] he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. [x] Here is the patience and the faith of the saints.

11 And I beheld another beast [y] coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon.

12 And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, [z] and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, [a] whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And [b] he doeth great wonders, [c] so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And [d] deceiveth them that dwell on the earth [e] by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, [f] and did live.

15 And he had power to give [4] life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, [g] and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, [h] [5] to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads:

17 And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or [i] the name of the beast, [k] or the number of his name.

18 [l] Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count [m] the number of the beast: [n] for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six.

CHAPTER XIV.

The Lamb on mount Zion with his company. 6 The triumph of the gospel. 8 The fall of Babylon. 9 The worshipper of the beast and his image threatened. 13 The reward of the faithful. 15 The harvest of the world.

AND I looked, and lo, [a] a Lamb stood on the mount Zi′on, and with him [b] a hundred forty and four thousand, [c] having his Father's name written in their foreheads.

2 And I heard a voice from heaven, [d] as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of [e] harpers harping with their harps:

3 And [f] they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song [g] but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women; [h] for they are virgins. These are they [i] which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These [1][k] were redeemed from among men, [l] being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb.

5 And [m] in their mouth was found no guile: for [n] they are without fault before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another angel [o] fly in the midst of heaven, [p] having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, [q] and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people,

7 Saying with a loud voice, [r] Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: [s] and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters.

8 And there followed another angel, saying, [t] Bab'y-lon is fallen, is fallen, [u] that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication.

9 And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, [x] If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same [y] shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is [z] poured out without mixture into [a] the cup of his indignation; and [b] he shall be tormented with [c] fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb:

11 And [d] the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name.

12 [e] Here is the patience of the saints: [f] here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Je'sus.

13 And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, [g] Blessed are the dead [h] which die in the Lord [2] from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, [i] that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat [k] like unto the Son of man, [l] having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.

15 And another angel [m] came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, [n] Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest [o] of the earth is [3] ripe.

16 And [p] he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped.

17 And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle.

18 And another angel came out from the altar, [q] which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, [r] Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe.

19 And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into [s] the great winepress of the wrath of God.

20 And [t] the winepress was trodden [u] without the city, and blood came out of the winepress, [v] even unto the horses' bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs.

CHAPTER XV.

Seven angels with the seven last plagues. 3 The song of those that overcome the beast. 7 Seven golden vials full of the wrath of God.

AND [a] I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, [b] seven angels having the seven last plagues; [c] for in them is filled up the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were [d] a sea of glass [e] mingled with fire: and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, [f] and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, [g] having the harps of God.

3 And they sing [h] the song of Mo'ses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, [i] Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; [k] just and true are thy ways, thou King of [1] saints.

4 [l] Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for [m] all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and behold, [n] the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened:

6 [o] And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, [p] clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles.

7 [q] And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, [r] who liveth for ever and ever.

8 And [s] the temple was filled with smoke [t] from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled.

CHAPTER XVI.

The seven angels in succession pour out their vials of wrath upon the earth, and great plagues follow thereupon.

AND I heard a great voice out of the temple saying [a]to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials [b]of the wrath of God upon the earth.

2 And the first went, and poured out his vial [c]upon the earth; and [d]there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men [e]which had the mark of the beast, and upon them [f]which worshipped his image.

3 And the second angel poured out his vial [g]upon the sea; and [h]it became as the blood of a dead man: [i]and every living soul died in the sea.

4 And the third angel poured out his vial [k]upon the rivers and fountains of waters; [l]and they became blood.

5 And I heard the angel of the waters say, [m]Thou art righteous, O Lord, [n]which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus.

6 For [o]they have shed the blood [p]of saints and prophets, [q]and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy.

7 And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, [r]Lord God Almighty, [s]true and righteous are thy judgments.

8 And the fourth angel poured out his vial [t]upon the sun; [u]and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire.

9 And men were [1]scorched with great heat, and [x]blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: [y]and they repented not [z]to give him glory.

10 And the fifth angel poured out his vial [a]upon the seat of the beast; [b]and his kingdom was full of darkness; [c]and they gnawed their tongues for pain,

11 And [d]blasphemed the God of heaven because of their pains and [e]their sores, [f]and repented not of their deeds.

12 And the sixth angel poured out his vial [g]upon the great river Eu-phra'tes; [h]and the water thereof was dried up, [i]that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared.

13 And I saw three unclean [k]spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of [l]the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of [m]the false prophet.

14 [n]For they are the spirits of devils, [o]working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth [p]and of the whole world, to gather them to [q]the battle of that great day of God Almighty.

15 [r]Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, [s]lest he walk naked, and they see his shame.

16 [t]And he gathered them together into a place called in the He'brew tongue Ar-ma-ged'don.

17 And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, [u]It is done.

18 And [x]there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; [y]and there was a great earthquake, [z]such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great.

19 And [a]the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Bab'y-lon [b]came in remembrance before God, [c]to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath.

20 And [d]every island fled away, and the mountains were not found.

21 [e]And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and [f]men blasphemed God because of [g]the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

CHAPTER XVII.

A woman arrayed in purple and scarlet, with a golden cup in her hand, sitteth upon the beast. 5 Her name. 7 The mystery of the woman explained. 14 The victory of the Lamb.

AND there came [a]one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; [b]I will show unto thee the judgment of [c]the great whore [d]that sitteth upon many waters:

2 [e]With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and [f]the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he carried me away in the spirit [g]into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit [h]upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of [i]names of blasphemy, [k]having seven heads and [l]ten horns.

4 And the woman [m]was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, [n]and [1]decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, [o]having a golden cup in her hand [p]full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication:

5 And upon her forehead was a name written, [q]MYSTERY, BAB'Y-LON [r]THE GREAT, [s]THE MOTHER OF [2]HARLOTS AND ABOMINATIONS OF THE EARTH.

6 And I saw [t]the woman drunken [u]with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of [x]the martyrs of Je'sus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.

7 And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns.

8 The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and [y] shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and [z] go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth [a] shall wonder, [b] whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And [c] here is the mind which hath wisdom. [d] The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth.

10 And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, [e] and goeth into perdition.

12 And [f] the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast.

13 [g] These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast.

14 [h] These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: [i] for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: [j] and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful.

15 And he saith unto me, [k] The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, [l] are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, [m] these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate [n] and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and [o] burn her with fire.

17 [p] For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, [q] until the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest [r] is that great city, [s] which reigneth over the kings of the earth.

CHAPTER XVIII.

The fall of Babylon. 4 The people of God commanded to come out of her. 9 The lamentation of kings, 11 of merchants, 17 and of seamen, over her fall. 20 The saints are bidden to rejoice. 21 Babylon shall be found no more.

AND [a] after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; [b] and the earth was lightened with his glory.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, [c] Bab'y-lon the great is fallen, is fallen, and [d] is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and [e] a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.

3 For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, [g] and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies.

4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, [h] Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

5 [i] For her sins have reached unto heaven, and [k] God hath remembered her iniquities.

6 [l] Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: [m] in the cup which she hath filled, [n] fill to her double.

7 [o] How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a [p] queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come [q] in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and [r] she shall be utterly burned with fire: [s] for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her.

9 And [t] the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, [u] shall bewail her, and lament for her, [x] when they shall see the smoke of her burning,

10 Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, [y] Alas, alas, that great city Bab'y-lon, that mighty city! [z] for in one hour is thy judgment come.

11 And [a] the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more:

12 [b] The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and [c] purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all [2] thyine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble,

13 And [d] cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and [3] slaves, and [e] souls of men.

14 And the fruits that [f] thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all.

15 [g] The merchants of these things, [h] which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great city, [i] that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls!

17 [k] For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And [l] every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off,

18 [m] And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, [n] What city is like unto this great city!

19 And [o] they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! [p]for in one hour is she made desolate.

20 [q]Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for [r]God hath avenged you on her.

21 And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, [s]Thus with violence shall that great city Bab'y-lon be thrown down, and [t]shall be found no more at all.

22 [u]And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee;

23 [x]And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; [y]and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for [z]thy merchants were the great men of the earth; [a]for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived.

24 And [b]in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that [c]were slain upon the earth.

CHAPTER XIX.

Much people in heaven praise God for avenging the blood of the saints; 7 and rejoice that the marriage of the Lamb is come. 10 The angel will not be worshipped. 11 The Word of God with his armies. 17 The fowls called to the slaughter. 19 The beast and the false prophet cast into a lake of fire.

AND after these things [a]I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; [b]Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 For [c]true and righteous are his judgments; for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and [d]hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Alleluia. And [e]her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And [f]the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, [g]Amen; Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, [h]Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, [i]both small and great.

6 [k]And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for [l]the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for [m]the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8 And [n]to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and [1]white: [o]for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9 And he saith unto me, Write, [p]Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, [q]These are the true sayings of God.

10 And [r]I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, [s]See thou do it not: I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren [t]that have the testimony of Je'sus: worship God: for the testimony of Je'sus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 [u]And I saw heaven opened, and behold [x]a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called [y]Faithful and True, and [z]in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12 [a]His eyes were as a flame of fire, [b]and on his head were many crowns; [c]and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself.

13 [d]And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called [e]The Word of God.

14 [f]And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, [g]clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And [h]out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations; and [i]he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and [k]he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And [l]he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, [m]KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying [n]to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, [o]Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God;

18 [p]That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 [q]And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 [r]And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and [s]them that worshipped his image. [t]These both were cast alive into a lake of fire [u]burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant [x]were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: [y]and all the fowls [z]were filled with their flesh.

CHAPTER XX.

Satan bound for a thousand years. 4 The first resurrection. 7 Satan let loose again. 8 Gog and Magog. 10 The devil cast into the lake of fire and brimstone. 11 The general resurrection and judgment. 14 The second death.

AND I saw an angel come down from heaven, [a]having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand.

2 And he laid hold on [b]the dragon, that old serpent, which is the devil, and Sa'tan, and bound him a thousand years,

3 And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and [c]set a seal upon him, [d]that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season.

4 And I saw [e]thrones, and they sat upon them, and [f]judgment was given unto them: and I saw [g]the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Je'sus, and for the word of God, and [h]which had not worshipped the beast, [i]neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and [k]reigned with Christ a thousand years.

5 But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such [l]the second death hath no power, but they shall be [m]priests of God and of Christ, [n]and shall reign with him a thousand years.

7 And when the thousand years are expired, [o]Sa'tan shall be loosed out of his prison,

8 And shall go out [p]to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, [q]Gog and Ma'gog, [r]to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea.

9 [s]And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them.

10 [t]And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, [u]where the beast and the false prophet are, and [x]shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever.

11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face [y]the earth and the heaven fled away; [z]and there was found no place for them.

12 And I saw the dead, [a]small and great, stand before God; [b]and the books were opened: and another [c]book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, [d]according to their works.

13 And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; [e]and death and [1]hell delivered up the dead which were in them: [f]and they were judged every man according to their works.

14 And [g]death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. [h]This is the second death.

15 And whosoever was not found written in the book of life [i]was cast into the lake of fire.

CHAPTER XXI.

A new heaven and new earth. 8 The blessings of God's people. 8 The doom of the wicked. 9 The heavenly Jerusalem described. 22 No temple there. 23 The light and glory of the city. 27 Nothing that defileth can enter therein.

AND [a]I saw a new heaven and a new earth: [b]for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.

2 And I John saw [c]the holy city, new Je-ru'sa-lem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared [d]as a bride adorned for her husband.

3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, [e]the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 [f]And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and [g]there shall be no more death, [h]neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

5 And [i]he that sat upon the throne said, [k]Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for [l]these words are true and faithful.

6 And he said unto me, [m]It is done. [n]I am Al'pha and O'me-ga, the beginning and the end. [o]I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely.

7 He that overcometh shall inherit [1]all things; and [p]I will be his God, and he shall be my son.

8 [q]But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in [r]the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.

9 And there came unto me one of [s]the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will show thee [t]the bride, the Lamb's wife.

10 And he carried me away [u]in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and showed me [x]that great city, the holy Je-ru'sa-lem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 [y]Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 And had a wall great and high, and had [z]twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Is'ra-el:

13 [a]On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and [b]in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me [c]had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth [d]foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, [e]twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, a [f]hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 [g]And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: [h]and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 [i]And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

23 [k]And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 [l]And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 [m]And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for [n]there shall be no night there.

26 [o]And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And [p]there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's [q]book of life.

CHAPTER XXII.

The river and tree of life. 3 The blessedness of God's servants. 6 The conclusion: sundry directions, promises, and exhortations. 18 Nothing may be added to or taken from the words of this book.

AND he showed me [a]a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb.

2 [b]In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there [c]the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were [d]for the healing of the nations.

3 And [e]there shall be no more curse: [f]but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him:

4 And [g]they shall see his face; and [h]his name shall be in their foreheads.

5 [i]And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for [k]the Lord God giveth them light: [l]and they shall reign for ever and ever.

6 And he said unto me, [m]These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the holy prophets [n]sent his angel to show unto his servants the things which must shortly be done.

7 [o]Behold, I come quickly: [p]blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book.

8 And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, [q]I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which showed me these things.

9 Then saith he unto me, [r]See thou do it not: for I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God.

10 [s]And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: [t]for the time is at hand.

11 [u]He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 [x]And, behold, I come quickly; and [y]my reward is with me, [z]to give every man according as his work shall be.

13 [a]I am Al'pha and O'me-ga, the beginning and the end, the first and the last.

14 [b]Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right [c]to the tree of life, [d]and may enter in through the gates into the city.

15 For [e]without are [f]dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie.

16 [g]I Je'sus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. [h]I am the root and the offspring of Da'vid, and [i]the bright and morning star.

17 And the Spirit and [k]the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. [l]And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely.

18 For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, [m]If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book:

19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, [n]God shall take away his part [1]out of the book of life, and out of [o]the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book.

20 He which testifieth these things saith, [p]Surely I come quickly: [q]Amen. [r]Even so, come, Lord Je'sus.

21 [s]The grace of our Lord Je'sus Christ be with you all. Amen.
